The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough.

HENFEED.

Small Wheat - - - - - 90c per 100 lbs.
Barley - - - - - - - 95c per 100 lbs.
Pure Wheat Spring or Fall, $1.25 per 100 lbs.

J. W. FLAVELLE,

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. SIMCOE STREET.

New Sugar Cured Hams

12½ CENTS PER POUND.

Spiced Rolls and Breakfast Bacon.
Spare Ribs, Tenderloins, Shanks, &c.

GEO. MATTHEWS

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

1853. 1887.

THE WEEKLY REVIEW

For the Year 1887

As usual will be found brim full of Latest News from all parts of the World, including full information on the leading questions of the day. The REVIEW is one of the Largest Papers printed in Central or Eastern Ontario.

ONLY $1 A YEAR

CONTAINS EACH WEEK:

The new world's doings,	Letters from Correspondents,
News of the United States,	Commercial Intelligence.
Canadian Intelligence,	The Market Reports,
District Proceedings,	Agricultural Department,
Our Country News,	Farm and Garden Items,
Local sayings and doings,	Household Hints,
A Lively Serial Tale,	Medical and Scientific Notes,
Poetry, Original and Selected,	Items for the Ladies,
Current Social Events,	Religious Intelligence.
Literary Selections,	Advertisements for all Wants,
Reviews of New Works,	Where to Buy and Sell,
Cream of our Exchanges,	Where to secure Help,
Editorial Articles,	Professional Services,
Opinions of the Press,	Various Wants Supplied,
Political Opinions,	All the Public Needs.

This condensed history of our own days, carefully collected and judiciously selected, the epitome of current news and information to suit all readers

For One Dollar a Year.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY REVIEW IF YOU ARE WISE.

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloth. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take your LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. & Q. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
10 50 p m	Toronto and West, via G. & Q. R.	6 00 p m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
8 20 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	3 00 p m
12 00 m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)	8 00 a m
4 30 p m		4 30 p m
8 20 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope	6 00 p m
5 15 p m	do do	9 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and
4 00 p m	Lakehurst	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville	11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore	1 30 p m
	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Hastings, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clyndale,
6 00 p m previous night	Paudash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and 11 00 a m	Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
	Greystock and Hiawatha,
11 00 a m	Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Fowler's Corners, Wed-
1 00 a m	nesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays	7 30 p m
	Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.
9 00 a m		6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbados, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxenburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamacia, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhœa, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse, [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

Pocket Diaries
Office Diaries
Canadian Almanacs
1887 at
SAILSBURY BROS.

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 21, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

The Band.

The Fire Brigade Band will be in attendance at the Charlotte Street Rink to-night.

Stop Coughing!

How? By using a twenty-five cent bottle of Culver's Cough Balsam. Sold at the Floral Drug Store.

Curling.

The Lakefield curlers are in town to-day to have a friendly match. The play took place this afternoon.

Popular Talk on Electricity.

Mr. Bean of the Collegiate Institute will give the next popular talk of the Y. M. C. A. series on Monday evening, 24 th Jan. His subject will be "Electricity" illustrated by many experiments.

The Temperature.

The thermometer readings to-day at the hours mentioned were as follows:—8 o'clock a.m., 14 above zero; 1 o'clock p.m., 22 above zero; 3 oclock p. m., 21 above zero.

Fell.

A smokestack at the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co's works about ninety feet high fell with a great crash last night smashing it into three pieces. The works are shut down to-day in consequence.

Company Drill.

Arrangements have been made by Capt. Cooper for the use of the old Music Hall to have drill in. No. 6 will take note of this The company will meet there on next Thursday evening.

A Narrow Escape.

This morning a little son of Mr. C.E. Starr while attempting to catch on a sleigh was knocked down, both runners passing over both legs. The sleigh was loaded with brick. Fortunately he escaped with severe bruises only.

City Depot.

Go to the "City Depot," the great supply house. 200 bbls. Choice Winter Apples, 1,000 bushels Prime Potatoes, Hams, Bacon, Lard, Oatmeal, Split Peas, B. W. Flour, Corn Meal, &c. All kinds of Feed at mill prices. VANEVERY & BRISBIN.

A Commotion.

While the Salvation army were marching across George street on Thursday evening a pair of spirited horses took fright and charged into the ranks. A big crowd gathered in a few minutes. No one was hurt, however. The army re-formed and marched down Hunter street. The police dispersed the crowd.

Nicholls Hospital.

A meeting of the Directors of the Nicholls Hospital was held on Thursday afternoon. Messrs. Jas. Stratton and R. S. Davidson were appointed visiting trustees, their duty being the visiting of the Hospital once a week. The detailed statement will be handed over to the town auditors and, when audited, will be ready for publication.

THE headquarters for Ladies' Collars, Cuffs, Gloves and Hosiery is at the Golden Lion.

Complimentary.

At the annual meeting of the West Riding Agricultural Society held on Wednesday afternoon a vote of thanks was passed in favour of Mr. Garbutt, the retiring President, for the untiring interest he displayed in the Society's affairs during the year. It was passed unanimously. Mr. Garbutt returned thanks in a corteour manner.

The Stars.

On account of numerous other attractions and unfavorable weather the audience to hear Mr. Long's lecture on "The Stars," at St. John's Church school room on Thursday night, was not very large. It was decided by a vote of the audience to postpone the lecture. It will probably be given some evening next week.

The Mum Social.

A social was held at the residence of Mrs. J. J. McBain on Thursday evening in the interests of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church. The attendance was large and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all. A musical and literary programme was presented, in which Mr. Hutchins, Mr. Rowan, Mr. Geo. Schneider, jr., Mrs. Mien, Miss Stevens, Miss May Wilson, Miss Davis, Miss E. Cox, Miss Johnston and Miss M. Cox took part. A novel way of deriving revenue was the "mum fines." At an appointed time the company assumed silence and anyone guilty, by laugh or word, of breaking the calm, was promptly fined by those exercising surveillance. Quite a number were found guilty and accordingly mulcted. The company dispersed at ten o'clock, after spending a very pleasant time. About $30 was realized.

Bad Walking.

The sidewalks are in a very bad state for walking at the present time, and pedestrians find it a very difficult matter to get along. The thaw of yesterday, and the "freeze-up" of last night has had the effect of making walking anything but a pleasure. The merchants should see that the ice and snow is at once removed from the sidewalk in front of their places of business, and help, in a measure at all events, to make things more pleasant.

It May be Remarked

—That P. C. Pidgeon found a safe key this morning.

—That the owner may have it by calling at the Police station.

—That a load of broomas passed down George street to-day.

—That they would come in handy for election night.

—That Mr. Stevenson's committees meet to-night.

—That the new Chairman of the Charity Committee has had a "case" already.

—In the person of the individual who addressed himself to the Council as J. Dickson Morgan, English poet.

GET some of the useful Remnants at the Golden Lion before they all go.

Sunday School Anniversary at Auburn.

On Thursday evening at the Auburn Sunday School celebrated their anniversary by having an old fashioned tea meeting lasting from 6 o clock until eight, after which the tables were shoved outside and the space thus used filled up with chairs, seating about 150. On the platform there were between 25 or 30 children, who under the efficient training of Mrs. Jas. Kendry and Miss Fitzgerald, entertained the audience for about a hour. The following is the programme:—Good Evening to All, chorus by the children. This is the Mother, a chorus. A recitation by Bert Hartley. What's This, a chorus by the children. Counting the Chickens, a dialogue. Star of Twilight, a duet by Misses Nellie and Bertha Sperry. Mamma's Kisses, by Bella Taylor. Good Morning Merry Sunshine, a chorus. The Sick Baby, a dialogue. Pretty Moon, a chorus. Recitation by Frank Hartley. Jesus Bids Us Shine, a solo, by Gertie Kendry. How the Story Grew, a dialogue. Busy Children, a chorus. Bouquet of Flowers, a dialogue. Fire in the Grate, a solo by Jennie Hewie. Brothers and Sisters, a dialogue. Swing, Cradle, Swing, a chorus. Recitation by Frank Hartley. Jack Frost, a chorus. Little Acts of Kindness, a solo, by Clara Sperry. Is It Right, a chorus. A recitation by Mr. Cummings, Mind your own Business. The chairman, Mr. F. Mason, gave a short history of the school, urging upon the parents and friends to sustain the school by seeing it thoroughly equiped with teachers. As it was in the past, so it is now—a lack of teachers was the great trouble, some classes being broken up, from this cause alone. The chairmans remarks were brought to a close by thanking the friends for their presence and that much was due to Mrs. Kendry and Miss Fitzgerald for their painstaking efforts in connection with getting up this entertainment. After singing "God Save the Queen" this most interesting entertainment was brought to a close.

SIR THOMAS MAY.

His Claims to the Baronetage Admitted Shortly Before his Death.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Sir Thomas May, who was buried here last Saturday, was a native of New Orleans, and founder of the Times of that city, during the American civil war. He served on the staff of Gen. Sheridan, and under the Hayes Administration held an important position in the United States Treasury. He came to England about five years ago and proved his right to a baronetcy. This right came through his grandfather. His father abandoned all claim to the title and was educated for the Catholic priesthood, but gave up his profession, married and moved to America. The Mays originally lived in Ireland, and Chief Justice May, who resigned his seat at Dublin a short time since, was Sir Thomas May's cousin. Sir Thomas died a disappointed and broken-hearted man A bitter estrangement sprang up some years ago between him and his wife, who is an accomplished American lady, and he has never seen her since he came to live in England. She is now in Virginia. Three children, a daughter and two sons, were born of this unfortunate marriage, but Sir Thomas has left all his property to the two sons, cutting both wife and daughter off with a shilling each. At one time he was very wealthy, inheriting a large estate in Louisiana from his father. On this estate there were 2,000 slaves, but Sir Thomas was opposed to slavery and set them all free just before the outbreak of the war. He had been ill with Bright's disease many months previous to his death, and had received the kind attention of a few very devoted friends. His recognition as a baronet came but a short time before he was taken ill.

Guilty of Manslaughter.

OTTAWA, Jan. 20.—At the Ayimer Assizes Clovis Larue has been convicted of manslaughter for fatally stabbing H. Seguin dit Leroux in a drunken row at Notre Dame de Laus, in October last. The jury couple with their verdict a strong recommendation to mercy.

Indignant Socialists.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Two thousand Socialists met last night to express indignation against Prince Bismarck for his dissolution of the German Reichstag and protested against the seven year army bill.

FOR your evening wear sob the Golden Lion.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

CARDINAL JACOBINI RESIGNED.

ROME, Jan. 20.—Cardinal Jacobini has again resigned the office of Pontifical Secretary of State.

MOTIONS REJECTED.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—The Chamber of Deputies to-day rejected two motions introduced by M. Courneville, a Radical, for the abolition of the office of chaplain in the public hospitals. Premier Goblet opposed the motion. Several speakers condemned the proposal of Admiral Aube, the Minister of Marine, that war ships be constructed by private industry, on the ground that such a course would be calculated to ruin the national arsenals.

EMIN BEY EXPEDITION.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Mr. Henry M. Stanley is flooded with offers from good men who wish to accompany his expedition for the relief of of Emin Bey. He has found it difficult to select from the many competent applicants, as only a few are required. The British Government has supplied the expedition with a major and a Lieutenant of the Engineers. Mr. Stanley is determined to reach Emin Bey by July at latest. He will join Dr. Junker at Port Said on his way out. He will establish a camp at a safe distance from the Congo on the route to Lake Victoria Nyanza, to be used as the base of operations.

BULGARIAN NEGOTIATION.

VIENNA, Jan. 20.—The negotations for the settlement of the Bulgarian question are progreSsing favourably. They are mainly between Russia Austria and the Porte on the one one side, and between the Porte and Bulgaria on the other. The bases on which they are being conducted is that the Bulgarian Regency shall resign when satisfactory assurances are given regarding a candidate for the vacant throne. Efforts are being made to introduce Russia to give the desired assurance. It is proposed that a new Bulgarian Government, representing all parties, shall be formed preparatory to the dissolution of the Sobranje and the ordering of new elections. The Bulgarians are disposed to accept those terms.

THE FSHERY QUESTION.

American Statesmen Condemn the Proposed Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—No one here at all qualified to judge has any idea that the bombastic resolutions and bills introduced by Senator Gorman and Representative Belmont in the Senate and House respectively, are meant to be taken in earnest. The men who introduced the measures into the Congress of the United States are statesmen of the cheap order. They are not endorsed by their colleagues who have given the subject any thought, for the simple reason that men who are diplomats are not so foolish as to stand by such insane legislation. If retaliation of the character proposed, for an alleged injustice, is begun it is not likely to close with action of this kind by the United States. The Yankee first-class thinks his pocket-book, when his honor has been injured, and it needs no powerful microscope to see which side would be most hurt by cutting off commercial intercourse between the United States on the one hand and Great Britain and her Colonies on the other. A gentleman who has filled prominent diplomatic positions for the United States abroad, said in relation to this subject to-day:—"It would be the height of folly for Congress to enact further retaliatory legislation against Canada on the spur of the moment and without due reflection upon the consequences. If we prohibit Canadians the right we accord to other commercial nations, what is to prevent England closing her ports against our products It is absurd to say that England needs our products and cannot get along without our agricultural produce. We need the market more than England needs the supplies India is rapidly increasing her wheat yield, Canada produces tons of dairy product, and the farmers of America are compelled to send their wares to the British Islands to find a market, suppose for an instant the British ports were closed against us. The prices of grain, butter and cheese would drop immediately and 50,000 farmers would rise and demand a removal of the embargo. No, the United States cannot afford to be rash and we can doubtless gain far more by diplomacy than we can by hasty and and ill-considered legislation. The preponderence of opinion here to-day is that the Belmont Bill is already practically dead. The Washington Post, the Democratic organ, says to-day editorially: "Belmont's retaliation bill sounds like business, and it passed might have a certain sentimental value, like a six thousand ton ironclad, whether it was really ever fired off or not. And then again it might be embarassing. It is an agressive, pugnacious measure. But it can do no possible harm if Congress will simultaneously appropriate $25,000,000 for sea coast armament and as much more for some first-class fishing vessels. Unless the latter provisions be made to carry out the proposed proclamation, it would be quite premature to utter it. For suppose we should seize and condemn a Bluenose fishing marsh, and Halifax should send an armored ship to take it away from us! We should feel very much ashamed of ourselves."

Bone for Old Pastures.

Those portions of the country that have been longest under cultivation or use have, in many instances, and especially so in the case of pastures, become more or less deteriorated. We have seen pastures partially mossed over with a hard dry moss, producing but little feed. In one case of this kind a quantity of bone was spread with a view to improving it, but without charge in any direction so far as improvement is concerned. In case of pastures, having a fair sod and a good stand of grass there is little doubt but that bone as a mean of improvement may be profitably employed; but when a mossed condition of the surface exists we should not make use of bone. Where ashes can be produced at a reasonable price, we should very much prefer their use to that of bone The alkali of the ashes would tend to destroy the the moss upon the surface and add to the fertility of the soil We have had occasion to observe the effects of the use of ashes upon pasturage that previously presented an almost barren appearance, but which was brought to such a condition that the growth of clover was almost luxrriaut. One advantage of ashes is their permanent effects. Where employed liberaly the effect is marked, even for many years after the application without further dressing.—Germantown Telegraph.

Mothers,

do you not see the pallid face, once so bright, growing thinner? Do you not hear the hacking cough, and note the wasted, languid indifference, where once was mirth, brightness, and keen enjoyment for all the pleasures of life? Do not be mistaken or deceived. That child is dying of consumption—slowly, but surely. Yet thousands are living to-day who have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," which surpasses all other medicines for the cure of that disease. Send ten cents for phamphlet and testimonials. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

T. DOLAN & CO'S
$2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

Wants.

WANTED.

BY A THOROUGHLY CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED PERSON, employment in the capacity of sick nurse. Apply to MRS. C. ROBINSON, Water St. north or at the REVIEW Office. d93

For Sale or to Rent.

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

A CONVENIENT HOUSE and lot on Sherbrook St. Apply to T. SLOMAN. d149

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, solicitor, George Street. d84

TO RENT.

IN about 2 months, FIVE FIRST-CLASS TERRACE HOUSES (White Brick), two storey, seven rooms, on George street, within one minutes walk of the market. Apply to JOHN CARLISLE.

FOR SALE.

BUILDING LOTS, situated on Rubidge, Park, Townsend and Wolf Streets. No money down providing you build. Come on and get a Lot before they are all sold to the stove men. Also House and Lot, and Park Lot. Apply to the owner, JOHN BELL, Corner Wolf and Rubidge Streets. d93

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinks of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash. d&w

JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood. Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in coods or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

j118 JAMES GALVIN.

General.

Grand Trunk Railway

WINTER CARNIVAL

AT MONTREAL

From Feb. 7th to 12th, 1887

Special excursion fares from all stations on the GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

Full particulars will be furnished by any Agent of the Company

JOSEPH HICKSON,
General Manager.

Montreal, January 18th, 1887. 2d17

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

Two weeks and Saturday Matinees.

COMMENCING

Monday, January 24

WILSON DAY'S

Theatre Company

The Greatest Living Child Actress

ANNIE BIRD

At Each Performance.

Grand Opening Bill, the Famous Comedy

UNCLE DANIEL

Or a Messenger from Jarvis Section.

Admission 10c. Reserved Seats 25c. at Hartley's. 1d17

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

CLEARING SALE. GREAT BARGAINS.

CRYSTAL BLOCK.

SWEEPING REDUCTIONS

IN ALL WINTER GOODS.

GOODS MUST BE SOLD.

H. S. GRIFFIN & CO.

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md19w11

Still Pushing the Trade

AT LeBRUN'S CITY CLOTHING STORE

Bargains in Overcoats, Suits, Underwear. Gents' Furnishings, Haberdashery—in fact in Everything all this month immense Bargains will be given.

H. LeBRUN.

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 18. PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK

BIRTH.

BONNELL—On the 16th, at Bobcaygeon, the wife of C. E. BONNELL, M. D., of a daughter.

ROSBOROUGH.—In the township of Smith on January 20 h, the wife of GEORGE E. ROSBOROUGH, of a son.

MARRIAGES.

FOWLER — GOODLIFFE.—On Thursday, Jan. 20th, 1887, at the residence of the bride, Aylmer street, by the Rev. I. Tovell, MR. JAMES B. FOWLER to MISS MARIA GOODLIFFE, youngest daughter of John Goodliffe, Esq., all of Peterborough.

PROBABILITIES.

Fresh to strong south-east and south-west winds; mostly cloudy, mild weather, with snow in the northren and sleet or rain in the southern portion, followed by lower temperature to-morrow.

R. FAIR.

Come direct to the Golden Lion for

EVENING KID GLOVES, ETC., ETC.

For the Tan Mousquitaire Kid Gloves, 10 button lengths, etc., etc.

For Silk Gloves in [illegible]

For White and Black Beaded Fronts for evening dresses.

For All Over Laces and Flouncings.

Evening Satins.

Evening Fabriques, etc., etc., etc.

R. FAIR,

GOLDEN LION.

Music.

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or a my residence, George street north. lydll

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipsig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipsig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence

DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE dlltwf

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training. $70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal, Peterborough, Ontario.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE, Solicitor.

dl4twlt

Lost and Found.

LOST.

ON THURSDAY, January 20th, A SMALL TERRIER, about 5 months old, answers to name of Paltas. Finder will be rewarded by leaving it with TERRACE SMITH, Charlotte Street. 1d18

Wants.

WANTED.

BY A THOROUGHLY CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED PERSON, employment in the capacity of sick nurse. Apply to MRS. C. ROBINSON, Water St. north of at the REVIEW Office d93

WANTED.

TOWN PROPERTY in exchange for farms. Also wanted to buy, A COMFORTABLE HOUSE centrally located at from $600 to $1,000 cash. Apply at once to

T. HURLEY, Real Estate Agent Hunter Street

For Sale or to Rent.

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

A CONVENIENT HOUSE and lot on Sherbrook St. Apply to T. SLOMAN. d149

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE. On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, solicitor, George Street. d84

TO RENT.

IN about 2 months, FIVE FIRST-CLASS TERRACE HOUSES (White Brick), two storey, seven rooms, on George street, within one minutes walk of the market. Apply to JOHN CARLISLE.

FOR SALE.

BUILDING LOTS, situated on Rubidge, Park, Townsend and Wolf Streets. No money down providing you build. Come on and get a Lot before they are all sold to the stove men. Also House and Lot, and Park Lot. Apply to the owner, JOHN BELL, Corner Wolf and Rubidge Streets. d93

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

d&w JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

General.

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON.

d89 Ashburnham

MARVELLOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Wholly unlike Artificial Systems—Cure of Mind Wandering—Any book learned in one reading. Prospectus, with opinions of MR. PROCTOR, the Astronomer, Hons. W. W. ASTOR, JUDAH P. BENJAMIN, Drs. MINOR, WOOD and others, sent post FREE, by

PROF. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Avenue, New York

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

Grand Trunk Railway

WINTER CARNIVAL

AT MONTREAL

From Feb. 7th to 12th, 1887

Special excursion fares from all stations on the GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

Full particulars will be furnished by any Agent of the Company.

JOSEPH HICKSON, General Manager.

Montreal, January 18th, 1887. 2d17

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,

AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,

FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS

AND

MUSLIN CURTAINS

AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S

Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1887.

TIMBER LIMITS.

Unfounded Statements Regarding Timber in the Disputed Territory Exposed,

One of the most common charges made against the Government of Sir John Macdonald is that it has, in violation of the rights of the Provincial Government of Ontario, given away, at nominal prices, and for corrupt purposes, the timber limits comprised within the "disputed territory" west of Thunder bay. Mr. Geo. W. Ross, in one of his speeches during the recent campaign in Ontario, said:—"What has the Dominion Government done—not with their own timber limits, but with ours? They have sold large and valuable timber limits in the disputed territory, after the Privy Council had declared it to be within the limits of the Province of Ontario, at the rate of $5 per square mile as against our $400." Mr. Mowat and others made substantially the same statement. Mr. Ross gave a list of twenty-six persons who, he said, had received the limits. It so happens that seven names were duplicated in this list; the first seven being repeated at the end. Of the balance, nineteen, thirteen never obained licenses, though orders-in-council were passed authorizing the minister to grant them, and were, therefore, never in a position to cut a stick of timber on the limits. Four of these, however, paid one years rental in advance, or in the aggregate $1000, which has not been refunded. The other six on the list obtained licenses and paid on account of rental $1970; but as they did not erect mills, and as the licenses were not renewed at the end of the year for which they were granted, and have not since been renewed, the only result to them has been the loss of the money they paid to the government. So that the disputed territory is not the poorer by a single stick of timber by the action of the Government in respect of the nineteen persons named by Mr. Ross.

It is proper, however, to state precisely what has been the action of the Government in respect to the timber in this disputed territory. On the 29th day of June, 1874, an arrangement was made and confirmed by an order in council of the 8th of July following, between the Dominion and Ontario Governments, the former represented by Mr. Laird, Minister of the Interior, and the latter by Mr. Pardee, by which that portion of the so called "disputed territory" lying west of a line passing through the most easterly point of Hunter's Island, was to be administered by the Government of Canada, the Ontario Government agreeing to confirm all titles given by it, during the period of such administration. Under this arrangement four twenty-one years licenses were granted to cut timber as follows: S. H. Fowler of Fort Frances, the date of the order-in-council being 19th March, 1875, and of the lease 2nd March, 1876, for one hundred square miles; Fuller and Co., Hamilton, date of order in council and of lease respectively being 22nd July 1875, for sixty square miles; W. J. Macaulay, Winnipeg, date of order-in-council being 18th April, 1876, and of lease 1st May 1878, for 74,59 100 square miles; and W. J. Macaulay, date of order 5th April, 1880, and of lease 12th October, 1880, for 25 41 100 miles, this last lease being to complete the area of 100 square miles, authorized when the first lease was granted to Macaulay. Fowler's lease was subsequently assigned to the Rainy Lake Lumber Company, and Fuller & Co's. to the Keewatin Lumbering Company. These leases are still in existence. They are the only authority from the Government of Canada, under which timber has been cut in the "disputed territory," since 31st of December, 1883. The first three were issued by Mr. Mackenzie's Government, and the last by the Government of Sir John Macdonald, in completion of the arrangement made by his predecessor. The terms of the leases were made by Mr. Mackenzie's Government, and in view of the complaint which is made by Mr. Ross, it is worth while pointing out that the annual rental was only $2, instead of $5 as has been charged by the present Government, that the leases were for twenty-one years, instead of yearly licenses since issued, and that they gave the lessees control of the land, with power to evict settlers—a power which has in at least one case been exercised—while the yearly license since granted gave no such power. Here is the clause of the lease giving that power:—

"6. The present lease shall vest in the said lessees during its continuance the right to take and keep exclusive possession of the lands herein above described subject to the conditions herein before provided; and this lease shall vest in the holder thereof, all right of property whatsoever in all trees, timber, lumber and other products of timber cut within the limits of the lease during the continuance thereof, whether such trees, timber and lumber or products be cut by authority of the holder of such lease or by any other person with or without his consent, and his lease shall entitle the lessee to seize in replevin, revendication or otherwise, as his property, such timber where the same is found in the possession of any unauthorized person and also to bring any action or suit at law or in equity against any party unlawfully in possession of any such timber or of any land so leased and to prosecute all the trespassers thereon and other such offenders as aforesaid, to conviction and punishment and to recover damages if any, and all proceedings pending at the expiration of the present lease may be continued and completed as if the same had not expired."

That clause was sanctioned by the signatures of David Laird, Minister of the Interior, R. W. Scott, Secretary of State, and Edward Blake, Minister of Justice. It is proper to state that in the case of the first lease a bonus of $20, and in the case of the others a bonus of $15 a square mile was given. But spreading these bonuses over the 21 years, the rental would still be not more than an average of $3 a mile. If, therefore, there is timber being cut to-day, in the "disputed territory" under authority of the Government of Canada, the responsibility rests with the Government of Mr. Mackenzie, not with that of Sir John A. Macdonald.

The present Government changed the policy. The system of 21 year leases with the extraordinary powers contained in them, was abandoned, as a system of yearly licenses was substituted. The rental was made $5 a mile, instead of $2 with a $15 bonus spread over the 21 years, as had before prevailed. Where two or more persons applied for the same limit, they were required to compete, and the person offering the largest bonus got the license, if he complied with the other conditions. Under this new policy, 121 orders-in-council were passed authorizing the issue of yearly licenses averaging about fifty square miles each. Of these nine were in substitution for other orders authorizing the granting of berths in the same district, which were cancelled. These orders, however, gave no authority to the persons named in them to cut timber until they had made the survey of the limits applied for and obtained the license. One year's rental in advance was required to be paid, after the order was passed and before the license issued, or even the authority to survey was granted. Altogether only twenty-two yearly licenses were issued under the authority of these orders-in-council.

It is complained that the Government continued to deal with the timber in the "disputed territory" after the decision of the Privy Council. The facts are these:—Immediately after the decision an opinion of the Minister of Justice, Sir Alexander Campbell, was obtained in which it was stated that "inasmuch as the Crown, as represented by the Government of Canada, acquired by surrender from the Indians their right and title in the lands in question, and is in possession thereof, the undersigned is of opinion that there is no objection to the Minister of the Interior giving effect to the arrangements which he had made anterior to the decision as mentioned in his report by issuing licenses in the usual way."

Acting under the opinion licences were issued to such of those to whom the Minister of the Interior had been previously authorized to issue them who returned their notes of survey, to the number of twenty one. The persons to whom these licences were granted paid to the department by way of advanced rents, the sum of $4,035 84; and two of them who had to compete, in consequence of there being other applicants, paid in addition $1134 by way of bonuses. Only one of these twenty-one licences ever cut a stick of timber in the "disputed territories"; the last of the licenses expired on the 31st December, 1885; and the Government has in every case refused to renew them. Acting under the same opinions, orders-in-council were passed in the latter part of 1884, and subsequent to the 11th of August, 1884, authorizing the Minister of the Interior to issue licenses to twenty-four applicants. But these were never acted upon, no single license having been issued under them. A clerical error in these orders-in-council has led to some misapprehension on this point. It is explained in the following correspondence:—

"OTTAWA, Jan. 8th, 1887.

"DEAR SIR,—In the detailed statement of timber leases and licenses within the 'disputed territory' which you have furnished me, no license appears to have issued under the authority of orders passed since the decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council on the Boundary Question. Are you quite sure on this point, as the orders themselves convey a different impression.

"Yours truly,
"THOMAS WHITE.

"G. U. RYLEY, ESQ."

CROWN TIMBER OFFICE,
OTTAWA, January 10th, 1887.

DEAR SIR.—I have made a careful examination of the books in this branch, and am quite certain that the statement I have furnished you is correct. No license has been issued under any order in Council passed since the decision of the Private council. The misapprehension has arisen from a mistake of the clerks in the Privy council office. The order in council passed 25th October, 1885, states: "On a memorandum dated 3rd Oct. 1884, from the Minister of the Interior representing that licenses to cut timber in the Province of Manitoba been granted, etc., etc;" whereas the terms of the memorandum were:" The undersigned (the Minister of the Interior) has the honor to submit the annexed list of persons to whom he has been authorized by council to issue licenses to cut timber" etc., etc. As I have said no license has been issued under the authorities of these orders in Council.

Yours respectfully,
G. U. RYLEY.

HON. THOS. WHITE.

The result, therefore, of the Government's administration of the timber resources of the "Disputed Territory" is this:—Four twenty-one year leases have been granted, three of them by the Mackenzie Government, and one, for a small area to complete that authorized by Mr. Mackenzie, by that of Sir John Macdonald. The holders of these leases are the only persons now cutting timber in the "disputed territory" under authority of the Government of Canada. The present Government issued in all twenty-two yearly licenses, but only one of the licensees has ever cut timber under the authority of these licenses; they have all lapsed and the Government has refused to renew them. Six of those for whom Order-in-Council were passed, but who never obtained licenses, paid by way of bonus for the limits they were applying for, the aggregate sum of $4,137.50.

Some permits were granted, and it is proper to refer to them. In all sixty four of these permits were granted, fifty seven of them before the decision of the judical committee of the Privy council, and seven subsequent to that date. These seven were for cutting cordwood exclusively, and they were all issued on 1st December, 1884. They have long since lapsed and have not been renewed, and the aggregate dues collected under them amounted only to $103 00. Of those issued before the decision of the Privy council, thirty four were for cordwood, and the balance for timber, ties, telegraph poles, fence rails, etc., connected with the construction of the Canadian Pacific railway. No permit has been granted since December, 1884, and none has been in existence since May, 1885.

There remains but the reference to the price obtained for timber limits. Mr. Ross, in his statement quoted above, says the government of Canada sold these limits at $5 a square mile, while the government of Ontario obtained $400 a mile for limits in the northern part of the province. This is an utterly misleading statement. The policy of the Ontario government is to give limits at an annual rental of $2 a square mile, and to charge seventy-five cents a thousand feet board measure, and one cent and a half a cubit foot on square timber as dues. The policy of the Dominion government is to charge $5 a square mile annual rental, and five per cent upon the selling value of the lumber at the mill, which, on first-class timber at any rate, is much more than the dues charged by the Ontario Government. The $400 is the bonus, and it may be assumed is the highest bonus ever paid to the Government for a timber limit in Ontario. Mr. Ross' friends, the Mackenzie Government, fixed the value of timber limits in the "disputed territory,' when they put the bonus at $15 a square mile, on a twenty-one year lease, with annual rental at $2 a square mile, the lease covering control of the land as well as the timber. The rental charged by the present Government on yearly licenses of $5 is much more than the price fixed by Mr. Mackenzie's Government, including the bonus.

THE FISHERIES DISPUTE.

Belligerent Belmont Introduces Another Resolution into the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—In the House to-day Mr. Belmont offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs:—"That the President be requested to transmit to the House copies of such correspondence up to the present day between this Government and the British Government as he may decide can now properly be made public, in regard to the deprivation inflicted on Canadian ports on American fishing vessels having the right to touch and trade, the liberty heretofore enjoyed by such vessels to enter Canadian ports open to foreign vessels and buy and sell and to transmit merchandise therein, and which is permitted in such ports to American trading vessels and to vessels of all other nationalities."

Advance in Wages.

SHARON, Pa., Jan. 21.—The wages of the furnacemen in this vicinity have been advanced fifteen cents. On February 1st millmen will be advanced proportionately.

Dr. McGynn.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—It is authoritively stated that the delay in Dr. McGynn's departure for Rome is due solely to his illness.

The Van Zandt Scandal.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—It is announced by the father and mother of Miss Van Zandt that she has been induced to cancel her engagement to marry August Spies, and that the wedding is off altogether.

Two Sportsmen Missing.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 21.—On Tuesday last George Gibbs, a married man, and a young man named Michael Doharty, went to Partridge Island in a boat on a shooting expedition. Not turning up, search was instituted yesterday and the boat found cast upon the rocks and considerably battered. No trace of their bodies has been discovered.

A Madman's Awful Deed.

WEATHERFORD, Tex., Jan. 21.—Near Agnes yesterday John Dickey, a farmer, without any warning, murdered his wife, breaking her skull with a stick of wood. He then killed a three year old child in the arms of its grandmother. The murderer then walked to the side of his dead wife and shot himself. Dickey two or three weeks ago gave signs of insanity.

Manitoba Wheat.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 21.—It is estimated that four million bushels of wheat has already been shipped to Eastern Canada by the Canadian Pacific Railway this season and there is still about one million bushels in hands of farmers. A comparason made from prices in Manitoba and that part of Dakota along along the boundary shows that much better prices have been paid in Manitoba than across the line. The quantity of wheat from Manitoba this season is very fine, nearly all grading one hard.

A Horrible Death.

MONTREAL, Jan. 21.—Another fatal accident occurred on the Canadian Pacific railway last evening as the train from Ottawa was approaching the station here. On its arrival after dark the lifeless body of a French Canadian, evidently a habitant from his dress, was found on the cow-catcher of the locomotive. It is supposed the victim was walking on the track and was struck by the locomotive, as his skull was crushed in and his legs fractured. Neither the driver nor the fireman knew anything of the accident until after the train entered the station, when some bystanders called their attention to the ghastly sight. Deceased has not been identified, and nothing was found on his person to lead to his identitity. An inquest will be held to-morrow.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

THE QUEEN'S SPEECH.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The Daily Telegraph, forecasting the contents of the Queen's speech says: Probably simultaneously with the Procedure Bill a measure for the better government of Ireland will be submitted under which the Government will practically be given power to proclaim the National League as an unlawful association. The Government, the Telegraph says, will consult the Hartington party on all legislative proposals and will introduce no measure without their consent.

THREAT FROM AN AGENT.

DUBLIN, Jan. 21.—The evictions at Glenleigh were resumed to-day, Messrs. Conybeare and Dillon, acting for the tenants, having failed to make terms with Agent Roe. Roe now proclaims that he will raze to the ground the habitations of all tenants refusing to meet his terms.

A BIG FAILURE.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—John Patton, jr., & Company, managers of the Monarch line, ship owners, ship and insurance brokers, etc., have failed. Liabilities and assets are both large.

BULGARIA TO ACT.

BUCHAREST, Jan. 21.—M. Stajanoff has been hastily summoned to Sofia by the Regency. M. Strjanoff states that imp rtant events may soon be expected in Bularia, the Government intending to take energetic measures.

PEACEFUL NEWS.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—The French agent in Madagascar telegraphs that his relations with the Hovas are excellent, and that the settlement of the disputes between France and Madagascar will shortly be effected.

THE IRISH EVICTIONS.

DUBLIN, Jan. 21.—The police and bailiffs engaged in evicting the tenant's on the Winn estate at Glenleigh, started this morning for a distant part of the estate to make further evictions. The Irish members of parliament who are representing tenants followed.

TIMBER MERCHANTS FAIL.

LONDON, Jan 21.—Esdaile & Co., extensive timber merchants and saw mill proprietors, have failed.

DOES NOT APPROVE.

BERLIN, Jan. 21.—Prince Bismarck has not signed the address of the Herrenhaus to the Emperor William, because, it is reported, he does not approve of the threat made in it upon the independent parliament of the Empire.

FANNING THE FLAME.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 21.—Mr. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in a speech last night, said it was a libel on the Liberal-Unionists to say their attitude was incompatible with the entertaining of the greatest sympathy for Ireland and for the Irish tenants. "Irish agitators," Mr. Goschen said, "are now treading on tragedy. They are increasing collisions between the tenants and the law. Then are lighting a blaze wherever they can and fanning the flame by agitation."

CHURCHILL ON FINANCES.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Lord Randolph Churchill, in a letter made public last night, expresses the opinion that the management of the national finances from 1869 to 1874 was fairly good; and from 1880 to 1885 was simply infamous. The causes may be reasonably ascribed to the Parliamentary demoralization springing from the Irish difficulty, unwise legislation and an unwise foreign policy.

A SCARE ON THE BOURSE.

VIENNA, Jan. 21.—Notices publicly posted inviting persons qualified to act as overseers of military transports to offer themselves for employment by the Government in that capacity, caused quite a scare on the Bourse yesterday.

AN ISLAND CEDED.

PEKIN, Jan. 21.—The negotiations for the cession by Corea to China of the Island of Quelpart, in the Yellow Sea, has been concluded.

PAPAL APPOINTMENTS.

ROME, Jan. 21.—A consistory will be held on March 7th, when Mgr. Masseida and the nuncios at Vienna, Madrid and Paris will be hatted. The Pope has accepted Cardinal Jacobini's resignation and as a mark of esteem invited him to continue to live in the Papal residence. The Cardinal will probably be appointed Perfect of Apostolic palaces. His successor to the Papal Secretaryship will be the nuncio at Lisbon, who will be raised to the rank of Cardinal after the consistory.

AN EMPTY ECHO.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The Echo says if trouble with the United States is to be avoided Lord Salisbury cannot too soon turn his attention to the fisheries question. The American people will not submit to coercion of this sort, and it should be Lord Salisbury's object to persuade the Government of the Dominion to modify their attitude. Possibly Lord Salisbury has no love for the Great Republic, but that is no reason why he should not endeavour to remove the differences which exist between it, the Dominion and this country.

UNFRIENDLY TONE.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The action of Congress on the fisheries question is attracting great attention here. The Globe says the latest phase into which the question has entered may be said to be in some respects more acute than any which has recently preceded it. Not only does the Foreign Affairs Committee of the American House propose a policy of active retaliation, but it supports that policy by a recital marked by a very irritated not to say unfriendly tone. If the parties to this quarrel confined themselves to the simple point at issue the limits within which respective jurisdictions of the two Governments are to be confined, there should be no great difficulty in bitting upon a via media which would reconcile the conflicting claims and smooth down unnecessary asperities.

THE LEAGUE EXECUTIVE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 21.—The Board of Poor Law Guardians of Westport, County Mayo, have unanimously adopted a resolution condemning the Executive of the National League at Dublin as unlawfully constituted, because it is not elected by the people composing the League, and asking Mr. Parnell to arrange to have substituted a new Executive which shall be elected by the suffrages of the whole League. The resolution declares the change necessary for the safety of the Irish cause. Copies of the resolution have been forwarded to Mr. Fitzgerald, President of the Irish League in America, and to prominent members of the order in that country.

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1887.

DEAD ISSUES.

An effort is being made to persuade the electors that the C. P. R. and the N. P. are dead issues, and that they should have no place in the present campaign. Now, we are not disposed to admit that they are dead issues. Though the C. P. R. is now constructed from ocean to ocean, it is still completing its arrangements, improving its service, and making its system still more worthy of its position as our great national road and as an Imperial thoroughfare. Even yet hostile politicians, some of them, from the leader down, in the pay of rival lines, might do much to thwart its progress and check its development.

As to the National Policy, it is not only no dead issue, but it is the most important live question of the day. A party which has been and still is bitterly opposed to it, could, if in power, reverse it either at once or bit by bit, till we would find ourselves returning to the old era of closed or languishing factories, unemployed or ill-paid operatives, and higher rather than lower prices for our woollens, our cottons, our groceries, &c. Such a change might be very satisfactory to foreign manufacturers and workingmen, but it offers no attractions for the people of Canada. Far from being a dead issue, it will be found to be a living and very lively factor in the contest.

But even if these were dead issues it by no means follows that they should have no influence upon the choice of the electors. People are judged by their past actions, by their "dead issues," if it pleases anyone to term them so, as throwing light upon their general conduct and probable future. This is especially the case when the new claimants for their shoes have no other inducements to offer besides vague promises of doing better and working cheaper. If a business man found that one of his commercial travellers had by push, energy and shrewd foresight enabled him to extend his operations and increase his profits, he would not attach much weight to the arguments of a would-be supplanter that the most remunerative openings of new ground by the traveller were now "dead issues, and that the intruder would decrease the expense account by stopping at second class hotels, travelling by cheap conveyances, refusing to telegraph orders, and by such cheeseparing methods saving money even if the loss of business far exceeded the reductions. The sensible merchant would scorn the idea of ousting his valuable employe to replace him by such a pretender. Nor would the supplicant improve his chances by suggesting that to save money he should also work for a trade rival and thus economize. The merchant, like Canada, would prefer the trusty servant who would work for him alone, not for Messrs. Stars and Stripes also, and who if he was not niggardly could always show a good return for his expenditure. Still more determined would be the merchant if he remembered that he had once given the interloper a short job and had found that in spite of similar promises of economy the expenses really increased while the business fell off.

If the N. P. and the C. P. R. are in a sense "dead issues," they are parts of a system, of a general policy which is very much alive. They are parts of a policy looking towards the progress, the development, the unification of our grand Dominion, a policy utterly opposed to the disintegrating, "penny wise and pound foolish," "fly-on-the-wheel," foreigner-favouring policy of the self-styled Reformers.

The very efforts of Mr. Blake and his supporters to keep these questions in the back ground prove their own incompetency and dishonesty. They abused those who favoured the construction of the C. P. R. and thwarted it to the best of their ability, and they raved at those who advocated the N. P., and slandered the manufacturers and operatives who benefitted by it. And now they say with bated breath that the C. P. R. is not a bad road, and that they would not change the tariff very much, just at present, but that these are dead issues. Why, Mr. Cox, like many other bearers of Mr. Blake's standard, pins his whole hope of election upon his being able to delude the electors into the belief that he is not unfriendly to protection, though he has been and is doing his very best to destroy it by supporting its bitterest enemies.

The Opposition candidates tell us that they are going to make an enormous reduction of the public expenditure. Will any one of them who are endeavouring to curry favour with the working men by squinting at protection, kindly explain to us, if their promises are sincere, what becomes of their argument that the tariff cannot be lowered because it would be impossible to cut down the revenue as the expenditure cannot be reduced? It seems rather contradictory.

ATTACKED THE VOLUNTEERS.

It is useless for the Globe and other Reform organs to try to cajole the volunteers now, after the abuse they heaped upon those who responded to the call of duty and risked their lives in the Northwest. The volunteers are not the only ones interested in the attitude of the Reform press towards the Canadian militia. The friends of the volunteers and all loyal Canadians are concerned when the volunteer forces are attacked and slandered.

The Globe paraded in its editorial column, the epithet of "bum-bailiffs" applied to the volunteers who went to the Northwest and sent a commissioner to the scene of the rising, after it had been suppressed, who delighted in charging the citizen soldiers with grave crimes and inhumanity. This commissioner, describing Batoche in the in the Globe, said:—

"Survey the grassy field, bereft of the farmer's flocks, and you behold a sorry picture indeed. Is it not to be deplored that the senility or stupidity of statesmanship should set that tide aflowing which leads to the CRUELEST OF LOOTING AND ROBBERY, killing or taking away every four-footed beast, REJOICING IN THE SUFFERINGS OF AFFRIGHTED HUMAN BEINGS, ADMIRING THE FLAMES of those once happy homes which had long before been raised by the untutored pioneer, who tamed the ferocity of the wild Indian, and made the white man's encroachments bloodless."

No longer ago than last May that was the language of the Globe. The charges which the Windsor Le Progres, edited by Gaspard Pacaud, now a Reform M. P. P., made against the volunteers are not forgotten. Le Progres charged them with having "assassinated the Metis, insulted the women, burned and pillaged their homes." The Winnipeg Free Press also attacked the brave young men returning from the field of battle, where they had fought and suffered for their country, as robbers. Another Reform paper in Quebec—the leading Reform paper in that Province—speaking of the Riel agitation there, and a report started by Reformers that the Government contemplated suppressing it by force, used the following outrageous language:—

"Sir John spoke of letting loose upon us THE WILD BEASTS who went to Batoche to ASSASSINATE WOUNDED MEN AND FRIGHTEN WOMEN."

What do the Peterborough volunteers who formed a part of the Midland Battalion think of such slanders? What do the volunteers, their friends, or the electorate generally, think of them? The Globe says that Mr. Blake would not allow a paper, generally supposed to voice his opinions, to attack a portion of the community without repudiating its opinions, unless he agreed with it. Yet Mr. Blake has not repudiated these and other attacks on the volunteers.

In another column there is a letter on one of the great issues in the present political contest, written by a mechanic employed in one of our industries. Every manufacturer, as well as laborer and mechanic, would do well to peruse it. The writer knows by experience the benefits of the fiscal policy of the present Government, and that which gives life to manufacturing industries and employment to labor, skilled and unskilled, is of advantage to every person in the country. It increases the wealth of the nation, promotes business and creates a market, thus increasing the general prosperity, and every elector should consider well before casting his vote in favor of that party which fiercely opposed the adoption of the National Policy and has been its enemy from the day it was proposed until the present time.

NORWOOD.

Obituary.—The Register says:—We regret to chronicle the death of Grace Kerr, wife of Mr. Jas. Kerr of this village. The sad event took place on on Tuesday morning last. Deceased was only in her 31st year and was held in high esteem who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

Norwood District L. O. L.—At the annual meeting of the Norwood District Loyal Orange Lodge, held in the hall of L. O. L., No. 362, on the 11th Inst., the following officers were elected for the current year:—

Bro. H. Dodds	W. M.
C. Crow	D. M.
J. A. Robb	Chap.
W. Batton	Rec Sec.
W. Hutchinson	Treas.
J. Crow	D. of O.
A. Batton	Lect.

E. R. Agr. Society.—At the annual meeting of the East Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society the following officers were elected for the current year:—John Finlay, President; John Breckenridge, 1st Vice-President; Wm. Burgess, 2nd Vice-President; F. Birdsall, Daniel Kelly, Henry Humphries, Chas. O'Reilly, A. R. Kidd, Alex. Smith, Thos. Bizzard, M.P.P., Hugh Nelson and Timothy Walsh, Directors; W. H. Stephenson and W. H. Mullins, Auditors.

For your evening wear see the Golden Lion.

The Daily Evening Review is delivered to subscribers at 15 cents a week.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

Pinkerton's Suspended.

Jersey City, Jan. 21.—As a result of the killing of young Hogan by the Pinkerton detectives yesterday, Mayor Cleveland announced to-day that Captain Foley and his men of the Pinkerton guard would be withdrawn at once and the property of the railway company placed in charge of the Jersey city police. The sheriff has refused to swear in the Pinkertons as deputy-sheriffs. The Mayor says their powers as special policemen have not been revoked he does not think they ever had any that were good for anything.

Exceedingly Cheap

Is what every person says who has bought Groceries from us. Our Teas, Sugars and Coffees are marked low and are very good. We have a very select stock of

FRESH FAMILY GROCERIES,

Canned Goods, etc. which we are selling at rock bottom prices.

GEORGE CARTON

The People's Grocer, George Street

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skilful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books' Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough and druggists everywhere

For "worn-out" "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

Business Men Attention.

We can now offer several first-class positions to Advertisers in the REVIEW, and, as there is always a rush at the beginning of the year, in order that the best positions may be obtained, business men will do well to call immediately and secure their space for 1887.

During the present year renewed efforts will be made to make the REVIEW still more a thoroughly efficient medium whereby the Merchants and others can put and keep themselves prominently before the public. Extra precaution will be taken, and the best taste will be displayed in getting up all advertisements intrusted to us for publication, and in other respects as well, the "shrewd" business man will do well to patronize the columns of the

Daily and Weekly

Review

PIANOS

HEINTZMAN & CO'S.

This Celebrated maker's Pianos are in use in the following private residences in Peterborough:

Geo. Edmison,	F. A. Rubidge,
E. Pearse,	Miss Delaney,
J. E. Hammond,	J. Stewart,
D. Faucher,	W. H. Hill,
Robt. Miller,	Rev. V. Clementi,
D. Ullyott,	E. C. Hill,
Chas. Cameron,	W. Walsh,
G. W. Morgan,	W. Snowden,
W. Sanderson,	T. G. Hazlitt,
The Convent,	Miss Calcutt,
J. Hall,	Miss Spillsbury,
Bannell Sawyer,	W. Bradburn,
Mrs. Jas. Campbell,	R. Fair,
J. J. McBain,	Mrs. Chambers,
Geo. Dunsford,	W. B. Ferguson,
Mrs. Allen,	Miss A. Edmundson,
Wm. Tate,	W. R. Greatrex,
W. Fairweather,	R. B. McKee,

and others.

Intending purchasers should not fail to inspect the Heintzman & Co's Pianos (no connection with the Gerrard Heintzman or Lansdowne Piano, of Toronto) at my Music Store, Hunter Street, East.

E. J. HARTLEY.

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Raisins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, combined with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods. Watch which ones are genuine.

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD? Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS? Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION? Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d8tw6

Xmas Comes But Once a Year

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 3 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 10c.

To every purchaser of one pound of our 50c. tea, 6 lbs. of Raisins for 25c.

We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

HERE IT IS!

CULVER'S

C B

Where is it!

What is it!

Written for the Review.

A BACHELOR'S VISION.

While glancing through a paper, that I got the other day,
I saw a natal notice, that in quaint, peculiar way,
Announced that Mr. Nincompoop supremest joy had found,
His wife had had a son and heir that weighed just thirteen pound.

I sat before my fire in my pleasant easy chair,
I'd made a hearty dinner, and my mind was free from care;
Over all my senses stealing came a dream of sweet repose,
And ere I finished reading I was in a gentle doze.

Again was I perusing, quite bewildered, I confess,
An imaginary journal from some mystic printing press,
That of accidents and murders had a most perplexing dearth,
For every page and column but announced some recent birth.

I read that to the dwelling of the genial Mr. Brown
Had come a little visitor his happiness to crown;
The paper else informed me, and a paper's never wrong,
That the child was born a female and was eighteen inches long.

"On the 19th McDuff Gilhooly was presented with a son,"
So read one truthful item, ere the paragraph was done
The startling information it proceeded to disclose
That the boy had just ten fingers and half a score of toes.

"At twenty-seven Chestnut street, at ten o'clock this morn,
At Gus. Fitznoodle's residence a little girl was born."
But the joy of all was lessened, tears bedewed each parent's cheek,
When with sorrow they discovered that the baby couldn't speak.

Eureka! shout for rapture! sing aloud in joyful tones!
There's been a fresh arrival; at the house of Mr. Jones
Is a babe with curly eyebrows of a pure esthetic tint,
And a pretty pair of optics with a most delightful squint.

"The wife of Mr. Spoopendyke," this paper did declare,
"Had given him a daughter, and this daughter hadn't hair."
It printed then the following, as true as eggs is eggs,
"Mrs. Smith has had a baby with a pair of handy legs."

Next door there lives a person whom I've often wished to shoot;
He devotes entire evenings to practice on the flute,
But I read with exultation he'd been punished for his sins,
For his wife, the paper told me, had presented him with twins.

"We extend congratulations to our neighbour Mr. Fry, Whose wife has brought him triplets," this announcement met my eye.
Huge drops of perspiration from my brow in anguish broke,
And I started up in terror, and in starting up awoke.

Peterborough, Jan. 20, 1887. FRITZ FRY.

HARVEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

FREE CONCERT.—An entertainment forwarded by the management of Miss Bowman, teacher of No. 8, was given to the residents of sections 3 and 8. A well filled programme was well carried out, and the intellectual appetites of the hearers were fully satisfied. Miss Brown, formerly teacher at Lark Hall, assisted in the work, for which she deserves due praise. We must not forget the admirable service rendered by our worthy Reeve, who filled the chair, if not in a physical, it was in a mental capacity. At the close Miss Bowman was presented by her pupils with a beautiful work-box, accompanied by a neat address. The lady replied in suitable terms.

THE PULPIT.—The Rev. Mr. McAmmond, of Fenelon Falls, formerly pastor of the Mark Street Methodist Church, Ashburnham, delivered a sermon in Nogey Creek Church on Sunday, Jan. 9th. His text was Romans VII, 14-17, and the subject entitled "The Sonship of Believers." The subject was presented and explained in the clearest manner possible, and the words of the speaker were so eloquent yet pathetic as to enlist the attention of all.

COUNCIL.—The Harvey Councillors elect met at the Town Hall on Jan. 17th, and after making the required declarations of qualification and office, took their seats at the Council board, viz.:—James Hicks, Reeve; Councillors Thomas Flynn, James Ingram, Henry T. Reid and Robert Shaw. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. Communications were read from the County Clerk re part broken lot 15, con. 13, Harvey, up for sale, etc.; also from the trustees of S. S. No. 2, requesting pay for the use of school house and fuel, for holding the late Provincial and municipal elections; also from A. McMartin, D. R. Officer, for use of room and fuel for holding the last Provincial and municipal elections, and Council meetings up to this date. A by-law was passed reappointing W. P. Chase and John Elliott as auditors for 1887. A by-law was passed appointing health officers for the current year. A by-law was passed reappointing the Clerk, Treasurer and Assessor, for the current year. Orders were drawn on the Treasurer as follows:—

W. P Chase and John Elliott, as auditors 18 6	$ 4 00
John Elliott, Jr, caretaker town hall	6 50
Jas. S. Cairnduff, sec.-treas. S. S. No. 2, use of school house for holding late elections	6 00
Angus McMartin, deputy return'g officer, use of room, etc., for holding late elections and council meetings	10 00

Mr. Reid moved, seconded by Mr. Ingram, —That Charles McIlmoyle be and he is hereby appointed to examine the 18th con. line, from lot 29 north to the boundary, and also the side line between lots 30 and 31, from 17th con. west to the Galway road. The council adjourned, to meet at the Clerk's office on Monday, the 7th of March next.

GLOBE FIGURES.

The Globe has throughout its tables given the net debt of the United States and the gross debt of Canada. Why it should deduct assets in one case and refuse them in the other is one of those every man must judge for himself. The gross debt of the United States is nearly $200,000,000 greater than is stated by the Globe.—Hamilton Spectator.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,

SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.

MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c.—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d4w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w18

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.

MONEY TO LOAN. d103w18

HATTON & WOOD.

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

E. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d41w18

W. BLACKWELL,

ARCHITECT and C. E. Plans and estimates made of Churches, Public Buildings and Dwelling Houses. Buildings superintended and Patents applied for. Heating and Plumbing a specialty. Office:—Over Telegraph Office, George street, Peterborough. d150w1

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d130w22

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL, Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street, opposite St. John's Church. d125w22 1y

G. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w2

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto Schoool of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. lyd&w

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. lyd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. lyd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. lyd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 758. Residence, Bon Accord Street. lyd97w1

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 699; residence, Reid street, near King. lyd97

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. lyd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 543; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. lyd97

W. FITZGERALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. lyd97

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms.

TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

FROM ALL OVER.

The Montreal City Council will shortly consider a proposition for lighting the whole of the city with electric light.

Frederick Amerling, the painter who died recently in Vienna, bequeathed to that city his collection of art antiques, valued at $125,000.

Wm. Glassey, 17 years of age, was arrested on Thursday in St. Thomas on the charge of impersonating his father at the Provincial election.

Sir Michael Morris, at present Lord Chief Justice of the court of Common Pleas, Ireland, has been appointed Lord Chief Justice of Ireland.

The difficulty between Messrs. H. E. Clarke & Co., trunk manufacturers of Toronto, and their employes has been amicably adjusted, and the work will be resumed on Monday morning.

AYER'S Pills cure constipation, improve the appetite, promote digestion, restore healthy action, and regulate every function. They are pleasant to take, gentle in their operation, yet thorough, searching and powerful in subduing disease.

It is stated that 200 miles additional of the Hudson's Bay railway will be completed by next fall if the Manitoba Legislature make the Provincial guarantee satisfactory to English capitalists.

In Cleveland, Ohio, on Thursday, Mrs. Cabeck, wife of a Bohemian carpenter, while temporarily insane, carved three of her children to death and fatally wounded two others with a pair of scissors, and then hanged herself.

AYER'S Hair Vigor improves the beauty of the hair and promotes its growth. It imparts an attractive appearance, a delightful and lasting perfume. It stimulates the roots, cleanses the scalp, and proves itself to be the best and cheapest article for toilet use.

Pleuro-Pneumonia.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 21.—A special report has been filed with the Governor by the Illinois stock commissioner calling attention to the alarming extent to which contagious pleuro-pneumonia prevails among cattle in Chicago, the magnitude of the interest involved and the attendant dangers. The board deems the slaughter of all diseased cattle absolutely necessary.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d30

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. B BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office.
Postal Address, Box 491. d118w2

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 20 cents for Book of 128 pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00
LADIES..... 50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG,
Manager.

1648

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.
SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.
OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.
DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.
LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

Sisters of Charity

Charity, attached to St. Mary's Infant Asylum, Dorchester, Mass., certify to the inestimable value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the treatment of sore eyes and skin diseases, among the many unfortunate children under their care. Mrs. S. D. Bodwell, Wilmington, Mass., writes concerning the treatment of her daughter, who was troubled with sore eyes, as follows: "I gave Ayer's Sarsaparilla to and must say that she never took anything that helped her so much. I think her eyes never looked so well, as now, since they were affected, and her general health is improving every day. She has taken but half a bottle." A. J. Simpson, 147 East Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "My weak eyes were made strong by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla." C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H., writes: "For a number of years I have been troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief, until I commenced using saparilla. I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers."

My Little Girl,

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

may be "fairest and foremost of the train that wait on man's most dignified and happiest state," but the dignity and happiness of man cannot long endure without the health that may be obtained in a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A. W. Parker, lumber dealer, 209 Bleury street, Montreal, Que., writes: "After being troubled with Dyspepsia for a year, and with Salt Rheum

For a Number of Years,

I was cured of both diseases by using six bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla." M. G. Traine, Duxbury, Mass., writes: "I have found Ayer's Sarsaparilla an efficacious remedy for bilious troubles and Dyspepsia." Henry Cobb, 41 Russell st., Charlestown, Mass., writes: "I was completely cured of Dyspepsia, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla." Wm. Lee, Joppa, Md., writes: "I have tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and it has done me so much good that I shall always regard it as the best of blood purifiers." Eminent physicians prescribe Ayer's Sarsaparilla in all cases requiring a powerful alterative treatment.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

For sale by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5.

1853. 1887.

THE WEEKLY REVIEW

For the Year 1887

As usual will be found brim full of Latest News from all parts of the World, including full information on the leading questions of the day. The REVIEW is one of the Largest Papers printed in Central or Eastern Ontario.

ONLY $1 A YEAR

CONTAINS EACH WEEK:

The new world's doings,
News of the United States,
Canadian Intelligence,
District Proceedings,
Our Country News,
Local sayings and doings,
A Lively Serial Tale,
Poetry, Original and Selected,
Current Social Events,
Literary Selections,
Reviews of New Works,
Cream of our Exchanges,
Editorial Articles,
Opinions of the Press,
Political Opinions,
Letters from Correspondents,
Commercial Intelligence.
The Market Reports,
Agricultural Department,
Farm and Garden Items,
Household Hints,
Medical and Scientific Notes,
Items for the Ladies,
Religious Intelligence.
Advertisements for all Wants,
Where to Buy and Sell,
Where to secure Help.
Professional Services,
Various Wants Supplied,
All the Public Needs.

This condensed history of our own days, carefully collected and judiciously selected, the epitome of current news and information to suit all readers

For One Dollar a Year.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY REVIEW IF YOU ARE WISE.

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woollen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods, Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take your LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m 7 00 p m 10 55 p m 7 00 p m 8 30 a m 10 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. T. & G. B. Toronto and West, via G. T. & G. R. Grand Trunk, East & West do East	11 00 a m 10 00 p m 6 00 p m 10 00 p m 1 15 p m 6 00 p m
12 00 m 3 00 p m 9 30 a m 5 15 p m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west) Millbrook and Port Hope. do do Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	6 00 p m 4 30 p m 11 00 a m 6 00 p m 1 15 p m
4 00 p m 5 15 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	12 00 m 11 00 a m
1 30 p m	Fraserville & Springville, Bobcaygeon, Including Bridgenorth & Ennismore, Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Haultain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clydesdale, Paudash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Street Letter Boxes do do do British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	7 00 a m 4 00 p m 10 00 p m
	Pic New York, Mondays. Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	7 30 p m
9 00 a m		6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 8 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbadoes, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxemburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamaica, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guiana, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhœa, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse, [excess] self-erection, or over-exertion. [APPEAL] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5. by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

Pocket Diaries
Office Diaries
Canadian Almanacs
1887 at
SAILSBURY BROS.

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Terrible Accident.

Geo. A. Morrison and C. H. Sheffield give for $7.50 a year an accident policy for $60 a month with a "Free Partial Indemnity Clause."

Growing.

The circle of subscribers to the Telephone exchange continues to widen. During the last month instruments have been placed in Mr. A. St. A. Smith's residence, Mr. G. W. Hatton's residence, Mr. R. E. Wood's office, Mr. T. E. Bradburn's residence, and others are being placed in the gas works the City Hotel, and J. Garvey's store. The number of subscribers now is one hundred and thirty-five.

Saves Work.

An appliance has been added to the central telephone office which saves a great deal of trouble. Heretofore when a subscriber rang the operator replied with another ring. By means of a steam generator connected with the REVIEW office machinery, this latter operation is dispensed with As soon as a ring is made the operator simply attaches a plug connection the wire leading from the generator to the wire in conection with the subscribers office. This accomplishes at once the answer ring and establishes communication.

The Governor-General's Prize.

The Governor General again offers a prize for competition among the curling clubs. Instead of going to Ottawa to play for it each club plays at home. Eight players are selected and their scoring averages in a point game are taken. The chosen eight of the Peterborough Club, together with their scores, are as follows: T. P. Attrill, 16; W. G. Ferguson, 12; C. McGill, 12; J. B. Pentland, 10; T. Rutherford, 9; S. Ray, 9; R. S. Davidson, 8; A. McNeil, 5. This makes an average for the eight of 10¾, which is a very creditable score. The prize given by the Governor-General last year was a silver basin, and a medal to each player.

Curling Statistics.

A "tired curler" who played a closely contested "thirteen point" game the other day give us the following figures in proof of his assertion that it looks like hard work. In following and sweeping the stones which was done with the most thorough fidelity he travelled 5¾ miles; a large part of it being on the run and sweeping with all a curler's energy. The playing of his stones represented the moving of over 2½ tons and the length of the rink 42 yards, equivalent to moving over 99 tons 1 yard. Allowing that the stone was raising on an average 2 feet at each shot, he raised 4¾ tons one foot. His best girl wants to know how many of a horse power he is?

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The meeting of the Association maintain their interest. Young men are especially invited to attend the meetings for them on Saturday at 8 p. m., and Sunday at 4 p. m.

The Finance Committee of the Association has done good work but still needs to raise about $250 for the years expenses.

It is expected that a good delegation will go from the Peterborough Association to the Provincial Convention meeting in Kingston on February 3-6.

Mr. Geo. H. Marsh begins evangelistic meetings with the local Association on the 8th February.

A visit is being arranged for (about the end of February) from Mr. Charles James, a Welsh lecturer of great eloquence.

Curling.

On Friday two rinks of Lakefield curlers came to town and played matches during the afternoon and evening. The following are the scores for the afternoon:—

LAKEFIED.	PETERBOROUGH.
Rink 1.
W D Strickland,	R Hall,
J P Strickland,	D Belleghem,
H C Strickland,	J McClelland,
G Postlewaite, skip, 11,	A Hall, skip, 25.
Rink 2.
T J Bird,	Judge Weller,
John Clarin,	Geo Hatton,
Geo Cochrane,	W Van Every,
E Strickland, skip, 8	E B Edwards, skip 23

In the evening match the following scores were made:—

LAKEFIELD.	PETERBOROUGH.
Rink 1.
T J Bird,	R Hall,
J Clarin,	D Belleghem,
Geo Cochrane,	W G Ferguson.
R C Strickland, skip 14,	A Hall, skip, 14.
Rink 2.
W D Strickland,	J McClelland,
J P Strickland,	C McGill,
W H Biggar,	Dr Boucher,
G Postlewaite, skip 9.	T P Attrill, skip 10.

THE headquarters for Ladies' Collars, Cuffs, Gloves and Hosiery is at the Golden Lion.

Stop Coughing!

How? By using a twenty-five cent bottle of Culver's Cough Balsam. Sold at the Floral Drug Store.

Electricity and its Uses.

A free lecture on the above subject, illustrated with many beautiful and interesting experiments, will be given in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Monday evening next at 8 o'clock, by Geo. S. Bean Esq., of the Collegiate Institute. All are invited to attend.

Prizes for Poultry.

At the Poultry Exhibition held in Ottawa on Thursday, Mr. John McClelland, the only exhibitor from the County of Peterborough, carried off the following prizes:—1st and 2nd for Light Brahma cockerels, 1st and 2nd for Light Brahma pullette, 1st for Buff Cochin cockerel, 1st and 2nd for Buff Cochin pullets, and a special prize for the highest scoring for the best Light Brahma chicken.

It May be Remarked

—That Peterborough curlers stand a chance to compete for the Governor-General's prize.

—That there was the usual Friday night turnout at the rink last night.

—That almost anyone could paddle his own canoe in Cornwall during the last few days.

—That the flood is subsiding.

—That Mr. Stevenson's committees meet again to-night in the Parlor Roller Rink.

Gone but not Forgotten.

Mr. J. Dickson Morgan, English Poet, who has gained considerable notoriety who has succeeded in effecting his departure from the "bloomin town." Mr. Stenson, the new chairman of the charity committee, has stuck the first feather in his councilloric cap by the way he got the poet off. The matter was referred to the committee at the last council meeting and Mr. Stenson promptly had it settled. He took the poet in town Friday afternoon, visited the latter's admires and took up a subscription sufficient to buy a ticket to New York. If Mr. Morgan dosen't happen to find his way back here his programme is to work his passage to the old country. He says that besides being a poet he is an A 1 sailor.

GET some of the useful Remnants at the Golden Lion before they all go.

A WORD OF WARNING.

A Mechanic's Views of the Duty Devolving Upon the Workmen of Canada.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Rarely, if ever, in the history of Canada has the working class, laborer and mechanic, been face to face with a problem requiring so much their united and vigorous attention.

We are to-day, as it were, standing on the verge of a vast and uncertain cataract and the question which presents itself to us is, whether shall we with one united and universal effort bridge this dangerous whirpool, and thereby secure for ourselves and those dependant on us

A SURE MEANS OF SUPPORT, or shall we carelessly, and with seeming neglect, sacrifice our own and our posterity's rightful heritage by falling into the trap prepared by designing politicians to ensnare us? Let our answer to the latter be a plain and decisive No! We care not to undergo again the hardships and deprivations endured during the Mackenzie Administration. To the present Government we owe a or the happy and prosperous condition we find ourselves in to-day, and let us prove that gratitude on the 22nd of Feb. by a united action in sustaining the present Government so that they may be enabled to continue the good work so nobly begun and which is of so much interest to us.

DEBT OF GRATITUDE

We are to-day on the eve of an election which means (in its mildest form) to the laboring and mechanical industries of this country. It is needless to say that the policy of the present Government has been the life of these industries, and by giving life to these industries has secured the prosperity of the country. It is, still further, unnecessary to say that, if sustained, they will adhere to this policy which has been so beneficial in its results, and it would be madness to expect from the Opposition, were they entrusted with power, a continuance of this policy in face of the stern and vigorous opposition it has so often and repeatedly received at their hands up to a very late date, when it "pleased" them to admit the feasibility of the National Policy, seeing if they did otherwise it would be disastrous and utterly ruin their prospects of securing the much coveted treasury benches. So let working men take heed; by sweet tongued politicians. What you have you are—if you support the present Administration—sure of, and besides the old adge, "a bird in hand, &c," you would not be justified in withdrawing your confidence and support from that party which secured for you, in the face of the bitterest opposition, the privileges you have enjoyed for the past seven years and which you would like to enjoy for the future.

LIFE OR DEATH

BE NOT DECEIVED

In conclusion, let me say, as the time is short between now and the 22nd, let our actions be such that when the last vote has been polled we will have every reason for rejoicing, and not the lamentable cry that, "If I had known it was going against us I would have worked harder." The word is, work! work! work! and by that means secure success.

Yours, etc.,
A MECHANIC.

Peterborough, Jan. 22, 1887.

Advertise in the Review.

The Churches.

The following is a list of services in the several churches to-morrow:—

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.—At St. Peter's Cathedral, Roman Catholic, there will be three masses celebrated, the first at 7 a. m. the second at 8 a. m., and the third at 10.30 a. m. Vespers at 7 p. m.

ST. LUKE'S.—The regular services at St. Luke's Church will be conducted as follows: Holy Communion at 8 a.m., morning prayer Litany and sermon at 11 a. m., evensong at 7 p. m.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.—The regular services will be conducted as follows:—Holy Communion at 8.30 a.m.; Morning Prayer, Litany and sermon at 11 a.m.; Evening Prayer and sermon at 7 p. m.

ST. PAUL'S.—The Rev. Mr. Torrance will conduct the days services.

BAPTIST CHURCH, Murray Street.—The pulpit will be occupied by the Rev. Mr. Grant, of the Mission Board.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.—In the morning the Rev. Mr. Wallace will preach and in the evening the Rev. Mr. A. L. Adam.

METHODIST CHURCH, Charlotte Street.—The services will be conducted as usual. In the evening the Rev. F. H. Wallace, M. A., B. D., will preach on "Divine Revelations in the Old Testament and the New."

METHODIST CHURCH, Mark street (Ashburnham)—The Rev. Mr. Wilson will conduct the services.

ST. ANDREWS CHURCH.—The pastor will conducted the services as usual.

We May Expect.

—That particular curler to grow grey haired to answer the question.

—A match between Peterborough and Lindsay before long.

—Another freeze up.

Poet Morgan to receive an ovation on his arrival in New York.

—If he ever gets there.

—The two new local flyers to enter for the Omemee races.

Socials, organ recitals and continued slipping on the sidewalks.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

Congress of the Powers.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—It is stated that England will not object to enter a congress of the powers to settle the Bulgarian question. The other powers, with the exception of Russia, whose position is regarded as tentative, have been found willing to take part in the proposed conference. The question has arisen whether the conference should be held before or after a Bulgarian ruler is chosen. In diplomatic circles it is doubted whether the Regents will resign before the Sobranje has accepted a candidate for the throne.

Mothers,

do you not see the pallid face, once so bright, growing thinner? Do you not hear the hacking cough, and note the wasted, languid indifference, where once was mirth, brightness, and keen enjoyment for all the pleasures of life? Do not be mistaken or deceived. That child is dying of consumption—slowly but surely. Yet thousands are living to-day who have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," which surpasses all other medicines for the cure of that disease. Send ten cents for phamphlet and testimonials. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

ONE MAN'S EXPERIENCE.

In our issue of Saturday, June 17, 1882, appeared an address to the statesmen and workingmen of London, in which the following occurred:—"I started out with $1.50 per day, and then $1 68 per day; that brings us the time the House was dissolved, and Mackenzie undertook to run the affairs of the country with Cartwright taking the cash. About then wages came down to $1.50 again, then $1.25, then $1, and last of all 75c. That was the end of it, for the country got disgusted and turned them out." Messrs. Mackenzie, Cartwright and Blake set their faces like flint against the National Policy, and would none of it. The Government of Sir John Macdonald established the N. P., and under it wages again advanced to about the same as before the Grits came in. Are our workingmen anxious for a return of the days of low wages and failing industrses, as in the dark period between 1873-8? If so, vote for Blake, and his supporters.—London Free Press.

THEIR TRUE OPPINION.

A great deal will be said about religion, the Bible, the French-Canadians, the Pacific railway and Riel in the course of the election contest, but the tariff issue will continue to be the great one until it is settled in the right way. The protective system is pulling this country down hill, and we must look to its effects in other countries to fully comprehend the danger staring us in the face if the cause be not removed.—Hamilton Times (Reform).

WISDOM AND FARSIGHTIDNESS.

One of the main objects of the opposition organs in the present contest will be to convince the electors that the National Policy is not now before the people, and the most strenuous work which the party managers will have to do will be to gag the free traders within their ranks. Nothing they are so much afraid of as that some indiscreet Liberal free traders of prominence will say or do something that will lead to the belief that the Liberal party is still the enemy of the National Policy. This excessive caution, this policy of expression, this unsparing use of the party gag, are the strongest evidence of the success of the National Policy and of the wisdom and farsightedness of the men who inaugurated it.—Moutreal Star.

THE GREAT ISSUE.

Again, on the great issue between Free Trade and Protection the Reformers are also astray. Mr. Blake does not believe in encouraging home manufactures, and the Globe newspaper teaches its followers Free Trade after the Manchester school. Mr. Blake and the Globe would have this country only pastoral and agricultural, a consuming ground for foreign goods. The great body of our people have twice declared otherwise. They are willing that their taxation should be disposed of so as to encourage native productions, to build up new industries, to make Canadians sufficient for themselves and for the future.—Toronto World (Indep.)

T. DOLAN & CO'S
$2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

New Advertisements.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears, Sweet Florida Oranges, Malago Grapes, new English Walnuts Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Peacan Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Parties a Speciality.

LONG BROTHERS,
George St., Peterborough.

BURNS' ANNIVERSARY!

The St. Andrew's Society Of Peterborough will celebrate the Burns' Anniversary by a supper, etc. in the MORGAN HOUSE, on TUESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 25th, 1887,

Commencing at 8 o'clock.

Tickets $1.00. To be had from the members of the celebration committee viz: Messrs. Thos. Menzies, James Hendrie, E. H. D. Hall, James Alexander, D. D. Galleily, the secretary, and at the bookstores.

For particulars see programmes.

THOS. MENZIES, President. WM. MENZIES, Secretary.

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

Two weeks and Saturday Matinees.

COMMENCING

Monday, January 24

WILSON DAY'S

Theatre Company

The Greatest Living Child Actress

ANNIE BIRD

At Each Performance.

Grand Opening Bill, the Famous Comedy

UNCLE DANIEL

Or a Messenger from Jarvis Section.

Admission 10c. Reserved Seats 25c. at Hartley's. 14d17

Notice to Creditors

OF THE

LATE JOHN E. HAMMOND.

PURSUANT to Revised Statutes of Ontario, Chapter 107 and 45 Victoria, Chapter 9, Ontario, notice is hereby given that all creditors and others having claims against the estate of John Edward Hammond, late of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, gentleman, who died on or about the third day of January, 1887, are required to send by post, prepaid, or to deliver to Hatton & Wood, of the Town of Peterborough, in the said County of Peterborough, solicitors for Herbert Arthur Hammond, Robert Pennie Boucher and Harriet Hammond, the executors and executrix of the last will and testament of the deceased on or before the 28th day of February, 1887, a statement of their names and addresses, the full particulars of their claims and securities (if any) held by them. And that after the said date the said executors and executrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice shall have been given as above required.

And the said executors and executrix will not be responsible for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons of whose claim or claims notice shall not have been received at the time of such distribution.

Dated at Peterborough, this 26th day of January, 1887.

HATTON & WOOD,
Solicitors for the said Executors and Executrix.

w3

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

FITZGERALD & STANGER

Corner Brock and Water Streets

PETERBOROUGH.

THE ABOVE FIRM HAVE NOW ON HAND A LARGE STOCK OF

Buggies, Phaetons and Waggons

WHICH THEY ARE PREPARED TO SELL AT LOWEST LIVING PRICES.

ALSO, A GREAT VARIETY OF

SLEIGHS & CUTTERS

IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION FOR WHICH THEY ARE PREPARED TO RECEIVE ORDERS.

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md79w43

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

A GOOD TIME TO BUY.

The present is an excellent opportunity to purchase

Buggies, Phætons, Carriages and Waggons

at our Factory, as we are selling them out to make room for a lively trade in Winter Goods this Season. A fine stock on hand at prices that cannot fail to please. The present is also an excellent time to purchase or order before the busy season sets in. Hand in your order and obtain a handsome and substantial vehicle. If you do not intend to purchase a new one, bring along your cutters and sleighs and have them repaired. All material used by us is THOROUGHLY SEASONED. Our workmen are skilled mechanics, and the work is finished in the best styles. BUGGY TOPS made in the factory in several styles and at moderate prices. You will consult your interests by calling on us, as we are bound not to be beaten in prices or workmanship, and to lead the procession in our trade.

Cutters or Sleighs

We have also about 5,000 FEET OF TWO-INCH OAK, suitable for building purposes, which we will dispose of at a reasonable price.

PORTER BROS.

Corner Charlotte and Aylmer Streets, near the G.T.R.

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 19. PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, JANUARY 24, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

PROBABILITIES.

Increasing west and north-west winds; fair weather, proceeded by light local snowfalls; lower temperatures.

R. FAIR.

Come direct to the Golden Lion for

EVENING KID GLOVES, ETC., ETC.

For the Tan Mousquitaire Kid Gloves, 10 button lengths, etc., etc.

For Silk Gloves in evening shades.

For White and Black Beaded Fronts for evening dresses.

For All Over Laces and Flouncings.

Evening Satins.

Evening Fabriques, etc., etc., etc.

R. FAIR,

GOLDEN LION.

Music.

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. lydll

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipsig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipsig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence

DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE

dllw4

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training. $70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal, Peterborough, Ontario.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE, Solicitor.

d23w13

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,

AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,

FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS

AND

MUSLIN CURTAINS

AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S

Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, JANUARY 24, 1887.

APPROACHING CONFLICT.

Germany and France Making Ready for Another Struggle.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The uneasy feeling on the London Stock Exchange and the European Bourses generally is not without cause. This morning further additions are made to the war rumors. The Eastern question in various ways seems to be clearing up, only to give place to signs of an approaching France-German conflict. Both these countries are massing troops on the frontier. Mobilization has been ordered and instructions received as to the routes to be adopted. The Emperor's speech to the members of the Prussian Upper Chamber yesterday, though declaring that the strengthening of the army would contribute to diminish the chances of war, hardly disguises the belief that war is inevitable in the near future. On the other hand France is showing a feverish anxiety to take only those steps which will ensure efficiency in the event of an outbreak. The projected adoption of the repeating rifle at a juncture when it may become necessary for the men to become perfectly familiar with their weapons is condemned. Whatever the outcome of the present ominous activity, it is certain that neither France nor Germany will be caught napping.

Verdict in the Military Libel.

QUEBEC, Jan. 22.—Jury in the Amot-Tarte case to-day gave a verdict giving no damages to Colonel Amyot, but allotting the costs of the case between Mr. Tarte and Mr. Demers.

A Rascally Gang.

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—The police last night made a raid on a house in Chelsea, in which was found several thousand dollars worth of stolen property. A gang of counterfeiters inhabiting the premises were arrested.

A Disgraceful Wrangle.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The Times' Washington special says the discussion in yesterday's secret session of the Senate upon the extradition treaty was a disgraceful wrangle, in which oaths and taunting epithets were thrown about with the utmost freedom.

Sir John's Candidature.

KINGSTON, Jan. 22.—Sir John Macdonald, having consented to be a candidate for Kingston, was chosen the standard bearer at a large and enthusiastic meeting of Conservatives last night. When the news was announced that Sir John would run, the enthusiasm knew no bounds, and such manifestation were never exhibited at any other political meeting in Kingston.

American Fishery Union.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Jan. 22.—The American Fishery Union, by George Steel, its president, has issued a circular inviting the attendance of full delegations from all parts of the United States at the convention to be held here on February 23rd next for the purpose of uniting all branches of the fishing industry under one working organization which shall immediately enter upon such work as may be thought best for the advancement of all the various branches of the fisheries, including salt and fresh water fish, cured and fresh; oils, fish and whale; oysters, fish fertilixers, etc.

Developing the North-West.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 22.—The Galt railroad company is seeking legislative powers from British Columbia legislature. Already a line of narrow gauge railway is in operation from a point on the Canadian Pacific railway in Alberta territory to Lethbridge, where the Galt coal mines are situated. It is the desire of the company to extend the line through Crow's Nest pass to the Kootenay river, and either by a detour to north and then south-west to make connection the Northern Pacific system, or by following a direct line south from Kootenay river to the boundary line.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc. Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

THE REICHSTAG.

Gen. Von Moltke and the Duke of Wellington Compared.

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—The new German Liberals of the second Berlin district met yesterday for the purpose of deciding on their action in the coming election for the member of the Reichstag. Three thousand electors attended. It was resolved to support Prof. Virchow against Gen. Von Moltke's candidate. Herr Richter, in his speech advocating this policy, admitted the personal merits of General Von Moltke as superintendent; but, he contended, it was not the duty of the electors to provide that the military interests of the empire should be strongly represented in the Reichstag, but rather to elect to that body those who could and would defend the civil interests of the people, to the end that there might be a proper equalization of the civil and military claims put forth. The views of eminent civilians should be recognized in opposition to a one-sided military view. When the Duke of Wellington continued Her Richter, utilized his military glory and his personal merits to override the constitution of England, Englishmen defiantly declare that though he has been victorious in Spain and at Waterloo he should not be victorious against the people of England. In like manner Gen. von Moltke thought he had been victorious over Austria and over France, should not be permitted to be victorious against the citizens of Berlin.

PITCH-IN ON THE NORTHERN.

Serious Collision Near Allandale on Saturday Night.

COLLINGWOOD, Jan. 23.—A serious accident occurred last night on the Northern and Northwestern Railway, between Allandale and Colwell, by which a number of passengers were injured. Full particulars are not to hand, but it seems the train for Collingwood, leaving Allandale at 8.50 started twenty minutes late, followed by the train for Penetanguishene, which left ten minutes later. Something went wrong with the engine of the Collingwood train and the engineer brought the train to a standstill. The brakeman set out with danger and fog signals, but before he got far enough to stop the coming train the latter pitched into the rear car of that for Collingwood. The extent of the damage to plant is not yet known, but it cannot have been great. The passengers, however were badly shaken and several were badly bruised. Among the Collingwood passengers who were on board who suffered from the collision were:—Chas. Cameron, two ribs broken; Thos Long, arm bruised; C. E. Stephens, slightly bruised; Mrs. Fair and child, badly shaken. The train arrived here about an hour late.

OUR VOLUNTEERS.

To the Editor of the Review

SIR,—In your Saturday's paper, after giving an account of how the volunteers who went to the North-West to quell the rebellion have been slandered by the Globe and Grit press generally, you ask what do the volunteers who formed part of the Midland Battalion and their friends think of the Grits. As an old volunteer of over twenty years' standing, I may be allowed to answer. Just what we always thought of them; they are just what any volunteer might expect who remembers how they were treated during the Grits time of office, viz., from 1873 to 1878. We remember that their course during that time appeared as if they had determined to drive the force out of existence. During that time officers of all ranks received the munificent pay of $1.00 per day; field officers to keep their horses out of that. All other ranks got 50c. per day, and we could scarcely get any uniform. Who of the old volunteers does not remember how some battalions came into camp looking as if their outfits were procurred in an old clothes shop, being of all kinds and colors. Some of you may remember the 49th, how it came into camp in Cobourg. But the truth is the Grit leaders don't want any volunteers, they have no love for them, nor should they. Did you ever see an enemy of the law who liked or spoke well of officers of the law? Neither may you expect to hear rebels or their allies speak well of soldiers. All I am sorry for is that some volunteer officers in Ontario, who degraded their cloth by sitting on the platform with an avowed rebel, were not in the North-west, for then Laurier with his gun might have succeeded in ridding the volunteer forces of a disgrace.

VOLUNTEER.

Peterborough, Jan. 24th, 1887.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

FOR THE PEOPLE.

Sir John Macdonald and his party have acted in the main for the country and for the people of Canada. His party has sought to bind the Provinces together, to unite diversified peoples into one, to develop home industries, to make the Dominion an important and constituent part of the Empire.—Toronto World (Indep.)

BRIGHT AS BLAKE.

Beneficent free trade having failed to prevent the destruction of the foreign and home markets of the lace makers of Nottingham they laid their case before Mr. Bright, among others. Mr. Bright's reply is that if the manfacturers can not compete with their foreign operatives—some of whom are on the verge of starvation wages and others without any wages at all—must work for less pay. Mr. Bright reminds us of the sarcastic party who advised a bibulous friend that if drinking interfered with his business he should give up his business. If free trade reduces your necessary number of meals abandon your habit of eating.—Toronto World (Indep)

NEW ASSURANCES.

The state of uncertainty among those who dread the success of Mr. Blake is in itself a great obstacle to the progress of industries and the investment of capital. Business men are not willing to embark in enterprises which may be prosperous to-day but which might be ruinous to-morrow, if they were crushed by foreign competition. If we wish to see a continuation of our industrial progress it is absolutely necessary to give to capitalists new assurances that their position will not be disturbed, and that their anticipations will not be disappointed for some years at least. Upon the continuation of the progress the country depends.—La Minerve.

THE TELEPHONE.

An Old Italian Claimns to have Invented the 'Phone.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Antonio Meucci, the aged Italian, who will in the government suit combat Professor Bell's claim to be the inventor of the telephone, is in this city. He has in his possession certified papers from the patent office at Washington and an abundance of affidavits and testimony dating from the year 1862. From the story of Meucci it appears that during the year 1849 he was living with his wife in the city of Cuba, in Cuba. He was director of mechanism of the Tacon opera house. During his leisure moments he experimented with electricity and electrical implements. He had a theory that disease could be discovered and cured by electricity, and while pursuing the investigation of these ideas, he determined to try the effec upon a friend. A wire and battery were connected, there being a complete current. Each wire was connected with a copper plate, which the Italian caused the man to put into his mouth. Both men were in different rooms, and the shock to one caused him to exclaim when he put the copper plate into his mouth. Meucci, at the other end of the line, had the copper plate between his teeth and heard the sound, the communication being through the medium of the teeth to the auditery nerve. He continued to experiment on this discovery. In May, 1865, he perfected a paper phone and conversed through it very faintly with persons across the street, using in his instrument a membraneous diaphragm, like those used in later years by the Bell Company. Meucci soon moved to New York, where a struggle between poverty and a desire to further his invention began. He finally secured a caveat covering his invention, which was patented on Dec. 23, 1871, five years before that of Professor Bell.

ALMOST IN THE RIVER.

The Adventure and Narrow Escape of Two Girls at Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Jan. 22.—Muddy Run Creek passes under this town by means of a sewer a quarter of a mile long. During thaws in the winter it is swollen into a small river, which runs with great rapidity and flows over the precipice near the Whirlpool Rapids Park and falls into the Niagara River. The creek was in this swollen and turbulent condition this evening, when a handsleigh, in which was seated Bertha Farrel, 5 years old, slid down into the current which was running fifteen miles an hour. No sooner had Bertha got into the stream than her sister Blanche, aged 10, jumped in after her, and both were swept into the sewer. An alarm was raised and a rush made for the other end of the sewer to prevent the girls from going over the precipice. Several persons reached there before the children arrived. One of them got into the water at the outlet of the sewer, waist deep, and soon got hold of little Bertha, who came out of the sewer under the water and caught under a log and stuck. Soon afterwards came Blanche, floating on top, and was caught by another of the men present and landed on terra firma. Both children were apparently lifeless, not even a breath or a beat of the heart being discernible. Efforts at resuscitation were immediately made and the workers soon noticed life returning through signs of occasional slight gasps of breath. Both children were taken to a house near by. Drs. Oliver and Sayers were soon in attendance and by means of warm applications got their little bodies into life once more. The children passed under ground fully a quarter of a mile and were in the water ten minutes, most of the time submerged. The sewer is full of fallen stones and pieces of wood, and strange to say there were few marks of any kind other than a few scratches on their bodies.

A TERRIBLE FALL.

A Young Engineer Slips off a Bridge and is Killed.

On Friday morning, about ten o'clock, as Harold C. Keefer was getting down between two spaces in the Vaudreuil bridge, on the Ontario and Quebec railway, of the construction of which bridge he was assistant engineer, he suddenly lost his footing, and to save himself from falling grasped a loose rail; this slipped on the glare ice, and he fell a distance of twenty feet, striking on his back on the pier; thence he fell to the ice below striking his head severely. He remained unconscious for several moments but after he came to, he walked back to Vaudreuil, a distance of nearly a half a mile refusing any assistance. On the arrival of the Ottawa train he was taken quite sick and was put on board to be brought to his boarding house at St. Anne's, being then unconscious, in which state he remained until his death on Saturday morning at five o'clock. His father, Mr. Thomas C. Keefer, went to St. Anne's last night and the body was taken to Ottawa to-day. Mr. Harold C. Keefer was 25 years of age, and was very popular with his associates, well educated, and a graduate of Kingston Military College. He has been at Vaudreuil since last spring, before which time he had been employed on the Lake Superior section. He had also had experience on an American railway. He was elected on Friday a member of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers.—Montreal Star.

FENELON FALLS.

PERISHED IN THE SNOW.—The Gazette says that on Sunday, Jan. 16th, a young woman named Elizabeth Ann Udy, 24 years of age, was found lying insensible in a clump of bushes on the road side. A young man who saw her went for assistance, but the woman died. She was of feeble intellect and was scarcely able to talk so as to be understood. She left the house when her mother was away and died from cold and exhaustion.

ACCIDENT.—On Saturday the wife of Mr. John Quinn, of this village, slipped from a chair on to which she was stepping, and fell in such a manner that one of the bones of her left arm was broken just above the wrist. Under Dr. Wilson's care she is doing well, but of course will not be able to use the arm for some time to come.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

VISITS GLENLEIGH.

DUBLIN, Jan. 21.—Lord Mayor Sullivan has gone to Glenleigh. Several evictions were effected there to-day. All those evicted, however, were readmitted as caretakers at a nominal salary of one penny per week. A great throng of people followed the evicting party from place to place, but although the crowd was boisterous there was no rioting. Father Quilter, who has been priest at Glenleigh for three years, said to-day that he had frequently in the past urged his people to pay their rents, believing their failure to do so was from dishonest motives. He is now convinced that Glenleigh is in a chronic state of poverty. He says the people migrate in harvest time as labourers, but depend largely upon the donations of sons and daughters living in other districts.

A COMET.

MELBOURNE, Jan. 21.—The tail of a comet of the first magnitude was visible here last evening.

THE WAR RUMORS.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Rumors of war are becoming more frequent. The North German Gazette, the National Gazette, the Cologne Gazette, the Times, Standard and Daily News, of London, all report that France is making elaborate preparations to despatch to the German frontier strong reinforcements of all arms.

MEETING OF THE EMPERORS.

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—A rumor is current that the Emperors of Russia, Austria and Germany will meet here on the Emperor William's birthday.

THE FRENCH CABINET CRISIS.

PARIS, Jan. 22.—At a Council of Ministers yesterday it was decided that Premier Goblet and M. Dauphin, Minister of Finances, should jointly present the latter's budget bill in the Chamber of Deputies, and the rejection of the measure would involve the resignation of the Cabinet.

SUPPRESSION OF DRUNKENNESS.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 22.—The Government has introduced in Parliament a bill to suppress drunkenness. It provides that drunkards in public places and publicans serving drunkards or children shall be fined and imprisoned, and that debts incurred in purchasing intoxicants shall not be recoverable.

THE EFFECT OF COMPETITION.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—At a meeting of the Direct United States Cable company yesterday, Mr. John Pender said that the Commercial Cable company had taken £170,000, of the receipts of cable traffic, which, while it would not benefit the Commercial Company, would materially injure the pool companies. Mr. Pender though it would be unwise to increase the rates until the pool companies were paying a fair dividend.

IRISH EVICTION SCENES.

DUBLIN, Jan. 22.—The sales of cattle by tenants at Michelstown yesterday amounted to $50,000. The service of writs of ejectment continues. At an eviction near Bantry the ejected tenant's wife was so affected that she attempted to commit suicide. A bailiff was pelted with mud and stones on Lord Dillon's estate yesterday. He lies in a weak state from the effects of his treatment.

EXTREME DANGER.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The Daily News professes to know that there is extreme danger of war. It says the Government is alarmed on account of its having heard that Germany is likely within a few days to ask France to explain the meaning of the French military movements on the frontier.

THE JUBILEE YACHT RACE.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The committee of the royal Thames yacht club have unanimously passed the following: "Resolved that all American, colonial and foreign yachtsmen shall enjoy an honorary membership of this club during their visit to England in the coming season. Centre board yachts will be allowed to compete in the jubilee race."

THE IRISH QUESTION.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 22.—At a meeting here last evening Mr. Goschen denied that the Separatists had the verdict of America and the whole civilized world at their backs, because many intelligent Americans had told him that they perfectly understood the cause the Unionists were defending. He set more value upon the American's example in the quarrel between the North and the South than upon any resolutions cabled from Chicago. (Loud cheers.) He continued: "We will take no advice from those who may be hostile to this country. We will not go to the Irish Americans for the solution of the problem. We have to remember that Ireland is composed of various classes, and we are not bound to give way to the majority there if we find that the majority represents the great portion of that which is the best and highest in the nation. We must deal impartially with all classes."

THE COERCION BILL.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—In framing the coercion bill, designed to suppress the "plan of campaign" in Ireland, the Government in making it applicable to the entire united kingdom, finds it difficult to use language which would prevent the measure from making strikes illegal, and causing the bill thus to come in contact with the trade unions. This would be most unfortunate for the Conservatives, and would almost certainly ensure their defeat at the polls. They consulted Earl Selborne and Lord Justice Stephen and the difficulty has been surmounted so that the bill is in proper shape to be presented to parliament. No attempt will be made during the coming session to pass the County Government Bill. A member of the Government to-day expressed the belief that the debate on the address from the throne will last a month.

SOCIALISTS IN CHURCH.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Four hundred Socialists attended the service in Battersea church to-day. Canon Clarke was escorted to the church by policemen. In his sermon he defended himself against the attacks of the Socialists After the service Socialist Burns made a speech outside the church, in the course of which he condemned in the strongest terms the stand taken by Canon Clarke against Socialism. He was interrupted by the clergyman himself, who threatened to baptize him in the horse trough. Canon Clarke then retired amid the jeers of the crowd. Burns' mention of Queen and Royal family was the signal for hisses. Another body of Socialists attended services in St. Luke's church in Chelsea. They conducted themselves in an orderly manner.

THE PRUSSIAN BUDGET.

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—Herr Von Scholes, Prussian Minister of Finance, yesterday presented the budget to the lower house of the Prussian diet. It states that the trade of Prussia has improved, decreasing the deficiency in the revenues. The grants for the provincial district authorities of the kingdom call for 13,000 000 marks instead of 19,000,000, as in the previous years. The railway receipts for the fiscal year ending in 1887 will exceed all expenses by the sum of 20,000,000 marks. The receipts from the income tax will be larger than they have been heretofore, proving that the prosperity of the urban population has much increased. The statistics show that the population in the rural districts has lessened. In conclusion the budget states that the Reichstag's rejection of the army bill has placed all other questions in the background, and on this account the finance minister has abstained from referring to the development of indirect taxation. The lower house of the Prussian diet agreed to the first reading of the budget. In reply to Dr. Windthorst's query as to whether the monopoly bills had been abandoned, Minister Von Scholz said that regarding the present he could reply in the affirmative, but he could not say that the measure had been definitely abolished. As for himself, he was still in favor of the motion.

SALVATIONISTS MOBBED.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—A party of Salvationists, which had gone to meet General Booth upon his arrival at Southampton yesterday, was mobbed by the populace. Missiles of all kinds were thrown by the mob, and the General himself was made the target for lumps of ice. The police were powerless.

DIVORCE GRANTED.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The court in Edinburgh yesterday granted a decree of divorce to the Marchioness of Queensberry from the Marquis of Queensberry on the ground of adultery.

A PROTESTANT NATIONALIST.

DUBLIN, Jan. 23.—Rev. Mr. Anderson, Protestant rector at Deinagh, County Cork, amazed his flock to-day by preaching vigorously on the sin of land grabbing. Mr. Anderson has long been boycotted by the local land lords for espousing the Nationalist cause.

RUSSIA REFUSES MEDIATION.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 23.—Le Nord, the Russian organ here, repudiates the proposal to submit the Bulgarian difficulty to mediation. It says mediation implies that there is a dispute, whereas no dispute exists between Russia and Bulgaria.

NEW BATTALIONS.

VIENNA, Jan. 23.—Under the Landsturm bill 185 battalions, consisting of 1,000 men each, will be formed, and the territorial battalions will be created accordingly to requirements.

THE BULGARIAN QUESTION.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The Post says:—"Count Kolnoky, Prime Minister of Austria, informed a foreign diplomat yesterday that the Bulgarian question was in a fair way of being speedily and amicably settled. The Bulgarian question, he added, was of much less importance than war between France and Germany would be, as in such an event Russia would seize the opportunity to rid herself of Bismarck's controlling influence."

CRISIS AVERTED.

PARIS, Jan. 23.—The Cabinet has withdrawn the supplementary budget for 75,900,000f. introduced by M. Dauphin, Minister of Finance, and rejected by the Budget Committee of the Chamber of Deputies. The Ministry has accepted the Committee's proposals, including that for the issue of sexennial treasury bonds to cover the present deficit. The Cabinet crisis is now believed to be averted.

BISMARCK'S ATTITUDE.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The belief grows stronger every hour that Prince Bismarck is about ready to require explanations from the Goblet Ministry as to the meaning of French warlike activity. It is assumed that the French Ministry will reply evasively. In the present temper of Prince Bismarck there is serious danger that an unsatisfactory explanation will be followed by a declaration of war and hostilities. A bad feature of the situation is the growing restlessness in France, where the idea that the long-looked-for struggle for the recovery of Alsace and Lorraine is at hand is gaining ground everywhere and arouses popular enthusiasm. The press of both countries suppresses all material facts relating to the war preparations. Enough has transpired, however, to show that the troops are being raised, drilled and equipped at all the military centres in both countries with a rapidity that can only be explained on the theory that both armies are being raised to full war strength and that mobilization has begun.

CHAMBERLAIN ON IRISH AFFAIRS.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, in a speech at Hawick last evening, expressed the belief that from what had passed at the conference of Radicals and Liberals a complete agreement with the Liberal leaders might be attained. He asked the Liberals to await with hope and confidence the result of the future deliberation of the conference. Ireland, he said, had too long been the playground of paid agitators. The land question ought to be dealt with finally by making the cultivators owners and enlarging small holdings. The tenants would never be satisfied while they had hope of getting land for nothing, which hope formed the basis of the Plan of Campaign. This plan, the speaker said, was the most immoral the most dishonest conspiracy ever devised in a civilized country. Mr. Chamberlain said that he was hopeful that the question of autonomy would be settled upon the principle of providing legislative authority for the Irish to manage their domestic affairs, with a provision preserving the rights of minorities and the integrity of the Empire.

TREVELYAN'S VIEWS.

LONDON, Jan 23.—Mr. Geo. O. Trevelyan was presented by his former constituents at Harwich yesterday with a portrait of himself. In his speech of thanks, Mr. Trevelyan dwelt at some length on the political situation. He said there was nothing in the objections to Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule bill which could not be removed without destroying the liberal character of the measure or making it less acceptable to the Irish people. As for himself, Trevelyan said he was sincerely desirous of the reunion of the Liberal party on honorable terms but that he never could consent to have the control of law and order in Ireland transferred from the hands of the present central authority.

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

R. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, JANUARY 24, 1887.

CANADIAN INTERESTS.

As an effort is being made by Reform candidates to curry favor with the electors by pretended leanings towards protection, for adopting which the Conservatives were till lately, and indeed still are, most insultingly denounced by them, it is well to give the public record of the party in this respect. We have quoted from the budget speech of their financial leader, Sir R. Cartwright, and now we will proceed to show the animus displayed by Mr. Paterson, who stands admittedly next to the ex-Finance Minister as the financial authority of the Reform party. It will be remembered that Mr. Paterson, though a Reform partisan, was one of those who procured his election by pretended sympathy with protection. He was going to convert his party, but as it turned out he was conver ed to hostility to the N.P. Making the second speech from his side of the House in the budget debate, not a year ago, his whole tone was that of one sneer at the fiscal policy of the Canadian people. He said:—

"But what I want to point out to the hon. gentleman is this fact, with reference to the manufacturers of this country, that they have heralded so loudly, have been benefitted so much by the operation of their tariff—I ask them to look at the effects of that tariff on the export of manufactured goods, and to tell me and tell the country whether our export trade is in the healthy condition that we would like to see it. What is the condition of things with reference to the export of manufactured goods? Sir, it is not encouraging. I can remember that in 1878 Canada occupied rather a proud position as a manufacturing country, for so young a nation. I can remember that our exports of manufactured goods equalled some $4,000,000. I can remember that we took a position at the exhibition at Philadelphia that challenged the admiration of the world. So at the exhibitions of the Australian colonies, and I know that as a result of that enterprise a valuable trade with these colonies sprung up in Canadian manufactured goods. Now, we have a tariff which hon. gentlemen opposite boasted was designed to have a beneficial effect upon the manufactures of the country, but where are your exports of manufactured goods to-day? Are you exporting as many to-day as you did in 1878? No. Have you exported as many since the tariff was put in operation as you did before? No; the decrease has been great and marked. We are exporting about 25 per cent. less to-day than we did in 1878, and still they claim that they have conferred inestimable advantages upon us by their tariff."

After a long wail over our exports he said:—

"We used to hear mourning and wailing because American flour was consumed by Canadians, and the Government asked that a duty should be put on the American flour in order that our people should be compelled to buy Canadian flour made out of Canadian wheat. Have we accomplished that?"

Presently he continues:—

"Hon. gentlemen designed this tariff to shut out this (coal) importation altogether in order that our people would have to get their coal from the Maritime Provinces. What has been the case with reference to the export trade?"

After a general grumble at the tariff, he came to sugar:—

"If that duty were wiped off at once much less would they get sugar? If the duty were wiped off American granulated they would get it at one half the price that they can under the tariff. Hon. gentlemen have spoken of the effect of their policy upon the working classes. They claim the working classes have been greatly benefitted by the introduction of their tariff."

After some more "mourning and wailing," to use his own term, he continued:—

"And these are the proofs that are given to us that the mechanics of this country have been so greatly benefitted by the operation of the tariff. Further, it is denied by the Finance Minister, and it is also denied by the hon. gentleman who preceded me (Mr. Thos. White) that the cost of living has been in any way enhanced by the operation of the tariff."

This was his text for some more gibes at the N. P.

And such is the support given to our fiscal policy by a Reform Protectionist supporting Mr. Blake. Of such a nature is the support that it would obtain from any other Reform Protectionist, if he could succeed in deluding the electors into returning him as their representative.

Mr. McMullen who as we are informed by Reform journalists is a shining light in their party, and who took the prominent position of third Opposition speaker in the Budget debate last year, was still more outspoken. Representing the views of the bulk of the party he said:—

"The whole people have been humbugged. The Finance Minister started a gigantic humbug, and his henchmen from every platform heralded that through the National Policy people would be made rich. The truth is that nothing would tend to improve our condition more than to allow the people to obtain what the require, at the lowest possible point, and to keep down the burden of indebtedness."

That is the true Grit doctrine that the people are "fools" and always being "humbugged." And a little later he repeated his ravings:—

"As I have said the people have been humbugged by the National Policy. I challenge any hon. member to point out villages where there has not been over production within the last few years. Many invested in the manufacture of agricultural implements and other goods in my own section of country, and we have had overproduction and disaster."

Such is the attitude of Mr. Blake's supporters towards the National Policy. Must it not be the most important question of the day with the people of Canada, whether their policy should be shaped by those who foster Canadian industry, or by those who would buy from foreigners rather than from Canadians, if a cent could be saved for the moment.

HISTORICAL PROBLEMS.

McKim having done his dirty work for Mr. Mowat and now being out of the House, seems at present little valued by Mr. Mowat's paper. The Globe talks of "the immoral agreement which Mr. McKim signed." The Globe also discusses the question of whence came the $1,000 used by the bribery conspirators. Of course every one knows that they came from Mr. Mowat's friend Lynch, an American citizen who disappeared as soon as his work was done. But it may be that what the Globe wants to know is how Lynch got the funds. Perhaps a note was made by some of the leading Reformers and discounted by a Reform banker after the North Perth fashion. The Globe should make enquiries of its pro tem owner Mr. Mowat, or perhaps it might consult its real proprietor Mr. Nelson, who seems to have the gift of secondsight, being able to foresee the figures of a census year before it is taken.

THE AGITATION CONDEMNED

By the Rev. Father Touze, of Duck Lake, Northwest Territory.

The Rev. Father Touze, one of the missionaries of the Saskatchewan, has written the following letter, which has just been published. The Rev. gentleman writes from Stobart, Duck Lake, under date Nov. 22nd, 1886. It is as follows:—

DEAR SIR,—You have asked me for my opinion regarding this too famous agitation, which has been stirred up by certain parties in Canada. I am not much in the habit of writing nor have I much ability that way, but I will comply with your request, hoping that my frankness and simplicity may not be unworthy of attention, and, in the first place, permit to say that, however charitable, well-disposed or sympathic I may be I find it difficult, not only to explain but to excuse this agitation—rather, this madness which has broken out and still continues in connection with the execution of Riel. It is all the more inexplicable that it is the effect of a contradiction of the most obvious character. Those same Liberals said during the trial and up to the very eve of the execution, that the Government would not have the courage to fulfil its duty towards Riel, and that, though the latter had abundantly

MERITED THE PENALTY OF DEATH,

he would not have to submit to it. But, contrary to their expectation, the Government having exhausted all its patience and long suffering and given Riel every facility for pleading his cause by allowing him access to other courts of justice, permitted the sentence pronounced against him by the higher courts and confirmed by the superior court, to be carried out. Then it was that these same Liberals, wishing in any event to harass the Government and to overthrow it, if possible, changed their cry and ever since have raised their voices against the Government for executing Riel, because, as they urged, he was a French half-breed and a Catholic. The question may be asked whether Riel was not all that during his trial and before his execution. And the answer must be in the affirmative. And those Liberals were then, as now, the enemies not only of the Government and Sir John, but also of Riel and those very persons whose protectors they pretend to be to-day. I do not think that ever, in any country, was there a political agitation analogous to that which they are now carrying on. That for a just sentence legally enforced, and which it was the clear duty of the executive to enforce, people should, at the and without taking time to reflect, blame in chorus what they had every reason to approve, is certainly difficult to explain. Others before me have made the same remark. I will repeat it, and I appeal to all honest Canadians, to all loyal citizens and good Christians, who, if like me, they had seen and heard all that went on in the North-West, would carefully refrain from joining a clique whose aim had been to falsify facts for the success of their party and themselves. If those people really loved the Metis, if they had at heart the interests of French-Canadians and Catholics, their conduct, I feel assured, would be very different. I would like to believe that is well with Riel. But if God had mercy on him and gave him a place in the house of His glory why should those who pretend to love him labor so strenuously to disturb his peace and to tarnish his joy? If, on the other hand, his soul was sufficiently purified for such bliss, and he still groans in the place of suffering and expiation, let us, in silence, aid him with our prayers. And as for his compatriots, his kindred, his friends, the entire nation of the Metis, surely it would be rendering them a greater service and setting them a better example to let them forget a proceeding of which the justice cannot be disputed.

INSTIGATION OF SHAMELESS POLITICIANS,

The sad events of the spring of 1885 have had results sufficiently unhappy. The immediate and later consequences of the rebellion were painful enough without seeking to add to them. Enough evil has been done already without the attempt to do more. Without exaggerating I can aver that the continuous agitation in Canada is producing the worst effects here in the Northwest. The wounds already inflicted were severe enough. Why then tear them open and lacerate them afresh? The greater number of my people who shared in that deplorable rebellion were led astray inspite of themselves. What is necessary now is to redeem them from the result of so grevious a mistake. At first the task was possible and even easy, but the agitation in Quebec has made it more and more arduous, so that now the work of reconcilliation has become almost impossible.

WERE DRIVEN INTO IT,

In conclusion, I beseech you, my Canadian fellow-countrymen, if, as you say, you love the Metis, work no longer against their dearest interests, but, on the coutrary, help us, by our calmness and your quiet submission to established authority, to undo what has been mistakenly done, to restore what has been impaired. Leave our people in peace and tranquility of mind, which they so much need to recover from the disasters into which Riel's unhappy rebellion has plunged them. With my best wishes, I remain, dear sir, your obedient servant,

LOUIS TOUZE, O. M. I.

SMITH.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PRESENTATION.—A pleasant gathering of the choir took place on Wednesday of last week at the residence of Mr. Colman Blewett, of Smith. The occasion was to show the choir's appreciation of our organist's past labors. After singing by the choir the following address was read by the Secretary:—

"To Miss E. Blewett:

"DEAR MISS BLEWETT.—The congregation of North Smith Presbyterian Church, being desirous of recognizing the valuable services you have rendered as organist, beg your acceptance of this writing desk and album as a slight token of their appreciation accompanied by the hope that you may be long spared to contribute to the praise of the Most High God.

"Signed on behalf of the congregation,

"GALVIN PRESTON,
"Secretary."

Miss Blewett replied as follows:—

"MY DEAR FRIENDS.—I feel it my duty to reply to your kindness in giving me this beautiful album and writing desk which I shall appreciate very highly, and I am sure it is a pleasure for me to know that my small services are appreciated.

"Yours truly
"ESSIE BLEWETT."

The Faith Cure.

If you do not value your health, and your time is not worth anything, pin your faith to the "anointing oil," or the mortar from "Knock Chapel." But if you do value health, and have not time to waste in useless experiments, take Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" on the appearance of the first symptoms of consumption; which are a loss of appetite and flesh, general debility, slight, dry, hacking cough, etc. Every day you defer treating your case in a rational manner makes the disease harder to combat. Send 10 cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., for Dr. Pierce's Treatise on Consumption.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate
IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

BURNS' ANNIVERSARY!

The St. Andrew's Society

Of Peterborough will celebrate the Burns' Anniversary by a supper, etc. in the MORGAN HOUSE, on

TUESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 25th, 1887,

Commencing at 8 o'clock.

Tickets $1.00. To be had from the members of the celebration committee viz: Messrs. Thos. Menzies, James Hendrie, E. H. D. Hall, James Alexander, D. D. Gallelly, the secretary, and at the bookstores.

For particulars see programmes.

THOS. MENZIES, President. WM. MENZIES, Secretary.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

Business Men Attention.

WE CAN NOW OFFER several first-class positions to Advertisers in the REVIEW, and, as there is always a rush at the beginning of the year, in order that the best positions may be obtained, business men will do well to call immediately and secure their space for 1887.

During the present year renewed efforts will be made to make the REVIEW still more a thoroughly efficient medium whereby the Merchants and others can put and keep themselves prominently before the public. Extra precaution will be taken, and the best taste will be displayed in getting up all advertisements intrusted to us for publication, and in other respects as well, the "shrewd" business man will do well to patronize the columns of the

Daily and Weekly

Review

PIANOS

HEINTZMAN & CO'S.

This Celebrated maker's Pianos are in use in the following private residences in Peterborough:

Geo. Edmison,	F. A. Rubidge,
E. Pearse,	Miss Delaney,
J. E. Hammond,	J. Stewart,
D. Faucher,	W. H. Hill,
Robt. Miller,	Rev. V. Clementi,
D. Ullyott,	E. C. Hill,
Chas. Cameron,	W. Walsh,
G. W. Morgan,	W. Snowden,
W. Sanderson,	T. G. Hazlitt,
The Convent,	Miss Calcutt,
J. Hall,	Miss Spillsbury,
Bannell Sawyer,	W. Bradburn,
Mrs. Jas. Campbell,	R. Fair,
J. J. McBain,	Mrs. Chambers,
Geo. Dunsford,	W. B. Ferguson,
Mrs. Allen,	Miss A. Edmundson,
Wm. Tate,	W. R. Greatrex,
W. Fairweather,	R. B. McKee,

and others.

Intending purchasers should not fail to inspect the Heintzman & Co's Pianos (no connection with the Gerrard Heintzman or Lansdowne Piano, of Toronto) at my Music Store, Hunter Street, East.

E. J. HARTLEY.

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Rasins, Currants, etc. in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d&w6

Xmas Comes But Once a Year

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 3 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 25c.

To every purchaser of one pound of our 50c. tea, 5 lbs. of Raisins for 25c.

We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

HERE IT IS!

CULVER'S

C B

Where is it!
What is it!

AFTER EDGAR A. POE.

Once upon a midnight dreary, while I languished, sick and weary,
With a cough that, still returning, lungs and stomach rendered sore;
While I groaned, nor thought of napping, suddenly there came a tapping,
As of some one gently rapping, rapping at my chamber door.
"'Tis some visitor," I muttered, "tapping at my chamber door;
Only this, and nothing more."

Ah, distinctly, I remember, it was in the bleak December,
And each separate dying ember wrought its ghost upon the floor.
Eagerly I wished the morrow. Vainly I had tried to borrow
From my physic cure from sorrow,—sorrow for my lungs so sore,
For my strained and ulcered thorax, which with coughing was so sore,
That all hope I'd given o'er.

Starting from my chair I hastened, and the bolt a bars unfastened,
While my brow looked blank and frowning, to be called at such an hour,
And a muttered curse was forming on my lip because 'twas storming;
But I straightway checked my temper, and I opened wide the door,
When an ancient lady entered, whom she neighbors called Aunt Shore,—
Only she, and nothing more.

"O, I heard you coughing, coughing," said the ancient beldam, laughing,
"And I thought I would come over, though 'tis freezing out of doors.
For my feelings they are tender unto all whose health is slender,
And I have a wondrous balsam that will make your cough give o'er,
And your shattered lungs restore."

Then this ancient lady, smiling, with a look my pain beguiling,
From her pocket drew a bottle, with rich paper folded o'er;
This to me she gayly proffered. It I seized as soon as offered,
And straight with eager glances, on the label 'gan to pore,
'Twas Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which I've valued ever more,— Mighes, far, than golden ore.

The wrapper quick untwining, to the gaslight near me shining,
I held the oblong bottle, while I conned it o'er and o'er,
No crystal stream nor fountain, trickling down a granite mountain,
Ever looked more pure and limpid than the liquid which it bore,
Liquid blessed for evermore.

"Welcome," said I, "ancient lady," (lady still, though old and seedy),
"Whether tempter sent or whether tempest tossed here ashore;
Robbed of sleep each night that passes, me a ceaseless cough harrasses,
Till existence is a torment, tell me truly, I implore,
Will this amber liquid heal me? Tell me—tell me I implore."
"Only try it," quoth Aunt Shore.

At the word I drew the stopple, to my lips I pressed the bottle,
And down my ulcered throttle did a swallow well portly pour;
When straightway a pleasant feeling of repose went softly stealing
Through my worn and weary vitals, which I had not felt before
For full half a year or more.

Then each day I kept imbibing, spite of sceptics' slurs and gibing,
From a Cherry Pectoral bottle, which I kept behind my door
And my lungs forgot their ailing, and my cheek, which fast was paling,
Soon resumed the pristine lustre which in health it always wore
In the jolly days of yore.
Ayer's Almanac, 1885.

FROM ALL OVER.

The death of Lord Chesterfield, at the age of 83, is announced.

Claude Ferdinand Gaillard, the French painter and engraver, is dead.

Sir John Macdonald has consented to become a candidate for his old constituency of Kingston.

Tenders for the new drill shed at Hamilton are called for, to be sent to the Department at Ottawa up to February 7th.

The United States House of Representatives on Friday passed the Inter-State Commercial bill as finally amended in the Senate.

The Manitoba Government have agreed to make a grant for the circuiation throughout the province of information regarding dairying.

The traffic receipts of the Grand Trunk railway for the week ending January 15th were $268,239, an increase of $27,915 compared with the corresponding week last year.

Dun, Wiman & Co. report a total of 301 failures throughout the country for the past week, as compared with 323 for the week previous. Twenty-five of the number were in Canada, four less than the preceding week.

In the Budget Committee of the French Chamber of Deputies has rejected M. Dauphin's proposal for raising a loan of 375,000,000 francs, it is expected he will resign as Minister of Finance, and that in consequence there will be a Cabinet crisis.

The Ontario Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance closed its convention at Brampton on Thursday. The delegates elected to attend the meeting of the National Division in Florida in April were instructed to invite that body to hold its session of 1889 in Toronto, and the place for holding the next meeting of the Ontario Grand Division was changed from Toronto to Stratford.

The Ruby Mines of Burmah.

Owing to the very great jealousy of the Burmese government, the ruby mines have been carefully guarded from all strangers, and from this cause our knowledge regarding them is very small. The mines are said to be only about sixty miles northeast of Mandalay. The extent of ground over which the rubies exist has not been precisely ascertained, but it is believed to extend at least over one hundred square miles.

The value of these mines was reported a few years ago to be worth annually from £12,000 to £15,000; but this includes sapphires and other stones as well. The mines were wholly royal property, and the stones were a monopoly of the king. From this it may be assumed that the Indian Government will now claim the ruby mines.

The "gem bed," as it is called, or strata in which the rubies are found, varies considerably at different points in its depth. Pits are sunk down vertically till a gem bed has been touched, and then horizontal galleries are formed through it. These strata differ considerably in thickness; sometimes they are only a few inches, while in others they are found several feet in depth. The earth of the gem bed is brought up to the surface, where it is carefully washed, and the gems are secured. The most of the rubies are small, but large ones do turn up: the difficulty is to find large ones without a flaw.

The lapidaries or gem polishers are in the capital, and not at the mines. The polishing process is performed by pounding the smaller gems and worthless stones. These are pounded and mixed with other substances, and formed into cakes about ten inches long and four wide. The good rubies are rubbed on this. When the stone has been ground down roughly on this, a finer cake is employed, and the finishing touch to the gem is given by rubbing it on plates of brass or copper.

Sapphires are also found with the rubies. The people employed manage to secrete small stones, and these are smuggled from mines to the capital.—London News.

Peterborough Markets

WHEAT.
Wheat, fall, per bushel	0 80	to	0 80
" spring "	0 82	to	0 82
Arnouts Wheat "	0 60	to	0 65
FLOUR AND MEAL.
Flour, Patent Processs, per cwt.	$2 50	to	$3 50
Flour, bakers per cwt.	2 25	to	2 25
Flour, stone process "	1 80	to	1 80
COARSE GRAIN.
Barley, per bushel	0 48	to	0 57
Peas "	0 50	to	0 54
Oats, "	0 28	to	0 28
Rye "	0 45	to	0 45
MILL FEED.
Oat chop, per cwt	1 10	to	1 10
Pea chop, "	1 10	to	1 10
Barley chop "	1 00	to	1 00
Pollards "	0 90	to	0 90
Bran, per ton	11 00	to	11 00
VEGETABLES.
Potatoes, per bag	0 60	to	0 65
Cabbage, per head	0 05	to	0 07
Beets, per bag	0 40	to	0 40
Onions, per bag	1 25	to	1 40
Carrots, small red, per bag	0 35	to	0 40
Carrots, field, per bag	0 15	to	0 20
Turnips "	0 20	to	0 25
Parsnips "	0 30	to	0 40
MEAT, POULTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE.
Beef, by the quarter per cwt	3 50	to	4 50
" per lb	0 06	to	0 25
Mutton, per lb	0 06	to	0 08
Veal, per lb	none offering
Lamb, per lb	0 07	to	0 8
Dressed Hogs	5 50	to	6 00
Hogs, live weight	3 75	to	4 25
Tallow, per lb	0 04	to	0 06
Lard "	0 10	to	0 11
Chickens, per pair	0 45	to	0 60
Ducks, per pair	0 60	to	0 70
Geese, each	0 50	to	0 60
Turkeys, each	0 75	to	1 50
Butter, fresh roll, per lb	0 18	to	0 22
Butter, packed prime, per lb	0 16	to	0 18
Cheese, private sale per lb	0 12	to	0 12
Eggs, per doz	0 19	to	0 20
Hay, per ton	7 00	to	10 00
Straw, per load	2 00	to	3 00
Wood, hard, per load	3 50	to	4 50
Wood, soft, per load	2 50	to	3 00
WOOL AND HIDES.
Fleece wool	0 18	to	0 18
Southdown wool	0 2[illegible]	to	0 20
Hides, per cwt	6 50	to	6 00
Hides, trimmed, per cwt	6 00	to	7 00
Lamb skins	25	to	25
Sheep Pelts, each	25	to	25
Sheep skins	1 00	to	1 00
FISH.
White Fish, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Speckled Trout, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Maskinonge, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Bass, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Finnie Haddie, per lb	0 10	to	0 10
Simcoe Herring, per do	0 30	to	0 30
Salt Mackrel, per doz	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per quart	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per can	0 45	to	0 55

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for Diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

HENFEED.

Small Wheat - - - - 90c per 100 lbs.
Barley - - - - - - 95c per 100 lbs.
Pure Wheat Spring or Fall, $1.25 per 100 lbs.

J. W. FLAVELLE, SIMCOE STREET.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-Joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is unequalled as a remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS—Anti Bilious and Cathartic. One a vial, by druggists.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d87w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,

SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.

MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, &c. SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c.—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d4w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w18

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.

MONEY TO LOAN. d103w18

HATTON & WOOD.

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

R. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON.

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d4w18

W. BLACKWELL,

ARCHITECT and C. E. Plans and estimates made of Churches, Public Buildings and Dwelling Houses. Buildings superintended and Patents applied for. Heating and Plumbing a specialty. Office:—Over Telegraph Office, George street, Peterborough. d150w1

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d123w22

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL. Member of the Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office, on Hunter street, opposite St. John's Church. d123w22 1j

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w2

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. lyd4w

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. lyd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. lyd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale of to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. lyd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 759. Residence, Bon Accord Street. lyd97w1

H. CARVETH.

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence Reid street, near King. lyd97

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. lyd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. lyd97

W. FITZGREALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied Houses and building lots for sale. Address box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. lyd97

D. BELLEGHEM,

Funeral Director.

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms. TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

General.

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. E. BURGESS,

Opposite the Post Office

Postal Address, Box 281. d118w2

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten times will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 20 cents for Book of 150 pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

MARVELLOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Wholly unlike Artificial Systems—Cure of Mind Wandering—Any book learned in one reading. Prospectus, with opinions of Mr. Proctor, the Astronomer, Hons. W. W. Astor, Judah P. Benjamin, Drs. Minor, Wood and others, sent post FREE, by

PROF. LOISETTE,

237 Fifth Avenue, New York

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
16 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,

d59 Ashburnham

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00
LADIES.....50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG, Manager.

1d66

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skilful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books' Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choos from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R. Peterborough.

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

d4w JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered (without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

Miscellaneous.

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears, Sweet Florida Oranges, Malaga Grapes, new English Walnuts, Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecans Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Parties a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS,

George St., Peterborough.

Exceedingly Cheap

Is what every person says who has bought Groceries from us. Our Teas, Sugars and Coffees are marked low and are very good. We have a very select stock of

FRESH FAMILY GROCERIES,

Canned Goods, etc. which we are selling at rock bottom prices.

GEORGE CARTON

The People's Grocer, George Street.

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you looking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones,"

"Good morning, Brown."

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

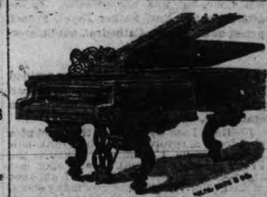
By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 35 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.



FOR SALE BY

JOHN NUGENT

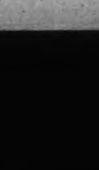
Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont. FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 2 Maryland Road, Harrow Road, London, England (Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)

No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d3Seodwy

DON'T FORGET

TO CALL AND SEE



D. SMART'S

SUPERB STOCK OF

Sewing Machines, Pianos, Organs, & Sheet Music.

We Cannot be Undersold.

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woollen Goods in abundance.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Capes and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Hosiery.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take your

LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,

Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSES.
8 30 a m 7 00 p m 10 55 p m 7 00 p m 8 30 a m 10 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. & O. R. Toronto and West, via G. & O. R. Grand Trunk, East & West do East Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway west Millbrook and Port Hope. do	11 00 a m 10 00 p m 6 00 p m 10 00 p m 6 00 p m 4 30 p m 11 00 a m 5 00 p m
12 00 m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Village, Norwood & Hastings	5 00 p m
10 30 a m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	1 15 p m
4 00 p m 5 15 p m	Greystock and Elsewhere, Wednesday and Saturday Fowler's Corners, Westmanings and Saturdays	1 30 p m 1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Mails, and stations on C. P. R.	6 00 p m
2 30 p m	Fraserville & Springville, Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore	1 30 p m
previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Hamilton, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clyndoe, Pandash and Cheddar, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Mail's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Elsewhere, Wednesday and Saturday	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Westmanings and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Per New York, Mondays	7 30 p m
	Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbados, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

Deposits received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxenburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherlands, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey, and via United States:—Bermuda, Brazil, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamacia, Japan and Porto Rico, (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Portugese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhœa, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency [losses]; indiscretion, or over-exertion. [Avoid] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. Finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. R. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

Pocket Diaries
Office Diaries
Canadian Almanacs
1887 at
SAILSBURY BROS.

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, JANUARY 24, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Sale of Lumber.

Don't forget Strickland's great auction sale of first class lumber, to-morrow at Lakefield.

Stop Coughing!

How? By using a twenty-five cent bottle of Culver's Cough Balsam. Sold at the Floral Drug Store.

Concert.

A grand Concert will be given in St. Luke's School Room, Ashburnham, Tuesday, Feb. 1st, in aid of the Choir Fund. Very attractive programme. Admission Twenty five cents.

Vocal Society.

The Vocal Society's practice night has been changed permanently to Monday, to to enable the orchestra to attend. The members will please bear this in mind and act accordingly.

Church Organ.

The setting up of the new church organ put in the George Street Methodist Church by Messrs. Lye & Sons, of Toronto, is completed, and the instrument was used on Sunday. Messrs. Jaques and A. Lye officiated in turn. Mr. E. Lye was in the choir in the evening and sang a solo.

Scott Act.

The Queen vs. Lipsett case came up this morning. Several witnesses were examined who testified that they got beer. The case was further enlarged till Tuesday.

Messrs. Rush Bros. and Geo. Mitchell acknowledged a first offence against the Scott Act. A fine of fifty dollars and costs was imposed in each case.

Social.

A social will be held at the residence of Mr. W. Walsh, Dickson stret, on Tuesday evening, Jan. 25th, at 7.30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's Church. A good programme has been provided, and refreshments will be served during the evening. Admission 25 cents.

Electricity To-night.

The public are requested to remember that the talk on "Electricity and its Uses" will be given to-night at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. Hall by Mr. Geo. S. Bean. It will be illustrated with many interesting experiments. Everyone is invited, and no charge is made for admission.

Brock Street.

The recent thaw raised the water in the creek on Saturday. On Sunday it lifted the ice below the Brock street bridge and raised with it the substructure. Councillor Canill, Chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee, put on a gang of men to chop out the ice. In a few hours the bridge went back to its old position.

Imported Stock.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Levi Bowles of Springville, has purchased from Messrs. Dundas and Grandy the imported yearling Clydsdale colt "Brown Stout." Brown Stout was bred by Mr. A. Thompson, of Castle Douglas, Scotland, and traces back on both sire and dam's sides through a long line of noted prize winners to Thompson's Black Horse (335) foaled in 1810—about as far as Clydsdale's can trace. We hope Mr. Bowles will reap the advantages his enterprise entities him to.

Runaway.

This afternoon at about one o'clock a farmer driving a team with a load of wood stopped in front of Croft's Hotel. He took the bolt out of the double-tree for some purpose and went into the yard. While he was gone a passing teamster cracked his whip and frightened the pair. The tongue falling hit one of them, and they both started off up street at a gallop. The children returning to school ran in all directions. Mr. G. Fitzgerald succeeded in catching them at the top of the Court House hill.

Mum Socials.

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—"Some of the wise ones of Peterborough have hit a scheme for raising church funds which lays even the bazar far in the shade. They call it the mum social. The wily individual who put the idea into practice has taken advantage of women's weakness for talk. If he had only taken out a patent and hired out to embarrassed churches, he would rival the Vanderbilts or even the Rothschilds in a few years. The socials are principally attended by ladies. At a certain interval silence and sobriety is enjoined upon the company. If anyone speaks or giggles, a small fine is collected on the spot. At such a social held in Peterborough on Thursday evening $30 was realized in the manner."

THE headquarters for Ladies' Collars, Cuffs, Gloves and Hosiery is at the Golden Lion.

HE USED HIS REVOLVER

AND SHOT HIS COUNTRYMAN WITHOUT APPARENT CAUSE.

A Saturday Night Drinking Bout Results Seriously—Joseph Murphy, an Italian, Shot in the Abdomen by Frank Marino.

In a small, low roughcast house on Reid street, nearly opposite the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co's. Works lives two Italians—Joe Murphy and Jim. Until Saturday night Frank Marino dwelt there also. Attached to the back of the house, with a door leading to it, is another apartment where James Stapley, Frank Desautels and their wives reside. The front door to the Italian's part opens into a room about 12 feet square, and a walk directly across it brings you to the doorway to Stapley's and Desautell's rooms.

On Saturday night Frank Marino took home a good supply of whiskey, supplemented by the flasks brought by other members of

THE HETEROGENEOUS FAMILY.

It was whispered by one of them to another that if Frank Marino got drunk there would be a row between him and Desautels, on account of some trouble in which a woman figured. They went on drinking copiously until eleven o'clock, when the row predicted actually took place. Marino and Desautels had hot words, but before they came to blows the others separated them and Desautels was escorted to bed. But though partly under the influence of liquor he did not rest. His ire was up. He rose from his bed and crept into the garret over the Italian's big room. The three Italians were still up and continued to drink. Some of them say that Desautels in walking along the garret broke through the ceiling. Others say that he punched the ceiling with a bed slat. But in whatever way it was done, a large hole was made and the plaster fell in lumps and cakes on the heads of the

ROYSTERING ITALIANS.

In the confusion that followed Frank Marino drew his revolver and fired several shots up into the garett. Murphy, who wos sober enough to see the danger of the situation tried to act as peace maker. He tried to persuade Marino to be quiet, so the story goes, but the latter enraged at Desautel's insult, instead of taking Murphey's good advice struck him savagely in the face. Murphy fired upon resentment and for a short time there was much commotion. It is said that Murphy went out and coming through Desaultel's and Scapley's rooms with an axe threatened to break the stove. But just as he was coming in through the door to the big room Frank Marino drew his revolver again and fired. Murphy, who is a powerfully built man, walked up and down the room for some time before he felt the effects of the shot. Then he sank to the floor saying,

"I'M SHOT! I'M SHOT!"

The police were notified of the affair at two o'clock in the morning and P. C. Adams and P. C. McGinty proceeded at once to the house. When they got there Marino was gone. Dr Kincaid was sent for and Capt. Cooper was also summoned. While the doctor was making his examination the police started off in pursuit of their man. Capt. Cooper and P. C. McGinty on coming back to the house some time after, however, found Frank there. The rest were taking up a subscription to to get him away, and among the contributions was $5 from Joe Marphy, the wounded man. Frank was arested, also Jim, Stapley and Desautels he latter ostensibly for keeping a disorderly house, but in reality to hold them as witnesses. They were all taken to the cells and on Sunday were taken to gaol.

During Sunday Dr. Kincaid and Dr. Brennan made a thorough examination. They found that the bullet had entered at nearly the centre of the abdomen, and coursing downward, had lodged in the vicinity of the left thigh. Some probing was done, but was unsuccessful. In the afternoon the Rev. Father Fayol, French priest at St. Peter's Cathedral, administered of the Church. Mr. Dumble, being notified of the occurrence, went to the house and took the wounded man's ante-mortem statement, which is as follows:—

THE LAST SACRAMENT

I believe I am dying from the effect of a shot from a revolver fired by Frank now present whom I point out. This is the Frank (pointing to him). I was shot last night—a little after 12 o'clock. I am shot in the groin. I don't know how many shots. There was a row in the house between Frank, the prisoner and another man. There was no anger between Frank and me. After Frank shot me he went out of the house. Frank shot me and he said to me "Joe I want to shoot you to-night." Three were present in the room at the time, myself, Jim Stapler, Frank and Mary Stapler and Mary Desaultel's husband.

We all had whiskey—two flasks. Frank bought the whiskey. There never was any trouble between Frank and me. Two families live in the back of the house. Several men were here drinking. Frank is a foreigner. He speaks Italian and English, but I don't know of what country he is. Have known him two years. We have always been friendly. I have a wife and three children in Italy. If Frank was sober he would not have shot me. I saw the revolver in Frank's hand. There were only the two women and Frank and I in the room when he shot me. Desautels was upstairs. I was just inside the room when shot. He, Frank, did not say anything just as he shot me.

The Police Court was crowded this morning. The prisoner was arranged on a chare of

"SHOOTING WITH INTENT."

Mr. Frank Anthony, the peanut man, acted as interperter, when the charge was read Marino hesitated for about a minute when he pleaded guilty. The case was remanded for one week.

At noon to-day Murphy was sleeping. He breathed easily and seemed to be in no pain.

THE BIG BONSPEIL.

Arrangements all Completed—The Date Fixed.

The big bonspeil for which arrangements have been progressing during the past three weeks is now a settled thing.

All of the clubs in this district, except one or two, having received the scheme with favor, Mr. T. P. Attrill, the umpire, has sent out notices for them to attend at the Charlotte Street rink on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 1st and 2nd of February.

In all there are fourteen rinks in the district. They will arrived on Monday night, and, according to programme, will commence play at nine o'clock on Tuesday morning.

This is the match to decide what club shall represent the district in the final draw for the Ontario Tankard.

Heretofore it has been the custom to play this primary draw here, there and everywhere, and in the event of a club being successful their travelling expenses footed up to a handsome amount. The present way of doing it does away with much expense—except to the home club. No pains will be spared to make the affair a success.

GET some of the useful Remnants at the Golden Lion before they all go.

POLICE COURT.

LARCENCY.

MONDAY, Jan. 22,—Joseph Barry a young man about nineteen years of age, and Richard Canning, a boy of about sixteen, were arranged on a charge of Larcency this morning. They were employees of the Examiner office. At ten o'clock on Saturday night some $40 was missed from the office safe. An enquiry was made and the two were arrested at their homes. The elder of the two had $28, which he handed back. The case was called this afternoon. Mr. E. A. Peck, abpeared for the complainment said he did not wish to prosecute.

The Magistrate said that the case was not in his hands.

Mr. Wood, the County Crown Attorney did not feel disposed to have the charge withdrawn.

The case was adjourned until Wednesday.

VAGANCY.

Timothy Pey, a strong healthy looking fellow, when called upon to answer to a charge of vagrancy, said that he was guilty. The Magistrate sentenced him to three months in goal, remarking that it would be warm weather at the expiration of the term.

Dramatic.

Day's International Company arrived in town to-day. They will open their engagement in Bradburn's Opera House to-night in the popular play "Uncle Daniel."

For your evening wear see the Golden Lion.

FROM THE SEA COAST.

The Liberal Conservative party offer a splendid record of work done and schemes consummated in the interests of the Dominion. Will the electors of Canada relegate these men to private life, and substitute for them a body of their opponents who advocate nothing but a policy of slander? There will be an emphatic NO! on the 22nd prox.—Halifax Herald.

A SUCCESS.

Protection has been a triumphal success, not withstanding the fact that Mr. Mills and his party opposed it, ridiculed it, sneered at it and do so still.—London Free Press.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

T. DOLAN & CO'S
$2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

Wants.

WANTED.

BY A THOROUGHLY CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED PERSON, employment in the capacity of sick nurse. Apply to MRS. C. ROBINSON, Water St. north or at the REVIEW Office. d93

SOFT WOOD WANTED

500 CORDS SOFT WOOD wanted in exchange for trade, delivered at my planing mill, in quantities of 10 cords and upwards, for which the highest price will be paid. J. D. BAPTIE. 6d191w4

WANTED.

TOWN PROPERTY in exchange for farms. Also wanted to buy, A COMFORTABLE HOUSE centrally located at from $600 to $1,000 cash. Apply at once to

T. HURLEY,
Real Estate Agent
Hunter Street

For Sale or to Rent.

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

A CONVENIENT HOUSE and lot on Sherbrook St. Apply to T. SLOMAN. d149

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE. On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, Solicitor, George Street. d84

TO RENT.

IN about 2 months, FIVE FIRST-CLASS TERRACE HOUSES (White Brick), two storey, seven rooms, on George street, within one minutes walk of the market. Apply to JOHN CARLISLE.

FOR SALE.

BUILDING LOTS, situated on Rubidge, Park, Townsend and Wolf Streets. No money down providing you build. Come on and get a Lot before they are all sold to the stove men. Also House and Lot, and Park Lot. Apply to the owner, JOHN BELL, Corner Wolf and Rubidge Streets.

STORE AND DWELLING

AT BETHANY, for sale or to let. The store in Bethany known as the Grandy store, together with the Dwelling and Lots connected therewith, will be sold at a bargain or leased on easy terms. Full particulars given on application at the Bank of Montreal, Lindsay, Peterborough or Port Hope. 2d181w4

New Advertisements.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

TIE MAKERS
AND STATION MEN
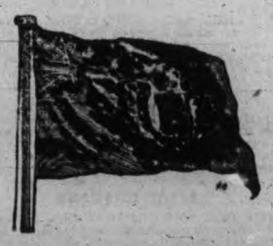
WANTED!

On Sault Division, D., S. S & A. R. R., Headquarters camp at Sault Junction, forty miles above St. Ignace on D., M. & M. R. R.

REXFORD BROS. & HODGE,
4d192aw Contractors.



BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE
Two weeks and Saturday Matinees.

COMMENCING
Monday, January 24
WILSON DAY'S
Theatre Company

The Greatest Living Child Actress
ANNIE BIRD
At Each Performance.

Grand Opening Bill, the Famous Comedy
UNCLE DANIEL
Or a Messenger from Jarvis Section.

Admission 10c. Reserved Seats 25c. at Hartley's. 14d17

Rally! Rally!

A MEETING OF
MR. STEVENSON'S
Supporters will be held in the Committee Rooms, Parlor Rink,
EVERY EVENING
AT 8 P. M.
Special Meeting on Tuesday Evening
Let every elector interested in Mr. Stevenson's election be present.

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD
Blythe Mills, Peterborough.
TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md7w41

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH
AND
OPORTO LIME SAUCE
At the Metropolitan Grocery

A GOOD TIME TO BUY.

The present is an excellent opportunity to purchase
Buggies, Phætons, Carriages and Waggons
at our Factory, as we are selling them out to make room for a lively trade in Winter Goods this Season. A fine stock on hand at prices that cannot fail to please. The present is also an excellent time to purchase or order before the busy season sets in. Hand in your order and obtain a handsome and substantial vehicle. If you do not intend to purchase a new one, bring along your cutters and sleighs and have them repaired. All material used by us is THOROUGHLY SEASONED. Our workmen are skilled mechanics, and the work is finished in the best styles. BUGGY TOPS made in the factory in several styles and at moderate prices. You will consult your interests by calling on us, as we are bound not to be beaten in prices or workmanship, and to lead the procession in our trade.
Cutters or Sleighs

We have also about 5,000 FEET OF TWO-INCH OAK, suitable for building purposes, which we will dispose of at a reasonable price.

PORTER BROS.
Corner Charlotte and Aylmer Streets, near the G.T.R.

CLEARING SALE. CRYSTAL BLOCK. GREAT BARGAINS.
SWEEPING REDUCTIONS
IN ALL WINTER GOODS.
GOODS MUST BE SOLD.
H. S. GRIFFIN & CO.

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 20. PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

DIED.

BROWNE.—At Peterborough, on Monday, January 24th, JOHN BROWNE, in the 62nd year of his age.

Funeral from his late residence opposite St. John's Church, Hunter street, on Wednesday 26th inst, at 3 o'clock p. m.

PROBABILITIES.

Fresh to strong south-east and south-west winds; partly cloudy or cloudy mild weather, with light sleet or rain in most places, followed by colder north and north-west winds to-night or to-morrow.

R. FAIR.

Now is your time to buy your Satin Dresses your Silk Dresses, your Satin Rhodames Dresses.

Ask to see our black gross grain Silk at 89c, worth $1.25 per yard.

EVENING SATINS.

Silk gloves, evening shades, Mousquitaire kid gloves. For evening wear a few more wool clouds and shawls to be cleared at a

BARGAIN.

SECURE

Some of the useful.

REMNANTS,

before they are all sold, Remnants of Dress Goods, Prints, Ginghams, Flannels, Tweeds Jacket Cloths, etc., etc.

R. FAIR,

GOLDEN LION.

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d4lw18

W. BLACKWELL,

ARCHITECT and C. E. Plans and estimates made of Churches, Public Buildings and Dwelling Houses. Buildings superintended and Patents applied for. Heating and Plumbing a specialty. Office:—Over Telegraph Office, George street, Peterborough. d15w1

Music.

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. lyd11

Musical.

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipsig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipsig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence

DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE

d11w6

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business Colleges. An Institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training.

$70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course. Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal, Peterborough, Ontario.

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,

AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,

FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS

AND

MUSLIN CURTAINS

AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S

Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1887.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

RUIN BY DEGREES.

It is true that Mr. Blake has declared that it is not his intention, in case he should become a Minister, to abolish entirely the present tariff, and we give him credit for enough intelligence to hope that he would not dare to take the responsibility of a revolution which would be the ruin of the country; but that which he would not dare to undertake in a day he would accomplish by degrees, and although rendered more easy by this method the fatal result would be no less certain.—La Minerve.

CURSING THE N.P.

The Montreal Gazette, the personal organ of Hon. Thos. White, minister of the interior, rises to remark; "That unitigated curse called the National Policy,' is the firm applied by the leading Liberal journal in the Maritime provinces to the fiscal system of Canada. The organ reflects the opinion of it's party." Yes, my lord, you are right as a trivet, for once. When the Chronicle used the expression, "That unmitigated curse called the National Policy," it reflected "the opinion of its party." It's just a way the Chronicle has and, as "Little Carrots" would say, "you can bet your bottom dollar on it every time."—Halifax Chronicle (Reform.)

MR. BLAKE'S VILE TACTICS.

Mr. Blake has condescended not only to make political capital out of a present made to Sir John Macdonald's wife, but he has incorporated in a public speech this vilest of personal charges against the aged Premier. And now the Globe publishes a cruel, malicious fabrication respecting Sir John Macdonald's mental condition And it is the Mr. Blake who, as a man, occupies a high place in our own and in public esteem. This, too, is the Mr. Blake who, a few weeks ago, wrote a letter full of indignant protest against the personal attacks made in the Mail. Mr. Blake is in a position to control the Globe, and certainly to control himself. He does neither.—Toronto World (Indep.)

CRUSHED BY FREE TRADE.

So eminent an authority as Mr. Jacoby M. P., recently admitted in public that, owing to the foreign duties, it is more profitable to send Nottingham machines abroad and work them there than to continue working them at home. The lace machine makers report that their best orders are now received from St. Pierre les Calais and Saxony, whence the laces made on Nottingham machines are sent to this country to compete with those goods produced at home.—London (England) Times.

STILL THERE.

The Hamilton Times, one of the ablest of the Reform organs, attacks the National Policy in a fashion which leaves no doubt as to the real sentiments of the Grit party respecting that measure, no matter how some of the minor lights may flicker concerning it. Our contemporary asserts that "the protective system is pulling this country down hill," and speaks of the danger staring us in the face if the cause "be not removed."—London Free Press.

The Free Press states our views correctly. We are as much opposed to the N. P. now as we were in 1878.—Hamilton Times (Ref)

EVICTIONS AT GLENBEIGH.

DUBLIN, Jan. 23.—The evictions at Glenbeigh, Country Kerry, were suspended yesterday, owing to absence of the sheriff. Twenty-three men were arraigned before the magistrate at Killorglin for obstructing the work of the sheriff during the past week in making evictions at Glenbeigh. Immediately after the arraignment a mass meeting of citizens was held to express sympathy with the prisoners, and several of the speakers openly denounced the evictions as tyrannical and barbarous.

A PARTY WITHOUT A POLICY.

The Opposition are going to the polls without a clearly defined policy on any subject. The elector who desires to cast his vote intelligently cannot find in the speeches of the leader of the Liberal party, a clear exposition of the policy which the Liberals will pursue if they are successful in the present contest. He will find in those speeches and articles plenty of criticism and more than enough denunciation, but no platform. He is told what the Liberals will not do when they are elevated to power often enough and in terms sufficiently emphatic, but when he tries to find out what they will do the result is most unsatisfactory.—Montreal Star (Indep.)

Blackstock Against Blake.

BOWMANVILLE, Jan. 24.—The Liberal Conservative Convention for West Durham met here to-day and nominated G. T. Blackstock of Toronto to contest the riding.

ELECTRICITY.

A Talk on the Subject, Illustrated by Experiments.

The popular talk at the Y M.C.A. rooms on Monday evening was on "Electricity and its uses." It was conducted by Mr. Geo. Bean, mathematical and science master at the Collegiate Institute.

In commencement he noted the rapidity with which Natural Science was coming to the front in educational affairs. Apart from it being closely connected with our material progress it possessed qualities of discipline not surpassed by any other study. A few years ago a company spent a large amount of money in trying to find coal near Whitby. If they had had a rudimentary knowledge of geology they would have known that coal wan't there.

As a branch of natural science electricity was an important one. On every hand now its uses were apparent. We saw by electricity, talked by it and wrote by it But though its practical use in various ways was a thing of the last few years electricity was no new thing. An old Greek discovered the power and named it electricity 600 years before Christ. He made the discovery by rubbing an amber and seeing it attract paper. But this was the only thing known of it for 2,000 years. It was not till the reign of Elizabeth that a further development took place. He made discoveries which led to the rise of two theories. These, though serving good purposes and having some good qualities, were obscured by the new inductive theory. This theory held that there was two kinds of electricity—positive and negative, and that the one induces the other. Thus, take two objects; surcharge one with positive electricity and that next to it became surcharged with negative electricity. He illustrated this by the "electric chimes." Hanging three bells up, he charged one positively, the other negatively, and left the other neutral. The little lounges passed quickly too and fro being drawn to the one first and then to the other. Another interesting experiment showed how it was impossible to stand still on a floor charged with electricity.

Regarding the velocity of electricity he said it travelled on copper wire 288,000 miles a second, and on iron wire 16,000 miles. The duration of the electric shock was so short that in a flash of lightning the railway train going at 60 miles an hour appeared to stand still, and in a storm, though the trees were tossing wildly, they appeared, when lit under a flash of lightning, to be at perfect rest. In fact the trees along the railway train had not time to make a second motion before the light vanished.

The illustrated lightning by the passage of electricity from one jar containing positive, to another containing negative. Franklin had proved the lightning to be the same as allowing a kite to ascend to a cloud, and then taking some electricity off the tail and examining it. The value of points was touched on. When electricity wanted to escape from the lamp to the clouds it naturally travelled as far as it could on material objects before escaping to the air. This explained the fact of forests being covered on some nights under a blue flame. In an earlier age this was held to be an omen forerunning all sorts of dire events. A lightning rod was useless without its points being well shouldered. These points sticking up higher than the building were saught by the electrick current and it was safely considered to be moist earth. Two more experiments showed the principles of the incandescent lamp and the electric locomotive. In the first by heating a platinum wire with a mild current in a chamber deprived of air a brilliant light gleamed steadily. In the other instance a rapid motion was produced by means of a small magnet.

Mr. Bean, in conclusion, could not conjecture what forms of energy electricity would assume in the future. Certain it was that its usefulness was only just begun. Experiments had been lately made where a race course four miles distant was clearly presented in a room, by the action of electricity upon the other. During the coming years great developments might be looked for. We might not only talk with our friends in various parts of the country, but we might actually see them by the aid of electricity.

The audience, which filled the lecture room to the doors, warmly applauded at the conclusion of the "Popular Talk."

Sudden Death in a Church.

While the congregation of the Ottawa Street Methodist Church, Montreal, were singing the opening hymn at Sunday morning's service, Mr. J. Foulkes, one of the members, fell down unconscious. The service was stopped, the incident causing great commotion. The unfortunate man was carried into the passage and attended to by Dr. Finney, who pronounced life to be extinct, the result of heart disease. The deceased was a respected and valued member of the church, having been connected with it since its foundation. He was employed as a moulder in Ives & Co.'s foundry, and was 65 years of age. He was a widower, with a family of two grown up daughters, and was evidently aware of the existence of his complain, as he had frequently told his daughter that he expected some time to be suddenly called away.

WHAT THEY WANT.

The Globe's latest election cry of "Turn the rascals out!" exposes the Grit organ's poverty of invention. It originated with the New York Sun, and as used by the Democrats of the United States signified a clean sweep of the civil service departments to make room for a hundred thousand office-seekers, as opposed to the civil service reform policy. Is that what the Globe wants?—Toronto News (Indep.)

CANADIAN INDUSTRIES.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—The Reform candidate for parliamentary honors has expressed himself in favor of a limited protection. As he expressed himself in the writer's presence, he would increase the tariff on certain classes of manufactured articles (stoves, I suppose, would be one), but he would let in pig iron free. This appears to me a one-sided and selfish policy, as it would close down all the iron furnaces in Nova Scotia and elsewhere; moreover, what would be the condition of this country supposing that war should brake out between England and the United States at some future time, and we had no means of manufacturing iron? The whole manufacturing industries of the country would be ruined and at a standstill until peace was restored. Therefore I say that the manufacture of iron should be encouraged, and instead of reducing the tariff I would say increase it, so that after a time we could have iron made at home, and not have to wait three or four months to get an order filled, as is the case at this time. Canada has the richest of ores, and ores suitable to make every kind of iron and steel, and when we have better facilities for getting fuel, either coal or gas (gaseous fuel will no doubt be the fuel of the future in all branches of the iron and steel industries), iron can be made in this immediate district at a profit, and every person would be benefitted by the introduction of the industry.

Again is the greatest wealth of the country to be hurried forever and the owners not to be benefitted by it, whilst hundreds of thousands of dollars go to foreign countries every year to buy what we have under our feet. It is a ridiculous policy. Suppose the country had adopted a protective policy 20 years ago there is no doubt but we should have been able to have made a large quantity of steel rails and other iron work used in the building of the C. P. R. and the money lately sent to a foreign country would have been distributed among the farmers, manufacturers and tradesman at home. How much would it amount to? I will take the matter of steel rails for illustration which with switches and sidings would amount to a road mileage of about 4000 and would require about 90 tons of rail to the mile or 360,000 tons at an average cost of thirty five dollars per ton would make a total sum of $13,000,000. Suppose this sum or only a part of it had remained in the country who would have been a looser? Not one, but every one a gainer for the country would have became richer, thereby.

Some twenty years ago the whole world became interested in the new process of manufacturing steel rails under the Bessme patents which was first introduced in England and of course that country held the trade. About 1872 a few Company's commenced manufacturing in the United States and the English makers tried to crush them by low quotations. The Americans asked their Government to protect them with a fixed tariff, which they granted, and the industry and country have flourished under this protection. There are now some fifteen to twenty firms, engaged exclusively in this one industry, paying out millions of dollars every year for wages. The Carnegie Steel Co., of Pittsburg alone gives employment to 6000 men, with a monthly pay roll of over $500,000.

According to the statistics of the American Iron and Steel Association the production of steel rails in 1885 was 1,074,757 net tons, in 1884 1,116 271 tons and during 1886, the product has been greater than ever.

From another report I find that for the year 1885, 7,690,000 gross tons of domestic iron ore, and 390,786 gross ton of imported ore (principally from Canada) was used in the manufacture of iron and steel, with a cash value at the mines of $31,963,144. The pig iron manufactured during the year amounted to 4,044,526 gross tons having a value of $61,712,400 at the furnaces. Total spot value of all iron and steel in the first stage of manufacture, $93,000,000. These figures merely represent the value of pig iron and steel ingots.

Add to the above 8,000,000 tons of coal, used in the reduction of said ores, at a cash value of $16,00,,000 to $18,000,000, and you will have some idea of the magnitude of this one industry built up under protection. Also see the benefits to be derived from it by the whole community.

Remove this protection and what would be the result? Nothing less than the closing down of nearly all the mills, or else a reduction of the men's wages to nearly the same level as they are in Europe. This is an undeniable fact.

Now, this industry, grown to such immense proportions, has been built up in about fifteen years. Who can say that Canada may not build up a similar industry during the next fifteen or twenty years under protection. One of the greatest pieces of modern engineering has been done in Canada. Why should the development of the steel and iron industries of the country be postponed? There will be a large demand for iron and steel for railroad building in the future, therefore, I say now is the time to strike; no retrograde movements in the industries of the country, but let Canada be independent and manufacture for herself. Give encouragement to manufacturers of iron and steel; no taking the duty off. We want it as much as grain, and the country will grow rich like her neighbor.

But manufactures of iron or steel in Canada or the United States cannot compete with the manufactures of Europe without reducing the wages to the same level. Therefore, I would advise all mechanics to look before they leap, if you vote for a free trade party you must expect to compete with European cheap labor.

In a future letter I will give you a list of the weekly wages paid in England, Germany, France, Belguim, Italy, Denmark, Switzerland and Russia; together with the number of hours which constitute a week's work in each country, also the price of food in seven of the large European cities, so that your readers will be able to judge for themselves the difference between what they can earn under a protective policy and what they must expect under free trade. Yours truly, Peterborough, Jan. 24. W. H. L.

P. S. The following extract will be interesting as throwing light on this subject:—

CARNEGIE AND KRUPP.

Andrew Carnegie and his partners pay out more money in wages every month than Krupp, the celebrated gunmaker of Essen, Germany, disburses among his men. Krupp employs 10,000 men and Carnegie's various Pittsburg mills are operated by 6,000 men. The difference in the aggregate of salaries is the difference between American and European pay. The monthly payroll of the Pittsburg ironmaster is over half a million dollars. The plants owned by the Carnegies cover 200 acres of ground. Upon this there are laid and maintained thirty-five miles of tracks, and the firm own twenty-two locomotives.—Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

UNDER WHICH KING?

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Putting aside the almost insufferable and suffocating "bosh" of the Reformers, the real merit of the present contest is simply, whether the Canadian people are determined to hold the place which they have worked hard and fought hard to achieve and maintain, or whether, lured by false lights or weakened in their resolves by the insidious sophistries of designing enemies, they will permit a dastardly retreat from their proud position among self-governing peoples.

The enemies of Canadian progress are the same, in a degree, to a man's own enemies; the worst of whom are those of his own household; and thus it is that Canada's enemies to-day were at one time kindly nutured on her genial breast. One of these says, in his vindictive hate, (see REVIEW of 20th inst.) "And so far as manufacturers are concerned, the domestic competition to which they have been exposed has been very much keener and more injurious to them than the foreign competition they were so desirous to escape."

Thus this false teacher would have people believe that this "keen competition" has not been favourable to the Canadian people, lest they should be benefitted in their purchases, and pray, Mr. Cartwright, how much of the burden of Canadian taxes will your foreign friends pay? Or would you rather have people here taxed to support the Government, and taxed by bringing your foreign friends' goods, at the same time that they are prevented earning the means to do, simply that your foreign friends would reap the advantage? How patriotic!

As all Canadians are working men, it is now pertinent to ask, which state of affairs do you choose? "Under which king will you serve?"

Proud of their possessions, whether natural or artificial, as the American people are, they possess nothing to which they can point with more laudable pride than can the Canadian to the C. P. R., and to the consummate wisdom, keen foresight, indefatigable efforts, financial and political, of the great party under whose fostering care it was brought to a successful conclusion. When it comes before the country in the persons of its respective candidates, and ask for a confirmation of its grand work at their hands, shall that appeal go unheeded? No. let every son of Canada and every settler upon her hospitable bosom arouse to the importance of the occasion and do his full share of duty, and in doing so let him and then see only the progress and prosperity of this Country and in order to perpetrate it, and to deserve well of his country and of his fellow men let him cease not in every manly and laudable effort until the Conservative candidate is elected with a rousing majority.

Your obedient servant.

ALYMER.

January 24th 1887.

BOIL IT DOWN.

When writing an article for the press
Whether prose or verse, just try
To utter your thoughts in the fewest words,
And let it be crisp and dry;
And when it is finished and you suppose
It is done exactly brown,
Just look it over again and then—
Boil it down.

For editors do not like to print
An article lastly long,
And the general reader does not care
For a couple of yards of song.
So gather your wits in the smallest space,
If you'd win the author's crown,
And every time you write my friend—
Boil it down.

Draft Horses.

As heavy draft horses are destined to be mostly used in our larger cities for hauling heavy loads over pavements that are particularly severe on feet and legs, the requirements put forward that the feet be good and sufficiently upright, and that the legs be the opposite of meaty, are being well looked to. Horses that are required for hard service are judged of very much from the standpoint of a man's personal experience. Thus, if he has worn-out horses that have failed in the feet and legs, he is quite likely to devote much of his time in examining the feet and legs of a horse that he contemplates buying. If he has suffered through horses being defective in wind being soft and inefficient, and has had no trouble from defective feet and legs, then to the wind and bottom he looks with care. Men's tastes differ so that without unfavorable experience to guide, the fancies run peculiarly far apart. Yet, with the draft horse it is a question of how much sound working material the horse has inside of the measurements that guarntee the required weight, for no horse is accepted now as a draft horse unless he weighs considerable more than a sixteen hand carriage horse is expected to weigh. As through selections with that end in view, great weight has been added, and in the case of many horses so bred it has been found that in the anxiety to secure the weight the legs have been overlooked, an the breeder has on his hands great bulk of body with a defective leg to carry it. In such a case the horse might be compared to a four-horse truck with the wheels of a one-horse waggon under it. The draft horse is of little value unless he has all the parts equal to moving with reasonable ease and safety, the full load that a heavy horse is expected to handle. A chain is strong up to the limit of strain put upon it a weakest link, and with the average horse, after he is removed from the farm, and the moderate exertion required of him there, this being expended upon soft footing, it is found that in the case of the draft-horse, he is no horse worth the name without good feet and legs. Hence, all draft horse breeders who are well up in their business are looking at the legs.—National Live Stock Journal.

THE DAILY EVENING REVIEW is delivered to subscribers at 10 cents a week.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

NO SHIRKING MILITARY DUTY.

VIENNA, Jan. 24.—The rules governing the Landstum, which have just been published, show that nothing except blindness, deafness, dumbness and lameness will exempt men from service and drafts from the Landstrum will be used to fill up the gaps in the regular navy reserves. The new rules have rather surprised the country, such sweeping and stringent conditions not having been expected.

NOTES ON THE IRISH DEMAND.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Mr. Gladstone will contribute to the Nineteenth Century of February an article entitled "Notes and Queries on the Irish Demand."

THE GERMAN SPIES.

PARIS, Jan. 24.—Meyer, the alleged German spy, who escaped at the time of the capture of his two companions at Lyons, has been arrested. All three insist that the soldier who accuses them trumped up the story that they tried to bribe him to obtain for them one of the new French repeating rifles.

GIGANTIC PREPARATIONS.

VIENNA, Jan. 24.—Although the Bulgarian situation has improved, the military preparations of the Austro-Hungarian Government continue unabated. In the event of a mobilization three great armies will be formed, each corps having no less than 250 000 men. The commanders for these corps have already been designated. It is believed that these gigantic preparations have been undertaken less from fear of war with Russia concerning Bulgaria than with a view of the contingency of a war between France and Germany, which would cause additional Eastern complications.

REBEL POSITION CARRIED.

PARIS, Jan. 24.—A despatch from Tonquin says Col. Brissaud carried the rebel position at Mikoe Shanhoa. Five hundred insurgents were killed, the French pursuing the rebels.

TENANTS ACQUITTED.

DUBLIN, Jan. 20.—The Magistrates before whom the Glenbeigh tenants were tried acquitted the prisoners. To-night the hillsides for miles around were ablaze with bonfires in honor of the event.

PEACE NOTES.

PARIS, Jan. 24.—The Liberte says that Premier Goblet privately told several Deputies to-day that the report that war was imminent was false. The Journal des Debats publishes a Berlin despatch saying the present relations between France and Germany are excellent. In a note Gen. Boulanger denies that the French Government is buying horses abroad.

A PLOT.

SOFIA, Jan. 24.—The Roumanian Government has informed the authorities at Sofia of the discovery of a plot, with its centre at Silvestzu, to excite the people to revolt and to try and surprise Sofia. Two of the leaders Capt. Wicseff and Capt. Gudjeff have been arrested and two escaped to Bulgaria in disguise.

FLOOD AT LONDON.

An Ice Jam Causes the Water to Rise —The People Anxious.

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 24.—It looks bad for London West this afternoon. The ice in the North Branch has moved out, and a big jam has formed about half-way between the Kensington bridge and the Cove bridge the ice remaining solid all below the jam. In the South Branch there has been a partial movement of ice. The jam has caused the water to rise to within a foot or eighteen inches of the top of the breakwater all along, and the water has forced its way through in three places south of Kensington bridge, and is running in with great violence, washing away the filling of the embankment. Dundas street is partially flooded in London West and along the South Branch the Sulphur Springs ground has two feet of water on it. The water has also spread over the Pipe Line road. People living in the vicinity of the river in London West commenced moving out about noon to-day, the water having reached the floors of many of the houses, especially those not protected by the break-water and scenes of great bustle and confusion were witnessed, the sidewalks being piled with household effects, which were hastily loaded on drays and removed to safer quarters in the city. The broken ice is piled in heaps in the river bed away beyond the Kensington bridge, and there is hardly any current perceptible in the water of the river. Crowds stood on the Kensington bridge all the afternoon watching the scene, and the villagers are awaiting anxiously for whatever fate has in store for them. Very little change has taken place in the last hour, but if any thing the water is still on the rise.

FLOODS IN BRISBANE.

The Capital of Queensland Inundated A Fearful Cyclone—Many Lives Lost.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Despatches from Brisbane, the capital of Queensland, state that the colony has been swept by a fearful cyclone, accompanied by rainfall of such extraordinary copiousness that twenty inches of water fell in a short time. The result has been disastrous floods in Brisbane. Some of the thoroughfares are submerged to a depth of twenty feet. The city is entirely cut off by floods from its suburbs. Reports say many persons were drowned

A Clerical Candidate.

HAMILTON, Jan. 24.—Rev. Dr. Burns, of the Wesleyan Ladies' College, and Fred. Walters, moulder, and the nominee of the Labor party, were nominated as candidates by the Liberals here to-night. The Labor party have endorsed Dr. Burns.

So soon as the manufacturers become unable to compete with their foreign rivals, not only in neutral markets, but in their own, the rate of wages must come down. The question to be considered in Canada is this:—shall Canadian manufacturers and artizans be entered in the race, whose goal is death and whose prize is starvation; or shall they be protected by benevolent legislation that their remuneration shall depend upon the average prosperity and productive power of the country?—Hamilton Spectator.

FOR your evening wear see the Golden Lion.

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1887.

IN GREAT BRITAIN.

In free trade Great Britain there has been so great and long continued depression that a royal commission was appointed to enquire into its causes. The commission examined a great number of witnesses, and in its report just published it has summarized their evidence, so as to present to view in a condensed form their views of the cause of the mischief. These opinions are as follows:—

1. Overproduction.
2. A continuous fall of prices, caused by the depreciation of the standard of value.
3. The effect of foreign tariffs and bounties, and the restrictive commercial policy of foreign countries in limiting our markets.
4. Foreign competition, which we are beginning to feel in both our own and in neutral markets.
5. An increase in local taxation and burdens on industry generally.
6. Cheaper rates of carriage enjoyed by our foreign competitors.
7. Legislation affecting the employment of labor in industrial undertakings.
8. The superior technical education of workmen in foreign countries.

It will be seen that among the chief reasons given, being the third and fourth in order out of eight, are the effect of foreign protective tariffs, and the consequent injurious foreign competition, which is crippling the trade of free trade Great Britain.

This is another instance, and a most striking one, of the growth in the Mother Country of the conviction that their free trade policy is a failure. Mr. Cobden persuaded them that after building up British industries by the most stringent protection, they might by the adoption of free trade retain their command of the markets, inducing the rest of the world to follow their example, not as to the preliminary protection, but as to reciprocal freedom of commerce. After a long and patient trial they have found that the great apostle of free trade deluded himself and them. Foreign countries have preferred to follow the example of Great Britain in establishing their industries by fostering protection, not in adopting so-called free trade, which really at the time was a pretence as far as the manufacturers were concerned, for it meant cheapening production by cheaper food, while having a start in the markets of the world that gave them a virtual monopoly. Foreign countries have declined to open their markets reciprocally and have preferred to nurse their industries by protection till they are now formidable competitors not only at home and in neutral markets, but even in Great Britain. Foreign countries like free trade when it means sending their goods free of duty to England, but they decline free trade when it means admitting British goods free to their markets.

And now that Great Britain, the only free trade power in the world, is rapidly preparing to terminate such a one-sided and inequitable bargain, we in Canada are being urged by the Reform leaders to retrograde to the losing side, to the exploded idea. We are being invited to substitute a revenue for a protective tariff, to subject our young industries to a destructive foreign competition which cannot even be borne by the old established and wealthy industries of the Mother Country.

We cannot think that the people of Canada will rate the opinions of Messrs. Blake, Cartwright, Mills and Co. as high as the people of Great Britain did those of Mr. Cobden; nor that the people of Canada wish to yield to a delusion from which sad experience is awaking our kinsmen in the Old Country.

The vile attack made by the Globe upon Sir John Macdonald, a report of whose insanity it circulates, has been received with expressions of disgust even by those who are opposed in politics to the Premier of Canada. The want of any acceptable policy is driving Mr. Blake and his organ to the adoption of most disgraceful tactics.

FOR SELF.

We were asked by a friend, who happens to be a Reformer, if it was not a rather far-fetched argument against Mr. Cox to censure him for opposing the Ontario and Quebec Railway, since he was at the time a railway man, and, of course opposed to any rival road.

Well that is just the point which is of importance in considering Mr. Cox as a candidate. He was opposed to what was certain to be, and has proved to be a great benefit to Peterborough, because he preferred the interest of his own road, that is of himself, for he has made more profit out of the road than any other man living. So when his own interests conflicted with those of the road, its shareholders or creditors, it was his own interests, not theirs, that guided his course. So, too, when he was Mayor, it was his own interests, not those of the town, that led him to the strong advocacy of a by-law to make the people of Peterborough pay the taxes on a property in which he had a share; yes, and to leave the people of Peterborough to pay the costs of upsetting his illegal by law in the law courts. Those who have watched his career will find that this has been his practice, to serve his own interests regardless of others, or of the duties of his position. This habit, even apart from his being a supporter of politicians who would ruin our industries, would render it very dangerous to trust Mr. Cox as our representative in Parliament. To judge from the past he would be sure to prefer his own interests to those of his constituents, if they came in conflict, and not to be scrupulous in carrying his point.

VERIFY THE FIGURES.

Mr. Cox and his friends are carrying on their campaign by the dishonest method of circulating statistics as to the affairs of the Dominion which are grossly falsified. We would advise any elector who is astonished at these sums to ask Mr. Cox, or those acting for him, to point out in the public documents the figures that are professedly quoted from them. We will venture to say that some excuse will be offered instead of the public documents, for the sufficient reason that the figures could not be found in them, being in almost every case nothing but unscrupulous forgeries framed to deceive the electors.

On the other hand, if any figures given by the Review in regard to public business appear to require explanation we guarantee that we will point them out to any enquirer in the official public documents, so that he may verify their accuracy for himself. We will willingly do this for any one who will call upon us, whether opposed to us or not, or simply a seeker for information.

We desire to state nothing in regard to the business of the country that is not borne out by the evidence, and we will not only be ready, but glad to have our statements thus tested.

The figures which those who parade them dare not permit to be thus put to the test, should be regarded with grave suspicion at the very least.

In referring to the tissue of forgeries and falsifications which Mr. M. C. Cameron (Huron) emitted by way of a speech in the House of Commons on the treatment of the Northwest Indians, we notice that he said: "We promised and were under treaty obligations to supply the Indians just fresh from the plains, from which the buffalo had disappeared, with fresh beef." No such stipulation is contained in a single treaty with the Indians of the Northwest, but it was on such false statements that Mr. Cameron in his cowardly attack upon the Department, in the temporary absence through illness of its head, built up his edifice of fiction.

BLAIRTON.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Political Meeting.—A political meeting was held in the school house here on Thursday afternoon. There was a fairly large number in attendance, but there would have been more had it not been for the weather and bad condition of the roads. Mr. F. D. Boyd was elected to the chair. Mr. W. H. Stephenson, of Norwood, in a brief speech, thanked the electors for the handsome way in which they had supported him in the last election on Dec. 28th. Mr. Burnham then addressed the electors. He referred in an interesting way to his eight years in Parliament, and hoped that this part of the Riding would maintain its good reputation in the present election. The following resolution was moved by Mr. W. J. Armstrong, seconded by Mr. J. L. Aunger, and adopted:—"That having heard Mr. Burnham's explanation of his actions as our representative for the past two terms, we have the utmost confidence in him and will do all in our power to return him as our representative and a supporter of the Rt. Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald." The meeting closed with cheers for Mr. Burnham and Mr. Stephenson, a vote of thanks to the chairman and cheers for the Queen.

Removing the Old Iron.—Mr. T. P. Pearce has let the contract for hauling the iron along the old railway track from the Narrows to the Blairton station of the C. P. R., to Messrs. C. Merriam and W. T. Brock. The work will be commenced in a few days.

Roads Blocked.—Mr W. W. Armstrong, of Campbellford, took advantage of the good roads on Sunday, Jan. 16th, to drive over to Blairton. On Monday he started for home in a desperate storm, but when he got about six miles he had to turn back and remain in Blairton until Thursday.

GENERAL BOULANGER.

London, Jan. 24.—At last Saturday's Cabinet Council in France, General Boulanger declared that he fully believed that an important section of the Chamber of Deputies want to get rid of him, and that he would take an early opportunity to explain matters in the tribune and once for all put an end to the misunderstanding which prevails as to his bellicose intention towards Germany. Gen. Boulanger seems determined to carry out his idea that the Minister of War should be a permanent official and not subject to change with every succeeding cabinet. It looks now as if he would ultimately succeed.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

FROM ALL OVER.

The Turkish Government has odered half a million repeating rifles.

The Spanish Cortes is discussing a bill for the leasing of the tobacco monopoly.

Great suffering exists among cattle in New Mexico, owing to the prolonged drought.

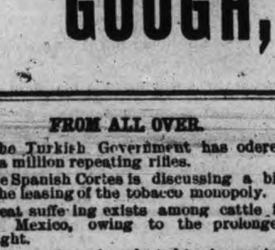
A severe storm is redorted to be raging on the Suez canal, and many vessels are delayed.

Sir Charles Tupper arrived in New York on Sunday on the steamer Trave, from Southampton.

A fire at Memphis, Tenn., early on Saturday morning destroyed 6,334 bales of cotton valued at $275,000.

Ayer's Hair Vigor improves the beauty of the hair and promotes its growth. It imparts an attractive appearance, a delightful and lasting perfume. It stimulates the roots, cleanses the scalp, and proves itself to be the best and cheapest article for toilet use.

Lady Macdonald has an article in Murray's Review, London, on the opening of the Canadian Pacific railway.



A number of families at Jeansville, Pa., have been poisoned by eating cheese, several persons being dangerously ill.

Two English gentlemen paid £1,000 each for the privilege of accompanying Mr. Stanley on his expedition for the relief of Emin Bey.

Ayer's Pills cure constipation, improve the appetite, promote digestion, restore healthy action, and regulate every function. They are pleasant to take, gentle in their operation, yet thorough, searching and powerful in subduing disease.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Rally! Rally!

A MEETING OF

MR. STEVENSON'S

Supporters will be held in the Committee Rooms, Parlor Rink,

EVERY EVENING

AT 8 P. M.

Syecial Meeting on Tuesday Evening

Let every elector interested in Mr. Steven son's election be present.

Business Men Attention.

We can now offer several first-class positions to Advertisers in the REVIEW, and, as there is always a rush at the beginning of the year, in order that the best positions may be obtained, business men will do well to call immediately and secure their space for 1887.

During the present year renewed efforts will be made to make the REVIEW still more a thoroughly efficient medium whereby the Merchants and others can put and keep themselves prominently before the public. Extra precaution will be taken, and the best taste will be displayed in getting up all advertisements intrusted to us for publication, and in other respects as well, the "shrewd" business man will do well to patronize the columns of the

Daily and Weekly

Review

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

Manufatured of the Best Material by Skillful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books' Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Raisns, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven them it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods. Without which none are genuine.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d8w9

Xmas Comes But Once a Year

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 3 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 10c.

To every purchaser of one pound of our 30c. tea, 5 lbs. of Raisins for 15c.

We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 35 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY

JOHN NUGENT

Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont.
FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 25 Marylland Road, Harrow Road, London, England. (Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)

No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d18ooduw9

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

By HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

[ISSUED BY PHILIP BRAND, M. D., LONDON.]

PART THE FIRST.

CHAPTER I.

I wish I had the courage to begin this tale by turning to my professional visiting books, and taking at random any month out of the last twenty years, give its record as a fair sample of my ordinary work. The dismal extract would tell you what a doctor's—I suppose I may say a successful doctor's—lot is, when his practice lies in a poor and densely populated district of London. Dreary as such a beginning might be, it would perhaps allay some of the incredulity which this tale may probably provoke, as it would plainly show how little room there is for things imaginative or romantic in work so hard as mine, or among such grim realities of poverty, pain and grief as those by which I have been surrounded. It would certainly make it appear extremely unlikely that I should have found time to imagine, much less to write, a romance or melodrama.

The truth is that when a man has toiled from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night, such leisure as he can enjoy is precious to him, especially when even that short respite is liable to be broken in upon at any moment.

Still, in spite of the doleful picture I have drawn of what may be called "the daily grind," I begin this tale with the account of a holiday.

In the autumn of 1864 I turned my back with right good will upon London streets, hospitals and patients, and took my seat in the North express. The first revolution of the wheels sent a thrill of delight through my jaded frame. A joyful sensation of freedom came over me. I had really got away at last! Moreover, I had left no address behind me, so for three blessed weeks might roam an undisputed lord of myself. Three weeks were not very many to take out of the fifty-two, but they were all I could venture to give myself; for even at that time my practice, if not so lucrative as I could wish, was a large and increasing one. Having done a twelve-month's hard work, I felt that no one in the kingdom could take his holiday with a conscience clearer than mine, so I lay back in a peculiarly contented frame of mind, and discounted the coming pleasures of my brief respite from labor.

There are many ways of passing a holiday—many places at which it may be spent, but, after all, if you wish to thoroughly enjoy it, there is but one royal rule to be followed. That is, simply to please yourself—go where you like and mount the innocent holiday hobby which is dearest to your heart, let its name be botany, geology, entomology, conchology, venery, piscation, or what not. Then you shall be happy, and return well braced up for the battle of life. I knew a city clerk with literary tastes who invariably spent his annual fortnight among the mustiest tomes of the British museum, and averred that his health was more benefited by so doing than if he had passed the time inhaling the freshest sea breezes. I dare say he was right in his assertion.

Sketching has always been my favorite holiday pursuit. Poor as my drawings may be, nevertheless, as I turn them over in my portfolio, they bring, to me at least, vivid remembrances of many sweet and picturesque spots, happy days, and congenial companions. It is not for me to say anything of their actual merits, but they are dear to me for their associations.

This particular year I went to North Wales and made Bettws y Coed my headquarters. I stayed at the Royal Oak, that well-known little inn, dear to many an artist's heart, and teeming with reminiscences of famous men who have sojourned there times without number. It was here I made the acquaintance of the man with whose life the curious events I am going to narrate are connected.

On the first day after my arrival at Bettws my appreciation of my liberty was so thorough, my appetite for the enjoyment of the beauties of nature so keen and insatiable, that I went so far and saw so much, that when I returned to the Royal Oak night had fallen and the hour of dinner had long passed by. I was, when my own meal was placed on the table, the only occupant of the coffee-room. Just then a young man entered and ordered something to eat. The waiter knowing, no doubt, something of the frank camaraderie which exists, or should exist, between the followers of Melpomene, laid his cover at my table. The newcomer seated himself, gave me a pleasant smile and a nod, and in five minutes we were in full swing of conversation.

The moment my eyes fell upon the young man I had noticed how singularly handsome he was. Charles Carriston—for this I found afterward to be his name—was about 22 years of age. He was tall, but slightly built, his whole bearing and figure being remarkably elegant and graceful. He looked even more than gentlemanly—he looked distinguished. His face was pale, its features well cut, straight and regular. His forehead spoke of high intellectual qualities, and there was somewhat of that development over the eyebrows which phrenologists, I believe, consider as evidence of the possession of imagination. The general expression of his face was one of seriousness, if not sadness, and its refined beauty was heightened by a pair of soft, dark, dreamy-looking eyes.

It only remains to add that, from his attire, I judged him to be an artist—a professional artist—to the backbone. In the course of conversation I showed him how I had classified him. He smiled.

"I am only an amateur," he said; "an idle man, nothing more—and you?"

"Alas! I am a doctor."

"Then we shall not have to answer for our sins in painting to each other."

We talked on pleasantly until our bodily wants were satisfied by the good fare placed before us. Then came that pleasant craving for tobacco which, after a good meal, is natural to a well-regulated digestion.

"Shall we go and smoke outside?" said Carriston. "The night is delicious."

(To be continued.)

A SEMI-PANIC.

LONDON, JAN. 24.—There has been a semi-panic in the stock market this afternoon, in consequence of the unfavorable aspect of the political situation.

Sisters of Charity

Charity, attached to St. Mary's Infant Asylum, Dorchester, Mass., certify to the inestimable value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the treatment of sore eyes and skin diseases, among the many unfortunate children under their care. Mrs. S. D. Bodwell, Wilmington, Mass., writes concerning the treatment of her daughter, who was troubled with sore eyes, as follows: "I gave Ayer's Sarsaparilla to and must say that she never took anything that helped her so much. I think her eyes never looked so well, as now, since they were affected, and her general health is improving every day. She has taken but half a bottle." A. J. Simpson, 147 East Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "My weak eyes were made strong by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla." C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H., writes: "For a number of years I have been troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief, until I commenced using saparilla. I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers."

My Little Girl,

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

For sale by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5.

Charity

may be "fairest and foremost of the train that wait on man's most dignified and happiest state," but the dignity and happiness of man cannot long endure without the health that may be obtained in a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A. W. Parker, lumber dealer, 209 Bleury street, Montreal, Que., writes: "After being troubled with Dyspepsia for a year, and with Salt Rheum

For a Number of Years,

I was cured of both diseases by using six bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla." M. G. Traine, Duxbury, Mass., writes: "I have found Ayer's Sarsaparilla an efficacious remedy for bilious troubles and Dyspepsia." Henry Cobb, 41 Russell st., Charlestown, Mass., writes: "I was completely cured of Dyspepsia, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla." Wm. Lee, Joppa, Md., writes: "I have tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and it has done me so much good that I shall always regard it as the best of blood purifiers." Eminent physicians prescribe Ayer's Sarsaparilla

in all cases requiring a powerful alterative treatment.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

For sale by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5.

Peterborough Markets

WHEAT.
Wheat, fall, per bushel	0 80	to	0 80
" spring "	0 82	to	0 82
Arnecta Wheat	0 60	to	0 65
FLOUR AND MEAL.
Flour, Patent Process, per cwt.	$2 50	to	$2 50
Flour, bakers per cwt	2 25	to	2 25
Flour, stone process	1 80	to	1 80
COARSE GRAIN.
Barley, per bushel	0 48	to	0 57
Peas	0 50	to	0 51
Oats,	0 28	to	0 28
Rye	0 45	to	0 45
MILL FEED.
Oat chop, per cwt	1 10	to	1 10
Pea chop, "	1 10	to	1 10
Barley chop "	1 00	to	1 00
Pollards "	0 80	to	0 80
Bran, per ton	11 00	to	11 00
VEGETABLES.
Potatoes, per bag	0 60	to	0 65
Cabbage, per head	0 05	to	0 07
Beets, per bag	0 40	to	0 40
Onions, per bag	1 25	to	1 40
Carrots, small red, per bag	0 35	to	0 40
Carrots, field, per bag	0 15	to	0 20
Turnips	0 20	to	0 25
Parsnips	0 30	to	0 40
MEAT, POULTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE.
Beef, by the quarter per cwt	3 50	to	4 50
Pork, " " "	6 00	to	6 25
Mutton, per lb	0 06	to	0 08
Veal, per lb	none offering
Lamb, per lb	0 07	to	0 8
Dressed Hogs	5 50	to	6 00
Hogs, live weight	3 75	to	4 25
Tallow, per lb	0 04	to	0 06
Lard	0 10	to	0 11
Chickens, per pair	0 45	to	0 60
Ducks, per pair	0 60	to	0 70
Geese, each	0 50	to	0 60
Turkeys, each	0 75	to	1 40
Butter, fresh roll, per lb	0 18	to	0 20
Butter, packed prime, per lb	0 16	to	0 18
Cheese, private sale per lb	0 12	to	0 12
Eggs, per doz	0 19	to	0 20
Hay, per ton	7 00	to	10 00
Straw, per load	2 00	to	3 00
Wood, hard, per load	3 50	to	4 50
Wood, soft, per load	2 50	to	3 00
WOOL AND HIDES.
Fleece wool	0 18	to	0 18
Southdown wool	0 21	to	0 21
Hides, per cwt	5 50	to	6 00
Hides, trimmed, per cwt	6 00	to	7 00
Lamb skins	25	to	25
Sheep Pelts, each	25	to	25
Sheep skins	1 00	to	1 00
FISH.
White Fish, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Speckled Trout, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Maskinonge, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Bass, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Finnie Haddie, per lb	0 10	to	0 10
Simcoe Herring, per do	0 30	to	0 30
Salt Mackrel, per doz	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per quart	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per can	0 45	to	0 55

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

The Faith Cure.

If you do not value your health, and your time is not worth anything, pin your faith to the "anointing oil," or the mortar from "Knock Chapel." But if you do value health, and have not time to waste in useless experiments, take Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" on the appearance of the first symptoms of consumption; which are a loss of appetite and flesh, general debility, slight, dry, hacking cough, etc. Every day you defer treating your case in a rational manner makes the disease harder to combat. Send 10 cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., for Dr. Pierce's Treatise on Consumption.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-Joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,

SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.

MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, &c. SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w1b

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.

MONEY TO LOAN. d108w1

HATTON & WOOD,

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

R. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. 1yd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. 1yd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. 1yd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 759. Residence, Bon Accord Street. 1yd97 e1

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 699; residence, Reid street, near King. 1yd97

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. 1yd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. 1yd97

W. FITZGERALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. 1yd97

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d120w22

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street, opposite St. John's Church. d123w22 1j

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w2

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. lyd&w

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE.

d104w18 Solicitor

General.

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises. I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. E. BURGESS,

Opposite the Post Office

Postal Address, Box 431. d118w7

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—OF FIVE MILLION READERS Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 150 pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

MARVELLOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Wholly unlike Artificial Systems—Cure of Mind Wandering—Any book learned in one reading. Prospectus, with opinions of Mr. PROCTOR, the Astronomer, Hons. W. W. ASTOR, JUDAH P. BENJAMIN, Drs. MINOR, WOOD and others, sent post FREE, by

PROF. LOISETTE,

237 Fifth Avenue, New York

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON.

d99 Ashburnham

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00

LADIES..... 50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG,

1d45 Manager.

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials. YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash. d&w

JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

Exceedingly Cheap

Is what every person says who has bought Groceries from us. Our Teas, Sugars and Coffees are marked low and are very good. We have a very select stock of

FRESH FAMILY GROCERIES,

Canned Goods, etc. which we are selling at rock bottom prices.

GEORGE CARTON

The People's Grocer, George Street

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you looooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

JOB PRINTING!

Neatness in Style,
Moderation in Charges,
Fulfilment of Promises,
Despatch in Execution.

The REVIEW Printing Office

is prepared to execute the following, and other classes of PLAIN and FANCY WORK, in the best styles.

Posters, plain and coloured.
Programmes, in fancy styles.
Circulars, in script or plain type.
Bill-Heads, all sizes and shapes, on excellent quality of paper.
Business Cards all sizes.
Visiting Cards, in beautiful Cards, Texts or Script Lettering.
Postal Cards, with business Notices or Memorandum Headings.
Letter Headings,
Note Headings,
Blank Cheques,
Blank Receipts,
Pamphlets,
Catalogues,
Law Blanks

and all and every description of work required to be done in letter press.

THE

REVIEW Job Printing Department

Satisfaction given to all customers; charges are as moderate as the cost of getting up good work will allow, and are usually found satisfactory.

The REVIEW Printing Office

Is noted for its punctuality in fulfilling promises and the business men can rely of getting up work at the time agreed upon.

THE FACILITIES FOR

GETTING OUT

JOB WORK

are ample, and orders are pushed through with vigor, so that work can be got out in short time.

Orders from the Country

attended to with promptness, and the work forwarded immediately on completion.

REVIEW

Printing & Publishing Co. (Limited).

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose post-paid (concealed) $1 to Sole Agents, and all druggists, per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by JOHN MORRIS, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Boots.

Also a fewends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take your LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled. Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,

Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m 7 00 p m 10 55 p m 7 00 p m 5 20 a m 10 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. T. R. Montreal and East, via O. A. & Q. R. Toronto and West, via G. T. R. Toronto and West, via O. A. & Q. R. Grand Trunk, East & West do East	11 00 a m 10 00 p m 4 30 p m 10 00 p m 1 15 p m 8 00 p m
12 00 m 4 30 p m 8 20 a m 5 15 p m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west) Millbrook and Port Hope do do	4 30 p m 12 00 m 8 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
4 00 p m 5 15 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	12 00 m 11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Fraserville & Springville, Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Kanisarore.	1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Haultain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clydale, Paudash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Graystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 30 a m
	do do do	4 30 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Per New York, Mondays	7 30 p m
	Wipeiges, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.
9 00 a m		6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

Money Orders granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire, Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbados, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

Deposits received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxemburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherlands, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, and Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey, And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamaica, Japan and Porto Rico, (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union, but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica, Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse, INDISCRETION, indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure where all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5. by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms.

TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

SALISBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

Orders taken for the CARNIVAL STAR and WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Scott Act.

The case Queen vs. Shannon, called on Monday afternoon, was adjourned till Friday.

Personal.

Mr. Alex. Bertram, manufacturer, of Dundas, is registered at the Oriental Hotel.

Stop Coughing!

How? By using a twenty-five cent bottle of Culver's Cough Balsam. Sold at the Floral Drug Store.

Business Notes.

Gough, the clothier, will move to the old Bon Marche stand in a short time.

Mr. Wesley Miller is opening a new boot and shoe store next door to the Floral Drug Store.

Mr. W. H. Bowman, late of Cobourg, will shortly open a grocery store two doors north of the Floral Drug Store.

From Afar.

The good name of the Peterborough Cigar Factory is spreading. A few days ago Mr. Quirk received an order for goods from Port Moody, British Columbia, with the assurance that if they proved satisfactory he might expect large orders in the future. The Port Moodyites will have an opportunity of revelling in Ontario fragrance in a few days more.

See the prices offered on Satins and Silks this week at the Golden Lion. R. Fair.

A New Daily Paper.

A new daily morning paper, the Standard, made its appearance in Toronto on Monday. It is large and well filled with news for the low price of the paper, and presents a good appearance typographically, although it promises improvements in that regard. Mr. Louis P. Kribs, formerly of the Toronto News, in which paper his letters over the signature of "Henery Pice" were published and were popular, is the editor and proprietor of the Standard. A man of energy and a versatile writer, the paper will have a good chance for success in his hands. The Standard announces that it is a Conservative paper, intended to fill the gap made by the defection of the Mail.

Royal Arcanum.

The following officers were appointed for the Peterborough Council, No. 735, Royal Arcanum, for the ensuing year:—

Rev. W. C. Bradshaw	R
R. Shortly	V R
R. B. Rogers	Sec
J. H. Roper	Treas
W. G. Ferguson	Coll
Jas. Stratton	O
J. Braden	Chap
J. Alexander	Guide
J. McKee	Warden
P. J. Jameson	Sentry
J. H. Roper, H. U Which, R. E. Wood	Trustees

Representative to Grand Council, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw. Medical examiner, R. P. Boucher, M. D.

Day's Theatre Company.

Wilson Day's Theatre Company opened a two week's entertainment in Bradburn's Opera House on Monday night. There was a large attendance of evidently satisfied people. The applause was frequent and heartily throughout the performance. The play was "Uncle Daniel, or the Messenger from Jarvis Section," a play in which the different members of the Company, especially Mr. Day and Little Annie Bird, had full scope to display their abilities in comedy. Mr. Day, in the title role, was a complete success, as would be expected by those who have seen him before during the company's former visits to Peterborough. Little Annie Bird, the general favorite is as precocious, piquant, clever, amusing and captivating as ever, time and growth having developed her ability as an actress, while the charm of her singing remains. She is, indeed, a wonderful child. Miss Rose Osborne, as "Gertrude Bartlett," made a good impression, and the other parts, including those of the villains "Sandy Mitchell" and "Sheeney Mike," the miserable miser "Skinny Smith," the saloon-keeper "Keppler," were acceptably filled. To-night's play will be "Nobody's Child."

Ladies wanting bargains in Leather or Plush Satchels should examine R. Fair's stock at the Golden Lion.

E. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc. Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

The headquarters for Ladies' Collars Cuffs, Gloves and Hosiery is at the Golden Lion.

About the Bonspeil.

—The date of the district bonspeil, as was announced yesterday, is Tuesday and Wednesday, February 1st and 2nd.

—Each of the fourteen clubs represented will send two rinks; in all twenty-eight rinks will take part.

—The rinks will not be drawn against each other till they arrive here, so as to prevent all dissatisfaction.

—The rinks which Peterborough will play are composed as follows:—No. 1, J. B Pentland, C. McGill, R. S. Davidson and W. G. Ferguson, skip; No. 2, J. McClelland, T. Rutherford, S. Ray and G. Brown, skip.

—The two rinks had their first practice match last night, Ferguson's rink winning by 5 shots. The score stood, 18—13.

—The two rinks will play practice matches every night this week.

—After the bonspeil is over two Caledonian medal matches will be played. Keene will play Bobcaygeon, and Belleville will play Campbellford.

—Dr. Boucher is umpire in the first, and Mr. Wm. Campbell, of Keene, umpire in the second.

—Peterborough will not play for a Caledonian medal this season, as owing to winning one last winter debars the club from contesting this. Next winter, however, Peterborough will be eligible again.

—Mr. John Cousins is going to do up the ice in "rale ould Scotch" fashion for the bonspeil.

Institute attendance.

The number of pupils whose names are on the roll of the Collegiate Institute is 192. The actual attendance to-day is 164.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

New Advertisements.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. R. D. TAYLOR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears, Sweet Florida Oranges, Malago Grapes, new English Walnuts, Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecaas Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Parties a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS,
George St., Peterborough.

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

WILSON DAY'S

Theatre Company

The Greatest Living Child Actress

ANNIE BIRD

At Each Performance.

TO-NIGHT,

Nobody's Child.

Admission 10c. Reserved Seats 25c. at Hartley's. 1417

PIANOS

HEINTZMAN & CO'S.

This Celebrated maker's Pianos are in use in the following private residences in Peterborough:

Geo. Edmison,	F. A. Rubidge,
E. Pearse,	Miss Delaney,
J. E. Hammond,	J. Stewart,
D. Faucher,	W. H. Hill,
Robt. Miller,	Rev. V. Clementi,
D. Ullyott,	E. C. Hill,
Chas. Cameron,	W. Walsh,
G. W. Morgan,	W. Snowden,
W. Sanderson,	T. G. Hazlitt,
The Convent,	Miss Calcutt,
J. Hall,	Miss Spillsbury,
Bannell Sawyer,	W. Bradburn,
Mrs. Jas. Campbell,	R. Fair,
J. J. McBain,	Mrs. Chambers,
Geo. Dunsford,	W. B. Ferguson,
Mrs. Allen,	Miss A. Edmundson,
Wm. Tate,	W. R. Greatrex,
W. Fairweather,	R. B. McKee,
	and others.

Intending purchasers should not fail to inspect the Heintzman & Co's Pianos (no connection with the Gerrard Heintzman or Lansdowne Piano, of Toronto) at my Music Store, Hunter Street, East.

E. J. HARTLEY.

Lost and Found.

FOUND.

A SLEIGH RUG, owner can have it by proving property and paying expenses. Apply to J. J. HOWDEN. 1d29

Wants.

WANTED.

A COOK Apply to GENERAL HAULTAIN, McDonnell St. 3d29

WANTED.

BY A THOROUGHLY CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED PERSON, employment in the capacity of sick nurse. Apply to MRS. C. ROBINSON, Water St. north or at the REVIEW Office d93

SOFT WOOD WANTED

500 CORDS SOFT WOOD wanted in exchange for trade, delivered at my planing mill, in quantities of 10 cords and upwards, for which the highest price will be paid. J. D. BAPTIE. 6d19:w4

For Sale or to Rent.

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

A CONVENIENT HOUSE and lot on Sherbrook St. Apply to T. SLOMAN. d149

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, solicitor, George Street. d84

FOR SALE.

RAG CARAETS either by private sale or auction. Carpets wove to order at 21 to 30 cts. a yard. A guarantee given with all carpets. JOHN BARLEY, George St. four doors above Antrim st. 3 d29-4w4

TO RENT.

IN about 2 months, FIVE FIRST-CLASS TERRACE HOUSES (White Brick), two storey, seven rooms, on George street, within one minutes walk of the market. Apply to JOHN CARLISLE.

FOR SALE.

BUILDING LOTS, situated on Rubidge, Park, Townsend and Wolf Streets. No money down providing you build. Come on and get a Lot before they are all sold to the stove men. Also House and Lot, and Park Lot. Apply to the owner, JOHN BELL, Corner Wolf and Rubidge Streets. d96

General.

TIE MAKERS

AND

STATION MEN

WANTED!

On Sault Division, D., S. S & A. R. R., Headquarter camp at Sault Junction, forty miles above St. Ignace on D., M. & M. R R.

REXFORD BROS. & HODGE,
Contractors.

4d192aw

DON'T FORGET

TO CALL AND SEE

D. SMART'S

SUPERB STOCK OF

Sewing Machines, Pianos, Organs, & Sheet Music.

We Cannot be Undersold.

T. DOLAN & CO'S

$2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

LIVERPOOL AND LONDON AND GLOBE

INSURANCE Co

AVAILABLE ASSETS..... $35,260,700
FUNDS INVESTED IN CANADA $1,000,000

CANADA BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

HON. HENRY STARNES.....Chairman
SIR ALEX. T. GALT, G.C.M.G.
THEO. HART, Esq. E. I. BARBEAU, Esq.
W. J. BUCHANAN.

Security, prompt payment, and equity in adjustment of its losses are the prominent features of this wealthy Company. Head Office Canada Branch, Montreal. G. F. C. SMITH, Chief Agent for the Dominion.

W. H. CLUXTON,
Agent at Peterborough

HERE IT IS!

CULVER'S

C

B

Where is it!
What is it!

SMOKE AWAY DULL CARE!

GEO. W. RUBIDGE

(SIGN OF THE INDIAN QUEEN)

Has just received the largest and most varied assortment of BRIAR and MEERSHAUM PIPES ever brought to Peterborough, some of which are imported direct from celebrated makers in the old country.

CIGAR ASES & TOBACCO POUCHES

A very large assortment of the above goods in stock. Just the thing for a Birthday Present. Finest brands of IMPORTED and DOMESTIC CIGARS, TOBACCOS, Etc., always in stock.

HENFEED.

Small Wheat - - - - - 90c per 100 lbs.
Barley - - - - - - - 95c. per 100 lbs.
Pure Wheat Spring or Fall, $1.25 per 100 lbs.

J. W. FLAVELLE,

SIMCOE STREET.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

Notice to Creditors

OF THE

LATE JOHN E. HAMMOND.

PURSUANT to Revised Statutes of Ontario, Chapter 107 and 46 Victoria, Chapter 9, Ontario, notice is hereby given that all creditors and others having claims against the estate of John Edward Hammond, late of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, gentleman, who died on or about the third day of January, 1887, are required to send by post, prepaid, or to deliver to Hatton & Wood, of the Town of Peterborough, in the said County of Peterborough, solicitors for Herbert Arthur Hammond, Robert Pennie Boucher and Harriet Hammond, the executors and executrix of the last will and testament of the deceased on or before the 28th day of February, 1887, a statement of their names and addresses, the full particulars of their claims and securities (if any) held by them. And that after the said date the said executors and executrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice shall have been given as above required.

And the said executors and executrix will not be responsible for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons of whose claim or claims notice shall not have been received at the time of such distribution.

Dated at Peterborough, this 26th day of January, 1887.

HATTON & WOOD,
Solicitors for the said
Executors and Executrix.

w3

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

FITZGERALD & STANGER

Corner Brock and Water Streets

PETERBOROUGH.

THE ABOVE FIRM HAVE NOW ON HAND A LARGE STOCK OF

Buggies, Phaetons and Waggons

WHICH THEY ARE PREPARED TO SELL AT LOWEST LIVING PRICES.

ALSO, A GREAT VARIETY OF

SLEIGHS & CUTTERS

IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION FOR WHICH THEY ARE PREPARED TO RECEIVE ORDERS.

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md79w41

A GOOD TIME TO BUY.

The present is an excellent opportunity to purchase

Buggies, Phætons, Carriages and Waggons

at our Factory, as we are selling them out to make room for a lively trade in Winter Goods this Season. A fine stock on hand at prices that cannot fail to please. The present is also an excellent time to purchase or order before the busy season sets in. Hand in your order and obtain a handsome and substantial vehicle. If you do not intend to purchase a new one, bring along your cutters and sleighs and have them repaired. All material used by us is THOROUGHLY SEASONED. Our workmen are skilled mechanics, and the work is finished in the best styles. BUGGY TOPS made in the factory in several styles and at moderate prices. You will consult your interests by calling on us, as we are bound not to be beaten in prices or workmanship, and to lead the procession in our trade.

Cutters or Sleighs

We have also about 5,000 FEET OF TWO-INCH OAK, suitable for building purposes, which we will dispose of at a reasonable price.

PORTER BROS.

Corner Charlotte and Aylmer Streets, near the G.T.R.

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 21. PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

PROBABILITIES.

Fresh to strong south-east and south-west winds, deciding by night; fair and decidedly colder weather, with a few snow flurries.

R. FAIR.

Now is your time to buy your Satin Dresses your Silk Dresses, your Satin Rhodames Dresses.

Ask to see our black gross grain Silk at 89c, worth $1.25 per yard.

EVENING SATINS.

Silk gloves, evening shades, Mousquitaire kid gloves. For evening wear a few more wool cloude and shawls to be cleared at a

BARGAIN.

SECURE

Some of the useful.

REMNANTS,

before they are all sold, Remnants of Dress Goods, Prints, Ginghams, Flannels, Tweeds Jacket Cloths, etc., etc.

R. FAIR,

GOLDEN LION.

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d41w18

W. BLACKWELL,

ARCHITECT and C. E. Plans and estimates made of Churches, Public Buildings and Dwelling Houses. Buildings superintended and Patents applied for. Heating and Plumbing a specialty. Office:—Over Telegraph Office, George street, Peterborough. d150w1

Music.

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. dly

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. lyd11

Musical.

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipsig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipsig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence

DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE d111w6

Educational.

CANADA'S

Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training. $70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal, Peterborough, Ontario.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w16

E. H. D. HALL,

SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.

☞MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d113w18

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.

☞MONEY TO LOAN. d103w18

HATTON & WOOD,

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

R. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. lyd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. lyd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. lyd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR, Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 759. Residence, Bon Accord Street. lyd97w4

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. lyd97

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. lyd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. lyd97

W. FITZGREALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. lyd97

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d120w22

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street, opposite St. John's Church. d123w22 1y

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w2

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto Schoool of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. lyd&w

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE, Solicitor

d164w18

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,

AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,

FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS

AND

MUSLIN CURTAINS

AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S

Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN

OF THE

Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1887.

REMEMBERING ROBIN.

THE SCOTS OF PETERBOROUGH CELEBRATE

Burns' 128th Birthday—Honor to the Bard in Speech, Song and Verse—Kennedy's Memory Toasted.

The 128th birthday of Robbie Burns was celebrated by the members of the St. Andrew's Society on Tuesday night by dining together at Morgan's Hotel.

The dining hall was beautifully decorated. Bunting of different colors interlaced the ceiling, evergreens dotted with roses ornamented the walls, and the Scottish plaid twined the pillars. At the head of the hall, with a Union Jack for a back ground, hung the motto "Robert Burns, born 1759; died—never dies." At the opposite end "The Queen" stood. "Scotland, our Country," and "Canada, our Home," were placed in conspicuous places. A notable feature in the decorations was the photographs of Robbie Burns, his "Bonnie Jean," Burns' home, and Kennedy and his family.

Mr. T. Menzies, the President, occupied the chair. After all were seated he asked Mr. Jas. Hendry, the Vice-Chairman, to ask the blessing. This being done the President said: "We're ready to begin now." and the hundred or more around the tables took the hint with the following document in their hands:—

BILL OF FARE.

Soup.

Vegetable and Oyster.

Fish.

Salmon and Egg Sauce.

Boiled.

Tongue, Ham, Turkey and Cranberry Sauce, Corned Beef.

Roast.

Duck and red currant jelly, chicken and brown gravy, goose and apple sauce, sirloin and ribs of beef, lamb and mint sauce, pork and sage gravy.

Entrees.

Scotch haggis, Maccaroni and cheese.

Relishes.

Celery, mixed pickles, red cabbage, pickled Peaches.

Vegetables.

Mashed potatoes, turnips, carrots, tomatoes.

Pastry.

Plum pudding with brandy sauce, cream pudding with cream sauce, apple pie, mince pie, Lemon pie, plum tart, blanc mange with jelly.

Dessert.

Tea, coffee, fruit, apples, oranges, grapes, raisins, almonds, figs, trifles, fruit cake, chocolate cake.

After the removal of the cloth the President asked the Secretary, Mr. Wm. Menzies, to read the apologies sent by invited guests. They were as follows:—From Mr. Jas. Stevenson F. J. Lewis, J. B. McWilliams, Edg. Pearse, W. H. Hill, J. Burnham, M. P., A. P. Ponsette, J. H. Roper, J. Green, Dr. Fife, D. H. Moore, Dr. Bingham, H. Calcutt, W. Manson, D. Rose, J. Isbister, all giving the reasons which prevented their attendance. Before the toasts of the evening were commenced Dr. Massie was called upon to read an opening ode.

Dr. MASSIE said that he composed the ode only a few days ago and the President and others thinking it appropriate asked him to read it. He read as follows:—

Introductory Ode.

WRITTEN FOR BURNS' ANNIVERSARY FESTIVAL HELD AT PETERBOROUGH, JAN., 1887.

BY JOHN MASSIE, M.D.

Hail brothers all! whatever clime
May boast our birth, 'tis not the time
To dwell on theme so worn;
But let us celebrate his name—
The brightest on the scroll of fame
That ever yet was born.

Whose soul was so divinely strung
Its notes, in rich profusion flung,
Come floating on the gale;
And like some wild Æolian thing,
Each throbbing, palpitating string
Pours forth its melting tale.

Land of the bard, beyond the sea!
In social song and mutual glee,
Whene'er this day returns
We still in friendship's sweet accord
Shall gather round the festive board
In memory of Burns.

Praise to the bard whose mighty hand
Has placed our loved, our native land
On Fame's celestial height,
To be through time's most distant page,
For every clim succeeding age
A blazing beacon light.

Who knits all human hearts as one,
And charms all lands beneath the sun
With music from above;
And all our minds with wisdom stored,
And bound us with a golden chord
Of sympathy and love.

Who taught us independence true,
And rung the changes through and through
His own immortal rhymes:
And gathered as of kindred blood,
In one fraternal brotherhood,
All peoples of all climes.

Who taught the lords of lofty domes
That worth may dwell in lowly homes,
And noble patriot pride;
And point the Great Creator's plan,
Till man's humanity to man
Shall stem oppression's tide.

Shall drain the springs of sorrow dry,
And wipe the tear from every eye,
And raise the drooping soul;
And all the brotherhood of man
Shall bow to God's and nature's plan
In one eternal whole.

The President then proposed the first toast of the evening "The Queen and Royal Family." It was followed with three cheers and the singing of the National Anthem. The "Governor General" came next, being greeted with cheers and the singing of "He's a jolly Good Fellow."

MR. MCDUFF played a Scotch Medley on the Violin, with an organ accompaniment by Mr. Seward.

The PRESIDENT next proposed "The Army Navy und Volunteers" and paid a well worded compliment to Britains regulars and Canada's volunteers.

Capt. COOPER, in behalf of the Volunteers felt flattered at the way in which the toast was drunk. In his experience on duty he had a Scotch comrade and he could say that, if a sample of the nation, Britain could not want better men in the field than Scotchmen (Applause.) He returnud thanks to the company for their hearty reception of the toast,

Lieut. BRENNAN replied with a few appropriate words, followed by a recitation, "John Burns, of Gettysburg."

A lady friend of the Society contributed a number of Scotch airs on the organ, including imitations of the bagpipes.

The President proposed the toast of the evening, "Robert Burns." Mr. D. D. Galletly sang the natal song.

Dr. MASSIE, in reply to the toast, said that the only trouble had in preparing to respond was to keep it short enough. In looking up something to say he had, before he knew where he was, got enough for two long lectures on Burns. (Hear, hear.) He thought the motto to his back a grand one. "Robert Burns, born 1759; died—never dies," and the fact of their being here to-night, and that of thousands of such celebrations to-night all over the world, proved that Robbie Burns still lives. Robbie came into this world in obscure circumstances. His father's name was William, and he spelled his name Burnes. He was industrious, intelligent, honorable and somewhat austere. It was largely due to his father's training that Burns gained so much useful knowledge. Burns' poems were not so much celebrated for clear and lofty style or the grand turning of periods, as they were for containing so much good sense and large heartedness. (Applause). There never was a man on this dark globe who had a keener and stronger sympathy for humanity than Robert Burns. (Applause). He couldn't even see the field daisy turned down by the plough without sympathetic reflections rising to his mind. And one of his sweetest songs is "To a Mouse," suggested by seeing a plough destroy a mouse's nest. Some said that he was a Radical. But this thought might have arisen from his independence in writing. Certain it was that he gave utterance to the truest kind of patriotism. He would hang the man on a high steeple who wouldn't sing "God Save the King," but, he added:

"But while we sing, God save the King,
We won't forget the people."

Burns, though of humble birth, was highly courted and sought after by the literary stars of the day. He had his faults—who has not? But it was because he was raised on high that these faults were seen.

Had he remained in humble life they would never have been seen. If the sun were a dark orb the spots on it would'n be apparent. Burns was a Freemason, and some of his prettiest songs are to the "dear brithers of the mystic tie." Burns was a teacher of teachers. He was the first to teach men their true worth in the single couplet

The rank is but the guineas stamp
The man's the goud for all that.

The good men and true in heart and principle was the gold and the rank only that which moulded it into symetry and today will we not find men in the ordinary walks of life of intellectual capacity and true worth who put to the blush men in high places? He concluded his response with an eloquent rehearsal of Burns good qualities and high attainments, and took his seat amid loud applause.

Mr. Chas. CAMERON proposed "In memorian David Kennedy" giving a short history of the great Scottish vocalist and setting forth his good qualities.

Mr. D. D. GALLETTY responded with singing "Sweet Afton Water."

The concluding toasts were: "Canada our Home" responded to by A. Clegg; "The Parliament of Canada and Legislature of Ontario" responded to by Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P.; "The Agriculture Mercantile and Manufacturing Interests" responded to by Mr. John Douglas; "St. Andrews Society's responded to by the President and Vice President; "The Ladies" and "The Host and Hostess." Singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "God ave the Queen" brought the evening to a close.

CONDEMNATION OF A PREVAILING EVIL.

To the Editor of the Review

SIR,—I lately attended an entertainment in the Opera House given in aid of St. Andrew's Church, when there was a repetition of what audiences in Peterborough have to endure, the vulgarity and rodyism of a number of young roughs, shouting, stamping and piercing whistles. The tumult was so unbearable that Mr. Roper rose with indignation, and had the courage to rebuke them, for which he had the thanks of the assembly. I have attended operas oratorios andconcerts in New York, Baltimore, Washington, St, Louis, Davenport in Iowa, Chicago, Buffalo, Rochester and other cities in America and in Europe, and I never witnessed such unseemly conduct in any of these places. Not once heard a whistle, or so much as the cry of encore, the invariable custom was simply to clap the hands, and even for encores this mode was effective. I know it is customary, and I might add fashionable, to make demonstrations and raise the roof at nigger shows, but on such occasions it does not matter so much as ladies and gentlemen seldom attend such performances. I may say, in connection with this, that I have attended respectable negro minstrels concerts, given by noted troupes, which I have enjoyed very much, one especially last summer in St. James' Hall, Pall Mall, London, at which I listened to a New York Company of musicians whose beautiful duettes, trios, quartettes, choruses and instrumental solos, by professors, were a rich treat. The vocal parts were well balanced and the voices sweetly blended in rich harmony. The audience conducted themselves like rational human beings. I do not remember noticing any applauding on that occasion, or at a band concert given in the great Albert Hall, South Kensington, by celebrated native performers from India, at which, I suppose, there were more than 10,000 people present. In England when people pay their money they think that is all that should be required of them, and they do not want to take the trouble of applauding the performers. I know it is customary at the high class theatres to call star actors or actresses, such as Henry Irving and Ellen Terry, before the curtain. If they were called in the way calls are made in Bradburn's Opera House they would feel rather insulted than honored. But strange to say, this abomination is not confined to public halls in Peterborough. The churches are not exempt from this villainous proceeding. A short time ago a very crowded meeting was held here in a place of worship, where several Indian Chiefs from the great North-West, under the guidance of a missionary, addressed the meeting and sang hymns in the Indian tongues. They were splendid specimens of well developed manhood, dressed in all the paraphernalia of their tribes. At that meeting a lot of young scoundrels acted so outrageously that the missionary had to check them, when he said if they attended meetings of the Indians in their own country those half savages would show them how they ought to conduct themselves. I have had the pleasure of attending organ recitals and sacred concerts in the Episcopal Church in Peterborough, and to their everlasting praise be it spoken, no applauding of any kind was permitted. This is as it should be. The church is the house of God, and people should enter it with solemnity and reverence. My object in addressing you is to enlist the powerful influence and sympathy of the press in endeavoring to suppress this public nuisance.

While on this subject I may be permitted to say a word about indiscriminately encoring every piece at concerts. When managers are planning their programmes they generally select twelve pieces, with a short interval between the parts. In doing so they arrange to occupy the time until about 10 o'clock. But when every piece is encored the time is lengthened out, which is objectionable. I have heard execrable songs, execrably sung, rapturously encored, while delightful duets, trios, and quartettes were passed over almost unnoticed. But there is no accounting for taste as the good woman said when she kissed her cow.

If singers, when encored a second time in one evening, would only respond once, by singing some sweet melody, such as Robin Adair, the last Rose of Summer or Young Love's Dream, instead of the second long composition, it would, I think, be an improvement. For the second call they should bow their acknowledgements. A lady should never sing a comic song.

Yours truly,
W. CLUXTON.

Peterborough, Jan. 25 th.

War Ships.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—A resolution has been introduced in the United States House of Representatives directing the Naval Committee to inquire into the expediency of appropriating a lump sum of $50,000,000 for war ships to be constructed under the direction of the Secretary of the Navy, the same to remain a permanent appropriation until the further action of Congress.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

THE WAR SCARES.

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—The Borsen Zeitung urges the Government to allay the war scares, which are alarming the commercial world.

BANRUET TO SIR WILLIAM WHITE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 25.—A banquet was given at the palace yesterday in honor of Sir William White, who presented his credentials as British Ambassador. The Sultan responded very cordially to the Ambassador's presentation address.

GENERAL BOULANGER'S DENIAL.

PARIS, Jan. 25.—General Boulanger says that not one man, horse or gun has been moved to the frontier.

RESOLUTION ON HOME RULE.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Mr. Gladstone has prepared a resolution affirming the general principle of Home Rule with Chamberlain and Trevelyan will be asked to accept on resumption of the Gladstonian Unionist conference.

SIMPLIFICATION NECESSARY.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Mr. Goschen, speaking at Liverpool last night, said a system of dual ownership of land in Ireland was impossible and that further steps were necessary to simplify the land tenure. There was no reason why all parties should not combine and solve the difficulty.

A FIERY SPEECH.

DUBLIN, Jan. 25.—Mr. Redmond, Member of Parliament, speaking at Kilburry yesterday, said that if England refused to redress Irish grievances constitutionally there were strong arms and stout hearts enough in Tipperary and Wexford to meet the enemies of Ireland in a widely different field. While Mr. Redmond was speaking the crowd violently attacked the Government reporter, who was repeatedly rescued by the police.

GLENBEIG EVICTIONS.

DUBLIN, Jan. 25.—Evictions were resumed at Glenbeigh to-day. Six families were dispossessed and five were replaced as caretakers. No resistance was offered.

A NEW SOBRANJE.

PESTH, Jan. 25.—It is semi-officially stated that the Austrian Government concurs as to the necessity of a new Sobranje or a new Regency before the election of a Prince to the Bulgarian throne. All the powers, with the exception of England, are now in unison on this subject.

THE BELFAST RIOTS.

Report of the Royal Commission—Constabulary to be Maintained.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The report of the commission appointed to investigate the Belfast riots, says that the Royal Irish constabulary should be maintained as a police force in Belfast, the commander being free from all police authority except that of the Inspector General, and responsible for the preservation of the peace, without the control of the magistracy or of other authority than the executive. The Chief of Police should be empowered to forbid parades with bands and other public demonstrations. He should also be empowered to increase the force sufficiently to enable him to deal with riots, without calling upon the police of other districts, a large enough military force also being maintained to prevent such necessity. The report urges the appointment of two stipendiaries instead of the borough magistracy to sit in petty sessions. Their duties should be solely judicial, and they should have no right to meddle in the event of street rioting. The commissioners say they ought to be assisted the same as the rest of Ireland for compensation for malicious injuries, the amount to be fixed by an independent tribute. The granting of power to search for arms is urged. The report concludes by diploring the state of feeling in Belfast, and expressing a hope that all classes will become ashamed of the recent doings, and endeavor to terminate their bitter feuds.

OUR FISHERIES.

London Press Comments on the Retaliatory Bill.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—The Post, commenting on the passage by the United States Senate on Monday of the fisheries retaliatory bill, says:—"We are sure Mr. Ingalls' outspoken bitterness against England does not represent the feeling of either the American Senate or people. On the other hand it would be foolish to shut our eyes to the importance of the question involved."

A SPLENETIC OUTBURST.

The Chronicle thinks the fact that Mr. Ingalls' splenetic outburst neither surprised nor shocked the more respectable senators is a far more serious matter than the dispute itself, and hopes the Washington authorities will early disclaim any community of feeling with Mr. Ingalls.

CANADA MUST NOT YIELD HER RIGHTS.

The Standard says that President Cleveland will probably have the good sense to veto the measure or agree to it merely in form as a prelude to amaciable negotiations. "We protest," says the Standard, "against the idea of either England or Canada being coerced into yielding a jot or tittle of their rights by such empty threats. We have none of the ulterior motives assigned by either Messrs. Ingalls, Frye or Hoar, but the Americans by demanding such terms as those indicated, ask more than justice. The dispute, however, ought not to go beyond the power of diplomacy."

PLAYING FOR THE GALLERY.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The Daily News says "To-day's telegrams from New York, Montreal and Ottawa are of a very reassuring character. Nobody here regards the violent speeches of Senators Ingalls, Hall and Frye seriously. Even the dignified American Senators are not above playing to the gallery. It is much to be hoped that no steps will be taken to exasperate the quarrel and that the good sense of Canada will insist upon a policy of peace."

PROPOSED SELECT COMMITTEE.

Mr. Gourley, M. P., for Sunderland, will, at the coming session, move the House of Commons to appoint a select committee to enquire into the fishery conventions between the United States, to ascertain how far they may be amended or abolished.

EASTRIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1887.

THEIR RECORD.

VAIN is the effort of Mr. Blake and his followers to persuade the people that they are now so impressed with the wisdom of the policy, for adopting which they called the Conservatives robbers and false pretenders, that they have been converted in favor of protection. Their recent utterances are on record against them.

On April 16, 1886, Sir Richard Cartwright, their great financial luminary, the gentleman whom they tell us is to be Finance Minister in the new Parliament, spoke as follows, according to Hansard:—

"Upon my word, Mr. Speaker, I must say that this protection business, in which I do not believe in the slightest degree, in any shape or form, looking upon it as a clear robbery of the consumer, is being run into the ground."

A few minutes later Mr. Fisher, a minor luminary, but not without credit in the Grit camp, said:—

"This policy of protection prevents their ever reaching the strength of manhood, although they may attain the years of manhood."

And on the same evening we have this still more startling expression of opinion from Mr. Paterson (Brant):—

"If he (the Minister of Finance) wants money, as there is no doubt he does, it would be better for the people of Canada if he put the increased duty which he proposes to put on sugar, on tea and coffee."

This is especially worthy of the attention of the people of West Peterborough, for this Mr. Paterson is a Geo. A. Cox protectionist, that is a protectionist while endeavouring to humbug the electors, but a thick and thin supporter of his free trade leaders when returned by those he deluded. He could hardly have expressed more plainly in so few words his complete acceptance of the doctrines of the most bitter enemies of the protection of home industries. He opposes a protective duty on sugar for the benefit of an industry that gives support to hundreds of thousands in Canada, while internal competition has made the price even lower than it was when we bought our sugar from foreign refineries. He would go back to the Mackenzie-Blake-Cartwright duty on tea and coffee (repealed by the Conservatives), though as we do not produce these articles of general consumption, the duty would be added to the price, while the consumer would not have the consolation of thinking that the additional money taken from him would stimulate and foster any industry except that of John Chinamen and the darker skinned growers of coffee.

While Mr. Paterson's words show the hypocrisy of this prototype of Mr. Geo. A. Cox as a protectionist for votes, it also throws a clearer light upon the hypocrisy of Mr. Cox's leader, Mr. Blake, in pretending that the expenditure would necessitate a large revenue and consequently a high tariff. Mr. Paterson has concisely shown, a whole policy in a teacup in fact, how a large revenue can be obtained with a tariff the very reverse of protection. Let in sugar free and tax tea, and there is the double result so dear to free traders, a large revenue from tea without doing any good to Canadian robbers who dare to produce anything, and the Canadian sugar refineries closed to the great delight and profit of foreign refiners.

This is the policy in a teacup of Sir Richard Cartwright, the Reform Finance Minister, and even of Mr. Paterson, of Brant, the Cox-protectionist.

IMMIGRATION.

AMONG the false cries by which Mr. Blake and his friends are endeavoring to delude the electors, is the statement that the Conservative Administration is spending large sums in assisting mechanics to come to Canada to compete with those already here.

The facts, of course, do not bear out this statement. In the last year for which there are complete returns the amount of money expended on assisted immigration was not half a million, as the friends of Mr. Blake state, but was only $40,000. The number of assisted immigrants, instead of being enormous, as the same critics pretend, was less than seven thousand. None of these were mechanics, who are not allowed assisted passages, which are limited to female domestic servants and farm laborers, both being in demand at the time according to the Ontario Bureau of Statistics. If any mechanic imposed himself upon the agents by fraud he must have done so by making a false declaration himself and handing in a false certificate from some clergyman or Justice of the Peace. Under these circumstances it can hardly be supposed that the percentage of fraudulent mechanics among these 7,000 assisted immigrants could have been large enough to have any appreciable result on the labor market.

The truth is that the outcry against the Canadian Administration for importing mechanics is a dishonest device to gain the workingmen's vote, a falsehood as impudent as that recently circulated for the same purpose, that the brick for the new post office were procured from Belleville, when the knaves who issued it knew that the bricks were made here by Mr. Mark Curtis and the men employed by him.

It is hoped by Mr. Blake's supporters that these falsehoods will be accepted by workingmen in the place of protection for Canadian industries, and to reconcile them to the Grit policy of preferring the products of foreign labor.

PUBLIC ENTERTAINMENTS.

MR. CLUXTON'S letter, which will be found in another column, deals with a nuisance which has been a source of great annoyance to many, though they have generally either suffered in silence or have avoided exposing themselves to it. The rowdy conduct too frequently indulged in by a portion of the audience in the Opera House is a disgrace to the town. It is not fair to the performers, who naturally desire to do themselves justice with the audience. It is not fair to the audience, who have paid their money to hear the performance and have a right to enjoy it in peace. A severe example should be made of a few of those who will persist by their noises in disturbing both performers and audience, and then the evil will soon be checked. Otherwise there will be a growth of the present tendency of ladies and others who dislike ruffianism to avoid the Opera House as being the scene of discomfort rather than of enjoyment.

Though the annoyance comes chiefly from boys and lads, we must add that some who should know better occasionally countenance the uproar by too demonstrative expressions of their feelings. It would be well that at all public entertainments the fact should be recognised that a noisy minority have no just claim to interfere with the right of the majority who wish quietly to enjoy the entertainment which they have paid to hear.

ENCOURAGING FORGERY.

HOWEVER unscrupulous Mr. Blake may be in his political tactics, we think that even his greatest friends and admirers must have felt disgusted at one in his position condescending to the meanness of reading a letter forged by one of his organs with the object of bringing one of the judges of Canada into disrepute in the hope that some blame may attach to the Government that appointed him. Mr. Blake may say; as in the case of the Cameron falsifications, that he did not know the document to be forged. But that is just where Mr. Blake is blameworthy. He finds something scurrilous in one of his organs, and with delight he repeats it, without the slightest attempt at verification, though he thus finds himself over and over again working in common with slanderers and forgers, so that he should have learned caution. And then, when the proof of the falsehood is too plain for him to ignore it, he calmly throws the blame upon his accomplice, without one expression of regret at his own share in the transaction. As to any censure for his organ or amanuensis guilty of such misconduct, never yet has a word of disapproval fallen from his lips, however gross the case may be. He seems quite content to receive this sort of assistance, and even indifferent at being implicated in it. It is a sorry role for the leader of a party.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land Price, 75 cts., large bottles. d90

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

THE DAILY EVENING REVIEW is delivered to subscribers at 10 cents a week.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

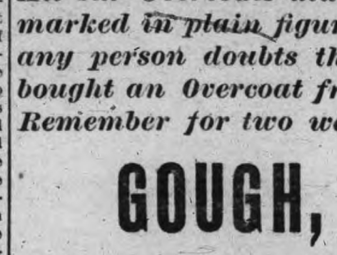
GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.



GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

HERE IT IS!

CULVER'S

C
B

Where is it!
What is it!

DON'T FORGET

TO CALL AND SEE

D. SMART'S

SUPERB STOCK OF

Sewing Machines, Pianos, Organs, & Sheet Music.

We Cannot be Undersold.

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

Business Men Attention.

WE CAN NOW OFFER several first-class positions to Advertisers in the REVIEW, and, as there is always a rush at the beginning of the year, in order that the best positions may be obtained, business men will do well to call immediately and secure their space for 1887.

During the present year renewed efforts will be made to make the REVIEW still more a thoroughly efficient medium whereby the Merchants and others can put and keep themselves prominently before the public. Extra precaution will be taken, and the best taste will be displayed in getting up all advertisements intrusted to us for publication, and in other respects as well, the "shrewd" business man will do well to patronize the columns of the

Daily and Weekly

Review

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skillful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books' Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to chose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Rasins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d46w9

Xmas Comes But Once a Year

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 3 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 10c.

To every purchaser of one pound of our 50c. tea, 5 lbs. of Raisins for 15c.

We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 35 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY

JOHN NUGENT

Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont.
FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 28 Maryland Road, Harrow Road, London, England. (Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)

No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d23eodw9

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

BY HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

We went out and sat on one of the wooden benches. As my new friend said, the night was delicious. There was scarcely a breath of air moving. The stars and the moon shone brightly, and the rush of the not far-distant stream came to us with a soothing murmur. Near us were three or four jovial young artists. They were in merry mood; one of them had that day sold a picture to a tourist. We listened to their banter, until, most likely growing thirsty, they re-entered the inn.

Carriston had said little since we had been out of doors. He smoked his cigar placidly and gazed up at the skies. With the white moonlight falling on his strikingly beautiful face—the graceful pose into which he fell—he seemed to me the embodiment of poetry. He paid no heed to the merry talk of the artists, which so much amused me—indeed, I doubted if he heard their voices.

Yet he must have done so, for as soon as they left us he came out of his reverie.

"It must be very nice," he said, "to have to make one's living by art."

"Nice for those who can make livings by it," I answered.

"All can do that who are worth it. The day of neglected genius is gone by. Muller was the last sufferer, I think—and he died young."

"If you are so sanguine, why not try your own luck at it?"

"I would, but unfortunately I am a rich man."

I laughed at this misplaced regret. Then Carriston, in the most simple way, told me a good deal about himself. He was an orphan, an only child. He had already ample means; but Fortune had still favors in store for him. At the death of his uncle, now an aged man, he must succeed to a large estate and a baronetcy. The natural, unaffected way in which he made these confidences, moreover made them not, I knew, from any wish to increase his importance in my eyes, greatly impressed me. By the time we parted for the night I had grown much interested in my new acquaintance—an interest not untinged by envy. Young, handsome, rich, free to come or go, work or play as he listed! Happy Carriston!

CHAPTER II.

I am disposed to think that never before did a sincere friendship, one which was fated to last unbroken for years, ripen so quickly as that between Carriston and myself. As I now look back I find it hard to associate him with any, even a brief, period of time subsequent to our meeting during which he was not my bosom friend. I forget whether our meeting at the same picturesque spot on the morning which followed our self-introduction was the result of accident or arrangement. Anyway, we spent the day together, and that day was the precursor of many passed in each other's society. Morning after morning we sallied forth to do our best to transfer the same bits of scenery to our sketching blocks. Evening after evening we returned to dine side by side, and afterward to talk and smoke together, in-doors or out-doors, as the temperature advised or our wishes inclined.

Great friends we soon became—inseparable as long as my short holiday lasted. It was, perhaps, pleasant for each to work in company with an amateur like himself. We could ask each the other's opinion of the merits of the work done, and feel happy at the approval duly given. An artist's standard of excellence is too high for a non-professional. When he praises your work he praises it but as the work of an outsider. You feel that such commendation damns it and disheartens you.

However, had Carriston cared to do so, he might, I think, have fearlessly submitted his productions to any conscientious critic—his drawings were immeasurably more artistic and powerful than mine. He had undoubtedly great talent, and I was much surprised to find that good as he was at landscape, he was even better at the figure. He could, with a firm, bold hand, draw rapidly the most marvelous likenesses. So spirited and true were some of the studies he showed me, that I could without flattery advise him, provided he could finish as he began, to keep entirely to the higher branch of the art. I have now before me a series of outline faces drawn by him—many of them from memory; and as I look at them the original of each comes at once before my eyes.

From the very first I had been much interested in the young man, and as day by day went by and the peculiarities of his character were revealed to me, my interest grew deeper and deeper. I flatter myself that I am a keen observer and skilful analyst of personal character, and until now fancied that to write a description of its component parts was an easy matter. Yet now when I am put to the proof I find it no simple task to convey in words a proper idea of Charles Carriston's mental organization.

I soon discovered that he was, I may say, afflicted by a peculiarly sensitive nature. Although strong, and apparently in good health, the very changes of the weather seemed to affect him almost to the same extent as they affect a flower. Sweet as his disposition always was, the tone of his mind, his spirits, his conversation, varied, as it were, with the atmosphere. He was full of imagination, and that imagination, always rich, was at times weird, even grotesquely weird. Not for one moment did he seem to doubt the stability of the wild theories he started, or the possibility of the poetical dreams he dreamed being realized. He had his faults, of course; he was hasty and impulsive; indeed, to me one of the greatest charms about the boy was that, right or wrong, each word he spoke came straight from his heart.

So far as I could judge, the whole organization of his mind was too highly strung, too finely wrought, for every-day use. A note of joy, of sorrow, even of pity, vibrated through it too strongly for his comfort or well-being. As yet it had not been called upon to bear the test of love; and fortunately—I use the word advisedly—fortunately he was not, according to the usual significance of the word, a religious man, or I should have thought it not unlikely that some day he would fall a victim to that religious mania so well known to my professional brethren, and have developed hysteria or melancholia. He might even have fancied himself a messenger sent from heaven for the regeneration of mankind. From natures like Carriston's are prophets made.

In short, I may say that my exhaustive study of my new friend's character resulted in a certain amount of uneasiness as to his future—an uneasiness not entirely free from professional curiosity.

Although the smile came readily and frequently to his lips, the general bent of his disposition was sad, even despondent and morbid. And yet few young man's lives promised to be so pleasant as Charles Carriston's.

I was rallying him one day on his future rank and its responsibilities.

"You will, of course, be disgustingly rich!" I said.

Carriston sighed. "Yes, if I live long enough; but I don't suppose I shall."

"Why in the world shouldn't you? You look pale and thin, but are in capital health. Twelve long miles we have walked to-day—you never turned a hair."

Carriston made no reply. He seemed in deep thought.

"Your friends ought to look after you and get you a wife," I said.

"I have no friends," he said sadly. "No nearer relation than a cousin a good deal older than I am, who looks upon me as one who was born to rob him of what should be his."

"But by the law of primogeniture, so sacred to the upper ten thousand, he must know you are entitled to it."

"Yes; but for years and years I was always going to die. My life was not thought worth six months' purchase. All of a sudden I got well. Ever since then I have seemed, even to myself, a kind of interloper."

"It must be unpleasant to have a man longing for one's death. All the more reason you should marry and put other lives between him and the title."

"I fancy I shall never marry," said Carriston, looking at me with his soft, dark eyes. "You see, a boy who has waited for years expecting to die doesn't grow up with exactly the same feeling as other people. I don't think I shall ever meet a woman I can care for enough to make my wife. No; I expect my cousin will be Sir Ralph yet."

(To be continued.)

Peterborough Markets

WHEAT.
Wheat, fall, per bushel	0 80	to	0 80
" spring "	0 82	to	0 82
Arnecta Wheat	0 60	to	0 65
FLOUR AND MEAL.
Flour, Patent Process, per cwt.	$2 50	to	$3 50
Flour, bakers per cwt.	2 25	to	2 25
Flour, stone process	1 80	to	1 80
COARSE GRAIN.
Barley, per bushel	0 48	to	0 57
Peas	0 50	to	0 54
Oats,	0 28	to	0 28
Rye	0 45	to	0 45
MILL FEED.
Oat chop, per cwt	1 10	to	1 10
Pea chop, "	1 10	to	1 10
Barley chop "	1 00	to	1 00
Pollards "	0 80	to	0 80
Bran, per ton	11 00	to	11 00
VEGETABLES.
Potatoes, per bag	0 60	to	0 65
Cabbage, per head	0 05	to	0 07
Beets, per bag	0 40	to	0 40
Onions, per bag	1 25	to	1 40
Carrots, small red, per bag	0 35	to	0 40
Carrots, field, per bag	0 15	to	0 20
Turnips	0 20	to	0 25
Parsnips	0 30	to	0 40
MEAT, POULTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE.
Beef, by the quarter per cwt	3 50	to	4 50
Pork, " "	6 00	to	6 25
Mutton, per lb	0 06	to	0 08
Veal, per lb	none offering
Lamb, per lb	0 07	to	0 8
Dressed Hogs	5 50	to	6 00
Hogs, live weight	3 75	to	4 25
Tallow, per lb	0 04	to	0 06
Lard	0 10	to	0 11
Chickens, per pair	0 45	to	0 60
Ducks, per pair	0 60	to	0 70
Geese, each	0 50	to	0 60
Turkeys, each	0 75	to	1 40
Butter, fresh roll, per lb	0 18	to	0 20
Butter, packed prime, per lb	0 16	to	0 18
Cheese, private sale per lb	0 12	to	0 12
Eggs, per doz	0 19	to	0 20
Hay, per ton	7 00	to	10 00
Straw, per load	2 00	to	3 00
Wood, hard, per load	3 50	to	4 50
Wood, soft, per load	2 50	to	3 00
WOOL AND HIDES.
Fleece wool	0 18	to	0 18
Southdown wool	0 21	to	0 20
Hides, per cwt	5 50	to	6 00
Hides, trimmed, per cwt	6 00	to	7 00
Lamb skins	25	to	25
Sheep Pelts, each	25	to	25
Sheep skins	1 00	to	1 00
FISH.
White Fish, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Speckled Trout, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Maskinonge, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Bass, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Finnie Haddie, per lb	0 10	to	0 10
Simcoe Herring, per do	0 30	to	0 30
Salt Mackrel, per doz	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per quart	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per can	0 45	to	0 55

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

The Faith Cure.

If you do not value your health, and your time is not worth anything, pin your faith to the "anointing oil," or the mortar from "Knock Chapel." But if you do value health, and have not time to waste in useless experiments, take Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" on the appearance of the first symptoms of consumption; which are a loss of appetite and flesh, general debility, slight, dry, hacking cough, etc. Every day you defer treating your case in a rational manner makes the disease harder to combat. Send 10 cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., for Dr. Pierce's Treatise on Consumption.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-Joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is unequalled. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS—Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. One a vial, by druggists.

HENFEED.

Small Wheat - - - - - 90c per 100 lbs.
Barley - - - - - - - 95c per 100 lbs.
Pure Wheat Spring or Fall, $1.25 per 100 lbs.

J. W. FLAVELLE,

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. SIMCOE STREET.

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md79w43

FITZGERALD & STANGER

Corner Brock and Water Streets

PETERBOROUGH.

THE ABOVE FIRM HAVE NOW ON HAND A LARGE STOCK OF

Buggies, Phaetons and Waggons

WHICH THEY ARE PREPARED TO SELL AT LOWEST LIVING PRICES. ALSO, A GREAT VARIETY OF

SLEIGHS & CUTTERS

IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION FOR WHICH THEY ARE PREPARED TO RECEIVE ORDERS.

New Sugar Cured Hams

12½ CENTS PER POUND.

Spiced Rolls and Breakfast Bacon.
Spare Ribs, Tenderloins, Shanks, &c.

GEO. MATTHEWS

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

d&w JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

General.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 50 cents for Book of 150 pages GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. E. BURGESS,

Opposite the Post Office

Postal Address, Box 61. d118w2

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,

d89 Ashburnham

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00
LADIES..... 50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG, Manager,

d45

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

Exceedingly Cheap

Is what every person says who has bought Groceries from us. Our Teas, Sugars and Coffees are marked low and are very good. We have a very select stock of

FRESH FAMILY GROCERIES,

Canned Goods, etc. which we are selling at rock bottom prices.

GEORGE CARTON

The People's Grocer, George Street

MARVELLOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Wholly unlike Artificial Systems—Cure of Mind Wandering—Any book learned in one reading. Prospectus, with opinions of MR. PROCTOR, the Astronomer, Hons. W. W. ASTOR, JUDAH P. BENJAMIN, Drs. MINOR, WOOD and others, sent post FREE, by

PROF. LOISETTE,

237 Fifth Avenue, New York

JOB PRINTING!

Neatness in Style.
Moderation in Charges.
Fulfilment of Promises.
Despatch in Execution.

The REVIEW Printing Office

is prepared to execute the following, and other classes of PLAIN and FANCY WORK, in the best styles.

Posters, plain and coloured.
Programmes, in fancy styles.
Circulars, in script or plain type.
Bill-Heads, all sizes and shapes, on excellent quality of paper.
Business Cards all sizes.
Visiting Cards, in beautiful Cards, Texts or Script Lettering.
Postal Cards, with business Notices or Memorandum Headings.
Letter Headings,
Note Headings,
Blank Cheques,
Blank Receipts
Pamphlets,
Catalogues,
Law Blanks.

and all and every description of work required to be done in letter press.

THE

REVIEW Job Printing Department

Satisfaction given to all customers; charges are is moderate as the cost of getting up good work will allow, and are usually found satisfactory.

The REVIEW Printing Office

Is noted for its punctuality in fulfilling promises and the business men can rely of getting up work at the time agreed upon.

THE FACILITIES FOR

GETTING OUT

JOB WORK

are ample, and orders are pushed through with vigor, so that work can be got out in short time.

Orders from the Country

attended to with promptness, and the work forwarded immediately on completion.

REVIEW

Printing & Publishing Co. (Limited).

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take your LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled. Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m 7 00 p m 10 56 p m	Montreal and East, via O. & Q. R.	11 00 a m 10 00 p m 6 00 p m
7 00 p m 8 20 a m	Toronto and West, via O. & Q. R.	10 00 p m 1 15 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	6 00 p m
	do East	8 00 p m
12 00 m 8 50 p m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)	8 00 a m 4 30 p m
8 20 a m 5 15 p m	Millbrook and Port Hope do do	11 00 a m 8 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
4 00 p m 5 15 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	12 00 m 11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Fraserville & Springville Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore	11 00 a m 1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Hamiltain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clysdale, Paudash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays	7 30 p m
	Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbados, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibralter, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxenburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamacia, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Signapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse. [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms.

TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

SALISBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

Orders taken for the CARNIVAL STAR and WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

At Zero.

The Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering theomometer marked zero last night,

The Band.

The Fire Brigade Band will be in attendance at the Charlotte street rink to-night. The ice is in fine condition.

Piano Tunning.

Geo. Gumpmcht is in town for a few days. Orders may be left at Mr. T. Menzies' or at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's

A Lecture.

Rev. Father Conway will deliver a lecture on Sunday evening, the 30th inst., at 7 o'clock, for the benefit of the St. Vincent de Paul Society. Subject, Temperance.

J. B. PENTLAND, Dental Rooms over J. Mills' Hat Store, George street.

He Liked it Himself.

At the Burns' anniversary dinner on Tuesday night an enthusiastic Scot was taken clear off his seat at the playing of some martial Scotch airs. After taking a turn or two he sat down again and said to a brither: "Oh! mon, but disent that tickle Gallietly!"

Band of Hope.

The band of Hope will meet first-door to the right of Mr. Clegg's furniture store (ground floor) on Thursday evening from 7 till 8 o'clock for girls Broom Drill, from 8 to 9 for boys' Military drill. The little ones who are taking part in fan drill will please meet at the above named place at 4 p. m. on Thursday.

Arranging for a Race.

Mr. T. J. Harkins, of Campbellford, was in town to-day to make arrangements for a fast skating race between Black, of Fergus, and McKeel, of Campbellford. Black defeated McKeel about three years ago, but since then McKeel has been improving. He has defeated several fast skaters this winter.

Ferguson Wins Again.

Another match between the Ontario Tankard rinks took place on Tuesday night. It was closely contested till the last end, when Ferguson's rink gained and won by six shots. The play was very exciting. The score stands so far:—

	Ferguson.	Brown.
Monday	18	14 — 6
Tuesday	15	9 — 6

The matches will continue every night this week.

"Nobody's Child."

The Wilson Day Opera Company produced the above play to a fair sized audience last night. All the characters were well sustained, and especially the roles taken by Mr. Day, as "Joe, or Nobody's Child," and that of "Pattie," as Joe's best friend, were exceptionally well performed. Annie Bird appeared as usual and delighted the audience on several occasions with her singing. To-night they play "Forget Me Not," in the production of which the Company will use an exceedingly rich wardrobe. They certainly deserve the liberal patronage of the theatre going public.

DENTAL ROOMS over J. Mills' Hat Store George street. J. B. PENTLAND.

Personal.

Mr. F. Henry, of McDonald, Drayton & Dunbar's legal office, Toronto, who was formerly with Messrs. Hatton & Wood, is in town on a visit, having dropped his studies for a time to recruit his health.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Henderson have received invitations to attend the Grenadiers' ball, to be held in Toronto soon.

Mr. A. F. Huffman, formerly of Peterborough, is in town.

Mayor Walters, of Lindsay, was in town on Tuesday.

Mayor Stevenson slipped on the ice near his coal sheds on Tuesday morning and received painful bruises. He is out again to-day.

Joseph Murphy.

The Italian, Joseph Murphy, who was shot on Saturday night by Frank Marino, still lies in a precarious condition. Since then he has not suffered a great deal, his pulse has been steady and he has taken food. These are good signs and no more. Whether he will live or not is very uncertain. On Tuesday Dr. Kincaid, who is attending, probed again and located the bullet in the thigh. If the inflammation goes down it may be possible to get the bullet out. Taking it out, however, the doctor does consider of the utmost importance. He attended three Italians who were shot while working on the Missing Link construction. The bullets all remained in their bodies and they all lived.

SEE the prices offered on Satins and Silks this week at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

TURNING A NEW LEAF.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL OPENS THE JANUARY SESSION.

The Reeves and Deputy Reeves all in their Places—Mr. Geo. Stewart Elected Warden Unanimously.

The January session of the County Council met at half past two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, after the tying of declarations to office was duly done.

There were present:—Mr. John Burnham, Reeve of Ashburnham; Mr. R. C Stricktand Reeve of Lakefield; Mr. John Finlay, Reeve of Norwood; Mr. John Lang, Reeve of Otonabee: Mr. Geo. Stewart, Deputy Reeve of Otonabee; Mr. Micheal Sanderson, Reeve of Smith; Mr. T. E Fitgerald, Deputy Reeve of Smith; Mr. John Moloney, Reeve of Douro; Mr. William Garbutt, Deputy Reeve of Douro; Mr. A. R. Kidd, Reeve of Dummer; Mr. Richard Crowe, Deputy Reeve of Dummer; John Walsh, Reeve of Asphodel; Mr. Jas. Moore, Deputy Reeve of Asphodel; Mr. J. P. Brown, Reeve of Belmont, etc.; Mr. Wild, Deputy Reeve of Belmont, etc; Mr. Jos. Foster, Reeve of North Monaghan; Mr. Frank Elmhirst, Reeve of Burleigh, etc.; Mr. Jas. Hicks, Reeve of Harvey; Mr. Michael Mansfield, Reeve of Galway, etc.

THE WARDEN.

MR. KIDD moved, seconded by Mr. SANDERSON—That Mr. Stewart be Warden for the present year—Carried,

The Warden elect was conducted to the adjoining room where he was given the official robes.

The WARDEN, on assuming the chair, said that he sincerely thanked the Council for the honor confered on him. He thanked them more because it was unasked and unsought for. He felt the responsibility of the office and his inability to discharge those duties without the a sistance of the Council. He earnestly asked that help and assistance so that the county's affairs might be capably mananaged. He did not intend to make an address and without further ceremony they would now proceed to business.

THE MINUTES.

The minutes of the last meeting at the local session were read and confirmed.

AUDITORS.

MR SANDERSON moved, seconded by MR LANG—That Mr. J. J. Hall, be appointed auditor in behalf of the Council.

The Warder nominated Mr. Francis Bell.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. KIDD moved, seconded by Mr STRICKLAND—That Messrs. Sanderson, Finlay, Lang, Moloney, Brown and the mover and seconder of this resolution be a comittee to strike the Standing Committee for the current year.—Carried.

SESSIONAL CLERK.

Mr. LANG moved, seconded by Mr. FOSTER—That Mr. W. A. Stratton be Sessional clerk for the present year.—Carried.

ROADS IN WINTER.

Mr. STRICKLAND moved, seconded by Mr. BROWN—That whereas it is as important to the farmers and travellors, public generally that the roads throughout the country should be kept in as possible a state during the winter months as in the summer months, that Messrs. Crowe, Fitzgerald, Garbutt, Maloney, Foster, Sanderson, and the mover and seconder be a committee to prepare a report on the subject and submit the same to the council at the present session.—Carried.

The council then adjourned.

WEDNESDAY—MORNING SESSION.

The Council resumed business at half past ten o'clock.

STANDING COMMITTEE.

Mr. MOLONEY read the following report:—The special committee appointed to strike the standing committee for 1887 beg leave to report as follows:

COUNTY PROPERTY.—Messrs. Burnham, Sanderson, Finlay, Forster, Garbutt, Crough, Brown, and Walsh; Mr. Sanderson, Chairman.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.—Messrs. Crough, Strickland, Fitzgerald, Brown, Moore, Elmhurst, Wansfield, Forster, Finlay, Hicks and Richard Crowe: Mr. Moloney, Chairman.

SCHOOLS—Messrs. Walsh, Hicks, Finlay, Garbutt, Fitzgerald, Lang, Elmhirst, Crough, Wild, and Richard Crowe; Mr. Walsh, Chairman.

FINANCE AND ASSESSMENT—Messrs. Kidd, Lang, Moloney, Forster, Finlay, Brown, Burnham, Strickland, Walsh, Crough and Sanderson; Mr. Kidd, Chairman.

PETITIONS—Messrs. Mansfield, Lang, Hicks, Wild, Garbutt and Elmhirst; Mr. Lang, Chairman.

PRINTING—Messrs. Sanderson, Kidd, Moore, Strickland, Moloney, Brown, Lang, Elmhirst, Mansfield, Fitzgerald and Richard Crowe; Mr. Strickland, Chairman.

APPOINTMENTS TO OFFICE—Messers. Sanderson, Burnham, Walsh, Finlay, Garbutt, Strickland, Hicks, Forster, Crough, Wild and Lang; Mr. Foster, Chairman.

EQUALIZATION OF ASSESSMENT.—Messrs. Finlay, Moloney, Forster, Strickland, Brown, Lang, Burnham, Elmhurst, Moore, Sanderson and Crough; Mr. Burnham, Chairman.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN MOLONEY, Chairman.

County Council Chambers, Peterborough, Jan. 26th, 1887.

GRAND JUNCTION SUIT.

The WARDEN read a communication from Mr. Edwards, County Solicitor, stating that in the case of Grand Junction Railway vs. County of Peterborough, judgment had been given in the County's favor in June at the Court of Appeal. A bond of security had been given, however, and the case was to be carried to the Privy Council. He asked the Council to give any instructions they may see fit. The communication was referred to the Finance Committee.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

A request to renew the annual grant of $50 to the County Rifle Association was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Council adjourned.

LADIES wanting bargains in Leather or Plush Satchels should examine R. FAIR'S stock at the Golden Lion.

At Last.

A great deal of surprise and a great many surmises have been indulged in by lovers of the skatorial art, as to the date when a fancy dress skating carnival would be held. The question is at last answered by the Fire Brigade Band of Peterborough. They have made arrangements with the Directorate of the Rink Company to hold two fancy dress carnivals, the first to take place in the Charlotte Street Rink on Friday evening, Feb. 11th, which will give ample time for those wishing to participate in this happy event to arrange and prepare their costumes. Posters are now in the printer's hands and will be issued to-morrow giving the full programme in detail. It is to be hoped that the citizens in general will heartily assist the firemen in this undertaking. If there is anybody deserving of public patronage it is our firemen. Skaters arrange for your costumes at once. Citizens reserve Friday evening, Feb. 11th, and show by your presence that you appreciate their services.

Evening Social.

Mr Wm. Walsh's handsome new residence on Dickson street was crowded on Tuesday night, on the occasion of an evening social being given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's Church. There were fully 150 people present. During the evening the following programme was presented, arranged by Mr. Parker, organist of St. Paul's:

PROGRAMME.

1 Piano Solo ..... Mr. J. S. Parker
2 Song ..... Miss Cameron
3 Duet ..... Misses Roper
4 Song ..... Mr. Greatrix
5 Piano Solo ..... Miss Hall
6 Duet ..... Mr. Parker and Mr. Jaques
7 Song ..... Mr. Jaques
8 Duet ..... Misses Smith
9 Song ..... Miss Dugan
10 Duet ..... Misses Cox and Fairweather
11 Duet ..... Miss Hazlitt and Mr. Parker
12 Piano duet ..... Mrs. Ferguson and Miss Grey

A very pleasant evening was spent and the company dispersed at a discretionary hour.

It is Probable

—That the Scots relished the haggis last night.

—That Mr. Ferguson is elated,

—That Mr. Brown will put his best foot forward to-night.

—That the big bonspell takes place next Tuesday and Wednesday.

—That the grocers will lay in an extra stock of brooms.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

New Advertisements.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

L.O.L. MEETING.

THE West Peterborough County L. O. L. will meet for the transaction of business on Tuesday next, the 1st day of February, at 1.30 p. m. A large attendance is requested.

1d21-1w4 W. A. STRATTON, Sec.

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

WILSON DAY'S

Theatre Company

The Greatest Living Child Actress

ANNIE BIRD

At Each Performance.

TO-NIGHT,

Forget Me Not.

Admission 10c. Reserved Seats 25c. at Hartley's. 14d17

Notice to Creditors

OF THE

LATE JOHN E. HAMMOND.

PURSUANT to Revised Statutes of Ontario, Chapter 107 and 46 Victoria, Chapter 9, Ontario, notice is hereby given that all creditors and others having claims against the estate of John Edward Hammond, late of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, gentleman, who died on or about the third day of January, 1887, are required to send by post, prepaid, or to deliver to Hatton & Wood, of the Town of Peterborough, in the said County of Peterborough, solicitors for Herbert Arthur Hammond, Robert Penniel Boucher and Harriet Hammond, the executors and executrix of the last will and testament of the deceased on or before the 28th day of February, 1887, a statement of their names and addresses, the full particulars of their claims and securities (if any) held by them. And that after the said date the said executors and executrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice shall have been given as above required.

And the said executors and executrix will not be responsible for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons of whose claim or claims notice shall not have been received at the time of such distribution.

Dated at Peterborough, this 28th day of January, 1887.

HATTON & WOOD, Solicitors for the said Executors and Executrix.

w3

Wants.

WANTED.

BY A THOROUGHLY CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED PERSON, employment in the capacity of sick nurse. Apply to MRS. C. ROBINSON, Water St. north or at the REVIEW Office. d93

SOFT WOOD WANTED

500 CORDS SOFT WOOD wanted in exchange for trade, delivered at my planing mill, in quantities of 10 cords and upwards, for which the highest price will be paid. J. D. BAPTIE. 6d191w4

WANTED.

TOWN PROPERTY in exchange for farms Also wanted to buy, A COMFORTABLE HOUSE centrally located at from $600 to $1000, cash. Apply at once to

T. HURLEY, Real Estate Agent Hunter Street

For Sale or to Rent.

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

A CONVENIENT HOUSE and lot on Sherbrook St. Apply to T. SLOMAN. d149

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE. On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, Solicitor, George Street. d84

FOR SALE.

RAG CARAETS either by private sale or auction. Carpets wove to order at 21 to 30 cts. a yard. A guarantee given with all carpets. JOHN BARCLEY, George St. four doors above Antrim st. 3 120-4w4

TO RENT.

IN about 2 months, FIVE FIRST-CLASS TERRACE HOUSES (White Brick), two storey, seven rooms, on George street, within one minutes walk of the market. Apply to JOHN CARLISLE.

STORE AND DWELLING

AT BETHANY, for sale or to let. The store in Bethany known as the Grrandy store, together with the Dwelling and Lots connected therewith, will be sold at a bargain or leased on easy terms. Full particulars given on application at the Bank of Montreal Lindsay, Peterborough or Port Hope. 2d1v1w

FOR SALE.

BUILDING LOTS, situated on Rubidge, Park, Townsend and Wolf Streets. No money down providing you build. Come on and get a Lot before they are all sold to the stove men. Also House and Lot, and Park Lot. Apply to the owner, JOHN BELL, Corner Wolf and Rubidge Streets. d86

General.

TIE MAKERS

AND

STATION MEN

WANTED!

On Sault Division, D., S. S & A. R. R., Headquarters camp at Sault Junction, forty miles above St. Ignace on D. M. & M. R R.

REXFORD BROS. & HODGE, Contractors

4d192aw

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

T. DOLAN & CO'S

$2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

CLEARING SALE. CRYSTAL BLOCK. GREAT BARGAINS.

SWEEPING REDUCTIONS

IN ALL WINTER GOODS.

GOODS MUST BE SOLD.

H. S. GRIFFIN & CO.

Still Pushing the Trade

AT LeBRUN'S CITY CLOTHING STORE.

Bargains in Overcoats, Suits, Underwear. Gents' Furnishings, Haberdashery—in fact in Everything all this month immense Bargains will be given.

H. LeBRUN.

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 22. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, JANUARY 27, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

BIRTH.

TURNBULL.—On Thursday, 27th of January, the wife of MR. J. C. TURNBULL of a son.

ROGERS.—At Calgary, on Jan. 26th, the wife of EDWIN R. ROGERS of a daughter, both are doing well.

HATTON.—At Walkerfield, on Thursday, January the 27th inst., MRS. G. W. HATTON of a son.

DIED.

BROWN.—At her late residence, Antrim Street, on the 26th inst. SARAH HARRISON, wife of Thomas Brown, in the 51st year of her age.

Mrs. Brown was a native of the County of Cavan, Ireland. She came to this country twenty-one years ago, and has resided in Peterborough ever since.

Toronto Sentinel please copy.

PROBABILITIES.

South and south-west winds; generally fair weather; rising temperatures, and becoming decidedly milder weather towards evening.

R. FAIR.

Now is your time to buy your Satin Dress as your Silk Dresses, your Satin Rhodames Dresses.

Ask to see our black gross grain Silk at 89c, worth $1.25 per yard.

EVENING SATINS.

Silk gloves, evening shades, Mousquitaire kid gloves. For evening wear a few more wool clouds and shawls to be cleared at a

BARGAIN.

SECURE

Some of the useful.

REMNANTS,

before they are all sold, Remnants of Dress Goods, Prints, Ginghams, Flannels, Tweeds Jacket Cloths, etc., etc.

R. FAIR,

GOLDEN LION.

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d1lw18

W. BLACKWELL,

ARCHITECT and C. E. Plans and estimates made of Churches, Public Buildings and Dwelling Houses. Buildings superintended and Patents applied for. Heating and Plumbing a specialty. Office:—Over Telegraph Office, George street, Peterborough. d150w1

Music.

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. d1y

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. 1yd11

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training.

$70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal, Peterborough, Ontario.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,

SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.

MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d115w18

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.

MONEY TO LOAN. d103w1

HATTON & WOOD,

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

R. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. 1yd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. 1yd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. 1yd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 759. Residence, Bon Accord Street. 1yd97w1

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. 1yd97

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. 1yd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. 1yd97

W. FITZGERALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied. Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 624, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. 1yd97

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d120w22

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL. Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street, opposite St. John's Church. d123w22 1y

C. COLLINS M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d119w3

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. 1yd&w

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE, Solicitor

d123w18

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS.

AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,

FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS!

AND

MUSLIN CURTAINS

AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S

Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN

OF THE

Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $4.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 27, 1887.

THE LAST PENALTY.

An Awful Crime Expiated at the Guillotine—A Woman's Frantic Struggles.

PARIS, Jan. 25.—Thomas and his wife Georgette were executed to-day for burning the woman's mother to death. When the time came for the woman to die a heart-rending scene occurred. She struggled fiercely with her executioners and cried for mercy. She had to be carried to the guillotine. The man met his fate coolly.

The trial took place at the Blois Court of Assizes last November, and the evidence revealed revolting details of the most inhuman crime that has disgraced the annals of the country for half a century. Mme. Lebon, a widow of 70, lived with her daughter and son-in-law, named Thomas, in Luneau. The widow's two sons, who lived some way off, and her daughter, had endeavoured to get the mother into an asylum at Blois, but, having failed in this, they decided to do away with the old woman and divide the few hundred francs she had saved among them. Mme. Lebon, who was well known to her neighbors, suddenly disappeared, and it was suspected a crime had been committed. The gendarmerie visited the house and a horrible sight awaited them. In the fireplace were the charred remains of the old woman. Nothing was left but the head, the two feet, one arm and the thigh bones. The right arm of the victim, shrivelled and twisted, was round the head.

The evidence of the two sons, daughter and son-in-law were found to be contradictory, and they began to accuse each other. The declaration of the murdered woman's granddaughter, a little girl of seven, cleared up all doubts. She stated that her two uncles had come on a visit, and that while at dinner her mother had suddenly said, "We must get rid of the old one." Then her uncle Alexander ran to the bed and seized hold of his mother by the head, the other son, Alexis, taking her by the feet, and between them they carried her to the fire, which the little girl's father and mother in the meantime prepared. The poor woman had at first called out, but her cries gradually became weaker. The woman Thomas then took a handful of straw from the mattress and gave it to her husband to set fire to their victim's clothes. The black bonnet worn by the murdered woman, which was not burned, was found to have been soaked with petroleum. There is, therefore, little doubt that the wretches had poured petroleum over her clothes to make them burn better. Her son-in-law shoved the body with his foot to prevent it from falling out of the fire place. Before committing the crime the murderer had sent for a priest to confess their mother, and immediately afterwards Alexis and Alexander Lebon confessed to the priest, their sister doing the same a little later on.

Maitre Laguerre, the young Radical deputy, made a most eloquent speech for the defence. The facts were dead against him, so he endeavored to justify the facts by the superstition of the neighborhood. He contended that the prisoners considered their mother to be a witch, and that she had a habit of casting magic spells over them. He cited all the weird cases of witchcraft which have occurred in the last century, but failed to convince the jury that there were any extenuating circumstances, and a verdict of guilty was returned.

The court sentenced Georgette and her husband to death, Alexandre Lebon to the galleys for life, and Alexis to the galleys for twenty years. The news were received by the excited crowds in the court house and streets with shouts of "Serves them right, the wretches!"

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

REPEALERS AND LIBERALS.

In the present election contest the secessionists are fighting under the Liberal standard. So far is this the case in Nova Scotia today "Repealer" and "Liberals" are convertible terms. And matters have come to pass without one word of discouragement or remonstance from the leaders of the Dominion!—Montreal Star (Indep.)

ANOTHER GLOBE STORY.

The Globe's recent story regarding the state of Sir John's mind created very little surprise or alarm anywhere. In fact hardly anybody paid the least attention to it otherwise than to smile incredulously and remark, "Another Globe story." The persistent partisanship of the Grit organ has brought about its legitimate result—nobody minds or cares what it says on any subject connected however remotely with politics.—Toronto News, (Indep.)

TREASON TO CANADA.

From these utterances it is abundantly clear that not only has repeal made great headway in Nova Scotia, but that it is being agitated under the auspices of the Liberal party of the Dominion. The Liberal leaders see that an attempt is being made to commit a great crime against Confederation in the name of Liberalism, and yet they are silent. Are they so hungry for power that in order to obtain it they are ready to form an alliance with the enemies of Confederation? Is not silence on their part treason to Canada?—Montreal Star (Indep.)

DESERVING OF CENSURE.

On Saturday the Toronto Globe published a despatch purporting to have been sent from Ottawa, in which it is insinuated that Sir John Macdonald's mental condition is weakening. No such despatch, we have ascertained, was sent by the Globe's regular correspondent here, and if our contemporary has been imposed upon it should not refrain from promptly saying so.—Ottawa Free Press (Reform.)

JOURNALISTIC SAVAGES.

It is to be hoped that respectable Liberals will take every opportunity to repudiate the savage style of political warfare adopted by the Toronto Globe and its imitators.—Montreal Star (Indep.)

N. P. FOR THE FARMER.

The industrial improvement will help the farmer very much. It brings his market home to him, and it is the farmer who has a home market that prospers. In the country about Birmingham, Worcester sold before the town was built at 10 cents, and now brings 25 cents; eggs at 6 cents, and now at 18; butter at 8 cents a pound and now at 30, and other produce in proportion. Wherever a factory is planted, or a city built, a home market is created for the farmer's truck, and his land advanced in value.—Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution.

NATURE BOUNTIFUL.

If it was true that Canada had not the materials out of which to make iron or steel, or had never attempted to do so, there might be some reason for the apathy which exists; not only is such not the case, but it can be proved without fear of contradiction that there are few, if any, places in the world which have such natural advantages for the manufacture of iron as we possess in Canada. In addition to that, our annual consumption is of sufficient extent to justify the erection of works and the expenditure of capital necessary for the production of what we require, and it only remains for us to follow the example of every nation which to day has any importance in this manufacture, and make use of the advantages so bountifully provided for us by Nature.—Canadian Manufacturer.

HOPE OR FEAR.

Promise the country that there will be more of the National Policy, rather than less of it; and every prospect brightens—in the banks, on the street, and everywhere. On the other hand, let it appear as if the National Policy were in danger, and immediately "all faces gather blackness," to quote an expression from scripture. Such distrust as exists among us is due to ONE cause only—the fear that the Free Traders may win in the present struggle, a result which may Heaven forfend! And the sole creators and promoters of distrust that we have amongst us are the Free Trade papers, and Free Trade political leaders. In the commercial prospect the country sees nothing to be afraid of except the one contingency—that of injury to the fabric of the National Policy.—Canadian Manufacturer.

DISGRACE TO JOURNALISM.

Not only are Conservatives indignant at seeing their venerable chief so cruelly and so unfairly treated, but honest and fair minded Liberals are disgusted to find the leading organ of their party descending to such unworthy and barbarous means to discredit a political opponent. From one point of view, Sir John has no reason to complain of the Globe's vile untruths, for such vilification creates a sympathy for him which, politically, will be sure to do him good. But the Globe's onslaught is not the less inexcusable on that account. Its intention was not to do the Government good personally or politically. Its brutality is simply a disgrace to Canadian journalism.—Montreal Star (Indep.).

PROTECTION SPREADING.

The Protectionist press is getting pretty strong in the Southern States these days, and the Nashville (Tennessee) Union is on that side. "Congress," it says, "is not able to agree about a tariff-reform bill, and never will as the Free Trade element insists on revising all the Protection out of the tariff." Here the Union hits off our Canadian tariff reformers to a dot. The tariff will never suit them until they get all the Protection revised out of it. All their pretences of moderation are but "springs to catch woodcocks," as Shakespeare says. The Canadian people are not to be caught with their deceptive devices, however.—Canadian Manufacturer.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive at least to try one bottle, as 70,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in the United States and Canada. d99

QUESTIONS TO THE POINT.

Those who seek to throw our markets open to outsiders, and to destroy the policy which provides employment for both Canadian labor and Canadian Capital, are invited to make square answer to the following questions;—

What business in Canada, of any kind, has ever been injured by the National Policy? Name any important interest, industrial commercial or financial that has suffered because of it.

Wherein has the cost of living been increased, and upon what classes, if upon any, has this alleged higher cost of living fallen?

It is not true that what articles of necessity have advanced in price during the last eight years have all been articles produced at home, either from the Canadian farm or or the Canadian forest—from the former mostly? Instance meat, milk, butter, and cheese, the price of which goes to our own farmers.

It is not also true that within the same period clothing, boots and shoes, and generally manufactured articles and store goods of every kind, have been going down in price? Along with protection we have had cheap sugar, tea, and other store goods; while the farmers have had good prices for their produce.

Are you prepared to maintain that good prices for farmers' produce mean ruin to this country? If so, "come out of your shell" and say so plainly. You will find it hard to make good show of maintaining any such doctrine in Canada. Make this a square issue, and take your stand on it. That the lower the prices of grain, meat, and dairy produce go, the better it is for this country.

Bankers are a class of men who observe keenly how business is going, and what causes they are to help or hinder it. Can you give proof of any instance wherein our bankers, as a body, or any considerable number of them acting together, have complained that the National Policy was injuring business in Canada?

Or, rather, have you not reason to know that any serious apprehension, on part of the banks, that the N. P. was in danger, would immediately be followed by a tightening of the screws and a contraction of business? That such apprehension would operate as a storm signal in the business world, warning every one to take in sail, and to save himself the best way he could from approaching danger?

In such case it would be a great mistake to suppose that manufacturers and their workmen would be the only sufferers. Every groceryman, every small tradesman, every country storekeeper, and every big merchant too, would have to suffer by the general contraction of business which would ensue. Heavy losses to the banks and a disastrous curtailment of credits would be inevitable.—Canadian Manufacturer.

HASTINGS.

TANGLE IN THE COUNCIL.—Through some unexplained tangle there appears to be a hitch in the formation of our village council, and as a consequence another nomination is ordered to take place on Friday, Jan. 28th, in the council chamber.

WEDDING BELLS.—St. Mary's church in this village was the scene of an interesting ceremony on Wednesday forenoon, Jan. 19th., the occasion being the marriage of Mr. Jas. H. O'Neill, of Cobourg, to Miss Katie, daughter of Mr. T. Collins, Percy. The ceremony was witnessed by a number of friends of the contracting parties, as well as many to whom occasions of this nature are always a source of pleasurable interest. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. J. B. McCall, barrister, of Cobourg, and Dr. C. Collins, brother of the bride, of Peterborough; the bridesmaids being Miss Mary O'Neil, sister of the groom, and Miss Ella Collins, sister of the bride. After the weeding ceremony was performed and the nuptial Mass celebrated by Father Quirk, the bridal party, accompanied by a number of guests, repaired to the residence of the bride's father, where a sumptuous dinner was prepared and partaken of. The bridal presents were both numerous and valuable, testifying to the popularity of the bride, who is a most estimable young lady, deserving the high esteem in which she is held. The happy couple drove to Norwood in the afternoon, where they took the C. R. R. for Montreal.—Star.

Sir Charles Tupper.

OTTAWA, Jan 26.—It is officially announced that Sir Charles Tupper has resigned the office of High Commissioner to England and is to re-enter Canadian public life, contesting Cumberland, N.S., his old seat. The alleged reason is because a deputation of his supporters in Cumberland met him in New York and asked him to again contest the county and represent the cause of union in opposition to those who would disrupt federation and raise the cry of secession. Sir Charles said he had not meant to re-enter politics, but the crisis was so grave, and he had received so many pressing appeals to aid the loyal cause that he had put aside personal convenience. He was confident Nova Scotia would, on second thoughts, be opposed to any severance of the ties which bound the Province to the Dominion, and he looked forward to a glorious victory. He would not say whether he was about to re enter the Cabinet, but now he will do so at a very early date. He will remain here for two or three days and then depart to commence the campaign in Nova Scotia.

Fish Mongers Thankful.

BOSTON, Jan. 26.—The fish dealers of Boston say the retaliation bill is exactly what they wanted. If the Canadians are shut out it will bring them to their senses and force the Canadian Government to take off the restrictions on American vessels.

Yankee Fishermen Jubilant.

GLOUCESTER, Mass Jan. 26.—The fishermen here intend to hold a big congratulatory meeting at the City Hall when the Edmunds Bill passes the House.

The Cardinal's Departure.

QUEBEC, Jan. 26.—Cardinal Taschereau left for Rome this afternoon. He was accompanied to the depot by all notables in the city.

Only six miles of track remain to be laid to complete the Canadian Pacific air line from Smith's Falls to Montreal.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

THE IRISH ANGRY.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Mr. Chamberlain's speech at Hawick lends itself to very various interpretation. The Liberal Unionists fear that it presages surrender. The Gladstonians complain of allusions to the Irish agitators as "Well paid patroits," and the like. The Irish are naturally angry, and once more tell Mr. Chamberlain that his idea of Canadian Home rule is nonsense as applied to Ireland. Mr. Labouchere, whose budding ambitions might be nipped if Mr. Chamberlain resumed his old place in the Liberal ranks, attacks him more bitterly than ever. Mr Chamberlain was once his leader. He now calls him "Judas Iscariot with an orchid in his buttonhole." There is reason to believe that the conference came much nearer than was supposed to finding a basis for agreement.

A PACIFIC INDICATION.

VIENNA, Jan. 25.—It is reported that the powers have resolve to revive the conference at Constantinople to settle the Bulgarian question.

THE FRENCH REPUBLIC.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—In an article in the Fortnightly Review, Sir Charles Dilke will discuss the question of the permanence of the French Republic. He thinks that it will endure indefinitely if there be no war, but doubts its continuance if a new conflict with Germany takes place. He discusses the relations of France and England with regard to Egypt, the Suez Canal, the New Hebrides Islands, and other matters in which both are interested. Speaking of the diplomatic relations of the two countries, he fears if Lord Lytton is sent as an ambassador to Paris evil will ensue.

ROYAL VISIT TO IRELAND.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—An announcement, which seems authorative, comes from Dublin that the Prince of Wales will visit Ireland in April and be present at the Punch town races. He has taken Newlands, near Clondalkin, paying $5,000 for ten days' occupancy. The visit has doubtless been arranged by Lord Londonderry.

THE WAR TALK.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—The English ambassadors at Paris and Berlin agree in representing that France and Germany alike are bent on peace. Lord Salisbury gave more explicit assurances to the foreign ambassadors, yesterday at the Foreign Office, that no disquieting information had lately been received. Admiral Maxse, who telegraphed to the Pall Mall Gazette that not a single French soldier had been moved to the frontier in the last two months, is an Englishman of high character, with access to the highest sources of information at Paris. The situation is, of course, not less grave than it was last week. War is only too possible.

SPANISH AFFAIRS.

MADRID, Jan. 26.—The first meeting of the Progressist Republican Assembly took place yesterday. There were one hundred and twelve delegates present. The proceedings were of a stormy character. In the Cuban debate in the Senate, Senor Balaguer, Minister of the Colonies, said reasons of courtesy compelled them to postpone an explanation of the progress of negotiations for a commercial treaty with the United States.

OBIT.

MADRID, Jan. 26.—Senor Escobar, for thirty-nine years editor and proprietor of the Speres, is dead. The queen sent a message of condolence to the family.

AN INSINUATION REPELLED.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Mr Sexton, in a speech at Glasgow, last evening, repelled the insinuation that the Parnellites had appropriated American donations to their own uses.

GERMAN POLITICS.

BERLIN, Jan. 26.—The Conservatives and Nationals have nominated Count Herbert Bismarck in Lauenburg, and William Bismarck in Hanau for the Reichstag. The Bundesrath has consented to prohibit exportation of horses to France.

A PACIFIC MESSAGE.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—It is stated the Czar has forwarded a pacific message to the Emperor of Austria.

AUSTRIA FOR PEACE.

PESTH, Jan. 26.—During a debate on the budget in the Lower House of the Hungarian Diet to-day, Premier von Tisza declared, amid acclamations, that no one wished for a war with Russia.

LIVERPOOL ELECTION.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 27.—The election for a member of Parliament for the Exchange division of this city, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. David Duncan, was held to-day, and resulted as follows:—Mr. Neville (Gladstonian), 3,223; Mr. Goschen (Liberal Unionist), 3,211. Nine votes remain in dispute, and there will be a re-count to-morrow. At the last session Mr. Duncan (Home Ruler) received 3,220 and Mr. Bailey (Conservative) 2,760.

Total Abstinence Regiment.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The presentation of the first regiment of New York militia to be composed entirely of total abstinence men, took place last night at the Academy of Music. Rev. Henry Ward Beecher presided and delivered an address.

A Strike.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The pickets of the Ocean Association of the 'Longshoremen Knights of Labor report that not a pound of coal was put aboard any of the ocean steamships in New York, Brooklyn, or Jersey City yesterday. Eleven grain elevators have suspended business. Two of them are on the Hamburg and Bremen piers in Hoboken and six in Brooklyn. The transatlantic steamers cannot sail on time if this is continued. The United States mail will be delayed. The steamship companies are offering high wages for men. The strike of the 'longshoremen is extending daily.

The Founder of the A. O. U. W.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 25.—The remains of the late John J. Upoburch, the founder of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, were interred at the Bellefontaine cemetry on Sunday afternoon. A monument to cost $17,000, which sum is to be raised by an assessment of ten cents on each member, will be erected to the memory of the deceased.

LADIES wanting bargains in Leather or Plush Satchels should examine R. FAIR'S stock at the Golden Lion.

FASHION ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

The Daily Review.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 27, 1887.

SUPERANNUATION.

The Reformers, since they have been out of power, have been attacking the system of superannuation in the Civil Service of Canada. Of course it is a fairly debatable question whether the pay of the Dominion officials is too high, and also whether superannuation is a good method of providing for a portion of their remuneration. But if these critics were honest they would not in discussing the matter omit or misrepresent very important facts connected with it. This, however, the supporters of Mr. Blake do to a very great extent. For instance they give the full amount of the payments from the fund, but say nothing of the payments to the fund by the officials. At other times they give the amount paid from the fund to individuals and contrast it with the amount paid to the fund by them, but this is still a dishonest concealment. Even when they thus give the actual sums that have been paid to the fund by its subsequent beneficiaries, they carefully avoid any reference to very important considerations. They take no account of the interest on the payments of two per cent. of their salaries exacted from the Civil Servants. Nor do they speak of the interest on that interest, for it should be compounded. Nor again do they make any allowance for the effect of the rule that officials dying or retiring before being superannuated shall forfeit all right to the money paid by them to the fund and to the interest on it, though this risk should augment the amount payable to the recipient, while providing, as it obviously does, means for the increase. Under these circumstances it is evident that the payments to those superannuated must necessarily be larger than the actual amounts contributed by them. The insurance companies as a means of encouraging business, are in the constant habit of parading cases in which they pay far more to the estates of the insured than the sums received from them, the excess arising largely from the interest and the abandonment of policies. The companies publishing these statistics certainly would not admit that they gave evidence of too much being paid by them to the insured. And the superannuation fund is simply an insurance fund to which an amount in aid is contributed by the public treasury. This is a system that is adopted by some extensive employers, notably by the Bank of Montreal, which contributes largely, to the insurance fund of i s officials. Whether the people of Canada contribute too largely to the insurance fund of their officials, and whether altogether they remunerate them too liberally, are questions that cannot be intelligently settled by leaving out of consideration important facts bearing upon them.

With still greater dishonesty the opponents of Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues assert that there has been an extravagant and corrupt increase of the payments for superannuation under the present administration. At first they gave lists of names with large payment from and small payments to the fund. But they have either withdrawn or modified these, since we pointed out that their most striking case, that of Mr. John Langton formerly of Peterborough, was the result of the Reform Administration superannuating him prematurely while still thoroughly capable of rendering efficient service, because they wanted his office for a political friend, who had been unfortunate in the law courts. They now prefer to vell their misrepresent ations under vague g neralities and gross amounts, thus concealing the fact that there are many similar costly cases, such as that of Mr. Meredith, for which they are responsible.

The truth is that the payments from the superannuation fund, the payments to it and the hiatus to be filled have all increased, partly from the increased population, territory and business of the Dominion, but to a very large extent from the lasting effects of the improper conduct of the Reformers while in office, in retiring Conservative officials while still vigorous and likely to draw upon the fund for many years, in order to find places for Reformers who were clamouring to have their party services rewarded.

We would very willingly support a motion for a committee to inquire into the superannuation and salaries of the civil servants, consulting a competent actuary as to the insurance aspect of the case, and such institutions as our chartered banks as to the remuneration, so that the whole matter might be clearly understood and any necessary changes might be intelligently made. But no public service can be rendered by misrepresentation and unfair attacks upon the system, or upon the present government, by the supporters of Mr. Blake, who availed themselves of it to the fullest extent whi e in office, and whose motive for discontent is that they are not entrusted with the power to misuse it again for their own benefit and that of their friends.

THE LOCK WORKS.

The canvassers for the Conservative candidate in West Peterborough say that they are met everywhere with the statement made on behalf of Mr. Cox that it was owing to him that the Lock Factory was established here. This electioneering claim is well known to be quite unfounded, but in spite of its falseness it has its value inasmuch as it is an admission that the Lock Works are a benefit to our town and that those who were instrumental in establishing them here are deserving of the gratitude of our people.

Now it is the fact that it is not Mr. Cox, but Mr. Stevenson to whom this gratitude is due. Without doing any injustice to those who also contributed their aid and encouragement, it is only fair to state that but for Mr. Stevenson it is very unlikely that we would have had this addition to our industries. He is not only, like others, a shareholder in the company, but he also supplied them on most liberal terms with the premises they occupy, and, in a variety of ways, has used his well established influence in their favour.

And, apart from these personal considerations, it must be added that but for the beneficial policy of the leaders whom Mr. Stevenson supports neither we nor any other town in Canada would have had these Lock Works, for none would have been mad enough to make such a venture without the encouragement and assistance afforded by the National Policy. On the other hand Mr. Cox's leaders with their revenue tariff, if they had their way, if they adhered to what was their policy for long years, to what is still their avowed policy on every occasion except when they are canvassing, would have crushed out this with other Canadian industries, if they were entrusted with power. It is all very well for Mr. Cox when asking an elector for his vote to pronounce himself in favour of protection. Even if he were sincere, of what would his private opinion d when he is prepared to vote confidence in the enemies, want of confidence in the friends our native industries? He is not likely to convert his party, but far more likely to be converted himself, as was Mr. Patterson of Brant, who obtained his election by the same pretences as Mr. Cox is making, only to join when in the House in the incessant sneers and gibes of his associates at the National Policy.

We know where Mr. Stevenson and his friends are on this question, We also know where Mr. Cox's leaders are, if not Mr. Cox himself. Those who are interested directly or indirectly in Canadian industries will not hesitate in choosing between them.

OUR REPRESENTATIVES.

To offset the dishonest attacks made by the Grit press upon Sir Chas. Tupper, in reference to the furnishing of the official residence of the High Commissioner for Canada in England, the Belleville Intelligencer gives a number of details of an expenditure of $38,690 by partisan commissioners sent by the Reform Government to the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia. These gentlemen, it seems, charged not only their sherry, &c., to the people of Canada, but even their ice creams and their button-hole bouquets. It will be said that two blacks do not make one white, but such exposures show the hypocrisy and dishonesty of the Grits in asking the people to turn out the present Administration to give Mr. Blake's supporters an opportunity, not of retrenching, but of spending public money as before on themselves. What is of more importance, is that the expenditure in London is not for an ephemeral commissior, but for the use of the representative of Canada in London for all time, whoever he may be. The furniture in the official residence of our Commissioner in London no more belongs to Sir Chas. Tupper than the mace does to the Speaker, or than their desks and seats in the Houe of Commons do to the individual members. They are all alike the property of the Dominion.

KEENE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

CARNIVAL.—Preperations for the carnival on Friday night, Jan. 28th, are completed and there are prospects for a large turn out. The ice is in grand condition.

POLITICAL MEETING.—A meeting in the interest of Mr. Lang's candidature, was held here on Monday evening. The speakers were Mr. Lang, Mr. John Bertram, of Peterborough, and Mr. Blezard, M. P. P. Mr. Bertram was the chief speaker, and he dwelt principally on the iniquity of the National Policy and on the Northwest rebellion, but neglected to allude to Mr. Kendry's affidavit.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate
IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

FROM ALL OVER.

Cattle are reported to be wintering well at Fort McLean this winter.

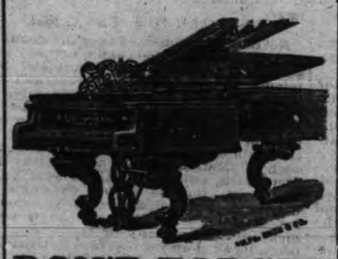
Greece is busy with war preparations, and all her arsenals are working night and day.

The Royal Commission on Railways held its tenth and final session in Montreal on Tuesday.

Three thousand miners at Airdrie, Scotland, have struck for an advance of a shilling per day.

The Northumberland miners have decided to go out on strike to resist a proposed peduction of 12½ per cent.

The Kingston City Council will petition the Government to establish the proposed new calvary school in that city.



The question of extending the municipal franchise females will be discussed at the next meeting of the Winnipeg City Council.

AYER'S Hair Vigor improves the beauty of the hair and promotes its growth. It imparts an attractive appearance, a delightful and lasting perfume. It stimulates the roots, cleanses the scalp, and proves itself to be the best and cheapest article for toilet use.

The trial of the coal conspiracy case against Patrick Burns and others was commenced on Tuesday at the Toronto Criminal Assizes.

The traffic receipts of the Canadian Pacific railway for the week ending January 21st were $128,000, an increase of $25,000 compared with the corresponding week last year.

AYER'S Pills cure constipation, improve the appetite, promote digestion, restore healthy action, and regulate every function. They are pleasant to take, gentle in their operation, yet thorough, searching and powerful in subduing disease.

DON'T FORGET
TO CALL AND SEE
D. SMART'S
SUPERB STOCK OF
Sewing Machines, Pianos, Organs, & Sheet Music.
We Cannot be Undersold.

A. CLEGG.
Leading Undertaker.

WARE ROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

Business Men Attention.

WE CAN NOW OFFER several first-class positions to Advertisers in the REVIEW, and, as there is always a rush at the beginning of the year, in order that the best positions may be obtained, business men will do well to call immediately and secure their space for 1887.

During the present year renewed efforts will be made to make the REVIEW still more a thoroughly efficient medium whereby the Merchants and others can put and keep themselves prominently before the public. Extra precaution will be taken, and the best taste will be displayed in getting up all advertisements intrusted to us for publication, and in other respects as well, the "shrewd" business man will do well to patronize the columns of the

Daily and Weekly
Review

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFACTURED of the Best Material by Skillful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books' Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.
SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.
OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.
DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.
LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS
Water Street, Opposite the Market.

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Rasins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

BEWARE
OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods. Without which none are genuine.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.
Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d&w9

Xmas Comes But Once a Year

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS
FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER
Of one pound of our 40c tea, 3 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 10c.
To every purchaser of one pound of our 50c. tea, 5 lbs. of Raisins for 15c.
We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS
Hunter Street, Peterborough.

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT
By wearing the only
FRANK LAZARUS
(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)
Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 25 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY
JOHN NUGENT
Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont.
FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 28 Maryland Road, Harrow Road, London, England.
(Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)
No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d&w6w9

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

BY HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

I tried to laugh him out of his morbid ideas. "Those who live will see," I said. "Only promise to ask me to your wedding, and better still, if you live in town, appoint me your family doctor. It may prove the nucleus of that West End practice which it is the dream of every doctor to establish."

I have already alluded to the strange beauty of Carriston's dark eyes. As soon as companionship commenced between us those eyes became to me, from scientific reasons, objects of curiosity on account of the mysterious expression which at times I detected in them. Often and often they wore a look the like to which, I imagine, is found only in the eyes of a somnambulist—look which one feels certain is intently fixed upon something, yet upon something beyond the range of one's own vision. During the first two or three days of our new-born intimacy I found this eccentricity of Carriston's positively startling. When now and then I turned to him and found him staring with all his might at nothing, my eyes were compelled to follow the direction in which his own were bent. It was at first impossible to divest one's self of the belief that something should be there to justify so fixed a gaze. However, as the rapid growth of our friendly intercourse soon showed me that he was a boy of most ardent poetic temperament—perhaps even more a poet than an artist—I laid at the door of the Muse these absent looks and recurring flights into vacancy.

We were at the Fairy Glen one morning, sketching, to the best of our ability, the swirling stream, the gray rocks and the overhanging trees, the last just growing brilliant with autumnal tints. So beautiful was everything around that for a long time I worked, idled, or dreamed in contented silence. Carriston had set up his easel at some little distance from mine. At last I turned to see how his sketch was progressing. He had evidently fallen into one of his brown studies, and, apparently, a harder one than usual. His brush had fallen from his fingers, his features were immovable, and his strange dark eyes were absolutely riveted upon a large rock in front of him, at which he gazed as intently as if his hope of heaven depended upon seeing through it.

He seemed for the while oblivious to things mundane. A party of laughing, chattering, terrible tourist girls scrambled down the rugged steps, and one by one passed in front of him. Neither their presence nor the inquisitive glances they cast on his statuesque face roused him from his fit of abstraction. For a moment I wondered if the boy took opium or some other narcotic on the sly. The idea of one thought it soon erected over to him, and laid my hand upon his shoulder. As he felt my touch he came to himself, and looked up at me in a dazed, inquiring way.

"Really, Carriston," I said, laughingly "you must reserve your dreaming fits until we are in places where tourists do not congregate, or you will be thought a madman, or at least a poet."

He made no reply. He turned away from me impatiently, even rudely; then, picking up his brush, went on with his sketch. After a while he seemed to recover from his pettishness, and we spent the remainder of the day as pleasantly as usual.

As we trudged home in the twilight he said to me in an apologetic, almost penitent way:

"I hope I was not rude to you just now?"

"When do you mean?" I asked, having almost forgotten the trivial incident.

"When you woke me from what you called my dreaming."

"Oh, dear no. You were not at all rude. If you had been, it was but the penalty due to my presumption. The flights of genius should be respected, not checked, by a material hand."

"That is nonsense; I am not a genius; and you must forgive me for my rudeness," said Carriston, simply. After walking some distance in silence he spoke again:

"I wish when you are with me you would try and stop me from getting into that state. It does me no good."

Seeing he was in earnest, I promised to do my best, and was curious enough to ask him whither his thoughts wandered during those abstracted moments.

"I can scarcely tell you," he said. Presently he asked, speaking with hesitation, "I suppose you never feel that under certain circumstances—circumstances which you cannot explain—you might be able to see things which are invisible to others?"

"To see things! What things?"

"Things, as I said, which no one else can see. You must know there are people who possess this power."

"I know that certain people have asserted they possess what they call second-sight; but the assertion is too absurd to waste time in refuting."

"Yet," said Carriston, dreamily, "I know that if I did not strive to avoid it, some such power would come to me."

"You are too ridiculous, Carriston," I said. "Some people see what others don't, because they have longer sight. You may, of course, imagine anything. But your eyes—handsome eyes they are, too—contain certain properties, known as humors and lenses, therefore in order to see——"

"Yes, yes," interrupted Carriston; "I know exactly all you are going to say. You, a man of science, ridicule everything which breaks what you are pleased to call the law of nature. Yet take all the unaccountable tales told. Nine hundred and ninety-nine you expose to scorn or throw grave doubt upon, yet the thousandth rests on evidence which cannot be upset or disputed. The possibility of that one proves the possibility of all."

"Not at all; but enough for your argument," I said, amused at the boy's wild talk.

"You doctors," he continued, with that delicious air of superiority so often assumed by laymen when they are in good health, "put too much to the credit of diseased imagination."

"No doubt; it's a convenient shelf on which to put a difficulty. But go on."

"The body is your province, yet you can't explain why a cataleptic patient should hear a watch tick when it is placed against his foot."

"Nor you; nor any one. But perhaps it may aid you to get rid of your rubbishing theories if I tell you that catalepsy, as you understand it, is a disease not known to us; in fact, it does not exist."

He seemed crestfallen at hearing this. "But what do you want to prove?" I asked. "What have you seen yourself?"

"Nothing, I tell you. And I pray I may never see anything."

After this he seemed inclined to shirk the subject, but I pinned him to it. I was really anxious to get at the true state of his mind. In answer to the leading questions with which I plied him, Carriston revealed an amount of superstition which seemed utterly childish and out of place beside the intellectual faculties which he undoubtedly possessed. So much so, that at last I felt more inclined to laugh than to argue with him.

Yet I was not altogether amused by his talk. His wild arguments and wilder beliefs made me fancy there must be a weak spot somewhere in his brain—even made me fear lest his end might be madness. The thought made me sad; for, with the exception of the eccentricities which I have mentioned, I reckoned Carriston the pleasantest friend I had ever made. His amiable nature, his good looks and perfect breeding had endeared the young man to me; so much so that I resolved, during the remainder of the time we should spend together, to do all I could toward talking the nonsense out of him.

My efforts were unavailing. I kept a sharp lookout upon him, and let him fall into no mysterious reveries; but the curious idea that he possessed, or could possess, some gift above human nature, was too firmly rooted to be displaced. On all other subjects he argued fairly and was open to reason. On this one point he was immovable. When I could get him to notice my attacks at all, his answer was:

"You doctors, clever as you are with the body, know as little of psychology as you did three thousand years ago."

When the time came for me to fold up my easel and return to the drudgery of life, I parted from Carriston with much regret. One of those solemn, but often broken promises to join together next year in another sketching tour passed between us. Then I went back to London, and during the subsequent months, although I saw nothing of him, I often thought of my friend of the autumn.

(To be continued.)

Peterborough Markets

WHEAT.
Wheat, fall, per bushel	0 80	to	0 95
" spring "	0 82	to	0 83
Arnecta Wheat	0 80	to	0 85
FLOUR AND MEAL.
Flour, Patent Process, per cwt.	$2 50	to	$2 55
Flour, bakers per cwt	2 25	to	2 25
Flour, stone process	1 80	to	1 80
COARSE GRAIN.
Barley, per bushel	0 48	to	0 57
Peas	0 50	to	0 54
Oats,	0 28	to	0 28
Rye	0 45	to	0 45
MILL FEED.
Oat chop, per cwt	1 10	to	1 10
Pea chop, "	1 10	to	1 10
Barley chop "	1 00	to	1 00
Pollards "	0 80	to	0 80
Bran, per ton	11 00	to	11 00
VEGETABLES.
Potatoes, per bag	0 30	to	0 [illegible]
Cabbage, per head	0 05	to	0 07
Beets, per bag	0 40	to	0 40
Carrots, per bag	1 25	to	1 40
Carrots, small red, per bag	0 35	to	0 40
Carrots, field, per bag	0 15	to	0 20
Turnips	0 20	to	0 25
Parsnips	0 30	to	0 40
MEAT, POULTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE.
Beef, by the quarter per cwt	3 50	to	4 50
Pork, " " "	6 00	to	6 25
Mutton, per lb	0 06	to	0 08
Veal, per lb	none offering
Lamb, per lb	0 07	to	0 8
Dressed Hogs	5 50	to	6 00
Hogs, live weight	3 75	to	4 25
Tallow, per lb	0 04	to	0 06
Lard	0 10	to	0 11
Chickens, per pair	0 45	to	0 60
Ducks, per pair	0 60	to	0 70
Geese, each	0 50	to	0 60
Turkeys, each	0 75	to	1 40
Butter, fine h rdly per lb	0 15	to	0 20
Butter, packed prime, per lb	0 16	to	0 18
Cheese, private sale per lb	0 12	to	0 12
Eggs, per doz	0 19	to	0 20
Hay, per ton	7 00	to	10 00
Straw, per load	2 00	to	3 00
Wood, hard, per load	3 50	to	4 50
Wood, soft, per load	2 50	to	3 00
WOOL AND HIDES.
Fleece wool	0 18	to	0 18
Southdown wool	0 [illegible]	to	0 20
Hides, per cwt	5 50	to	6 00
Hides, trimmed, per cwt	6 00	to	7 00
Lamb skins	25	to	25
Sheep Pelts, each	25	to	25
Sheep skins	1 00	to	1 00
FISH.
White Fish, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Speckled Trout, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Maskinonge, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Bass, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Finnie Haddie, per lb	0 10	to	0 10
Simcoe Herring, per doz	0 30	to	0 30
Salt Mackrel, per doz	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per quart	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per can	0 45	to	0 55

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

The Faith Cure.

If you do not value your health, and your time is not worth anything, pin your faith to the "anointing oil," or the mortar from "Knock Chapel." But if you do value health, and have not time to waste in useless experiments, take Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" on the appearance of the first symptoms of consumption; which are a loss of appetite and flesh, general debility, slight, dry, hacking cough, etc. Every day you defer treating your case is a rational manner makes the disease harder to combat. Send 10 cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for Dr. Pierce's Treatise on Consumption.

OVER WORKED Women.

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps.

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

Sisters of Charity

Charity, attached to St. Mary's Infant Asylum, Dorchester, Mass., certify to the inestimable value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the treatment of sore eyes and skin diseases, among the many unfortunate children under their care. Mrs. S. D. Bodwell, Wilmington, Mass., writes concerning the treatment of her daughter, who was troubled with sore eyes, as follows: "I gave Ayer's Sarsaparilla to and must say that she never took anything that helped her so much. I think her eyes never looked so well, as now, since they were affected, and her general health is improving every day. She has taken but half a bottle." A. J. Simpson, 147 East Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "My weak eyes were made strong by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla." C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H., writes: "For a number of years I have been troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief, until I commenced using

My Little Girl,

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

may be "fairest and foremost of the train that wait on man's most dignified and happiest state," but the dignity and happiness of man cannot long endure without the health that may be obtained in a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A. W. Parker, lumber dealer, 209 Bleury street, Montreal, Que., writes: "After being troubled with Dyspepsia for a year, and with Salt Rheum

For a Number of Years,

I was cured of both diseases by using six bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla." M. G. Traine, Duxbury, Mass., writes: "I have found Ayer's Sarsaparilla an efficacious remedy for bilious troubles and Dyspepsia." Henry Cobb, 41 Russell st., Charlestown, Mass., writes: "I was completely cured of Dyspepsia, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla." Wm. Lee, Joppa, Md., writes: "I have tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and it has done me so much good that I shall always regard it as the best of blood purifiers." Eminent physicians prescribe Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers."

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

For sale by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5.

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md7w41

FITZGERALD & STANGER

Corner Brock and Water Streets

PETERBOROUGH.

THE ABOVE FIRM HAVE NOW ON HAND A LARGE STOCK OF

Buggies. Phaetons and Waggons

WHICH THEY ARE PREPARED TO SELL AT LOWEST LIVING PRICES.

ALSO, A GREAT VARIETY OF

SLEIGHS & CUTTERS

IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION FOR WHICH THEY ARE PREPARED TO RECEIVE ORDERS.

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

d&w JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood. Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,

d89 Ashburnham

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00

LADIES..... 50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG, Manager.

1d45

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials. YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

Exceedingly Cheap

Is what every person says who has bought Groceries from us. Our Teas, Sugars and Coffees are marked low and are very good. We have a very select stock of

FRESH FAMILY GROCERIES,

Canned Goods, etc. which we are selling at rock bottom prices.

GEORGE CARTON

The People's Grocer, George Street

MARVELLOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Wholly unlike Artificial Systems—Cure of Mind Wandering—Any book learned in one reading. Prospectus, with opinions of Mr. Proctor, the Astronomer, Hons. W. W. Astor, Judah P. Benjamin, Drs. Minor, Wood and others, sent post free, by

PROF. LOISETTE,

237 Fifth Avenue, New York

JOB PRINTING!

Neatness in Style.
Moderation in Charges.
Fulfilment of Promises.
Despatch in Execution.

The REVIEW Printing Office

is prepared to execute the following, and other classes of PLAIN and FANCY WORK, in the best styles.

Posters, plain and coloured.
Programmes, in fancy styles.
Circulars, in script or plain type.
Bill-Heads, all sizes and shapes, on excellent quality of paper.
Business Cards, all sizes.
Visiting Cards, in beautiful Cards, Texts or Script Lettering.
Postal Cards, with business Notices or Memorandum Headings.
Letter Headings,
Note Headings,
Blank Cheques,
Blank Receipts,
Pamphlets,
Catalogues,
Law Blanks.

and all and every description of work required to be done in letter press.

THE

REVIEW Job Printing Department

Satisfaction given to all customers; charges are is moderate as the cost of getting up good work will allow, and are usually found satisfactory.

The REVIEW Printing Office

Is noted for its punctuality in fulfilling promises and the business men can rely of getting up work at the time agreed upon.

THE FACILITIES FOR

GETTING OUT

JOB WORK

are ample, and orders are pushed through with vigor, so that work can be got out in short time.

Orders from the Country

attended to with promptness, and the work forwarded immediately on completion.

REVIEW

Printing & Publishing Co. (Limited).

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take your

LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,

Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. & O. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
10 55 p m	Toronto and West, via G. & O. R.	6 00 p m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
9 30 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 45 p m
10 30 a m	do do East	9 00 p m
12 00 m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway west	6 00 a m
5 50 p m		4 00 p m
5 30 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope	11 00 a m
5 15 p m	do do	6 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 30 p m
	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge, and
4 00 p m	Lakehurst	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville	11 45 a m
	Bobcaygeon, Head Lake	11 45 a m
2 30 p m	Bridgenorth & Ennismore	1 30 p m
	Burleigh, Indian's Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Haultain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clyndale, Pamdash and Chemong, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
6 00 p m previous night	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	1 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays	7 00 p m
	Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	6 00 p m
9 00 a m

Postage to Great Britain [6c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c. 20

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbados, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxenburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland, and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamacia, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guines, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, viâ Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamps in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 5 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, viâ San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 20 years by thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] SIX packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1; Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms.

TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

SALISBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

Orders taken for the CARNIVAL STAR and WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 27, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Cold Weather.

The Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering thermometer recorded 10 deg. below zero on Wednesday night.

Piano Tuning.

Geo. Gumpmcht is in town for a few days. Orders may be left at Mr. T. Menzies' or at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's Coming Here to Reside.

The Rev. M. Lynch, formerly parish priest of Peterborough, will in all likelihood come to Peterborough to live. His old parishioners and friends will be rejoiced to have him back again.

Organ Recital.

The first organ recital of the season is to be given in St. Paul's Church to-morrow evening. Mr. Parker, the organist, will be assisted by a chorus of thirty-two voices and several soloists.

Pulling Through.

The Italian, Joseph Murphy, exhibits strong signs of recovering to-day. His pulse continues regular, he is regaining strength and Dr. Kincaid, his attendant, holds out hopes of an ultimate recovery.

New Font.

A beautiful new font has been placed in St. Paul's Church. It is of white marble, ornamented only by a crown set in gold. The base is octagonal, as is also the column and is outside of the basin. The font stands about four feet in height. It is placed inside of the communion rail.

McFadden vs. McCarthy.

In the report of the case McFadden vs. McCarthy, which came up at the last session of the Division, an injustice was done Mr. McCarthy, the defendant. The evidence given did not bear out the assertion that the defendant's step-mother was given a notice to quit the place. What Mr. McCarthy most objects to was other people incurring funeral expenses on his account in which he was no way consulted.

Band of Hope.

The Band of Hope will meet first door to the right of Mr. Clegg's furniture store (ground floor) on Thursday evening from 7 till 8 o'clock for girls Broom Drill, from 8 to 9 for boys' military drill. The little ones who are taking part in fan drill will please meet at the above named place at 4 p. m. on Thursday.

Won Fifty.

At the winter races held at Omemee on Tuesday and Wednesday, Lundy's Factory Girl, Morgan's Little Ned, Ed. Brown's Lady B and J. J. Daly's Essie D participated. In the three minute class Brown's mare won first place and $50 of the purse. She also took a creditable place in the tree for all. The best time made in the latter was 2 16 the track being six rods short of a mile.

Scott Act.

At the Police Court this morning, Inspector Darling had three cases; Queen vs Brennan, Queen vs Drain and Queen vs Beckett. They were all Norwood cases. Hugh Drain, jr., was charged with violating the Act for a first time. The other two were laid as second offences. A fine of $50 and costs was imposed in the Queen vs Drain case; Queen vs Beckett was dismissed, and Queen vs Brennan was adjourned till Monday.

DENTAL Rooms over J. Mills' Hat Store George street. J. B. PENTLAND.

"Forget Me Not."

The Day Dramatic Company presented the three act society play, "Forget Me Not," at the opera house on Wednesday evening. Miss Rose Osborne, as Stephanie, Marquise de Mohrwart, Forget Me Not, the bold and wily adventuress, interpreted the part true to life. Her earnestness in pleading seemed real till dispelled by laughter at people so simple as to believe her. Nor was she less a success in the tragic scene in the last act than in playing on the feelings of the credulous. Mr. Wilson Day impersonated the gentlemanly English nobleman, Sir Horace Welby, with his usual success. Alice Verney found a fitting representative in Miss Stella Wills and Mrs. Faley, in Miss Mary Day. The tacit rage of Corsican, Barrato, his blind zeal for vengeance, his expression of "one object in life," were all delineated by Mr. Herbert Carr. The Old Prince by being such easy prey for Stephanie created much fun. The costumes worn, especially in the last act, are worthy of note. Little Annie Bird sang as usual between the acts and as usual was encored each time. See advertisement for to-night's bill.

SEE the prices offered on Satins and Silks this week at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

MR. COX IN ENNISMORE.

The First Campaign Meeting—Bitter Attacks on the National Policy.

The first meeting of the campaign was held in O'Reilly's school house, Ennismore, on Wednesday evening, in the interest of Mr. Cox's candidature.

Mr. Cox was the first speaker and expressed his pleasure in opening the campaign in this township. Smith used to be the banner township for the Reform party, but in the last election Ennismore had carried off the palm. He said he was a supporter of Mr. Blake.

The CHAIRMAN asked Mr. Cox as to Home Rule. There were different reports as to his position.

Mr. Cox said it had been reported that he had contributed to the Anti-Home Rule fund, but it was not true. His views on that question were entirely in accord with those of the Hon. E. Blake.

Mr. BERTRAM said he would discuss two topics, the National Policy and half-breed question. He denied that he had claimed the result in Ennismore in the last election as largely his doings.

THE NATIONAL POLICY.

In 1878 the election turned on the tariff policy. The Tories promised that everyone would be benefitted. They gave them the National Policy. In 1882 there was another election and the Conservatives asked to be returned again because they had benefitted everyone. There was a boom that year, but years had passed since then, and in what condition where they now? Were they better or worse off than they were in 1878? The Conservatives had placed a duty on foreign produce coming into Canada. The Reformers told them that these duties would not effect them. He asked them, had they better prices to-day than they had in 1878 in proportion to prices all over the world? The duties on grain were simply and absolutely valueless. The effect of the tariff was that they could not purchase one yard of cotton except at a combination price. More manufacturers went into the business than were required and the competition was such that they made no money. Of late years they had formed a combination. It was the same with other articles. Were they living in a free country or in Russia? It was not in the interest of this country to place the duties so high as to give the manufacturers an advantage and Mr. Blake was right when he said that the tariff should be revised in this respect and many others. He then branched off on a comparison of the expenditure, dwelt briefly on the debt and waded into the rebellion, claiming that the halfbreeds were goaded into rebellion by neglect in regard to surveys and the Indian title in the land. There was not, he said, a very particular amount of choice between Mr. Cox and Mr. Stevenson personally. This was the only part of the riding that had not been carried away in 1878 by the that the National Policy was going to benefit everyone.

CLAP TRAP CRY

The CHAIRMAN asked if there was any one present to represent Mr. Stevenson.

Mr. O'MEARA said that no invitation had been extended to Mr. Stevenson, and, consequently, no preparation had been made to have him represented on the platform.

Mr. PETER RYAN, of Toronto, said that in 1878 the Government was changed on the promise to make everyone wealthy, but they were not getting more or as much for their produce now. The change had only benefitted the boodlers. He claimed that the duty on sugar made it cost more, and that more than five millions of dollars in sugar duties went to benefit the sugar manufacturers. He then gave some figures the expenditure and debt and the Canadian Pacific Railway, dealing with the railway in a manner calcuated to make his hearers believe that all the money borrowed by the company in the European markets came from the Canadian people. He claimed that the Indians had been robbed, and that they had been abused by being given bacon instead of fresh meat. He made wholesale charges against the morality of the Government officials in the west, and defended the rebellion by saying that the robbery by Dewdney of the Indians and whites obliged them to fly to arms. He would not say whether it was right or wrong to hang Riel, but Got forbid that he should gloat over the blood of any man who fought for what he believed to be right. Dropping the Reil matter, he asserted the poor were becoming poorer and the rich richer. The poor were not growing wealther because the Government policy made a few men enormously wealthy. He opposed the policy of the Government in regard to Northwest grazing lands, because the cattle fed there came into competition with cattle fed in Ontario. The Govergment policy was building up an aristocracy of wealth. To prove this he read a description of the magnificent home in Montreal of a Reformer, and said that not a dollar of the money that built it had been honestly earned. He again attacked the National Policy, particularizing the duties on wool and wheat, and said that the present tariff was arranged for the benefit of the manufacturers. Then he gave vent to the "boodle" cry, attacking Sir Alex. Campbell, the Hon. T. White, Sir Charles Tupper, and others. Home Rule for Ireland was his last topic, and on that question he asked them to support Mr. Blake. Even if they differed from Mr. Blake on every other question, he asked them to support him on this one. If on no other question than this he beseeched them to vote for Mr. Cox, as he (Mr. Ryan) had a promise to vote for a motion favoring the most thorough measure that could be given Ireland. His effort to relieve Mr. Cox from the responsibility of having been on the platform at the Loyalist meeting in Toronto was very amusing. He and Mr. Cox, he said, had gone to the meeting together, and the crush was so great that Mr. Cox was forced up on the platform. The crush, however, apparently, had not had the same effect on Mr. Ryan, although he said they were together. Having thus explained Mr. Cox's presence on that platform, he declared that "if Mr. Cox had one sentiment in his heart more warm than another it was that Ireland should have a full measure of home rule."

EXACTED FROM MR. COX

Mr. Cox said that all that he had was invested in the riding, he might save it the town of Peterborough. He asked them for their votes.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Chairman, Mr. McCarthy, and cheers for the Queen, Mr. Cox and Mr. Stevenson.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a specialty. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc. Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

Ashburnham Council.

The members elect of the Ashburnham Village Council met on Monday, Jan 17th, and took the declaration of qualification and office as follows:—John Burnham, Reeve, and Messrs. Henry Calcutt, William Wand, John T. Craig and John Anderson Councillors. Messrs. John T. Wright and Leonard Dobbin were appointed auditors; Jonathan Stephenson, assessor; Absalom Ingram, Collector; and John Craig, road overseer, constable, &c. On motion of Mr. Craig, seconded by Mr. Wand, the following accounts were ordered to be paid:—

Holding municipal election	$17 00
Pay Sheet No. 1, ending 1st January	33 50
Fortye & Phelan	1 40
C. H. Moore	1 98
Adam Hall	1 25
H. Nell	7 44
Review Printing Co	5 83

On motion of Mr. Calcutt, seconded by Mr. Anderson, the Council was appointed a Street and Bridge Committe, and Mr. Wand Chairman thereof. The Council adjourned till the 6th of February.

The Tables Turned.

The two Ontario Tankard rinks had another sharp contest on Wednesday night. The play was good all round and was watched with much interest by the players themselves and spectators. At this match the Brown rink came out ahead, wining by 4 shots. The scores so far are as follows:—

	Ferguson	Brown
Monday	18	14—5
Tuesday	15	9—6
Wednesday	17	21—4

Up to date the Ferguson rink is still 7 shots ahead. The match continues to-night.

It May be Remarked.

—That Mr. Brown did put his best foot forward last night.

—That the Ferguson four are going to make a dead set on their rivals to-night.

—That Annie Bird is as charming a little songster as ever.

—That the County Council have been in committee work to-day.

—That the Italian is likely to recover.

—That Lady B. is spoken of in turf circles as the coming trotter.

—That Port Hope wants to arrange a Midland District Baseball League.

—That Port Hope is trying to work off a chesnut.

POLICE COURT.

LARCENY.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 26.—The cases of the Queen vs. Canning and Queen vs. Barry were called this morning. No one appearing to prosecute, the charge was dismissed.

The MAGISTRATE in dismissing them administered some good advice.

NORWOOD.

RELEASED.—The Register says that Mrs. McMartin, of this village, who has been serving a term in the county gaol for non-payment of an assessment made by P. M. Dunble, of Peterborough, for a violation of the Scott Act, was released last week on account of ill health.

FIRE BRIGADE.—A meeting of the ratepayers was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening for the purpose of organizing a Fire Brigade. Mr. John Finlay, Reeve, occupied the chair. After considerable discussion a Chief was appointed and instructed to proceed with the organization of the brigade at once. About forty men will be required, and these will be formed into two companies—hook and ladder and hose.

J. B. PENTLAND, Dental Rooms over J. Mills' Hat Store, George street.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

New Advertisements.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears, Sweet Florida Oranges, Malaga Grapes, new English Walnuts, Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecaus Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Parties a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS,
George St., Peterborough

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

WILSON DAY'S

Theatre Company

The Greatest Living Child Actress

ANNIE BIRD

At Each Performance.

TO-NIGHT,

Davy Crocket

Admission 10c. Reserved Seats 25c. at Hartley's. 1dl7

Wants.

WANTED.

A COOK Apply to GENERAL HAULTAIN, McDonnell St. 3d20

WANTED.

BY A THOROUGHLY CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED PERSON employment in the capacity of sick nurse. Apply to MRS. C. ROBINSON, Water St. north or at the REVIEW Office d96

SOFT WOOD WANTED

500 CORDS SOFT WOOD wanted in exchange for trade, delivered at my planing mill, in quantities of 10 cords and upwards, for which the highest price will be paid. J. D. BAPTIE. 6d19tw4

For Sale or to Rent.

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

A CONVENIENT HOUSE and lot on Sherbrook St. Apply to T. SLOMAN. d149

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE. On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, Solicitor, George Street. d84

FOR SALE.

RAG CARAETS either by private sale or by auction. Carpets wove to order at 21 to 30 cts a yard. A guarantee given with all carpets. JOHN BARCLEY, George St. four doors above Antrim St. 3 d20-4w4

TO RENT.

IN about 2 months, FIVE FIRST-CLASS TERRACE HOUSES (White Brick), two storey, seven rooms, on George street, within one minutes walk of the market. Apply to JOHN CARLISLE.

FOR SALE.

BUILDING LOTS, situated on Rubidge, Park, Townsend and Wolf Streets. No money down providing you build. Come on and get a Lot before they are all sold to the stove men. Also House and Lot, and Park Lot. Apply to the owner, JOHN BELL, Corner Wolf and Rubidge Streets. d93

Musical.

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipzig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipzig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence

DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE d1l1w6

General.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million Issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—OF FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 20 cents for Book of 150 pages GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. E. BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office.
Postal Address, Box 481. d118w2

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

T. DOLAN & CO'S

$2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

CLEARING SALE. CRYSTAL BLOCK. GREAT BARGAINS.

SWEEPING REDUCTIONS

IN ALL WINTER GOODS.

GOODS MUST BE SOLD.

H. S. GRIFFIN & CO.

Still Pushing the Trade

AT LeBRUN'S CITY CLOTHING STORE

Bargains in Overcoats, Suits, Underwear. Gents' Furnishings, Haberdashery—in fact in Everything all this month immense Bargains will be given.

H. LeBRUN.

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 23. PETERBOROUGH, FRISDAY, JANUARY 28, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

DIED.

WALLIS—At Merino, on Friday morning, 28th January, LOUISA FORBES, wife of James Wallis, Esq., in the 69th year of her age.

Funeral from Merino, the family residence, on Saturday afternoon, at 2 p.m.

PROBABILITIES.

Fresh southerly winds, partly cloudy or cloudy, mild weather, with a gradual thaw.

R. FAIR.

Now is your time to buy your Satin Dresses your Silk Dresses, your Satin Rhodames Dresses.

Ask to see our black gross grain Silk at 85c, worth $1.25 per yard.

EVENING SATINS.

Silk gloves, evening shades, Mousquitaire kid gloves. For evening wear a few more wool clouds and shawls to be cleared at a

BARGAIN.

SECURE

Some of the useful

REMNANTS,

before they are all sold, Remnants of Dress Goods, Prints, Ginghams, Flannels, Tweeds Jacket Cloths, etc., etc.

R. FAIR,

GOLDEN LION.

Legal.

A. P. POTTERTTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,

SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.

MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d113w1b

C. W. RAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.

MONEY TO LOAN. d103w1b

HATTON & WOOD.

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

E. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON.

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d41w18

W. BLACKWELL,

ARCHITECT and C. E. Plans and estimates made of Churches, Public Buildings and Dwelling Houses. Buildings superintended and Patents applied for. Heating and Plumbing a speciality. Office:—Over Telegraph Office, George street, Peterborough. d150w1

Music.

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d18

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired. Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. 1yd11

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,

AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,

FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS

AND

MUSLIN CURTAINS

AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S

Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN

OF THE

Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 28, 1887.

THE QUEBEC CRISIS.

The Government Defeated on the Election of a Speaker.

QUEBEC, Jan. 27, 3.10 p. m.—There is an immense crowd gathered in and around the Parliament buildings. The Lieutenant-Governor has just arrived and summoned the Assembly to the Council Chambers. There is intense excitement in the lobby. The Government has decided not to resign if defeated on the Speakership.

QUEBEC, Jan. 27.—Mr. Mercier's amendment moving the Hon. F. G. Marchand as Speaker was carried by 10 of a majority. The vote stood 36 to 26. There is terrible excitement.

THE MINISTRY RESIGN.

QUEBEC, Jan. 27.—The true state of the parties, according to the divisions, is twenty-nine Conservatives to thirty-six Nationalists, or with the Speaker in the chair, a majority of five for Mercier.

After the adjournment the ministers dined with Lieut. Gov. Masson and then tendered their resignation. His Honor then summoned Mr. Mercier to form a cabinet. It is now likely that the House will meet pro forma to-morrow and then adjourn to April.

Revolting Revelations.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 26.—The trial of Anderson Perry, coloured, for the murder of Emily Brown was continued in the criminal court to-day. The evidence disclosed a depth of crime unparalleled in the criminal annals of this city or state. Perry, the accused, who was employed in the dissecting department of Maryland University, it appears from the testimony, had told others he was in the habit of killing and selling the bodies of old people for dissection purposes. Ross, already mentioned, lived in the same house with Perry, and declares he was instigated by Perry to commit the murder, assuring him that nothing would ever be known of it, but after he had committed the crime he was advised by Perry to leave the city. It also appeared that Perry was to have married the mother of Ross a few days subsequent to the murder. Perry is an old man and partly paralyzed. The trial creates much excitement, and hundreds of people, mostly colored, are gathered about the court house during the sessions of the court.

Self-Invited Guests

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—A Washington special says: At the ball at the Chinese Legation on Tuesday night there was an attendance estimated at from 800 to 1,200 people. As the Chinese minister had sent invitations to but 400, he was naturally astonished at the number of the guests. Having obtained admission, the self-invited guests appear to have behaved in an appallingly vulgar fashion. When the dining room was thrown open there was a disgraceful scramble for positions at the refreshment table. The guests of Chang Yeu Hoon acted as though they had not tasted food in days. The Washington Critic observed editorially that "The simile of hogs at a trough, coarse as it is in language and suggestion, is said to fit the occasion more appropriately than any other."

GET Culver's Cough Balsam—a terror to coughs and colds.—Try it! Sold by G. A. SHERIN, Floral Drug Store. (Market.)

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

CONTINUATION OF JANUARY JANUARY SESSION BUSINESS.

How the Ex-Warden and Treasurer Dined on Out of Season Game—Reports of the Committees.

FRIDAY—MORNING SESSION.

The Council resumed business in open session at half past ten o'clock. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. MOLONEY moved, seconded by Mr. WALSH,—That Mr. Kidd's name be added to the County Property and Equlization of Assessment Committees.—Carried.

APPOINTMENTS TO OFFICE.

Mr. Forster read the following report:—

The Committee on Appointments to Office beg leave to report and recommend the following appointments for the current year:—

1. That Thos. Rorke be appointed trustee of the Norwood High School.
2. That Messrs. Sanderson and Porter Preston be appointed members of the Board of Audit of criminal and county accounts.
3. That John E. Belcher be appointed County Engineer.
4. That Robt. Kincaid, M. D., be appointed gaol surgeon.
5. That H. Nesbit be appointed caretaker of the Court House and grounds.
6. That W. B. Kelly be appointed caretaker of the Mud Lake bridge.
7. That S Nicholls be appointed Game Inspector of the County at the same salary as last year.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH FORSTER,
Chairman.

County Council Chambers,
Peterborough, Jan. 27th, 1887.

Mr. MOLONEY took objection to the appointment of the Game Inspector. So far as he knew he had done nothing for his money.

Mr. KIDD said that the objection was well taken. If Mr. Nicholls did not do anything he should not be appointed.

Mr. FITZGERALD said that he was appointed at the instance of the people of the back country who wished to have the game preserved.

Mr. KIDD said that himself and the Treasurer had a meal of venison decidedly out of season.

The TREASURER—He said it was mutton. (Laughter.)

Mr. KIDD—But we decided that it was good venison.

Mr. MOLONEY moved, seconded by Mr. KIDD,—That the office be done away with.—Carried.

SCHOOLS.

Mr. WALSH read the following report:—

The Committee on Schools beg leave to report: Your Committee beg leave to recommend:

(1) That the report of the County Judge, County School Inspector and the Warden of 1886 appointed arbitrators, to consider the complaint of Angus Davidson and others against the resolution of the Council of North Monaghan be received and confirmed.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

JOHN WALSH,
Chairman.

PRINTING.

The report on printing was read by the Sessional Clerk as follows:

(1) That convictions by Police Magistrate be not hereafter published in any newspaper but that all other convictions required by law to be published be printed by the Norwood Register at published tariff rates.

(2) That the printing of the assessment schedules be given to the Peterborough Times at the same price as paid last year, the paper for the schedules to be subject to the approval of the County Clerk, and to be in quality equal to No. 2 book paper, the word municipality to be substituted for the word township in the first line of the schedule.

(3) That all the other County printing be divided by the Clerk between the Examiner and the REVIEW in the same way and at the same rates for the work as was paid last year.

(4) That the Clerk be instructed to procure each year 500 copies of the Public chool Inspector's report, and to forward to the Secretary-Treasurer of each school section in the County four copies of same for each such school section.

All of which is repectfully submitted.

R. C. STRICKLAND.
Chairman.

County Council Chamber, Peterborough, Jan. 28th, 1887.

COUNTY PROPERTY.

The Sessional Clerk read the following report:—

The Committee on County Property beg leave to report:

1. Your Committee recommend that the report of the County Engineer as to the alterations of the old gaol and court house be received and adopted.
2. Your Committee recommend that the Warden the Reeve of Smith and Reeve of Ashburnham be continued as a committee to complete the alterations of the court house so as to provide offices for the Judge and Clerk of the Peace, according to the plans for that purpose by the County Engineer.
3. Your Committee recommend that the Warden and the Reeves of Smith and Ashburnham be a committee to fix up rooms for the Turnkey at an expense of not more than $75.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

MICHAEL SANDERSON,
Chairman.

County Council Chamber,
Peterborough, Jan. 28th, 1887.

PETITIONS.

The report of the Committee on Petitions was read by the Sessional Clerk as follows:—

The Committee on Petitions beg leave to report as follows:

1. That no action be taken with reference to the communication of the County Council of the County of Norfolk, asking this Council to pass a resolution in favor of the repeal of the Scott Act.
2. That no action be taken with reference to the communication of the City Clerk of Kingston asking this council to memorialize the Ontario Government to establish in Kingston a school of practical science.
3. Your Committee recommend that this Council memorialize the Dominion Government to fix the standard of a barrel of salt, making it the legal weight of five bushels or 280 pounds, and that the weight be stamped on the barrel.
4. That no action be taken with reference to the communication of the County Clerk of Frontenac, recommending an amendment to the law so that County Councils should have an independent power of appointing an officer or officers to enforce or carry out the provisions of the Canada Temperance Act.
5. That no action be taken with reference to the communication from the Canada Land Law Amendment Association asking that the Provincial Government be petitioned to extend the Farmers Land Act to this county.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

JOHN LANG.
Chairman.

BY-LAW.

A by-law confirming the appointment of J. J. Hall and F. J. Bell as auditors, was passed.

The Council adjourned.

The Second Meeting.

Mr. Cox held his second meeting on Thursday night, at the Ennismore Cross. In his opening speech, Mr. Cox made but few remarks and introduced Mr. Bertram and Mr. Ryan, who, he said, would express his views on the public questions more ably than he could himself. Mr. Bertram again exposed the "iniquity" of the National Policy, and endeavored to stir up religious feelings over the post office and the execution of Louis Reil'saying that the Government was blameworthy on account of Riel's execution. Mr. John O'Meara, who was allowed half an hour, was warmly received. He defended the Government's tariff policy briefly, and also their action in the Riel matter. He severely condemned the action of Mr. Bertram and Mr. Ryan in trying to introduce religious questions into this contest. Mr. W. H. Moore, in a half address, exposed the fallacies of Mr. Bertram's arguments on the National Policy, and overset Mr. Bertram with it coming that night, for the first time, an advocate of the Phelan site for the post office. He challenged Mr. Bertram to deny by affidavit that he had said he would stump the country against Mr. Mowat on account of Mr. Morrow being appointed Registrar. He asked Mr. Cox of the views expressed by Mr. Bertram and Mr. Ryan, on the National Policy, Riel, etc., were really his (Mr. Cox's) views, and after repeating the questions several times and receiving no answer, he said no doubt Mr. Cox would give an explanation in his closing speech. He asked the electors to support Mr. Stevenson, whose straightforward course in all questions recommended him to them. He was liberally applauded on resuming his seat. Mr. Peter Ryan held forth on Government extravagance, and strongly denounced the Government for the execution of Louis Riel, which, he asserted, was done solely for the purpose of placating the Orangemen. He challenged Mr. O'Meara to repeat in Peterborough his defence of the Government for hanging Riel. Mr. O'Meara replied that he would do so if Mr. Ryan would go with him into Smith and Monaghan and repeat what he (Mr. Ryan) had said to-night. Mr. Ryan touched briefly on Home Rule for Ireland and wound up in his usual manner. Mr. Cox did not follow his course of the previous evening, and the course usually followed by candidates, of closing the meeting with a closing speech, and thus avoided answering Mr. Moore's questions. The meeting closed with cheers for the Queen, Mr. Cox and Mr. Stevenson.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

COUNCIL MEETING.—The members elect, except Mr. Johnston, met on Monday, Jan. 17th, and took the declaration of qualification and office as follows:—Joseph Forster, Reeve; Councillors William Brownscombe, Robert Dunlop and John McIntosh. Messrs. W. J. Sherwood and Thomas M. Hunter were appointed auditors. On motion of Mr. Dunlop, seconded by Mr. McIntosh,—The following accounts were ordered to be paid:—

Alfred McDonald, for cedar	$ 11 58
Review Printing Co., printing, &c.	28 66
James Brown, cedar for culverts	4 20
William Fowler, wood for Town Hall	4 00
Henry Baker, 7 weeks' keep of Joseph Garrett	9 00
George Stethem, nails	1 81

The Reeve and Mr. Brownscombe were instructed to purchase a suit of clothes for Joseph Garrett. The Council adjourned till the 13th day of February next, then to meet to appoint certain township officers, and transact other township business.

FROM ALL OVER.

The French have evacuated Tamatave, in Madagascar.

The U. S. Cabinet is said to be in thorough sympathy with the Senate legislation on the fisheries question.

The Royal Commission on Railways held its tenth and final session in Montreal on Tuesday.

Colonel Fred. E. Denison has received the Conservative nomination for West Toronto.

Hon. L. R. Church has been appointed to the vacancy on the Quebec bench, caused by the death of Judge Ramsay.

The book of selections has been expelled from the schools in Holstein and the union school sections of London and Missouri, and the whole Bible substituted.

Benjamin Hagaman, of Thorold, Ont., is under arrest in San Francisco on the charge of embezzling $15,000 from his employer, Sir William Hoeland, of Toronto. Government Detective Murpay has started for San Francisco to secure Hagaman's extradition.

"MURDER."

A Father's Brutal Attempt to Kill His Daughter.

Shortly after midnight on Thursday morning a cry of "murder," uttered by a woman's voice in No. 150 Ottawa street, Montreal, startled the whole neighborhood, and soon crowds of sympathetic and curious neighbors blocked the street from sidewalk to sidewalk. The house is occupied by Mr. Michael Kelly and his wife on the second floor, and Mrs. Kelly's parents, John Clark and Mary Clark, on the third floor. Immediately after the cry was heard Constable O'Neill, who lives in the next house, hurried to No. 150, broke open the door and effected his passage to the third floor from whence he heard a suppressed moan. When he opened the door of one of the apartments he beheld a scene that can hardly be described in all its shocking details. Mrs. Kelly, a young woman, was lying on the floor in a pool of blood which flowed from her left side; aside of her stood her father looking at her in cold blooded manner, and on the floor lay a butcher's knife. The constable immediately comprehended the case and made an attempt to arrest the old man He, however, fought like a tiger so that O'Neil called for help from No. 7 station. Constable Sheehan and Sullivan arrived and effected the would be murderer's arrest. Dr. Rodier was immediately called and ascertained that the knife had pierced the unfortunate woman's left breast and reached the lungs, as the copious hemorrhage indicated. Feeble as Mrs. Kelly had grown from loss of blood she still managed to explain the event, uttering syllable after syllable in a broken voice. Her father, she said, had been drinking since New Year's Day, but never became really intoxicated, and when he came home after his usual spree in the evening, he would make so much noise overhead that she could not sleep. On Wednesday night she finally made up her mind to remonstrate with him on that account, went up stairs and told him to stop his noise, when he deliberately turned around and dived a knife with which he was chopping kindling wood into her side. Dr. Roy also was called in and advised that a priest be called. Father Caron, C. S. S. R., came and administered the last rites of the Catholic church.

When the unnatural father was brought before the Police Magistrate on Thursday, he appeared to be very unconcerned and to the question whether he pleaded guilty or not, he responded guilty, but said that he had committed his foul deed in a paroxysm of anger. The doctors give no hope to Mrs. Kelly.—Star.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Opening of the Session—The Speech from the Throne.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—As early as 8 o'clock this morning the members began to arrive in the House of Commons so as to secure good seats. The first to appear was Mr. Selwyn, Conservative member for Cambridgeshire. The scenes at the opening of Parliament were duller that usual. The crowds about the building showed little if any enthusiasm, and the members were evidently uncertain as regard to future. Lord Randolph Churchill, when he first entered the House, tried to take the coveted seat below the gangway which he formerly occupied. He found that he had been forestalled by Rt. Hon. Henry Chaplin, whose hat was on the seat. Lord Randolph lifted the hat, examined it critically, read Chaplin's card for a minute, then smiled and took a back seat. It is notorious that feud exists between Lord Randolph and Mr. Chaplin.

The speech from the throne, after touching on the Bulgarian and Egyptian questions, and referring to brigandage in Burmah went on;

The condition of Ireland still requires your anxious attention. Grave crimes in that country have happily been rarer in the last few months than during a similiar period of the proceeding year. But the relations between the owners and occupiers of the land which in early autumn exhibited signs of improvment have since been seriously disturbed in some districts by organized attempts to incite the latter class to combine against a fulfilment of their legal obligations. The efforts of the Government to cope with this evil have been seriously impeded by difficulties incident to the method at present prescribed by statute for dealing with such offences. Your early attention will be called to proposals for the reform of legal procedure which seems necessary to secure prompt and efficient administration of criminal law."

This is the most important part of the speech, which ends by promising local government bills for Ireland and Scotland, and suggests a bill for altering the mode of levying of tithes.

The Parnellites, after the reading of the Queen's speech, held a conference and discussed the advisability of offering an amendment to the address in reply to it. They adjourned without coming to a decision.

W. H. Smith, First Lord of the Treasury, gave notice of the Government's intention to introduce measures for the reform of the rules of Parliamentary procedure and said he would ask for facilities for giving precedence to the consideration of these measures so that they may be at once discussed from day to day.

Mr. Gladstone reached the House at 4.30 o'clock. He was greeted with great enthusiasm by the people on the way from his residence

Mr. Parnell entered the House and reached his seat unobserved.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive at least to try one bottle, as 70,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents, Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada. d50

LATEST CABLE NEWS

RUSSIAN ENCROACHMENT.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Chinese officials in the Mengata district, on the Amoor river, report further serious encroachments by Russians, especially in the Waukun gold fields.

CAUSED BY ANARCHISTS.

BERNE, Jan. 27.—The origin of the recent great fire at Yverdon, Switzerland, has been traced to Anarchists, who set fire to many buildings with the object of making labor for unemployed persons.

BULL BAITING.

PARIS, Jan 27.—The bull baiting fetes at Paris have been a financial failure. MM. Clemenceau and Cassagnac have asked the Government to allow a second exhibition of the sport, but the permission was refused.

A NEW ENGLISH OPERA.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The new opera "Nordisa," the libretto and music of which is by the English composer Corder, was performed at Liverpool last night under the direction of Carl Rosa with great success. Mr. Tenor Scovil took the leading roll.

EVICTIONS DEFERRED.

DUBLIN, Jan. 27.—Owing to the inclement weather, the intended evictions at Glenbeig were deferred. Mr. Harrington to day denied that members of parliament had influenced the tenants to pay their rents.

REDUCTION OF RENT.

DUBLIN, Jan. 27.—The sub-commissioners under the Land Act are granting 25 to 30 per cent. reduction on the judicial rents in Limerick. The result is a rush of farmers applying for a readjustment of their rents. It is expected that more commissioners will have to be appointed owing to the additional labor thus imposed.

COMPARISON OF RENTS.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Duke of Argyle writes to the Standard, contending that thousands of English artisans pay double and treble as much as the Irish for their homes alone, the Irish having the advantage of producing enough to feed their families half the year.

WILL NOT RUN.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Sir George Trevelyan refuses to contest Antrim for several reasons, and he does not desire it sit for a Belfast constituency.

SELLING THEIR EFFECTS.

MITCHELLSTOWN, Jan 27.—The tradesmen and tenants on the Kingston estate have unanimously decided to sell their houses, furniture and stock in order to avoid seizure. They further intend to compel the landlord to incur the utmost legal cost by appealing against the writs.

THE LATE LORD IDDESLEIGH.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Marquis of Salisbury referred to the death of Lord Iddesleigh in the House of Lords this evening. He said: "His death left in my mind an impression which can never be effaced. It has brought home to me keenly the truth of the reflection 'what shadows we pursue.' He was probably more beloved than any statesman of our time. His gentle temper and unfailing courtesy and spirit of cheerfulness made him universally appreciated."

CHURCHILL EXPLAINS.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—In the Commons Lord Randolph Churchill entered upon an explanation of the reasons which lead him to resign the Chancellorship of the Exchequer. He said he retired because the Government naval and military estimates exceeded $31,000,000, without counting the large supplementary estimates. He insisted on having these estimates reduced, but his colleagues refused to cut them down, "although," added Lord Randolph, "I had been urging economy ever since August." Lord Randolph then referred to the Government's foreign policy and declared amid loud Opposition cheers: "I also object to the Government's policy of needless interference in the affairs of other nations." Continuing, Lord Randolph said he wrote to Lord Salisbury complaining of the excessive estimates. The Premier answered that he deemed the estimates moderate, and referred to the danger of war and the necessity of protecting the coaling stations of the Empire. In conclusion Lord Randolph, whose speech lasted forty minutes, quoted from his last letter to Lord Salisbury the statement that he left the Cabinet with regret, but without misgiving or hesitation.

PARNELL'S AMENDMENT.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Mr. Parnell has drafted an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne, raising the agrarian question in a general form.

EFFECT OF WAR RUMORS.

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—The Bourse to-day was flat. There were heavy sales of Hungarian and Austrian rentes, and other securities fell in sympathy with these, there being a general decline of 1 per cent. Austrian credit fell four marks.

Deliberate Murder.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Early this morning John Watts, a well known character about the docks, entered Wilson's liquor store, corner of South Water and Clark streets, accompanied by a male companion and two women. The quartette entered a wine room in the rear. Shortly afterwards three men entered the saloon, one of whom had a badly bruised face and eyes. This one listened at the door of the wine room, and then, turning to his companions, said:—"Now I'm going to do him up." With that he drew a long dirk and stepped to the wine room door. Pushing it open, he saw John Watts sitting with his back to him, and without a word of warning, the murderer bent over the unsuspecting man's shoulder and plunged the dagger up to the hilt into his heart. Jerking his weapon out he ran through the door, followed by his chums, and escaped. Watts rolled from his chair, with a wine glass clutched between his fingers, and died. His friend immediately left the saloon, but the women were locked in a cell at the armory, where they are playing drunk and feigning ignorance of the whole transaction.

Cabinet Changes.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—The expected Cabinet changes took place at the meeting this afternoon. Sir Charles Tupper enters the Cabinet as Minister of Finance. Hon. Mr. McLelan leaves the finance office and becomes Postmaster-General, relinquished by Sir Alexander Campbell on account of ill-health.

THE DAILY EVENING REVIEW is delivered to subscribers at 10 cents a week.

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d12

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 28, 1887.

THE C. P. R. CONNECTIONS.

In terming the C. P. R. a dead issue, Mr. Blake and his supporters confess that they cannot deny the statesmanship of the Conservative leaders in securing the speedy construction of our great national highway from ocean to ocean, or their own short-sighted folly and want of patriotism in thwarting and opposing it to the best of their limited ability. They never allow that an issue is dead so long as they can hope even by misrepresentation to turn it to the disadvantage of their political opponents, for even when it is dead they "resurrect" it, if it can be utilized as a scarecrow. They wish the C. P. R. to be considered a dead issue simply because the mere mention of it excites in the minds of the people of Canada a feeling of gratitude towards those to whom they owe this great improvement, this cause for national pride, while at the same time it awakens their feeling of contemptuous distaste for those who so bitterly opposed it and so foolishly denounced it as foredoomed to failure. This feeling of gratitude is in itself one good reason why the people of Canada should support those who have served their interests so well. If we accept the definition that "gratitude is a lively sense of favours to come," this reason should have even greater weight, for the C.P.R., like the N.P., is but a portion of a wide and consistent policy for the development of our country and its resources, so that from the friends of such a policy fresh benefits may be confidently expected in the future.

Neither is the C. P. R. a dead issue in the sense that the question of supporting or opposing it is now settled beyond recall. Those who for years could not speak of the C. P. R. without a jibe or hear it mentioned without a sneer, cannot be expected to forget their hostility all at once. And such a hostile feeling might still work mischief if those feeling it were rashly entrusted with power. To say nothing of contemplated extensions on land, some of them of especial importance for Peterborough, the C. P. R. has in view the establishment of marine connections that will tend to open to us the civilized countries of the old world on the one hand and the commerce of Eastern Asia and Australia on the other. This would make our great route one of the chief channels of the commerce of the world. Already the mother country has recognized its great advantages, in an imperial point of view, and as it is extended will be still more strongly impressed with its capabilities. Already it has attracted to us the favorable attention of the civilized world, sure to be augmented as the system is completed. All this is to our manifest advantage in many ways, and the people of Canada would be foolish indeed to trust with power those who would take a mischievous pleasure in gratifying their hostility by thwarting instead of encouraging its development.

THEIR MOUTHPIECE.

If any reasonable man could have a doubt of the hollowness of Mr. Cox's "protectionist" dodge, it would now be removed by his choice of an advocate. At the first public meeting held by Mr. Cox his mouthpiece has been Mr. Bertram, whose chief theme was abuse of the National Policy and of those who support it. Mr. Bertram has always been a bitter enemy of a tariff framed to protect Canadian industries, and this fact alone would have prevented Mr. Cox from procuring the services of such an orator, if there were a particle of sincerity in his private professions of sympathy with protection while canvassing manufacturers or working men. But more than that Mr. Cox sat close by while Mr. Bertram abused the Conservatives for adopting the N. P without uttering an expression of dissent, without repudiating the censure of the Conservative leaders for their wise policy, as Mr. Cox now professes to believe it is. If he has any sympathy with protection for Canadian industries, it is evidently of such a luke-warm nature as not to render him unwilling to hear his political opponents accused of fraud, dishonesty, and incompetency for the very course which Mr. Cox now professedly approves. Is it not clear therefore that his professions are a mere electioneering trick, or that his convictions have so little weight with him as to yield completely to political expediency?

These remarks apply in some measure to the Grit candidate in the East Riding. Mr. Lang also sat silent on the platform while Mr. Bertram on his behalf was denouncing the N. P. and vilifying its friends. Mr. Lang, like Mr. Cox, evidently cannot be expected to remonstrate with their political leaders for their policy of hostility to Canadian industries, when they dare not even check their own advocate, or care not to do so.

In Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Burnham the electors of West and East Peterborough have candidates who are no such masked enemies or luke warm friends of our industries, who are zealous and outspoken advocates of a tariff that is framed in the interest of Canadian workingmen, not of foreigners, and who are supporters of an Administration which has adopted this wise, patriotic and beneficial policy.

NEVER has any journal that possessed even a rag of a character been visited with such general reprobation as the Globe in regard to its vile slander as to Sir John Macdonald's sanity. Not only the Conservative journals, but the bulk of the independent press, and even some Reform newspapers, have severely but fittingly denounced this dastardly outrage. Yet the Globe persists in its ruffianism and even makes the matter worse by its pretended explanations, which are but repetitions of its offence. We have not yet seen Mr. Blake's repudiation of his organ's conduct.

IN Ennismore Mr. Cox told the electors at a public meeting that all his property was in the West Riding and nearly all in the town of Peterborough. If so he must either have sold his property in Toronto very recently, or must have indulged in very unjustifiable boasting when he bragged of its value and excellence as an investment.

Jewellery Store Robbed.

MONTREAL, Jan 25—The store of Napoleon Lefebvre, jewellery on Notre Dame street, was robbed last evening of ninety-seven gold rings and twelve silver watches under singular circumstances. There were two clerks, Chas. Archambault and M. Belanger, in the store. At about half-past six o'clock, previous to going to supper, Archambault went down into the cellar to get some coal for the stove. When he returned he found his companion sleeping in a chair behind the counter, one of the showcase doors opened and the rings and watches missing. A detective was immediately notified, but no clue to the robbers has been obtained as yet. One ring has since been found lying on the sidewalk of St. Gabriel street. A man named Joseph Valiett, living at No 363 Hypolite street, came to an east end jeweller and stated that he found a ring and wished to know its value. Chas Archambault, Mr. Lefebvre's clerk, just then came in and identified the ring as one of the stolen ones. It is only two years ago Mr. Lefebvre lost $18,000 worth of jewellery by a midnight robbery. The perpetrators were never found, and only $8,000 worth of the stolen goods were recovered. The entire loss amounts to about $3,000.

A Disreputable Lot.

A distinguished literary man of Oakland stood up in the police court to answer to the usual charge of vagrancy.

"I object, your honor," he said with dignity, "to this persecution of gentlemen who follow the profession of letters, and—"

"I understand," interrupted the judge, "that you were found sleeping under a doorway; that you have no visible means of support, and that you have been seen under the influence of liquor."

"What of it?" cried the prisoner. "Though I am as poor as Richard Savage, when he made his bed in the ashes of a glass factory; as drunken as Dick Steele, who was full nine-tenths of his time; as ragged as Goldsmith when he was on his fiddling tour; as immoral as Byron, as dirty as Sam Johnson, as—"

"There, there!" cried his honor, impatiently, "I have no doubt your associates are a disreputable lot, and I shall deal with you in such a manner as to cause them to give Oakland a wide berth. Sixty days with hard labor. Mr. Clerk, furnish the constable with the names of the vagabonds mentioned by the prisoner."—San Francisco Post.

Action by the Maine Legislature.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 27.—The House yesterday, under the suspension of the rules, adopted a preamble reciting the grievances of our fishermen, and the following resolutions:—

Resolved,—That if the Canadian Government shall continue to refuse redress and pursue such a hostile course the Legislature of Maine, now in session, favors the retaliatory legislation proposed in Congress by the Government of the United States to the extent, if need be, of denying to Canadian vessels in American ports the right to purchase supplies, and the further exclusion of all Canadian products by land or sea from being imported into or passed through the United States until such offensive legislation and interpretation of existing treaties and the violation of national comity shall have been withdrawn and discontinued.

Resolved,—That a copy of this preamble and resolution be forwarded to our senators and representatives in Congress and by them to be laid before their respective bodies.

Lives Lost.

HALIFAX, N.S., Jan. 26.—The schooner C. Graham, from Bermuda, was driven ashore in Monday night's hurricane at West Dover and dashed to pieces. Captain Coleridge and all of the crew of six men, with possibly some passengers, were drowned. The shore is strewn with debris. She was owned by C. M Creed, and insured for $1,500. West Dover is near the entrance of Halifax harbor.

A decree of divorce was granted on Wednesday in London against Edward Solomon, composer, the reputed husband of Lillian Russell, in favor of Lilly Grey, on the ground of adultery.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

The Two Cardinals.

NEW YORK, Jan 27.—Cardinal Gibbons arrived here last night. Cardinal Taschereau arrived to-day. They and Archbishops Corrigan, Ryan and Williams will dine at the Archiepiscopal Palace to-day and the two Cardinals will sail for Rome on Saturday.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we life in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health, but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Billousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. d90

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

DON'T FORGET

TO CALL AND SEE

D. SMART'S

SUPERB STOCK OF

Sewing Machines, Pianos, Organs, & Sheet Music.

We Cannot be Undersold.

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. E. BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office
Postal Address, Box 331. d118w2

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WARERROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

Business Men Attention.

WE CAN NOW OFFER several first-class positions to Advertisers in the REVIEW, and, as there is always a rush at the beginning of the year, in order that the best positions may be obtained, business men will do well to call immediately and secure their space for 1887.

During the present year renewed efforts will be made to make the REVIEW still more a thoroughly efficient medium whereby the Merchants and others can put and keep themselves prominently before the public. Extra precaution will be taken, and the best taste will be displayed in getting up all advertisements intrusted to us for publication, and in other respects as well, the "shrewd" business man will do well to patronize the columns of the

Daily and Weekly

Review

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skillful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books' Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.
SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.
OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.
DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.
LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Raisins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Receipts prepared with care and despatch. d87

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 25 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY

JOHN NUGENT

Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont.
FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 19 Maryland Road, Harrow Road, London, England.
(Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)

No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d88w2

Xmas Comes But Once a Year

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 2 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 15c.

To every purchaser of one pound of our 50c. tea, 3 lbs. of Raisins for 15c.

We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

BY HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

CHAPTER III.

In the spring of 1865 I went down to Bournemouth, to see for the last time an old friend who was dying of consumption. During a great part of the journey down I had for a traveling companion a well-dressed, gentlemanly man of about 40 years of age. We were alone in the compartment, and after interchanging some small civilities, such as the barter of newspapers, slid into conversation.

My fellow traveler seemed to be an intellectual man, and well posted up in the doings of the day. He talked fluently and easily on various topics, and, judging by his talk, must have moved in good society. Although I fancied his features bore traces of hard living and dissipation, he was not unprepossessing in appearance. The greatest faults in his face were the remarkable thinness of his lips, and his eyes being a shade closer together than one cares to see. With a casual acquaintance such peculiarities are of little moment, but for my part I should not choose one who possessed them for a friend without due trial and searching proof.

At this time the English public were much interested in an important will case which was now being tried. The reversion to a vast sum of money depended upon the testator's sanity or insanity. Like most other people, we daily discussed the matter. I suppose, from some of my remarks, my companion understood that I was a doctor. He asked me a good many technical questions, and I described several curious cases of mania which had come under my notice. He seemed greatly interested in the subject.

"You must sometimes find it hard to say where sanity ends and insanity begins," he said, thoughtfully.

"Yes. The boundary line is in some instances hard to define. To give in such a dubious case an opinion which would satisfy myself I should want to have known the patient at the time he was considered quite sane."

"To mark the difference?"

"Exactly. And to know the bent of the character. For instance, there is a friend of mine. He was perfectly sane when last I saw him, but for all I know he may have made great progress the other way in the interval."

Then, without mentioning names, dates or places, I described Carriston's peculiar disposition to my intelligent listener. He heard me with rapt interest.

"You predict he will go mad?" he said.

"Certainly not. Unless anything unforeseen arises he will probably live and die as sane as you or I."

"Why did you fear for him, then?"

"For this reason: I think that any sudden emotion—violent grief, for instance—any unexpected and crushing blow, might at once disturb the balance of his mind. Let his life run on in an even groove, and all will be well with him."

My companion was silent for a few moments.

"Did you mention your friend's name?" he asked.

I laughed. "Doctors never give names when they quote cases."

At the next station my companion left the train. He bade me a polite adieu, and thanked me for the pleasure my conversation had given him. After wondering what station in life he occupied I dismissed him from my mind, as one who had crossed my path for a short time and would probably never cross it again.

Although I did not see Charles Carriston I received several letters from him during the course of the year. He had not forgotten our undertaking to pass my next holiday together. Early in the autumn, just as I was beginning to long with a passionate longing for open air and blue skies, a letter came from Carriston. He was now, he said, roughing it in the Western Highlands. He reminded me of last year's promise. Could I get away from work now? Would I join him? If I did not care to visit Scotland, would I suggest some other place where he could join me? Still, the scenery by which he was now surrounded was superb, and the accommodation he had secured, if not luxurious, fairly comfortable. He thought he could not do better. A postscript to his letter asked me to address him as Cecil Carr, not Charles Carriston. He had a reason for changing his name—a foolish reason, I should no doubt call it. When we met he would let me know it.

This letter at once decided me to accept his invitation. In a week's time my arrangements for leave of absence were complete, and I was speeding northward in the highest spirits, and well equipped with everything necessary for my favorite holiday pursuit. I looked forward with the greatest pleasure to again meeting Carriston. I found him at Callendar waiting for me. The coach did not follow the route we were obliged to take in order to reach the somewhat unfrequented part of the country in which our tent was pitched, so my friend had secured the services of a primitive vehicle and a strong, shaggy pony to bear us the remainder of the journey.

So soon as our first hearty greetings were over, I proceeded to ascertain how the last year had treated Carriston. I was both delighted and astonished at the great change for the better which had taken place in his manner no less than his appearance. He looked far more robust; he seemed happier, brighter—altogether more like ordinary humanity. Not only had he greeted me with almost boisterous glee, but during our drive through the wonderful scenery he was in the gayest spirits and full of fun and anecdote. I congratulated him heartily upon the marked improvement in his health, both mentally and physically.

"Yes, I am much better," he said. "I followed a part of your advice—gave up moping, tried constant change of scene, interested myself in many more things. I am quite a different man."

"No supernatural visitations?" I asked, anxious to learn that his cure in that direction was complete.

His face fell. He hesitated a second before answering.

"No—not now," he said. "I fought against the strange feeling, and I believe have got rid of it—at least I hope so."

I said no more on the subject. Carriston plunged into a series of vivid and mimetic descriptions of the varieties of Scotch character which he had met with during his tour. He detailed his experiments in shooting so amusingly that I laughed heartily for many a mile.

"But why the change in your name?" I asked, when he paused for a moment in his merry talk.

He blushed, and looked rather ashamed. "I scarcely like to tell you; you will think my reason so absurd."

"Never mind. I don't judge you by the ordinary standard."

"Well, the fact is, my cousin is also in Scotland. I feared if I gave my true name at the hotel at which I stayed on my way here he might by chance see it, and look me up in these wild regions."

"Well, and what if he did?"

"I can't tell you. I hate to know I feel like it. But I have always, perhaps without cause, been afraid of him—and this place is horribly lonely."

Now that I understood the meaning of his words I thought the boy must be joking; but the grave look on his face showed he was never farther from merriment.

"Why, Carriston," I cried, "you are positively ridiculous about your cousin. You can't think the man wants to murder you."

"I don't know what I think. I am saying things to you which I ought not to say; but every time I meet him I feel he hates me, and wishes me out of the world."

"Between wishing and doing there is a great difference. I dare say all this is fancy on your part."

"Perhaps so. Anyway Cecil Carr is as good a name up here as Charles Carriston, so please humor my whim and say no more about it."

As it made no difference to me by what name he chose to call himself, I dropped the subject. I knew of old that some of his strange prejudices were proof against anything I could do to remove them.

At last we reached our temporary abode. It was a substantial, low-built house, owned and inhabited by a thrifty middle-aged widow, who, although well-to-do, so far as the simple ideas of her neighbors went, was nevertheless always willing to add to her resources by accommodating such stray tourists as wished to bury themselves for a day or two in solitude, or artists who, like ourselves, preferred to enjoy the beauties of Nature undisturbed by the usual ebbing and flowing stream of sightseers.

As Carriston asserted, the accommodation, if homely, was good enough for two single men; the fare was plentiful, and our rooms were the picture of cleanliness. After a cursory inspection I felt sure that I could for a few weeks make myself very happy in these quarters.

I had not been twenty-four hours in the house before I found out one reason for the great change for the better in Charles Carriston's demeanor; knew why his step was lighter, his eye brighter, his voice gayer, and his whole bearing altered. Whether the reason was a subject for congratulation or not I could not as yet say.

The boy was in love. In love as only a passionate, romantic, imaginative nature can be; and even then only once in a lifetime. Heedless, headstrong, impulsive, and entirely his own master, he had given his very heart and soul into the keeping of a woman.

(To be continued.)

The Faith Cure.

If you do not value your health, and your time is not worth anything, pin your faith to the "anointing oil," or the mortar from "Knock Chapel." But if you do value health, and have not time to waste in useless experiments, take Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" on the appearance of the first symptoms of consumption; which are a loss of appetite and flesh, general debility, slight, dry, hacking cough, etc. Every day you defer treating your case in a rational manner makes the disease harder to combat. Send 10 cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., for Dr. Pierce's Treatise on Consumption.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears, Sweet Florida Oranges, Malaga Grapes, new English Walnuts, Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecan Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Parties a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS,
George St., Peterborough

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you looooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established. Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Dating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

Sisters of Charity

Charity, attached to St. Mary's Infant Asylum, Dorchester, Mass., certify to the inestimable value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the treatment of sore eyes and skin diseases, among the many unfortunate children under their care. Mrs. S. D. Bodwell, Wilmington, Mass., writes concerning the treatment of her daughter, who was troubled with sore eyes, as follows: "I gave Ayer's Sarsaparilla to and must say that she never took anything that helped her so much. I think her eyes never looked so well, as now, since they were affected, and her general health is improving every day. She has taken but half a bottle." A. J. Simpson, 147 East Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "My weak eyes were made strong by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla." C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H., writes: "For a number of years I have been troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief, until I commenced using

My Little Girl,

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

may be "fairest and foremost of the train that wait on man's most dignified and happiest state," but the dignity and happiness of man cannot long endure without the health that may be obtained in a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A. W. Parker, lumber dealer, 209 Bleury street, Montreal, Que., writes: "After being troubled with Dyspepsia for a year, and with Salt Rheum

For a Number of Years,

I was cured of both diseases by using six bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla." M. G. Traine, Duxbury, Mass., writes: "I have found Ayer's Sarsaparilla an efficacious remedy for bilious troubles and Dyspepsia." Henry Cobb, 41 Russell st., Charlestown, Mass., writes: "I was completely cured of Dyspepsia, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla." Wm. Lee, Joppa, Md., writes: "I have tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and it has done me so much good that I shall always regard it as the best of blood purifiers." Eminent physicians prescribe Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

saparilla. I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers."

in all cases requiring a powerful alterative treatment.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

For sale by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5.

FITZGERALD & STANGER

Corner Brock and Water Streets

PETERBOROUGH.

THE ABOVE FIRM HAVE NOW ON HAND A LARGE STOCK OF

Buggies, Phaetons and Waggons

WHICH THEY ARE PREPARED TO SELL AT LOWEST LIVING PRICES. ALSO, A GREAT VARIETY OF

SLEIGHS & CUTTERS

IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION FOR WHICH THEY ARE PREPARED TO RECEIVE ORDERS.

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md79w4

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

d&w JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,
Ashburnham

d39

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS	$1 00
LADIES	50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG,
Manager.

1d45

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials. YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

Exceedingly Cheap

Is what every person says who has bought Groceries from us. Our Teas, Sugars and Coffees are marked low and are very good. We have a very select stock of

FRESH FAMILY GROCERIES,

Canned Goods, etc. which we are selling at rock bottom prices.

GEORGE CARTON

The People's Grocer, George Street

MARVELLOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Wholly unlike Artificial Systems—Cure of Mind Wandering—Any book learned in one reading. Prospectus, with opinions of Mr. PROCTOR, the Astronomer, Hons. W. W. ASTOR, JUDAH P. BENJAMIN, Q.C., M.P., MINOR WOOD and others, sent post FREE, by

PROF. LOISETTE,
237 Fifth Avenue, New York

JOB PRINTING!

Neatness in Style.
Moderation in Charges.
Fulfilment of Promises.
Despatch in Execution.

The REVIEW Printing Office

is prepared to execute the following, and other classes of PLAIN and FANCY WORK, in the best styles.

Posters, plain and coloured.
Programmes, in fancy styles.
Circulars, in script or plain type.
Bill-Heads, all sizes and shapes, on excellent quality of paper.
Business Cards, all sizes.
Visiting Cards, in beautiful Cards, Texts or Script Lettering.
Postal Cards, with business Notices or Memorandum Headings.
Letter Headings,
Note Headings,
Blank Cheques,
Blank Receipts,
Pamphlets,
Catalogues,
Law Blanks,

and all and every description of work required to be done in letter press.

THE

REVIEW Job Printing Department

Satisfaction given to all customers; charges are is moderate as the cost of getting up good work will allow, and are usually found satisfactory.

The REVIEW Printing Office

Is noted for its punctuality in fulfilling promises and the business men can rely of getting up work at the time agreed upon.

THE FACILITIES FOR

GETTING OUT

JOB WORK

are ample, and orders are pushed through with vigor, so that work can be got out in short time.

Orders from the Country

attended to with promptness, and the work forwarded immediately on completion.

REVIEW

Printing & Publishing Co. (Limited).

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 25 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take your LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required.

WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via O. & Q. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
10 55 p m	Toronto and West, via O. & Q. R.	6 00 p m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
8 20 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 45 p m
10 30 a m	East	5 00 p m
	Closed, including all Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)
12 00 m		6 00 a m
8 50 p m		1 30 p m
8 20 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope.	11 00 a m
5 15 p m	do do	6 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings. Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	1 15 p m
4 00 p m		12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville. Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore.	11 00 a m
2 30 p m		1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Hamtain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clyndale, Paudash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays. Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	7 30 p m
9 00 a m		6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 8 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbadoes, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxenburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamacia, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 15 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 20 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhœa, Nervous Weakness, Dizziness, Impotency, and all diseases caused by abuse, [EXCESS] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [agent] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms.

TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 28, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Ice.

The ice crop is now being harvested. Loads of crystal coldness pass up George street daily.

Piano Tuning.

Geo. Gumpmeht is in town for a few days. Orders may be left at Mr. T. Menzies' or at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's

The Italian.

The wounded Italian is still progressing favorably. He does not suffer much and it is likely that but little inflammation will ensue. Marino's preliminary trial takes place in the Police Court on Monday.

Railway Crossings.

We have been requested by a very good natured complainant, who did not seem disposed to grumble too severely, to hint to the railway authorities that the planks at the railway crossing at Downer's Corners and elsewhere need raising, as they are lower than the rails, which thus catch the runners of the sleighs. If a train were to come when a sleigh was thus stopped a bad accident might occur. This should be attended to at once.

Brown Ahead.

The Brown-Ferguson curling contest was resumed at the Charlotte Street Rink on Thursday night. The gain made by the Ferguson rink on Monday and Tuesday nights was wiped out, leaving the Brown rink 4 ahead. The scoring is as follows:—

	Ferguson.	Brown.
Monday	18	13 — 5
Tuesday	15	9 — 6
Wednesday	17	21 — 4
Thursday	20	9 — 11
	11	15

Brown's majority is 4. The play will be continued to-night.

J. B. PENTLAND Dental Rooms over J. Mills' Hat Store, George street.

Royal Templarism.

At the regular meeting of Peterborough Council of R. T. of T. on Thursday evening, Mr. James Stratton, S. C., was elected representative of the Grand Council, which will meet at St. Thomas on Feb. 8th, with Dr. Fife as alternate. A resolution was adopted pledging the Council to co-operate with the Women's Christian Temperance Union in making the temperance revival to be held in March, with the assistance of the White Bros., a success. Mr. W. W. Buchanan, of Hamilton, Grand Councillor R. T. of T., is also expected to assist in the revival. A number of members of the Auburn Council were present at the meeting, which was an interesting one.

The Bishop of Peterborough.

The Catholic Record, of London, Ont., of January 29th, contains the following:—"We are authorized by the Very Rev. Father Dowling, Vicar-General of the Diocese of Hamilton, and Bishop elect of Peterborough, to state that the official news of his appointment to the latter see having reached His Grace the Archbishop of Toronto, he desires us to thank in his name his many clerical and lay friends throughout the Dominion and the United States, who have conveyed him their congratulations on his elevation to the episcopacy. These messages of sympathetic good-will and hearty congratulation came from the heirarchy, the priesthood, old class mates, fellow pilgrims of the voyage to Rome, and numbers of kind friends and distinguished laymen. His Lordship the Bishop elect of Peterborough requests us to add that he awaited the arrival of the official news before acknowledging the kindness of his friends, which he now does with hearty gratitude to all, through the columns of the Catholic Record."

The Gaoler's Residence.

Mr. A. Rutherford, the contractor appointed to carry out the County Engineer's plans in reference to the alterations in the Court House and gaol, has completed a part of his work. He has transformed the old gaol, for some years not used, into a handsome residence for Mr. Nesbitt, the gaoler. It contains four bedrooms, a kitchen, a parlor, a dining room, a bath room, closets, and other apartments. Two breaches in the southern wall were made and from them cut stone bay windows were thrown out, commanding a beautiful view of the Otonabee, Little Lake, Ashburnham and the surrounding country. A slate roofed verandah shades the flight of stairs leading to the house from the south. The house is very handsomely finished inside, reflecting much credit on Mr. Rutherford's workmanship. Mr. Nesbitt will move to his new residence on Monday and work will be commenced to convert the western part of the Court House, south of the main entrance into chambers for the County Judge and Clerk of the Peace.

DENTAL ROOMS over J. Mills' Hat Store George street. J. B. PENTLAND.

Scott Act.

In the case of the Queen vs. Shannahan, heard this morning, a fine of $50 and costs was imposed upon the defendant.

No. 6.

No. 6 Company of the 57th Battalion held drill in the old Music Hall on Thursday evening. There was a fairly large attendance, which, Capt. Cooper hopes, will be increased at next drill.

We May Expect.

—The County Council to wind up business to-morrow.

—The Ferguson clan to appear at their best to-night.

—The Brownites to crow.

—Ashburnham people to agitate for better fire protection.

—The Italian to weather through.

—And Marino to get lighter punishment in consequence.

—The toboggan slide to continue popular.

—Large attendances at St. Paul's Church, the opera house and the rink to-night.

A Worthy Candidate.

The Toronto Standard has the following in regard to West Peterborough:—"Mr. James Stevenson, the Conservative candidate in this riding, is making a personal canvass through portions of the riding. The Conservative party were never more united, and are determined to elect their candidate. Mr. Stevenson's long connection with the riding makes him a very worthy successor to Mr. Hilliard, whose business engagements will not permit him on this occasion to be the candidate. His opponent, the Midland Railway magnate, will have an opportunity of residing permanently in Toronto."

St. Leonard's Burned.

On Thursday afternoon at about four o'clock a fire broke out in St. Leonard's, Ashburnham, the residence of Mr. J. M. Irwin. It was discovered in an upper room facing the south, and before anything could be done it had gained such headway that local efforts were useless. The alarm was telephoned to the central office and the bell was sounded without delay. The engine and hose reels were at once taken across to the village, but on account of the distance of the burning from any water supply a stream was not in play for fully have an hour. After laying all the hose they had from where the engine was stationed at the creek, toey found it was insufficient and more had to be sent for. Finally the hose came and a stream was put on, out owing to the water having to be forced up the hill all the way it was by no means powerful. In the meantime a good deal of the more valuable of the furniture was taken out. The building continued to burn till after seven o'clock. The fire protection in the eastern side of the village is about nil. Had it not been that the creek was swollen by the recent thaw no water would have been available. As it was one thousand six hundred feet of hose had to be laid to reach the fire on Thursday. St. Leonard's was one of the handsomest residences in the county. It was of Gothic style of architecture, and built in a most substantial manner. It was owned by Dr. Burritt. The loss on the building is estimated to be $10,000, which is covered by insurance in the Royal to the extent of $6 000. The loss to the furniture is covered by $2,400 insurance.

Obituary.

The Union-Democrat, of Rochester, contains the following obituary notice of an old resident of Peterborough, in its issue of Jan. 23rd:—"Edward Duffy, a former old and well-known citizen of Rochester, died at St. Cathrines, Ontario, yesterday. He had been afflicted for more than a year with dilatation of the heart, and, considering his age of 80 years, his resistance to the inevitable showed remarkable vital powers. His condition had for a long time remained unchanged. On Saturday his son, Walter B. Duffy, paid him a visit, returning home yesterday morning, and yesterday in the afternoon received a despatch announcing that death occurred at 4 o'clock. Edward Duffy was born at Dundalk, the capital of County Louth, Ireland, May 21st, 1807. He received a good education in an excellent school at Carlow, and was by his father placed in the counting house of Geo. McBride, one of the leading merchants of Dublin, to be fitted for commercial pursuits. Having passed through the regular course of instruction there, he determined to try his fortune in some distant land, and selected Demerara, British Guiana. In 1832 he came to the United States, and passing over to Canada settled at Peterborough, where he married a daughter of Col. Crawford and remained ten years. In 1842 he came to Rochester and established a business in which he prospered and from which he retired with a competency about fifteen years ago. For quite a period following retirement he enjoyed with members of his family a long visit to his native land and a tour of Europe. Since his return he had lived nearly all the time in Canada, visiting Rochester often, and spending a good portion of the time of his late illness here. Edward Duffy was esteemed and will long be remembered by our old citizens who knew him as one of nature's noblemen—honest, upright, enterprising, charitable, and every way a character to respect and admire. Deceased leaves a widow, together with a family of one son and five daughters by the wife beside whom he will be laid in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery. The son is Walter B. Duffy, and the daughters Mrs. Dr. F H. Sawers of this city; Mrs. Joseph A. Donovan, of Toronto; Mad. Mary and Josephine, Ladies of the Sacred Heart in the convent of Sault Recollette, Lower Canada; and Mad. Teresa in the convent at Manhattanville, New York."

TRY the invincible—Culvers Cough Balsam—at the Floral Drug Store.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

New Advertisements.

T. DOLAN & CO'S

$2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. 1yd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. 1yd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. 1yd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 759. Residence, Bon Accord Street. 1yd97w4

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 680; residence, Reid street, near King. 1yd97

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. 1yd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. 1yd97

W. FITZGERALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. 1yd97

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d12w23

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL, Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street, opposite St. John's Church. d12w23 1y

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Offices:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d11w2

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 20 cents for Book of 100 pages GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

STRONG SNOW SHOES

Of Large Size for Lumbermen's use just received from Three Rivers.

GEORGE STETHEM.

Wants.

WANTED.

A COOK Apply to GENERAL HAULTAIN, McDonnell St. 3d20

WANTED.

A COOK. Apply to MISS VEALS, McDonnell Street. 1d23

WANTED.

A SITUATION as clerk in an office or store by young lady, can write good plain hand. Address NELLIE GRAY, Peterborough, P. O. 1d22

WANTED.

BY A THOROUGHLY CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED PERSON, employment in the capacity of sick nurse. Apply to MRS. C. ROBINSON, Water St. north or at the REVIEW Office. d98

SOFT WOOD WANTED

500 CORDS SOFT WOOD wanted in exchange for trade, delivered at my planing mill, in quantities of 10 cords and upwards, for which the highest price will be paid. J. D. BAPTIE. 6d19tw4

LOST.

ON THURSDAY, JANUARY 27th, A LARGE YELLOW COLLIE DOG, white stripe on face. Finder will receive a reward by returning it to MR. BOOTHE at the Alexander Farm west of Mr. Jas. Edwards. 1d23

WANTED.

TOWN PROPERTY in exchange for farms. Also wanted to buy, A COMFORTABLE HOUSE centrally located at from $600 to $800, cash. Apply at once to

T. HURLEY,
Real Estate Agent
Hunter Street

For Sale or to Rent.

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

A CONVENIENT HOUSE and lot on Sherbrook St. Apply to T. SLOMAN. d149

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, Solicitor, George Street. d81

TO RENT.

IN about 2 months, FIVE FIRST-CLASS TERRACE HOUSES (White Brick), two storey, seven rooms, on George street, within one minutes walk of the market. Apply to JOHN CARLISLE.

FOR SALE.

BUILDING LOTS, situated on Rubidge, Park, Townsend and Wolf Streets. No money down providing you build. Come on and get a Lot before they are all sold to the stone men. Also House and Lot, and Park Lot. Apply to the Owner, JOHN BELL, Corner Wolf and Rubidge Streets. d98

Musical.

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipsig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipsig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence
DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE
d111w6

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE,
d104tw13 Solicitor

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. 1yd4w

Educational.

CANADA'S

Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training. $70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario.

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

E. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

WILSON DAY'S

Theatre Company

The Greatest Living Child Actress

ANNIE BIRD

At Each Performance.

TO-NIGHT,

Benefit of Annie Bird

Bob, the Newsboy

Admission 10c. Reserved Seats 25c. at Hartley's. 1d427

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, San francisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HENFEED

Small Wheat - - - - - 90c per 100 lbs.
Barley - - - - - - - 95c per 100 lbs.
Pure Wheat Spring or Fall, $1.25 per 100 lbs.

J. W. FLAVELLE,

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. SIMCOE STREET.

CLEARING SALE.

CRYSTAL BLOCK.

GREAT BARGAINS.

SWEEPING REDUCTIONS

IN ALL WINTER GOODS.

GOODS MUST BE SOLD.

H. S. GRIFFIN & CO.

Still Pushing the Trade

AT LeBRUN'S CITY CLOTHING STORE

Bargains in Overcoats, Suits, Underwear. Gents' Furnishings, Haberdashery—in fact in Everything all this month immense Bargains will be given.

H. LeBRUN.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 24. PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, JANUARY 29, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

MARRIAGE.

DEEPROSE — SIMPSON.—On Wednesday, Jan, 26th, 1887, at the George street Methodist parsonage, by the Rev. I. Tovell, MR. WILLIAM R. DEEPROSE to MISS ELLEN SIMPSON, Daughter of Mr. William Simpson, of Smith Township.

PROBABILITIES.

South-west and west winds; mostly fair, continued mild weather.

R. FAIR.

Now is your time to buy your Satin Dresses your Silk Dresses, your Satin Rhodames Dresses.

Ask to see our black gross grain Silk at 89c, worth $1.25 per yard.

EVENING SATINS.

Silk gloves, evening shades, Mousquitaire kid gloves. For evening wear a few more wool clouds and shawls to be cleared at a

BARGAIN.

SECURE

Some of the useful

REMNANTS,

before they are all sold. Remnants of Dress Goods, Prints, Ginghams, Flannels, Tweeds Jacket Cloths, etc., etc.

R. FAIR,

GOLDEN LION.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. 632w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,

SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.

MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, &c., SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c.—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d11&w13

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.

MONEY TO LOAN. d13w1b

HATTON & WOOD.

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

E. B. WOOD, B.A. C. W. HATTON.

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d1w18

W. BLACKWELL,

ARCHITECT and C. E. Plans and estimates made of Churches, Public Buildings and Dwelling Houses. Buildings superintended and Patents applied for. Heating and Plumbing a specialty. Office:—Over Telegraph Office, George street, Peterborough. d15w1

Music.

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. 1p&ll

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,

AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,

FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS

AND

MUSLIN CURTAINS

AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S

Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN

OF THE

Cróss Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 29, 1887.

THE QUEBEC CRISIS.

The local Legislature of Quebec has met and the Taillon Administration has been defeated. Of course the journals supporting Mr. Blake are claiming this as a victory of Reformers over a Conservative Government, for they do not let consideration for the truth hamper them. As a fact the majority was a coalition of Reformers and of certain Conservatives having no sympathy with the allies whom they have thus joined on any other points than their common desires for cabinet portfolios, and their objections to the execution of Riel.

The votes show that this coalition, after electing the speaker, had a majority of six. The Reformers are not only in a minority, but are less numerous than the Conservatives who have not turned their coats. The balance of power is thus held by a small but at present compact knot of discontented Conservatives, who have joined in the Riel cry, to further their efforts to obtain office for themselves.

It is obvious that the new Mercier Administration thus holds a very precarious existence. If only four of the Reilite-Conservatives became disgusted with their new alliance, the coalition Ministry would find itself in a minority. Then, as most of their seats are protested, the decisions of the courts are very likely to wipe out so slim a majority. New elections would result very differently.

As to the Provincial Legislature in Quebec affording any indication of the Dominion elections, there is no foundation for such a claim. The excitement that was fostered as to Riel is dying out, and the people of Quebec are now recognizing the tried services of their leaders, Sir H. Langevin, Mr. Chapleau and Sir A. Caron.

The temporary success of the Mercier coalition is not a Reform victory, and does not indicate one in the future.

THE SEQUENCE OF EVENTS.

MR. BLAKE is not content with his legal standing but has been spurred on by envy of some of his followers to endeavor to distinguish himself in the line of imaginative fiction. He has attempted the following new version of "The House that Jack built":—

"Let me recall to you a sequence of events. Had there been no neglect, there would have been no rebellion; if no rebellion, no arrest; if no arrest, no trial; if no trial, no condemnation; if no condemnation, no execution. They, therefore, are responsible for every link in that fatal chain."

This is not bad for a beginner, but it is not a difficult style and we will try our hand at it.

If Mr. Blake had not encouraged by corresponding with them the hidden Grit rebels and agitators in the North-West there would have been no continued agitation; if no agitation, no rebellion; if no rebellion, no arrest; if no arrest, no trial; if no trial, no condemnation; if no condemnation, no execution. Mr. Blake is therefore responsible for that cord of which the noose was so fatal to Riel.

In the same way Mr. Blake can be shown to have been guilty of all the brave volunteers killed or wounded, of the officials and priests murdered by his allies, of all the cost to the people of Canada.

A chain or cord is not stronger than its weakest part. Now, "neglect" is a very weak link for him to hang such a portentous burden as rebellion and murder upon it. His correspondence with agitators fomenting rebellion is a far stronger initial link for us to connect him with the terrible result. Neglect if proved is blameworthy, but it is a very light offence as compared with encouraging rebellion. By the bye why does Mr. Blake hesitate so long to give that correspondence to the public?

THE FISHERIES DISPUTE.

Canadian Rights to be Protected—Hope of a Settlement.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The subject of the dispute between the United States and Great Britain in regard to the Canadian fisheries was brought up in the House of Commons this afternoon.

Sir James Ferguson, parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, in answer to enquiries, said the Government had been conferring with the Government of the United States on the question. The Canadian fisheries, he said, were very valuable, and the Government had followed the policy concerning them which had been adopted by preceding governments and would maintain the rights of the colonists with every desire to conciliate the United States.

The Government were unable at present to narrate the whole course of the negotiations with the United States, but could state that despatches had been received, which were of a pacific character, and afforded material ground for a hope of a final settlement of the dispute.

MR. SMITH'S STATEMENT.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—In the House of Commons last night Right Hon. W. H. Smith, replying to Mr. Glanstone's speech, justified the defensive estimates. The Cabinet, he said, had instructed Sir William White, the Minister to Turkey, that it was their desire to uphold the freedom of Bulgaria consistent with the Treaty of Berlin, and with due satisfaction to Russia. Proceeding to the fishery question, he assured the House that the Government was most anxious to do everything in its power to effect a satisfactory settlement of the dispute. (Cheers.) The Dominion had assumed a most moderate attitude on the subject, said the speaker. The policy of England had ever been to maintain its colonial rights, but in this case there were two countries honestly desirous of arriving at a settlement, and no effort would be spared on the part of the Governmont to effect that settlement in a fair, equitable and amicable spirit. (Cheers.)

QUEBEC POLITICS.

Formal Proceeding—Adjournment of the Assembly.

QUEBEC, January 28.—The House reassembled at three o'clock this afternoon. The members were summoned to the Council Chamber, where Mr. Marchand announced his election as Speaker. The Lieut.-Governor informed the Assembly that the speech from the Throne would be delivered on Wednesday, February 2nd.

After some formal business, the House, on motion of Hon. Mr. Taillon, was adjourned until Wednesday, February 2nd, at three o'clock in the afternoon.

At the Conservative caucus Mr. Taillon was elected leader of the Opposition and Mr. Owens and Mr. Leblanc whips. There was a great deal of enthusiasm and cheering.

Mr. Cameron's friends among the Liberals are making a strong effort to have him taken into the cabinet.

The Governor has refused his sanction to the appointments made by the Taillon ministry, and only appointed Mr. LaBruere Speaker of the council during his pleasure.

The House will adjourn to-day until Monday, because, while the personnel of the Ministry is decided, there are disputes as to the positions. Mr. McShane wants the portfolio of Agriculture and Public Works.

MR. COX AND THE MIDLAND RAILWAY.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—When a man becomes a candidate for a public office, and puts his claims to support for it on a particular public service performed by him, it becomes quite fair, I believe, to discuss the fitness of such claims.

For this reason I would call attention to the fact that Mr. Cox has approached many of the electors and asked their votes at the approaching election on the ground of the great benefits he conferred on the Town and County by his development and management of the Midland Railway, while he controlled that Road. In answer I would point out that there was a well founded belief abroad in the Town that the affairs of that Road were managed in the interests of Mr. Cox, rather than of the public, for he and his family connections having milked it to the extent of $25,000 per annum for some years. When the proper time came he sold it out to the Grand Trunk and thereby gave a monopoly of the carrying trade to that railway, having previously opposed with all his strength the granting of a charter to the Ontario and Quebec. Finally he took the nice pot of $100,000 and upwards out of the pockets of the farmers and other furnishers of supplies, etc., to the Midland railway by paying this class of creditors 22½ cents in the dollar of their just debts, and then added the difference already stated to his already plethoric purse.

Mr. Cox surely had better take other grounds than that of his Midland Railway connection to commend himself to the free and independent electors of this Riding.

Yours,

ONE OF THE VICTIMS.

January 29th, 1887.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

CONTINUATION OF JANUARY SESSION BUSINESS.

SATURDAY—MORNING SESSION.

FINANCE.

Mr. KIDD read the following report:—

The Committee on Finance beg leave to report:

(1) That they have examined the following accounts and recommend the payment of the same:—

Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, account		$ 17 00
J. R. Stratton,	"	25 50
R B McKee,	"	30 99
Dr. R. W. Bell,	"	5 00
Peter Connal & Co.	"	5 15
Examiner Office,	"	75 70
REVIEW Printing Co.	"	13 0.
"	"	207 91
H. C. Rogers, post office	"	21 81
" " "	"	23 39
John Flood,	"	16 00
John Flood, printing	"	3 00
J. A. Harper,	"	5 00
"	"	40 00
J. R. Stratton	"	109 50
Geo. Hutchinson	"	5 35
"	"	4 90
J. E. Belcher	"	50 00
"	"	23 00
Craig and Mooney	"	10 00
E. E. Edwards	"	77 51
R. E. Wood, rent	"	37 50
T. Bradburn, rent judges chambers		56 25
D. Beifeghem, account		14 00
John Davidson	"	36 00
Thos Menzies	"	1 75
J. J. Turner, awnings		12 00
John Craig, account		1 25
Dr. J. A. Fife	"	10 00
D. Fancher,	"	5 00
T. Fitzgerald	"	24 50
Peterborough Water Co.		81 55
W. B. Kelly, account		35 06
W. H. Hall, account for Buckhorn bridge to be paid on pay sheet being attached to account rendered		291 45
Lock's bridge, account		2 75
W. B. Kelly, account Mud Lake bridge		501 42
Peterborough Gas Co., account		50 05

2. That no grant be made to Ontario Rifle Association.

3. Your Committee recommend that a special grant of $50.00 be given to the County of Peterborough Rifle Association.

4. That no newspapers except the Peterborough REVIEW and Examiner be hereafter subscribed or paid for by the county.

5. That no action be taken with reference to the account of J. G. Macdonald, acting Police Court Clerk.

6. That a special grant of $250.00 be given to the Norwood High School.

7. Your Committee acknowledge the receipt of a communication from the Registrar of the County of Peterborough stating that the gross amount of fees for 1886 of his office were $3,493.56, on which the rebate to this county is $143.70, a cheque for which was enclosed by him.

8. That with reference to the communication from W. H. Cooper, High Constable of the county, applying for some fair remuneration for his services in conection with county work, your committee recommend that the Warden and Reeves of Smith and Dummer be a committee thereon to report at the June session.

(9) That the account of the Peterborough Gas Co., $10.00 for lamp from 1st of March to 1st September, 1886 be paid, provided the account is for the lamp on the Otonabee bridge.

(10) That the Warden and the Reeve of Douro, Smith, Dummer, Lakefield and Ashburnham be a committee with full power to act, to consider the communication of the Board of License Commissioners for the License District of West Peterborough, requiring a deposit of $650.00 to the credit of the License Fund and also to arrange with the Town of Peterborough as to payment over to this County of the proportion of fines to which this Council is entitled.

(11.) That with reference to the suit of the Grand Junction Railway Company against the County of Peterborough Mr. Edwards be authorized to go to England to watch the interests of the county on the appeal to the Privy Council, and to take such steps, with the approval of the Warden, as may be necessary for the purpose of defending the suit, and that the Warden be authorized to issue his warrant to the Treasurer for payment of such sums as may be necessary for disbursements

All of which are respectfully submitted.

A. R. KIDD,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. MOLONEY read the following report:

The Committee on Roads and Bridges beg leave to report as follows:

1. That a special grant of $50 be given to the Stoney Lake road, between lots 20 and 21 in 1st concession of Douro and Dummer, and that the Deputy-Reeve of Dummer be commissioner for expenditure of same.

2. That on certificate by the County Engineer that the sum of $450 has been expended in repairing the Narrows bridge, your committee recommend that the Treasurer of this County pay to the Treasurer of Northumberland and Durham $112 50.

3. That the account of Geo. J. Chalmers for planking the Young's Point bridge be left in the hands of our representative in the Local Legislature.

4. That the County Clerk be instructed to give, free of charge, to any municipality in the county any old iron belonging to the county and required by such municipality on any leading road.

5. That the sum of $50.00 be granted to the municipalities of Burleigh, Harvey, Belmont and Galway, respectively, for expenditure on the roads and bridges therein, and that the respective Reeves thereof be the commissioners for the expenditure of same, each to furnish to this council a certified statement in detail of the manner in which such moneys are expended.

6. That the County Engineer be instructed to close the locks bridge as soon as he considers the same unfit for travel.

7. That a special grant of $100.00 be given to the municipality of Belmont and Methuen towards building the high bridge in Oak Lake settlement, township of Methuen, and that the Reeve of Belmont be a commissioner for the expenditure of same.

8. That with reference to the communication of the Buckhorn bridge be filled in with stone and gravel during the coming summer, under the instructions of the County Engineer and the Warden and the Reeve of Smith.

9. That the report of the County Engineer be received and adopted.

10. Your Committee recommend that the Clerk write to the Clerk of the County of Hastings that this Council has heretofore granted $50 towards finishing road on the eastern boundary of the County of Peterborough, from the 14th concession of the Township of Chandos to the northern boundary, provided the County of Hastings granted a like amount, and the Ontario Legislature granted $100.00 towards the same: That the offer of this County is still open and the Ontario Government express their willingness to grant $100.00, but in default of the above grant $50 00 at the present session by the County of Hastings the County of Peterborough will withdraw their grant of $50.00.

That the head of each municipality hand in a report to the Council at the June session the number of rods of fencing on not more than three of the leading roads through their respective municipalities required to protect the said roads that have been made impassable by snow drifts during the balance of the present winter.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

JOHN MOLONEY,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Cholera in Buenos Ayres.

BUENOS AYRES, Jan. 28.—During the last 48 hours there has been 30 new cases of cholera and eight deaths in this city.

Earthquake.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 28.—A severe earthquake shock was held at eight o'clock last night at Fremont, North Bend, and other points within a radius of one hundred miles west of this city.

Gould's Prediction.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28.—Mr. J. Gould and party examined the harbor here yesterday. Mr. Gould intimated that New Orleans would become the great grain depot of the West.

Hode's Extradition.

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—The Minister of Justice to-day signed the warrant for Hode's extradition. Mr. C. P. Davidson, Q.C., arrived here to-day to urge a stay of proceedings, but the department refused.

His Accounts Wrong.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 28.—Jairus Harlow, cashier of the Western Union Telegraph Company here, has been superseded. His accounts were found $20,000 short. It is believed he was made the victim of dishonest subordinates, and no charges of dishonesty are made against him.

The 'Longshoremen's Strike.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Business on the river front is almost completely paralyzed with the exception of a small amount of freight being moved by green hands on one or two piers. The strikers are confident they will succeed and their next move will be to get the pilots on the ocean steamer service to come out.

An Underground Railway.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—It is announced that the New York Underground Railway Company has signed a contract with the United States Subway Company to build an underground railway from the City Hall to Harlem, partly under Broadway and partly under Madison avenue and other streets. Col. Hazard, president of the Subway Company, says the company has $3,000,000 to back it, and will go right along.

A Warning to Labor Agents.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28.—At a meeting of citizens held at Brandon, Miss., labor agents enticing colored men and their families from their homes were warned to leave the country within twelve hours and keep out of it. Farmers who thought they were supplied with labor for a year find now, at this late day, when planting ought to be begun, that many of their hands have slipped away and that they will be unable to plant a full crop.

Sir Chas. Tupper.

HALIFAX, N.S., Jan. 28.—The news that Sir Chas. Tupper has become Minister of Finance is received with great enthusiasm here among Liberal Conservatives. His presence in Nova Scotia, will it is expected, work a great change in the political situation during the next ten days. Already there is a marked reaction, and instead of nineteen members that the Hon. Mr. Jones claimed in the opening of the campaign, he only now claims eleven from Nova Scotia.

Another Trunk Horror.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 26.—A large trunk shipped by express from New York, and directed to "J.N. Wilson," this city, arrived on Sunday. There was no call for it, and this afternoon such an odour was emitted from the trunk that the police of the Central district were notified. The trunk, when opened, revealed the body of a man with the feet and legs and left arm cut off and packed in with the body. There was no head. On the body was a calico shirt, which had on it the name "O. Kaufheld." There were also several cards found in his clothes bearing the name "E. D. Siegel, butcher, Throof avenue, Brooklyn E D." The body has the appearance of a young man of about 160 pounds, but in the absence of the head there can be no conjecture as to the age. The express people here have no idea by whom the trunk was shipped from New York.

His Mind Was on the Wood.

"I used to think that men had an awfully easy time," said Mrs. Franks, "but I've changed my mind, and hereafter I'm going to take all the care off Charles I possiby can. You see, the other morning I told Charles we wanted some wood, and to be sure and order some. Well, I waited all day, and that wood didn't come, and I was almost angry for said I, he has forgotten it as usual

"Charles didn't come home until late—long after I retired. He had to go to his club, and it seems he was detained until after midnight. He was awfully restless, and kept talking in his sleep, saying every once in a while, 'Give me another dollar's worth of chips.' So you see I knew that his mind was troupled about that wood. How much it must have worried him to thus disturb his rest! Hereafter I'm going to attend to all house matters myself. Poor man! he has enough to bother him without doing home errands."—Boston Transcript.

HUDSON'S BAY CO'S FUR SALE.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The annual fur sales by the Hudson's Bay Company were opened today. There was a full attendance, and the prices for good beavers showed an increase of 25 per cent over last year. There was a large demand for poor samples, and sales were speedily effected. There was a full supply of muskrats, beaver and rabbit skins.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

THE THUNDERER AND CHURCHILL.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The Times fails to understand why Lord Randolph Churchill ever joined the Cabinet. His statements in the Commons yesterday exhibit extraordinary levity in dealing with great national issue, and a singular lack of coherent reasoning.

THE CLOSURE PROPOSALS.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The Government's proposals for the reform of the procedure rules of Parliament leave the numerical limitations for enforcing the closure the same as before, but transfer the initiative for demanding closure to any member who has obtained the Speaker's consent to make the motion. Motions to adjourn the House and discuss business of urgent public importance, which have been dependent hitherto upon the consent of forty members, shall not in future be made without the consent of the Speaker, to whom a statement on the subject proposed to be discussed must be submitted in writing.

A SEAT FOR MR. GOSCHEN.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The Standard says that Lord Hartington has been notified by the Unionists of the County Antrim that Mr. Lewis, one of the Members for that county, is willing to retire in favour of Mr. Goschen. The Standard is also informed that Mr. Goschen does not regard the proposal with favor, presumably because he fears a repetition of his Liverpool experience in a district not overwhelmingly Conservative.

KING THEEBAW.

MANDALAY, Jan. 28.—King Theebaw entered this city yesterday in royal state riding upon an elephant. The British Commissioners conducted him to his residence outside the palace walls.

A KING'S DEMAND.

CAIRO, Jan. 58.—The king of Abyssinia demands of Egypt the settlement of the Massowah question. The king disavows hostilities in default of a satisfactory settlement.

CHURCHILL'S EXPLANATION.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The general opinion is that Lord R. Churchill failed to justify his resignation from the Cabinet in his speech and that he is ready to co-operate toward his return to the Ministry.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—On the night of January 18th, a serious panic, consequent upon a false alarm of fire took place in a hall in Prince street, Spitalfield, where the Hebrew Dramatic Union was performing "The Spanish Gipsy Girl," and several persons were tramped to death. The occurrence created great excitement, particularly in Jewish circles, and the Rothschields and other wealthy Hebrews offered a large reward for information leading to the discovery of the person whose cry of fire caused the panic. A corner's investigation was opened to day, and a sensation was created by the secretary of the Hebrew Dramatic Union, who testified that the panic was caused by the secretary of a rival club.

IRISH ELECTIONS.

The Glenbeigh Evictions Discussed in the Commons.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Mr. Fry (Liberal) asked the Government in the House of Commons this afternoon what they had done to prevent the burning of dwellings from which tenants had been evicted at Glenbeigh, Ireland. He also asked whether Gen. Buller had tried to obtain concession on rent for the tenantry in Ireland.

Sir Michael Hicks Beach, Chief secretary for Ireland, replied that Gen. Buller had not interfered until some seventy evictions had been executed, when he tried to influence those holding the mortgages toward greater leniency. The Government, Sir Michael said, had no legal right to go further that this. "There is," continued the Chief Secretary, "one real remedy, and that is to remove these poor people from the poverty-stricken districts"—(cries of "Shame, shame" and "No, no")—with their own free will," went on the speaker—(cries of "No, no," "Never," "Shame")—"to some other place in Ireland." A great and prolonged uproar here ensued.

The Speaker interrupted the proceedings at this point and notified members that cries like "Shame" would be rigorously suppressed.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach then said:—"All I wished to say was that the very poor people living in poverty stricken districts should be removed to other parts of Ireland or elsewhere, where they could live in prosperity and comfort. (Conservative cheers.) If those who take an interest in this matter desire to promote such a settlement, I will be delighted to give every aid in my power to any action they may combine on to bring it about."

Mr. William Redmond (Parnellite) asked "Does the Government approve of the actions of the authorities in burning the houses at Glenbeigh."

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, "It is not my business to express any opinion on that point." (Conservative cheers.)

Mr Fry (Liberal) said he thought of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach was unable to give any opinion or suggest a remedy for the Glenbeigh affair he ought to follow Lord Randolph Churchill's example.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach said he thought Mr. Fry's remarks unfair. The Government had in view proposals for the amelioration of the condition of Ireland. It was because he had concerned himself very much, even going beyond his ordinary duties to prevent the suffering alluded to, that he had been misrepresented and charged with supporting the plan of campaign. The plan of campaign, he continued, meant combination to force the landlords to accept what the tenants chose to offer (that sum to be further reduced next year) or leave the tenant in possession of the land rent free, and then raise a cry about the hardship of evictions for the purpose of deceiving the country. (Cries of "Oh Oh!" and cheers.) The Government was obliged to do its best with the tools in its hands, but with the difficulties and delays of the criminal law as it existed, it had not sufficient power to cope with such a proceeding as the Plan of Campaign. (Cheers.)

The House then adjourned.

THE "Invincible"—Culvers Cough Balsam—at the Floral Drug Store.

THE DAILY EVENING REVIEW is delivered to subscribers at 10 cents a week.

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALOUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d12

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 29, 1887.

THE CHEAPEST MARKET.

When their love of theory, the freetraders and open or secret enemies of the N.P. are fond of maintaining as an invariable rule that men should "buy in the cheapest market." We deny altogether that this holds true for nations under all circumstances: but even if it were true it would certainly be wise to make sure of the market really being the cheapest, not only for the particular bargain of the moment but in the long run.

Now Mr. Blake and his friends, if they could have their way, would remove what they call the iniquitous restrictions that prevent Canadians from buying wherever they can get the desired goods for the lowest price without regard to the country of their production or the locality of their producers. If they removed or materially reduced the duty on a particular article, it is very true, as we know by experience, that at least occasionally the purchaser would have a chance of buying it cheaper when sent over by the foreign manufacturer either to extend his market or to get rid of a surplus stock. But it is also certain that such competition, the contraction of his market and the uncertainty and hazard introduced into all his operation would either ruin the Canadian manufacturer, drive him out of the business, or induce him to remove with his capital, his plant and very likely his staff to some country which was not so careless of the welfare of its citizens. We think that the purchaser obtains his goods from "the cheapest market" at too great a sacrifice when this is the result; that he would do better even from a selfish point of view to pay a little more and help to build up his country instead of injuring it.

But leaving this aside, would it not be well to make sure that "the cheapest market" is really the cheapest on the average and for a continuance? If one can only buy cheaply for the moment and has to give a higher price thereafter, it is no more economy than in the proverbial case of killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. A temporary advantage may result in an ultimate loss.

If Mr. Blake and his friends were placed in office and could tamper with our protective duties we know what would be the outcome in this respect. Whenever foreign manufacturers found they had a surplus stock they might make Canada a slaughter market, as they so often did. Whenever they found that their machinery could supply more than their local market, they would be tempted, after doing their home trade at good profits, to go on producing for Canada at the barest shade of profit. Sometimes they might be even willing to sell to us at a loss rather than let their machinery lie idle in a time of depression or of over production. The Canadian purchaser would buy cheaply for the moment, but the Canadian manufacturer would go to the wall. His factory closed, the foreign competitor, having the command of the market, would now immediately raise his prices and we would be compelled to pay them. This is no imaginary danger. There is not a business man, there is not anyone of ordinary information and observation who does not know of such cases in the old evil days after the protective effects of the civil war had passed away and before the adoption of the N.P. In fact there were many cases in which the United States manufacturer deliberately broke down the Canadian market by sales at a loss and then when he had crushed the Canadian industry thus assailed, repaid himself by raising prices to a higher rate than ever. The Canadian purchasers soon found that their purchases in the cheapest market had cost them very dear.

The Senate Fisheries bill was taken up on Thursday by the United States House Committee on Foreign Affairs, and after a short discussion was referred to a sub-committee to report by Tuesday.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

NORMAL COURAGE.

That staunch free trader, the Montreal Witness, sorrowfully says that the Liberal party are in favor of its principles, but have not the moral courage to put their principles in force. This sounds like the speech of the candidate who declared that he was in favor of a prohibitory law but opposed to its enforcement. — Toronto World (Indep.).

THE N. P. MUST GO.

The Eastern wing of the Blake-Laurier party is dashing itself violently against the National Policy. It goes right along—all the wooing of the party in Ontario and Quebec to the contrary notwithstanding. The Halifax Chronicle devotes a large amount of energy to prove that the National Policy failed to accomplish what was promised. It is the organ of Hon. A. G. Jones, formerly Minister of Militia, who recently said at a public meeting: "The N.P. must go."—Montreal Gazette.

BLAKE FOR THE U. S.

The United States papers think that Sir John will be beaten and the fisheries dispute be thereafter settled upon a basis different from the one insisted on by him. The wish is father to the thought, but such utterances are just the thing to help the Premier. If the people of Canada become convinced that his overthrow would imperil our natural and treaty rights they would rally to his support in overwhelming numbers. Thousands of Liberals would be among the first to rally if such an issue as that were made.—Toronto World (Indep.)

FOR THE N. P.

The declaration made by Mr. Neelon of St. Catharines of his intention to support Sir John need not have caused so much surprise as it appears to have done in certain quarters. For years he has been an avowed Protectionist, and three years ago he was returned to the Legislature as an independent Liberal. He did not have far to go to reach his present position. He believes the integrity of the N. P. necessary to the prosperity of St. Catharines industries.—Toronto World (Indep.)

FOOLING THE GLOBE.

It took Mr. Blake and his friends five years to discover that the Canadian Pacific railway is the very thing the country needs. They admit that now. It has taken them ten years to discover the value of the National Policy. They say now "the manufacturers have nothing to fear" from the Grits. During the years they have either been fooling the public or have been fools themselves. They ask the electors to give them charge of the National Policy. The wolf might as well be given charge of the lamb. The objection to that is that it would be the death of the lamb. Montreal Gazette.

MR. BLAKE'S TARIFF.

He (Mr. Blake) talks about the necessities of the treasury, on account of the increased public debt, demanding a tariff as high as our present. Mr. Blake knows that the tariff may be lowered and yet the revenue increased by the operation, while the taxation is lightened. Take the case of cottons, for instance. If the tariff on grey cottons was lowered to seventeen and a half per cent. ad valorem a large revenue would be obtained. The same is true of many descriptions of white and coloured cottons and of woollen goods, as well as many manufactures of iron and other metals. Of course the taxation must be heavy, but it can be lightened where it will tell most against the revenue of the manufacturers and most in favor of the revenue of the country.—Montreal Witness (Reform.)

CAPT. NEELON ON THE N.P.

A Reformer Drawn from Mr. Blake in Self-protection.

Capt. Neelon spoke at the Conservative Convention in Lincoln on Tuesday. On rising he was uproariously applauded. He said they might think it strange to see him there—(cheers)—but he found himself with the same old friends as seven years ago, when he stood before them ay an Independent. He stood before them as a supporter of Sir John Macdonald. (Loud cheers.) Whatever position he had been placed in he had to be straight, and he believed he always felt it his duty to be a supporter of the N.P. (Cheers.) When reciprocity ceased the National Policy was the greatest benefit ever conferred upon us, as by it we made three times more progress than before. (Cheers.) He thought the cry that the N. P. made the rich richer and the poor poorer was an utter fallacy. The spirit of enterprise was admirable—the N. P. encouraged it, and the labourer and capitalist should stand on the same platform. (Cheers.) If there were grievances they should be spoken of and the employer should have a chance to have them investigated. (Cheers.) He showed that before the N.P. vessels and machinery could be built and brought from the United States free of duty—a matter which was rectified by Sir John Macdonald. Some complained of the duty on coal; but he thought that where they got constant employment by the same policy they should not grumble. He held it would be utterly impossible when farmers wanted a duty on wheat and flour that a policy could be framed without a duty on coal. There might be mistakes in the tariff but they would gradually be righted by Sir John. (Cheers.) What did they know about Mr. Blake? It was better to stick to old friends like Sir John and the member for Lincoln. (Cheers.) He denied the assertion that any more was paid now for commodities than before the N. P. (A Voice—Much cheaper.) The speaker knew it, but let Mr Blake reduce the tariff and the doors of your manufacturing establishments would close and the farmer, the miller, the manufacturer and every business would suffer. He believed in the best man, and that was Sir John. (Cheers.) It was no time to swap horses now. (Cheers.) He referred to his experience as a delegate of the Board of Trade in visiting Mr. Mackenzie when in power. They wanted an advance in the tariff. They might as well have gone to an oak tree, as the Government told them they were free traders. We have now capitalists, and thanks to Sir John, they were not living in another country. We do not want to build any more factories for the U. S. We should go for "Canada first." (Cheers.) He denied that the public debt did injury, and thought the C. P. R. the greatest benefit Canada ever got. Had it been built 25 or 30 years ago, we would now have had the millions of people who went to the States. (Cheers.) The dealing of the C. P. R. with the country have been honourable, and by their improving the value of the lands in the whole Dominion the railway has not cost a cent for if it were not for the road there would be no outlet for the products of our home factories. (Cheers.) He confessed at one time he thought the road would be ruinous, and did not wonder at it when Mackenzie was showing it to them in little water stretches. (Laughter.) Now he admitted the intellect of the great statesman who foresaw its success. (Cheers.) He briefly alluded to the Riel affair, and held that the law should be vindicated in that case, and did not think that Sir John was to be blamed for carrying out its provisions. He explained his position in coming before them to assist Sir John and his friends in this election. If he failed to do so he would not be doing his duty to an honorable man. (Loud cheers.)

Remarkable Dreams.

Crœsus, King of Lydia, dreamed that his son Atys would be killed by a javelin. Everything was done to prevent the occurrence of such a calamity; but on one occasion, when a boar hunt was in progress, Atys obtained permission to witness the sport, and was accidently killed by a javelin thrown by a young prince called Adrastus, under whose care and protection Atys had been placed. A rich vessel of gold was once stolen from the temple of Hercules. Sophocles, in a vision, was shown the person and name of the thief. The dream was repeated three times, but no notice was taken until the third recurrence, when information was laid before the Areopagi. The thief, who was then arrested, confessed the crime and restored the golden vessel. William Nesenus dreamed that he was sailing down a stream in a fisher's boat, when the boat capsized, and he was drowned. He related his dream to his friend and companion, Philip Melancthon, who ridiculed the idea; but that very evening he was drowned in the manner indicated in his dream. Coleridge, in a dream, composed the wild and beautiful poem of "Kubla Khan," suggested to him by the passage he had read in Purchas' "Pilgrimage," before he fell asleep. On waking he had a distinct recollection of between 200 and 300 lines, and, rising early he procured pen and paper, and began to set them down. Unfortunately, he was interrupted before a quarter of the task was done—was called away to attend to some business which detained him an hour—and found when he returned to his writing, that the remainder had vanished from his memory.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we life in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health, but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. d90

A new Roman Catholic church at Longueuil, erected at a cost of $150,000, and said to be the largest in the Province of Quebec outside Montreal, was formally blessed on Thursday by Archbishop Fabre.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate
IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

New Advertisements.

A. CLEGG.
Leading Undertaker.

WARE ROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00
LADIES.....50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG,
Manager.
1d45

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

Notice to Creditors

OF THE
LATE JOHN B. HAMMOND.

PURSUANT to Revised Statutes of Ontario, Chapter 107 and 46 Victoria, Chapter 8, Ontario, notice is hereby given that all creditors and others having claims against the estate of John Edward Hammond, late of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, gentleman, who died on or about the third day of January, 1887, are required to send by post, prepaid, or to deliver to Hatton & Wood of the Town of Peterborough, in the said County of Peterborough, solicitors for Herbert Arthur Hammond, Robert Fenniel Boucher and Harriet Hammond, the executors and executrix of the last will and testament of the deceased on or before the 28th day of February, 1887, a statement of their names and addresses, the full particulars of their claims and securities (if any) held by them. And that after the said date the said executors and executrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice shall have been given as above required.

And the said executors and executrix will not be responsible for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons of whose claim or claims notice shall not have been received at the time of such distribution.

Dated at Peterborough, this 26th day of January, 1887.

HATTON & WOOD,
Solicitors for the said
Executors and Executrix.
w3

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFACTURED of the Best Material by Skilful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books' Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.
SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.
OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.
DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.
LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Raisins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.
Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.
HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.
HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physicians' Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d3w9

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 25 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY

JOHN NUGENT

Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont.
FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 23 Hartland Road, Harrow Road, London, England.
(Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)

No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d3w9

Xmas Comes But Once a Year

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS
FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 2 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 25c.
To every purchaser of one pound of any 50c. tea, 5 lbs. of Raisins for 25c.
We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

THE CALL OF ABRAM.

DR. CURTISS' NOTES ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Lesson V for Sunday, Jan. 30—Lesson Text, Gen. xii, 1-9—Golden Text, Gen. xii, 2: "I Will Bless Thee and Make Thy Name Great."

The true religion is not the result of development, according to the Old Testament. The natural tendency of man, as seen in Adam, in the men before the flood, and afterward, is downward. God's grace is manifested in choosing men like Noah as the bearers of the true revelation in the midst of a current world.

THE LESSON.

Abram's Country and Its Religion (v. 1).—What was Abram's country? It was Chaldea, one of the most civilized countries of antiquity, afterward known as Babylonia. It was a country where the people knew how to read and write, and where they had great libraries of baked clay tablets. It was a country which had those wonderful traditions of the creation and the flood which are preserved in the Chaldean Genesis. Was not then the religion which Abram brought with him to Canaan one of natural origin? No. He came from Ur of the Chaldees, lying on the west bank of the Euphrates, now known as Mugheir, where there was a library which may yet see the light, and where the moon god was worshiped. What he might learn there was not the true religion. It was necessary that he separate from his people if he was to be the father of a holy nation. He is compelled in obeying God to leave everything that his heart holds dear—country, kindred and father's house. From a worldly point of view he leaves certainty for an uncertainty, for he is to go to a land which Jehovah will show him.

(V. 2) But God blesses the people who obey him, both according to the Old and New Testaments. He tells him that he will make him a great nation, that he will bless him and make his name great, and bids him be a blessing (Revised Version). When men accept God's will as theirs, he takes care of their reputation, does a great deal better for them than they could do for themselves, and withal makes them a blessing to the world, because he puts them where they can be most useful.

Blessing Through Abram (v. 3).—If God was for Abram, who could be against him? God utters the great promise that in him all the families of the earth should be blessed. Some have thought that Abram and his posterity were to be so prosperous that all other peoples would say, Give us the blessing of Abram, make us as fortunate as he; but the New Testament gives us a deeper meaning. It tells us that the signification of this passage is that in Abram's seed, which is Christ, all the nations of the earth should be blessed. If the scroll of history could be unrolled from the time when Jesus came until the present we should see how wonderfully this promise has been fulfilled.

(Vs. 4, 5). Abram obeys God at a time of life when most men dislike a change. His nephew Lot went with him. Why, we do not know. Perhaps his eyes were dazzled with the desire of adventure and the temporal side of the promises made to his uncle, if we may suppose that he heard of them.

The place which they left, where they seem to have remained a considerable time, was Haran in Mesopotamia, the country between the Euphrates and the Tigris. Like Ur, it was also one of the chief seats of the worship of the moon god. The branch of the family which remained there, if we may judge from one of the later members, Laban, had a tendency to idolatry. It was therefore desirable that Abram should be completely cut off from any temptations that might arise from his family.

The People of Canaan.—They went to Canaan. We do not know what the population was at that time. We read of Hittites, who perhaps belonged to that famous empire whose boundaries are described in Josh. 1-4, and which was a formidable rival of Egypt a few hundred years later, in the time of Rameses II. We also read of the Philistines, the Canaanites and other peoples. Phœnicians who had come originally from the west shore of the Persian Gulf, not very far away from Abram's old home, were then in Egypt and on the shore of Palestine. With these peoples of kindred speech Abram could communicate without difficulty. They were all idolaters.

Divine Worship (v. 6).—Under God's direction Abram passes through part of the land of Canaan until he reaches Shechem, between Mounts Ebal and Gerizim, and a famous tree, called in the Revised Version the oak of Moreh. This may have been famous for its age, size and shade, and may have had as much historical significance as the old charter oak in Connecticut. If heathen rites were connected with the tree, as the modern critics maintain, we have no right to suppose that Abram visited it for the sake of the false worship associated with it. The Canaanite was then in the land, who was afterward to be so unfavorably known by Abram's descendants.

(V. 7.) Jehovah appears to Abram, and promises to give his seed the land. Hundreds of years were to intervene, the rigors of Egyptian bondage were to be endured, and many a hard battle was to be fought before this promise could be realized. Abram first builds an altar in his new home unto Jehovah, who appeared to him. He thus becomes the spiritual ancestor of those who have placed the Church first in going to a new country, and have thus left their mark on the world.

(V. 8.) The building of altars seems to have been characteristic of his journeying. Some people think that when they emigrate to a new country or are traveling they can give up their religion. It is sometimes scandalous to see how those who are journeying at home and abroad seem to forget God in trying to conform to the customs of a new country; but Abram hallowed different places by building altars to Jehovah and by calling on his name.—Sunday School World.

Ayer's Pills cure constipation, improve the appetite, promote digestion, restore healthy action, and regulate every function. They are pleasant to take, gentle in their operation, yet thorough, searching and powerful in subduing disease.

FROM ALL OVER.

Mr. Henry M. Stanley, on his way to rescue Emin Bey, arrived at Cairo on Thursday.

The official count of the Liverpool election shows that Mr. Goschen was defeated by seven votes.

Protest have been filed against every member of the Manitoba Legislature except those returned by acclamation.

The Government steamers Neptune and Northern Light are still making daily trips each way between Prince Edward Island and the mainland.

The most promising of all the Jubilee schemes yet afloat and one favoured by the Queen, is a women's subscription of from a penny to a pound.

AYER'S Hair Vigor improves the beauty of the hair and promotes its growth. It imparts an attractive appearance, a delightful and lasting perfume. It stimulates the roots, cleanses the scalp, and proves itself to be the best and cheapest article for toilet use.

Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn, ex-Principal of Upper Canada College, has been nominated to contest centre Toronto in the Liberal Conservative interest.

It is expected that a large deputation from Eastern Ontario will soon visit Toronto to urge the Ontario Government to establish a School of Practical Science in Kingston.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

Peterborough Markets

WHEAT.

Wheat, fall, per bushel	0 80	to	0 80
" spring "	0 82	to	0 82
Arnecta Wheat	0 60	to	0 65

FLOUR AND MEAL.

Flour, Patent Process, per cwt.	$3 50	to	$3 50
Flour, bakers per cwt	2 25	to	2 25
Flour, stone process	1 80	to	1 80

COARSE GRAIN.

Barley, per bushel	0 48	to	0 60
Peas	0 50	to	0 54
Oats,	0 29	to	0 29
Rye	0 45	to	0 45

MILL FEED.

Oat chop, per cwt	1 10	to	1 10
Pea chop, "	1 10	to	1 10
Barley chop "	1 00	to	1 00
Pollards "	0 80	to	0 80
Bran, per ton	11 00	to	11 00

VEGETABLES.

Potatoes, per bag	0 70	to	0 70
Cabbage, per head	0 05	to	0 07
Beets, per bag	0 40	to	0 40
Onions, per bag	1 25	to	1 40
Carrots, small red, per bag	0 35	to	0 40
Carrots, field, per bag	0 15	to	0 20
Turnips	0 20	to	0 25
Parsnips	0 30	to	0 40

MEAT, POULTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE.

Beef, by the quarter per cwt	3 50	to	4 50
Pork, " " "	5 00	to	6 25
Mutton, per lb	0 05	to	0 06
Veal, per lb	none offering
Lamb, per lb	0 07	to	0 08
Dressed Hogs	5 50	to	6 00
Hogs, live weight	3 75	to	4 25
Tallow, per lb	0 04	to	0 06
Lard	0 10	to	0 11
Chickens, per pair	0 45	to	0 60
Ducks, per pair	0 60	to	0 70
Geese, each	0 50	to	0 60
Turkeys, each	0 75	to	1 00
Butter, fresh roll, per lb	0 18	to	0 20
Butter, packed prime, per lb	0 16	to	0 18
Cheese, private sale per lb	0 12	to	0 12
Eggs, per doz	0 19	to	0 20
Hay, per ton	7 00	to	10 00
Straw, per load	2 00	to	3 00
Wood, hard, per load	3 50	to	4 50
Wood, soft, per load	2 50	to	3 00

WOOL AND HIDES.

Fleece wool	0 18	to	0 18
Southdown wool	0 25	to	0 25
Hides, per cwt	5 50	to	6 00
Hides, trimmed, per cwt	6 00	to	7 00
Lamb skins	25	to	25
Sheep Pelts, each	25	to	25
Sheep skins	1 00	to	1 00

FISH.

White Fish, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Speckled Trout, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Maskinonge, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Bass, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Finnie Haddie, per lb	0 10	to	0 10
Simcoe Herring, per do	0 30	to	0 30
Salt Mackrel, per doz	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per quart	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per can	0 45	to	0 55

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.

Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75

FOREIGN FRUIT.

Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

The Faith Cure.

If you do not value your health, and your time is not worth anything, pin your faith to the "anointing oil," or the mortar from "Knock Chapel." But if you do value health, and have not time to waste in useless experiments, take Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" on the appearance of the first symptoms of consumption; which are a loss of appetite and flesh, general debility, slight, dry, hacking cough, etc. Every day you defer treating your case in a rational manner makes the disease harder to combat. Send 10 cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., for Dr. Pierce's Treatise on Consumption.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c a vial, by druggists.

A WONDERFUL REMEDY.

The value of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, in the protection it affords from the dangers of pulmonary disorders, cannot be overestimated. Mr. C. K. Philips, Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "About three years ago I had severe Laryngitis, which resulted in chronic hoarseness. By the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral I have since entirely regained my health." Mr. Henry Russell, Excelsior Printing Co., New York, writes: "Influenza became epidemic in my neighborhood. Several members of my family suffered severely with it, all of whom took Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and were cured by it in a few days. It is a wonderful medicine for Influenza. Too much cannot be said in its favor."

E. M. Sargent, 41 Andover st., Lowell, Mass., says: "I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral about the year 1842, as a family medicine, for Coughs and Colds, and have always kept it in my house since that time. I consider it the best remedy that can be had for these complaints." Dr. J. B. Robertson, Clayton, N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, in my family and practice, for a number of years, and have no hesitation in recommending it. It is an admirable preparation, and well-qualified to do all that is claimed for it." E. J. Styers, Germanton, N. C., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best Cough preparation I ever saw. It gives instant relief."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

has cured a Cough in a few doses. It always relieves irritation of the lungs or throat, and arrests the tendency to inflammation. It strikes at the foundation of all Pulmonary diseases, is without a rival as an expectorant, and is a sure cure for the most obstinate Coughs and Colds. L. Garrett, Texana, Texas, writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for twenty years. For throat and lung diseases, I consider it a wonderful remedy."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., (Analytical Chemists), Lowell, Mass.

For sale by all Druggists.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HENFEED

Small Wheat - - - - - 90c per 100 lbs.

Barley - - - - - - - 95c per 100 lbs.

Pure Wheat Spring or Fall, $1.25 per 100 lbs.

J. W. FLAVELLE,

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. SIMCOE STREET.

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md73w41

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

New Sugar Cured Hams

12½ CENTS PER POUND.

Spiced Rolls and Breakfast Bacon.
Spare Ribs, Tenderloins, Shanks, &c.

GEO. MATTHEWS

Exceedingly Cheap

Is what every person says who has bought Groceries from us. Our Teas, Sugars and Coffees are marked low and are very good. We have a very select stock of

FRESH FAMILY GROCERIES,

Canned Goods, etc. which we are selling at rock bottom prices.

GEORGE CARTON

The People's Grocer, George Street

MARVELLOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Wholly unlike Artificial Systems—Cure of Mind Wandering—Any book learned in one reading. Prospectus, with opinions of Mrs. PROCTOR, the Astronomer, Hons. W. W. ASTOR, JUDAH P. BENJAMIN, Drs. MINOR, WOOD and others, sent post FREE, by

PROF. LOISETTE,

237 Fifth Avenue, New York.

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,

dss Ashburnham

JOB PRINTING!

Neatness in Style.
Moderation in Charges.
Fulfilment of Promises.
Despatch in Execution.

The REVIEW Printing Office

is prepared to execute the following, and other classes of PLAIN and FANCY WORK, in the best styles.

Posters, plain and coloured.
Programmes, in fancy styles.
Circulars, in script or plain type.
Bill-Heads, all sizes and shapes, on excellent quality of paper.
Business Cards, all sizes.
Visiting Cards, in beautiful Cards, Texts or Script Lettering.
Postal Cards, with business Notices or Memorandum Headings.
Letter Headings,
Note Headings,
Blank Cheques,
Blank Receipts,
Pamphlets,
Catalogues,
Law Blanks,

and all and every description of work required to be done in letter press.

THE

REVIEW Job Printing Department

Satisfaction given to all customers; charges are as moderate as the cost of getting up good work will allow, and are usually found satisfactory.

The REVIEW Printing Office

Is noted for its punctuality in fulfilling promises and the business men can rely of getting up work at the time agreed upon.

THE FACILITIES FOR

GETTING OUT

JOB WORK

are ample, and orders are pushed through with vigor, so that work can be got out in short time.

Orders from the Country

attended to with promptness, and the work forwarded immediately on completion.

REVIEW

Printing & Publishing Co. (Limited).

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up.

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take your LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled. Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,

Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House.

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. T. R.	11 45 a m
7 00 p m		4 30 p m
10 58 p m	Toronto and West, via G. T. R.	11 45 a m
7 00 p m		4 30 p m
8 20 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	6 30 p m
12 00 m	Midland, including Bancroft, Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)	9 00 a m
8 50 p m		4 30 p m
3 30 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope	11 30 a m
5 15 p m	do do	6 30 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
4 00 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	10 30 a m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Seymour	11 30 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore	4 00 p m
previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Hamilton, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clyde, Pinelush and Chandos, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 30 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Peyton's Corners, Mondays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 30 a m
	do do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	12 30 p m
	Via New York, States, Wyoming, Montana, Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	7 30 p m
9 00 a m		9 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbadoes, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m. Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxemburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherlands, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamaica, Japan and Java. Letters (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guiana, Ceylon, Greece and French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon; Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica, Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements (Singapore, Penang and Malacca):—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamps in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhœa, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse, [illegible] indiscretion, or over exertion. [illegible] six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One Package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Marsden Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and Druggists everywhere.

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 29, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Piano Tuning.

Geo. Gumpmcht is in town for a few days. Orders may be left at Mr. T. Menzies' or at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's

J. B. PENTLAND, Dental Rooms over J. Mills' Hat Store, George street.

A Good Offer.

The Lindsay Post say:—"Mr. F. McCrea refused an offer of $600 for his celebrated trotter Mayflower, made by a Peterborough gentleman at Omemee."

Meeting To-Night.

Mr. Geo. H. Maran, the English evangelist, will address the meeting in the Y. M. C. A. rooms to-night at eight o'clock. All young men will be welcome.

Concert.

A grand Concert will be given in St. Luke's School Room, Ashournham, Tuesday, Feb. 1st, in aid of the Choir Fund. Very attractive programme. Admission twenty-five cents.

Card of Thanks.

See card of thanks from A. M. Smith, President of the Western Fire Insurance Co., Toronto, in regard to the prompt payment of a claim by the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association.

Personal.

Referring to Mr. D. B. McDuff, of Peterborough, the Lindsay Post says:—"Mr. McDuff is an artiste of rare merit, a magnificent player, and one who puts before his audience the utmost possibilities to be achieved with the violin."

LADIES wanting bargains in Leather or Plush Satchels should examine R. FAIR'S stock at the Golden Lion.

Two Popular Lectures will be given in the Lecture Room of the George Street church on Monday and Tuesday nights of next week by the wellknown orator Mr. John R. Clarke of Detroit. His subjects are "The Rose, Shamrock and Thistle" and "Hits and Misses." Admission 15 cents. Chair taken at 8 o'clock. Proceeds in aid of S. S. Fund.

Personal.

We learn from the Lethbridge, N. W. T., News that at a meeting at Lethbridge called to form a Liberal Conservative Association, "At the request of the Chairman Mr. Haultain, Secretary of the McLeod Local Association, who was present, informed the meeting as to the nature of the organization. He also explained the plan proposed by the Calgary Association for holding a general convention for the whole constituency." The Mr. Haultain mentioned is Mr. F. W. G. Haultain, who is practicing law in McLeod. He is a son of the late Col. Haultain, of Peterborough.

Day's Theatre Company.

The largest house of the season assembled at Bradburn's Opera House last evening, on the occasion of the benefit of the little favorite, Annie Bird. The place was literally jammed and standing room was bought at a premium. This greatest of all child actresses has won a place in the hearts of our theatre goers that none have ever held before, and we doubt if any ever will. She is in the full sense of the word the phenomenon of the age, being, as she is, a mere child in years, with a developed and perfect talent that would do credit to the oldest heads. The drama was "Bob, the Newsboy," a protean sensational play written expressely for this little genius, and in which she assumes no less than three distinct characters, namely, that of a New York newsboy, a German girl and a dude, in each of which she displayed that marvellous talent that is solely her own. She made her audience feel that they were in the presence of undisputed genius. The drama is replete with excellent climaxes and splendid tableaux and was enthusiastically received by the large assemblage. Mr. Day as the Fourth Ward Chicken was superb, his rendition of the ideal bum was so excellent as to call forth unstinted praise. He is an actor of high order of merit, and one whom it would be hard to equal. He does nothing badly. Miss Willis as Laura was fine, and did some splendid acting. The Hans of Mr. Henderson was as good a piece of comedy as we have ever seen here. Mr. Summers as Vandry, Mr. Carr as Heywood, Mr. Howard as Dick, and Miss Day as Sarah gave excellent support. The court room scene in the 2nd act was one of the best ever seen here, and the comical bouts between Bob and the States Attorney fairly brought down the house with laughter. Mr. Mortimer, Business Manager of the Company, appeared as the Judge, and proved himself a fine actor. The rest of the support was in good hands. To-night the Company play the great western drama of "Carrots," by the author of "The Danites."

DENTAL ROOMS over J. Mills' Hat Store George street. J. B. PENTLAND.

Bible Society.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Bible Society will be held in the George Street Methodist Church on Wednesday, 2nd February, at 8 o'clock p. m.

Brown-Ferguson.

At the Brown-Ferguson curling contest resumed last night at the Charlotte street rink the Brownites again carried the day, winning by 7 shots. The weeks scoring is as follows:—

	Ferguson.	Brown.
Monday	13	13	— 5
Tuesday	15	9	— 6
Wednesday	17	21	4
Thursday	9	20	11
Friday	8	15	7
	11	22

Brown's majority, 11. The last match of series will be played to-night.

W. C. T. U.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet in the usual place next Monday afternoon at four o'clock, it having been found that a larger attendance can be secured for that hour. At this meeting fuller discussion will be given to the various phases of the work in connection with the establishment of a reading room for girls, and a servants' directory, with a view of taking immediate and definite action. The subject is a most important one, as affecting the welfare and interest of a large number of girls, who by virtue of their situation are deprived of the enjoyment of pleasant home surroundings and of friendly and sympathetic interest in their welfare. It is urged that there be a large attendance on Monday afternoon.

Coasting and Tobogganing.

While coasting on a hill in Port Hope on Thursday night several persons were injured by the "buss" plunging into a ditch. The injured were taken into Mr. Robbin's house and medical attendance called. It was found that Miss McCallum had her left ankle jammed and the same limb badly bruised, while the end of the bone in her right ankle was broken. One of Miss Stevenson's ankles was sprained. Mr. John Wright, the stearer, had a bad cut on his hand and a severe injury to his arm, besides other bruises and injuries. All the others of the load were more or less injured. If Port Hope had a fine, long, steep, and safe tobboggan slide, as the one in the Riverside Park, the local press would only have merriment and enjoyment to note, and not disastrous "plunges" into ditches. Tobogganing seems to be ahead of the old-fashioned coasting in being freerer from danger of accidents, as well as in the greater enjoyment it affords.

Almost on Fire.

This morning as the fire alarm was being rung a young lady entered one of our George street dry goods stores and addressed the clerk in this extraordinary way: "It is my desire to obtain a pair of circular elastic appendages, capable of being contracted or expanded by means of oscillated burnished steel appliances that sparkle like particles of gold leaf set with diamonds, and which are utilized for retaining in proper position the habiliments of the lower extremities, which innate decency forbids me to mention." The poor bewildered young man gazed at her in wondering astonishment for a second and then asked her, "Is it anything to make a costume out of?" "No," she replied. "But I thought you perhaps wanted it to make a fancy dress costume to attend the carnival the Firemen are arranging for Tuesday evening, Feb. 11th. The proprietor who had been standing close by, and having taken in the whole matter, quietly walked behind the counter and whispered in the clerk's ear, "Garters, you blockhead."

Assessment System.

The following letter from A. M. Smith, Esq., of the firm of Smith & Keighley, of this city, regarding the prompt payment of a death claim by the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, will interest the members of that Company in Canada:—

TORONTO, Jan. 10, 1887.

J. D. WELLS, ESQ.,
General Manager,
Mutual Reserve Fund Life Ass.
Toronto.

DEAR SIR,—As one of the Executors of the late Francis Rush I beg to acknowledge the receipt of the sum of three thousand dollars in full of claim under certificate No 41,192, issued by the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association.

On behalf of the other Executors I desire to express their appreciation of the prompt manner in which your Company have paid this claim, being thirty days prior to its maturity.

I may also add that in the capacity of Executor to other estates I have had occasion to adjust similar claims, and I cheerfully bear testimony to the fact that in the settlement of this claim I have had less trouble and less delay than with any of the other companies I have been brought in contact with. Wishing you and your Association every success,

I am yours truly,
(Signed) A. M. SMITH.

In reference to the above claim I beg to state that the late Mr. Rush held originally a policy in the Mutual Reserve for $5,000 Owing to an article published by the Monetary Times, and written in the interests of competing companies, which one of their agents brought to the notice of Mr. Rush, he decided to lapse his insurance, and called at my office to give his reasons for so doing. After discussing the Monetary Times' article, and pointing out to him the animus which prompted that journal in making attacks upon the Mutual Reserve, he decided to retain $3,000 of the $5,000 then in force. Soon afterwards Mr. Rush was taken ill and never recovered.

His estate has been deprived of the extra $2,000, for which I hold the Monetary Times directly responsible.

Comment is unnecessary.

J. D. WELLS,
General Manager.

SEE the prices offered in Satins and Silks this week at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Faint's Woollen Mill Totally Destroyed this Forenoon.

At a little after ten o'clock this forenoon one of the operatives in Faint's four story frame woollen mill and matress factory, Ashburnham, opened the door of the picking room, but on an attempt to enter was almost choked with dense clouds of smoke. The whole room was enveloped in flames.

The alarm was quickly given, and the Fire Brigade had two streams of water playing inside of seven minutes, but owing to the inflammable nature of the contents of the mill, and the structure of the mill, it was past being saved. The fire spread to every part of the building with such rapidity that it was with much peril that a child and one of the factory girls were rescued.

The girl was on the top flat. She attempted to come down but was forced back by the smoke. Mr. R. B. Rogers, however, succeeded in rescuing her, but not without much difficulty. A little daughter of Mr. Faint's was in the office. She was rescued only by Mr. Faint groping around through the smoke till he found where she was.

The efforts of the firemen were confined mostly to saving the adjoining property, which escaped without the slightest injury, though the flames burned intensely only a few feet away. Inside of an hour the building was burned to the ground and all danger of a conflagration was over.

Mr. Faint's loss will be very heavy. He owned the building and all of its contents. He estimates his loss at $5,000, on which there is not one cent of insurance. A hundred matresses and fifty easy chairs, all finished and ready for market, were among the destroyed.

It is supposed that a match in the wool passing through the picker was the origin of the fire. Frequently matches have been found in bundles of wool sent in by the farmers.

Accident.

A twelve year old son of Mr. Andrew Fawcett fell on the ice near the locks while skating this morning. He was found insensible and carried home. Dr. Kincaid attended but up to this afternoon had not succeeded in restoring consciousness.

The Midland Work Shops.

The Port Hope Times says:—"The men in the Midland shops here have been warned of the contemplated removal of the shops to Lindsay or Lorneville. Only a few men remain at the Port Hope shops, but these too it would seem are to be removed. For some time the men on the road have complained. They had no centre on the road and while living at Port Hope are very much away from home. This it is thought is one of the reasons for constituting a road centre at one of the places named. From a Lindsay contemporary some weeks ago, we learned that the Grand Trunk Co. had decided to build the new shops at that place but among the men, Lorneville is still mentioned. For years the Grand Trunk have been gradually denuding Port Hope, and now from what we learn they contemplate the coup de grace. We think an effort should be made by our industrial committee to prevent this removal of the few men remaining here." The Times complains that the Grand Trunk is not dealing generously with Port Hope in the matter.

Organ Recital.

The first organ recital of the season was given in St. Paul's Church on Friday evening. Notwithstanding the very unfavorable weather there were quite a number out. The following excellent programme was presented:—

PART I.

Grand Anthem ..."Oh Praise God in His Holiness"...Dr. Clarke Whitfield
Choir—Soloists, Mrs. Mein, Mr. Baguley; Quartette, Mrs. Mein, Miss L. Dixon, Miss Howden, Mr. Baguley.
Organ Solo...."Easter Offertoire"....Batiste
Mr. J. S. Parker.
Recitative....."Comforte ye".....Handel
Mr. Manning.
Sacred Solo....."Judith".....Concone
Mr. A. L. Davis.
Overture...."La Clemta di Tito".....Rossini
Miss Dugan.
Recitative...."Then Shall the Eyes"...Handel
Mrs. Mein.
Organ Solo."Grand Fugue" G Minor..J. S. Bach
Mr. J. S. Parker.
INTERMISSION.
PART II.
Chorus..."I will call upon the Lord"...Mozart
Choir—Quartette, Miss Dugan, Miss Dawson, Mr. Manning, Mr. G. Dawson.
Organ Solo .....(a)"Cavatina".....Raff
.....(b)"Gavotte Vieue d'or"....Harris
Mr. J. S. Parker.
Sacred Solo."There is a Green Hill"...Gounod
Miss Vair.
Organ Solo."Allegro from Grand Sonata" D Minor....Guilmant
Mr. J. S. Parker.
Organ Solo."Grand Offertoire" D Major Batiste
Mr J. S. Parker.
Sacred Song....."Nazareth".....Gounod
Mr. Greatrex.
Organ Solo."La Its iana in Algeri"....Rossini
Mr. J. S. Parker.
"God Save the Queen"

The numbers were all well taken. Mr. Parker appeared to good advantage in all of his solos, especially so in the Easter Offertoire. The chorus, which was composed of Mr. Parker's choir and members of the other church choirs, rendered their numbers in a finished manner. Good training and even balance of parts was especially noticeable, in No. 1 of the second part of the programme, Mr. Manning and Mr. Davis, tenor and baritone soloists, gave their allotted solos in their usual appreciable style. Miss Vair sang with particularly good effect. In his first appearance here as a vocalist Mr. Greatrex created a favorable impression. Miss Dugan's organ solo, "La Clemta di Tito," is a bright selection well suited for a recital. It was well executed. The singing of the National Anthem by the choir and audience brought the programme to an end.

Fire.

Shortly before six o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the back part of Wainwright's butcher shop. The fire brigade turning out extinguished the blaze in a short time. At about half past nine o'clock, however, the embers were again fanned into a blaze and the brigade was called out a second time, this time effectually putting it out. How the fire originated is not known. The stoves remain in their positions and there is nothing to lead one to suppose that it occurred from that source. The loss will be about $400, chiefly on account of the burning of a quantity of dressed meat. There was no insurance. Mr. Wainwright's business will not be interfered as he has moved to Mason's old stand, Post office block.

GET Culver's Cough Balsam—a terror to coughs and colds.—Try it! Sold by G. A. SHERIN, Floral Drug Store. (Market.)

T. DOLAN & CO'S

$2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

GO TO THE

Montreal Carnival

VIA

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

The line which runs the finest equipment in the world.

Rates very low. Full particulars from any Agent of the Company.

BIBLE SOCIETY

The Annual Meeting of the Peterborough Bible Society will be held in the

George Street Methodist Church

ON

Wednesday, 2nd February, '87

At 8 o'clock p. m. The Rev. John Barton of Toronto will address the meeting.

R. W. BELL, M D., President. J. D. CODLINS, Secretary.

What is it? Where is it?

CULVER'S COUGH BALSAM

A valuable compound of Tar, Wild Cherry and Healing Balsams, for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough and all throat and lung diseases. The best cough medicine known for consumption. Price 25 cents. Sold by

GEO. A. SHERIN, Druggist

Floral Drug Store, Opposite the Market.

That's What they all Say

Culver's Cough Balsam is the best cough medicine I ever used. It was the worst cold I ever had and it stopped it at once. Sold by

GEO. A. SHERIN,

Floral Drug Store, Market.

Lost and Found.

LOST.

A SMALL GOLD EARRING with a brilliant between Mercer's store and Drill Shed. Anyone finding it will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at MISS SARDERSON'S. 1d24

Wants.

WANTED.

A COOK Apply to GENERAL HAULTAIN, McDonnell St. 3d20

WANTED.

BOARD for man and wife. Apply REVIEW Office d2tcod

WANTED.

BY A THOROUGHLY CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED PERSON, employment in the capacity of sick nurse. Apply to MRS. C. ROBINSON, Water St. north or at the REVIEW Office d98

SOFT WOOD WANTED

500 CORDS SOFT WOOD wanted in exchange for trade, delivered at my planing mill, in quantities of 40 cords and upwards, for which the highest price will be paid. J. D. BAPTIE. 6d19tw4

LOST.

ON THURSDAY, JANUARY 27th, A LARGE YELLOW COLLIE DOG, white stripe on face. Finder will receive a reward by returning it to MR. BOOTHE at the Alexander Farm west of Mr. Jas. Edwards. 1d22

For Sale or to Rent.

FOR SALE OR TO LET.

A CONVENIENT HOUSE and lot on Sherbrook St. Apply to T. SLOMAN. d149

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE. On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, Solicitor, George Street. ds1

TO RENT.

IN about 2 months, FIVE FIRST-CLASS TERRACE HOUSES (White Brick), two storey, seven rooms, on George street, within one minutes walk of the market. Apply to JOHN CARLISLE.

FOR SALE.

BUILDING LOTS, situated on Rubidge, Park, Townsend and Wolf Streets. No money down providing you build. Come on and get a Lot before they are all sold to the stove men. Also House and Lot, and Park Lot. Apply to the owner, JOHN BELL, Corner Wolf and Rubidge Streets. d93

Musical.

A. P. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipsig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipsig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence

DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE

d111w6

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE,
d104w18 Solicitor

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto Schoool of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. lyd&w

Educational.

CANADA'S

Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training. $70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario.

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

WILSON DAY'S

Theatre Company

The Greatest Living Child Actress

ANNIE BIRD

At Each Performance.

TO-NIGHT,

Josquin Millers Famous Western Drama

"CARROTS!"

Admission 10c. Reserved Seats 25c. at Hartley's. 1d117

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. lyd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. lyd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. lyd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 759. Residence, Bon Accord Street. lyd97w4

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. lyd97

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. lyd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. lyd97

W. FITZGERALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. lyd97

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d120w23

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL. Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street, opposite St. John's Church. d120w23 1y

C. COLLINS M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w3

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinks of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

d&w JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers;—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 120 pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE St., NEW YORK.

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears, Sweet Florida Oranges, Malago Grapes, new English Walnuts Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecan Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Parties a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS,
George St., Peterborough

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. B. BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office.
Postal Address, Box 431. d118w3

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you looking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 25. PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, JANUARY 31, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

DIED.

DRAKE.—In Peterborough, on Monday, January 31st, EDWARD DRAKE, third son of John Drake, aged 28 years.

PROBABILITIES.

Fresh winds; fair and very cold weather.

R. FAIR.

COLORED BLANKETS

WHITE BLANKETS

COMFORTERS

From 69c. Up.

A few more of the Stylish Perfect Fitting Mantles to be cleared at slaughtering prices.

These goods must be cleared at once. A genuine bargain in each Mantle.

Gent's Persian Lamb Caps,
Ladies' Persian Lamb Caps,
Children's Grey Persian Lamb Caps,
MUST BE CLEARED.

SECURE BARGAINS!
SECURE BARGAINS!
SECURE BARGAINS!

R. FAIR.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d22w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w15

E. H. D. HALL,

SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.

MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d4w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d18w15

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.

MONEY TO LOAN. d18w15

HATTON & WOOD,

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

E. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON.

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d4lw18

W. BLACKWELL,

ARCHITECT and C. E. Plans and estimates made of Churches, Public Buildings and Dwelling Houses. Buildings superintended and Patents applied for. Heating and Plumbing a specialty. Office:—Over Telegraph Office, George street, Peterborough. d150w7

Music.

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. d1y

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. 1y211

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,

AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,

FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS

AND

MUSLIN CURTAINS

AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S

Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN

OF THE

Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, JANUARY 31, 1887.

THE C. P. R.

An Article by Lady Macdonald on the Great Railway.

A special cable despatch to the Mail says that Lady Macdonald's article, "By Car and by Cowcatcher," appeared on Friday in Murray's Magazine. It is a description of her ladyship's journey over the Canadian Pacific railway. She speaks in very glowing terms of the exquisite beauty of the scenery, the comfort of the carriages and the importance of the line. She also enters briefly into the political history of the undertaking, showing how politicians quarrelled over it, how speculators shook their heads, how engineers doubted the feasibility of the scheme and how the railway authorities opposed the enterprise. It broke one Government, embarrassed another, set everybody by the ears, and bade fair to become a chronic quarrel between the rival parties, when happily the difficulty was faced and the line was brought to a successful finish. The journey of the authoress reads like a novel. It is written with admirable taste and in a gossipy style that is exceedingly interesting. Lady Macdonald refers to her husband as a chief who is always engaged in adding to his store of knowledge about the country and its necessities and the requirements of the people. The meeting with the Blackfeet is like a page from a romance. The welcome that Sir John Macdonald received was most gratifying, showing the loyalty of the Dominions dusky and distant subjects. The authoress gives many interesting incidents of her journey, especially of that part where she proceeded from Laggan for 600 miles on the cowcatcher of the engine. At this point the story ends for the present, but sufficient has been published to awaken interest here in the great and successful enterprise.

Mr. Mercier's Ministry.

QUEBEC, Jan. 30.—Mr. Mercier has completed the formation of his Cabinet, and the new Ministers all proceeded to Spencer Wood last night and there took the oaths of office in the presence of Lieut.-Governor Masson at 9 o'clock p. m. The Government is constituted as follows:—Hon. Honore Mercier, Premier and Attorney-General; Hon. Joseph Shehyn, Treasurer; Hon. Pierre Gareau, Commissioner of Crown Lands; Hon. James McShane, Commissioner of Agriculture and Public Works; Hon Mr. Duhamel, Solicitor-General; Hon. C. A. E. Gagnon, Provincial Secretary; Hon Arthur Turcotte and the Hon. D. A. Ross, Ministers without portfolio. All are members of the Legislature except Messrs. Garneau and Ross. These will be at once appointed to the Legislative Council. Vacancies will be created for them by the retirement of Messrs. Savage and Remillard, the latter of whom is to receive a Government appointment.

The President's English!"

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—In a speech at Dartmouth alumni dinner last night, Mr. Chauncey M. Depew in suggesting a chair of the English language in all our colleges, referred to the general inaccuracy in the use of the language by saying: "Eight eminent lawyers were in my office to-day and they examined the interstate commerce bill. Four of them said if you take this interpretation you will go to gaol, and if you take the other you will rot in prison."

A TEMPERANCE TALK.

THE REV. P. CONWAY DEFINES HIS POSITION ON THE QUESTION.

He Comes Out Emphatically as an Advocate of Temperance—Doesn't Believe in the Scott Act.

On Sunday evening the Rev. P Conway delivered a lecture in St. Peter's Cathedral on the subject of Temperance, giving it in aid of the St. Vincent de Paul Society. The Rev. gentleman commenced by saying he was here to-night to plead the cause of the poor—the cause of God; for God Himself tells us that he who giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord. It might seem strange to some that he should choose the subject Temperance, or rather Intemperance. But consideration would show a natural connection between drunkenness and poverty. He would ask the St. Vincent de Paul Society who would distribute the contributions made to-night what brought about the greatest amount of misery? Their answer would be "drunkenness." Diminish this and you alleviate at once a large amount of the suffering of the poor. His people would see, therefore, that the subject was not out of place.

SPIRITUAL INTERESTS.

The doctrine of their church was very clear relative to the vice of drunkenness. It was without doubt a mortal sin. It is classified amongst capital or deadly sins. It is the basest form of gluttony. Persons committing it brought upon themselves the greatest punishment the Church inflicted on her children that of selfexcommunication. For if a man dies in drunkenness, no matter how good he was before, no matter how obedient to the Church, the Church's prayers never ascend to heaven in his behalf. The holy sacrifice of the mass was never offered for his soul. The drunkard is outside the pale of the Church. St. Paul in his Epistle to the Corinthians, at the 6th chapter, declared that the drunkrd could not enter the kingdom of God. A man might be guilty of other crimes and intercession could be made, but with the drunkard there was no hope. In Ecclesiastics it wast stated that "the workman that is drunk shall not be rich" and this truth is verified daily. Quotations were made from Ecclesiasticus 31 and Proverbs 23rd denouncing the evil and he could cite many more. He might say that drunkenness was the source of all crime. Ask any clergyman of any denomination in Ontario to-day what is the greatest source of evil and trouble and what is the greatest enemy of God's cause and his answer would be without hesitation "drunkenness." Having viewed it from a theological point of view they might look at its influences on our material welfare.

PECUNIARY INTERESTS.

Look at the millions of capital that is wasted, aye, worse than wasted every year in intoxicating liquors! Better far men would cast their money into the depths of the sea than spend it thus. Then no evil effects would follow and the baneful and pernicious brood would not produced. What wealth could bring back to them some of the best members of society snatched from their vocations of usefulness by means of intoxicating drink? What is so destructive of business principles? What thousands it cost the country to build gaols, hospitals and asylumns, which would not be needed but for this vice! He attended the gaol at Toronto as chaplain for years and by diligent enquiry from the inmates found that invariably the first step in the downward grade was drink. Now the numbers immured within these walls throughout the country represented a large amount of idleness which otherwise might be industry and consequent wealth. The liquor cost money, it produced bad effects, morally and otherwise, it cost the country money to build gaols and such places, and the prisoners therein meant a great loss of wealth to the country. They could plainly see that intemperance was detrimental to their pecuniary interests.

SOCIAL INTERESTS.

It was equally subversive to social interests. Oh! it was scarcely necessary to attempt to prove this. How many fueds, how many quarrels, how much discord between families arises out of a rash word or act said or uttered caused by intoxicating liquor? But go farther. Come to the family circle. Enter the abodt of a temperate family. Everything is peace, everything is harmony. The husband loves the wife with a true conjugal affection. The children are obedient and docile. They are neat and clean. They are educated according to their station in life, or according to the station they are destined for. It is in reality a poem of social happiness. But look at the other side. Enter the drunkard's home. Disorder on every hand cries: "Liquor has done this." The children are deprived of, if not the necessaries of life, the comforts of life. The poor mother is crushed beneath a weight of woe. The children lose respect for their father. Sometimes they form evil companionships and bring disgrace on the family. Broken in heart the mother sinks to her grave. The father, loose from all restraint, rushes madly to drink for—comfort. His end soon comes and he fills a drunkard's grave. In his experience as priest for thirty years he had met many such cases as he had described. He cited a case and stated that he could tell many such tales of sorrow.

PHYSICAL INTERESTS.

There was nothing more destructive of human strength than the use of alcoholic beverages. Physicians would admit this. It was as true in the case of the moderate drinker as with the tipler. The former was never drunk; rarely ever sober. By continued drinking the whole system was saturated with drink. The lining of the stomach is inflamed; food loses its power; and at last there is a total disgust for food. One or more of the vital organs gives way and the end is near. A peculiar disease had been discovered in London lately—or rather an old one new named. when he was a boy it was known as rapid consumption. It attacked the toper and tipler. It was now called alcoholic phthisis. After a long and continued use of liquor the lungs became like a piece of wet brown paper. If possible to get it there your finger could be run through them as easily as through wet paper. A cold sets in and the victim dies in a few days, his lungs going all to pieces. Of these people, God help us, there were a great many of them. How often did he meet them? Why he could almost smell their breath across the street. A teetotaler would make a good detective for the Scott Act. (Smiles.) But he did not believe in the Scott Act and he would tell them why after a while. He stated that the continued use of intoxicating liquor brought the system into such a state as to court disease. He cited the cholera epidemic in '53 and '54. The drunkards were fairly mowed down; while abstainers found a simple preventive in a glass of brandy. Those who made use of liquors to such excess he termed nothing more nor less than perambulating beer barrels. But some might say "we can't go on with our work without a 'little something.'" He advised them not to allow their base appetites to deceive them. It had been proved that in fatiguing work the people who used liquor were the first to go under In India thirty-six men were picked out of the British army as near the same age and as near in physical strength as could be got. To one twelve a regular supply of strong liquor was portioned out; to another twelve, beer; and to the remaining twelve cold water. They were put on forced marches; the liquor men gave out first, the beer men second, and the cold water men stood it out longest and bravest. Injurious to pecuniary, social and physical interests, the use of liquor was equally so to INTELLECTUAL INTERESTS.

Here is the sober man. He is the physical head of creation—monarch of all nature. His soul is of God and God's impress is on his brow. The Greek word anthropos signified a turning upward—the only creature that looks heavenward. Look at the drunkard. Reason is dethroned. The beautiful and symmetrical figure of man is destroyed. He is more brute than man. Two friends were travelling along a road one day. They came to a miry place and there lay a man drunk with his head on some substance which kept it up. Conveniently near was a hog wallowing in the mud. "How comfortable they look," said one; "and how much alike," rejoined the other. "You owe an apology to the hog." But not only does the drunkard distroy himself spiritually, socially and physically, but he bequeathes his horrible vice and its deadly results to his offspring. Statistics proved that even if the next generation were kept safe from the habit, the vice which was transmitted by the grandfather would break out in the grandchild. In that respect it was like insanity, and, indeed, was a potent cause of it. What a terrible bequest to make to the children, which fathers and mothers dearly love! It was a wonder that the laws of the land did not gather up these unfortunate people, imprison them, and thus prevent an accursed offspring. He gave instances where drunkenness was transmitted from father to son that had come under his personal knowledge. The statistics of Canada and the United States proved that half of the lunatics in the asylums were either drunkards or the children of drunkards. In Massachusetts eleven-twelfths of the idiots were children of drunken parents. What an inheritance for parents to leave to their children!

CONCLUSION.

Could he speak too strongly on this subject, knowing, as he did, its evil results? It might be said, "He has been induced to speak on temperance." Yes; he had been induced. The cry had been ringing in his ears since he came here, and he only regretted that he had been silent so long. Had he not seen desolate homes where once there were happy families? And enquiring the reason: "Oh, your reverence, there was too much drink there." How many bright intellects had he seen ruined by drink! How many muscular men destroyed! He believed in total abstinence. He was a practical total abstainer himself, and he credited his good health largely to it. He had passed through Ireland, England, France and Italy without tasting their beers, wines or whiskies—a thing that few travellers could say. In reference to the Scott Act, he said he did not believe in it. He did not believe that people could be made sober by legislation. He had great faith in public opinion, and when the mass of the people frowned it down the liquor question would soon be settled by legislation. Let sobriety become the rule; let good example do its work; let the ladies in particular shun drunkenness; let boys and girls be on the side of temperance; let it be known that no drunkard will be tolerated, and the evil would be soon cured.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

CONTINUATION OF JANUARY SESSION BUSINESS.

SATURDAY—MORNING SESSION.

The Council went into session at 11 o'clock.

The minutes of yesterday's meeting were read and confirmed.

VICTORIA AND PETERBOROUGH.

The Warden read a communication from the Warden of Victoria stating that the County of Peterborough was required to appoint an arbitrator to arbitrate in reference to the bridges at and near Bobcaygeon. The County of Victoria had appointed an arbitrator.

Mr. SANDERSON held that appointing an arbitrator was an admission of liability. He held that Peterborough was not liable The Warden should be given power to proceed with the case.

Mr. KIDD, ex-Warden, stated that at the time of the repairing of these bridges, he, in behalf of the County, had on consultation with several Reeves disclaimed all liability. It would be better to fight Victoria than to pay for repairing its bridges.

Mr. BELCHER, County Engineer on being called, said that the bridge in question was altogether within the County of Victoria.

Mr. EDWARDS, County Solicitor, thought there was no doubt that, as the law stood now, this County was not responsible for these bridges.

Mr. Strickland moved, seconded by Mr. Sanderson—That with regard to the communication of the County of Victoria asking this council to appoint an arbitration to arbitrate on the question of the liability of this council as to the maintainance of the Bobcaygeon bridge that no action be taken and that if legal proceedings be taken that the warden be instructed to defend the interests of this county—Carried.

FINANCE REPORT.

A motion for adoption was moved.

Mr. Strickland moved in amendment seconded by Mr. Sanderson—That the report be referred back to the Committee with instructions to add a grant of $500 to the Peterborough Collegiate Institute.

The amendment was lost on the following division:—

YEAS—Messrs. Hicks, Mansfield, Finlay, Strickland, Forster, Sanderson and Fitzgerald.

NAYS—Messrs. Moloney, Walsh, Crough, Garbutt, Moor-, Elmhirst, Crough, Kidd, Crowe and Brown.

Mr. GARBUTT moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. MOLONEY.—That the clause granting $50 to the Peterborough Rifle Association be struck out.

The amendment was lost on the following division:—

YEAS—Messrs. Moloney, Garbutt, Walsh, Moore, Hicks, Crough, Crowe.

NAYS—Messrs. Elmhirst, Kidd, Mansfield, Finlay, Strickland, Forster, Brown, Sanderson, Fitzgerald.

The report was then adopted.

BY-LAWS.

A by-law to confirm the finance report, and a by-law to authorize the Warden and Treasurer to borrow money, not exceeding $15,000, to meet current expenses, were duly passed.

COUNTY OFFICERS.

A By-law confirming the report of the Committee on appointments to office was read. At the first reading Mr. Sanderson moved in amendment seconded by Mr. Moloney—That Mr. Carnegie be appointed a member of the Board of Audit instead of Mr. Porter Preston. The amendment was carried on the following division:—

YEAS—Messrs Moloney, Sanderson, Garbutt, Moore, Hicks, Crough, Elmhirst, Mansfield, Crowe, Finlay, Strickland, Forster, Brown and Fitzgerald.

NAYS—Messrs. Kidd Walsh and Finlay.

A GRANT.

Mr. FITZGERALD moved, seconded by Mr. BROWN—That a special grant of $100 be given towards improving the road from Bobcaygeon road to Buckhorn road and the Reeve of Harvey to be a commissioner on the expenditure of the same.—Carried.

ANOTHER.

Mr. ELMHIRST moved, seconded by Mr. STRICKLAND, — That whereas the main travel to the east country during the summer months is by water to Julian's Landing, that a grant of $25 be given toward making the road passable between Julian's Landing and the Burleigh road, and that the Reeve of Burleigh be a commissioner to expend the same.—Carried.

THE ARBITRATOR.

Mr. Kidd introduced a by-law to appoint a county arbitrator.

Mr. FINLAY moved, seconded by Mr. KIDD,—That Mr. W. E. Roxburgh, of Norwood, be appointed.

On motion the by-law was read for a first time.

On the second reading Mr. STRICKLAND moved, seconded by Mr. MOLONEY,—That Mr. John Carnegie be the arbitrator.—Carried.

CARETAKER.

Mr. SANDERSON moved, seconded by Mr. FORSTER.—That Mr. Flood be appointed caretaker of the Pigeon Creek bridge, and that his salary be $12, and that the Treasurer pay him $25 for the last year.—Carried.

ICE.

Mr. MOLONEY moved, seconded by Mr. WALSH,—That the Treasurer be authorized to procure the necessary ice for the Court House.

COUNTY CONSTABLES.

Mr. ELMHIRST introduced a motion referring to the payment of County Constables. It was left over till the June session.

The Council adjourned.

To Have Prohibition.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 29.—The Senate to-day passed, on its final reading, the prohibition amendment to the constitution, the vote being yeas 31, nays 2.

The Cable Pool.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The French Cable Company has finally demanded of the Western Union a return of its land lines. Pres. Green replied that he would refer the demand to the board of directors. It is believed the latter will refer it to the cable pool.

TRY the invincible—Culvers Cough Balsam—at the Floral Drug Store.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

WINN ESTATE EVICTIONS.

DUBLIN, Jan. 27.—The last of the evictions from the Winn estate took place at Coomasharr to-day. Three tenants were evicted and their houses levelled to the ground. Two others were re-admitted to their dwellings as caretakers.

POLICE FOR EVICTIONS.

LIMERICK, Jan 29.—Six hundred police are preparing to assist in 70 evictions on the Bodyke estate, County Clare.

FATHER McGLYNN.

ROME, Jan. 29.—It is expected, as a result of the McGlynn affair, the Pope will address an encyclical letter to the Catholics of America on the attitude of Catholism toward the rising tide of Democracy.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

DUBLIN, Jan. 30.—Mr. McNulty and other farmers on the Defreyne estate, at French park, Roscommon, has been committed for conspiring to collect rents by means of the Plan of Campaign.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The Irish amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech will be produced either on to-morrow or Tuesday, as opportunity may offer. It will definitely raise the question of Home Rule, placing it before the land issues as more important and urgent. The Government wish to avoid being drawn into a discussion on Home Rule at this early stage of the debate, but the Nationalists are resolved the subject shall be at once as thoroughly ventilated as the rules of the House of Commons permit. The Tory Unionist programme is to take the land question first and defer discussion of Home Rule until the procedure amendments are passed.

A SEAT FOR MR. GOSCHEN.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Lord Algernon Percy, member for St. Georges, Hanover square, has announced his willingness to retire in favour of Mr. Goschen. It is believed the latter will accept.

THE RELIEF OF EMIN BEY.

CAIRO, Jan. 29.—The Government insists that Mr. Stanley, the explorer, shall take the Zanzibar route in his expedition for the relief of Emin Bey. Mr. Stanley says he will not rush to meet the fate of Hicks Pasha and Gen. Gordon to please Egypt. Sir Evelyn Baricl supports Mr. Stanley, and hopes to succeed in persuading the Government to agree with him.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

CORK, Jan 29.—The Municipal Council has adopted a resolution declaring that instead of the Irish people subscribing to the Queen's Jubilee it would be more fitting for the Prince of Wales to send relief to the Irish people in distress.

WARLIKE UTTERANCES.

DUBLIN, Jan. 30.—Mr. William O'Brien, speaking at Bodyke, County Limerick, today, said that if Irishmen could meet the police man to man with rifle to rifle in the open field, he for one would promptly abandon speaking and the next speech the destroyer of people's homes would hear would be from the mouths of the people's guns.

CONCENTRATION OF TROOPS.

BERLIN, Jan. 30.—The continued concentration of Austrian troops in Galicia and the huge transportation of war material thither adds uneasiness in financial circles. There are also other war indications. Reinforcements have arrived at Dienze, Hagenau and other frontier posts in Germany. An Alsace journal reports that the French are building barracks at Gerardmoi to accommodate 3,000 men and at Corcieux for 3,000 more, and that at other places in the Vosges smaller barracks are being erected.

A TENANTS' VICTORY.

DUBLIN, Jan. 30.—Lord Dunsandle some time ago offered his Galway tenants a reduction of fifteen per cent. in rents. They demanded a thirty per cent. reduction, and when this was refused adopted the Plan of Campaign. Lord Dunsandle now agrees to reduce rents twenty-five per cent. and to reinstate evicted tenants. There is great rejoicing among the tenants over their victory.

SAVED BY A MIRACLE.

Escape of Five of the Crew of the Wrecked Schooner Graham.

HALIFAX, Jan. 28.—The schooner C. Graham was wrecked last Monday night in a gale off Dover West, and her crew of six men were believed to have perished. This evening, however, three of the crew reached Halifax, and reported that two of their number were at Dover being cared for till they recover from their injuries and exhaustion consequent upon their fierce struggle with the elements.

The survivors state the schooner struck about ten o'clock at night, and the foremast fell against the cliff, resting on a ledge about thirty feet above the deck. Five of the men clambered up the mast and reached the narrow ledge on which it rested. The sixth and missing man was the captain. He was last seen to enter the cabin, and it is thought that after leaving it he fell through the deck and hurt himself so badly as to be unable to move. The five on the rock had barely reached their place of refuge when the schooner parted and was washed out of sight. From the ledge the men clambered to the top of the rock, where they remained until Wednesday morning, half clothed, without shelter, food or water. The storm continued throughout all this time and the heavy sea running made it impossible for people on the shore who knew of the wreck to make a search. On Wednesday morning, the sea having calmed down, boat crews put off from the land. The men on the rock attracted their attention, and lines being thrown to them they were dragged through the water into the boats. All were fearfully exhausted from their exposure to the elements, and had they been compelled to remain in their terrible position a few hours longer all would have perished. The mate, James Watt, was so far gone that his life was despaired of, but he is now rallying and will recover in time. He is being taken care of at a house in Dover, where another of his comrades also remains until he is able to proceed to Halifax.

ANOTHER lot of ladies ribbed over stockings to hand at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

John Walters, a veteran of 1812, died a few days ago in South Butler, Wayne County, New York, aged 104.

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnhams.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, JANUARY 31, 1887.

IRISH HOME RULE.

The Reform candidate in West Peterborough appears to depend largely for his success on the introduction into the contest of the question of Home Rule for Ireland. It was dwelt on at length at his meetings last week, he commencing by, in his first speech at his first meeting, announcing himself as a supporter of Mr. Gladstone's scheme.

The friends of Ireland, including those who most warmly advocate Home Rule and approve of Mr. Gladstone's bill, must feel that the introduction of the question into this election is a mistake. It is not calculated to—it is not intended to—do any good to Ireland, or even to advance the cause of Home Rule. If the Reform politicians and partisans forced a large body of the people of Canada into active opposition to local government for Ireland—if they succeeded in making it a party question in Canada—how would Erin be benefitted or Home Rule advanced?

Mr. Gladstone's Irish Government Bill was an elaborate scheme for providing intricate machinery for the government of the island. It was not and is not the business of Canadian politicians or the Canadian Parliament to decide whether the machinery proposed to be provided by Mr. Gladstone's bill was the best machinery that could be furnished for the purpose. It was no part of their business to examine the details and work out the problem of whether that machinery would be likely to be injured by friction or whether it was of such a nature that it would not wear. Such questions needed searching examination and profound study, as well as a most intimate acquaintance with the countries and the details of the complicated financial and other questions involved. Therefore the House of Commons at Ottawa would be rash and venturing beyond its sphere if it pronounced an opinion for or against a particular scheme for the local government of Ireland. A the same time the principle of home rule, a principle that Canada has acted on for years, is one that Canadian politicians and statesmen are acquainted with. It is a principle that Canadians believe in, and the Canadian House of Commons unanimously adopted a resolution, when moved by the Hon. John Costigan, recommending that the principle be applied to Ireland. All were in accord then, and it was only when Mr. Blake introduced a motion favoring a particular scheme that any division arose. He knew that all the members of the House of Commons were not in a position to pronounce an opinion on a particular scheme; he knew his motion would cause a division; he knew that it was only intended as a political device for making capital for his party. His action, whether considered from the point of view of those who favor or those who disapprove of Mr. Gladstone's bill, or of those who feel little interest in the question, is deserving of censure. Canadians were willing for their representatives to express an opinion favoring the principle of Home Rule, but if that had been done and done unanimously, Mr. Blake would not have the same opportunity for making political capital. That would not have suited him. He showed that he cared not for College Green or for Ulster, that he cared not if bitter feelings at play in Ireland were aroused here, and that his only thought was for himself and his party, and such selfishness and disregard of peaceful harmony should be condemned.

IN A TEA CUP.

Mr. Blake and his friends while sneering at the N. P., endeavour to persuade those interested in manufactures not to be afraid, as there must be a high tariff to obtain a large revenue. This is not an honest statement of the situation. Even if there were a high tariff it would not necessarily be protective. Nor is a high tariff necessarily connected with a large revenue. In fact just where a tariff brings in revenue there it ceases in proportion to be protective.

To those who look beneath the surface every utterance of Mr. Blake and his friends when pretending to be converted, for the present, from free trade, shows their distaste for protection and their inclination to re-arrange the tariff so as to protect our industries as little as possible. One mode suggested by them, that of equalizing the duties to the values, would simply remove all protection from the common staple goods, the chief output from our factories, leaving them exposed to ruinous competition. In a somewhat similar manner they can produce the same result by removing duties from classes of goods which we produce, and putting them on classes of goods which we do not produce. Mr. Paterson, Brant, an electioneering Grit-Protectionist, now converted to to his party antipathy to the N.P. put this very clearly. In a debate on the sugar duties he objected to them and expressed his preference for duties on tea and coffee as a means of raising a revenue. Thus he proved how false is Mr. Blake's argument that a tariff to produce a revenue must be protective, and at the same time he showed the willingness of the Reformers, even though pretended protectionists, to arrange the tariff so as to deny protection to a Canadian industry while obtaining a revenue from articles which no Canadian has an interest in protecting. What would be the result of Mr. Paterson's plan? Refined sugars would be imported from abroad, our own refineries would be closed, to the loss of those employed in them, of their families, and of allied trades; no revenue would be obtained from sugar; and at the same time the consumer would not have the benefit of lower prices, for the advantage would be derived by the foreign refiners, who would maintain their prices as before the N. P. era. On the other hand the duty on tea and coffee, as in the old Reform days before the Conservatives repealed it, would be added to the price, since this queer protection would hardly encourage the formation of tea and coffee plantations in Canada, so there would be no fostering of internal competition. This is the Grit tariff policy in a tea-cup. This spirit pervades their whole fiscal system, and nothing could be more suicidal for Canada than its adoption.

OUR FISHERIES.

In regard to the U. S. Senate debate on the fishery question the New York Tribune has the following:—

"In the course of the debate in the Senate on the Retaliation resolution Senator Vest, who was opposed to taking any action that squinted in the direction of war, reminded his brother Senators that the English and Americans are of one blood. "Jim," said the colored dominie to a member of his flock who had a habit of trouncing his wife, "Jim, you shouldn't be guilty of such conduct. Remember, Jim, that a man and his wife are one." "I know," answered Jim, "but the trouble is my wife always wants to be the one." Canadian papers please copy."

We comply willingly with the request to copy. The anecdote though somewhat of a "chesnut," as our cousins would say, certainly has the merit of defining accurately the position habitually assumed by their country. She always wants to be the one. In fact we may admit that she has on several important occasions proved herself to be the one. She has filched from us territory, rightfully ours, by the use of false evidence and by the suppression of evidence favorable to our claim. She cajoled Mr. Gladstone into so limiting the dates for claims to be submitted to the joint commission at Washington as to shut out the Fenian raid damages from the matters they might consider. She obtained by dishonest and fraudulent pretences so excessive a sum in the Alabama award that to this day she is unable to find anyone who can show the slightest right to a great part of it as having been damaged, and has the plunder still in her treasury. She is now claiming that she is the one who owns all Canadian fish, and has a right to claim our assistance in taking it, while declining to let us sell it to her. However, she will find this time that her claim to be "the one" is not recognized. The Macdonald Administration is firmly maintaining our territorial rights, and the Imperial Government shows itself ready to do its duty in supporting our honest claims. We confess we would not feel so secure if there were a change in the administration of the Dominion. We notice that United States journals take the same view of the situation, though from a different standpoint, hoping for the success of Mr. Blake and his friends, as being likely to yield all that the New England fishermen want, that is the right to steal our fish without allowing us any compensation. Mr. Blake seems to be rather popular —with foreigners.

MR. BLAKE AND THE N. P.

The following letter has been addressed to the Montreal Star by Mr. Clendenning, who is well known to be an excellent authority on matters of trade and finance:

Sir,—I see the Hon. Mr. Blake is announced to speak here in a few days. Montreal does not forget his last great effort here. Had the country listened to his counsel at that time the Canadian Pacific would be still a thing of the distant future. It was fortunate for Canada that the patriotism of her people sustained Sir John A. Macdonald not only in his C. P. R. scheme, but also in his National Policy, the result being that our country has steadily developed, and we are to-day a prosperous people despite the prophetic declarations of the great leaders of the Reform party.

Mr. Blake and his followers are now fencing on the National Policy question. Men whom we have known for years as most pronounced free traders are giving out their assurances to the industrial classes that Mr. Blake does not mean to touch the tariff. "We must have a revenue," they say and they think we are stupid enough not to know that the revenue can be raised from customs duties, and yet little or no protection be given to the industries of the country. It need hardly be added that in this city those who are most loud in proclaiming the safety of the tariff are the very men who desire a change.

Any person who had occasion to wait on the Mackenzie Blake-Cartwright Government in reference to tariff matters need hardly be told that they were in principle free traders, and whilst they had opportunity they put their principles into practice. Sir Richard Cartwright was called upon again and again by deputations representing very large and important Canadian interests. It was in vain that they tried to show him that the factories were closed, the men were idle, and that the workingmen would have to go to other countries in order to find employment. Sir Richard's treatment of deputations was a matter of more than public notoriety.

The National Policy is the only real live issue now before the electors of this Dominion—that is, in other words, will our own Government allow our own people to make, in our own country, goods that we require; or shall we be obliged to send our money to other countries to buy, and thus force our mechanics, artisans and factory operatives to leave Canada and go where they can find work.

W. Clendinneng.

Montreal, January 26th, 1887.

FROM ALL OVER.

It is reported that suits for infringement of patents will shortly be brought by the Edison Company against all users in Canada of other incandescent lamps.

Two new townships, comprising some of the richest agricultural lands in the Province of Quebec, have been added to the surveyed portion of Ottawa County by the recently completed survey of the Lievre district.

The Grand Trunk freight house on River street, Buffalo, with all its contents, together with a number of freight cars, and and the office with the books and documents, were destroyed by fire on Friday.

LINDSAY.

A Loss.—On Sunday morning pedestrians in passing near Sadler, Dundas & Co's grist mill observed what appeared to them a large heap of sawdust in the river on the west side of the mill, and gave the matter no more thought. One of the men happening to come down saw that a large quantity of wheat piled against a window had, by its weight, forced a pane of glass, andover 1,600 bushels poured into the river. About 400 bushels were got out dry and a good quantity taken out of the water which will be kiln-dried, but the remainder will furnish food for fish.

Two Trains North Daily.—Next summer there will be two trains north from Lindsay to Fenelon Falls, Kinmount, Haliburton and Irondale. One to leave here on the arrival of the Toronto train at 11 a. m., while a fast morning train will be run from Haliburton in time to connect with the 9.15 train going west here. Plans are already drawn up for the magnificent new station at the junction near Kinmount. Trains will be run over the Irondale, Bancroft and Ottawa to connect with all on the main line. By the middle of next summer there will be fifty-five miles of the I. B. & O. Ry completed.—Warder.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

New Advertisements.

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WARE ROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

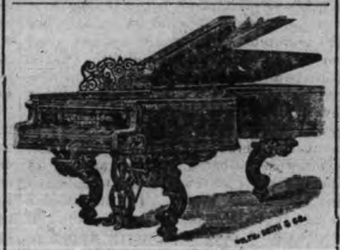
GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00
LADIES..... 50



10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG,
1645 Manager.

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

DON'T FORGET

TO CALL AND SEE

D. SMART'S

SUPERB STOCK OF

Sewing Machines, Pianos, Organs, & Sheet Music.

We Cannot be Undersold.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skilful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books' Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Rasins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d28wt

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye-Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 35 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY

JOHN NUGENT

Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont.
FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 22 Maryland Road, Harrow Road, London, England. (Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)

No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d28eodwtf

Xmas Comes But Once a Year

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 3 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 10c.

To every purchaser of one pound of our 50c. tea, 5 lbs. of Raisins for 15c.

We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

BY HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

CHAPTER IV.

That a man of Carriston's rank, breeding and refinement should meet his fate within the walls of a lonely farm-house beyond the Trossachs, seems incredible. One would scarcely expect to find among such humble surroundings a wife suitable to a man of his stamp. And yet when I saw the woman who had won him, I neither wondered at the conquest, nor did I blame him for weakness.

I made the great discovery on the morning after my arrival. Eager to taste the freshness of the morning air, I rose betimes and went for a short stroll. I returned, and while standing at the door of the house, was positively startled by the beauty of a girl who passed me and entered, as if she were a regular inhabitant of the place. Not a rosy Scotch lassie, such as one would expect to find indigenous to the soil; but a slim, graceful girl, with delicate classical features. A girl with a mass of knotted light hair, yet with the apparent anomaly, dark eyes, eyelashes and eyebrows—a combination which, to my mind, makes a style of beauty rare, irresistible and dangerous above all others. The features which filled the exquisite oval of her face were refined and faultless. Her complexion was pale, but its pallor in no way suggested anything save perfect health. To cut my enthusiastic description short, I may at once say it has never been my good fortune to cast my eyes on a lovelier creature than this young girl.

Although her dress was of the plainest and simplest description, no one could have mistaken her for a servant; and much as I admire the bonny, healthy Scotch country lassie, I felt sure that mountain air had never reared a being of this ethereally beautiful type. As she passed me I raised my hat instinctively. She gracefully bent her golden head, and bade me a quiet but unembarrassed good-morning. My eyes followed her until she vanished at the end of the dark passage which led to the back of the house.

Even during the brief glimpse I enjoyed of this fair unknown a strange idea occurred to me. There was a remarkable likeness between her delicate features and those, scarcely less delicate, of Carriston. This resemblance may have added to the interest the girl's appearance awoke in my mind. Any way, I entered our sitting-room, and, a prey to curiosity and perhaps hunger, awaited with much impatience the appearance of Carriston—and breakfast.

The former arrived first. Generally speaking, he was afoot long before I was, but this morning we had reversed the usual order of things. As soon as I saw him I cried:

"Carriston, tell me at once who is the lovely girl I met outside. An angel with dark eyes and golden hair. Is she staying here, like ourselves?"

A look of pleasure flashed into his eyes—a look which pretty well told me everything. Nevertheless, he answered as carelessly as if such lovely young women were as common to the mountain side as rocks and brambles.

"I expect you mean Miss Rowan, a niece of our worthy landlady. She lives with her."

She cannot be Scotch, with such a face and eyes."

"Half and half. Her father was called an Englishman, but was, I believe, of French extraction. They say the name was originally Rohan."

Carriston seemed to have made close inquiries as to Miss Rowan's parentage.

"But what brings her here?" I asked.

"She has nowhere else to go. Rowan was an artist. He married a sister of our hostess, and bore her away from her native land. Some years ago she died, leaving this one daughter. Last year the father died, penniless, they tell me, so the girl has since lived with her only relative, her aunt."

"Well," I said, "as you seem to know all about her, you can introduce me by-and-by."

"With the greatest pleasure, if Miss Rowan permits," said Carriston. I was glad to hear him give the conditional promise with as much respect to the lady's wishes as if she had been a duchess.

Then, with the liberty a close friend may take, I drew toward me a portfolio, full, I presumed, of sketches of surrounding scenery. To my surprise, Carriston jumped up hastily and snatched it from me. "They are too bad to look at," he said. As I struggled to regain possession sundry strings broke, and lo and behold! the floor was littered, not with delineations of rock, lake and torrent, but with images of the fair young girl I had seen a few minutes before. Full face, profile, three-quarter face, five, even seven-eighth face, all were there—each study perfectly executed by Carriston's clever pencil. I threw myself into a chair and laughed aloud, while the young man, blushing and discomfited, quickly huddled the portraits between the covers, just as a genuine Scotch lassie bore in the plentiful and, to me, very welcome breakfast.

Carriston did favor me with his company during the whole of that day, but, in spite of my having come to Scotland to enjoy his society, that day, from easily guessed reasons, was the only one in which I had undisputed possession of my friend.

Of course, I mastered him a great deal on the [illegible] ode. He took it in good part, attempting little or no defense. Indeed, before night he had told me with all a boy's fervor how he had loved Madeline Rowan at first sight, how in the short space of time which had elapsed since that meeting he had wooed her and won her; how good and beautiful she was; how he worshipped her; how happy he felt; how when I went south he should accompany me, and after making a few necessary arrangements, return at once and bear his bride away.

I could only listen to him and congratulate him. It was not my place to act the cedar, and advise him either for or against the marriage. Carriston had only himself to please, and if he made a rash step, only himself to blame for the consequences. And why should I have dissuaded—I who in two days envied the boy's good fortune?

I saw a great deal of Madeline Rowan. How strange and out-of-place her name and face seemed amid our surroundings. If at first somewhat shy and retiring, she soon, if only for Carriston's sake, consented to look upon me as a friend, and talked to me freely and unreservedly. Then I found that her nature was as sweet as her face. Such a conquest did she make of me that, save for one numerical reason, I should have felt quite certain that Carriston had chosen well, and would be happy in wedding the girl of his choice, heedless of her humble position in the world, and absence of befitting wealth. When once she was mine, I was sure that it would be hard for her to win social success her looks and bearing would insure it; and from the great improvement which, as I have already said, I noticed in his health and spirits, I believed that his marriage would make his life longer, happier and better.

Now for my objection, which seems almost a laughable one. I objected on the score of the extraordinary resemblance, which, so far as a man may resemble a woman, existed between Charles Carriston and Madeline Rowan. The more I saw them together, the more I was struck by it. A stranger might well have taken them for twin brother and sister. The same delicate features, drawn in the same lines; the same soft, dark, dreamy eyes; even the same shaped heads. Comparing the two, it needed no phrenologist or physiognomist to tell you where one excelled, the other excelled; where one failed, the other was wanting. Now could I have selected a wife for my friend, I would have chosen one with habits and constitution entirely different from his own. She should have been a bright, bustling woman, with lots of energy and common sense—one who would have rattled him about and kept him going—not a lovely, dark-eyed, dreamy girl, who could for hours at a stretch make herself supremely happy if only sitting at her lover's feet and speaking no word. Yet they were a handsome couple, and never have I seen two people so utterly devoted to each other as those two seemed to be during those autumn days which I spent with them.

I soon had a clear proof of the closeness of their mental resemblance. One evening Carriston, Madeline and I were sitting out of doors watching the gray mist deepening in the valley at our feet. Two of the party were, of course, hand in hand, the third seated at a discreet distance—not so far away as to preclude conversation, but far enough off to be able to pretend that he saw and heard only what was intended for his eyes and ears.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health, but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. d90

Peterborough Markets.

WHEAT.
[illegible] per bushel	[illegible]	to	[illegible]
Spring "	0 82	to	0 82
Arnecta Wheat	0 60	to	0 65
FLOUR AND MEAL.
Flour, Patent Process, per cwt.	$2 50	to	$2 50
Flour, bakers per cwt.	2 25	to	2 25
Flour, stone process	1 80	to	1 80
COARSE GRAIN.
Barley, per bushel	0 48	to	0 60
Peas	0 50	to	0 51
Oats,	0 29	to	0 29
Rye	0 45	to	0 45
MILL FEED.
Oat chop, per cwt	1 10	to	1 10
Pea chop, "	1 10	to	1 10
Barley chop "	1 00	to	1 00
Pollards "	0 80	to	0 80
Bran, per ton	11 00	to	11 00
VEGETABLES.
Potatoes, per bag	0 70	to	0 70
Cabbage, per head	0 05	to	0 07
Beets, per bag	0 40	to	0 40
Onions, per bag	1 25	to	1 40
Carrots, small red, per bag	0 35	to	0 40
Carrots, field, per bag	0 15	to	0 20
Turnips	0 20	to	0 25
Parsnips	0 30	to	0 40
MEAT, POULTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE.
Beef, by the quarter per cwt.	5 50	to	7 50
Pork, " "	6 00	to	6 25
Mutton, per lb	0 06	to	0 08
Veal, per lb	none offering
Lamb, per lb	0 07	to	0 8
Dressed Hogs	5 50	to	6 00
Hogs, live weight	3 75	to	4 25
Tallow, per lb	0 04	to	0 06
Lard	0 10	to	0 11
Chickens, per pair	0 45	to	0 60
Ducks, per pair	0 60	to	0 70
Geese, each	0 50	to	0 60
Turkeys, each	0 75	to	1 00
Butter, fresh roll, per lb	0 18	to	0 20
Butter, packed prime, per lb	0 16	to	0 18
Cheese, private sale per lb	0 12	to	0 13
Eggs, per doz	0 19	to	0 20
Hay, per ton	7 00	to	10 00
Straw, per load	2 50	to	3 00
Wood, hard, per load	3 50	to	4 50
Wood, soft, per load	2 50	to	3 00
WOOL AND HIDES.
Fleece wool	0 18	to	0 18
Southdown wool	0 20	to	0 20
Hides, per cwt.	5 50	to	6 00
Hides, trimmed, per cwt.	6 00	to	7 00
Lamb skins	25	to	25
Sheep Pelts, each	25	to	25
Sheep skins	1 00	to	1 00
FISH.
White Fish, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Speckled Trout, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Maskinonge, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Bass, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Finnie Haddie, per lb	0 10	to	0 10
Simcoe Herring, per do	0 30	to	0 30
Salt Mackrel, per doz	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per quart	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per can	0 45	to	0 55

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is unequalled as a remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS—Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

A WONDERFUL REMEDY.

The value of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, in the protection it affords from the dangers of pulmonary disorders, cannot be overestimated. Mr. C. K. Philips, Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "About three years ago I had severe Laryngitis, which resulted in chronic hoarseness. By the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral I have since entirely regained my health." Mr. Henry Russell, Excelsior Printing Co., New York, writes: "Influenza became epidemic in my neighborhood. Several members of my family suffered severely with it, all of whom took Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and were cured by it in a few days. It is a wonderful medicine for Influenza. Too much cannot be said in its favor."

E. M. Sargent, 41 Andover st., Lowell, Mass., says: "I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral about the year 1842, as a family medicine, for Coughs and Colds, and have always kept it in my house since that time. I consider it the best remedy that can be had for these complaints." Dr. J. B. Robertson, Clayton, N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, in my family and practice, for a number of years, and have no hesitation in recommending it. It is an admirable preparation, and well-qualified to do all that is claimed for it." E. J. Styers, Germanton, N. C., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best Cough preparation I ever saw. It gives instant relief."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

has cured a Cough in a few doses. It always relieves irritation of the lungs or throat, and arrests the tendency to inflammation. It strikes at the foundation of all Pulmonary diseases, is without a rival as an expectorant, and is a sure cure for the most obstinate Coughs and Colds. L. Garrett, Texana, Texas, writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for twenty years. For throat and lung diseases, I consider it a wonderful remedy."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., (Analytical Chemists), Lowell, Mass.

For sale by all Druggists.

CLEARING SALE.

CRYSTAL BLOCK.

SWEEPING REDUCTIONS

IN ALL WINTER GOODS.

GOODS MUST BE SOLD.

H. S. GRIFFIN & CO.

GREAT BARGAINS.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md78w41

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, San Francisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

Exceedingly Cheap

Is what every person says who has bought Groceries from us. Our Teas, Sugars and Coffees are marked low and are very good. We have a very select stock of

FRESH FAMILY GROCERIES,

Canned Goods, etc. which we are selling at rock bottom prices.

GEORGE CARTON

The People's Grocer, George Street

MARVELLOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Wholly unlike Artificial Systems—Cure of Mind Wandering—Any book learned in one reading. Prospectus, with opinions of Mr. Proctor, the Astronomer, Hons. W. W. Astor, Judah P. Benjamin, Drs. Minor, Wood and others, sent post free, by

PROF. LOISETTE,

237 Fifth Avenue, New York.

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,

d89 Ashburnham

JOB PRINTING!

Neatness in Style.
Moderation in Charges.
Fulfilment of Promises.
Despatch in Execution.

The REVIEW Printing Office

is prepared to execute the following, and other classes of PLAIN and FANCY WORK, in the best styles.

Posters, plain and coloured.
Programmes, in fancy styles.
Circulars, in script or plain type.
Bill-Heads, all sizes and shapes, on excellent quality of paper.
Business Cards all sizes.
Visiting Cards, in beautiful Cards, Texts or Script Lettering.
Postal Cards, with business Notices or Memorandum Headings.
Letter Headings,
Note Headings,
Blank Cheques,
Blank Receipts.
Pamphlets,
Catalogues,
Law Blanks.

and all and every description of work required to be done in letter press.

THE

REVIEW Job Printing Department

Satisfaction given to all customers; charges are is moderate as the cost of getting up good work will allow, and are usually found satisfactory.

The REVIEW Printing Office

Is noted for its punctuality in fulfilling promises and the business men can rely of getting up work at the time agreed upon.

THE FACILITIES FOR

GETTING OUT

JOB WORK

are ample, and orders are pushed through with vigor, so that work can be got out in short time.

Orders from the Country

attended to with promptness, and the work forwarded immediately on completion.

REVIEW

Printing & Publishing Co. (Limited).

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods, Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take your LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,

Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m 7 00 p m	Montreal and East, via G. & Q. R.	11 00 a m 10 00 p m
10 55 p m 7 00 p m	Toronto and West, via G. & Q. R.	6 00 p m 10 00 p m
8 20 a m 10 30 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West. do East.	1 15 p m 8 00 p m
12 00 m 8 50 p m 8 20 a m 5 15 p m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west) Millbrook and Port Hope do do	8 00 a m 4 30 p m 11 00 a m 8 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings.	1 15 p m
4 00 p m 5 15 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst Fraserville & Springville.	12 00 m 11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore.	1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night.	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Hamilton, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clyndale, Paudash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays.	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	5 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays.	7 30 p m
	Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	6 00 p m
9 00 a m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbadoes, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxenburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portdgal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamacia, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse, [before] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [after] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms.

TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, JANUARY 31 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Below Zero.

The Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering thermometer recorded 4¼° below zero on Sunday night.

A Bonus Offered.

Port Hope has offered Messrs. James Dyer & Son exemption from taxation for twen y years and a bonus of $2,000, if they establish a woollen mill in that town.

J. B. PENTLAND, Dental Rooms over J. Mills' Hat Store, George street.

Concert.

A grand Concert will be given in St. Luke's School Room, Ashburnham, Tuesday, Feb. 1st, in aid of the Choir Fund. Very attractive programme. Admission twenty-five cents.

Remember.

Remember the lecture to be given in the George Street Methodist Church this evening by the eloquent orator, John R. Clarke, of Detroit.

Personal.

The Madoc Review says:—"James Dolan Esq., a distinguished Peterboroughian, is spending some of his leisure in Madoc."

The Hon. Thos. White, Minister of the Interior, was in town to-day. He will speak in Lindsay to-night.

Lieut-Col. Rogers and the officers of the City Batalion have received invitations to attend the Grenadiers ball to be held in Toronto shortly.

Lost an Old Friend.

The Kingston News of Jan. 28th says:—"Mr. Mortimer, agent for Wilson Day's dramatic company, is in a melancholy mood, he having been deprived of a very old friend. A few evenings ago some person took his umbrella out of the opera house at Belleville and left a good one in its place. While the agent is much obliged to the gentleman who left him a good article he prefers securing his own umbrella because he had it for over thirty years, during which period it has shared his trials and his tribulations, which were many indeed. It is said that C. K. claims that the stolen umbrella has covered the heads of Keene, Barry Sullivan, Joe Jefferson, Mrs. Langtry, Mary Anderson, Patti, and other celebrities and strange to say, although venerable is but slightly lobsided."

County and High School.

The number of pupils from the County attending the Belleville High School having increased, the matter was referred by the County Council to a committee, who reported as follows:—"Your committee appointed to confer with a committee of the Board of Education in the City of Belleville in respect to the pupils from this county attending the city High School, beg to report.

"That your committee met the city committee last night and found that 45 county pupils are now in attendance at the High School.

"That that number of pupils will cost the city, based on last year's expenditures, allowing nothing to the city for the cost and use of school building, for the whole year at least $600, and that this year's expenses of the school will be greater than last year's were.

"That your committee agree to give Belleville High School, for the first half of the year for taking the county pupils, $300; this arrangement to end with the midsummer vacation."

About the Bonspell.

—Up to date eleven outside clubs have agreed to play in the bonspell commencing to-morrow. With the Peterborough club that makes twelve.

—Each club will be represented by two rinks, in all twenty-four rinks, or ninty-six curlers.

—The Brockville club will not be here on account of a vote being taken on some important by-law to-morrow. Eight votes might decide it.

—Ogdensburg, also, will be among the missing.

—The programme is as follows;—The play will commence at 9 o'clock in the morning. Twelve rinks will play in the forenoon and twelve in the afternoon. In the evening the winning six of forenoon and afternoon will play. This will leave three. On Wednesday forenoon a play off will be held and in the afternoon their bye will be played.

—On both days dinner and supper will be served in the rink dining room, caterer Ray in charge.

—On Saturday night the ice was not in good condition. The final of the Brown-Ferguson series was not played. The Brownites have a lead of 11.

—There will be no skating till Wednesday night.

—The ice is in fine condition and the bonspell will no doubt be a complete success.

FUR goods going at clearing prices at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

Scott Act.

At the Police Court this morning the case of Queen vs. Brennan was dismissed.

Better.

The lad, Fawcett, who was so badly hurt on Saturday by falling on the ice, is getting better. He recovered consciousness on Saturday afternoon. He will be about in a few days.

The Italian.

The Italian, Joseph Murphy, is still holding out well. The only feature in his case causing anxiety is his taking but little nourishment. He has grown considerably weaker and his body has shrunk very much, though it is but a week since he was shot.

The East Riding.

Mr. J. Burnham and Mr. J. O'Meara addressed a largely attended meeting of the electors of Douro, in the Town Hall, on Saturday night, with great success. Mr. Burnham received assurances of continued support from his old time friends. Douro refuses to go back on the N. P.

In Memory.

On Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service the Rev. J. W. R. Beck pereached a sermon in St. John's Church in memory of three of the parishoners recently passed away: the late Mrs. Wallis, Mr. John Browne and Mrs. Barlee. He took his text from the CXVI Psalm, 13th verse: "I will pay my vows now in the presence of all his people: right dear in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints."

Day's Theatre Company.

A highly pleased and large audience assembled at the Opera House on Saturday evening to witness the melodrama of Carrots. It is M'liss school with fine sentiment and a rich vein of comedy throughout. The situations are good and numerous and the climaxes sudden and surprising. It is a play well calculated to interest an audience from the rise to the fall of the curtain, as the author never allows the interest to flag once. Mr. Day as Edward Mitchell gave a true and manly impersonation of the western settler and frontiersman of the day and his acting throughout was characterized by careful attention to detail. Miss Willis as Carrots was excellent and played the untutored waif of the woods with a refreshing abandonment. Her rendition of the character was received with much favor. Little Annie Bird as Stumps, as anticipated, was capital. The sprightly speech, cleverness in acting, and naturalness in gesture, unexpected in one so young, completely won the hearts of the audience. The rest of the support was in good hands and was evenly balanced. To-night the Company will play the sensational drama "Under the Gaslight," with Mr. Day as Snorkey and Annie Bird as Peach Blossom.

CARNIVAL Blankets, Toques and Sashes at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

"A New Idea."

The firemen seem determined upon awakening a great amount of public interest in the fancy dress skating carnival to be held on Friday evening, Feb. 11th. In addition to the numerous prizes offered for the best fancy dresses a valuable silver cup has been presented by an unknown friend to be awarded to the person answering correctly the largest proportion of the following questions:—What is the name of the oldest inhabitant in the county of Peterborough? How many macadamised stones are there on George street? How many tom cats are there in Peterborough? How many panes of glass are there in the windows in the whole of the county of Peterborough? Who was the president of the Lime Juice Club's first boot black? How many honest men are there in Peterborough? How many stones were thrown into the river Otonabee by boys and girls last year? Who is the best judge of Moxie in the town of Peterborough? Name Mr. Geo. A. Cox's exact majority at the coming election. Who made the first shirt? What is the superficial area of Sir John A. Macdonald's collar? How often had Julius Cæsar the toothache? How many persons will there be in attendance at the fancy dress carnival on Friday evening, Feb. 11th? All competitors for the above prize to send in their answers in writing to the secretary of the carnival committee not later than the 10th of February.

BELLEVILLE.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.—The Intelligencer says that the community was shocked about noon on Saturday by the startling announcement that Dr. Abbott had been found dead in his bed. The report proved to be only too true. There was every indication of appoplexy. Dr. Abbott was largely known and had a large practice. He was a bachelor about 40 years of age, and was born on Wolf Island, near Kingston. He was a graduate of Queen's University, Kingston, and has been practising medicine in Belleville for 13 or 14 years. He has two sisters living in this city. Being so well known, his sudden demise has awakened a wide interest in the city. The unhappy news is heard with universal regret.

Smuggled Wool.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., 29.—The Government agents seized, yesterday, in this city, five pales of smuggled wool which had been discovered fraudulently entered at Rouse's Point. The goods had been transferred from Moore's Junction to Rouse's Point and easily passed thence to American shippers as domestic wools. The fact that the goods were smuggled, Inspector Hanlon says, was not known to the shipper or consignees.

The Mortgage Raised.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Mr. Potter Palmer paid off on Monday, the last mortgage on his property and is now free. He borrowed about $1,750,000 on mortgage after the fire.

DENTAL ROOMS over J. Mills' Hat Store George street. J. B. PENTLAND.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY.

George Street Methodist Church—Special Sermons.

Sermons were preached in the George Street Methodist Church on Sunday in connection with the anniversary of the Sunday School of that church. The pupils of the school occupied seats in the centre of the church and joined heartily in the singing.

At the morning service the Rev. I. Tovell the pastor, occupied the pulpit. He gave some statistics regarding the school which had been supplied him. The financial statement for the year, in brief, was, expenditure, $486.20; receipts, $338.70; balance, $147.50, which they hoped would be made up at these anniversary services and the lectures. The smallest attendance on any Sunday during the year was 269, the largest, 522, and the average, 425. The smallest collection had been $3 63; the largest $15 23, and the average $5.54. A large number of scholars had been converted to Christ during the year. One of the senior classes had suffered a loss during the year by the death of Miss Mary Wood. Their loss had been her gain. He made reference in beautiful terms to the young lady passing away to a better land.

After singing, and the reading of a Scripture lesson, Mr. Tovell chose his text from 2 Timothy, ii 15-"Study," a word in which he said, there was not much music for a lazy boy, but which was full of music for an energetic and good boy It was a good idea, in dividing a sermon, to give them pegs on which to hand their thoughts. The text was "Study." What were they to study? Jesus. And what about Him were they to study? He then divided his sermon into five heads or "pegs" as follows:—

S—Sufferings of Jesus.
T—Teachings of Jesus.
U—Universal love of Jesus.
D—The Duty they owed to Jesus.
Y—Youth wanted for Jesus.

Jesus suffered on the cross to save them. He taught them, with the Bible as a compass, the way to a better home. He loved every one, and loved every child, no matter how small. Their duty to him was to trust, love and obey, Him. Fashion, infidelity, intemperance, crime and worldliness wanted the children, but they were too good for these, and religion only was suitable for them. They should belong to Jesus. The thoughts were brought before the minds of the children by illustrations admirably suited for the purpose.

In the evening the Rev. F. H. Wallace, B. D., preached the sermon.

LORD COX OF COXTOWN.

Afraid to Rely on the Reform Policy Mr. Cox tries to Bulldose the Electors.

From the Coxtown Examiner.

"Now, Mr. Cox comes before the electors as a candidate for the representation of them in Parliament. That he is fitted for the position none can deny; that he will work willingly, earnestly and successfully for its best interests, his past record in developing, building up and booming the town is ample guarantee THIS TOWN OWES MR. COX HIS ELECTION. It owes it to itself to place as guardian of its interests at Ottawa, the man who for the past quarter of a century has proved in a hundred ways its best friend. In point of ability, administrative executive and legislative—in point of financial ability and business foresight, in point of loyalty to the interests of the town, he is the man for the position. He does not seek the position for his own ends. In entering upon this campaign he makes no inconsiderable sacrifice of business interests. IF THE PEOPLE ARE WISE, if they are grateful they will triumphantly elect him. If they withhold their support and confidence on this occasion it will afford poor encouragement to Mr. Cox to continue to persevere, as he has done in the past in promoting the interests of Peterborough—if twenty-five years of loyal service are to be rejected with ingratitude—if the people say, as they practically will say, if they reject Mr. Cox—"You have done so much for us that we can now do without you." Mr. Cox has, we believe, been exposed to strong inducements to transfer his interests and influence to Toronto. This city in its greed, grasps at every good thing within its reach, and it is wide-awake enough to appreciate the importance securing the influence, capital and business ability of a man like Mr. Cox by securing him as a citizen. They think that by securing Mr. Cox for Toronto, Peterborough as a commercial rival by no means to be despised, will be reduced to insignificance. But in this they will be disappointed. THE PEOPLE OF PETERBOROUGH, WE ARE SURE, APPRECIATE TOO HIGHLY MR. COX'S VALUE AS A CITIZEN TO ASSIST IN SWEEPING FROM THE TOWN THE IMMENSE INFLUENCE FOR GOOD OF WHICH GEORGE A. COX IS THE REPRESENTATIVE AND EMBODIMENT."

COBOURG.

A HALOCAUST.—The Editor of the Cobourg World has received a letter from Mr. Henry W. Hughes, Librarian of the Mechanics Institute, New Westminster, British Columbia, dated Jan. 15th. Mr. Hughes writes:—"At 2 o'clock this morning the Arlington hotel was destroyed by fire, and George Campbell who had charge of the woolen Mills in Cobourg a few years since, was burned to a crisp and his remains are now lying in a coffin before the hotel, along with those of a Mr. Brown, a stranger, awaiting the action of a corner's jury. Mr. McKay, another man, who was engaged in building a hospital, and who had just finished a new Roman Catholic church, was also destroyed. The hotel took fire so suddenly that nothing could be done, and had it not been for one man, Owen by name, who rushed in and woke up the inmates, all would have perished. If you wish to know anything about me, ask the Hon. Sidney Smith, Mr. Justice Armour, the Field Bros, or any one who lived in Cobourg in 1858. I meet people here from Cobourg, Port Hope and all round nearly every day."

"Is it Lost Forever"

—the youthful bloom, the freshness of health, the buoyancy of spirits, and all that goes to give pleasure and contentment to a heart made happy by health? No; not lost forever. There is hope for all. For those whose lives have been a burden, and for those who are now grovelling in the very sloughs of despondency. Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" will cure all chronic diseases peculiar to females. It will build up the system, and restore health, strength, and beauty. Try it and be convinced. Send ten cents in stamps for large illustrated Treatise on Diseases Peculiar to Women. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

BELFAST RIOTS.

Renewal of Old Troubles—Thirty People Killed and One Hundred Wounded.

BELFAST, Jan. 30.—There was terrible rioting in the Peter's hill, Carrick hill and Shank hill districts of this city last night. The trouble started by soldiers belonging to the West Surrey Regiment insulting a number of Catholic civilians. The latter retaliated by stoning the soldiers, many of whom were injured This was followed by wholesale arrests, over 100 persons being locked up. A constable engaged in his duty was seriously injured by the excited crowd. Finally military pickets were called out and quiet was restored. This evening the rioting was renewed, and the police and mob are exchanging shots. Thirty persons are reported killed and a hundred more injured.

Altogether fifty rioters have been arrested The trouble originated on Saturday night in a row between Protestants and Roman Catholics. The arrival of the police incensed the mob and led to a free use of revolvers and stones. The police were compelled to fire for their own protection. The mayor and other authorities did their best to prevent the renewal of the riot tonight, but without success. Only three persons were arrested to night. The outbreak to-night was caused by the appearance of two constables who gave evidence before the Riots Investigation Commission. Both constables were roughly handled, and reinforcements had to be called out.

BALTIMORE TRUNK HORROR.

A New York Saloon Keeper Arrested—He Confesses His Guilt.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Inspector Byrnes last evening arrested Edward Unger, a saloon-keeper, of No. 22 Ridge street, on the charge of murdering the man whose mutilated body was found in a trunk at Baltimore. The murdered man is believed to be Augustus Boltz, who went to live with Unger three weeks ago, and was reported to have a good deal of money When Inspector Byrnes examined the room occupied by Boltz in Unger's house he found blood upon the walls and floor. He also found a saw and a large knife with blood upon them. Unger's son, Edward Unger, jr., was also arrested last night. He confessed that his father and Boltz, or Bohle, as the man's name is also given, quarrelled recently about money matters. The next day Bohl and his trunk were gone and the room was bloody.

The headless body of the victim was brought here from Baltimore this morning and taken to the morgue, where it was carefully examined. It was found that the dead man had a stiffened joint on one of his fingers. It is known that August Bohle had a crooked finger, and may possibly establish the identification of the body. Unger still asserts his innocence and declares that Bohle is in Chicago. He was arranged in the police court this afternoon, and remanded to enable the police to secure additional evidence, his son being sent to the House of Detention.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Unger has confessed to his crime. He says it was the result of a quarrel.

POLICE COURT.

REMANDED.

MONDAY, Jan 21.—Marino, the Italian, who shot Joseph Murphy a week ago, was brought before the court this morning. The room was filled with people. He was further remanded for a week.

Our Cardinal.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Cardinal Taschereau of Quebec, visited Gen. Grant's tomb today. Before leaving he removed his hat and blessed the place.

DEFEATING THE BALIFFS.

DUBLIN, Jan. 30.—A crowd at Liaston, Cork, yesterday baracaded the house of a widow named Scalan against the baliffs who had come to evict her, and threatned baliffs and their escort of forty policemen with scythes, pitchforks and scalding water. The force was withdrawn in order to prevent a conflict.

THE RUMBLE CONTINUES.

LONDON, Jan 30.—There is very little fresh war news. The rumble of Continental preparations still continues, and the feeling grows that the struggle may be delayed but cannot be averted.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a specialty. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

GET Culver's Cough Balsam—a terror to coughs and colds.—Try it! Sold by G. A. SHERIN, Floral Drug Store. (Market.)

T. DOLAN & CO'S

$2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

Wants.

WANTED.

BOARD for man and wife. Apply REVIEW Office d3eod

WANTED.

BY A THOROUGHLY CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED PERSON, employment in the capacity of sick nurse. Apply to MRS. C. ROBINSON, Water St. north or at the REVIEW Office. d88

SITUATIONS VACANT.

WANTED GENERAL AGENT, for Peterborough and District, for the Equity Life Reserve Fund Liberal remuneration. Permanent position. Address "MANAGER" this Office. 2d25

WANTED.

TOWN PROPERTY in exchange for farms. Also wanted to buy, A COMFORTABLE HOUSE centrally located at from $600 to $1000, cash. Apply at once to

T. HURLEY,
Real Estate Agent
Hunter Street

TIE MAKERS

AND

STATION MEN

WANTED!

On Sault Division, D., S. S & A. R. R., Headquarters camp at Sault Junction, forty miles above St. Ignace on D., M. & M. R. R.

REXFORD BROS. & HODGE,
4d192aw Contractors

For Sale or to Rent.

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, Solicitor, George Street. d84

TO RENT.

IN about 2 months, FIVE FIRST-CLASS TERRACE HOUSES (White Brick), two storey, seven rooms, on George street, within one minutes walk of the market. Apply to JOHN CARLISLE.

FOR SALE.

BUILDING LOTS, situated on Rubidge, Park, Townsend and Wolf Streets. No money down providing you build. Come on and get a Lot before they are all sold to the stove men. Also House and Lot, and Park Lot. Apply to the owner, JOHN BELL Corner Wolf and Rubidge Streets. d92

Musical.

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipsig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipsig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence
DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE
d111w6

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE,
d104w18 Solicitor

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. 1yd&w

Educational.

CANADA'S

Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training.

$70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario.

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

WILSON DAY'S

Theatre Company

The Greatest Living Child Actress

ANNIE BIRD

At Each Performance.

TO-NIGHT,

Under the Gaslight

Admission 10c. Reserved Seats 25c. at Hartley's. 1d417

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. 1yd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. 1yd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. 1yd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 758. Residence, Bon Accord Street. 1yd97w4

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. 1yd97

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. 1yd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. 1yd97

W. FITZGERALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied. Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. 1yd97

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d139w28

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL, Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street, opposite St. John's Church. d128w28 1y

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w3

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

d&w JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $30 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 150 pages GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears, Sweet Florida Oranges, Malago Grapes, new English Walnuts. Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecan Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Parties a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS,
George St., Peterborough

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. B. BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office.
Postal Address, Box 431. d110w3

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

FEBRUARY

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 26. PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

DIED.

KEENAN.—At Grand Forks, Dakota, Jan. 28th, 1887, at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. George Lankin, MRS. AGNES KEENAN, relict of the late John Keenan of Peterborough.

Deceased was 67 years of age and leaves behind her three daughters and one son, Mrs. Jas. Rae, Mrs. Geo. Lankin and Mrs. James Lankin, of Grand Forks, and Mr. John Keenan, of Peterborough.

WALSH—At the family residence, Cavan, on the 31st ult., ELIZA JANE, eldest daughter of the late John Walsh, Esq.

PROBABILITIES.

Moderate to fresh north and north-west winds; fair and very cold weather.

R. FAIR.

COLORED BLANKETS

WHITE BLANKETS

COMFORTERS

From 69c. Up.

A few more of the Stylish, Perfect Fitting Mantles to be cleared at slaughtering prices.

These goods must be cleared at once. A genuine bargain in each Mantle.

Gent's Persian Lamb Caps,
Ladies' Persian Lamb Caps,
Children's Grey Persian Lamb Caps,
MUST BE CLEARED.

SECURE BARGAINS!
SECURE BARGAINS!
SECURE BARGAINS!

R. FAIR.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,
SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.
☞MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d1lsw1

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.
☞MONEY TO LOAN. d1lsw1

HATTON & WOOD.

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.
E. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d4lw18

W. BLACKWELL,

ARCHITECT and C. E. Plans and estimates made of Churches, Public Buildings and Dwelling Houses. Buildings superintended and Patents applied for. Heating and Plumbing a specialty. Office:—Over Telegraph Office, George street, Peterborough. d15lw1

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training.

$70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application,

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario.

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,

AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,

FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS
AND
MUSLIN CURTAINS

AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S

Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN
OF THE
Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Sppons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1887.

THE COXTOWN CANDIDATE.

MR. COX'S inordinate desire to write M. P. after his name, is, we fear, getting the better of his common sense, otherwise he would scarcely have permitted the extraordinary and self-laudatory article, which appeared in Saturday evening's issue of his organ, to have seen the light of day, even in its toadying columns. Such an article and such claims on behalf of a candidate for the peoples' votes might have been in order in aristocratic England half a century ago, when landlords were supposed to control the votes of their tenants, and employers those of their employees, but that day has long since passed away there, and has yet to be introduced into Canada, and if attempted to be carried out in practice, can only result in placing Mr. Geo. A. Cox in an even more unenviable position than that which he occupied in the Scott-Cox contest when he only escaped personal disqualification by the skin of his teeth.

But let us examine some of the "shoddy" claims put forth on behalf of Mr. Cox and on account of which the electors of Peterborough are impudently asked to give him their votes irrespective of their political opinions and irrespective of the policy which they deem best calculated to promote their own and their children's interests.

"We are all naturally and justifiably proud of such manufacturing establishments as the Auburn woollen mills, the lock-works and the stove foundry, and it will be generally conceded that the flourishing condition and very existence of these is very largely due to Mr. Cox's active co-operation and active identification with the establishment or promotion of these enterprises" says, Mr. Cox through his organ!

Now let us come down from the realms of inflated frogdom, and examine the facts as to Mr Cox's connection with these three enterprises

The Auburn Woollen Company was chartered in 1873, and at the first meeting of the stockholders Mr. Geo. A. Cox was elected a director and by the Directors elected President of the Company. From the day that Mr. Cox took charge of the Auburn Woollen Mills things went down hill from bad to worse, until the Company, was only two years afterwards, or in Jan. 1876, forced to order "that the wool and other saleable material on hand be sold" and "that notice be given to all employees of intention to close the mill when the work then in progress and yarns on hand are worked up." And in the following May (1876) the mill was shut down AND REMAINED SHUT DOWN SO LONG AS MR. COX HAD ANY THING TO DO WITH IT even as a stockholder! But not only was the mill obliged to be shut down, while Mr. Cox had to do with it, but it was so mismanaged during this period of its existence, that in May '76, an audit of the Company's books showed a deficiency of over $36,000, and pressing liabilities outstanding in excess of the cash assets to the tune of $27,000, which was equal to twenty per cent. of the capital of the Company, and his "far-seeing intelligence and shrewd energy" were so unequal to the task of again setting the Auburn Mills in motion, that at the last meeting at which he had anything to do with the Company, he rendered his valuable assistance in passing a resolution declaring: "That, as the Directors cannot see their way to carrying on the affairs of the Compay, the creditors be notified of the readiness of the Company to hand over the property to an assignee under the Insolvency Act."

And yet Mr. Geo. A. Cox dares to claim credit for the present position of the Auburn Mills and the votes of its employee's because of the "Steady employment at remunerative wages" which they are now enjoying. Could audacity go further! Mr. Cox may have a short memory—it is convenient to have a short memory sometimes—but the employees of the Auburn mills and all but recent arrivals amongst us know full well that it is NOT to Mr. Geo. A. Cox in any respect whatever, but to the financial ability and discrimination in selecting the right men for the right places and treating them not as slaves but as men, of the late Mr. James F. Dennistoun, and to HIM, we may say, ALONE that Peterborough owes the advantages which it has derived from the steady and vigorous operation of these mills for a number of years past, inasmuch as the only assistance which Mr. Dennistoun received, outside of his own family, in resuscitating them out of the slough of despond into which Mr. Cox's "phenomenal success" had plunged them was that received from Mr. John Bertram, who in 1880 became so faint hearted as to the company's prospects that he practically forced Mr. Deunistoun in that year to assume the entire responsibility of carrying them on, and from that day to this even he has had nothing whatever to do with them.

The next time Mr. Geo. A. Cox instructs his organ to wreath him in the laurels of the dead he had better make sure, before doing so, that the stolen laurels belong not only to those who are dead, but to those who are also forgotten!

Next as to the Lock Works:—To read the organ one would suppose that Mr. Cox, and Mr. Cox alone, owned the Lock Works, and that it was he, and he alone, who induced Mr. Brooks (the gentleman upon whose ability the success or non-success of the works really depends), to locate in Peterborough. How far is this true? Mr. Cox did promise to invest $10,000 in the project and actually signed a paper to that effect, but at a subsequent stage of the organization of the company this millionaire—this man whose cheque, we are told, is good for from half a million to a million of dollars—goes back on his promise and reduces his subscription of stock to one half the promised amount—$5,000, and even this sum he has since reduced to $3,500, upon which he has paid up the sum of $2,625. And that is the extent to which Mr. Cox has aided the Peterborough Lock Works Company, and upon the strength of which he lord-like "commands" the political worship of its employees, and indirectly threatens them with a loss of their bread and butter if not given. Such is liberty in the eyes of Mr. Geo. A. Cox.

The Stove Works. Not having the data we cannot say much as to this establishment and what it owes and what it does not owe to Mr. Cox. But we know that although it has been directly under his financial control since its commencement, it has not been a flourishing concern in so far as the employment it affords is concerned Indeed, if we are not misinformed it has been only about half worked on the average. Whether this arises from the inability of those responsible for its management to compete with others in the same line of business, or by reason of a little "jockeying" being indulged in by some of its stockholders we know not, but of one thing we are quite certain, and that is, that Mr. Geo. A. Cox does not pay the employees of the Stove Works one cent more wages than he can get others to do what they are doing for him or his Company, and that such being the case it is neither more nor less than an insult to honest labour for him or any one in his behalf to insinuate that he buys their vote with their day's labour.

To be continued.

TWO POLICIES.

THE London Advertiser says that "The tariff question in Canada is not, and never has been, one between absolute protection and absolute free trade." No, the question has been, and is, between a tariff that, without being absolute, protects Canadian industries and secures the markets of Canada for Canadian goods on the one hand, and another tariff that, without being absolute, encouraged and would encourage foreign industries, close Canadian factories and yield the markets of Canada to foreign goods on the other hand. One is the Conservative, the other the Reform policy. The people of Canada prefer the former and will support its friends.

THE QUEBEC MINISTRY.

MR. MERCIER has formed his coalition cabinet. It consists of no less than eight ministers; five of them are Liberals and three are Bjelite-Conservatives. There is only one Protestant among them and he is not entrusted with a portfolio; he is not in the representative House, and has no departmental office or patronage.

WAGES AND PROTECTION.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—In my letter of the 24th I promised to give you a list of wages paid to the workmen of European manufacturers. The same will be found below, together with a few extracts from the reports of the United States Consular Agents, who for a number of years have been transmitting to the State Department all information possible on the subject of labor, its hours, its relation to capital, and the earnings of both men and women.

It will be seen that in Austria the wages are very low, although the mechanics are clever, steady and trustworthy, and the relations between employers and employees are good. The greater portion of the farm and agricultural labor is performed by women; they are employed also in the factories, iron mills and mines. The following extract from the report says:—"Technical education receives much attention, and the Government fosters the most complete system of school workshops in Europe. These schools are of two classes: those where most of the student's time is spent at work in the shops and is supplemented by instruction in drawing, and those in which a thorough theoretical education is imparted, with a certain number of hours given each day to practical work in the shops." Therefore we see that the Government is fostering manufacturing by training the youth of the country to be expert mechanics.

Germany—The workmen in this country excel in patience—under the most trying circumstances—industry and economy. These good qualities enable them to sustain existence in their native land on very low wages, and to effect the best results in many fields of labor; "strict attention is paid to the subject of the education of the workmen so as to enable him to compete with foreign labor." In the last few years German mechanics have made great advances in the manufacture of some articles in which other countries excelled they now take the lead."

I will here mention one of the industries in which they excel and supply nearly all that comes to Canada, structural iron, used in the manufacturs of bridges and architectural structures. This industry was first commenced by the English, but the cheap labor of Germany has driven the English out of the market, therefore there are only two or three firms in England who now manufacture it. A short time ago the English Government made extensive additions to the Woolwich Arsenal and nearly all the structural iron used was supplied by German firms.

I find that wages vary much in different sections of the German Empire. They are highest in Alsace-Lorraine and lowest in Silesia. An important factor in the German labor question is that of the labor dogs. The principal part of the haulage of the country is performed by women and dogs harnessed together. Women do much of the manual labor in mining and foundries. In some parts they accompany the coal carts, putting the coal in the cellars while the men drivers sit on the carts. Their wages average about one-half those paid the men. The effect of such a life is not favorable to the development of the domestic virtues. In Hesse a nailmaker, with the assistance of his wife and children, working from 5 a. m. to 8 p. m., can earn from twenty-two to twenty-eight cents per day.

In Denmark manufacturing is of little importance, but the schools of the country are in the highest state of efficiency. Education is compulsory. Technical schools are established all over the Kingdom, and the schools are open during the evenings.

In Portugal the hours of labor are from sunrise to sunset, with an allowance of two hours for meals. Women are employed for active work, such as stevedoves and outdoor labor.

In Russia the labor conditions of the empire are peculiar to itself. The feudal relation between proprietors still exists, and a system of boarding and lodging workmen in factories prevails largely. It has the effect of rendering the workmen completely dependant upon their employers.

The following tables will show a comparison of wages paid in ten different countries of Europe. Another table gives the price of food in seven different cities in Europe.

It will be noticed that the highest wages are paid in England, and that whilst the wages have been advanced in all other countries since 1879, the English wages have declined, caused by having to compete with the cheaper labor of the other European countries.

I have paid more attention to the reports relating to Germany and Austria, because they and Belgium are the countries that developing their manufacturing industries more rapidly than the other countries and because they are the most active rivals the English manufacturers have. The Germans supply Russia with nearly one half the iron and steel they use in the form of agricultural implements, sewing machines, machinery, bridges, locomotives, rails, etc., almost driving out all other competitors out of the market. They are also exporting large quantities of manufactured goods and raw materials to the Southern Republics, Brazil, etc. In fact Germany is the country that the manufacturer of Canada will have to match in the future. They are sending large quantities of iron to Canada already, give them free entry and the result would be the ruin of every manufacturing industry in Canada within a few years, or wages reduced to a level with those in Europe.

The workingmen and manufacturers must understand that they have not only cheap labor to contend with, but a class of mechanics who are better educated than any other mechanics in the world. They are thrifty, industrious and steady workmen, and the manufacturers of Germany are alert looking for every available market to sell their goods.

Therefore, I would advise all the working men of this country to give this matter their serious consideration, and if any free trade candidate, or weather-cock candidate wants your vote, ask him to explain how manufacturers in this country are to pay double and treble the wages paid by European manufacturers and compete under a free trade policy. After you have got his answer examine it and see if it is sound. Discuss the matter with your shopmates and I have no doubt in my mind that you will be able to arrive at a sensible conclusion. Never mind their fine buncomb, stick to what you have found to your own and the country's welfare, and vote for the progressive party.

Yours truly,
W. H. L.

Jan. 31st, 1887.

AUSTRIA.

Wages paid per week of 66 hours—

	United States Currency.
Laborers, male	$1 61
Laborers, female	1 51
Engineers	4 39
Blacksmiths	2 42
Machinists	3 85
Foundries	3 83
Locksmiths	3 27
Brassfounders	3 63
Millwrights	3 12
Tinsmiths	3 79
Horseshoers	3 58
Lead and silver mines, wages per month, hours per day—	12
Women	9 72
Boys	7 68
In the iron and steel works in Rhineland mechanics average per week of 66 hours	4 17
The average wages paid mechanics at the works of Herr Krupp, at Essen, per day of 11 hours	60

GERMANY.

Average wages paid per week of 72 hours in the iron works of Upper Silesia—
Forgemen	5 44
Welder and steam hammer man	4 54
Shearmen, smiths and firemen	3 08
Laborers	1 03
Coal mines, 72 hours—
Miners	2 10
Laborers	2 12
Women	1 11
Boys	95
At Barmen, Germany, for 63 hours' labor—
Machinists	5 04
Locksmiths	4 21
Blacksmiths	4 21
Turners	4 31
Planers	3 87
Drillers	3 48
Model makers	5 04
Strikers	3 84
Mechanics, firemen and draughtsmen	6 13
Average week's wages paid in Stettin, Germany—
Iron finishers	4 01
Planers and turners	3 48
Riveters	3 73
Blacksmiths	4 47
Brass fitters	4 01
Paluters	3 12
Average week's wages of 66 hours paid in Thuringia—
Moulders	3 02
Laborers	2 27
Boilersmiths	3 18
Blacksmiths	3 02
Machine builders	3 02
Wages paid per week of 72 hours in Russia—
Moulders and brass founders	4 25
Apprentices	1 45
Laborers in foundry	2 91
Blacksmiths	5
" striker	2 76
Grinders	4 21
Polishers	4 21

LATEST CABLE NEWS

BRIGHT ON IRISH AFFAIRS.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Right Hon. John Bright has written a letter deploring the fact that the men supposed to represent the Irishmen and tenants in the struggle now going on in Ireland never speak a word of counsel to their countrymen in behalf of industry, honesty or temperance which would lessen the evils in Ireland, though they would not add to the Irish and American donations of cash.

ADVISING RESISTANCE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 31.—The mayor of Dublin, speaking Bodyke yesterday, said the people would be justified in offering armed resistance, but he would not advise that the resisting force be concentrated there.

EVICTION ABANDONED.

DUBLIN, Jan 31.—The police had to abandon the eviction at Rathkeal yesterday on account of the resistance of the people who had provided themselves with scythes and boiling water.

ANOTHER EXPEDITION.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Commander Cameron has offered to lead a second expedition to relief Emin Bey. The sum of $15,000 has been offered toward his expenses.

DISCUSSING WAR.

American Army Officers—The Defenceless Condition of Their Coasts.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—While there is no immediate prospect of war with England over the fishery question, army officers located here are discussing our offensive and defensive condition as if there were. It is generally agreed among experts that cities on the Canadian border, such as Detroit, for instance, would be the first to feel the supremacy of England's navy. England has one hundred and eleven light gunboats. The fleet has for some time past been hovering in the vicinity of Bermuda. Since the commencement of the fishery embroglio six light British gunboats have been ordered to New Brunswick. The entire fleet of one eleven gunboats could navigate the St Lawrence as far as Kingston. The canals built around the rapids in the St. Lawrence would enable the fleet to reach the lakes. All the United States have to oppose them is the decrepit old gunboat "Michigan." These facts are having their effect on the Michigan members of Congress. They are pretty generally in favor of the United States Government building up a suitable navy with the least possible delay.

AVERAGE RATE OF WAGES FOR 1885 IN TEN COUNTRIES OF EUROPE.

Occupation.	England, 54 hrs.	Belgium, 60 hrs.	Germany, 60 hrs.	Switzerland, 61½ hrs.	Austria, 66 hrs.	Holland, 66 hrs.	France, 66 hrs.	Denmark, 66 hrs.	Italy, 66 hrs.	Russia, 72 hrs.
	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.
Blacksmiths	7 24	5 44	4 42	5 24	3 16	4 84	4 56	4 86	3 66	3 76
Strikers	7 34	3 32	3 00	4 47	3 16	3 63	4 76	4 86	3 42	3 76
M'lders & B. F'drs	7 54	6 07	4 41	4 70	3 63	4 22	6 59	4 86	4 64	4 25
Horseshoers	6 57	6 77	3 65	4 70	3 58	4 43	5 95	4 86	5 24	3 79
Laborers	4 73	3 81	3 14	3 65	2 02	3 22	3 87	4 24	3 66	2 90
Millrights and Machinists	7 03	5 04	4 21	6 35	3 12	4 84	6 89	5 66		3 32
Tinsmiths	6 81	4 43	3 58	4 45	3 73	4 21	5 50	6 75	4 65	3 92
Nail makers	5 95		3 14	2 66			4 88	4 86	3 23	3 09

RETAIL PRICE OF THE ARTICLES OF FOOD CONSUMED BY THE WORKING MASSES IN SEVEN EUROPEAN CITIES.

	Liverpool.	Berlin.	Berne, Switzerland.	Marseilles, France.	Vienna, Austria	Brussels, Belgium	Amsterdam, Holland.
Bacon	per lb 12c to 20c		30c	15c to 20c	15c to 18	16c to 20	16c to 18
Ham	" 24			40 " 50	30 " 35	30	26 " 35
Beef	" 14 to 20	17 " 20	15 to 18	14 " 3	10 " 15	15 " 17	15 " 25
Mutton	" 16 to 20	17 " 20	" 14	14 " 25	9 " 16	18	16 " 24
Veal	" 16 to 20	22 " 25	16 " 18	25 " 35	9 " 18	18	14 " 22
Pork	" 16 to 20	16 " 20	18 " 20	15 " 20		16
Sugar	" 4 to 7	8 " 12	" 8	6½ " 12	7 " 8	12	9 " 12
Tea	" 32 to 90	70 " 2 00	1 00" 1 50	1 00" 1 40			17 " 50
Coffee	" 24 to 30	20 " 90	18 " 32	35 " 60		16	13 " 28
Butter	" 24 to 32	" 30	" 30	30 " 60	16 " 31	20	13 " 28
Lard	" 12 to 16	" 20	" 20	12 " 16	12 " 16		16 " 22
Cheese	" 12 to 22	"	"	14 " 24			13 " 28
Rice	" 4 to 8	" 6	" 6	5 " 10	6	4 " 6	5 " 6
Flour	" 3½ to 4	4 " 6	4 " 6	5 " 10	3 " 6	3 " 5	2½ " 6
Bread	" 2½ to 4	4 " 5	4 " 5		3
Oatmeal	" 4 to 9	"	"
Potatoes	" to 1	" 8	" 8	1 " 2		1	1
Codfish	" 8 to 12	"	"

A HORSE TRADE.

One of the Parties in it isn't Satisfied—What he did and the Results.

About three weeks ago James Cummings of Ashburnham, and George Moncreif, of Emily, traded horses. According to what the latter says the bargain agreed on allowed Mr. Cummings to trade back again provided the horse was not satisfactory. But it also bound the dissatisfied party to take the horse to the other's place.

It seems that Mr. Cummings was dissatisfied but he did not take the horse to Mr. Moncreif's place. While the horse, lately possessed by Mr. Moncreif, was stalled in Morgan's stable on Monday afternoon Mr. Cummings quietly went and took it out.

As soon as Moncrief found it out he started in pursuit, accompanied by a friend of his, John Ackison. The two young men found Mr. Cummings and the horse in Ashburnham. Moncrief tried to take the horse, but Mrs. Cummings came to the rescue. In the heat of the quarrel which then took place young Ackison played a clever trick. He saw that the prospects of a fight between Cummings and Moncrief was heightening every minute. To prevent this he quietly drew his knife, cut the halter, gave the horse a couple of skelps with the lines and sent it off down street at a canter. Moncrief at once lost the thread of the argument and started off at the top of his speed to catch the horse.

Cummings at once had recourse to law. He had an information laid against Moncrief for stabbing him with a knife. Ackison was pointed out as having a hand in the affair and was arrested. Being searched a revolver, two watches, a pack of cards and a box of pills was found on his person. He was charged by Chief Cooper with carrying a revolver, and at the court this morning, in failing to give a reason for carrying it, was bound over to keep the peace, himself at $200 and two sureties of $100 each. Ackison said that he carried the revolver just for sport. Any of his neighbours could testify as to his good character. He never drank whiskey in his life and never carried the revolver except when away from home. Moncrief has not yet been apprehended.

AN UNNATURAL PARENT.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I see that the Examiner man claims that Geo. A. Cox is the Daddy of the industries of Peterborough.

If so he must be a very unnatural and wicked father for he is plotting and scheming with others to get the same offspring into the power of a lot of buncumbe men so that he and they may strangle them at the first favorable opportunity. This is a diabolical act? Cannot something be done to prevent it.

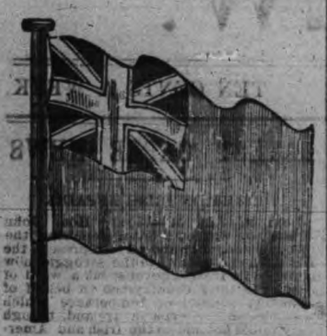
UM DEKKO.

Peterborough, Feb. 1st, 1887.

THANKS.

To the Editor of the Review

DEAR SIR.—I take much pleasure in writing a card of thanks to Mr. R. B. Rogers for the brave way in which he saved my life on Saturday at Mr. Faint's fire, as if it had not been for him I am sure I would have perished. I also take the opportunity of thanking Mr. Conroy and the rest for the brave way in which they also worked. Please give the above space in your valuable paper.



Yours sincerely,
ANNIE MURPHY.

Peterborough, Jan. 31 1887.

P. S.—I think if there ever was a man worthy of a Government medal it is Mr. R. B. Rogers.

The ladies will be pleased to hear that Turnbull has accepted the agency of the Domestic paper patterns. A complete assortment now in stock.

ANOTHER lot of ladies ribbed over stockings to hand at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1887.

THE N. P. AND THE FARM.

A DETERMINED effort is again being made to reverse the verdict recorded in 1878, and again in 1882, in regard to the policy of incidental protection. The farmers are being appealed to by the Reformers to vote against Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Burnham because they favor the National Policy. They do favor the National Policy. They are and always have been staunch supporters of that policy, and for that reason the farmers of Peterborough should give them their support.

It has been asserted by Mr. Bertram, Mr. Cox's advocate, that the value of farm property has decreased, of course on account of the terrible N. P. It happens that a Mowat Government bureau furnishes statistics in regard to farming questions, and a report at hand gives some figures in regard to the value of farm property. Mr. Bertram will scarcely, we presume, question the figures furnished by the Ontario Government, as he does, or did quite recently at any rate, strongly support them. Well, this report shows that the value of farm property in the counties of Peteroorough and Durham increased in value in 1886, as compared with 1885, by about a million dollars. It shows that the value of farm land in the Province increased in value by $21,587,804; farm buildings by $1,276,307; implements used by $1,-951,211; and live stock by $6,518,849; the total increase being $31,328,171. If Mr. Bertram is right in attributing the difference in the value of farm property to the National Policy, the farmers will say, Let us keep the N. P.

The removal of the duty on grain would not raise the price of wheat. The Reformers admit that. Wheat brings more in Winnipeg than it does in Dakota, and it is not reasonable to suppose that allowing the surplus of American wheat to be brought into Canada to swell the surplus here would beneficially effect the price. Besides it is an undeniable fact that whatever benefits one part of the community, without injuring any other, must beneficially effect the whole. The more workmen there are in Peterborough the more families there are for the farmers and the merchants to supply. The larger the town or city that farm property is adjacent to the higher is its value. That fact every farmer knows. And in building up Peterborough the National Policy is increasing the value of the farms and benefitting every farmer in Smith, Ennismore, Otonabee, Monaghan, Douro, and every township in the county. The price of manufactured articles is not higher—in most cases it is lower—than previous to the adoption of the National Policy. The Canadian industries gain, however, by having the field more to themselves. And the building up of the factories means more work for mechanics and laborers, more business for the merchants, more demand and higher values for town and city property, higher values for farms, better markets for farmers, and, as a literal and realized fact, a better state of things for everyone in the country. And shall the people of Peterborough decide in favor of a retrograde movement, detrimental to themselves and to the country? We think not, and believe that they will elect Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Burnham.

THEIR OWN CHILD.

The supporters of Mr. Blake still continue to attack the Macdonald Administration for the Superannuation Fund expenditure, though it is under legislation when the Reformers were in power, and the amount of the payments is largely attributable to their own action. In order to enable them to do this Mr. McMullen made a speech on the subject last session, giving a list of names culled from the report of the fund up to the beginning of the year. Of course this selection of 31 names was made to include the most striking cases. Well, we will give from his own list the names and amounts received by the eight largest recipients. They are as follows:—

Geo. Fulvoye	$ 21,579
John Lang on	20,746
H. Bernard	18,904
E. A. Meredith	18,060
Jos. Leslie	16,858
G. McMicken	12,506
A. Patrick	12,098
R. Kimber	11,187
Total	$134,138

Now, who would imagine that in this attack upon the Government, of the eight largest recipients mentioned only two were superannuated by the Conservatives, Messrs. Leslie and Patrick, and the other six by the Reformers; that out of the total of $134,138 received by these gentlemen, only $28,956 was incurred by the Conservatives and no less than $105,182 by the Reformers.

The manner in which these Reform superannuations were conducted is as striking as the figures. The case of Mr. John Langton, formerly our representative, is well understood here, it being known that he was superannuated by the Reformers against his wish while still capable of efficient service, as he afterwards showed in connection with an important financial institution, because the Reformers wanted his post of Auditor-General for a partizan of their own who had been unlucky in his contests on their behalf having been once defeated by the electors and twice unseated by the Courts of Law. So too Mr. Meredith was shelved while still able to do good work and afterwards doing it for a similar institution, because the Reformers, after their defeat by the electorate wanted, his position of Deputy Minister of the Interior for another of their partizans. Of Mr. Kimber Mr. McMullen especially complained because he spent in Paris the annuity given to him by the Reformers. As to Mr. McMicken, formerly Assistant Receiver-General at Winnipeg, Mr. McMullen especially complained as follows:—

"He was superannuated and gets $1,579.80 as his superannuation allowance. I understand that the hon. gentleman ran for a constituency in Manitoba and was elected. He was also appointed Speaker of the Manitoba Legislature, he drew his retiring allowance of $1,379.00 from the Dominion Government, he drew his sessional allowance as a member in the Province of Manitoba, and he got his allowance as Speaker, so that he was pretty well remunerated for his services. I believe he is now busily engaged in following other callings, and is still drawing his allowance."

Mr. McMullen was challenged on the spot to give the date and after pretending ignorance had to admit that it was in 1878, the superannuation being by the Reformers

We need not weary our readers with further details. These are sufficient to show the use made of the superannuation fund when they have the chance. We have also shown how large a portion of the expenditure they are condemning was caused by the corrupt and incompetent administration of the Reformers themselves, who unnecessarily saddled the country with many of the largest annuities now being paid. They ask the people to turn out the Conservatives for faults committed by the Reformers, and to substitute Reformers in power that they may commit the same faults again.

KEENE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

CURLING.—Acting on an invitation from the Campbellford Curling Club, two rinks from our club played a friendly game on Thursday last as follows:—

CAMPBELLFORD.	KEENE.
Rink No. 1.
W W Cummings,	Wm. McCrea,
R Bonnycastle,	B M Wylie,
D Kerr,	R B McIntyre,
J D nwoodie, skip 13	J Dickson, skip 20
Rink No. 2
G G Eakins,	L D Loomis,
C Smith,	Wm Wedlock,
E W Gaurie,	Jas Miller,
J. White, skip 13	M Kennaley, skip ..26
Total.....28	46

Majority for Keene, 18 shots.

Our boys cannot say enough of the very kind way in which they were treated by the Campbellford curling club. We would advise any club that wishes to put in a grand time to just arrange to play a friendly game in Campbellford. The Keene club will send two rinks to Peterborough this week to take part in the bonspeil and also to win if possible the Medal from Bobcaygeon.

OMISSION.—We omitted last week to notice a wedding viz: Miss V. Kirby and Mr. S. Mather, who were married on Wednesday evening, Jan. 19th, by the Rev. Mr. Johnston. We wish the happy couple a long and happy life. Other weddings are reported.

WEEK OF PRAYER.—The Rev. Mr. Johnston has been holding a week of prayer. The Rev. Mr. Andrews gave an address on Monday. The meetings were largely attended and much interest was manifested.

NEWS NOTES.

The crop expectations of South Australia will not be realized.

Indiana farmers lost over four million dollars last year from hog cholera.

A new Methodist Church, costing nearly $13,000, has been opened at Burlington.

The wages of 5,000 miners in Rhondda Valley, Wales, has been reduced 5 per cent.

Winnipeg capitalists have formed a company to construct a line of railway to the boundary.

Mr. John Small has been re-nominated by the Conservatives of East Toronto as their standard bearer.

The authorities of Edinburgh University have decided to invite the Prince of Wales to become its rector.

A fire in Bracebridge early on Saturday morning destroyed buildings and property to the value of about $14,000.

The statement that Port Hamilton has been evacuated by Great Britain and restored to Corea is contradicted.

It is reported that the Imperial Government has consented to send out gun boats next season to assist the Dominion cruisers in protecting our fisheries.

Cardinal Taschereau, of Quebec, and Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, sailed from New York on Saturday morning for Rome to receive their red hats from the Pope.

A petition was filed at Osgoode hall on Saturday against the election of Dr. Chamberlain, (Reform), M. P. P. for Dundas Co. on the ground of undue influence and corrupt practices.

AYER'S Pills cure constipation, improve the appetite, promote digestion, restore healthy action, and regulate every function. They are pleasant to take, gentle in their operation, yet thorough, searching and powerful in subduing disease.

The traffic receipts of the Grand Trunk railway for the week ending January 22nd, were $240,779, a decrease of $9 211 compared with the corresponding week last year.

AYER'S Hair Vigor improves the beauty of the hair and promotes its growth. It imparts an attractive appearance, a delightful and lasting perfume. It stimulates the roots, cleanses the scalp, and proves itself to be the best and cheapest article for toilet use.

With a view to weeding out the poorer class of horses, the Wentworth County Council has decided to petition the Ontario Government for power to license stallions.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we life in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health, but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. d90

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

New Advertisements.

BIBLE SOCIETY

The Annual Meeting of the Peterborough Bible Society will be held in the

George Street Methodist Church

ON

Wednesday, 2nd February, '87

At 8 o'clock p. m. The Rev. John Barton of Toronto will address the meeting.

R. W. BELL, M D., President. J. D. CODLINS, Secretary.

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5 75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00
LADIES..... 50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG, Manager.

1d45

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.
SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.
OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.
DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.
LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhœa, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse, [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods. Without which none are genuine.

Still Pushing the Trade

AT LeBRUN'S CITY CLOTHING STORE

Bargains in Overcoats, Suits, Underwear, Gents' Furnishings, Haberdashery—in fact in Everything all this month immense Bargains will be given.

H. LeBRUN.

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40

$6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY REVIEW IF YOU ARE WISE

COUNCIL MEETING.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT'S NEW FURNISHINGS TO BE OVERHAULED.

More Applications for the Position of Street and Bridge Inspector—Back Water — Communications, Accounts and Reports.

A regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday evening.

There were present; His Worship the Mayor, and Councillors Hartley, Menzies, Douglass, Moore, Yelland, Kelly, Stenson, McNeil, Cahill, Davidson and McNaughton.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communications were received:—

From the Ontario Government acknowledging the receipt of memorial.—Received.

From J. E. Belcher, asking reappointment to the position of Town Engineer.—Received.

From Thos. McKee, asking to be appointed Assessor.—Received.

From John Hillier, asking for street improvements.

From Wm. Helms, asking to be appointed Street and Bridge Inspector.—Received.

From Angus Williams, asking to be appointed Street and Bridge Inspector.—Received.

From Charles Archambault, asking time to pay his taxes.—Received.

From the Peterborough Gas Co., asking permission to use the fire engine to steam out mains where frozen.—Granted.

From E. Burnham, asking for justice in reference to assessment.—Received.

ACCOUNTS.

The following accounts were presented:

J. P. Hurley, railway ticket	$ 10 80
VanEvery & Brisbin, charity orders	18 00
Kingan & Co., one revolver	15 00
Breeze & Bain, account	8 15
Breeze & Bain, account	2 10
P. Connal & Co., charity orders	54 00
Peterborough Water Co., balance due	53 07
J. Doherty, wood	2 50

The accounts were referred to the Finance Committee.

ASSESSMENT.

Councillor MENZIES moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY,—That a special committee composed of Messrs. Kelly, Stenson, Hartley, McNaughton, and the mover, be appointed to enquire into the matter of the last year's assessment, and that the committee report at the next meeting.—Lost.

BACK WATER.

Mr. Hillier's petition was discussed. The water was backing up and was covering his property.

Councillor MENZIES moved that the Street and Bridge Committee send men up to clear it out.

Councillor KENDRY said that the back water was caused by obstructions on Mr. Menzies' lot.

Councillor MENZIES said he would have the matter attended to at once.

The Street and Bridge Committee was instructed to inspect the place.

CHARITY.

The MAYOR said there were several cases of distress brought before his notice. These people could not only not pay their taxes, but were actually receiving charity. The matter was referred to the Charity Committee to report.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Councillor DAVIDSON read the following report:—

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:—

GENTLEMEN.—Your Finance Committee beg leave to report and recommend the payment of the following accounts:—

John Hackett	$ 28 95
Martin Conners	2 50
R. Duncan	1 00
Fitzgerald & Stanger	1 70
McFarlane Wilson	8 85
H. Wills	1 00
W. O'Brien	1 00
REVIEW Printing Co.	2 70
REVIEW Printing Co.	80 98
W. B. Kelly	1,080 00

All of which is respectfully submitted,

R. S. DAVIDSON,
Chairman.

FIRE WATER AND LIGHT.

Councillor MCNEIL read the report of the Fire Water and Light Committee as follows:

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN.—Your Fire Water and Light Committee have examined the Fire Hall and apparatus and find that the new hose waggon and swinging harness recently purchased and paid for are of no service to the Brigade in their present condition. The waggon is entirely too small and totally unfit for the intended service. The snap collar is too small and cannot be made to fit the present horses.

Your committee would therefore recommend that tenders be asked for to supply a new box, the party tendering to take back the present box, in part payment of the same and the F. W. & L. committee have the power to award the contract to the lowest or any tender.

We would also recommend that a new Smith collar be procured to fit our present horses and the one recently purchased to be taken in part payment.

We would further recommend that a cheap carpet be purchased for the two firemen's bed rooms, blinds purchased for the windows, and a door put on the opening in the partition leading from the band room to the bed room.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ANDREW MCNEIL
Chairman.

Councillor MCNEIL said that the wagon had been built according to order but was useless as it was. If these recommendations of the committee confirmed the Brigade would not ask for anything for some time.

The report was adopted.

WHO GIVES THE ORDERS?

Councillor MCNAUGHTON moved, seconded by Councillor MENZIES,—That in future all orders on behalf of the town for goods be attached to the accounts when presented for payment, and that the accounts state in detail by whom the orders were given and what value was given for the orders, also that no goods be ordered on behalf of the town by the chairman or any committee except the Charity Committee, without the consent of a majority of the members of such committee.

It was pointed out that already this rule was embodied in the rules of order.

The motion was put and lost.

CHARITY.

Councillor MCNEIL moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY,—That the Clerk report to this Council the amounts expended in charity by the Mayor and members of the Charity Committee in their respective wards during the year 1886.—Carried.

Councillor STENSON moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY,—That the taxes of Mrs. Morgan be referred to the Court of Revision, and that the Collector be requested to take no action until this Council meet.—Carried.

SUPPLIES.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That the Street and Bridge Committee be authorized to advertise for the necessary supplies of lumber and round cedar with power to award contracts for the same.—Carried.

Councillor DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Councillor MCNEIL,—That the Fire, Water and Light Committee ask for tenders for another team for the purpose of drawing the hose cart and hook and ladder waggon and such other purposes as the Council may direct.

Councillor DAVIDSON claimed that more was paid out last year for work which an extra team would do than would buy the team. By having the team the town could reasonably apply for a better rate of insurance as it would be a great help to the fire department.

Councillor MCNEIL and KENDRY supported it.

Councillor DOUGLASS favored getting assurances from the underwriters that the rate would be reduced before any further expense was incurred.

The motion was put and carried.

ONE HUNDRED MORE.

Councillor KENDRY moved, seconded by Councillor HARTLY—That the Town Solicitor be paid $100 in addition to what was paid him in 1886.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON—called a point of order on expenditure of money, and the motion was left as a notice of motion.

ICE.

A discussion arose as to the ice choking at the Brock street bridge. The Street and Bridge Committee were instructed to have a channel cut.

ASSESSORS.

Councillor MENZIES moved seconded by Councillor Kendry—That Wm. Aldridge, Cornelius McGrath and Thos. McKee be appointed assessors.—Carried.

The Council adjourned.

DENTAL ROOMS over J. Mills' Hat Store George street. J. B. PENTLAND.

Peterborough Markets

WHEAT.
Wheat, fall, per bushel	0 80	to	0 80
" spring "	0 82	to	0 82
Arnecta Wheat	0 00	to	0 85
Flour, Patent process	2 80	to	2 90
Flour, Superfine per cwt	2 00	to	2 10
Flour, stone process	1 80	to	1 90
COARSE GRAIN.
Barley, per bushel	0 48	to	0 60
Peas	0 50	to	0 51
Oats,	0 29	to	0 29
Rye	0 45	to	0 45
MILL FEED.
Oat chop, per cwt	1 10	to	1 10
Pea chop, "	1 10	to	1 10
Barley chop "	1 00	to	1 00
Pollards "	0 80	to	0 80
Bran, per ton	11 00	to	11 00
VEGETABLES.
Potatoes, per bag	0 70	to	0 70
Cabbage, per head	0 05	to	0 07
Beets, per bag	0 40	to	0 40
Onions, per bag	1 25	to	1 40
Carrots, small red, per bag	0 35	to	0 40
Carrots, field, per bag	0 15	to	0 20
Turnips	0 20	to	0 25
Parsnips	0 30	to	0 40
MEAT, POULTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE.
Beef, by the quarter per cwt	3 50	to	4 50
Pork, " " "	6 00	to	6 25
Mutton, per lb	0 06	to	0 08
Veal, per lb	none offering
Lamb, per lb	0 07	to	0 8
Dressed Hogs	5 50	to	6 00
Hogs, live weight	3 75	to	4 25
Tallow, per lb	0 04	to	0 06
Lard	0 10	to	0 11
Chickens, per pair	0 45	to	0 60
Ducks, per pair	0 60	to	0 70
Geese, each	0 50	to	0 60
Turkeys, each	0 75	to	0 90
Butter, fresh roll, per lb	0 18	to	0 20
Butter, packed prime, per lb	0 16	to	0 18
Cheese, private sale per lb	0 12	to	0 12
Eggs, per doz	0 19	to	0 20
Hay, per ton	7 00	to	10 00
Straw, per load	2 00	to	3 00
Wood, hard, per load	3 50	to	4 50
Wood, soft, per load	2 50	to	3 00
WOOL AND HIDES.
Fleece wool	0 18	to	0 18
Southdown wool	0 21	to	0 20
Hides, per cwt	5 50	to	6 00
Hides, trimmed, per cwt	6 00	to	7 00
Lamb skins	25	to	25
Sheep Pelts, each	25	to	25
Sheep skins	1 00	to	1 00
FISH.
White Fish, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Speckled Trout, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Maskinonge, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Bass, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Finnie Haddie, per lb	0 10	to	0 10
Simcoe Herring, per do	0 30	to	0 30
Salt Mackrel, per doz	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per quart	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per can	0 45	to	0 55

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

A WONDERFUL REMEDY.

The value of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, in the protection it affords from the dangers of pulmonary disorders, cannot be overestimated. Mr. C. K. Philips, Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "About three years ago I had severe Laryngitis, which resulted in chronic hoarseness. By the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral I have since entirely regained my health." Mr. Henry Russell, Excelsior Printing Co., New York, writes: "Influenza became epidemic in my neighborhood. Several members of my family suffered severely with it, all of whom took Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and were cured by it in a few days. It is a wonderful medicine for Influenza. Too much cannot be said in its favor."

E. M. Sargent, 41 Andover st., Lowell, Mass., says: "I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral about the year 1842, as a family medicine, for Coughs and Colds, and have always kept it in my house since that time. I consider it the best remedy that can be had for these complaints." Dr. J. B. Robertson, Clayton, N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, in my family and practice, for a number of years, and have no hesitation in recommending it. It is an admirable preparation, and well-qualified to do all that is claimed for it." E. J. Styers, Germanton, N. C., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best Cough preparation I ever saw. It gives instant relief."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

has cured a Cough in a few doses. It always relieves irritation of the lungs or throat, and arrests the tendency to inflammation. It strikes at the foundation of all Pulmonary diseases, is without a rival as an expectorant, and is a sure cure for the most obstinate Coughs and Colds. L. Garrett, Texana, Texas, writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for twenty years. For throat and lung diseases, I consider it a wonderful remedy."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., (Analytical Chemists), Lowell, Mass.

For sale by all Druggists.

HENFEED

Small Wheat - - - - - 90c per 100 lbs.
Barley - - - - - - - 95c per 100 lbs.
Pure Wheat Spring or Fall, $1.25 per 100 lbs.

J. W. FLAVELLE,

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. SIMCOE STREET.

FITZGERALD & STANGER

Corner Brock and Water Streets

PETERBOROUGH.

THE ABOVE FIRM HAVE NOW ON HAND A LARGE STOCK OF

Buggies. Phaetons and Waggons

WHICH THEY ARE PREPARED TO SELL AT LOWEST LIVING PRICES.
ALSO, A GREAT VARIETY OF

SLEIGHS & CUTTERS

IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION FOR WHICH THEY ARE PREPARED TO RECEIVE ORDERS.

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md79w4

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

MARVELLOUS MEMORY DISCOVERY.

Wholly unlike Artificial Systems—Cure of Mind Wandering—Any book learned in one reading. Prospectus, with opinions of Mr. PROCTOR, the Astronomer, Hons. W. W. ASTOR, JUDAH P. BENJAMIN, Drs. MINOR, WOOD and others, sent post FREE, by

PROF. LOISETTE,
237 Fifth Avenue, New York.

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,
d89 Ashburnham

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take you LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

JOB PRINTING!

Neatness in Style.
Moderation in Charges.
Fulfilment of Promises.
Despatch in Execution.

The REVIEW Printing Office

is prepared to execute the following, and other classes of PLAIN and FANCY WORK, in the best styles.

Posters, plain and coloured.
Programmes, in fancy styles.
Circulars, in script or plain type.
Bill-Heads, all sizes and shapes, on excellent quality of paper.
Business Cards all sizes.
Visiting Cards, in beautiful Cards, Texts or Script Lettering.
Postal Cards, with business Notices or Memorandum Headings.
Letter Headings,
Note Headings,
Blank Cheques,
Blank Receipts.
Pamphlets,
Catalogues,
Law Blanks.

and all and every description of work required to be done in letter press.

THE

REVIEW Job Printing Department

Satisfaction given to all customers; charges are is moderate as the cost of getting up good work will allow, and are usually found satisfactory.

The REVIEW Printing Office

Is noted for its punctuality in fulfilling promises and the business men can rely of getting up work at the time agreed upon.

THE FACILITIES FOR

GETTING OUT

JOB WORK

are ample, and orders are pushed through with vigor, so that work can be got out in short time.

Orders from the Country

attended to with promptness, and the work forwarded immediately on completion.

REVIEW

Printing & Publishing Co. (Limited).

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold by JOHN MCKEE, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d&w

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Raisins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.		CLOSE.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. & Q. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
10 56 p m	Toronto and West, via G. & Q. R.	6 00 p m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
8 20 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	8 00 p m
12 00 m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)	8 00 a m
8 59 p m		4 30 p m
8 20 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope	11 00 a m
5 15 p m	do do	8 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
4 00 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville	11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore	1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Haultain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clydale, Paudash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays. Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	7 30 p m
9 00 a m		6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbadoes, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibralter, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxemburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamacia, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations sees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

DUNN'S BAKING POWDER

THE COOK'S BEST FRIEND

Rally! Rally!

TO-NIGHT!

A Special Meeting of all committees and voters interested in MR. STEVENSON'S election is called for

THIS EVENING

In the Parlor Rink at 7.45.

Let there be a rousing meeting

C. S. WALLIS,
Secretary.

February 1st, 1887.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Still Colder.

The Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering thermometer recorded 8° below zero on Monday night.

Personal.

Mr. J. J. Wright, B. A., of Peterborough, has been elected President of the Queen's University Snow Shoe Club, Kingston.

Royal Templarism.

Twenty-six new Councils were instituted in Ontario during 1886, bringing the total number up to 225; $35,530 was paid out in this Province for death benefits during 1886, and a balance of $6,000 is left in the treasury.

Gun Club.

The regular weekly meet of the Gun Club was held in the Riverside Park on Monday afternoon. The scores are as follows:—

H Calcutt	1101011111—8
Judge Weller	1101110001—5
H. Neil	1111001011—7
H. W. Kent	0100010101—4
R. Tivey	1110110111—8

New embroideries, laces, edgings, prints, and ginghams constantly arriving at Turnbull's.

Do You Want Money?

We would call attention to the important advertisement of Mr. A. P. Poussette in another column. The favorable terms on which he is enabled to make loans, his experience in transactions of this nature and his wide and influential connections will all tend to bring to him a large business of this description. There is no need for anyone in this district having good security to go to Toronto companies to procure money when the business can be completed on the spot without delay, and the profits can be kept at home.

Prizes for Mechanics.

With the view of diffusing mechanical knowledge in Canada, the Dominion Mechanical and Milling News is giving a cash prize of $10 every month for the best essay on a mechanical subject selected by the editor. The subjects, which relate to all branches of mechanical knowledge, are announced in the D. M. & M. News a month ahead. Some of our clever, thinking mechanics in this locality should compete for these prizes. Full particulars may be obtained by addressing Publisher Dominion Mechanical and Milling News, 31 King Street West, Toronto.

J. B. PENTLAND, Dental Rooms over J. Mills' Hat Store, George street.

"The Election."

Although the Dominion Elections do not take place until the 22nd of Feby., the Electors of Peterborough and vicinity are to have an opportunity of examining their franchise. On Friday evening, Feby. 11th, a Grand Fancy Dress Carnival will be held in the Charlotte street Rink under the auspices of our Worthy Firemen. When they propose to present a gold headed cane to the candidate receiving the largest number of votes, the poll to open at 7.30 and close at 10.30., the candidates to be Geo. A. Cox, Esq. and Mayor Stevenson, the state of the poll to be announced every hour on a black board placed in a prominent part of the rink. The disposal of ballots and charge of the ballot box to be in charge of a committee of Ladies. Electors rally to the polls on Friday evening, Feby. 11th, and record your votes in favor of meritorious acts and self-sacrifising volunteers.

FUR goods going at clearing prices at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

Rally! Rally!

A special meeting of Mr. Stevenson's committees will be held this evening in the Parlour Roller Rink. See advertisement for particulars. Let every elector desiring Mr. Stevenson's return attend. Now is the time for work!

Turnbull has already received an immense shipment of French dress goods for the spring trade, in all the latest shades described in the latest ladies' magazines. Those looking for something new should see them.

In New Quarters.

Mr. Chas. Legros, barber and hairdresser, has removed from his old stand and taken up handsome quarters next door south of the City Hotel. A tobacco and cigar store is in front and the tonsorial department is separated from it with a glass petition.

A Treat Ahead.

The Hon. Thos. White and Mr. Nicholas Murphy, the great Irish orator, of Toronto, will address the electors in the Opera House, on Monday evening, 7th February, when both gentlemen will discuss the public issues of the day. All electors are invited to be present. The gallery will be reserved for ladies.

Call at Turnbull's for dresses and mantles. Every garment made up in the lastest fashion.

The Nicholls Hospital.

Number of patients in the hospital for the month ending Jan. 31st, 1887, 11. Diseases: Hip joint disease, 1; periostitis, 1; paralysis, 1; cancer, 1; frost bite, 1; rheumatism, 1; neuralgia, 1; diphtheria, 5; consumption, 2; fever, 1; tumbar abscess, 1. Discharged cured, 3; incurable, 2. Total number treated during month, 16. From Peterborough, 9; from the county, 7. Dr. Kincaid attending physician for January. Drs. King and Pigeon in attendance on private ward patients.

Day's Theatre Co.

This talented company played the famous sensational drama of "Under the Gaslight" last night to a good house. The strong situations it abounds in were excellently brought out, and elicited great applause from the audience. Mr. Day as Joe Sturkey was as usual excellant, and gave a faithful portrayal of his character. Little Annie Bird as Peach Blossom fairly excelled herself, while Miss Osborne as Laura was splendid. Miss Day as Judas, Mr. Summers as Byke, proved excellent support. The Bermudas of Mr. Henderson was well done, and the wharf scene in the third act was really good. The rest of the support was in good hands and a good performance it was throughout. To-night the Company play the spanish comedy entitled Don Cæsar de Bozan with its rich costumes of the 14th century.

CARNIVAL Blankets, Toques and Sashes at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held yesterday afternoon in the usual place. The attendence was large and all the officers were present. After the devotional exercises, and the secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and accepted. A lengthy and instructive communication with reference to temperance instruction in public schools was read from Mrs. Rutherford of Brockville, also communication from Mrs. Chisholm of Ottawa with reference to organizing a Young Women's Christian Temperance Union, Miss Scott of Ottawa with reference to kitchen garden, Miss Skinner, Toronto, and Miss Laub of Quebec, with reference to Girls Reading Room and Servants Directory. Committees reported on canvass for Reading Room and in order to arouse sympathy in this scheme, it was deemed advisable to forward Misses Scott and Skinner, letters to Ladies's Aid Societies of the different churches to be read at their meetings.

Case after case of cottonades and shirtings have been arriving at Turnbull's. All the new patterns now in stock at his old well known low prices.

To and Fro.

Mr. John R. Clark, the bootblack orator, delivered a lecture in the George Street Methodist Church on Monday night, taking for his subject "Too and Fro in London," the same as he discourrsed on here the winter before last. Mr. Flavelle occupied the chair. The lecturer after the usual formal introduction presented in rapid succession a series of vivid word pictures of life in the great metropolis. Using language as an artist does his colors the orator called forth scenes of London's glory, and pride; and London's poverty and gloom. The audience were taken to St. Paul's Westminister Abbey, and other notable features of the great city, while the lecturer stood by and recounted stories in connection with their history. Architecture and art received due attention, and great men who rose and fell on the ebbing and flowing tide of events they were remembered. The lecture was interspersed with a number of amusing anecdotes which both kept the audience interested and in good humor. All were highly delighted with it. To-night Mr. Clark lectures on "Hits and Misses."

Turnbull's cellar is filled with piles of white and grey cottons, which he is offering by the piece at prices which please every one that sees them.

POLICE COURT.

ADJOURNED.

TUESDAY, Feb. 1.—The Lipsitt assault case and the Lipsett Scott Act case were again adjourned for a week on account of the defendant being still very ill.

THE DISTRICT BONSPEIL

THE CLUBS ASSEMBLE TO DECIDE ON THE LUCKY ONE.

The Preliminmentary Tankard Competition a Decided Success—Sixty-four Curlers at it to-day—Winners of the First Draw

The bonspeil which is to decide what club shall represent this district in the Ontario Tankard Competition to be held in Toronto has been in progress all day.

The clubs all arrived last night except Keene, whose representives arrived this morning in time to participate in the first draw.

The congress of curlers assembled early at the rink this morning and the drawing of one club against the other was satisfactorily accomplished. At a few minutes past nine the play commenced. The ice was simply magnificant. There was just enough pebble on it to prevent its being gummy. There were quite a number of spectators present at the rink all forenoon and afternoon watching the play. The result of this forenoons match is as follows:—

KEENE.		LAKEFIELD.
	No. 1 Rink.
B M Wylie,		R Graham,
R McIntyre,		J Clarin
J Millar,		Geo Cochrane,
W Campbell, skip.	20	R C Strickland, skip. 21
	No. 2 Rink
H J English,		W D'E Strickland,
J Dickson,		J C Strickland,
T Campbell,		Geo Postlethwaite,
M Kenneally, skip.	8	B M Eden, skip 20
WHITBY.		CAMPBELLFORD.
	No. 3 Rink.
F Paxton,		R Bonnycastle,
Geo T Southwell,		D Kerr,
Louis Seabert,		J Whyte,
E Armstrong, skip	33	J Dinwoodie, skip ... 6
	No. 4 Rink.
J Stanton,		C Smith,
H Billings,		E G Faukner,
J Tweedie,		Wm Wakeley,
C Ray, skip.....	33	E G Burk, skip 8
LINDSAY.		OSHAWA.
	No. 5 Rink.
F Knowlson,		A Wilcox,
C Cornell,		J Tamblin.
J McMillan,		G Rice,
W Needler, skip	18	Jay Gould, skip..... 19
	No. 6 Rink
A McDonnell,		F Lambert,
Wm McLennan,		Wm Allen,
E Bradburn,		J Graham,
J D Flavelle, skip ..	28	E Sykes, skip, ... 19

Lakefield wins by..... 13
Whitby wins by..... 52
Lindsay wins by..... 8

The other three clubs, Campbellford, Keene and Oshawa drop out of the contest. The second draw was being played this afternoon in the following order: Belleville against Cobourg, Port Hope against Peterborough, and Bobcaygeon a bye.

THREE HUNDRED LIVES LOST.

By the Sinking of the Emigrant Steamer on the Coast of Brazil.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Despatches from Rio Janeiro report that the steamship Kopunda from London to Australia, with a large number of emigrants on board, collided with an unknown vessel near the Coast of Brazil and sank almost immediately. Three hundred of those on board the Karunda were drowned. The remainder were landed at Bahia. No further particularss have been received.

A Fast of Ninety-Eight Days.

WABASH, Ind., Jan 31.—Mary Baker, the White County fasting girl, last night completed the 98th day of her fast, which began in October. During that period the young lady has eaten no food or taken no nourishment of any kind. Even water is expelled from her stomach. During last week Miss Baker has grown weaker radidly. The physicians state that she can last but a very short time.

"Is it Lost Forever"

—the youthful bloom, the freshness of health, the buoyancy of spirits, and all that goes to give pleasure and contentment to a heart made happy by health? No; not lost forever. There is hope for all. For those whose lives have been a burden, and for those who are now grovelling in the very sloughs of despondency. Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" will cure all chronic diseases peculiar to females. It will build up the system, and restore health, strength, and beauty. Try it and be convinced. Send ten cents in stamps for large illustrated Treatise on Diseases Peculiar to Women. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

T. DOLAN & CO'S

$2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

Wants.

WANTED.

BOARD for man and wife. Apply REVIEW Office d24eod

WANTED.

BY A THOROUGHLY CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED PERSON, employment in the capacity of sick nurse. Apply to MRS. C. ROBINSON, Water St. north or at the REVIEW Office d98

SITUATIONS VACANT.

WANTED GENERAL AGENT, for Peterborough and District, for the Equity Life Reserve Fund Liberal remuneration. Permanent position. Address "MANAGER" this Office. 2d25

WANTED.

TOWN PROPERTY in exchange for farms. Also wanted to buy, A COMFORTABLE HOUSE centrally located at from $600 to $1000, cash. Apply at once to

T. HURLEY,
Real Estate Agent
Hunter Street

For Sale or to Rent.

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE. On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, Solicitor, George Street. d84

TO RENT.

IN about 2 months, FIVE FIRST-CLASS TERRACE HOUSES (White Brick), two storey, seven rooms, on George street, within one minutes walk of the market. Apply to JOHN CARLISLE.

FOR SALE.

BUILDING LOTS, situated on Rubidge, Park, Townsend and Wolf Streets. No money down providing you build. Come on and get a Lot before they are all sold to the stove men. Also House and Lot, and Park Lot. Apply to the owner, JOHN BELL, Corner Wolf and Rubidge Streets. d98

Miscellaneous.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 10 cents for Book of 150 pages GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

Midland Railway of Canada.

NOTICE

TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR LOCKS LINE," Peterborough, will be received until the 15th day of February, 1887 inclusive, for the construction of works at Peterborough, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen at the office of the engineer of the Midland Division of Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Persons desirous of tendering are requested to make personal enquiry relative to the work to be done and to examine the locality.

No tender will be entertained unless on one of the printed forms, and all the conditions are complied with.

The company does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender. By order

H. READ,
Secretary.

d26

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

WILSON DAY'S

Theatre Company

The Greatest Living Child Actress

ANNIE BIRD

At Each Performance.

TO-NIGHT,

Don Cæzar de Bazan.

Admission 10c. Reserved Seats 25c. at Hartley's. 14d17

MONEY TO LEND!

HAVING resigned his connection with the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Ld.,) the undersigned has made arrangements for lending an unlimited amount at SIX PER CENT, on terms more favourable than any Peterborough or Toronto Company, and will be pleased to see his many old friends with a view to making them new advances or readjusting their present Mortgages.

A. P. POUSSETTE.

Music.

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. d1y

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. 1yd11

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipzig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipzig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence

DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE

dl1w46

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. B. BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office
Postal Address, Box 481. dl1w7

Exceedingly Cheap

Is what every person says who has bought Groceries from us. Our Teas, Sugars and Coffees are marked low and are very good. We have a very select stock of

FRESH FAMILY GROCERIES,

Canned Goods, etc. which we are selling at rock bottom prices.

GEORGE CARTON

The People's Grocer, George Street

Xmas Comes But Once a Year

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 2 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 10c.

To every purchaser of one pound of our 50c. tea, 5 lbs. of Raisins for 15c.

We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms. TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. 1yd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. 1yd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. 1yd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 759. Residence, Bon Accord Street 1yd97w4

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. 1yd97

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. 1yd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 983; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. 1yd97

W. FITZGREALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied. Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. 1yd97

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d12w22

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL. Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street, opposite St. John's Church. d12w22 1j

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d11w2

Dentists.

W. H. MANNING,

SURGEON DENTIST, J. O'Donnell's old stand, over Taylor and McDonald's Drug Store. Entrance on Hunter St. NITROUS OXIDE GAS administered for the painless extraction of teeth. w8

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. 1yd&w

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinks of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

d&w JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 27. PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

DIED.

MORRISON—In North Monaghan, on Monday, Jan. 31st, JAMES MORRISON, aged seventy-two years.

McGREGOR—At the family residence, Ashburnham, on Feb. 1st, OLEY ELLEN, eldest daughter of Mr. McGregor, aged four years and five months.

PROBABILITIES.

Strong winds or gales f om east and north-east; cloudy weather, with snow; higher temperature.

R. FAIR.

COLORED BLANKETS

WHITE BLANKETS

COMFORTERS

From 69c. Up.

A few more of the Stylish, Perfect Fitting Mantles to be cleared at slaughtering prices.

These goods must be cleared at once. A genuine bargain in each Mantle.

Gent's Persian Lamb Caps,
Ladies' Persian Lamb Caps,
Children's Grey Persian Lamb Caps,
MUST BE CLEARED.

SECURE BARGAINS!
SECURE BARGAINS!
SECURE BARGAINS!

R. FAIR.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w16

R. H. D. HALL,
SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.
☞MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d18w15

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.
☞MONEY TO LOAN. d16w15

HATTON & WOOD.

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.
E. E. WOOD, B.A. C. W. HATTON

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d1lw18

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training.

$70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario.

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

☞Delivered to your House☜

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,

AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,

FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS
AND
MUSLIN CURTAINS

AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S

Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN
OF THE
Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1887.

KERR.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE CARNIVAL.—The carnival on Friday night was well attended. The following is a list of those who appeared on the ice in costume:—

LADIES.

Maud Campbell	Fancy Advertising
Clara Campbell	House Maid
Ida Nelson	Good Luck
Maggie M Campbell	Swiss Peasant Girl
Mary Tucker	Ceres
Edith Massie	Lady Mary Seaton
Bella M Campbell	Summer Evening
Bell Sinclair	Good Luck
Eliza Laundreville	Esmeralda
I B Campbell	Strawberries and Cream
C Stevenson	Bloomer Girl
Mary Kennaley	Welsh Peasant Girl
Bella McFarlane	Queen of the Forest
Aggie Campbell	Melinda Slykes from [Bosting
Minnie Welsh	Norman Charity Girl
Mina Hope	Evening
Maggie Hope	Highland Lassie
Jennie Long	Indian Princess
Annie M Kirby	Morning
Phebie Fife	Sunflower
Jane F Dickson	Bride
Annie McFarlane	Good Luck
Kate Gourley	Seasons
Minnie McIntyre	Hiawatha Native
Judith Stevenson	Auldreville Native

GENTLEMEN.

E Tucker	Salvation Army Soldiers
J Mein
John Lousley	Mrs Topsoody
John Sousle	Convict
Ed Sousle	Jockey
R Bolin	Lacrosse
Jno Laughlin	Phunny Jock
D Kennaley	Simple Dude
M McIntyre	Comical Jack
M Kennaley	Sailor
H J English	Nubian Merchants
J Dickson
J McFarlane	E. L. L. K.
A Dickson	Clowns
G Dickson
John Kane	Prussian
Ed Eson	Ed Blake

There were a large number in costume who did not leave name and character at the door as requested and consequently we can not give their names to the public. The prizes were awarded as follows:—

BEST COSTUMED LADY—Miss Massie.
2ND BEST COSTUMED LADY—Miss Lang.
BEST COMIC COSTUMED LADY—Miss A. Campbell.
BEST LADY SKATER—Miss M McIntyre.
BEST COSTUMED GENTLEMAN—Mr. H. J. English.
POTATOE RACE—1st J. Sousi, 2nd D. McIntyre.
BELL RACE—D McIntyre.
HALF MILE RACE—1st D. McIntyre 2nd A Dickson.
QUARTER MILE RACE—1st M. McIntyre, 2nd W. Dickson.

O'Brien to Race in Montreal.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Mr. Stephen N. O'Brien has entered for a series of races to be run at the Jubilee rink, Montreal, for a gold medal, for one, five and ten miles, to be run on Tuesday and Wednesday of carnival week. He will also give an exhibition fifty-mile skate on Fridry evening, and one hundred miles on Saturday afternoon, in which he will attempt to break the record.

The Insane Actor.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Gerald Maxwell of the Wilson-Barritt dramatic company, who has become insane, is a son of Miss M. E. Braddon (Mrs. Maxwell), the novelist. His condition is not serious, and it is thought he will soon recover.

Prohibition in Texas.

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 1.—By a vote of 80 to 21 the house had passed a joint resolution proposing a prohibition amendment to the constitution.

"HITS AND MISSES."

The "Boot-Black Orator" Discourses on the Subject.

Mr. John R. Clarke delivered his lecture on "Hits and Misses" in the George Street Methodist Church on Tuesday evening. As on the previous evening there was a large attendance, and the officers of the Sunday School must feel gratified with the manner in which the public patronized these lecturers. The Rev. I. Tovell, pastor of the church, occupied the the chair and introduced the lecturer.

Mr. CLARKE commenced his lecture by stating that man was a mental trinitarian. His mind had three forces, imagination, judgment and will. His mental qualifications settled his moral responsibility. Some persons took life as a huge joke, others as a resting place, others as a May-day holiday, and others as a midsummer's night's dream, in which they blew bubbles and built visionary castles and after their visions had vanished all that they could call up about them was a by-word and a sneer. Life was pregnant with opportunities and good things. They should be emulative, and he would call up the past. God had not made anything that moved on the earth superior to man and it was men that they would deal with. He then rapidly passed from one man to another, from Galileo to Rutherford B. Hayes, who had made hits. Taking up the conversationalists he referred to "hits" in wit. One anecdote will show the humor these stories contained. At one time Daniel Webster, of Massachusetts, and Henry Clay, of Kentucky, were standing in front of an hotel in Washington. A drove of mules were seen coming and Clay said to Webster, "Mr. Webster, here is a company of your constituents coming to interview you." "You are mistaken," retorted Webster, "they are going down to Kentucky to teach school." An anecdote of Oscar Wilde, in which the æsthetic leader felt the sting of a woman's wit, brought up the ideas of the Wilde school of thought, which the lecturer severely ridiculed. He would not, he said, pine for the flowers that grew on the crest of the mountain, but would gather them as he went. If he could catch a bud or blossom here he would do so, and wait for the fruit hereafter. He then gave instances of ludicrous misses, hitting hard the provincialisms in language. Lamentable misses led him to decounce in burning words the evils of intoxication, and the dangers of forming evil habits. He gave illustrations of a variety of characters, ridiculing the habits of some parents in dealing with their children. "Children," he said, "are a sublime necessity." Giving advice to children grown older, he said, "Young man and young woman, you will not rise above the book you read nor be better than the company you keep." Boys should never leave home until they were properly ballasted with godliness, and girls should never marry a man who chewed coffee or cloves to hide the fumes of the brewery or distillery. He then referred to some "magnificient misses," women who had successfully resisted the attractions of the orange blossom, and instanced Florence Nightingale, Grace Darling, Miss Kye, Miss McPherson, Sarah Smilie, Frances Havergal and Frances E. Willar as mighty misses who had made hits on the target of time. He referred again to the liquor traffic, and remarking that men were not always paid for speaking the truth led him to speak of the late Lord Shaftsbury and of John Wesley. He warned his audience to beware of agnosticism. Life would be as they made it. If they strove to make a hit in life it would breathe peace upon them when they departed from life, and the peace would change into calm, calm into joy, joy into rapture, and rapture into coronation.

Mr. TOVELL said he would not propose a formal vote of thanks, but, on behalf of the audience he wished to shake hands with "the boot black boy."

As the chairman shook hands with the lecturer the audience applauded loudly.

The National Anthem was sung and Mr. Tovell dismissed the audience with the benediction.

A CAPITAL STORY.

The following excellent story comes from the township of Lancaster. It seems that Mr. Peter Purcell, the Reform candidate, during one of his recent election tours fell in with three young men who have had their names added to the Dominion Voter's List by virtue of the new Franchise Act. They met on the street in one of the prosperous villages of the township named, and the candidate opened the conversation:

PETER: Well, boys, how are you? How's elections?

FIRST ELECTOR: Gle mhath.

PETER (coloring): Eh?

FIRST ELECTOR: What, don't you speak the Gaelic?

PETER (evasively): No, no! But tell me, how's elections?

SECOND ELECTOR: Tres bien.

PETER (bewildered): Eh?

SECOND ELECTOR (indignantly): What, can't you speak the French?

PETER (sheepishly): No, no. But, say, how's elections?

THIRD ELECTOR (triumphantly): Guess Macmaster will get there all right?

PETER (frantically): Eh?

THIRD ELECTOR (disgusted): What, don't you understand the English?

PETER (hurrying away despondently): Well, good day, boys; positions on all my new railroads filled up.—The Glengarrian.

New embroideries, laces, edgings, prints, and ginghams constantly arriving at Turnbull's.

THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE BILL.

Jay Gould on the Measure—Compliance With the Bill is Impossible.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Jay Gould said to an interviewer yesterday:—"The people of the West hope to derive great advantage from the Interstate Commerce Bill. It is a rather curious fact that the people who will be likely to suffer most from the practical operations of the measure are much more heartily in favor of it than the people of the East. If the railroad companies will closely follow the law, it will be repealed within six months. If they do not do so, but try to evade it, each for himself, it will be for somebody to catch the hindmost."

The Times says:—"Eight of the most eminent lawyers in the country have been in consultation with the presidents of the trunk lines as to the legal interpretation of the Interstate Commerce Bill. Four of them construed the leading clause in one way and four in another. The presidents are now convinced that compliance with the bill is impossible. President Depew expresses it when he says he hopes President Cleveland will say, 'Draft an interstate commerce bill in plain English and I will sign it.'"

AFGHAN TROUBLES

Native Attempts to Stop British Railway Building.

BOMBAY, Jan. 31.—The Duranis, an Afghan tribe incited by the Government of Candahar, recently attacked the fort between Pishin and the Khojak range of mountains, in Afghanistan. The intention was to kill the British political officer and the engineer in charge of the construction of the railway from Quetta towards Candahar. The route lies through the Khojak pass, and the Duranis expected to find the British officer at the fort. It happened, however, that both were absent at the time of the attack. The Duranis have massacred a khan and a hundred coolies since the commencement of work on the section of railway between Gullaman and Chaman Chauki, at the head of the Khojak pass. The Governor of Candahar has ordered that everybody from Quetta shall find security for his future good behaviour. The Ameer of Afghanstan has appointed several khans at Chaman Chauki, to prevent the Duranis from intriguing against the British. It is believed that if any attempt be made to continue the construction of the railway beyond Chaman Chanki it will be met with dangerous opposition from the natives.

Great numbers of the Ameer's troops have perished from the cold while engaged in the pursuit of the Ghilzai rebels. The Ghilzai chief, Syder Khan, has written to Ayoub Khan that he left the present Ameer's service to raise a rebellion in Ayoub's interest; that treachery and disaster have thwarted his revolutionary plans up to date, and that now he awaits some encouragement from Ayoub Khan himself.

A DISTINCT SUCCESS.

Lord Randolph Churchill Climbing back to his Old Influence.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Lord Randolph Churchill is slowly but surely climbing back to his old influence, his speech last night being a distinct success. He stood for an hour with his nose in the air, surveying every part of the House in turn from his familiar standpoint of conscious superiority and independence. The Liberal Unionist Alliance, he declared, he had never regarded as other than a useful crutch. As for Mr. Chamberlain's suggestion for a rounder round table, at which Lord Salisbury and Mr. Gladstone should meet, he laughed at it. He spoke contemptuously of Mr. Chamberlain's extraordinary "gyrations," and asserted strongly that his own resignation was not upon the question of fortifying the coaling stations, but general retrench ment. He challenged his late colleagues to appoint a special committee to inquire into the army and navy estimates. "It is not the first time," he added, in conclusion, "it has been my ill fortune to wrestle with the Tory party, but on this great question of retrenchment and economy I patiently await the judgment of Cæsar."

LONDON, Feb. 1.—In the House of Commons last night Mr. Shaw-Lefevre said that Lord Randolph Churchill had rendered valuable service to the country by sacrificing himself on the altar of economy. While nobody wished to censure Sir M. Hicks-Beach's action, he hoped there would be some explanation of the pressure used to induce landlords to make tardy concessions. The rejection of Mr. Parnell's bill rendered the Government largely responsible for what had occurred in Ireland since. Before long it would be absolutely necessary to propose an amendment to the Land Act of 1881. He warned the Government that a combination of coercive and remedial measures had been tried again and again, and had always failed.

Mr. Labouchere ridiculed Mr. Chamberlain's proposals for Home Rule.

Free Trade in the East.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 31.—Mr. Blake's lieutenants and followers in the Maritime Provinces appear to be in total ignorance of his change of principles as announced in his East York speech, and are still running the campaign on a free trade and reciprocity basis, in Prince Edward Island and certain fishing counties in Nova Scotia. No language is too violent in their denunciation of the National Policy, which they declare is almost the sole barrier to reciprocity. In King's County Dr. Borden denies that Mr. Blake ever made such a speech it all, and says in is Tory campaign lie.

The Strike Paralyses Business.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The extension of the strike to the freight handlers on the railroad piers of New York is the most serious blow to commerce that the union men have struck. The effect of it on the Jersey Central was an almost complete suspension of business. The handlers employed by the Pennsylvania, Erie, Lehigh Valley and New York Central companies, announce that they will join the strikers as soon as they are requested to do so. The next move on the part of the strikers will be to induce the trainmen to come out, and then tie up the railroads centring on the Jersey shore. The boat service of the Boston and Providence line has been suspended for the present.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

GOOD FOR THE LAWYERS.

Every provincial election in Manitoba is to be contested. Forty out of sixty-five in Quebec are being contested. And so all round. What a country it is for the lawyers.—Ottawa Journal.

ANYTHING FOR OFFICE.

I do not like the National Policy, says Mr. Blake; it is wrong; it is a curse to Canada. But, put me in power and I will permit the wrong and the curse to remain. I am willing to do anything for office.—Hamilton Spectator.

TO BE DEPLORED.

It is to be deplored that the Globe should have given currency to a report that Sir John A. Macdonalds mental condition is becoming infirm.—Lindsay Post (Reform.)

A WESTERN VIEW.

The truth is that in 1818 the American demand for fish could be supplied from American waters and in 1887 it cannot. Now, however, American fisherman want to catch fish were there are plenty and sell them were they are scarce—by Act of Congress. The Senate, in the meantime, on talk and the whole country is short on fish.—Chicago News.

THE GRIT BRIBERY AFFAIR.

Notwithstanding that the evidence against Scott and Maybee in connection with the Grit bribery affair in Wallace looks very suspicious, the Listowel Banner has the audacity to say "that so far as the case has gone there is the clearest evidence that the Reform party of the town had nothing to do with this alleged conspiracy, and it is both cowardly and contemptible to insinuate that Mr. Scott had anything to do with the conspiracy, either directly or indirectly. Our Grit contemporary in Mitchell, however, holds a very different opinion from this. Here is what is said last week: "The parties connected are both Grits, but men of no character or standing, the one being a shoddy peddler, and the other we know not what. Lawyer Maybee, a prominent Listowel Liberal, does not as yet appear altogether blameless, or come out very clear in the matter, As for Mr. Scott, the banker, the only shady connection that he seems to have had with him miserable affair, was changing some money for the bribers on a Sunday afternoon. To put it in its very best light, the whole thing was a scandalous affair."—Mitchell Advocate.

REFORM CLAIMS.

For what piece of statesmanship do they ask public recognition and reward? They opposed the National Policy; some of them are now not proud of that opposition. They denounced the Washington treaty: they also denounced the government for not compelling the United States government to keep the Washington treaty in operation. They opposed the Pacific railway: the now see that the Pacific railway is a most excellent thing. They lowered the countrys credit, reduced it to the brink of bankruptcy, and beggared its people; even the Grits are hardly proud of those feats. They acknowledged them, selves "flies on the wheel," now whirled by events through the air, now dragged in the dust. They proved themselves incompetent, blind and weak. Their Finance Minister was denounced by the organ of their own party as a "mixer and muddler," and their Minister of the Interior was said by the same journal to be "a meagerly educated schoolmaster."

We have only to look at the country as it now is and compare it with what it was in 1878 to decide without any hesitation that the Reform leaders, if placed in power, could bring nothing but loss, disappointment, disaster and disgrace.—Hamilton Spectator.

THE SOUDAN STRUGGLE.

Attempted Relief of Kassala—Annihilation of the Italian Troops.

ROME, Feb. 1.—Premier Depretis informed the Italian Chamber of Deputies to-day that there had recently been severe fighting in that part of the Soudan the occupation of which was being attempted by Italy on an understanding with England. He said this fighting has resulted in almost a complete disaster to the Italian forces engaged in conjunction with the Abyssinian troops in the work of attempting to release Kassala which has been besieged by hostile Arabs ever since the beginning of the Soudan war by the late El Mahdi. Going into details the Premier said that Ras Alouia, the general commanding the Abyssinian troops, accompanied by a small number of Italian soldiers, attacked Soati on January 25 last. A hotly fought battle ensured. It lasted three hours and the army of Ras Alouia was repulsed. The Italian loss was trifling and that of the Abyssinians was unknown. Next day three companies of Italian troops left Monkullo to carry provisions to Soati. The Abyssinians again made an attack and a desperate battle was waged. The Abyssinians were defeated and the Italian troops were simply annihilated. But ninety wounded reached Massowah after the battle. This statement made a profound sensation in the chamber. Premier Depretis then added that the Italian commander had recalled the troops from the advance and concentrated them at Massowah. The Radicals laughed ironically at this. The Government now proposes a bill for an appropriation of $1 000,000, with which to send Italian reinforcements to Massowah. The Chamber at once approved the bill by an almost unanimous vote. Some Radicals having cheered sarcastically in allusion to the valour of the Abyssinian troops, the whole House rose and cheered the Government. The Radicals cried out, "We must retire." The majority rejoined with cries of "Never," "Cowards," etc. The city is to-night in a high state of excitement, bordering on frenzy, over the news from the Soudan.

Manufacturers and the N. P.

A meeting of Ontario manufacturers was held in Toronto on Tuesday. According to the World it was largely attended. Sir John Macdonald and the Hon. T. White were present. They and Mr. E. C. Gurney, Mr. Storey, Senator McInnes and others addressed the meeting. The following resolution was carried unanimously:—

"That this meeting of manufacturers and millers, representing almost every branch of the industry and every section of the Province of Ontario, hereby places on record their unanimous opinion that on the maintenance of the National Policy depends the continued prosperity of Canada, and that its maintenance can only be assured by a return of the Liberal-Conservative party to power on Feb. 22; the tariff policy of the Reform party being involved, uncertain and indefinite."

LATEST CABLE NEWS

A SENSATIONAL REPORT.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—A rumor is current that the army reserves of the first class are about to be called out. The Standard denies the report.

NEWSPAPERS MUZZLED.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 1.—An order has been issued forbidding newspapers to publish other than official notices of military movements.

THE ROUND TABLE.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—It is expected that the round table conference will be resumed about the end of the present week.

A SERIOUS BLOW.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The Daily News, commenting upon his speech in the House of Commons last night, congratulated Lord Randolph Churchill upon having struck a serious, if not deadly, blow at what was once proudly called "the union of the unionists."

THE PUBLIC WORSHIP BUDGET.

PARIS, Feb. 1.—The Chamber of Deputies, yesterday, at the request of Premier Goblet, reinstated by a vote of 301 to 208 the credit for canons' salaries and finally adopted the Public Worship Budget.

A DEAD DEFAULTER.

DUBLIN, Feb. 1.—It has been discovered that the deceased cashier of the Belfast and Forthern Counties Railway Company was a defaulter for $70,000.

FIRE.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The factory of the Nottingham Hosiery Company, at Loughborough, has been burned. The loss is $300,000.

THE FIRST BISHOP OF NEW YORK.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Bishop Potters, of New, on his way home from Italy, arranged with the Archbishop of Canterbury for an interesting memorial celebrating the one hundreth anniversary of the consecration of the first bishop of New York, which took place at Lambeth Palace, February 4th, 1787. The Archbishops of Canterbury and York, on that occasion, consecrated Bishop White, of Pennsylvania, and Bishop Provost, of New York, thus founding the American branch of the English church.

PANIC ON THE PARIS BOURSE.

PARIS, Feb 1.—A panic prevails on the Bourse, owing to the situation of political affairs in France and in other European Countries. Rentes declined 1 franc and 67½ cents from the closing quotation yesterday.

AN OCEAN GAMBLING HELL.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Thirteen persons who were passengers on the steamship Umbria, which arrived at Liverpool yesterday from New York, have sent a letter to the Times, protesting against the manner in which the smoking room of that vessel was used on the trip. The writers say the room was a regular gambling hell and the resort of decoyers of the unwary. One youth lost all the money he had by gambling in the smoking room, and in despair attempted to jump overboard, and the passengers were often disturbed at night by profanity and threats of murder arising from gambling disputes.

A CANADIAN SELECTED.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Lieutenant Stairs, of the Royal Engineers, a young Canadian, has been selected from two hundred candidates to accompany Mr. Stanley's expedition to relieve Emin Bey. Lieut. Stairs has been granted eighteen months' leave of absence from his regiment. He is the only military engineer with Mr. Stanley.

THE ARMY BILL.

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—Emperor William to-day gave an audience to the President of the Prussian Landtag, and in the course of his remarks said:—"Once before we had to dissolve the Reichstag owing to its refusal to vote an Army bill, and then the differences between the Government and parliamentary majority were only brought to an end by a foreign war."

THREATENED INVASION.

PESTH, Feb. 1.—Pesther Lloyd says it fears negotiations between Russia and the Porte concerning Bulgaria were instituted merely to give time to prepare for the invasion of Bulgaria.

MARRIED BY PROXY.

Miss Van Zandt and August Spies Made Man and Wife.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The announcement is made this evening that August Spies and Miss Nina Van Zandt have been married by proxy, the groom being represented by his brother. A suburban justice of the peace officiated. Early on Saturday Miss Van Zandt and Gretchen Spies, the sister of August, went out to Jefferson and called on Justice Englehardt to get the proxy, and, having secured the document went direct to the county gaol with it. They met the wife of Spies' brother Ferdinand, and a Mrs. Wendel and Miss VanZandt's three companions witnessed the signature of Spies to the document, by which he gave full authority to his brother, Henry W. Spies, to represent him at the ceremony. Mrs. Ferdinand Spies and Miss Gretchen Spies signed the paper to witness August Spies signature. Then the whole party except spies himself went with Ferdinand Spies to Justice Englehardt's office in the town of Jefferson. They were re-inforced on the way by Miss Van Zandt's parents and Henry and Chris Spies, brothers of August. The justice again examined his law books and then the ceremony was performed. Henry Spies answered to the name of August Vincint Theodre Spies, and under this name was married to Miss Van Zandt. The bride and her parents went from the office of the justice to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Spies, not far distant, and remained over night. Justice Englehardt is the authority for the statement that marriage was performed.

Supreme Court of Canada.

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—There are twenty-four appeals and six exchequer court cases entered for the coming session of the Supreme Court of Canada. There are twelve appeals form the Maritime Provinces, eight from Quebec and four from Ontario.

The ladies will be pleased to hear that Turnbull has accepted the agency of the Domestic paper patterns. A complete assortment now in stock.

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1887.

MR. COX AND THE MIDLAND.

To judge from the claims of Mr. Cox and his supporters, a stranger would imagine that Peterborough never had any railway communication till Mr. Cox gave it to us. The fact is that the Midland Railway then existed, and Mr. Hugel, for we will not weary our readers by going further back in its history, had with wonderful enterprise, energy and pluck pushed it on to the Georgian Bay in the face of difficulties that would have appalled a less resolute and capable man. The railway was by no means moribund when Mr. Cox laid his hands upon it, though of course the extraordinary efforts to complete its construction had caused the accumulation of a large funded and floating debt. It was when the difficulties of constructing the road were over that Mr. Cox had the good luck to step into the shoes of his predecessor, to enjoy the fruits of Mr. Hugel's labors.

Under Mr. Cox the service continued to improve, as it had been doing before his time. But improvement of the Midland was not so much what the people of Peterborough craved; their great desire was to obtain a competing road that would check monopoly charges. Against the attainment of this wish Mr. Cox persistently fought. When, much against his will, the opening of the Grand Junction to Belleville gave us some measure of competition, he assumed a most hostile attitude, both to its working and its extension. His next step was to procure, at the instance of the Grand Trunk, the amalgamation of the various roads now forming the Midland system so as to crush out competition at Peterborough and at other points where it had been established. After a while he completed this policy by handing over the Midland Railway system to the Grand Trunk, thus placing us in the hands of a corporation so powerful as to offer the strongest opposition to the establishment of competition by any new line.

To go back a little in time, Mr. Cox showed by other means his virulent opposition to a competing line. While he had control of the Midland and while its amalgamation with the Grand Trunk was still more or less incomplete, he strenuously opposed the chartering or construction of any road through Peterborough from Toronto to Ottawa. Not only did he work through his allies, but at least on one occasion he went personally to Toronto to oppose, before the Railway Committee of the Legislature, the grant of a charter for this purpose so greatly desired by the people of Peterborough. For the construction of the Ontario and Quebec Railway, now part of a division of the C. P. R., we have not to thank Mr. Cox. We have not to thank him, for it it was in spite of all his efforts that we have obtained this competing line with all its benefits. On every bushel of grain our farmers gain several cents by the reduction of freight, but the competition that has thus benefitted them was obtained against the will of Mr. Cox.

We have spoken of the debt of the Midland Railway at the time Mr. Cox "laid his hand upon it." This opens up another interesting branch of Mr. Cox's management of the railway, his financial operations. In an amending Act as to the Midland Railway, passed in the Ontario Legislature in the spring of 1880, a clause was inserted to empower the company to issue certain preference bonds subject to the liens of municipalities on the road, but ahead of other encumbrances. To this clause was prefixed a proviso that creditors might elect within 90 days to accept mortgage bonds at par or 22½ cents on the dollar in cash.

It is said that some of the smaller creditors were lead to believe that it was compulsory upon them by this statue to take either cash for less than a quarter of their just claims, or bonds which were not represented to them as being worth much. Whether this were so or not Mr. Cox made arrangements with many of the creditors by which they received from him 22½ cents on the dollar, he receiving the valuable mortgage bonds at par for the amount of the whole indebtedness. Now if the company could pay their just debts in full it is evident that Mr. Cox got the best of these unfortunate creditors by at least 50 or 60 cents in the dollar. If it could not pay in full the company should have had the benefit of the compromise and not Mr. Cox, who as its president and officer had no right to deal with its affairs to his own advantage and the loss of the shareholders.

But by the showing of Mr. Cox, it seems that the company had the money to pay its debts. In December 1880 the bondholders of the Midland Railway held a meeting in London. Mr. Cox, who was present, is reported to have spoken as follows:—

"Mr. Cox, in the course of his remarks, among other things, said with regard to the present financial position of the Company, that the total amount of the old bonds was £525,000, of which only £460,000 had been disposed of, leaving £65,000 of that issue still in the hands of the Company, and which with the recent issue of £150,000 preference bonds still unsold, represented their present available assets. Upon the security of the latter bonds they had borrowed £100,000 in Canada at six and five and a half per cent. interest. With this sum and a portion of the past two year's revenue they had compromised and consolidated their floating debt, and had made extensive renewals and improvements on the line."

Later he explained that they would still have £60,000 of which £15,000 would be required to pay off the floating debt remaining, leaving them £45,000 for improvements.

Does it not look as if the company could have paid its debts in full and not less than a quarter of the amount to the poor creditors, or at the very least that they could have paid this paltry dividend and saved their valuable bonds from Mr. Cox's clutches at such a sacrifice?

The commissions he received for negotiating sales or loans for the company, the dealings of himself and his associates with their property, such as their old rails, and other "financial operations," show how much more Mr. Cox was looking after his own interests than those of the company.

Yet everybody is to be very grateful to Mr. Cox for his condescension in laying his hands upon the Midland railway. The people of the town and county of Peterborough are to be grateful to him for so long depriving them of that salutory competition of which they now feel the benefit in spite of him. The creditors of the Midland railway are to feel very grateful to him for allowing them the munificent share of 22½ cents in the dollar, while he only kept the paltry 50 or 60 cents in the dollar for himself. The shareholders are to feel their gratitude swell up towards Mr. Cox for dealing with their property for his own advantage, while they lost all that he gained, which was rightfully theirs, since it was his duty as their officer to let them have the gains of any such transactions, not to appropriate them for his own use.

If Mr. Cox's dealings as President of the Midland Railway Company are ever thoroughly overhauled the result would be more curious than edifying, and would cause him to appeal for something very different from gratitude.

NO DISINTEGRATION.

THOUGH Mr. Bright sits at present on the Opposition side of the Imperial House of Commons, he is far from being without influence in British politics, representing, as he does, in an especial manner the views of an important section of the politicians and of the people of the Mother Country. His opinions, therefore, are also of some importance, as there is always a possibility of his friends obtaining power and giving effect to his policy. In a letter regarding Imperial federation, which he does not favor, he thus writes on the question of our fisheries:—

"How would your federation deal with the fisheries dispute between Canada and the United States? If Canada were an independent state the dispute would soon be settled; for she would yield to the arguments of her powerful neighbor, and if there were no 'Dominion' of Canada the dispute would be settled by English concession of the reasonable claims of the Government at Washington."

As to Mr. Bright's first question, we think that the Federation, and the constituent portions of the Federation, would be zealous in the defence of territorial rights, so as to counteract the risk of each being pillaged in turn.

The more immediately important point is the light thrown upon the inexpediency of the policy of the Canadian Reformers, or those of them who follow Mr. Blake. The advocates of independence, almost to a man are to be found among his supporters, and if they carried their point we learn from Mr. Bright what he thinks would be the result. We would have, he thinks, to submit to the bare-faced invasion of our territorial rights by our neighbours. Again, if we were not a Dominion, we are told on the same authority, that the Mother Country would concede the claims of the Government at washington. The authorities at Westminster would not, at least if Mr. Bright and his friends were in power, trouble themselves to protect mere insignificant Provinces. Mr. Blake's friends in Nova Scotia, if, with his aid, they could carry Secession, would apparently run the risk of having to yield its fisheries to the New England pirates without being able to resist in the absence of any support. Such, indeed, would be the position of all the Provinces, if the Reform policy of disintegration were carried out.

Is it not, therefore, wise of Canadians who love their country to support the Conservative statesmen in their policy of consolidating our Dominion, and at the same time maintaining the unity of our Empire?

M. Herbette, the French Ambassador at Berlin, has been instructed to impress upon Germany France's earnest desire for peace.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

NEWS NOTES.

The British steamer Blair Athol foundered in the Black Sea and twenty persons were drowned.

Baron Denman's Woman Sufferage bill was rejected without a division in the House of Lords on Monday.

Quiet has been restored in Belfast, and the rioters arrested on Saturday night have been committed for trial.

Mr. Stanley telegraphs from Cairo that the Egyptian Government is rendering him great assistance in his Emin Bey expedition.

No confirmation of the rumoured escape of Emin Bey has reached the British Foreign office, and Mr. Stanley says the story is absurd.

The proprietor and publisher of London Life were committed for trial on Monday, charged with libelling Dr. Bird, Lady Colin Campbell's physician.

The Paris Pays has a very simple way of preventing European war. France and Germany have only to become friends, break up the British Empire and live on happy ever afterwards

King Leopold will ask his Parliament, for a vote to put Belgium in such a state of defence as the present condition and future prospect of Continental affairs make expedient.

Montreal is again suffering from an epidemic of burglaries, attributed to a gang of crooks from the United States who have invaded the city and intend to stay during the carnival. So far, although burglaries are of nightly occurrence, the police have made no arrests.

The coal conspiracy case was brought to an abrupt termination at the Toronto Criminal Assizes on Monday by Chief Justice Cameron instructing the jury to return a verdit of acquittal without hearing the defence, on the ground that there was no evidence of conspiracy.

The statement of traffic earnings of the Canadian Pacific railway for December shows a net profit for the month of $280,245, an increase of $39,372 over the profits for December, 1885. For the twelve months ending December 31 the net profits were $3,703,486 an increase of $478,389 compared with the previous year.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we life in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health, but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. d90

Call at Turnbull's for dresses and mantles. Every garment made up in the latest fashion.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc. Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00
LADIES.....50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG, Manager.

1d65

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.
SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.
OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed all Shades.
DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.
LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed all Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhœa, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse, [sexual] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [Sexual] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Baroka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, cords of jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the public against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

Still Pushing the Trade

AT LeBRUN'S CITY CLOTHING STORE

Bargains in Overcoats, Suits, Underwear. Gents' Furnishings, Haberdashery—in fact in Everything all this month immense Bargains will be given.

H. LeBRUN.

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40

$6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 12th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. as CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY REVIEW IF YOU ARE WISE

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

BY HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

How certain topics, which I would have avoided discussing with Carriston, were started I hardly remember. Probably some strange tale had been passed down from wilder and even more solitary regions than ours—some ridiculous tale of Highland superstition, no doubt, embellished and augmented by each one who repeated it to his fellows. From her awed talk I soon found that Madeline Rowan, perhaps by reason of the Scotch blood in her veins, was as firm a believer in things visionary and beyond Nature as ever Charles Carriston in his silliest moments could be. As soon as I could I stopped the talk, and the next day, finding the girl for a few minutes alone, told her plainly that subjects of this kind should be kept as far as possible from her future husband's thoughts. She promised obedience, with dreamy eyes which looked as far away and full of visions as Carriston's.

"By-the-by," I said, "has he ever spoken to you about seeing strange things?"

"Yes; he has hinted at it."

"And you believe him?"

"Of course I do—he told me so."

This was unanswerable. "A pretty pair they will make!" I muttered, as Madeline slipped from me to welcome her lover, who was approaching. "They will see ghosts in every corner, and goblins behind every curtain."

Nevertheless, the young people had no doubts about their coming bliss. Everything was going smoothly and pleasantly for them. Carriston had at once spoken to Madeline's aunt, and obtained the old Scotch woman's ready consent to their union. I was rather vexed at his still keeping to his absurd whim, and concealing his true name. He said he was afraid of alarming the aunt by telling her he was passing under an alias, while if he gave Madeline his true reason for so doing she would be miserable. Moreover, I found he had formed the romantic plan of marrying her without telling her in what an enviable position she would be placed, so far as worldly gear went. A kind of Lord of Burleigh surprise no doubt commended itself to his imaginative brain.

The last day of my holiday came. I bade a long and sad farewell to lake and mountain, and, accompanied by Carriston, started for home. I did not see the parting proper between the young people—that was far too sacred a thing to be intruded upon—but even when that protracted affair was over I waited many, many minutes while Carriston stood hand in hand with Madeline, continually kissing and her by reiterating, "Only six weeks—six short weeks! And then—and then!" It was the girl who at last tore herself away, and then Carriston mounted reluctantly by my side on the rough vehicle.

From Edinburgh we traveled by the night train. The greater part of the way we had the compartment to ourselves. Carriston, as a lover will, talked of nothing but coming bliss and his plans for the future. After a while I grew quite weary of the monotony of the subject, and at last dosed off, and for some little time slept. The shrill whistle which told me a tunnel was at hand aroused me. My companion was sitting opposite to me, and as I glanced across at him my attention was arrested by the same strange, intense look which I had on a previous occasion at Bettws y Coed noticed in his eyes—the same fixed stare—the same obliviousness to all that was passing. Remembering his request I shook him, somewhat roughly, back to his senses. He regarded me for a moment vacantly, then said:

"Now I have found out what was wanting to make the power I told you of complete. I could see her if I wished."

"Of course you can see her—in your mind's eye. All lovers can do that."

"If I tried I could see her bodily—know exactly what she is doing." He spoke with an air of complete conviction.

"Then I hope, for the sake of modesty, you won't try. It is now nearly 3 o'clock. She ought to be in bed and asleep."

I spoke lightly, thinking it better to try and laugh him out of his folly. He took no notice of my sorry joke.

"No," he said, quietly, "I am not going to try. But I know now what was wanting. Love—such love as mine—such love as hers—makes the connecting link, and enables sight or some other sense to cross over space and pass through every material obstacle."

"Look here, Carriston," I said, seriously, "you are talking like a madman. I don't want to frighten you, but I am bound both as a doctor and your sincere friend to tell you that unless you cure yourself of these absurd delusions they will grow upon you, develop fresh forms, and you will probably end your days under restraint. Ask any doctor; he will tell you the same."

"Doctors are a clever race," answered my strange young friend, "but they don't know everything."

So saying he closed his eyes and appeared to sleep.

We parted upon reaching London. Many kind words and wishes passed between us, and I gave him some more well meant and, I believed, needed warnings. He was going down to see his uncle, the baronet. Then he had some matters to arrange with his lawyers, and above all had to select a residence for himself and his wife. He would no doubt be in London for a short time. If possible he would come and see me. Any way, he would write and let me know the exact date of his approaching marriage. If I could manage to come to it, so much the better. If not, he would try, as they passed through town, to bring his bride to pay me a flying and friendly visit. He left me in the best of spirits, and I went back to my patients and worked hard to make up lost ground, and counteract whatever errors had been committed by my substitute.

Some weeks afterward, late at night, while I was deep in a new and clever treatise on zymotics, a man haggard, wild, unshorn and unkempt rushed past my startled servant and entered the room in which I sat. He threw himself into a chair, and I was horrified to recognise in the intruder my clever and brilliant friend Charles Carriston!

CHAPTER V.

"The end has come sooner than I expected." These were the sad words I muttered to myself as, waving my frightened servant away, I closed the door and stood alone with the supposed maniac. He rose and wrung my hand, then without a word sank back in his chair and buried his face in his hands. A sort of nervous trembling seemed to run through his frame. Deeply distressed, I drew his hands from his face.

"Now, Carriston," I said, as firmly as I could, "look up and tell me what all this means. Look up, I say, man, and speak to me."

He raised his eyes to mine and kept them there, while a ghastly smile—a phantom of humor—flickered across his white face. No doubt his native quickness told him what I suspected, so he looked me full and steadily in the face.

"No," he said, "not as you think. But let there be no mistake. Question me. Talk to me. Put me to any test. Satisfy yourself, once for all, that I am as sane as you are."

(To be continued.)

IN MEMORY

OF MY DEAR SWEET ROBBIE, JUNE 2ND, 1886.

My darling's gone, he is no more,
Has left this world of care;
We hope to meet him on the shore
And in that glory share.

When here below he was so mild,
So loving, so sincere,
He always had a pretty smile
For those he loved so dear.

But now he's gone, my sweetest child
Has gone to be at rest,
We mourn his loss, to him 'tis gain,
In heaven forever blest.

But then to part with loved ones hear,
It saddens many a heart,
The tie of love and friendship gone,
When we with loved ones part.

But we are looking forward, when
Our loved ones we shall meet,
Again in endless reims of day
Around our Jesus' feet.

Oh may we thus be faithful found,
When all our conflicts done
We shall rejoin our loved around
The Saviour's great White Throne.

Jesus, my Saviour, Brother, Friend,
Oh, aid us in our grief;
Oh, may the Comforter descend
And bring us sweet relief.

I'm looking forward to the time
When we our darling meet
To part no more in that fair land
And sing the song so sweet.

Farewell my dearest Robbie boy,
Farewell but for a while,
My heart with grief was well nigh broke,
When you my child did die.

You left your dada here a while
To mourn for one so dear,
So loving, gentle, kind and mild,
Were you my Robbie dear.

God grant that when our work is done
We all may meet above,
And there behold our loved around
The Saviour's throne of love.

In heaven there is peaceful rest,
No tears, no parting there,
No grief, no sorrow, no complaint
Is ever uttered there.

Your lovely face I'll ne'er forget,
While here on earth I rove,
From your sweet little silvery voice
Sweet songs of praise arose.

Yes I will my dearest Robbie meet,
When all life's toils are o'er,
Among the shining angels we
Will dwell forever more.

What bliss, what holy rapture
When we meet to part no more,
And in that land of rest and peace
The Saviour shall adore.

—Capt. Piper, Peterborough.

CARDINAL Blankets, Toques and Sashes at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	1 00	to	1 50
Apples, No. 1 "	1 25	to	1 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 25	to	0 30
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 25	to	0 30
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up.

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in stock.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Booties.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold dashed bargains may be expected.

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS—Anti Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

D. BELLEGHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms.

TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

Builders and Contractors.

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. lyd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. lyd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. lyd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 759. Residence, Bon Accord Street. lyd97 w1

R. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 680; residence, Reid street, near King. lyd97

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. lyd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, 62 Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O. Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. lyd97

W. FITZGERALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied. Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. lyd97

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d120w22

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL. Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street opposite St. John's Church. d123w22 1y

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w2

Dentists.

W. H. MANNING,

SURGEON DENTIST,—J. O'Donnell's old stand, over Taylor and McDonald's Drug Store. Entrance on Hunter St. NITROUS OXIDE GAS administered for the painless extraction of teeth. w3

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anæsthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. lyd&w

Music.

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired. Violin Bows haired. Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. 1yd11

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipsic, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipsic Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence

DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE

d111w6

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

d&w JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d138 JAMES GALVIN.

What is it? Where is it?

CULVER'S COUGH BALSAM

A valuable compound of Tar, Wild Cherry and Healing Balsams, for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough and all throat and lung diseases. The best cough medicine known for consumption. Price 25 cents. Sold by

GEO. A. SHERIN, Druggist

Floral Drug Store, Opposite the Market.

That's What they all Say

Culver's Cough Balsam is the best cough medicine I ever used. It was the worst cold I ever had and it stopped it at once. Sold by

GEO. A. SHERIN,

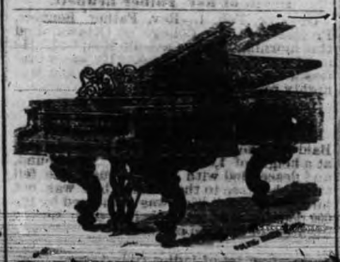
Floral Drug Store, Market.

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"



"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

DON'T FORGET

TO CALL AND SEE

D. SMART'S

SUPERB STOCK OF

Sewing Machines, Pianos, Organs, & Sheet Music.

We Cannot be Undersold.

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 35 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY

JOHN NUGENT

Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont. FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 28 Maryland Road, Harrow Road, London, England. (Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)

☞ No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d126odw6

Notice to Creditors

OF THE

LATE JOHN B. HAMMOND.

PURSUANT to Revised Statutes of Ontario, Chapter 107 and 46 Victoria, Chapter 9, Ontario, notice is hereby given that all creditors and others having claims against the estate of John Edward Hammond, late of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, gentleman, who died on or about the third day of January, 1887, are required to send by post, prepaid, or to deliver to Hatton & Wood, of the Town of Peterborough, in the said County of Peterborough, solicitors for Herbert Arthur Hammond, Robert Pemdel Boother and Harriet Hammond, the executors and executrix of the last will and testament of the deceased on or before the 28th day of February, 1887, a statement of their names and addresses, the full particulars of their claims and securities (if any) held by them. And that after the said date the said executors and executrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice shall have been given as above required.

And the said executors and executrix will not be responsible for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons of whose claim or claims notice shall not have been received at the time of such distribution.

Dated at Peterborough, this 28th day of January, 1887.

HATTON & WOOD,
Solicitors for the said
Executors and Executrix.

w8

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE,
Solicitor

d104w18

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

E. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears. Sweet Florida Oranges, Malaga Grapes, new English Walnuts. Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecans Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Parties a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS,
George St., Peterborough

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,
Ashburnham

d89

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. B. BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office.
Postal Address, Box 42. d118w7

Exceedingly Cheap

Is what every person says who has bought Groceries from us. Our Teas, Sugars and Coffees are marked low and are very good. We have a very select stock of

FRESH FAMILY GROCERIES,

Canned Goods, etc. which we are selling at rock bottom prices.

GEORGE CARTON

The People's Grocer, George Street.

Xmas Comes But Once a Year

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 2 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 10c.

To every purchaser of one pound of our 50c. tea, 5 lbs. of Raisins for 10c.

We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take you LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

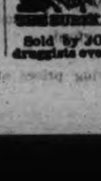
WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO



Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. ADDRESS THE SUPERIOR CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d&w6

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Raisins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. & O. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
10 55 p m	Toronto and West, via G. & O. R.	6 00 p m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
8 20 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	8 00 p m
12 00 m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)	8 00 a m
6 50 p m		4 30 p m
8 20 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope.	11 00 a m
5 15 p m	do do	8 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings.	1 15 p m
4 00 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakefield.	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville.	11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore.	1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Hastlain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clydale, Paudash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays.	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays.	7 30 p m
	Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbadoes, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibralter, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxemburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamacia, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents,

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

DUNN'S BAKING POWDER

THE COOK'S BEST FRIEND

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Scott Act.

The case Queen vs. Calcutt, for a third offense against the Scott Act, was adjourned this morning till Thursday, February 10th.

An Apron Social.

The Ladies' Aid of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church will give an apron social at the residence of Mrs. Geo. A Cox, Friday evening, Feb. 4th, at 8 o'clock. A highly instructive and interesting programme has been provided. Admission 25 cents.

Scott Act Affairs.

The following report of a Scott Act case, heard at Osgoode Hall on Tuesday, is given in the Mail:—"Queen vs. Snowden.—J. B Clark moved absolute an order nisi to quash a conviction under the Canada Temperance Act. E. T. English for the magistrates. Order nisi discharged with costs."

Military Funeral.

The members of No. 5 Company, 57th Battalion, will meet at the drill shed this (Wednesday) evening at 7 o'clock, sharp, to receive arms and accoutrements, and instructions in the funeral exercises, and to-morrow at one o'clock to attend the funeral of their late comrade, Private William Wilson.

Protestant Home.

The Committee of the Peterborough Protestant Home gratefully acknowledge the following donations for January:—Mrs. Belleghem, rocking chair; from a friend, $1 worth of bread tickets; Mrs. Edward Brown, parcel reading matter; Mrs. Melville Millar, one dozen bedroom towels, half a dozen kitchen towels and aprons; Mrs. J. B. McWilliams, onions and socks.

Personal.

The Ottawa Journal of Feb. 1st says:—"Mr. H H. Smith, Dominion Land Commissioner, who arrived here Saturday on business with the Interior Department, leaves for Winnipeg to-night. He has completed arrangements for the distribution of seed to the farmers of Assiniboia and Saskatchewan. This practice was started last year by the Hon. Thos. White, and enabled many settlers, who had been impoverished by the rebellion, to raise large crop notwithstanding."

Curling Matches at the Carnival.

In addition to the many handsome prizes offered for competition at the Fancy Dress Carnival to be held in the Rink on Friday evening, Feb. 11th, three prizes of four brooms each will be awarded to the victorious curling rinks taking the following characters:—Indians vs. Scotch, Irish vs. Dudes, Darkeys vs. Coalition, Coalition to consist of Henry VIII, General McMahon, George Washington, and Esquimau skip. Play to commence at 7.45, sixteen ends. Curlers wishing to enter can hand in their names at once to Mr. W. G. Ferguson, who will supply them with further particulars. Invitations have been extended to the Keene, Lakefield and Campbellford clubs, and it is expected they will represent three of the six characters named.

Evening Entertainment.

At the St. Luke's regular fortnightly entertainment held in the spacious school room, on Tuesday evening, there was a large attendance, notwithstanding other attractions. The following programme was highly appreciated, as frequent encores testified:

PART I.

Instrumental.....Mrs. Blackwell
Vocal Solo....."Drifting and Dreaming."
Miss Vair.
Duet....."Life's Dream is O'er."
Misses Strickland and Morgan.
Quartette....."Farewell."
Mrs. Seward, Miss E. Strickland, and Messrs. Hutchins and Newball.
Vocal solo....."Will O' the Wisp."
Mr. C. H. Geale.
Vocal solo....."Love that Slumbers."
Mrs. Seward.
Quartette....."Sleep, Darling, Sleep."
Mrs. Seward and Miss E. Strickland, and Messrs. Hutkins and Newball.

PART II.

Instrumental.....Mrs Blackwell
Vocal solo....."Goodbye."
Mr. J. Hutchins.
Duet....."I Would That My Love."
Misses Vair and Strickland.
Vocal solo....."Committed to the Deep."
Mr. M. Dunn.
Quartette....."Spring's Free Sunshine."
Mrs. Seward and Miss E. Strickland and Messrs. Hutchins and Newball.
Vocal solo....."The Scout."
Mr. C. H. Geale.
Vocal solo....."Waiting."
Mr. M. Tierney.
Vocal solo....."There is a Green Hill."
Mr. J. B. Hutchins.
Duet....."Gently Sighs the Breeze."
Misses Strickland and Morgan.
"God Save the Queen"
Pianist.....Mr. L. Seward,

Turnbull's cellar is filled with piles of white and grey cottons, which he is offering by the piece at prices which please every one that sees them.

WINDING UP THE 'SPEIL

THE CALEDONIA MEDAL ATCH TO-DAY.

Lindsay Beaten by Whitby—Peterborough Left by Port Hope—The Belleville Men are in Turn Defeated.

After dinner, which was taken in the rink dining room, the preliminary contest was resumed. Port Hope played against Peterborough and Cobourg against Belleville. On account of the Bowmanville rinks not appearing Bobcaygeon was awarded a win on the first draw. The Bobcaygeonites accordingly pocketed their win and watched the others play during the afternoon. The following is the score of the afternoon match:—

COBOURG.		BELLEVILLE.
	No. 1 Rink.
C J McCallum,		J Wicket,
A R Hargraph,		J Jenkins,
J Jeffrey,		T Thompson,
J Saunders, Skip	20	W H Vicker, skip 17
	No. 2 Rink.
W Erye,		Col Lazier,
P J Lightburn,		Jas Gordon,
C Titford,		D M Water,
J Sailsbury, skip	18	J D Clark, skip 23
PORT HOPE.		PETERBOROUGH.
	No. 3 Rink.
B P Ross,		J D Pentland,
C Vivan,		C McGill,
W W Renwick,		R S Davidson,
Geo Hall, skip	23	W G Ferguson, skip 12
	No. 4 Rink.
Geo Raddick,		J McClelland,
J P Clemes,		T Rutherford,
G W Burton,		S Ray,
G Philips, Skip	23	Geo Brown, skip 18
Port Hope wins by		16
Belleville wins by		13

The attendance during the afternoon was large. On the two Peterborough rinks the ends were crowded. Ferguson's rink went all to pieces at first, but as the game advanced it did better. At one time the score stood 6 to 17 in favor of Port Hope. Brown's rink managed to hold its own till near the last. At the finish the curlers again repaired to the dining room where supper was served.

In the evening's play the winners were drawn against each other as follows:—Lindsay against Bobcaygeon, Whitby against Belleville, and Port Hope against Lakefield. Bobcaygeon was represented by W. J. Hickey, D. Gage, G. Eastland and W. J. Read, skip; and M. Collins, K. Connal, W. Gidley and W. Boyd, skip. The result of the second draw left Port Hope, Lindsay and Whitby still in the field. The scores are as follows:—

BOBCAYGEON.		LINDSAY.
	No. 1 Rink.
W J. Read, skip	17	W Needler, skip 15
	No. 2 Rink.
W Boyd, skip	12	J D Flavelle, skip 40
WHITBY.		BELLEVILLE.
	No. 3 Rink.
C E Ray, skip	35	W H Biggar, skip 14
	No. 4 Rink.
E Armstrong, skip	26	Col Lazier, skip 14
LAKEFIELD.		PORT HOPE.
	No. 5 Rink.
R C Strickland, sk	17	E Philp, skip 23
	No. 6 Rink.
B M Eden, skip	21	Geo Hall, skip 21
Lindsay wins by		26
Whitby wins by		23
Port Hope wins by		6

This closed the play for the day. The curlers left the rink and went back to their hotels.

This morning Whitby and Lindsay were drawn against each other.

The match throughout the whole forenoon excited much interest. The ice was keen and the play good on both sides. It was thought the invincible Flavelle rink would carry Lindsay through all right, but Ray held to him to close, while Armstrong outstripped the other Lindsay rink about the same way as Port Hope left Peterborough. It is likely that Needler remembered the shaking up he got from Armstrong's rink two years ago for at the very start he let in a six and two threes. Had he been drawn against Ray probably a different story would be told. The score is as follows:—

Flavelle, skip	15	Ray, skip 15
Needler, skip	11	Armstrong, skip 30
Total	26	45

Whitby won by 15.

While this was going on the Keene and Bobcaygeon rinks played for a caledonian medal. The Bobcaygeon rink won by six. Port Hope was drawn to play the Scarboro Heathers for a caledonian medal, but they allowed their opponents to win by default, preferring to stake their chances with Whitby to represent the district in the final draw.

South Ward School.

The following are the names of those pupils in each class, who stood highest during the month of January:—

MR. STIRLING'S ROOM.

Junior Fourth Class.—1st Ada Gillespie, 2nd Frank Holland, 3rd Edith McKee.

Senior Third Class.—1st Lydia Lewis, 2nd Geo. Brown, 3rd Daisy Sproule.

Junior Third Class.—1st Albert Huffman, 2nd Florence Madden, 3rd Phemie Hillier.

MISS MCLEOD'S ROOM.

Senior Class.—1st Sam Taylor, 2nd Jas. Bell, 3rd Wm. Weese.

Intermediate Class.—1st Herbert Panter, 2nd Wishart VanEvery, 3rd Belford Martin.

Junior Class.—1st John Wright, 2nd Edith Lyle, 3rd Geo. Panter.

MISS IRWIN'S ROOM.

Senior Class.—1st Bertie Moore, 2nd Wellington Langford, 3rd Mitchel Payton.

Intermediate Class.—1st Julia Salvin, 2nd Louisa Whitehair, 3rd Ina Mowry.

Junior Class.—1st Bertha Kennedy, 2nd Fred Sawers, 3rd Gussie Langford.

Fur goods going at clearing prices at the Golden Lion. R. Fair.

The Weather.

Mr. Clementi's thremometer registered at zero last night.

A Large Average.

The average attendance at the Collegiate Institute for the month of January was 168.

Organized.

At twelve o'clock, noon, to-day, the organization meeting of the Board of Education was held in the Council Chamber. The usual formalities were gone through. After the appointment of the Standing committees for the year the Board adjourned till Saturday night. Mr. James Stevenson was again elected Chairman.

Case after case of cottonades and shirtings have been arriving at Turnbull's. All the new patterns now in stock at his old well known low prices.

Day's Theatre Co.

The splendid Spanish comedy, Don Cesar de Bajan was presented to a well pleased audience last night. Mr. Day as Don Cesar gave a creditable rendition of the ruined and reckless Spanish nobleman and kept the audience in good humor by his excellent sallies of wit delivered in his inimitable manner. Miss Osborne as Marit·na was excellent and acted well. Little Little Annie Bird sang as usual, and as usual was enthusiastically encored. To-night the company play in Lindsay, having given up the opera for a political meeting, but to-morrow evening Bartley Campbell's famous play, "Van, the Virginian," and on Friday evening the popular manager, Mr. Day, takes a benefit, when "The Honeymoon" will be played.

Turnbull has already received an immense shipment of French dress goods for the spring trade, in all the latest shades described in the latest ladies' magazines. Those looking for something new should see them.

Death of Rev. Father Bennett.

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—Rev. Father Bennett, Professor of the College of Ottawa, died this morning at the Catholic Hospital. He had been ill for some time. He was a professor for seventeen years here, and was highly respected.

A Terrible Leap.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., January 31.—T. S. Baldwin, the aeronaut, leaped from a baloon at a height of 1,000 feet from the ground, and descended with a parashute. He fell through a tree to the ground, but was not hurt. The exhibition was witnessed by 12,000 people. The feat is believed to be the greatest of its kind on record.

ANOTHER lot of ladies ribbed vest stockings to hand at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

A Tree's Fatal Work.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Feb. 1.—Near Tacoma, W. T., yesterday, a large tree was blown down, falling into a camp where a number of Chinese laborers were sleeping. Nine dead bodies had been removed at last accounts, and a dozen or more injured. Several bodies are still supposed to be buried in the snow under the fallen timber.

Unlawful Seizures.

TORONTO, Feb 1.—A Washington despatch states that the United States Attorney-General declares that the recent seizures of British schooners in Alaskan waters were unlawful, the vessels having been outside the three mile limit at the time of their capture, and that proper damages for their losses will be paid by the United States Government.

"Is it Lost Forever"

—the youthful bloom, the freshness of health, the buoyancy of spirits, and all that goes to give pleasure and contentment to a heart made happy by health? No; not lost forever. There is hope for all. For those whose lives have been a burden, and for those who are now travelling in the very sloughs of despondency. Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" will cure all chronic diseases peculiar to females. It will build up the system, and restore health, strength, and beauty. Try it and be convinced. Send ten cents in stamps for large illustrated Treatise on Diseases Peculiar to Women. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Battalion Orders

BATTALION HEADQUARTERS.
Peterborough, Feb. 2, 1887.

No. 1.—The 57th Battalion with the Band, will parade at the Drill Shed to-morrow, THURSDAY, the 3rd inst., to attend the funeral of the late private William Wilson, of of No. 5 Company.

No. 2.—No. 5 Company will furnish a firing party of 12 men, under command of a Sergeant.

No. 3.—The Battalion will muster at one o'clock, p.m., sharp.

By order,
R. W. BELL,
Major and Adjutant.

Midland Railway of Canada.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR LOCKS LINE," Peterborough, will be received until the 15th day of February, 1887 inclusive, for the construction of works at Peterborough, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen at the office of the engineer of the Midland Division of Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Persons desirous of tendering are requested to make personal enquiry relative to the work to be done and to examine the locality.

No tender will be entertained unless on one of the printed forms, and all the conditions are complied with.

The company does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender. By order

H. BEAD,
Secretary Midland Railway,
G. T. R. Office Montreal. d25

Wants.

WANTED.

BY A THOROUGHLY CAPABLE AND EXPERIENCED PERSON, employment in the capacity of sick nurse. Apply to MRS. C. ROBINSON, Water St. north or at the REVIEW Office. d93

For Sale or to Rent.

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE. On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, Solicitor, George Street. d84

TO RENT.

IN about 2 months, FIVE FIRST-CLASS TERRACE HOUSES (White Brick), two storey, seven rooms, on George street, within one minutes walk of the market. Apply to JOHN CARLISLE.

FOR SALE.

BUILDING LOTS, situated on Rubidge, Park, Townsend and Wolf Streets. No money down providing you build. Come on and get a Lot before they are all sold to the stove men. Also House and Lot, and Park Lot. Apply to the owner, JOHN BELL, Corner Wolf and Rubidge Streets. d93

Miscellaneous.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 20 cents for Book of 150 pages GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

TIE MAKERS AND STATION MEN WANTED!

On Sault Division, D., S. S & A. R. R., Headquarters camp at Sault Junction, forty miles above St. Ignace on D., M. & M. R. R.

REXFORD BROS. & HODGE,
Contractors
d192w

Dominion Election.

THE

HON. THOS. WHITE

Minister of the Interior

AND

Mr. Nicholas Murphy

Barrister, of Toronto,

Will address the electors of the County of Peterborough, in the

OPERA HOUSE

Peterborough, on

Monday, the 7th February, 1887

On the political questions now engrossing public attention, and when Mr. White will reply to the statements made by Mr. Patterson at the meeting held on Monday evening.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public generally. The gallery will be reserved for Ladies.

The chair will be taken at 8 o'clock sharp.

W. H. MOORE, President W.P.L.C.A. W. J. MINORE, Secretary W.P.L.C.A

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

Peterborough, February 2nd, 1887.

T. DOLAN & CO'S $2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

MONEY TO LEND!

HAVING resigned his connection with the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Ld.,) the undersigned has made arrangements for lending an unlimited amount at SIX PER CENT, on terms more favourable than any Peterborough or Toronto Company, and will be pleased to see his many old friends with a view to making them new advances or readjusting their present Mortgages.

A. P. POUSSETTE.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH AND OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

1md7w41

A GOOD TIME TO BUY.

The present is an excellent opportunity to purchase

Buggies, Phætons, Carriages and Waggons

at our Factory, as we are selling them out to make room for a lively trade in Winter Goods this Season. A fine stock on hand at prices that cannot fail to please. The present is also an excellent time to purchase or order before the busy season sets in. Hand in your order and obtain a handsome and substantial vehicle. If you do not intend to purchase a new one, bring along your cutters and sleighs and have them repaired. All material used by us is THOROUGHLY SEASONED. Our workmen are skilled mechanics, and the work is finished in the best styles. BUGGY TOPS made in the factory in several styles and at moderate prices. You will consult your interests by calling on us, as we are bound not to be beaten in prices or workmanship, and to lead the procession in our trade.

Cutters or Sleighs

We have also about 5,000 FEET OF TWO-INCH OAK, suitable for building purposes, which we will dispose of at a reasonable price.

PORTER BROS.

Corner Charlotte and Aylmer Streets, near the G.T.R.

CLEARING SALE. GREAT BARGAINS.

CRYSTAL BLOCK.

SWEEPING REDUCTIONS

IN ALL WINTER GOODS.

GOODS MUST BE SOLD.

H. S. GRIFFIN & CO.

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 28. PETERBOROUGH, THURSSDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

DIED.

DEVLIN—On Tuesday, February 1st, ELLEN MONICHA, youngest child of Mr. W. J. Devlin, aged ten months.

PROBABILITIES.

Cloudy, comparatively mild weather, with occasional light snow or rain, followed towards evening or at night by strong winds and gales from the west and north-west and decidedly cold weather.

R. FAIR.

COLORED BLANKETS

WHITE BLANKETS

COMFORTERS

From 69c. Up.

A few more of the Stylish, Perfect Fitting Mantles to be cleared at slaughtering prices.

These goods must be cleared at once. A genuine bargain in each Mantle.

Gent's Persian Lamb Caps,
Ladies' Persian Lamb Caps,
Children's Grey Persian Lamb Caps,
MUST BE CLEARED.

SECURE BARGAINS!
SECURE BARGAINS!
SECURE BARGAINS!

R. FAIR.

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,
AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,
FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS
AND
MUSLIN CURTAINS
AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S
Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN
OF THE
Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,
SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.
☞ MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w15

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.
☞ MONEY TO LOAN. d106w1

HATTON & WOOD.

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.
E. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d61w18

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training.

$70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario.

FOR 10 CENTS
PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE
Daily Evening Review
☞ Delivered to your House ☜
EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

THE Daily Review.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1887.

ELECTION CAMPAIGN.

A MEETING IN THE OPERA HOUSE ADDRESSED BY REFORMERS.

Mr. Cox Makes Personal Explanations—Mr. Bertram and Mr. Paterson Attack the National Policy on the Old Lines.

A meeting was held in the Opera House on Wednesday evening in the interest of the Reform party and Mr. Cox's candidature. The meeting was advertised to commence at 7.30 o'clock, but at that hour the hall was not half full. However, after 8 o'clock it begun to fill up and, had every person been seated, all the seats would have been occupied.

Mr. Melville Millar, President of the Reform Association, occupied the chair and was surrounded on the platform by prominent local Reformers.

The CHAIRMAN said that as the hour was advanced he would not make any remarks, except to introduce the speakers. He first called on Mr. Geo. A. Cox.

Mr. Cox said he was sorry that the inclement weather had prevented as large an attendance as he had anticipated. There were a good many reasons why he would have preferred not entering into a contest with his friend Mr. Stevenson, but he could not stand indifferent to the present political situation. He thought it the duty of every Reformer to stand by Mr. Blake at the present time. Mr. Mackenzie was dismissed in 1878 because he refused to accede to the demands of the people for increased protection. The time had come when the Conservatives should be dismissed for gross mismanagement. In 1882 the Conservatives again raised the National Policy as the chief issue, and Sir John said that his return to office at that time would permanently establish the protective tariff. Now the Conservatives were appealing to the country on the same cry. The Reform party had no desire or intention to interfere with the trade policy or with the protection given to manufacturers. The Conservatives were trying to raise that cry again, because they could not answer charges made against them. When they charged them with increasing the debt, extravagance, mismanagement, and with raising a sectarian cry, their answer was that the National Policy was in danger. Their reply to all charges was that the National Policy was in danger. He would leave the charges against the Government to be dealt with by the gentlemen who would follow him. His views on the National Policy he would read to them, in order that he might give exactly his opinions on the subject, and he read as follows:—

"I hold it to be the duty of the Government to afford such protection to all our manufacturing industries as will enable them to sell their products at a price that will give them a substantial advantage over foreign competition, and that will at the same time afford such returns as will enable them to pay their operatives and employees the highest wages for that class of labor current either in Canada or the United States and that will afford to the manufacturer himself a safe and reasonably profitable investment for his capital. When the tariff is not sufficiently high to accomplish that end then I say it should be increased, but I hold that when the tariff is higher than what is necessary to accomplish that end that it is then imposing an unfair and unjustifiable burden upon the consumer, that is to say, upon the large mass of workingmen who feel and feel keenly every extra dollar they have to pay out of their limited means for the necessaries of life. If some of our manufacturing interests were further encouraged by the reduction of the unwarrantable duty upon the raw materials of manufacture, it would cause the production of a cheaper article for the home consumer, and lead to the encouragement of foreign trade. I hold that it is the duty of the Government to maintain a fair and equitable balance between the manufacturer and capitalist on the one hand, and the consumer, including the workingman, mechanic and farmer (the large wealth producing classes of this country), on the other hand. The farmers, mechanics and laborers of this country altogether outside of our manufacturing interest represent an overwhelming majority of our population and while I hold that it is in their interest that our manufactures should be maintained upon a substantial basis, I hold that it is unfair and unreasonable that the great mass of the people should be unduly taxed for the purpose of giving these gentlemen unwarrantable profits."

He pledged himself to support those views whether Sir John Macdonald or Mr. Blake was in power. The REVIEW charged him with being insincere in this, and that he would try to close the factories in which his money was invested, turn out of employment men living in his own houses, and to close stores where they purchased their goods, to depopulate the town which the best twenty-nine years of his life had been devoted to building up. The Reformers were anxious to promote the prosperity of the country. The Reformers had a much larger interest in manufacturing in Peterborough than the Conservatives, and the majority of the manufacturers were supporters of his, including Messrs. Wm. and Peter Hamilton. Mr. Blake had very clearly stated his views in this matter. It was said that he was a strong partisan and that he would not support the National Policy, but if he was elected his vote would go as far in supporting it as would Mr. Stevenson's. He would now take up some matters of a personal nature, for which he apoligized, but the attacks of the REVIEW made it necessary. He and Mr. Stevenson, at the commencement, were anxious to have a friendly contest, and they agreed to try to keep the REVIEW and Examiner from dragging them into personal disputes. The Examiner had carried out this agreement, but the REVIEW had not. The first question he would take up was the so called "bogus" syndicate. What right had the REVIEW to call that offer as a bogus one? It was a bona fide offer backed up by a larger deposit than the C. P. R. Syndicate had made Personally he was a comparatively unimportant member of that syndicate, but he provided his share of the deposit and would have done his part in the work. Then as to his opposition to the Ontario and Quebec railway. He was President of the Midland Railway, which was then completing its lines to Ottawa. The Midland had acquired the charter of the Toronto and Ottawa road and had spent money on the line. It was at this stage that in the interests of his road, and he believed of the town, he opposed granting a charter to another and a rival line. He believed he did right as President of the Midland and as a citizen of Peterborough. When the charter was in the hands of the late Mr. Scott it was right to advocate a bonus for it, but when it was in his (Mr. Cox's) hands it was wrong to oppose chartering a rival road! That was the kind of treatment any man got, who tried to benefit this town unless he was a Tory. Then a drive was made at him with reference to the Dickson By-law. He was anxious to promote the manufacturing interests of the town, and to take advantage of the National Policy, and he bought an interest in the Dickson property. He had an idea that a large brick or stone building near the bridge, where small manufacturers coming in could obtain a flat or a room, would be of advantage. Then men coming in could obtain premises already built, in the same way as they built a house or a store expecting a tenant. The Dickson Company were willing to erect such a building and they asked the town to assist them, not by exempting from taxation the whole of the property, but by saying that if they would go on and erect the building they would not have to pay taxes on it. An opposition organized by Mr. Carnegie successfully opposed the By-law and the building did not go up. All that Dickson property belonged to Reformers and if any property would be depreciated in value by a Reform success it would be that property. He denied that he had put his claims for support on the ground of his connection with the Midland Railway. He read a letter which had appeared in the REVIEW in regard to that railway. The part of it that he would refer to was that in which he was charged with taking $100,000 out of the pockets of the creditors of the Midland. When he first took charge of that road there were some 500 or 600 men in Port Hope on strike, and the trainmen and section men had given notice that they would quit work on the following Monday if they were not paid. He raised $30,000 on his personal credit to pay them and then had to raise money to pay the arrears. The credit of the Company was exhausted. There was a floating debt of $700,000 or $80,000, and the creditors were impatient and were tearing up the rails and burning bridges. He ran a train over the road and asked the creditors to meet him in Port Hope. More creditors met him there than there were persons in the hall to-night. He explained the position to the creditors and told them they could not pay them at present, as they had to put the road in order. But he told them there was good value in the road for every dollar against it. There was a mortgage debt of about $2,500,000 and of that there were about as many bonds unsold as was equal to the floating debt. What he proposed, with the consent of the shareholders, was to give the creditors a first mortgage on the road without interest until the Company could pay them or for four or five years when the bonds would be at par, as they were then worth only 22 or 22½ cents on the dollar. He made a fair, full and frank statement of the affairs to the creditors, and offered to place them in the same position as the shareholders. He tried to impress on them then that it would be to their advantage to hold the bonds. Many did so, some until they were worth 30, 40, 50, 70 and 80 cents. The bonds did come up, and were worth to-day 100 cents on the dollar. He told them he would arrange it so that they could sell if they wished, and he did so; but he advised them not to sell. The Bank of Montreal held a large amount of bonds and common stock which they offered to him for a comparatively small amount. He asked Mr. Stevenson to join him in purchasing them; but, after considering it, Mr Stevenson declined. He (Mr. Cox) mortgaged his property and bought the bonds and he held them until he made over $50,000 out of them. There was nothing wrong in that, and there was nothing wrong in taking bonds from those who wished to sell them, as he advised all to hold them. He told the workingmen, particularly, who had been paid in wages warrants, not to take anything less than par for the warrants. He told them they would be the first paid. He impressed on all that all they wanted was time. Every workingman was paid in full with interest, and every ordinary creditor who waited or held the bonds was paid in full. And now he was charged with defrauding the ordinary creditors. He would leave the charges with them. As to the lock works, it had been currently reported that Mr. Stevenson was giving the premises to those works free of rent, and Mr. Stevenson was gaining unfair popularity on that ground. When the Examiner asked him if the lock works were getting their premises free of rent he answered "No; the company pay $1,000 for rent, power and heat." The power was light and could almost be run with a foot lathe. The Examiner put it that they were paying Mr. Stevenson $1,000 and to that extent it was wrong, for they paid it to Mr. Law, but he contended that they were paying the outside value for every foot of ground they occupied. At first the rent was $300 and then in some mysterious manner it crept up to $1,000, and he thought they were paying full value. Mr. Wilson, on the race, with more space and power, was paying $500, the cabinet factory $300 and Mr. Forsyth $500. The comparison showed that the lock works were paying the outside rent. He did not say they were paying too much and he did not complain. He had not claimed credit for bringing the lock works here. Mr. Stevenson had done so, but he was no more entitled to it than he (Mr. Cox) was. When he (Mr. Cox) was Mayor Mr. Stevenson assisted him in getting Mr. Brooks to come. They started out with the stock book, and in two days only got $3,000 subscribed. He had assured Mr. Brooks that the stock would be subscribed, but when they got so little assistance Mr. Stevenson asked him to write to Mr. Brooks and tell him not to come. However, Mr. Brooks came, and they got $7,000 outside of himself and Mr. Stevenson. At first he had subscribed for $10,000 and Mr. Stevenson for $5,000, but when they got more assistance he reduced his to $5,000, and Mr. Stevenson reduced his to $2,000. At the same time they had got along to some extent [illegible] Messrs. Powell and Jones. After the discouragement they had [illegible] connection with the lock works, he said to Mr. Stevenson that they would have to take the stove works stock themselves. He took $20,000 worth, Mr. Stevenson $2,000 and Powell & Jones $10,000. After a while the success of the lock works was assured and more capital was required for the stove works. He proposed to Mr. Stevenson to take some of his (Mr. Cox's) stock in the lock works and he would put more in the stove works. Mr. Stevenson agreed to this. He claimed that he was as much entitled to credit as Mr. Stevenson in connection with the lock works, and he gave Mr. Stevenson credit for doing all he could to assist him in both works. The stove-works had paid out more money right along than the lock works, and he was going to establish the stove works and make them a success. The lock works were competing with another lock works where Sir John Macdonald provided the company with light, rent, and full free and prison labor at 40 cents a day. They would be told that Mr. Mackenzie made the contract but the original contract made by Sir John expired shortly before Mr. Mackenzie resigned and he refused to renew it. Sir John renewed it for five years. That extension expired in June last but it was not discontinued last week. If he was elected he would move for copies of the contract, and if the fact were not as he stated he would resign. There would be more charges made against him, but he appealed to them on his record in their midst for the past 29 years. He would not appeal to them on the hollow ground of friendship for the workingmen or other buncombe, and would not insult them by a free distribution of charity, but if he was elected he would do his best to represent them. His interests were largely here. He had done everything he could for the town in the past and they could trust him in the future.

Mr. BERTRAM said that if any of them wanted to see their characters through a green microscope let them take up Mr. Cox's position. It would seem as if Mr. Cox's every thought and action had been given that peculiar twist these gentlemen were adepts at giving them. Considering where these charges come from, Mr. Cox need not feel concerned about them. He was connected with Mr. Cox at the time he took hold of the Midland Railway, and he knew that Mr. Cox deserved more credit than they had any conception of. When Mr. Scott was advocating a bonus for his railway, it was an unpopular thing to say a work against it, yet he and others opposed it, and afterwards he and Mr. H.H. Smith and Mr. Dennistoun were sent up to Toronto to save the town paping it. There was a good deal said about what the candidate would do for the town. The first thing a merchant considered when making an invest ment was whether it would pay. He knew of no one who could give that more consideration that Mr. Steven on. He took for his text the word "Contrasts," and proceeded to give what he called contrasts between the promises and actions of the Conservatives, giving peculiarly manipulated figures to prove his case. He attacked the National Policy for some time, stated that the Canadian Pacific Railway had cost the country $80,000,000, and condemned the whole policy of the Government in connection with colonization companies. He charged the Government with bad faith in the purchase of a site for the Peterborough post office. In the Liberal party they might have differences of opinions. Mr. Cox held opinions more akin to a protective policy than he (Mr. Bertram) did. The question was as to the amount of duty to be imposed. He then attacked the National Policy on the old grounds, and said he did not want to place their lives in the hands of the manufacturers. He spoke for about an hour.

Mr. Wm. PATERSON, of South Bran , was the last speaker. He was received with loud applause. He said that he considered it his duty to discuss the public debt question whenever he got the opportunity. He was glad that the able speaker preceding him had taken so much of the work off his hands. There was one thing, however, which was not dealt with. Year after year the Macdonald Government were piling up an enormous debt. He estimated the net debt of the Dominion at $220,000,000, or $50 per head of the population. It was true that we had some canals, public buildings, railways, but the people of Canada hadn't the Canadian Pacific Railway. They had the Intercolonial Railway, but that wasn't a paying investment. The Canadian people had been taxed to help to pay for the Canadian Pacific Railway, but they did not own it. He hoped, however, that the country would derive benefit from having the road built. He hoped it would develope the Northwest and make the heretofore unsalable lands valuable to the Canadian people. But he challenged the right of the Conservative Government to take credit to themselves for the construction of the railway. The Mackenzie Administration when in power had constructed a large part of the road. He named over the sections given over to the company by the Macdonald Government "forever and for nothing." Under the Mackenzie regime, too, the settlers were pouring into the country. He held that the present Government's policy, retarded the settlement of the country. If Mackenzie had the road to build he would have built it very much more economically and would have settled up the country much more quickly. The monopoly granted to the C. P. R. was also a serious thing. The people were bound down to one road, a monopoly, and they could not help themselves. He admitted that the C. P.R., even having the monopoly charged very reasonable rates, but still it might raise them and crush the settler. He then came back to the debt question. It was appalling. People were paying it and then did not know it. The poor man had to pay the bulk of the taxes, because the taxes were put on the necessaries of life. The only necessary of life he expatiated on as being a drag on the poor man was coal. The poor man had to buy coal "to keep himself and his family warm throughout our inclement winter." He acknowledged that the two articles, tea and coffee, upon which the Mackenzie Government raked in millions, the poor man or the rich man paid not a cent; but still there was the sticker "coal." The poor man had to pay duty on his coal. He acknowledged, too, that sugar was much cheaper under the National Policy than in Mackenzie's time. But still if the Reformers were allowed to go back to power again instead of getting 18 pounds for a dollar the people would get 36 pounds for a dollar. The whole thing was a dodge to put money to take money out of the poor man and give it to the rich. A word as to the Reform attitude toward the National Policy. It was claimed that the Reformers were enemies of the manufacturer. This was not so. And yet Mr. Paterson further on dubbed the National Policy, which fosters manufacturers, "an ill-judged and ill-advised tariff." The Macdonald tariff was high and taxed the people too much. When Sir Richard Cartwright was Finance Minister there were hard times and the people could hardly get along at all. He (the speaker) advised Sir Richard to increase the tariff so as to get more revenue. But Sir Richard magnanimously refused to put up the tariff against foreign goods. He did not see that the National Policy did any good to the country at all. He would like to know what new industries had been established in Canada under the National Policy "Mind you friends," he cautiously added, "I won't say that there have been no new industries, but I would just like to know what they are." He claimed that under the Reform rule factories were running in Canada and "supplying the nations of the earth." They were then in a healthy state. After this era of Reform prosperity —(which, by the way, he called "hard times" a few minutes before)—came the National Policy with its baneful and depressing influences. Men were led to put capital in industries. All went well for a time till over production sent them to the wall. This "ill judged and ill advised policy" created industries to have a sort of butterfly life. He charged against the National Policy that it was the cause of ruin and bankruptcy. Large sums of money were spent in the purchase of machinery, but it only ran a little time and was silent. He could sample the cotton and woollen industries. Under the old Reform regime these industries earned healthy dividends. But under the National Policy these industries felt at first a stimulating influence, and then were levelled by competition, and the machinery in the cotton and woollen mills were silent, all on account of the "ill-judged and ill-advised National Policy." Notwithstanding this most remarkable assertion, which few Peterborough people will believe, knowing, as they do, that our woollen mills are working full time, and one large one working night and day, the speaker went on to tell how the poor man paid too dear for his woollens, even though there was fierce competition among the woollen mills. Then he said, "The National Policy can do no lasting good; I trust you can see that." Under the Reform rule the exports amounted to more than under the present rule. He referred to the Manufacturers' League which has recently been organized to fight Blake and his anti-National Policy friends, and stated that no subscriptions would be sent from Brantford. He said that Brantford was a manufacturing centre; that great manufacturers lived and thrived there; that some of the principal manufacturers were his friends; that he was a manufacturer himself. But he forgot to mention that on election day Brantford always snows him under and only that he is popular in the country he would remain at home. He charged the Macdonald Government with spending $500,000 a year on immigration and with reducing it to $300,000, but he admitted that the Mackenzie Government had done the same thing. His remark that Sir John imported mechanics and laborers to compete against Canadian labor was received with smiles. He insinuated that the National Policy reduced the price of wheat, barley and wool. "And still there were some farmers that would vote for the Conservative party." Mr. Patterson did not, however, propound any measure for raising the price of these articles. Instead of busying himself with this, if he got to power it is as likely as not he would clap on the tax on tea and coffee as the Reformers did before. He did this much in his speech; he ridiculed the idea of putting duty on wheat whereby, in the event of a short crop, the farmer is recouped by getting a higher price. This is one of the duties that Mr. Patterson would abolish. He blamed the Government for not putting on a duty on the wool which was used here. The Senate was held up to the laughter of the audience. He would "reform" it, but he didn't throw any light on the vexed question, "How is the Senate to be reformed?"

The rest of the speech was devoted to telling how bad and tyranical and despotic the Tories were, and how good and broad in their views and pure in heart the Reformers were. With a great flourish of trumpets he declared himself in favor of manhood suffrage. When the full, free franchise was given to every young man 21 years of age, when men voted because they were men and not because they happened to own a little property—then would the last vestige of Toryism be wiped from the face of the country. Again Mr. Patterson's memory conveniently failed him. He did not tell his audience than when the Conservatives introduced their full, broad measure of manhood sufferage in the Ontario Legislature the Reformers were the men to oppose it bitterly. Mr. Patterson went on from one thing to another claiming that the Liberal party had given every enlightening institution to the civilized world. In fact the Liberal party had a complete monopoly of giving all the good things to humanity. During all these years they were dispensing to the world freedom in different ways they had always to fight against those desiring fellows the Tories, who were always looking for the opportunity to lasso the people and ensnave them.) He claimed that Sir John Macdonald had shown this old fiendish principle of Toryism in the new Franchise Act and the Gerrymander Bill. Yet he found no fault with the way in which the Revising Barristers did their work. He had the candor to admit that they served the people fairly. He didn't say a word more about gerrymander. He didn't even tell the audience how the Reformers gerrymandered our neighbour Victoria, York, Toronto, and a lot of other constituencies, and how they successfully got men into the Legislature against the wishes of the people in some of these places. He closed with an earnest appeal to the young men to ally themselves with the Liberal party, progressive and pure, and to vote for Mr. Cox on the 22nd.

The meeting closed with cheers for the Queen, Mr. Cox, Mr. Blake and Mr. Paterson.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

THE ARMY ESTIMATES.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The army estimates, this year, will include appropriations for the new repeating rifle, the defence of home ports and equipment of submarine-mining corps for the Clyde, Mersey, Tyne, Tay and Severn rivers, and Belfast bay. The war and navy departments will thus be enabled to make a concentrated defence in the emergency of a sudden attrck on any of the above ports.

EXTREME TENSION.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—A despatch from Berlin to the Standard says:—"The tension between Germany and a solution must come very shortly."

GERMANY'S DIPLOMATIC GAME.

PARIS, Feb. 2.—The [illegible] refuses to regard as serious the attacks of the German papers upon France. It says they are due to an electoral game, the issue of which will be the triumph of Imperialism or of Parliament.

RESERVES CALLED OUT.

VIENNA, Feb. 2.—The Tagblatt confirms the announcement of the calling out of the reserves, and says the drilling of men will be begun in western provinces. Frenchmen travelling into German Lorraine are stopped on the frontier and sent back unless they can prove that they are not liable to military service.

ITALIAN REINFORCEMENTS.

NAPLES, Feb. 2.—Eight hundred troops embarked to-day for Massowah to reinforce the Italian army there. A second detachment of reinforcements will be sent on Monday.

HOOTING THE MINISTERS.

NAPLES, Feb. 2.—A crowd of people hooted the ministers and deputies when they left the Chamber this evening.

DARKNESS ON THE DANUBE.

BERLIN Feb. 2.—The North German Gazette says:—"The hope that Europe will be spared war seems to be still entertained at Vienna and Pesth. This is the only light spot in the darkness which prevails on the Danube."

YIELDS TO WAR PRESSURE.

VIENNA, Feb. 2.—Tagblatt claims to know that Emperor William has yielded to the opinion of his generals, and has resolved to put an end to French danger before his death.

BELGIUM ARMING.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 2.—It is reported that the Government has decided to ask of Parliament a credit of 50,000,000f. for war armaments and for fortifying Antwerp and the country between the Sambrie and Meuse rivers.

THE FIGHTING AT SOATI.

ROME, Feb. 2.—It transpires that the fighting at Soati, near Massowah, on January 25th and 26th, was not between Arabs and Italians, but between the Italians and Abyssinians. The newspapers this morning, in commenting upon the situation, urge calmness in dealing with the matter. They say there is no question of war with the Abyssinians, but only a question of the defence of Massowah. The Opposition press denounce Count Di Robilant, the Foreign Minister, and Signor Ricolli, the Minister of War.

HARTINGTON ON THE SITUATION.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Lord Hartington spoke at Newcastle this evening. He said it was unlikely they would see the Government's Irish proposals this session if the present waste of time of Parliament continued. He explained that, though he continued to support the Government, he believed an official coalition would have diminished the Unionist-Liberal following. He could better help the Unionists by remaining independent. With Mr Goschen the case was different. He had no sympathy with those who reproached the Government for its efforts to bring the Irish landlords and tenants to an agreement. He believed it was impossible to dispense with evictions. Certainly no legislative measure of any kind could dispense with them. He urged that the agitators who, he said, were in many cases the originators of Ireland's troubles, be firmly dealt with, and that a steady endeavor be made to remove the economic causes of these troubles.

Mothers! Mothers!

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

The Daily Review.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1887.

THE COXTOWN CANDIDATE.

Continued from our issue of Tuesday.

THE events connected with the Dickson By-law are so recent and so familiar to our readers that a reply to the utterances of Mr. Cox's organ on this subject are unnecessary further than to point out that the manner in which Mr. Cox on that occasion used his position as Mayor to force a by-law in which he was personally interested, through the Council, is but one illustration out of several which might be quoted as an evidence that with him the interests of Geo. A. Cox have even been first and foremost, and those of the town or those whom he for the time being represented secondary importance; and that then as he claims to be, he was small enough to leave the ratepayers to pay the costs of squashing an illegal by-law forced through the Council by himself in the interest of himself. As for what "would have been" if Mr. Cox's modest demands had been complied with, we know that with Mr. Cox promises do not always mean performance.

Having dealt pretty fully with Mr. Cox's performance as a railway magnate we need not repeat ourselves here. Our readers however will no doubt be surprised to learn that "Mr. Cox made Peterborough the focal point of the trade of a large and fertile area of country!" When and how did he do so? Was it in the construction of the Grand Junction; the road to Lakefield; the Millbrook branch; or the road to Ottawa and Toronto? No! The only piece of road leading out of or into Peterborough with the construction of which he had anything to do was the Missing Link from here to Omemee. And that Peterborough taxes are not higher to-day by reason of its construction, and Mr. George A. Cox or the Grand Trunk or the two together so much the richer, is not because Mr. Geo. A. Cox would not, if he could, have had it otherwise.

Then we are told that "here he established the headquarters of the Midland system, which led to a direct and large increase of our population and the distribution of tens of thousands of dollars monthly in our midst." True to a limited extent, but only to a limited extent. While the headquarters of the Midland were here, the town certainly reaped certain advantages, but for every dollar our citizens, outside of Geo. A. Cox and family, reaped we venture to assert that. Cox and family reaped at least another, But where are these headquarters now? Gone! Gone despite the immense interest Mr. Cox has in Peterborough! Gone, either because he could not prevent it or because it paid him better to let them go than keep them! Or gone, because it was never intended they should stay here, and because they were only sent here as one of the several "blinds" which were put up to hide from the eyes of the public the game which Mr. Hickson was then so "cleverly" playing to get all the roads now forming the Midland division of the Grand Trunk, under the control of that company so as to more effectually stamp out the the possibility of that competition which Peterborough happily now enjoys and has secured through the construction of the Ontario and Quebec despite the opposition of the Grand Trunk and Mr. Cox. Whether Mr. Cox was or was not "fooled" at the time by Messrs. Hickson, Gooderham & Co., as others were, we are not prepared to say, but this we are prepared to say, namely: that if he was "fooled" and not a tool in their hands then he is not so sharp as he gets credit for, while if he was not fooled, but au fait in the game they were playing then he was participes criminis with Mr. Gooderham when he was trying to saddle this county with the bonus of $150,000 which it voted for a road from Toronto to Ottawa under the Scott charter. He can take whichever horn of the dilemma he likes, because which ever one he selects proves him unfit to be entrusted with the interests of the people of this county however fit he may be to look after his own.

NOT PERFECT.

THE issue, we are told by Mr. Blake, is not between protection and free trade, but whether our tariff is perfect. Of course if this were really the issue Mr. Blake would have scored a point, for no one can maintain that our tariff or any other is perfect. Perfection is not an attribute of humanity.

The very fact, however, that our tariff is not perfect affords a strong argument why the statesmen who adopted and support its principles should be entrusted with the duty of improving and modifying its details when found necessary. Its leading principles are established in the minds of the Conservatives and of those Reformers, a numerous body, who act with them because they recognize the beneficial nature of the N. P. The principles of protecting our manufacturing, agricultural, mining and fishing industries, of keeping the profits of Canadian consumption for Canadian producers, of developing as rapidly as possible all the resources of our country, and of raising the required revenue without conflicting with these objects, are principles that will not be abandoned while Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues remain in power. But as its very name, the National Policy, implies, it is admitted that details must be modified as the circumstances of the case and the changing interests of the country may require from time to time. It may be advisable to give up protection on some articles in order to obtain reciprocity, to reduce or repeal the duty on some raw material required for a Canadian industry, to increase the duty on some goods that we wish to manufacture in Canada, and to make other changes of detail of a similar nature as the occasion calls for them. By such means the friends of our present fiscal policy would be always rendering it more nearly perfect and better adaped to carry out its main objects. But who would trust such manipulations to the tender mercies of the bitter enemies of the N.P., even if they do pretend, just before an election, as some of them did also in 1882, to think that it is a dead issue and that they would not make any great changes. The very changes they do foreshadow, the reduction of duties on staple goods, so as to deprive of protection the present output of our factories; the abandonment of protection for the farmer by removing the duties on breadstuff, for the miner, by repealing the duty on coal (paid by the Pennsylvania coal owners), and for the refiner by reducing the duty on sugar; their desire to tax the breakfast table by re-imposing their duties on tea and coffee; all these show their hostility to the principle of our system if not [illegible]. These too they utter the contradictory criticism that there is too much "tinkering with the tariff," as if it were not necessary, in order to carry out our idea of fostering and developing Canadian industries, to make with a watchful eye and a vigilant attention such changes as circumstances may render expedient, as markets change, new industries arise or requirements increase? Would the enemies of the N. P. thus carefully adapt our tariff to the wants of the day, or would they not rather thwart its operation and refuse to improve it?

Any manufacturer who called upon Sir Richard Cartwright when in power for protection against ruinous competition, or any other assistance, may imagine the reception he would receive from the Knight of Deficits if he asked him for some slight modification of the tariff to protect some new branch of his business. What encouragement he would feel as he was told that the Ministers were only flies-on-the-wheel and could do nothing, that no industry deserved to live which could not compete against all comers, and that manufacturers were robbers wishing to live upon the people. Those who have had such experiences do not care to repeat them.

Our tariff is not perfect, it is not self adapting, therefore we wish it left in the hands of its friends who will improve it, not of its enemies who would like nothing better than to thwart its working and then to declare it unworkable.

REVIEWS.

THE CANADIAN METHODIST MAGAZINE.—The February number has four illustrated articles: Lady Brassey's account of her adventures in the Madeiras, Dr. Bowman Stephenson's "At the Antipodes," the editor's "Across the Continent," describing the prairie section of the North-West, and the Rev. W. McDonagh's "Father Mathew and His Work," a graphic sketch with a fine vein of humor of a remarkable career. There are in all over a score of engravings. Those illustrations of Lady Brassey's article especially are specimens of very high art. The article of the Rev. Dr. Williams, one of the General Superintendents of the Methodist Church, "on Some Less Known Poets of Early Methodism," will attract much attention. It is the first of a series that promises to be of much interest. The story of "The Preacher's Daughter," by the author of "Jan Vedder's wife, is developing unusual strength of writing The Rev. E. A. Stafford, LL. B., contributes an admirable study of Bryant and his poetry, and the Rev. Prof. Shaw a short review on "Matter, Life and Mind." The editor discusses the temperance situation, the Educational Society, home reading for young people, and other current topics. The departments of the Higher Life, Missionary Intelligence, Book Reviews, etc., are vigorously maintained.

Army Officers.

OTTAWA, Feb. 2.—The Imperial Government has passed an order resolving that army officers on Colonia service shall draw no pay from the regular army. This affects Mrjor General Sir Fred Middleton to the extent of five hundred pounds a year.

THE DAILY EVENING REVIEW is delivered to subscribers at 10 cents a week.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

HARVEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

LUMBERING.—The axeman's strokes now resound from the stroke of the woodman's axe, the teamster's merry whistle and the rumbling noise as the logs roll merrily along their skids or down their dumps. The Gilmour shanties, north of us are in full blast, and our esteemed friend Mr. Kennifec is in the best of spirits. Mr. Ambrose, cashier, distributes about $1,000 or over a week, and friend Noxon is busily engaged carting in the flour and beans, sugar and syrup, and the delicious tea which exhilarates and yet does not intoxicate. We expect to see several thousand logs floated on the bosom of Pigeon Lake this spring. The foremen, Messrs. Marault and Ayrheart, keep everything humming. As Whittier wrote:—

Rings out for us the axe-man's stroke
In forests old and still,
For us the century-circled oak
Falls crashing down his hill.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The young people of Nogey's Creek have chosen a method new to this section of whirling away the long winter nights. On the night of February 11th they purpose giving a free entertainment to all those wishing to take advantage of it. They are sparing no pains to make it a grand success and we hope the friends of the section will give them a bumper house, so as to encourage these young folks to give another or more of them in the future. The programme is composed of readings, recitations, dialogues and singing. As intellectually the minds will be elevated, and socially the bonds of friendship will be strengthened.

PERSONAL.—Miss Harris has taken her departure from us and goes to reside in Chicago. Mr. J. Oliver has purchased one of Whitfield's Stump Extractors. Mr. Lang, the Reform candidate for the Commons, visits us this week. Mr. Reid gives promise of being among the foremost of Township Fathers. The friends of Mr. Walter Ventress paid him a visit last week.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we life in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health, but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. d90

ANOTHER lot of ladies ribbed over stockings to hand at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

Call at Turnbull's for dresses and mantles. Every garment made up in the lastest fashion.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WARE ROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

Dominion Election.

THE

HON. THOS. WHITE

Minister of the Interior

AND

Mr. Nicholas Murphy

Barrister, of Toronto,

Will address the electors of the County of Peterborough, in the

OPERA HOUSE

Peterborough, on

Monday, the 7th February, 1887

On the political questions now engrossing public attention, and when Mr. White will reply to the statements made by Mr. Patterson at the meeting held on Wednesday evening.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public generally. The gallery will be reserved for Ladies.

The chair will be taken at 8 o'clock sharp.

W. H MOORE, President W.P.L.C.A. W. J. MINORE, Secretary W.P.L.C.A

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

Peterborough, February 2nd, 1887.

Midland Railway of Canada.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR LOCKS LINE," Peterborough, will be received until the 15th day of February, 1887 inclusive, for the construction of works at Peterborough, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen at the office of the engineer of the Midland Division of Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Persons desirous of tendering are requested to make personal enquiry relative to the work to be done and to examine the locality.

No tender will be entertained unless on one of the printed forms, and all the conditions are complied with.

The company does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender. By order

H. READ,
Secretary Midland Railway.
G. T. R. Office Montreal. d26

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00
LADIES..... 50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG,
Manager.
1d45

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.
SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.
OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.
DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.
LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse. [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, cord.d with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via C. & O. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m
10 56 p m	Toronto and West, via C. & O. R.	6 00 p m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
8 20 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	8 00 p m
12 00 m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of	8 00 a m
8 50 p m	the Midland Railway (west)	4 30 p m
8 20 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope.	11 00 a m
5 15 p m	do do	8 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
4 00 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville	11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore	1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Haultain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clysdale, Paudash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays. Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	7 30 p m
9 00 a m		6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbados, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post-Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibralter, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxenburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St John, St. Croix, Jamaica, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brasil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Signapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents,

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

DUNN'S BAKING POWDER

THE COOK'S BEST FRIEND

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

BY HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

He spoke so rationally, his eyes met mine so unflinchingly, that I was rejoiced to know that my fears were as yet ungrounded. There was grief, excitement, want of rest in his appearance, but his general manner told me he was, as he said, as sane as I was.

"Thank heaven you can speak to me and look at me like this!" I exclaimed.

"You are satisfied, then?" he said.

"On this point, yes. Now tell me what is wrong?"

Now that he had set my doubts at rest, his agitation and excitement seemed to return. He grasped my hand convulsively.

"Madeline!" he whispered. "Madeline—my love—she is gone."

"Gone!" I repeated. "Gone where?"

"She is gone, I say—stolen from me by so e black-hearted traitor—perhaps forever. Who can tell?"

"But, Carriston, surely in so short a time her love cannot have been won by another. If so, all I can say is——"

"What!" he shouted. "You who have seen her! You in your wildest dreams to imagine that Madeline Rowan would leave me of her own free will! No, sir, she has been stolen from me—entrapped—carried away—hidden. But I will find her, or I will kill the black-hearted villain who has done this."

He rose and paced the room. His face was distorted with rage. He clinched and unclinched his long slender hands.

"My dear fellow," I said, "you are talking riddles. Sit down and tell me calmly what has happened. But, first of all, as you look utterly worn out, I will ring for my man to get you some food."

"No," he said, "I want nothing. Weary I am, for I have been to Scotland and back as fast as man can travel. I reached London a short time ago, and after seeing one man have come straight to you, my old friend, for help—it may be for protection. But I have eaten and I have drunk, knowing I must keep my health and strength."

However, I insisted upon some wine being brought. He drank a glass, and then, with a strange, enforced calm, told me what had taken place. His tale was this:

After we had parted company on our return from Scotland, Carriston went down to the family seat in Oxfordshire and informed his uncle of the impending change in his life. The baronet, an extremely old man, infirm and all but childish, troubled little about the matter. Every acre of his large property was strictly entailed, so his pleasure or displeasure could make but little alteration in his nephew's prospects. Still, he was the head of the family, and Carriston was in duty bound to make the important news known to him. The young man made no secret of his approaching marriage, so in a very short time every member of the family was aware that the heir and future head was about to ally himself to a nobody. Knowing nothing of Madeline Rowan's rare beauty and sweet nature, Carriston's kinsmen and kinswomen were sparing with their congratulations. Indeed, Mr. Ralph Carriston, the cousin whose name was coupled with such absurd suspicions, went so far as to write a bitter, sarcastic letter, full of ironical felicitation. This and Charles Carriston's haughty reply, did not make the affection between the cousins any stronger. Moreover, shortly afterward the younger man heard that inquiries were being made in the neighborhood of Madeline's home as to her position and parentage. Feeling sure that only his cousin Ralph could have had the curiosity to institute such inquiries, he wrote and thanked him for the keen interest he was manifesting in his future welfare, but begged that hereafter Mr. Carriston would apply to him direct for any information he wanted. The two men were now no longer on speaking terms.

Charles Carriston, in his present frame of mind, cared little whether his relatives wished to bless or forbid the banns. He was passionately in love, and at once set about making arrangements for a speedy marriage. Although Madeline was still ignorant of the exalted position held by her lover—although she came to him absolutely penniless, he was resolved in the matter of money to treat her as generously as he would have treated the most eligible damsel in the country. There were several legal questions to be set at rest concerning certain property he wished to settle upon her. These of course caused delay. As soon as they were adjusted to his own, or, rather, to his lawyer's satisfaction, he purposed going to Scotland and carrying away his beautiful bride. In the meantime he cast about for a residence.

Somewhat Bohemian in his nature, Carriston had no intention of settling down just yet to live the life of an ordinary moneyed Englishman. His intention was to take Madeline abroad for some months. He had fixed upon Cannes as a desirable place at which to winter, but having grown somewhat tired of hotel life, wished to rent a furnished house. He had received from an agent to whom he had been advised to apply the refusal of a house, which, from the glowing description given, seemed the one above all others he wanted. As an early decision was insisted upon, my impulsive young friend thought nothing of crossing the channel and running down to the south of France to see with his own eyes that the much-lauded place was worthy of the fair being who was to be its temporary mistress.

He wrote to Madeline and told her he was going from home for a few days. He said he should be traveling the greatest part of the time, so it would be no use her writing to him until his return. He did not reveal the object of his journey. Were Madeline to know it was to choose a winter residence at Cannes, she would be filled with amazement, and the innocent deception he was still keeping up would not be carried through to the romantic end which he pictured to himself.

The day before he started for France, Madeline wrote that her aunt was very unwell, but said nothing as to her malady causing any alarm. Perhaps Carriston thought less about the old Scotch widow than her relationship and kindness to Miss Rowan merited. He started on his travels without any forebodings of evil.

His journey to Cannes and back was hurried—he wasted no time on the road, but was delayed for two days at the place itself before he could make final arrangements with the owner and the present occupier of the house. Thinking he was going to start every moment, he did not write to Madeline. At the rate at which he meant to return, a letter posted in England would reach her almost as quickly as if posted at Cannes.

He reached his home, which for the last few weeks had been Oxford, and found two letters waiting for him. The first, dated on the day he left England, was from Madeline. It told him that her aunt's illness had suddenly taken a fatal turn—that she had died that day, almost without warning. The second letter was anonymous.

It was written apparently by a woman, and advised Mr. Carr to look sharply after his lady love, or he would find himself left in the lurch. The writer would not be surprised to hear some fine day that she had eloped with a certain gentleman who should be nameless. This precious epistle, probably an emanation of feminine spite, Carriston treated it as it deserved—he tore it up and threw the pieces to the wind.

(To be continued.)

NEWS NOTES.

Mr. Blake was nominated on Tuesday by the Reformers of West Bruce as their candidate.

Mr. Goldwin Smith has a reply to Mr. Gladstone's article on Locksley Hall, in the Nineteenth Century.

The Ontario Fruit Growers' Society will hold their winter meeting in Chatham on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

It is authoritatively stated that Prince Bismark has informed the French Ambassador at Berlin of the pacific intentions of Germany toward France.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the most patent blood purifier, and a fountain of health and strength. Be wise in time. All painful infections are promptly removed by this unequalled alterative.

The Queen will visit Birmingham in May to lay the foundation stone of the new law courts, and, it being a jubilee visit, it will be made the occasion of an immense demonstration.

The London Standard says the Cabinet is engaged in framing a measure to deal with the people of the poorer districts in Ireland, in the light of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's idea of migration.

The untidy appearance of a grizzly beard should never be allowed. Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers will change their color to a brown or black, at discretion, and thus keep up your reputation for neatness and good looks.

A Hamilton ratepayer has given notice to the city council that he intends to issue an injunction against the payment of the five thousand dollars recently granted to secure the roads free of tolls.

Peterborough Markets

WHEAT.
Wheat, fall, per bushel	0 80	to	0 80
" spring "	0 82	to	0 82
Arnecta Wheat	0 60	to	0 65
FLOUR AND MEAL.
Flour, Patent Process, per cwt.	$2 50	to	$2 50
Flour, bakers per cwt	2 25	to	2 25
Flour, stone process	1 80	to	1 80
COARSE GRAIN.
Barley, per bushel	0 48	to	0 00
Peas	0 50	to	0 00
Oats	0 00	to	0 00
Rye	0 00	to	0 00
CHOP.
Oat chop, per cwt	1 10	to	1 10
Pea chop, "	1 10	to	1 10
Barley chop "	1 00	to	1 00
Pollards "	0 80	to	0 80
Bran, per ton	11 00	to	11 00
VEGETABLES.
Potatoes, per bag	0 70	to	0 70
Cabbage, per head	0 05	to	0 07
Beets, per bag	0 40	to	0 40
Onions, per bag	1 25	to	1 40
Carrots, small red, per bag	0 35	to	0 40
Carrots, field, per bag	0 15	to	0 20
Turnips	0 20	to	0 25
Parsnips	0 30	to	0 40
MEAT, POULTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE.
Beef, by the quarter per cwt	3 50	to	4 50
Pork, " " "	6 00	to	6 25
Mutton, per lb	0 06	to	0 08
Veal, per lb	none offering
Lamb, per lb	0 07	to	0 8
Dressed Hogs	5 50	to	6 00
Hogs, live weight	3 75	to	4 25
Tallow, per lb	0 04	to	0 06
Lard	0 10	to	0 11
Chickens, per pair	0 45	to	0 60
Ducks, per pair	0 60	to	0 70
Geese, each	0 50	to	0 60
Turkeys, each	0 75	to	1 00
Butter, fresh roll, per lb	0 18	to	0 20
Butter, packed prime, per lb	0 16	to	0 18
Cheese, private sale per lb	0 12	to	0 12
Eggs, per doz	0 19	to	0 20
Hay, per ton	7 00	to	10 00
Straw, per load	2 00	to	3 00
Wood, hard, per load	3 50	to	4 50
Wood, soft, per load	2 50	to	3 00
WOOL AND HIDES.
Fleece wool	0 18	to	0 18
Southdown wool	0 20	to	0 20
Hides, per cwt	5 50	to	6 00
Hides, trimmed, per cwt	6 00	to	7 00
Lamb skins	25	to	25
Sheep Pelts, each	25	to	25
Sheep skins	1 00	to	1 00
FISH.
White Fish, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Speckled Trout, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Maskinonge, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Bass, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Finnie Haddie, per lb	0 10	to	0 10
Simcoe Herring, per do	0 30	to	0 30
Salt Mackrel, per doz	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per quart	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per can	0 45	to	0 55

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfils a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

A WONDERFUL REMEDY.

The value of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, in the protection it affords from the dangers of pulmonary disorders, cannot be overestimated. Mr. C. K. Philips, Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "About three years ago I had severe Laryngitis, which resulted in chronic hoarseness. By the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral I have since entirely regained my health." Mr. Henry Russell, Excelsior Printing Co., New York, writes: "Influenza became epidemic in my neighborhood. Several members of my family suffered severely with it, all of whom took Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and were cured by it in a few days. It is a wonderful medicine for Influenza. Too much cannot be said in its favor."

E. M. Sargent, 41 Andover st., Lowell, Mass., says: "I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral about the year 1842, as a family medicine, for Coughs and Colds, and have always kept it in my house since that time. I consider it the best remedy that can be had for these complaints." Dr. J. B. Robertson, Clayton, N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, in my family and practice, for a number of years, and have no hesitation in recommending it. It is an admirable preparation, and well-qualified to do all that is claimed for it." E. J. Styers, Germanton, N. C., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best Cough preparation I ever saw. It gives instant relief."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

has cured a Cough in a few doses. It always relieves irritation of the lungs or throat, and arrests the tendency to inflammation. It strikes at the foundation of all Pulmonary diseases, is without a rival as an expectorant, and is a sure cure for the most obstinate Coughs and Colds. L. Garrett, Texana, Texas, writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for twenty years. For throat and lung diseases, I consider it a wonderful remedy."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., (Analytical Chemists), Lowell, Mass.

For sale by all Druggists.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE.
d104w18 Solicitor

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

LONGS' TWO STORES

We also Cure and Grate Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears, Sweet Florida Oranges, Malago Grapes, new English Walnuts, Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecaus Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Partie a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS,
George St., Peterborough

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,
d89 Ashburnham

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. E BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office.
Postal Address, Box 431. d118w2

Exceedingly Cheap

Is what every person says who has bought Groceries from us. Our Teas, Sugars and Coffees are marked low and are very good. We have a very select stock of

FRESH FAMILY GROCERIES,

Canned Goods, etc. which we are selling at rock bottom prices.

GEORGE CARTON

The People's Grocer, George Street

Xmas Comes But Once a Year

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 2 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 10c.

To every purchaser of one pound of our 50c. tea, 5 lbs. of Raisins for 15c.

We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms.

TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you looking so glum for?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take you LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

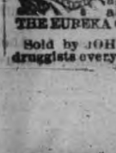
YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skilful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.



Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books, Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10[illegible]. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for [illegible] Wafers and take [illegible] inclose postage [illegible] dollars. Sold by all druggists. Address [illegible] MFG CO.

THE EUREKA [illegible]

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough and druggists everywhere

MONEY TO LEND!

HAVING resigned his connection with the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Ld.,) the undersigned has made arrangements for lending an unlimited amount at SIX PER CENT, on terms more favourable than any Peterborough or Toronto Company, and will be pleased to see his many old friends with a view to making them new advances or readjusting their present Mortgages.

A. P. POUSSETTE.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md79w41

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

HENFEED

Small Wheat - - - - - 90c per 100 lbs.
Barley - - - - - - - 95c per 100 lbs.
Pure Wheat Spring or Fall, $1.25 per 100 lbs.

J. W. FLAVELLE,

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. SIMCOE STREET.

New Sugar Cured Hams

12½ CENTS PER POUND.

Spiced Rolls and Breakfast Bacon.
Spare Ribs, Tenderloins, Shanks, &c.

GEO. MATTHEWS

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

The East Riding.

Mr. Burnham is at present making an active canvass the of northern portion of the East Riding.

Band of Hope.

No drill for members of the Band of Hope this evening. Regular meeting to-morrow (Friday) at 4 p. m., in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. All children are invited.

"Hits and Misses."

You "hit" it when you use Culver's Cough Balsam for coughs and colds. You "miss" it when you don't. At the F. D. S. opposite market.

An Apron Social.

The Ladies' Aid of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church will give an apron social at the residence of Mrs. Geo. A Cox, Friday evening, Feb. 4th, at 8 o'clock. A highly instructive and interesting programme has been provided. Admission 25 cents.

Vital Statistics.

The number of births, marriages and deaths registered at the Town Clerk's office during January was as follows;—

Births	8
Marriages	16
Deaths	9

The Heaven's Above Us.

Mr. Long, of the Collegiate Institute, will give his lecture on "The Stars," or 'The Heavens Above Us," on Tuesday evening next, in St. John's Church school house. There will be vocal and instrumental music in connection with the lecture. Admission 20 cents, children 10 cents.

The Donor.

The handsome Italian marble baptismal font recently placed in St. Paul's Church was the gift of Mrs. Walsh, not that of the Ladies Aid Society, as has been stated. Mrs. Walsh deserves the thanks of the Church members for her handsome addition to the appointments of their place of worship.

CARDINAL Blankets, Toques and Sashes at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

The Roarin' Game.

The Peterborough club will send six rinks to Toronto next week.

On a week from to-morrow the representatives of the Lindsay and Toronto clubs meet in the Charlotte Street Rink on Friday, Feb. 11th, to play for the Caledonia medal.

The point game for the club cup is the next event on the tapis.

The Opera House.

The Day Theatre Company played in Lindsay last night. They appear here to-night in Bartly Campbell's great play "Van, the Virginian." To-morrow night Mr. Day will be tendered a testimonial benefit when the play will be "The Honeymoon." Rich costumes of the 14th century will be used, and every lady will be given a satin programme.

Sad Bereavement.

We regret to learn that Mrs. H. Burrows Beach, daughter of Mr. Brooks, of the Lock Works, died at Bridgeport, Conn., this morning. She was about twenty-three years of age and was married here in May last. Mr. Brooks had not heard that she was ill until he received a telegram informing him of her death. The family will receive the sympathy of the community in their sudden bereavement.

Orangeism.

The County meeting was held on Tuesday at which the following officers were elected:—

J. B. McWilliams	W. M.
Richard Waram	D. M.
J. H. Campbell	Chap.
W. A. Stratton	Sec.
J. G. Weir	Treas.
S. Nelson	D. of C.
John Smith	Lecturer.
T. G. Eastland	Deputy-Lec

Culvers Cough Balsam sold at the Floral Drug Store opposite the market.

Standing Committees.

The Standing Committees of the Board of Education for 1887 are composed as follows:—

APPOINTMENT—The whole Board.

FINANCE — Messrs. Kendry, Wrighton, McWilliams, Dr. Burnham and Muncaster.

PROPERTY—Messrs. Wrighton, Sproule, A. Rutherford, T. Rutherford, English and Weir.

SUPERVISION—Messrs. Stratton, Burnham, McWilliams, Muncaster, Denne and Errett.

Mr. STRATTON moved, seconded by Mr. DENNE,—That the Property and Supplies Committee be instructed to secure the necessary wood, coal and other supplies for the present year.—Carried.

Turnbull's cellar is filled with piles of white and grey cottons, which he is offering by the piece at prices which please every one that sees them.

WHITBY CAN CROW.

Port Hope Defeats Lindsay and is in Turn Worsted by Brother Frontiersmen.

On Wednesday afternoon the bonspeil came to an end. The final draw between Whitby and Port Hope commenced soon after dinner, lasting all afternoon. The play was very exciting. Each end was contested as if the lives of the whole sixteen depended upon it. At one time the Port Hope club were all but assured of success, their majority all round being 10. The Whitby men from this point spurted up, took down the majority against them and won by 8

The score stood:

PORT HOPE.		WHITBY.
Hall, skip	21	Ray, skip	22
Phips, skip	14	Armstrong, skip	21
	35		43

Whitby wins by 8

The Whitby men thus carried off the palm, and will represent this district in the final draw for the Ontario Tankard, to be held in Toronto shortly.

The Scarboro club, which arrived with two rinks at noon, were informed that the caledonian medal was theirs without having to play for it. That they might not go away disappointed on account of not getting a game two Peterborough rigks gave them one. The result was as follows:—

SCARBORO	PETERBOROUGH
No. 1 Rink.
D. Walker,	R. Hall,
J. Thompson,	W. VanEvery,
T. Ellis,	S. Ray,
A. Flemming skip, 17	Dr. Boucher skip, 21.
No. 2 Rink.
N. Malcolm,	J. B. Pentland,
J. H. Crawford,	C. McGill,
Jas. Maxwell	R. S. Davidson,
D. Brown skip, 18	W. G. Ferguson skip, 15.

Peterborough wins by 1.

BONSPEIL BYES.

Flavelle's rink, of the Lindsay Club, was admitted by general consent, to be the best on the ice.

Port Hope surprised everyone. It was known that some years ago Port Hope had an A 1 club, but they all thought that curling was dormant at the Port. The fine record of the two rinks here showed that that is not the case—to the sorrow of the two Peterborough rinks.

The bonspeil was a complete success. The Peterborough curlers are all in favor of continuing this way of deciding the preliminary draw. They don't wish to monopolize the honor of having the bonspeil here, preferring rather to visit other places in turn. Still if it will further the interests of the game they are willing to give the rink for a similar purpose next season.

Belleville should have made a better fight—a Colonel skipped one of the rinks. Belleville also had the advantage of having an able lawyer to defend her rights.

Mr. Attrill, the umpire for the Tankard competition, and Dr. Boucher, the umpire in the Caledonia medal competition, performed their duties to the satisfaction of contending clubs.

Bible Society.

A report of the Bible Society meeting, held last night, will appear to-morrow.

Case after case of cottonades and shirtings have been arriving at Turnbull's. All the new patterns now in stock at his old well known low prices.

Military Funeral.

The late Private Wilson, of No. 5 Company of the City Battalion, was buried with military honors this afternoon. The procession was headed by the firingparty, next the Battalion Band, and then came the cannon drawn by four horses, mounted by three artillerymen. On the cannon was the coffin containing the remains of the deceased, and on the coffin the helmet and arms worn by the deceased. Next came No. 5 company and last Capt. Burke and Lieut. Brennan. Capt. Langford, of No. 2, and Capt. Cooper, of No. 6, attended as private citizens.

New embroideries, laces, edgings, prints, and ginghams constantly arriving at Turnbull's.

Market.

The pork supply from the county is now nearly all marketed. For the past three months dressed hogs have come in steadily and have met with ready sale at good prices For this commodity alone $20,400.00 has gone to the county, counting the supply at 1,700 hogs, the average weight 200 pounds and the average price $6 per hundred. If the county had produced over twice theamount of pork it would have met with a ready home market; for from outside places—Chatham, Essex centre, Toronto, Uxbridge and other places—about three thousand hogs have been brought in. In connection with the pork interests a word may be said for the packing house established here by Messrs. Matthews & Co. Since it opened up here it has done a prosperous trade. During the present season $3,500 has been disbursed as wages and at the present time eighteen men find renumerative employment in it. The stock carried over this winter is heavier than usual and trade was never in such a satisfactory state. The price paid in the Peterborough market this season has averaged higher than at almost every important point by about 25cts per hundred. But the difference between Canadian prices and those paid in the United States is still more marked. While the price here is about $6 per hundred, there it is but $5 to $5.25. This difference in price is owing to the National Policy, which imposes such a duty on pork as to shut it out from the Canadian market. If this duty were removed the farmers of this county would loose $2,550.00, on this one article, or the town a valuable industry.

FUR goods going at clearing prices at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

A CONNECTING LINK.

A Little Railway Enterprise which Will Prove Profitable.

Connecting the Midland system of the Grand Trunk Railway with the Grand Junction branch at Peterborough by means of a line from Downer's Corners to the west side of the river has been talked of from the time the Grand Trunk acquired both roads. The idea is about to be carried into effect.

A line 1 9-10 miles long will be constructed connecting the two lines, the contract to be let on the 15th of February. The connecting link will branch out from the Midland system at Townsend street, will curve to the south east, cross the river at a point between the locks and the Little Lake Cemetery, and join the Grand Junction branch at Downer's Corners.

Two bridges will be constructed; one across the Otonabee river and one across Beaver Mead Creek. The river bridge will be 300 feet long, having two stationery spans and one swing span.

A great saving will be effected by the construction of this little line. It will be a save of 40 minutes on the time of every train going to and from Belleville. At present there is an average six, or counting both ways, twelve. This means a saving of 8 hours per day in time. Besides, the coal used in backing up heavy trains the old way will be saved and the danger of crotsing so many streets will be avoided.

When the Sault St Marie is completed the traffic through here will be counted by the hundreds of heavily laden trains. This work is to be gone on with in the spring and pushed till completed. The Midland line, a natural receptacle of the freights carried eastward by the Northren Pacific, will, without doubt, do the principal part of that carrying trade.

WANT TO FIGHT CANADA.

Sensational Story from Buffalo—Italians Eager for War.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—A special despatch to the Times from Buffalo states: It is learned that there are a number of Italians in this city eagerly watching the chances of a war with Canada, and are ready to be led into the Dominion, if occasion arises, to show their loyalty for the United States. A. J. Oishei, a well known Italian of Buffalo, says he has just discovered a very pronounced war element among his people here. "I went into a saloon, he said, "and found it full of Italians. As soon as they saw me they began to shout and gather around. 'Here is the man who can lead us into Canada,' they say, in broken and queer English language, and they picked me up and carried me about in their enthusiasm The men threw their hats up and proclaimed me as their leader."

Mr. Oishei stated further that he had heard little or nothing of the movement, if it can be called such, until within only a day or two, but he is convinced from what he hears that the men are in earnest. This morning they came to his store on Seneca street in quite large numbers and talked enthusiastically about the prospect of war. They argue in this way, he says:—They are anxious to show that they are not ungrateful to this country for their homes. They are loyal, and they went to show their loyalty. They claim that they can raise 2,000 men in Buffalo alone, and 5,000 or 7,000 in the State. "I could get an army of 20,000 Italians if I set about it," said Mr. Oishei, "They are very largely veterans, too, and have followed Garibaldi to victory more than once and are used to all sorts of hardships. Many of them are immense, broad-shouldered fellows who have seen service in the artillery." Mr. Oishei seemed quite taken with the idea, but said he had notion of anything in the Fenian line. If war was declared he would go, but he must have his orders from the Government.

Turnbull has already received an immense shipment of French dress goods for the spring trade, in all the latest shades described in the latest ladies' magazines. Those looking for something new should see them.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

WEATHER NOTES.—January has been an exceedingly cold month; not only in Canada and the neighboring Republic, but throughout Europe have they experienced fierce gales and heavy snow storms. The year commenced with a lowering temperature, and on the morning of the 2nd at sunrise the thermometer stood at 15 deg. below zero, and no time during the day did it rise higher than 9 deg. below, and again at sunset it fell to 15 below; and on the morning of the 3rd at 10 deg. below, when a little higher temperature continued till the 7th, when it again dropped to 5 deg below, and on the 8th to 8 deg. below, and at sunset to 5; from then it ranged a little above zero till the 15th. On that day it fell to 20 below and at night to 8 deg. For three days it continued a little milder, till the morning of the 17th when another cold dip occurred, falling to 12 deg. below, and on the morning of the 18th to 21 deg., and never rising higher than 16 below during the day, and at sunset 19 deg., which has been the coldest day of the winter. A change took place for the better, but on the 26th we had it again at zero, and on the 27th at 10 deg. below. On the afternoon of the 30th we had a regular nor-wester, with a fierce driving snow storm, and on the morning of the 31st throwing us a parting kiss with the thermometer at 6 deg. below zero. Our proverbial January thaw commenced on the 21st, lasting three days, with heavy rains, the highest temperature being 48 deg. on the evening of the 22nd, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 13 deg. Snow fell on 18 days to the depth of 19½ inches. Rain fell on 4 days to the depth of 1 inch and 32-100th of an inch. We had six severe gales during the month, drifting up the roads and making traveling dissagreeable. From the 22nd of December we had about five weeks of the severest weather experienced in Canada for many years extending to such a length of time. auroral light has again been as little seen as they were in December. The following were the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month respectively, namely:—North, 3 days; north-west, 6 days; south-west, 11 days; north-east, 3 days; west 2 days; east, 2 days; south-east, 3 days; and south, 1 day.

HONOR ROLL:—The following is the honor roll of S. S. No 4, Ennismore, for January, 1887:—

4th CLASS.—1st Katie Flaherty 685, 2nd Mary L. Guiry 662, 3rd Cornelius O'Connor 595.

3rd CLASS.—1st Eliza Flaherty 407, 2nd Daniel Doran 386, 3rd Eliza Scollard 375.

2nd CLASS Sr.—1st Katie Giury 378, 2nd Joseph Travis 227, 3rd Sarah A. Crough 198.

2nd CLASS Jr.—1st Eguene Flaherty 334, 2nd Josie Crough 277, 3rd Ellie Crough 165.

PART 2nd—1st Teresa Guiry 136, 2nd Peter Galvin 130, 3rd Patrick Kellen 98.

PART 1st—1st Selina Stapleton, 2nd Frank Flaherty, 2nd Chas. Costello.

The ladies will be pleased to hear that Turnbull has accepted the agency of the Domestic paper patterns. A complete assortment now in stock.

Heavy Blizzard.

FORT SHAW, Mont., Feb. 1.—A heavy blizzard prevailed yesterday at Fort Assiniboine and north from there to the Canadian line. On Sunday the temperature ranged from 13 to 55 below zero. Stock men have suffered heavier losses than any known for eight or ten years. The roads are impassible. The stage from Choteau is reported lost. A relief party is searching for it.

"Is it Lost Forever"

—the youthful bloom, the freshness of health, the buoyancy of spirits, and all that goes to give pleasure and contentment to a heart made happy by health? No; not lost forever. There is hope for all. For those whose lives have been a burden, and for those who are now grovelling in the very sloughs of despondency. Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" will cure all chronic diseases peculiar to females. It will build up the system, and restore health, strength, and beauty. Try it and be convinced. Send ten cents in stamps for large illustrated Treatise on Diseases Peculiar to Women Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N Y.

Wants.

BOARDERS WANTED.

LADIES OR GENTLEMEN wanting board can be accommodated by applying to MRS. LUMSDEN, corner of Aylmer and Charlotte Streets. 6d27

WANTED.

TOWN PROPERTY in exchange for farms. Also wanted to buy, A COMFORTABLE HOUSE centrally located at from $800 to $1000, cash. Apply at once to

T. HURLEY,
Real Estate Agent
Hunter Street

For Sale or to Rent.

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, Solicitor, George Street. d84

TO RENT.

IN about 2 months, FIVE FIRST-CLASS TERRACE HOUSES (White Brick), two storey, seven rooms, on George street, within one minutes walk of the market. Apply to JOHN CARLISLE.

Miscellaneous.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 150 pages GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

WILSON DAY'S

Theatre Company

The Greatest Living Child Actress

ANNIE BIRD

At Each Performance.

TO-NIGHT,

Van, the Virginian

Admission 10c. Reserved Seats 25c. at Hartley's. 14d17

T. DOLAN & CO'S

$2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

Dominion Elections

22

Nomination Day, February 15th.
Polling Day, February 22nd.

A New Candidate in the Field

HIS PLATFORM:

GENTLEMEN.—I have no desire to tamper with the votes of that noble army of our citizens who freely exercise the Franchise on behalf of their favorite polititical leaders. But in order to take a hand in the present political struggle for supremary between Grit and Tory, I have decided to come out and offer such tempting

BRIBES TO THE ELECTORS

As cannot fail to place me at the head of the polls.

I would scorn, like all other candidates for parliamentary honors, to buy up votes, or do aught that might be construed as a violation of our Election laws. My object is a far more patriotic one, namely—that of making a CLEAN SWEEP of all my Winter Clothing and Tweeds before Election day.

Nor will the secresy of the Ballot be infringed by asking purchasers whether they will vote for LEBRUN, COX, or STEVENSON. No, not by a home rule scuttle full! But every elector is expected to attend this exciting Political-Winter-Clothing Sale, and to hurrah for LEBRUN, so as to elect him by an overwhelming majority as the Workingmen's Favourite Candidate.

SAMPLES OF THE BRIBES

SUITS, made to order - $12
Formerly sold for $15.

SUITS, made to order - $14
Formerly sold for $17.

SUITS, Ready-made for $15
And upwards.

PANTS made to order for
$3.50, $4.00, $4.50.

If the Electors will only ponder over these facts and see and handle these Bribes for themselves, I feel certain that the 22nd will be a cold day for the other candidates.

H. LeBrun

CITY CLOTHING HOUSE.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE,

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d6w9

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Rasins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. lyd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. lyd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. lyd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 759. Residence, Bon Accord Street. lyd97 w4

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. lyd97

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. lyd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. lyd97

W. FITZGREALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. lyd97

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d120w23

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW of TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL. Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street, opposite St. John's Church. d123w22 1j

C. COLLINS M. D., C. M.,

Mr R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w2

Dentists.

W. H. MANNING,

SURGEON DENTIST,—J. O'Donnell's old stand, over Taylor and McDonald's Drug Store. Entrance on Hunter St. NITROUS OXIDE GAS administered for the painless extraction of teeth. w3

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto Schoool of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. lyd&w

Music.

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. 1yd11

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipzig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipzig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence

DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE

d111w6

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinks of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

d&w JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 29. PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

PROBABILITIES.
Fresh west and north-west winds; generally fair weather; falling temperatures, very cold by night.

R. FAIR.

COLORED BLANKETS

WHITE BLANKETS

COMFORTERS

From 69c. Up.

A few more of the Stylish, Perfect Fitting Mantles to be cleared at slaughtering prices.

These goods must be cleared at once. A genuine bargain in each Mantle.

Gent's Persian Lamb Caps,
Ladies' Persian Lamb Caps,
Children's Grey Persian Lamb Caps,
MUST BE CLEARED.

SECURE BARGAINS!
SECURE BARGAINS!
SECURE BARGAINS!

R. FAIR.

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,
BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. 1yd97

E. WEBB,
BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. 1yd97

H. C. STABLER,
CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,
CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. 1yd97

H. CARVETH,
BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. 1yd97

ADAM DAWSON,
BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 759. Residence, Bon Accord Street. 1yd97w4

R. CARTON,
HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attension given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. 1yd97

A. RUTHERFORD,
BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 845; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,
BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. 1yd97

W. FITZGREALD,
BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. 1yd97

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d120w22

FRED. H. BRENNAN., M. D., C. M.
FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street, opposite St. John's Church. d128w22 1j

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,
M. R. C. P. S. O.,
GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w2

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW
Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. 1yd&w

Music.

MR. J. S. PARKER,
ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

NOTICE.
ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired. Violin Bows haired. Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

Mr. D. B. MacDuff
VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE
ITALIAN METHOD.
For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. 1yd11

A. F. HOOVER,
LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipzig, Germany, teacher of pianofortes and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipzig Conservatory. For particulars apply at
Mr. Hoover's Residence
DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE
d111w6

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!
THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of
THE BEST COAL
which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.
d&w JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.
COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.
d118 JAMES GALVIN.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.
SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,
SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.
MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.
BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,
BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w1

C. W. SAWERS,
BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.
MONEY TO LOAN. d103w1

HATTON & WOOD.
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.
R. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,
CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d41w1

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training.
$70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course
Catalogue on application.
BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario

FOR 10 CENTS
PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE
Daily Evening Review
Delivered to your House
EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

SPECIAL.
WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,
AT A BARGAIN.
TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.
LINEN TOWELINGS,
FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.
LACE CURTAINS
AND
MUSLIN CURTAINS
AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT
THOS. KELLY'S
Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN
OF THE
Cross Cut Saw
Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.
Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.
Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.
Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.
A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.
GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1887.

Mr. Cox says that his vote in the House in favor of protection would be as good as Mr. Stevenson's. Would it? Mr. Stevenson will vote confidence in a ministry that believes in Canadian producers supplying Canadian consumers. Mr. Cox would vote to give power to a party that believes in buying in the cheapest market for the money, even if this preference for foreigners over Canadians should subsequently raise prices. Mr. Stevenson's vote will be more favorable for all interested in Canadian industries than Mr. Cox's would be.

WILL MR. COX PLEASE EXPLAIN?

To the Editor of the Review

DEAR SIR,—Mr. Cox, at his meeting in the Opera House on the 2nd inst., is reported to have said in his carefully written opinion on the tariff:—

"I hold it to be the duty of the Government to afford such protection to all our manufacturing industries as will enable them to sell their products at a price that will give them a substantial advantage over foreign competition, and that will at the same time afford such returns as will enable them to pay their operatives and employees the highest wages for that class of labor current either in Canada or the United States and that will afford to the manufacturer himself a safe and reasonably profitable investment for his capital. When the tariff is not sufficiently high to accomplish that end then I say it should be increased, but I hold that when the tariff is higher than what is necessary to accomplish that end that it is then imposing an unfair and unjustifiable burden upon the consumer, that is to say, upon the large mass of workingmen who feel and feel keenly every extra dollar they have to pay out of their limited means for the necessaries of life."

Now, sir, as we make our woollen and cotton goods in the country and there is no duty on the raw material; we also make our own sugar from raw material, on which the duty is light, and no duty on tea and coffee; we raise our own meat in the country; coal is as cheap in the city of Toronto as in the city of Buffalo, which shows that the American producer must pay the duty, and we also grow our own breadstuffs. Will you, please allow me to ask Mr. Cox, through your columns, to explain how the poor man does pay any duty on the necessaries of life? If Mr. Cox don't answer I will consider that he can't do so.

WORKINGMAN.

Peterborough, Feb. 4, 1887.

What the United States Wants.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Senator Riddelberger writes that he voted against the retaliation bill because he calls it child's play. What the United States wants, he says, are coast defences, cruisers and men-of-war to resent insults when they are offered.

The Canadian Cruisers.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Feb. 3.—The cruiser General Middleton has gone out of commission and the Vigilant, the captured Highland Light, will be put on in her stead.

Admiral Commerall at Halifax.

HALIFAX, N.S., Feb. 3.—Admiral Sir John E. Commerall, M.P., for Portsmouth, England, has arrived here. He is chairman of the Dry Dock Company.

FUR goods going at clearing prices at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

THE WAR FEVER RISING.

Bismarck Accused of Endeavoring to Provoke a Conflict with France.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The Sun, in an editorial headed "The War Fever Rising," says: "Why should a leading article in a Berlin newspaper produce a panic on every stock exchange in Europe? Because the journal in question, the Berlin Post, is Prince Bismarck's favorite channel of communication with the public. Because the war of 1870 was ushered in with just such a newspaper fusillade, and because the effort now made by the Chancellor to fix the responsibility for the coming war on General Boulanger is identical with the manœuvre aimed against Napoleon III, and by which the latter was driven to the wall and was made to figure as a wanton aggressor."

VIENNA, Feb. 3.—The majority of the newspapers here praise France for the soberness with which she treats German alarms, and the patience with what they term Bismarck's wanton provocations. The New Frie Press exhorts France not to fall into the trap that has been set for her, but to keep Bismarck to his word, which binds him before the world. The Tagblatt says: "It is dangerous to the other countries also for one man to have power to make war without reason." The official press is more reserved, but expresses faith in Germany's prudence and love of peace. It is rumored that owing to the fact that French orders have been sent to a factory at Steyr, the Government will prohibit the exportation of arms and war material.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—The Journal de St. Petersburg attributes the Bourse panic to the newspaper articles. It says: Doubtless the armaments which are proceeding, although dictated by vigilance inspire mistrust, which may cause a conflict. The wisdom of the Governments interested consists in taking this situation into account, and the fact that it has been frequently declared that no one desires war.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—A London despatch to the Times says:—"Although Tuesday's scare was the worst we have had since the war rumors began to circulate, it is not comparable, probably, with the panic in store for the country next week, when the German reserves in seven western divisions, numbering 72,000 men, will join their colors It is not generally known that the mrvement was so imminent, and it is believed it will create the most painful impression in France. Despite all the pacific assurances from Paris, I get the statement confirming Saturday's report that arms, men and munitions of war are being shoved eastward. This renders more substantial the floating suspicions that Gen. Boulanger is getting ready a coup of his own. This suspicion is engendered by things his own friends are mysteriously saying."

COBOURG.

BAKERY BURNED.—Early on Monday last shortly after 1 o'clock, Mr. John Wright was awakened by one of his children, and on going to the child's bedside he noticed a bright light in the direction of the bakeshop, which he found was wrapped in a sheet of flames. He instantly gave an alarm and the steamer galloped up and commenced to play a powerful stream of water upon the devouring elements. The wind was blowing directly towards the dwelling and stable, and had our firemen not worked vigorously, both would have been destroyed, but through their willing efforts the hot flames were subdued without further destruction. Mr. S. Hobart's cabinet workshop, which is situated on the west side, and a quantity of lumber, were saved by friendly hands Mr. Wright's loss, consisting of all his baking apparatus delivery waggon, cordwood, and a quanty of flour, will amount to $1,500. He is insured in the Norwich Union Insurance Co of England for $500.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. W. C. Jex, formerly of this town, met with a painful accident on Saturday while in the discharge of his duty as Express Messenger for the Dominion Express Co., on the G. T. & B. Division of the Canadian Pacific Railway, which extends from Toronto to Owen Sound. To facilitate business, Express Messengers are in the habit of throwing parcels from small stations while their train is in motion. This habit seems to have caused the accident, as a heavy parcel struck him in the face causing him to fall backwards and strike his head against the iron safe, which inflicted an ugly wound and rendered him insensible until he was restored at the next station (Orangeville), where a doctor was quickly in attendance and did all in his power to aid the sufferer. Mr. Jex was sufficiently restored to return to Toronto on Monday and reached home on Tuesday last, where he will remain till again able to take his place on the road. His many friends will be glad to know that he is doing well and will soon be as well as usual.—World.

The New Fast Steamers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Mr. Ismay, one of the owners of the White Star Steamship Line, received confirmation of the report that the British Government had granted a subsidy to the company upon condition that it shall build up two other fast steamers in accordance with the designs furnished by the Admiralty, and that the Government should have the use of the company's steamers as armed transports in case of war. The new vessels will be of steel, with twin screws 562 feet in length, 110 feet longer than the "Germany." The two will be ready for traffic in 1888.

Sympathy with the Rebels.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 3.—A. F. Martin, Reform M. P. P., for Morris, is stumping Selkirk against Mr. Daly, and in the interests of Mr. Christie, the Reform nominee for the Commons. At a meeting in St. Boniface, Mr. Martin stated publicly that he sympathised with the rebels in the late Saskatchewan uprising, and in the event of further troubles he would be found fighting side by side with these in arms against the laws and institutions of Canada.

The "Proxy" Husband Arrested.

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—Henry W. Spies, who married Miss Van Zandt as proxy for his brother August, the condemned Anarchist, was arrested last night on a charge of bigamy. Prominent lawyers are unanimous in the opinion that the proxy was a farce without any legal effect whatever.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

ALLEGED SPIES.

LYONS, Feb. 3.—Two Germans arrested here as spies have been liberated on their own cognizances, no evidence having been brought in to confirm the suspicions of the officer who arrested them.

TALKING OF WAR.

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—A notable speech was delivered by Herr Miguel, at Neudstadt, yesterday, at a congress of the national liberal delegates from south-western German. He charged the opponents of septennate with breaking their compromise with the emperor, and declared that truth liberalism could not grow in the midst of men who were fighting against the security of their country. The national liberals, he said, were the real defenders of the calm progressive development of the fatherland. intestinal struggles weakened the empire. If war should be declared before the present differences were settled the danger would be doubly great. The attitude of the central party was incomprehensible, because religious questions had not been touched upon. The elections related only to the property and security of the country.

ELECTIONS.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The Gladstonites have nominated Mr. MacElroy to oppose Mr. Charles E. Lewis, the Tory candidate for the vacant Parliamentary seat in the County of Antrim, and Mr. Hayslan prominent Liberal, will oppose Mr. Gosachen in St. George, Hanover square, division.

NEGOTIATIONS BROKEN OFF.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—It is stated that the round table conferences have been finally broken up. Mr. Chamberlain has rigidly adhered to the principle of two Legislatures for Ireland, one in Dublin and the other in Belfast, the Irish executives to be, in the main, responsible to the British Parliament, and the administration of justice to be under English control. Mr. Gladstone insists, as a basis for the negotiations, that whatever scheme is sanctioned must be approved of by the Irish people.

LATEST SOUDAN DISASTER.

PARIS, Feb. 3.—The Republique Francaise publishes a despatch from Suez, which states that in the battle between the Abyssinians and Italians, near Massowah, the Abyssinians captured all the guns possessed by the Italians. Of 480 Italians engaged in the fight, not more than fifty escaped. The Italians have evacuated all their advanced positions, and the Abyssinians have already attacked and carried the first line of Italian entrenchments around Massowah. The latter success is stated to have been achieved by the Abyssinians on the 27th of January, the day after the destruction of the Italian forces in the field, and the latest intelligence indicated that it was doubtful whether the Italians would be able to hold out Massowah until the arrival of reinforcements.

PRINCE ALEXANDER.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Owing to the friendly reception accorded to Prince Alexander, late of Bulgaria, while here, some of the Continental papers contain the wildest rumours. One journal announces his impending appointment by the Queen as viceroy of Her Majesty's provinces of the Oriental Indies, while another asserts that Prince Alexander is to be appointed Governor-General of Egypt by the English Government in the place of the Khedive, who is to be deposed. A well-known Moscow paper informs Russia that the Battenburg Prince will shortly become the husband of Queen Victoria, while several German papers predict his union with her Mojesty's widowed daughter in-law, the Duchess of Albany. The real fact is that Prince Alexander has gone south for the benefit of his health, which has suffered both physically and mentally by the events of the last six months. He contemplates a visit to the United States in the autumn.

SCENE IN THE CHAMBERS.

ROME, Feb. 3.—The Chamber of Deputies to-day discussed a bill submitted by the Government for a credit of 500,000f. for the sending of reinforcements to the Italian garrison at Massowah. Deputies Mussi and Costa, members of the Extreme Left, opposed the policy of the Government and urged the recall of the troops from the Soudan. Signor Spaventa, a member of the Right, moved to vote the credit without delay and enquire into the conduct of the Ministers afterwards. The general discussion was then closed and an exciting debate on the clauses of the bill followed, the Extremists demanding that the Ministry resign. The House then adjourned. The Ministry is confident that the credit will be voted by a large majority.

EXCITEMENT ON 'CHANGE.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—There was intense excitement on the stock exchange all the afternoon. At the close a panicky feeling prevailed. The unfavourable state of the market is due chiefly to the reports of heavy failures on the Paris bourse and to an unconfirmed rumour that a large banking institution in Berlin had collapsed.

A VALUABLE PICTURE.

GLASGOW, Feb. 3.—Among the pictures of the late Mr. Graham, which are to be sold next month, is Gainsborough's famous "Sisters," for which its late owner paid upwards of 6,000 guineas at the sale of the Townley collection in 1873.

MR. PARNELL'S MALADY.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Mr. Parnell's malady is reported to be Bright's disease. It is thought improbable that he will be able to stand the strain of his Parliamentary work.

SOUTH DONEGAL ELECTIONS.

DUBLIN, Feb. 3.—In the election in South Donegal, to fill the vacancy in the Commons caused by the death of Mr. Kelly (Parnellite), Mr. Neill the Nationalist candidate, defeated Mr. Munster, the Liberal-Unionist. The vote was 4,604 against 933. The previous vote was, Mr. Kelly, 4,905; Mr. Foster, Conservative, 1,399.

GOING TO THE CONTINENT.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—The royal yacht Victoria and Albert is under orders to be fit for service by the last week in March, so that she may be ready to convey the Queen to the Continent on Monday, April 4th.

RANDOLPH ON A CRUISE.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Lord Randolph Churchill has gone on a yacht cruise to Algiers with a view to restoring his health.

JUBILEE CELEBRATION.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—It has been decided that the public celebration of the Queen's Jubilee is to be held on Monday, June 20, the day fixed for the Thanksgiving service in Westminster Abbey, which her Majesty will attend. It is hoped that the Queen will consent to drive in full State from Buckingham Palace to the Abbey, going by one route and returning by another. It is proposed to have a great display of fireworks in Hyde Park in the evening.

A CAMP CAPTURED.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Advices from Mandalay state that the British forces have captured the entire camp of the insurgent Boshway. Boshway, however, managed to escape. King Theebaw and the Tsawoa of Woontno have issued an address to the Burmese advising them to submit to the British rule.

HEAVY FALL IN PRICES.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—There was a gloomy feeling on the Stock Exchange at the close of business, and prices were the worst of the day. French, Italian, Russian and Hungarian securities were down from 2 to 3¼ per cent.; consols this afternoon were sold heavily and prices relapsed from the opening quotation 11-16 for money and ⅝ for account. There was an average fall in English railway securities of 2½ per cent., while in American railway securities the fall ranged from 1 to 2 per cent.

JURY PACKING.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Mr. Sexton will move in the Commons a resolution condemning jury packing in Ireland.

BUYING "GREEN GOODS."

A Canadian Pays $127 for a Pound of Coal and Two Newspapers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—A man carrying a gripsack went into Chief Drummond's postoffice building yesterday and said that he had come here from Canada, and that he had been swindled by a young man from whom he had bought counterfeit money and who had palmed off on him a bag containing paper.

"I'm sorry he didn't give the counterfeits to you," Chief Dummond answered consolingly, "for then I might have locked you up for having them in your possession."

At this the Canadian hurried away without even telling his name. It was stated later, however, that he is Henry C Hill, whose home is near Stratford, Ontario, Canada. Not long ago he got the regulation letter from the "green goods" man, offering to let him have some beautiful counterfeits for almost nothing. He answered it, and got a second letter directing him to come to this city and put up at the International Hotel. He came on the West Shore railroad. At the ferry a man dressed as a policeman asked where he wanted to go, and when he said the international hotel took him into a side street and pointed out a saloon, over which was a lodging house. Hill was met in the office by two men, who took from him the two letters, and put him in a cab, which took the whole party to another saloon. There Hill thought he saw one of them put $500 in greenbacks into a small hand-satchel. When it was handed to him he gave the man $127. "The best thing you can do," the "green goods" man said, "is to drive for the depot and get off for home, and don't open the bag until you get there." They bundled Hill into the cab, which took him to the depot. There he opened the bag. In it were two old newspapers and about a pound of hard coal.

ANOTHER lot of ladies ribbed over stockings to hand at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

THE NEW YORK STRIKE.

Plenty of Green Hands—Baltimore and Ohio Men Out.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western freight was being handled to-day, and very little difficulty was experienced, as many of the men are old hands. The Erie road put on a force of men in place of the strikers, and opened their piers for the reception of freight. Very little was received. On the steamship piers there was much improvement. Freight was being moved mostly by new men. There is an abundance of unskilled laborers to be had, and the superintendents of the docks have more men than they have places for. The trouble is that these men have had no experience at freight handling. The Superintendent of Police has taken vigorous measures to repress outrages. The river points are practically in a state of seige. One thousand police have been massed at four points. Patrol waggons have been stationed at each place so that the whole force can be concentrated at any given point in a short time. One thousand more police are in reserve at police headquarters. In case of a riot the whole force can reach the scene inside of an hour. In addition, fully 100 detectives have been detailed for duty along the shore wearing plain clothes. All the stations report half-hourly to Superintendent Murray.

OBJECT TO SCAB COAL.

All the employees of E. S. Higgins & Co.'s carpet factory refused to work to-day because the factory was being run on "scab coal."

MORE MEN OUT.

The freight handlers on the Baltimore & Ohio pier, No. 43, North River, left work this afternoon on being called out by a delegate. They obeyed with reluctance. They were the last of the railroad men to go out. The men told superintendent Brooks that they had no grievances, but were forced to go out on the call. They loaded up all the freight on the pier and swept the place clean. They refused to accept pay for this work. The Republic, of the White Star line, could not be loaded by the green hands in time to sail to-day. The Erin, of the National line, was in a similar condition. The Morgan line piers is choked up with freight, and the gates were closed.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

HONOR ROLL.—The following is the honor roll for January of the Young's Point school, of which Mr. T. N. Lee is teacher:—

Class 4th—1st Louisa Kearney, 2nd Lizzie Costello, 3rd Jennie Kearney, 4th Frank J Young.

Class 3rd—1st Ida Kearney, 2nd Jos. Walsh, 3rd Amy A. Blewett, 4th Maggie Godfrey.

Class 2nd—1st Lillie Bellegheem, and Agnes Millar, 3rd Maggie Northey, 4th Lottie Kearney.

Part 2nd—1st John Bellegheem, 2nd Gertie Blewett, 3rd George Ayotte, 4th Mary Anglesey.

Daily average attendance, 46.

New embroideries, laces, edgings, prints, and ginghams constantly arriving at Turnbull's.

Dominion Election.

THE

HON. THOS. WHITE

Minister of the Interior

AND

Mr. Nicholas Murphy

Barrister, of Toronto,

Will address the electors of the County of Peterborough, in the

OPERA HOUSE

Peterborough, on

Monday, the 7th February, 1887

On the political questions now engrossing public attention, and when Mr. White will reply to the statements made by Mr. Patterson at the meeting held on Wednesday evening

A cordial invitation is extended to the public generally. The gallery will be reserved for Ladies.

The chair will be taken at 8 o'clock sharp.

W. H. MOORE, President W.P.L.C.A. W. J. MINORE, Secretary W.P.L.C.A

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

Peterborough, February 2nd, 1887.

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1887.

OUR WOOLLEN FACTORIES.

In his latest public utterances Mr. Blake adheres to his tactics at the late Dominion general elections of on the one hand sneering at and belittling the N. P., to gratify his personal antipathy, and to rob his political opponents of the credit due to them for this beneficial policy, and on the other hand insinuating that he is not greatly opposed to the N. P., in order to re-assure the manufacturers, mechanics and others most directly interested in its maintenance.

He pretends that the question at issue is not between protection and free trade, but whether the present tariff is perfect. For ourself we say it is not perfect, and we fail to see how Mr. Blake, not being divine, can make it or any other human arrangement "perfect." As to how he would remedy its defects is, however, a practical question. In his recent speech at Malvern he occupied a portion of his time by repeating his old declarations, and stating that he still abided by them. We will on the present occasion pass over his views as to fuel, breadstuffs, sugar and iron, in order to consider his policy as to textiles. He declared it to be his opinion:—

"That the exorbitant and unequal duties on the lower grades of cottons and woollens should be so changed as to make them fairer to the masses, who now pay on the cheapest goods taxes about twice as great in proportion as those which the rich pay on the finest goods."

This is a branch of the subject that has a special interest for Peterborough, so that its consideration is invited, apart from the fact that light will thereby be thrown upon his whole fiscal policy.

We must state at the outset that this declaration of his views displays either great dishonesty or such gross ignorance as to be culpable for one in his position. The masses do not "pay on the cheapest goods taxes about twice as great in proportion as those which the rich pay on the finest goods." The masses do not pay any taxes on their woollens unless it is very exceptionally. Mr. Blake has been told this so often, that we repeat that it is culpable of him not to make the few simple enquiries which would show him to be wrong. The masses buy Canadian woollens and therefore pay nothing on that score to the customs. There is no room even for the theoretical free trader's quibble that they pay the same amount indirectly, the duty being added to the price, for the fact is that internal competition has produced the result that, instead of the price of such goods being enhanced by the amount of the duty, they are from 30 per cent. to 40 per cent. cheaper than they were before the adoption of the N.P. This is a simple fact which Mr. Blake could ascertain by asking at the first store, and therefore there is no excuse for his wilful ignorance, even though he finds it convenient as a ground upon which to assail his political opponents. On the other hand, the rich do pay the duties on the finest goods, if they choose to import and wear them, and this includes many working men, who are now rich enough to indulge in a "finest" suit occasionally, though in the days when Mr. Blake shaped our policy they had difficulty in earning a sufficiency of food and the cheapest goods for clothing. Thus our manufacturers and those employed by them find their business made to flourish, the working men need pay no taxes on their woollen goods, and the rich and well to do are not aggrieved at being required to contribute to the revenue of the country.

Now, let us see what effect Mr. Blake's proposed tariff policy would have upon our local woollen industries. At present they produce cheap but excellent goods. The duty is sufficient to discourage importations from outside of similar goods made by cheaper labour and of shoddy imitations which might take the eye of a purchaser, while really less durable and valuable. A steady home market is thus assured for our woollen manufactories while competition among them keeps down prices. It was not to raise prices that the woollen manufacturers and others desired protection, but to secure the extended market. Thus, they can make, with the larger output satisfactory profits, though the prices are lower. At the same time they are enabled to pay higher wages than they did before the N. P. was adopted. These satisfactory results may be directly traced to the protective tariff, which gives them the larger home market, removes the uncertainty in their operations caused by foreign manufacturers slaughtering their surplus stocks, and enables their machinery to be run steadily all the year instead of only six months or so, as in 1876 and 1877.

With Mr. Blake's equalized tariff this protection would be withdrawn from staple goods and our factories would have to close down or continue in a half starved condition. The hands employed and those dependant on them would be reduced to dire distress or would be driven out of the country. Then the whole community would suffer from this loss of a numerous and well-to-do section of our population.

At present our local woollen factories do not produce the "finest goods." There is, therefore, no need to place a protective duty on them, but simply such a duty as will call for an adequate contribution to the revenue. When our factories take to manufacturing such goods, the duty according to the principles of the N. P. will have to be fixed at such a rate as would keep the home market for them.

By Mr. Blake's system the duty on these "finest goods" would be raised, with the result that a few would be asked to contribute more largely to the revenue, while the receipts would not be increased as there would be fewer purchasers of such luxuries.

Take Mr. Blake on his chosen ground and we think we have shown quite plainly that his proposed remedy of equalizing the dties would crush our industries, drive out capital, deprive Canadian operatives of employment to transfer it to foreigners, fail to cheapen goods or to maintain the revenue.

What do those who are dependent upon our woollen mills what do those who supply those who are so dependent think of this policy of Mr. Blake.

And with Mr. Blake's strange inability to see the difference between a protective duty which is not paid and a tax which is paid, his tinkering with the tariff might be expected to have an equally prejudicial effect upon other industries. The only safe course is to give him and his friends no opp rtunity of tinkering with the tariff.

Mr. PATERSON, of Brant is certainly a very fluent speaker, and he makes his points very neatly and plausibly. But when he has no fear of a reply he is not sufficiently careful about the accuracy of his statements. To show his method of using figures we will just give one example out of many. In speaking of the effect of the N.P. on our exports he included the wooden ships built in the Maritime Provinces, without stating that he was so doing or making allowance for the fact that iron vessels are so extensively replacing those made of wood. He would quote figures from the records, but by such perversion he would altogether misrepresent their meaning.

AT a meeting at Young's Point on Thursday evening Mr. J. R. Stratton said that the islands in Stoney Lake had been conveyed to Conservatives for an insufficient price, and without a chance being given to Reformers through the secresy observed. Now the first three sales of these islands were made to Reformers, and of all the sales with which we are acquainted the majority were made to Reformers not to Conservatives. As usual the Macdonald Administration observed one rule for all, and in order to find grounds for attacking them the facts have to be misrepresented. They cannot, it is thus admitted, be censured for what they really did.

WE were told by Mr. Paterson that if we felt how we were taxed for Dominion expenditures we would rebel. Well, the amount of taxation we pay to the Dominion is less than the amount we pay to our town collector, and yet we do not rebel. We do not even turn out many of the old Councillors who offer themselves for re-election. Besides it seems as if taxation which is not felt is hardly sufficient to cause rebellion. This repeated advocacy of rebellion for slight cause cannot be considered praiseworthy.

WHOEVER arranged the programme for the meeting in behalf of Mr. Cox in the Opera House did not show very much hospitality to Mr. Paterson, or courtesy to those who assembled to hear him speak. By giving up all the best part of the evening to local speakers, who could easily find another opportunity, they prevented Mr. Paterson from beginning his speech till past 10 o'clock so that a large portion of the audience had gone home to bed long before he got through.

The main building and contents of the Simcoe Woolen mills were totally destroyed by fire on Tuesday, causing a loss of $30,000. Two of the operatives were terribly burned and it is feared that a young man who is missing perished in the building.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

THE PARNELLITE AMENDMENT.

The Liberals are pleased with Mr. Parnell's amendment to the Address considering it moderate in tone and skilfully worded. The Chamberlain group will hold aloof from the division on the amendment.

ILLEGAL ATTEMPTS.

The fact of the matter is that all this miserable wrangle over fishing rights has been provoked by the illegal attempts of New England fishermen to catch fish in Canadian waters. They are utterly indifferent to what the consequences of their acts may be so long as a hostile tariff gives them a monopoly of the fish market. They have exhausted the supply of fish along our own coast, and at the risk of envolving America and Great Britain in war have poached upon the reserved rights of our neighbors.—Chicago News.

TERRIBLE COME DOWN.

The Globe's weak and womanly attempt to make out the split between the Mail and Sir John a sham, has now pretty well sickened even its authors, and they are letting up on that tack. By way of substitute the same weak and womanly invention has now found in Sir Charles Tupper's return "an effort of the managing bosses to wrest the leadership from Sir John's hands!" Poor senile old Globe! What a terrible come down are such petty artifices from the thundering denunciations of the Brown era. —Toronto World (Indep.)

THEIR REAL OPINIONS.

Take that trio composed of Mr. Mackenzie, Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Mills, all of whome were in the Grit Government—how do they describe the National Policy? Mr. Mackenzie termed it a "national crime, a national disgrace;" Sir Richard called it "foolishness," and a "stupidity," and Mr. Mills deems it a "yoke"—to be borne when it cannot be helped, and thrown off as soon possible, as all "yokes" should be. So we get a very clear insight as to what is passed in the Grit mind at the present time concerning that measure.—London Free Press

ENNISMORE.

HONOR ROLL:—The following is the honor roll of S. S. No 4, Ennismore, for January, 1887:—

4th CLASS —1st Katie Flaherty 685, 2nd Mary L. Guiry 662, 3rd Cornelius O'Connor 505.

3rd CLASS.—1st Eliza Flaherty 407, 2nd Daniel Doran 386, 3rd Eliza Scollard 375.

2nd CLASS Sr.—1st Katie Giury 378, 2nd Joseph Traviss 227, 3rd Sarah A. Crough 198.

2nd CLASS Jr.—1st Eguene Flaherty 334, 2nd Josie Crough 277, 3rd Ellie Crough 165.

PART 2nd—1st Teresa Guiry 136, 2nd Peter Galvin 130, 3rd Patrick Kellen 98.

PART 1st—1st Selina Stapleton, 2nd Frank Flaherty, 2nd Chas. Costello.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive at least to try one bottle, as 70,000 dozen bottes were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada. d90

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

"Is it Lost Forever"

—the youthful bloom, the freshness of health, the buoyancy of spirits, and all that goes to give pleasure and contentment to a heart made happy by beauty. No; not lost forever. There is hope for all. For those whose lives have been a burden, and for those who are now grovelling in the very sloughs of despondency. Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" will cure all chronic diseases peculiar to females. It will build up the system, and restore health, strength, and beauty. Try it and be convinced. Send ten cents in stamps for large illustrated Treatise on Diseases Peculiar to Women Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N Y.

New Advertisements.

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT, Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

Midland Railway of Canada.

NOTICE

TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR LOCKS LINE," Peterborough, will be received until the 15th day of February, 1887 inclusive, for the construction of works at Peterborough, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen at the office of the engineer of the Midland Division of Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Persons desirous of tendering are requested to make personal enquiry relative to the work to be done and to examine the locality.

No tender will be entertained unless on one of the printed forms, and all the conditions are complied with.

The company does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender. By order

H. RAD, Secretary Midland Railway.

G. T. R. Office Montreal. d26

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00

LADIES..... 50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG, Manager.

1045

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials. YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed all Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed all Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

Xmas Comes But Once a Year

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 3 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 10c.

To every purchaser of one pound of our 50c. tea, 5 lbs. of Raisins for 15c.

We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

D. BELLEGHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms. TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE	MAILS	DESPATCHED
8 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. T. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m	O. & Q. R.	10 00 p m
10 50 p m	Toronto and West, via O. & Q. R.	6 00 p m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
8 20 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	8 00 p m
12 00 m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)	8 00 a m
8 50 p m		4 30 p m
8 20 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope	11 00 a m
5 15 p m	do do	8 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
4 00 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville	11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore	1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Haultain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clysdale, Paudash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 30 a m
	do do do	4 30 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays.	7 30 p m
9 00 a m	Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbados, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibralter, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxenburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St John, St. Croix, Jamacia, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents,

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

BY HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

But the thought of Madeline being alone at that lonely house troubled him greatly. The dead woman had no sons or daughters—all the anxiety and responsibility connected with her affairs would fall on the poor girl. The next day he threw himself into the Scotch express and started for her far-away home.

On arriving there he found it occupied only by the rough farm servants. They seemed in a state of wonderment, and volubly questioned Carriston as to the whereabouts of Madeline. The question sent a chill of fear to his heart. He answered their questions by others, and soon learned all they had to communicate.

Little enough it was. On the morning after the old woman's funeral Madeline had gone to Callendar to ask the advice of an old friend of her aunt, as to what steps should now be taken. She had neither been to this friend, nor had she returned home. She had, however, sent a message that she must go to London at once, and would write from there. That was the last heard of her—all that was known about her.

Upon hearing this news Carriston became a prey to the acutest terror—an emotion which was quite inexplicable to the honest people, his informants. The girl had gone, but she had sent word whither she had gone. True, they did not know the reason for her departure, so sudden and without luggage of any description—true, she had not written as promised, but no doubt they would hear from her to-morrow. Carriston knew better. Without revealing the extent of his fears he flew back to Callendar. Inquiries at the railway station informed him that she had gone, or had purposed going, to London, but whether she ever reached it, or whether any trace of her could be found there, was at least a matter of doubt. No good could be gained by remaining in Scotland, so he traveled back at once to town, half distracted, sleepless and racking his brains to know where to look for her.

"She has been decoyed away," he said in conclusion. "She is hidden, imprisoned somewhere. And I know, as well as if he told me, who has done this thing. I can trace Ralph Carriston's cursed hand through it all."

I glanced at him askance. This morbid suspicion of his cousin amounted almost to monomania. He had told the tale of Madeline's disappearance clearly and tersely; but when he began to account for it, his theory was a wild and untenable one. However much he suspected Ralph Carriston of longing to stand in his shoes, I could see no object for the crime of which he accused him—that of decoying away Madeline Rowan.

"But why should he have done this?" I asked. "To prevent your marriage? You are young; he must have foreseen that you would marry some day."

Carriston leaned toward me, and dropped his voice to a whisper.

"This is his reason," he said—"this is why I come to you. You are not the only one who has entirely misread my nature, and seen a strong tendency to insanity in it. Of course I know that you are all wrong, but I know that Ralph Carriston has stolen my love—stolen her because he thinks and hopes that her loss will drive me mad—perhaps drive me to kill myself. I went straight to him—I have just come from him. Brand, I tell you, that when I taxed him with the crime—when I raved at him—when I threatened to tear the life out of him—his cold wicked eyes leapt with joy. I heard him mutter between his teeth, 'Men have been put in strait-waistcoats for less than this.' Then I knew why he had done this. I curbed myself and left him. Most likely he will try to shut me up as a lunatic; but I count on your protection—count on your help to find my love."

That any man could be guilty of such a subtle refinement of crime as that of which he accused his cousin, seemed to me, if not impossible, at least improbable. But as at present there was no doubt about my friend's sanity, I promised my aid readily.

"And now," I said, "my dear boy, I won't hear another word to-night. Nothing can be done until to-morrow; then we will consult as to what steps should be taken. Drink this and go to bed—yes, you are as sane as I am, but remember, insomnia soon drives the strongest man out of his senses."

I poured out an opiate. He drank it obediently. Before I left him for the night I saw him in bed and sleeping a heavy sleep.

CHAPTER VI.

The advantage to one who writes, not a tale of imagination, but a simple record of events, is this: He need not be bound by the recognized canons of the story-telling art—need not exercise his ingenuity to mislead his reader—need not suppress some things and lay undue stress on others to create mysteries to be cleared up at the end of the tale. Therefore, using the privilege of a plain narrator, I shall here give some account of what became of Miss Rowan, as, so far as I can remember, I heard it some time afterward from her own lips.

The old Scotch woman's funeral over, and those friends who had been present departed, Madeline was left in the little farm-house alone, save for the presence of the two servants. Several kind bodies had offered to come and stay with her, but she had declined the offers. She was in no mood for company, and perhaps, being of such a different race and breed, would not have found much comfort in the rough, homely sympathy which was offered to her. She preferred being alone with her grief—grief which, after all, was bound to be much lightened by the thought of her own approaching happiness, for the day was drawing near when her lover would cross the border and bear his bonnie bride away. She felt sure that she would not be long alone—that the moment Carriston heard of her aunt's death he would come to her assistance. In such a peaceful, God-fearing neighborhood she had no fear of being left without protection. Moreover, her position in the house was well defined. The old woman, who was childless, had left her niece all of which she died possessed. So Madeline decided to wait quietly until she heard from her lover.

Still, there were business matters to be attended to, and at the funeral, Mr. Douglas, of Callendar, the executor under the will, had suggested that an early interview would be desirable. He offered to drive out to the little farm the next day, but Miss Rowan, who had to see to some feminine necessaries which could only be supplied by shops, decided that she would come to the town instead of troubling Mr. Douglas to drive so far out.

Madeline, in spite of the superstitious element in her character, was a brave girl, and in spite of her refined style of beauty, strong and healthy. Early hours were the rule in that humble home, so before 7 o'clock in the morning she was ready to start on her drive to the little town. At first she thought of taking with her the boy who did the rough, out-door work; but he was busy about something or other, and besides, was a garrulous lad, who would be certain to chatter the whole way, and this morning Miss Rowan wanted no companions save her own mingled thoughts of sadness and joy. She knew every inch of the road—she feared no evil—she would be home again before nightfall—the pony was quiet and sure-footed—so away went Madeline in the strong, primitive vehicle on her lonely twelve-mile drive through the fair scenery.

She passed few people on the road. Indeed, she remembered meeting no one except one or two pedestrian tourists, who, like sensible men, were doing a portion of their day's task in the early morning. I have no doubt but Miss Rowan seemed to them a passing vision of loveliness.

(To be continued.)

LOT'S CHOICE.

NOTES ON THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

For Sunday, Feb. 6—Lesson Text, Gen. xiii, 1-13; Golden Text, Matt. vi, 33. Critical and Practical Notes by Samuel Ives Curtiss, Ph. D., D. D., of Chicago.

Introduction.—Abram went to Egypt on account of a famine in Canaan. We learn from other sources that the race of Shemites frequently went thither, and that many of them were dwelling in Egypt in the time of the patriarch. The narrative told of Abram's visit there is said by Egyptian scholars to be true to life down to the minutest details. It was no idle fear that Abram entertained that his wife might be taken from him, for in Egyptian story we read of a similar case. The conduct of the patriarch in resorting to falsehood to protect himself is indeed a dark stain on his character; but we must remember that he had come out from a heathen country, where the standard of morality was very low. He had no helps whatever in his surroundings. Moreover, Scripture does not present the Old Testament patriarchs as model saints. It exhibits them as they are—Noah in his drunkenness (Gen. ix, 21) and Abram in his deception (Gen. xii, 13)—and it shows how through God's grace they and men like them, who by nature are sinners, are pardoned and made heirs of his promises.

THE LESSON.

Seeking first the kingdom of God—Abram recognizes the calling of God. He does not remain in Egypt any longer than is necessary. He went there on account of the famine. As soon as it is over he leaves the country. He is under God's direction. All his journeyings are ordered by him. Under such leadership, although he did not go to Egypt to get wealth, he secures it. From a New Testament point of view, he had sought first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and the things which he did not seek, but which men most earnestly desire, in the shape of worldly prosperity, were added. It would be well if every one beginning life would determine to seek first the kingdom of God, to settle first the question as to his Christian hope. If God sees that a man is likely to be a good steward, after this question has been settled, he can make him rich.

Abram journeyed "unto the south" after he went up from Egypt; not that he took a southerly course, but that he went to the lower part of Canaan, which was called the south.

The House of God First (vs. 3, 4).—To what point do his eyes turn in his homeward journey to his adopted country? To an altar, to the house of God. His first thought was not how he might increase his possessions or find the most pleasant spot in the land, but it was the desire to worship God in a consecrated place which attracted his footsteps. He was like David in his love of the place where God was worshiped.

"There Abram called on the name of the Lord." That will be a happy life that is begun in true religion. That will be a prosperous home that is set up in prayer. We may all well say to the Lord at the beginning of any new undertaking: "If thy presence go not with me, carry us not up hence."

The First Peacemaker (v. 5).—Not only are God's servants often blessed in the acquisition of property, but also those who are with them, for their sakes. Lot appears to have been blessed on Abram's account. Laban was blessed on account of Jacob (Gen. xxx, 27); Potiphar on account of Joseph (Gen. xxxix, 5).

Vs. 6, 7. It was almost impossible to avoid contention between the herdmen. In a country like that of Canaan, where there is no rain for many weeks, and where wells are scarce and very valuable, there were special reasons for annoyance, and these were aggravated by the presence of the Canaanite and Perrizite in the land, who would require their share of pasture and water.

Vs. 8, 9. The quarrel which began with the herdmen was likely to embitter the relations between Abram and his nephew. He therefore proposes that they should separate, and is a model to all who have a dispute. As older, Abram had the right to choose the better part of the land for himself. As more powerful, he could have easily enforced that right; but he is determined to have no quarrel. Because in the Semitic sense of the term he and Lot are brethren, that is, near relatives, he is ready to yield what is rightfully his. In this he is the first great peacemaker, and an example of Christian meekness and forbearance to people in this grasping age.

Lot's Selfish Choice (vs. 10, 11).—Lot is a good example of the people who are always crowding for the best places, and who have no regard for the rights of others in carrying out their selfish plans. Lot saw the beautiful plain of the Jordan, which lay before him like the garden of the Lord, like the land of Egypt, which they had just left, possibly in all the loveliness of early spring. He was not even courteous enough to suggest that his uncle should take it. He was not grateful enough to think that his uncle, who had been his guardian, deserved it, and that every consideration of honor and gratitude should have led him to insist that Abram should choose first. Thoroughly selfish, he was evidently afraid to trust him to make the choice, and therefore, like a far-sighted man of the world, he takes the best for himself.

Vs. 12, 13. Lot desired to be rich. He therefore fell into a snare. Like so many others, he does not seem to have inquired about the character of the people to whom he was going. At that time he probably had young children—daughters. He did not raise the question as to the influences under which they might be thrown. A New Testament writer, on the contrary, tells us that Abram and the other patriarchs sought a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God. They were content to dwell in tents; but Lot dwelt in one city of the plain after another, removing his tent from place to place, until he reached Sodom. According to the revised version, he pitched his tent as far as Sodom. The sacred writer casts a dark shadow on his choice—"Now the men of Sodom were wicked and sinners against the Lord exceedingly." Lot, therefore, in choosing wealth as the most important thing, in his selfishness and his greediness to obtain it had finally pitched his tent under the very walls of one of the most wicked cities of antiquity. We need not be surprised to read in the next account of him that he was in Sodom itself (Gen. xiv, 12).

POINTS TO BE REMEMBERED.

1. Scripture does not present the Old Testament patriarchs as model saints.

2. "Godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come."

3. That will be a happy life that is begun in true religion.

4. Christians are often the source of temporal blessings to their neighbors and friends.

5. It is infinitely better to suffer wrong than to do wrong (compare I Cor. vi, 7).

6. A man seeks to be rich through meanness and an utter disregard of the rights of others, sells himself to do evil (compare I Kings xxi, 25).

7. The man who pitches his tent near Sodom will soon pitch it in Sodom.—Sunday School World.

Peterborough Markets

WHEAT.
Wheat, fall, per bushel	0 80	to	0 80
" spring "	0 82	to	0 82
Arnecta Wheat	0 60	to	0 65
FLOUR AND MEAL.
Flour, Patent Process, per cwt.	$2 50	to	$2 50
Flour, bakers per cwt.	2 25	to	2 25
Flour, stone process	1 80	to	1 80
COARSE GRAIN.
Barley, per bushel	0 48	to	0 60
Peas	0 50	to	0 54
Oats,	0 29	to	0 29
Rye	0 45	to	0 45
MILL FEED.
Oat chop, per cwt	1 10	to	1 10
Pea chop, "	1 10	to	1 10
Barley chop "	1 00	to	1 00
Pollards "	0 80	to	0 80
Bran, per ton	11 00	to	11 00
VEGETABLES.
Potatoes, per bag	0 70	to	0 70
Cabbage, per head	0 05	to	0 07
Beets, per bag	0 40	to	0 40
Onions, per bag	1 25	to	1 40
Carrots, small red, per bag	0 35	to	0 40
Carrots, field, per bag	0 15	to	0 20
Turnips	0 20	to	0 25
Parsnips	0 30	to	0 40
MEAT, POULTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE.
Beef, by the quarter per cwt.	3 50	to	4 50
Pork, " " " "	6 00	to	6 25
Mutton, per lb	0 06	to	0 08
Veal, per lb	none offering
Lamb, per lb	0 07	to	0 8
Dressed Hogs	5 50	to	6 00
Hogs, live weight	3 75	to	4 25
Tallow, per lb	0 04	to	0 06
Lard	0 10	to	0 11
Chickens, per pair	0 45	to	0 60
Ducks, per pair	0 60	to	0 70
Geese, each	0 50	to	0 60
Turkeys, each	0 75	to	1 00
Butter, fresh roll, per lb	0 18	to	0 20
Butter, packed prime, per lb	0 16	to	0 18
Cheese, private sale per lb	0 12	to	0 12
Eggs, per doz	0 19	to	0 20
Hay, per ton	7 00	to	10 00
Straw, per load	2 00	to	3 00
Wood, hard, per load	3 50	to	4 50
Wood, soft, per load	2 50	to	3 00
WOOL AND HIDES.
Fleece wool	0 18	to	0 18
Southdown wool	0 21	to	0 20
Hides, per cwt.	5 50	to	6 00
Hides, trimmed, per cwt.	6 00	to	7 00
Lamb skins	20	to	25
Sheep Pelts, each	25	to	25
Sheep skins, each	1 00	to	1 00
FISH.
White Fish, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Speckled Trout, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Maskinonge, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Bass, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Finnie Haddie, per lb	0 10	to	0 10
Simcoe Herring, per do	0 30	to	0 30
Salt Mackrel, per doz	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per quart	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per can	0 45	to	0 55

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For "Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE, Solicitor.

d104w18

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears, Sweet Florida Oranges, Malago Grapes, new English Walnuts, Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecan Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Parties a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS, George St., Peterborough

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON, Ashburnham

d89

Great Reductions IN PRICES AT Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take you LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE, Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skilful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books, Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse. [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

MONEY TO LEND!

HAVING resigned his connection with the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Ld.), the undersigned has made arrangements for lending an unlimited amount at SIX PER CENT, on terms more favourable than any Peterborough or Toronto Company, and will be pleased to see his many old friends with a view to making them new advances or readjusting their present Mortgages.

A. P. POUSSETTE.

SOMETHING NEW.

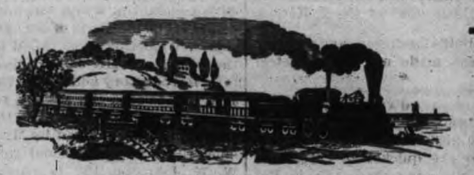
CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH AND OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.



GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md7tw41

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

HENFEED

Small Wheat	90c per 100 lbs.
Barley	95c per 100 lbs.
Pure Wheat Spring or Fall,	$1.25 per 100 lbs.

J. W. FLAVELLE,

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. SIMCOE STREET.

New Sugar Cured Hams

12½ CENTS PER POUND.

Spiced Rolls and Breakfast Bacon. Spare Ribs, Tenderloins, Shanks, &c.

GEO. MATTHEWS

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

No. 6.

No. 6 Company of the City Battalion met for drill in the old Music Hall on Thursday evening. The drill will be held there every Thursday night.

Band.

The Fire Brigade Band will be in attendance at the Charlotte street rink this evening. The ice is in excellent condition.

A Donation.

The Fire Brigade wish to acknowledge the receipt of a donation from Mr. Mowry, of Ashburnham, for the saving of his factory from fire on the day of the burning of Faint's Woollen Mill.

An Apron Social.

The Ladies' Aid of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church will give an apron social at the residence of Mrs. Geo. A Cox, Friday evening, Feb. 4th, at 8 o'clock. A highly instructive and interesting programme has been provided. Admission 25 cents.

The Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association Conference opened at Kingston on Thursday evening. The Mail correspondent gives the following as being present from Peterborough:—Messrs. W. G. Yelland, H. S. Griffin, John Miller, Thos. Tebb, A. Coper, Jas. Stephens and Geo. E. Williams. The report from Peterborough is given as follows:—"Doing very well spiritually, but the finances are not what they should be. Prospects, however, are brightening." Mr. H. S. Griffin was elected a Vice-President and Mr. Geo. E. Williams one of the secretaries.

Tower of London.

The lecture on the Tower of London, to which Peterborough people had the pleasure of listening a few weeks since here, has been given by the Rev. A. H. Munro in his own church, the Centre Street Baptist Church, in St. Thomas. The Evening Journal of St. Thomas gives an extended report of the lecture, and concludes by saying the lecture was one of the most successful ever given in that city. The proceeds amounted in the neighborhood of $100. It is to be regretted that some such sum was not realized here when the lecture was given in the interest of the Y. M. C. A.

Call at Turnbull's for dresses and mantles. Every garment made up in the lastest fashion.

Prof. Dorenwend's Hair Goods.

Gentlemen who are bald should take great care to keep their head well protected, as they are quicker to catch cold than those with perfect heads of hair. But if they will only take take the trouble to call on Prof Dorenwend at Phelan'n Hotel, on Saturday and Monday, Feb. 5th and 7th, and try on one of his Wigs or Toupees they would find that they need not fear the cold, and they will feel more comfortable and their looks will be greatly improved besides. No fear need be entetained that they can be detected, as they are so perfect that it is impossible to see anything false about them. This is his only visit this season to Peterborough.

Disgraceful.

The tactics adopted by the Reform party in Ennismore are such as to disgust the residents of that township. On Thursday night Mr. Stevenson and his friends went out to address the electors at the Ennismore Cross. Mr. Stevenson spoke first, but before he had proceeded more than five minutes he was interrupted by the idiotic yells of men who had gone out from town in company with Mr. Cox's sons. From this cause it was with much difficulty that Mr. Stevenson and his friends could gain a hearing. The people of the township offered no interruption, the disgraceful disturbance having been raised by the young Cox's and their boon companions whom they urged on to scandalous conduct, such as it is hoped may never again occur in any part of the Riding.

Days' Theatre Co.

Another good house greeted this talented company last night when Bartley Campbell's "Van, the Virginian," was put on in excellent style. Mr. Day as "Vandyke Vernon," the suffering and noble husband, was splendid, while Miss Osborne as "Kate Calvert," was all that could be desired. Mr. Henderson, as "Jingle," was good, so was Miss Willis, Mr. Summers and Miss Day. Little Annie Bird sang and acted with her unrivalled precocity, and was rapturously encored. To-night the manager of the company, Mr. Wilson Day, has been tendered a testimonial benefit, when the excellent comedy of "The Honeymoon" will be presented, and each lady attending will receive a handsome satin programme The costumes to be worn by the company this evening are the very fine.

Culvers Cough Balsam sold at the Floral Drug Store opposite the market.

BIBLE SOCIETY.

The Annual Meeting Held in the George St. Methodist Church.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Bible Society was held in the George street Methodist church on Wednesday evening. There were about three hundred persons present. On the platform were:—The Rev. E. F. Torrance, the Rev. I. Tovell, the Rev. F H. Wallace, the Rev. A. Bell, the Rev. Mr. Bennett and the Rev. Mr. Burton, of the Northern Congregational church Toronto. J. D. Collins, Secretary, and Dr. Bell President. The meeting was opened with Bible reading and prayer.

The secretary read this report. It stated that $139.17 had been collected last year. This year no collections would be sent out in town. The protestant pastors were to be asked to preach special sermons and have collections taken up in their churches. During 1885 each volunteer from Peterborough who went to the Northwest at the time of Riel's rebellion were provided with a testament. During the same year 12 Bibles and 6 Testaments were given to the Presbyterian Mission at Apsley. In 1886 4 large Bibles were given to the goal, and 8 small Bibles to the Nicholls Hospital. The following paragraph was the report:—"Judging from small attendance at meetings of the society and the small amounts subscribed to help in prosecuting its work it appears to your committee that the Christian community have not yet realized the importance of the Secretary's work in endeavouring to the extent which the means placed at their disposal will enable them, to send the word of God, which is the Sword of the Spirit, and able to make wise unto salvation, printed in all languages, to the different nations of the earth, so that they may know Him, whom to know is Life Eternal."

The Treasurer's report showed that $105 had been sent this year to the Upper Canada Bible Society, $105 to the British and Foreign Bible Society, and there was still a balance of $29 13 in hand.

The Depository report, submitted by Messrs. Peter Connal & Co., showed that 343 Bibles and 87 Testaments had been received during the year, and there were 165 Bibles and 61 Testaments still on hand. There were 354 Bibles and 126 Testaments issued from the Depository during the year.

The Rev. Mr. BURTON then gave a very interesting address on the working of the Society throughout the world.

The meeting closed in the usual manner.

Turnbull's cellar is filled with piles of white and grey cottons, which he is selling at prices which please every one that sees them.

"Hits and Misses."

You "hit" it when you use Culver's Cough Balsam for coughs and colds. You "miss" it when you don't. At the F. D. S. opposite market.

St. Paul's Church.

The annual meeting of the congregation of St. Paul's Church was held in the school room of the church on Thursday evening. There were about four hundred people present. The proceedings commenced with a social tea, which was under the direction of the members of the church. After this the meeting was called to order by the chairman, Mr. J. H. Roper. After a brief introductory address he called on Mr. J. A. Hall to read the session report. The other reports were presented, the Deacon's Court report being read by Mr. H. S. Macdonald, the Sunday school report by Mr. W. W. Johnston, the missionary society report by Mr. Johnston, the Ladies' Aid Society report by Mr. G. M. Roger, the Women's Foreign Missionary Society report by Mr. Geo. Stewart, Warden of the county, the Mission Band report by Mr. J. D. Collins, and the Building Committee report by W. G. Ferguson. The reports all showed progression in the various work allotted to the different societies. The church during the year had set apart about $1,100 for missionary purposes. The discussion on the various reports ended in the adoption of all. The meeting closed with prayer. During the evening Mr. Parker and the choir gave choice selections of music.

The ladies will be pleased to hear that Turnbull has accepted the agency of the Domestic paper patterns. A complete assortment now in stock.

NORWOOD.

FIRE BRIGADE.—At meeting in the Town Hall on Monday, we learn from the Register, a fire brigade was organized. Mr. James Calder was chosen Brigade Secretary-Treasurer. The officers of the Hose Company were elected as follows:—Captain, J. C. McConkey; Lieutenant, Wm. J. Malcolm; Sec.-Tres., Wm. J. Stephenson; Branchmen, Robt. Patterson, Robt. Moore, Robt. Livingston and Geo. Phillips. The Hook and Ladder Company officers are:—Capt., Jas. McLauchlin; Lieutenant, George Venator; Sec.-Tres., John Herring; Axemen Chas. Woods and Lorenzo Wessels.

OBITUARY.—We regret to chronicle the death of Mr. David Drain at his residence in North Dummer on Saturday, 29th Jan. after a long and painful suffering from heart disease and dropsy. The subject of this notice came to this country in the year 1831, and settled in the township of Dummer. He was then nine years old. He was married in the year 1840 to Miss Francis Noble, and their progeny was four daughters and two sons, one daughters of which has been called away. He was born in the County of Antrim, Ireland, in the village Glenol, in the year 1823 and was 63 years of age at the time of his death. His beloved wife, who survives him, is ten years his senior. He was well known and much respected, and his family has the symyathy of the whole community,

Turnbull has already received an immense shipment of French dress goods for the spring trade, in all the latest shades described in the latest ladies' magazines. Those looking for something new, should see them.

Prof. Dorenwend at Phelan's Hotel.

In another column of our paper will be found the advertisement of Prof. Dorenwend, of the Paris Hair Works, Toronto, in which it is stated that he will again visit Peterborough with some of his fine goods. He will be at Phelan's Hotel on Saturday and Monday, Feb. 5th and 7th. His stock comprises all the latest and newest designs of ladies' bangs, waves, front-pieces, wigs, braids, and also gents' wigs, toupees, &c. A great many of our readers are doubtless well acquainted with the fine class of goods manufactured by the professor. Everyone who wishes to procure a NICE, NEAT and DURABLE ARTICLE in his line should be sure to call on him during this visit, as it will be the only one this season. Remember at Phelan's Hotel on Saturday and Monday, Feb. 5th and 7th.

NEWS NOTES.

Mr. Blake was nominated on Tuesday by the Reformers of West Bruce as their candidate.

The Presbyterian ladies of Winnipeg have undertaken to educate the Chinamen of that city.

The plans and specifications for the new drill shed in Hamilton have arrived in that city.

The question of the total abolition or material reduction of canal tolls is being pressed on the Dominion Government.

The Buddhist Archbishop has issued a proclamation urging the Burmese to pursue a peaceful life and accept British rule.

The Reformers of West Toronto met in convention on Wednesday night and decided not to nominate a candidate for the Commons.

The County Councils of Haldimand and Waterloo have resolved to memorialize the Ontario Legislature not to make any grant for the enforcement of the Scott Act.

Colonel E. D. David, who commanded the Montreal cavalry during the rebellion of 1837, died on Wednesday at his residence in Coaticooke, Que., aged 75.

The London Standard says the Cabinet is engaged in framing a measure to deal with the people of the poorer districts in Ireland, in the light of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's idea of migration.

Executed in Russia.

OMAHA, Feb. 3.—The announcement that Basshan Thiessen, a prominent citizen of Jefferson Co., Neb., has been arrested in Russia and probably executed, is exciting great interest in this state. Action will be taken to ascertain the truth of the report, and if Thiessen is alive efforts will be made to secure his release. Thiessen escaped from Siberia, whither he had been sent for Nihilism. He came to Nebraska three years ago, located with a Mennonite Colony and engaged extensively in silk culture. He owns large mulberry groves and is possessed of consfderable property in Nebraska. He was a naturalized American citizen. His object in going to Russia was to secure some money.

SMITH.

SCHOOL REPORT.—The report of S. S. No. 11, Smith, for January, 1887, is as follows:—

Fourth Class—Laura Northey, Mary Northey, Minnie Heard.

Third Class—Harry Fitzgerald, Lewis Davies, Mildred Fitzgerald.

Second Class—Alice Fitzgerald, Clara Allen, Willie Allen.

Sr. Part Second—Ward Boyce, Clarence Fitzgerald.

Case after case of cottonades and shirtings have been arriving at Turnbull's. All the new patterns now in stock at his old well known low prices.

CARNINAL Blankets, Toques and Sashes at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

Wants.

BOARDERS WANTED.

LADIES OR GENTLEMEN wanting board can be accommodated by applying to MRS. LUMSDEN, corner of Aylmer and Charlotte Streets. 6d27

For Sale or to Rent.

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE. On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, Solicitor, George Street. d84

TO RENT.

IN about 2 months, FIVE FIRST-CLASS TERRACE HOUSES (White Brick), two storey, seven rooms, on George street, within one minutes walk of the market. Apply to JOHN CARLISLE.

Miscellaneous.

Peterborough Lodge A. F. & A. M

THE Members of the above Lodge are summoned to attend a meeting in the Masonic Hall, George street, this FRIDAY evening, February 4th, at 7.30 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to the brethren of sister Lodges. By Order of the W. M.

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

WILSON DAY'S

Theatre Company

The Greatest Living Child Actress

ANNIE BIRD

At Each Performance.

TO-NIGHT,

Benefit of Manager Wilson Day,

THE HONEYMOON

Or How to Rule a Wife.

Admission 10c. Reserved Seats 25c. at Hartley's. 14d17

T. DOLAN & CO'S

$2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

Dominion Elections

22

Nomination Day, February 15th.
Polling Day, February 22nd.

A New Candidate in the Field

HIS PLATFORM:

GENTLEMEN.—I have no desire to tamper with the votes of that noble army of our citizens who freely exercise the Franchise on behalf of their favorite polititical leaders. But in order to take a hand in the present political struggle for supremary between Grit and Tory, I have decided to come out and offer such tempting

BRIBES TO THE ELECTORS

As cannot fail to place me at the head of the polls.

I would scorn, like all other candidates for parliamentary honors, to buy up votes, or do aught that might be construed as a violation of our Election laws. My object is a far more patriotic one, namely—that of making a CLEAN SWEEP of all my Winter Clothing and Tweeds before Election day.

Nor will the secresy of the Ballot be infringed by asking purchasers whether they will vote for LEBRUN, COX, or STEVENSON. No, not by a home rule scuttle full! But every elector is expected to attend this exciting Political-Winter-Clothing Sale, and to hurrah for LEBRUN, so as to elect him by an overwhelming majority as the Workingmen's Favourite Candidate.

SAMPLES OF THE BRIBES

SUITS, made to order - $12
Formerly sold for $15.

SUITS, made to order - $14
Formerly sold for $17.

SUITS, Ready-made for $15
And upwards.

PANTS made to order for
$3.00, $4.00, $4.50.

If the Electors will only ponder over these facts and see and handle these Bribes for themselves, I feel certain that the 22nd will be a cold day for the other candidates.

H. LeBrun

CITY CLOTHING HOUSE.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $30 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 50 cents for Book of 150 pages GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

CLEARING SALE.

CRYSTAL BLOCK.

SWEEPING REDUCTIONS

IN ALL WINTER GOODS.

GOODS MUST BE SOLD.

H. S. GRIFFIN & CO.

GREAT BARGAINS.

GRAND EXHIBITION OF HAIR GOODS

AT

PHELAN'S HOTEL,

ON

SATURDAY and MONDAY, FEB. 5 & 7

All the baldheaded, thin, gray and straight haired people should call and see the Finest Selection of these Goods ever shown in LADIES' BANGS AND WAVES, in various designs, SWITCHES, WIGS, FRONTPIECES, GENTS' WIGS, TOUPEES, &c., &c. Since my last visit I have devoted my time to designing NEW STYLES and SHAPES OF

BANGS AND WAVES,

and all have now the chance to pick from a very large variety.

Remember at PHELAN'S HOTEL, on Saturday & Monday, Feb. 5 and 7.

A. DORENWEND, PARIS HAIR WORKS, TORONTO.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE,

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d45w

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. E BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office
Postal Address, Box 431. d118w9

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 35 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY

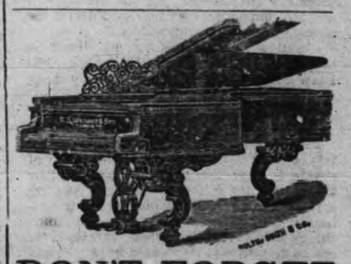
JOHN NUGENT

Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont.
FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 28 Maryland Road, Harrow Road, London, England. (Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)

No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d128eodw6

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE



W. H. GORDON

HAS CONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Rasins, Currants, etc. in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not eneaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

DON'T FORGET

TO CALL AND SEE

D. SMART'S

SUPERB STOCK OF

Sewing Machines, Pianos, Organs, & Sheet Music.

We Cannot be Undersold.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, cord-ed with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 30. PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

MARRIAGE.

WADDELL—RUSSELL—At the residence of the bride's father, Ashburnham, on Wednesday, Feb. 2nd, by the Rev. E. F. Torrance, MR. A. P. WADDELL to MISS LIZZIE, only daughter of Mr. James Russell.

PROBABILITIES.

Moderate to fresh north and east winds; partly clear or cloudy weather, with light local snowfalls; stationary or a little higher temperatures.

R. FAIR.

COLORED BLANKETS

WHITE BLANKETS

COMFORTERS

From 69c. Up.

A few more of the Stylish, Perfect Fitting Mantles to be cleared at slaughtering prices.

These goods must be cleared at once. A genuine bargain in each Mantle.

Gent's Persian Lamb Caps,
Ladies' Persian Lamb Caps,
Children's Grey Persian Lamb Caps,
MUST BE CLEARED.

SECURE BARGAINS!
SECURE BARGAINS!
SECURE BARGAINS!

R. FAIR.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,
SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.
MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE.

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w18

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.
MONEY TO LOAN. d118w18

HATTON & WOOD.

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.
E. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d41w18

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training.
$70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course
Catalogue on application,
BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario.

FOR 10 CENTS
PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE
Daily Evening Review
Delivered to your House
EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. lyd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. lyd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. lyd97

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. lyd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 759. Residence, Bon Accord Street. lyd97 w4

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. lyd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. lyd97

W. FITZGERALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. lyd97

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d120w22

FRED. H. BRENNAN., M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL. Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street opposite St. John's Church. d128w22 1y

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,
M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w2

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW
Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto. Schoool of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. lyd&w

Music.

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

Mr. D. B. MacDuff
VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE
ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or a my residence, George street north. lyd11

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipzig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipzig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence
DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE
d111w6

Wood and Coal.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinks of
THE BEST COAL
which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.
d&w JAMES STEVENSON.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.
d118 JAMES GALVIN.

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,
AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,
FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS
AND
MUSLIN CURTAINS
AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S
Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN
OF THE
Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1887.

WORKINGMEN'S SPEECHES.

Looking to their Families—Driven from the Country—A Striking Contrast.

At a meeting at the Canada Sugar Refinery in Montreal on Tuesday, after the three hundred employees present had been addressed by Messrs. Curran, Desjardin and Drummond, two of the workingmen made the following practical and conclusive speeches:—

Mr. WALSH, one of the hands, said he was a simple laborer, but within the past few years he had acquired enough of confidence to stand up and address a meeting. He desired to see capital and labor working harmoniously. He had always been a Liberal, but he believed in the National Policy. He would vote for Mr. Curran, not on account of that gentleman, not because he was an able and eloquent man; not because he wished to please Mr. Drummond, to whom he owed nothing, because he gave his labor for the pay he got; but because Mr. Curran supported a policy that gave comfort to his home. They must look to their families. (Applause.) That was their first duty. (Applause.) He had been obliged to leave this country once on account of the want of protection for his labor. He had seen the factories closed and men laboring on public works at starvation wages, and he did not wish these times to return again. He spoke of the price of coal and stated that every man in the factory could get a ton of coal at a price which no one could grumble at. He related his experience whilst abroad in the United States, and said, "Take away protection and you will please free traders, who will flood the country with the goods that ought to be and are now manufactured by Canadians." It might please those who wished to carry these goods in their ships, but the working man must be crazy who would neglect his own home for sake of the party. He wished to say that workingmen were capable of judging of their own interests, and he asked them not to be afraid because Mr. Drummond was present; if any of them dissented to speak their minds. If they did not approve a protective policy let them say so. No one had a right to control their vote or their influence, and he wished them simply to say what they felt. Would they vote for Curran and protection? (Prolonged shouts of "yes," "yes.") That was all that was necessary for the present, but if they wished to carry their candidate every man must work with a will. (Applause.)

Mr. JOHN ROSE also spoke with considerable effect. He pictured the condition of affairs in 1877-78, when, in the works where he himself was employed, mechanics had to work for $1.30 a day. Now these same men were getting $2.25 per day, and no mechanic was receiving less than $1.75. He knew those who were not getting more than 65 cents for their day's labor in various occupations when the Liberals were in power before. In the establishment Pillow & Hersey in 1877 a mean, cringing rascal of a foreman had gone to the employers and told them that he could get them all the men they wanted in a certain branch for 30 cents per day, but to the honor of Mr. Hersey, be it said, he had stated he would rather close the works than ask any man to labor for less than a dollar. (Applause.) The speaker provided himself with a quantity of facts and figures took the audience by storm. He concluded a practical address by paying a tribute to Mr. Curran's zeal for the benfit of his constituents, and said that an attempt was being made to secure the labor vote for his opponent, but that would fail as the attempt to blacken Mr. Curran's character had failed, and instead of doing him an injury had made friends for him amongst all classes who loved fair play and gentlemanly treatment.

THE WARLIKE ALARMS.

Said to be Nothing More Than German Election Manœuvres.

PARIS, Feb. 4.—The Temps publishes a statement, supposed to have emanuated from M. Herbette, the Frech Ambassador at Berlin, to the effect that the present warlike alarms are nothing more than German election manœuvres, and that no harm will result if France remains quiet.

BERNE, Feb. 4—The Bundesrath has issued instructions to the authorities of the contons to be followed in the event of the calling out of Swiss troops.

A GERMAN OPINION.

BERLIN, February 4.—The North German Gazette semi-officially says: "The panics on the Paris Bourse are due more to local causes and the excess of speculation than to exterior influences. The National Gazette interprets this statement as an attempt to relieve the German press from the appearance of giving provocation and exciting alarm by its expressions of fear of an eventual war. On the Bourse here yesterday a semi-panic prevailed. Financial advices from Paris increased the confusion and alarm, and the fall in prices was unchecked to the close. The dealings were not numerous as only brokers whose credits were of the highest class could operate freely.

WHAT FRANCIS JOSEPH SAYS.

VIENNA, Feb. 3.—At an industrial ball last evening, the Emperor, who was among the guests, said the present military measures had been rendered necessary by the parsimonious war estimates of recent years, and that their object was to raise Austria to a level with the other powers. Both the Emperor and the Crown Prince expressed the opinion that there was no immediate danger of war.

PANIC ON LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The panic on the Stock Exchange yesterday set in with the greatest force in the afternoon. Earlier in the day English buying met the Continental rush to sell, but later alarm seized the English operators and the torrent of sellers became so great that dealers refused to make prices. The wildest rumors were credited. The best home and foreign securities were largely sold. Business continued active in the street until the petite bourse quotations were received from Paris, which showed that the panic was intensifying on the continent and caused depression and anxiety at the close.

THE NEUTRALITY OF BELGIUM.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The Standard, discussing the neutrality of Belgium, says it sees no reason why England should intervene, if French or German troops should march through Belgium, provided the invading power guarantees to leave that country intact when the campaign is ended.

BISMARCK'S ASSURANCE.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—A despatch from Berlin says that Prince Bismarck assured the ambassador of a friendly power that Germany will, on no account, attack France.

ON THE PARIS BOURSE.

PARIS, Feb. 4.—The bourse yesterday opened depressed. Besides the political rumors and the general financial mistrust the suspension of all cridit made the transaction of business almost an impossibility. Members of the "Coulisse" practically refused credit dealings, and the last prices were in many instances nominal. Italian rentes were largely offered, but found few buyers. The Credit Foncier fell 75 francs. Suez Canal shares 87 francs, Ottoman Bank 17 francs. Panama Canal 7 francs 50 centimes. The opinion prevails that unless the banks and great capitalists came to to the relief of the market, disastrous failures are inevitable.

STOCKS RECOVERING.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—At noon the stock market opened firm, then became panicky, sellers are largely in excess of buyers and prices are receding rapidly. Consols and Russian and Egyptian securieties have all fallen. American and railway securieties are flat and depressed.

1 p. m.—After prices had fallen below those of yesterday there was a recovery and everything now has a better tendency. There is bidding all around, especially for American securities.

PARIS, Feb. 4, 2 p. m.—The feeling on the Bourse is generally better. Brokers still hesitate to do business, however, and are waiting until more is known about the settlement of current accounts.

VIENNA, Feb. 4.—The Bourse is calmer to-day.

FRANKFORT, Feb. 4. A firm tone prevails on the Bourse here.

PARIS, Feb. 4.—Count Von Munster, the German Ambassador, visited M. Flourens, Minister of Foreign Affairs, yesterday, and received renewed assurances of pacific intentions on the part of France towards Germany. It is stated that Germany has not complained of the armaments which France has been making.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—At 3.30 p. m. the Stock Exchange market is buoyant, especially for American securities. Other foreign and home securities are inactive, but the general tone of the market is better.

PARIS, Feb. 4.—At 3 p. m. settlements on the Bourse were progressing favorably.

Worst of the Strike Over.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—There is a slight improvement in the condition of affairs on the river front. This morning the steamship companies are slowly recovering from the stagnation in business, which the strike at first caused, and are moving freight with more despatch than for four or five days. Nowhere is this more noticeable than on the East River front. Steamers are being got away on regular sailing days, and the freight lines are once more receiving and delivering goods.

Preparing for Eventualities.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 4.—The Railroad companies having head quarters in Milwaukee have recently made out, by request of the War Department, a list of their rolling stock and a statement of their ability to convey troops to points on their lines. The statements were sent to the War Department.

A Texas Waterspout.

CARTHAGE, Tex., Feb. 4.—Chesnut Mound, ten miles above here, was visited Wednesday night by a waterspout which carried death and destruction in its wake, and almost ruined that section of the country.

New embroideries, laces, edgings, prints, and ginghams constantly arriving at Turnbull's.

AN ATROCIOUS CRIME.

Two Policemen Shot Down While in Charge of A Burglar.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 4.—Capt. O. Hoehen and Detective Hulligan, of Cleveland, having received the necessary requisition, determined to return to Cleveland last night on the C & P. road with their prisoner Harry McMann, who is accused of having been concerned in the recent fur robbery in that city. Securely handcuffed, the prisoner was placed on board the train at Allegheny. At Alliance, Ohio, five men boarded the train and passed through into the smoking car. Suddenly these men drew revolvers on the officers. One of the men demanded the prisoner. The officers jumped up and tried to draw their revolvers whereupon the five men opened fire on them. Capt. Hoehen reeled over into the aisle with bullets in his shoulder and thigh. One of the gang then jumped on him him and kicked him util he lay still as death. When the firing first commenced Detective Hulligan received several bullets in the body. He attempted to defend himself and another volley was fired at him. He fell insensible and was kicked until his head was split open. The few passengers in the smoking car became terrified and hid under the seats. The alarm spread to other cars, but when the train men and other passengers hurried forward the prisoner and his rescuers had disappeared, having jumped from the train. All trace of them was lost in the darkness. The Ravenna police were notified and a posse started out at once to scour the country. The injured men were taken to Cleveland. The physicians think that Hoehen may recover although his injuries are very serious. Detective Hulligan's condition is very critical. If inflammation sets in he will die. One of the burglars was shot, but his pals carried him off.

A MARITIME SENSATION.

A Leading Liberal Recommends Annexation to Settle the Fishery Troubles.

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 3.—A letter written to a local paper by the Hon. Daniel Davies, a leading Charlottetown Liberal, has produced a sensation here. After pointing out the mutual advantage of the Yankees fishing in Canadian waters, and the "trouble caused by the seizure of two or three Yankee schooners," he says: "We are weak and the great Republic is powerful. The Imperial Government is not going to war about the paltry Dominion fishing question. We are sure to come out second best. I think our wisest policy, at the termination of the treaty of Washington, would have been to have said to them, with regard to our fisheries, 'You are strong and we are weak; don't rob us of our fishing grounds. Give us generous terms. Cultivate good relations. Wait until the pear is ripe and it will drop into your mouths, and the whole unbounded continent will be yours and ours.' As far as the material interests of the Maritime Provinces are concerned it would manifestly be to our interest to go into the Republic, but although at least three-fourths of our people are for it, 'we won't be let' at present. The policy of the Grit party has been and is to make a treaty with our powerful neighbors. Now, I think it must be manifest that the friendly Grits would be much more likely to get good terms from Brother Jonathan than the hostile, warlike and unfriendly Tories."

Commenting on this letter, the Examiner says: "It would be the policy of craven cowards."

MR. BLAKE'S PLEA.

1. I did oppose the National Policy. I do believe the principle of the National Policy to be wrong. Sir Richard Cartwright, the financial authority of the Reform party, is a free trader. But I find the National Policy to be popular, and I say very little against it. Therefore I ask to be put into office.

2. I opposed the construction of the Pacific railway, not on public grounds, but because I was paid by a rival company to oppose it. But the road has been constructed in spite of my efforts. Therefore I should be made Prime Minister.

3. My friends stirred up a rebellion in the Northwest. They were in constant communication with me and kept me "posted" while they were were doing their work. Therefore Sir John Macdonald ought to be turned out of office, and I ought to be put in his place.

4. The debt of Canada is very large. My friends increased it more rapidly than the Conservatives have increased it. Therefore we should be returned to power.

5 Taxes are heavy. They are lighter than they were when we were in office. Therefore we again should be put in office.

6. The credit of the Dominion is much better than it was when we were in office. Therefore we should again be permitted to mix and muddle things.—Hamilton Spectator.

OMEMEE.

FINGER OFF.—On Thursday forenoon last while Mr. Richard Connell was working around the large circular saw in his mill in Emily, he accidently brought his hand in contact with the saw which severed one of his fingers.

LOYAL ARTHUR.—Mr. McQuade's friends will no doubt be pleased at the stand taken by that gentleman at Mr. Hudspeth's meeting. Mr. McQuade has shown his manliness in accepting the decision of the Convention, and throwing himself into the heat of the contest for Mr. Hudspeth and the Government, whose motto is, equal rights for all. Once more we say all honor to the 'Old War Horse.'—Herald.

Mrs. Cleaveland's Temperance.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 4.—At the President's dinner to the diplomatic corps last evening there were glasses for seven wines at each plate, except at Mrs. Cleaveland's, where only water glasses appeared. This was the most conspicuous opportunity yet afforded by the President's wife of indicating her position in regard to the use of wine at state dinners. It is remarked that she took advantage of it in the most modest manner possible.

FUR goods going at clearing prices at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

CHAMBERLAIN AND SALISBURY.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Mr. Chamberlain's conference with Lord Salisbury related to the Government's proposed measures extending the scope of the Ashbourne act. The new measures will approach Mr. Chamberlain's land purchase scheme and will, it is thought, strengthen the Radical Unionists' adherence to the Conservatives.

THE IMPERIAL INSTITUTE.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The Cork and Michelstown boards of guardians have decided to ignore the Imperial Institute.

THE FORCED LABOR QUESTION.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—France has refused to assent to Egypt's devoting £250,000 to suppres the forced labor system.

RUSSIAN PLOTTERS AT WORK.

VIENNA, Feb. 4.—Russian agents are agitating in the Dobrudscho in favor of a union of that region with Bulgaria.

ALBANI.

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—Madame Albani has contracted to sing five nights at the Royal Opera House, appearing in Lohrengrin, Faust and three other equally exacting operas. Her engagement begins on February 8th.

LORD RANDOLPH CHURCHILL.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—It is stated on the authority of his friends that Lord Randolph Churchill will, after his return from Algiers address his constituents, the electors of Birmingham, as well in defense of resignation and his attitude as an economist. Lord Randolph Churchill will also submit to Parliament important revelations concerning the naval and military expenditure of the Government.

ITALIAN REINFORCEMENTS.

NAPLES, Feb. 4.—Sixteen hundred troops will start for Massowah next Tuesday.

THE IRISH QUESTION.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain writes to a Unionist:—"I believe that the time is favourable for an unprejudiced consideration of the Irish question, and I hope no personal feeling will interfere with such consideration."

THE BRITISH IN EGYPT.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—In the House of Commons this afternoon Mr. Cremer, Radical, moved an amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech, demanding the immediate recall of all the British forces in Egypt. Mr. Cremer's amendment was [illegible] a vote of 363 to 97.

STORMY MEETING AT HALIFAX.

Sir Charles Tupper and "Haul down the Flag" Jones—Cheering for Repeal.

HALIFAX, Feb. 4.—The most remarkable political gathering ever held in this country was the joint meeting of the Liberals and Conservatives in the Halifax drillshed tonight. People began to assemble on the street outside the building as early as six o'clock, and when at seven the doors were thrown open the place was completely filled in one minute. Thousands were unable to get anywhere near the entrance, and it is estimated that though about three thousand got inside as many more were compelled to go home unable to hear a word of the speeches. The speakers were Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. A. G. Jones and when these gentlemen appeared on the platform they were received with tremendous and LONG-CONTINUE CHEERING.

Mr. W. C. Silver presided, and first introduced Sir Charles, who, by previous arrangement, was to speak for an hour and a quarter, Hon. Mr. Jones to follow for the same length of time. Sir Charles delivered an able address, dealing at length with a number of important issues, but making no mention of the repeal agitation. Mr. Jones delivered a stirring and forcible reply, closing with expressing the determination of the Liberals to to the bitter end. Both speakers were interrupted continually by storms of cheers and counter hisses, according to the feeling of the audience, and at frequent intervals it was absolutely impossible to hear a word. At times the speaker had to stop for several minutes until order was restored, and he would hardly resume when another burst of applause and counter-demonstrations drowned his voice.

PRESS THE REPEAL MOVEMENT

At the finish of Mr. Jones' speech Sir Charles Tupper was to be allowed half an hour and Mr. Jones to close the meeting, but when Mr. Jones concluded his first address a tremendous uproar occurred. The immense crowd, pushed from behind by hundreds forcing their way inside the hall, were jammed up against the platform, thundering cheers rent the air, and Sir Charles Tupper's friends raised a shout that he should be heard. The people swayed backward and forward, furniture was crushed into kindling wood, and an indescribable roar shook the very ground. Sir Charles Tupper got on his feet to speak, but the chairman appealed in vain for order. The Liberals cheered for their candidates and the Conservatives hissed repeal and hurrahed for the Union. The uproar lasted for over half an hour, by which time both Mr. Jones and Sir Charles Tupper, seeing that there would be no further speaking, had left the platform, and the meeting broke up in the most complete confusion.

AND REPEAL,

The excitement throughout ran tremendously high, and it is a wonder that many serious mishaps did not occur. Hundreds of dollars worth of furniture was destroyed, and nearly every window in the building was shattered.

BOBCAYGEON.

COUNTY COUNCIL.—The two elders of the County Council are Mr. John Fell, and Mr. Chas. Fairburn, the former having been in the Council 25 years and the latter nearly as long.

DROWNED.—A valuable team of horses broke through the ice on Saturday evening and were drowned. They belonged to Mr. Northey of North Verulam, who is taking out some wood in Harvey. Young Northey and a companion, were on their way home, when it is supposed they mistook the landing, and drove right into the mouth of the river. They reached within twenty feet of open water and plumped through. The young fellows were unable to get the team out, and after struggling for some time, the horses were drowned. They are said to be worth $300, a serious loss to Mr. Northey.

Dominion Election.

THE

HON. THOS. WHITE

Minister of the Interior

AND

Mr. Nicholas Murphy

Barrister, of Toronto,

Will address the electors of the County of Peterborough, in the

OPERA HOUSE

Peterborough, on

Monday, the 7th February, 1887

On the political questions now engrossing public attention, and when Mr. White will reply to the statements made by Mr. Patterson at the meeting held on Wednesday evening

A cordial invitation is extended to the public generally. The gallery will be reserved for Ladies.

The chair will be taken at 8 o'clock sharp.

W. H. MOORE, President W.P.L.C.A. W. J. MINORE, Secretary W.P.L.C.A.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

Peterborough, February 2nd, 1887.

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1887.

THE COXTOWN CANDIDATE.

(Continued.)

As to Mr. Cox's character "as a private citizen and a business man," we would have said nothing were it not forced upon us by the article in question, and even as it is we do not propose to say ought as to him "as a private citizen,"—"as a business man" we will, however, say a word or two. Mr. Cox has undoubtedly dealt much in brick and mortar. He has put up many buildings to be occupied by other people, but with the exception of the relatively very trifling assistance he has given to manufacturing enterprises, he has done literally nothing to develope the town's resources and create permanent and profitable employment for its people. Indeed, the building operations for which he claims so much credit partake more of the operations of a Jay Gould or a Chicago grain gambler than anything else, inasmuch as his aim has been to "corner" the stores of the town, and enable him to squeeze the last penny out of their occupants and in this way levy a substantial duty upon every pound of tea, every pound of sugar, every pound of nails and every yard of cloth which finds its way to the consumer through the hands of our Peterborough merchants. Instead of our merchants owing Mr. Geo. A. Cox anything, it is he that is deeply indebted to them for the enterprise and business ability which enables them to successfully compete for the trade of the surrounding country notwithstanding the high rents which he has imposed upon them, and which he is ever on the alert, Shylock like, to raise higher and higher. Instead of the mechanics and labourers of the town owing Mr. Geo. A. Cox anything it is he who owes them. Of what use would his George street stores be were they not to the fore as customers, and instead of contributing to their permanent employment it is they who help to swell the already plethoric purse of Peterborough's millionaire every time they buy an article in one of the many shops of which he is the proud landlord.

Instead of the farmers of the surrounding townships owing him anything it is he that owes his success to their industry in tilling the soil, and in obtaining the wherewith-all to purchase the goods, which he has been so carefully planning to render tributary to the bank account of Geo. A. Cox. What has Mr. Geo. A. Cox in the whole course of his business career ever done to facilitate or promote the prosperity of our farmers—the foundation of all our prosperity? It certainly was not in trying to reduce the cost and facilitate the transport of their products to market—as witness his ability in shutting off Grand Junction competition. It certainly was not by reducing the cost of what they have to buy, because he has always done his best to prevent competition, when competition did not run in a line with the personal interests of Geo. A. Cox. Neither has it been by building mills to grind their grain; by establishing factories to provide them better and cheaper tools; by building elevators to facilitate the handling of their grain; or anything, so far as we can call to mind, except in the one line of multiplying establishments whose existence depended more or less upon inducing people to array themselves in fine linen, which they would have been better without, and which fine linen the best interests of the country requires should rather be discouraged than fostered.

The last paragraph of the double leaded article now under consideration having been, as its own best answer to itself with all but the most ultra Coxtownites, already reproduced in these columns, further comment is unnecessary. It may not, however, be amiss for us to point out that, if any reliance can be placed on the talk of the street, the threatened "transfer" of Mr. Cox's "interest and influence" from Peterborough to Toronto is already largely an accomplished fact, and it may be that in electing Mr. Cox, IF we should do so, we would be repeating the experience of those who a few years ago assisted Mr. Cox to carry out his railway schemes in the belief that by so doing they were aiding in bringing about the completion of a through railway line from Toronto to Montreal, via Peterborough in opposition to or at least independent of the Grand Trunk, only to find that all the time they had been dancing attendance on, and helping to carry out the clever schemes of this same Grand Trunk. Unless Mr. Cox is more misrepresented than people usually are in financial matters he certainly has already very considerable interests in the city of Toronto, and has already succeeded in exchanging some of his Peterborough property for property in Toronto, so that under the circumstances and in view of the "strong inducements" which, we are told, have already been held out to him to become a citizen of Toronto, it seems to us that Mr. Cox has given us, a very substantial reason why the electors should prefer Mr. James Stevenson to Mr. Geo. A. Cox. The former is here, and could not, if he would, leave here. He, unlike the latter, has not yet grown to that financial stature which enables him to wash his hands of Peterborough, to bask among the financial nabobs of "greedy" Toronto. Elected or not elected, Mr. Stevenson will stay with us, but the great Geo. A., it is intimated, will withdraw the light of his countenance from us, if the electors of the West Riding of Peterborough do not on the 22nd instant metaphorically shut their eyes, open their mouths, and swallow Geo. A. Cox at the estimation which he is pleased to put upon himself. But seriously: if the "inducements" held out to Mr. Cox have been such as to induce him to even entertain the proposal, does any one for a moment doubt that the fact of his becoming an M.P. will not rather enhance than otherwise his value to those who are already offering him "inducements" to leave us, and does any one suppose that the fact of our having elected him will prevent his departure? Not a bit of it! It will simply be a matter of dollars and cents that will decide the whole matter, and the more the truth contained in the statement to which we are referring the more the reason why every loyal citizen should vote against Mr. Cox on the 22nd inst., because his election would only increase his value to "greedy" Toronto, and thus not only our chances of losing him, but of having for our representative, for several years, one whose interest it would then be to "reduce to insignificance" the town which he represented. One escape is enough. Mr. Cox, intentionally or unintentionally, very nearly handed us over body and bones to the tender mercies of the Grand Trunk; that ought to be a sufficient warning to us not to give him the opportunity of handing us over to the tender mercies of "greedy" Toronto, as Mr. Cox's organ informs us is one of the contingencies of the future.

LOCK MAKING IN PETERBOROUGH.

THE letter which we publish from Mr. Spencer, who has the contract at Kingston for manufacturing locks by prison labour, speaks for itself.

It will be observed what an unfair use Mr. Cox made of the information obtained by his spy. He declared that the contract was still being acted upon, dishonestly concealing the material facts that it had been terminated and that the time allowed for completing unfinished stock would expire in a few days. His charge that the Macdonald Administration had persisted in unfair competition with the Peterborough lock works was equally false and disgraceful, yet he had the facts in his possession.

This letter also plainly answers the insinuation of Mr. Paterson that no new industry had been introduced by the N. P. Here is one instance which is conclusive, and it by no means stands alone. It is through the N. P. that a lock factory has been established in Canada, as it is through Mr. Stevenson that it has been located in Peterborough.

A third point brought out by this letter is the strong contrast between the policy of the Mackenzie-Blake Administration and that of Sir John Macdonald. While we hold that the Reformers were not to blame for making the contract as to locks, since there was then no competition with a Canadian industry, the attempt to force such unfair competition upon honest Canadian bootmakers was on a very different footing and is deserving of severe censure.

Mr. Cox must feel that he has a very weak cause when his principle reliance is placed upon his misrepresentations of the policy and the acts of his opponents.

LOCK MAKING AT KINGSTON.

The following letter has been handed to us for publication:—

"KINGSTON, Jan. 31st, 1887

"DEAR SIR,—I trust you will excuse me being a stranger in writing you, but the cause I think justifies me. Saturday, 29th inst., Mr. Cox, telegraphed to a man here who is noted for attending to other people's business and also a noted Grit, asking him to find out all about the lock contract in the Kingston Penitentiary, as he wished to use the information in Peterborough. Instead of asking me, this man went to my bookkeeper and tried to pump him, but he found that gentleman had too much honor for that kind of business. He was told that if he desired such information the proper place to receive it was from me, but the seeker after other people's business said that I was such a bitter Conservative he was afraid I would not tell him anything just now. I thought I would give you the information so that if needed you can give the facts to the people. In the first place I took the contract September, 1876, and under the administration of Mr. Alex. Mackenzie, and have had it ever since. Remember at that time, there was no other lock factory in Canada and never was until the Peterborough works started. When the contract expired the Government notified me that it would not be renewed as it might interfere with outside work, there being another factory now in working order, but allowed me until the 28th of February to finish my unfinished stock. You will notice that when I started there was not a lock shop in existence in Canada, and as soon as there was one and my contract expired. I was ordered to stop. Now what is the fact about other contracts. When Mr. Blake was Minister of Justice he advertised in papers in Boston, New York, Montreal, Toronto and Kingston for tenders for a shoe contract, but under a Grit Government no one would undertake it; the bill for advertising amounted to about five hundred dollars. Remember the shoe contract was in competition with several factories then in existence. You are at liberty to use this letter if you think best and I promise you I can prove every thing stated by me. Trusting that the next time information is wanted, parties will call at the proper place for it.

"I remain yours respectfully.

"L. B. SPENCER."

"MR. JAMES STEVENSON,"

"Mayor of Peterborough."

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

"Is it Lost Forever"

—the youthful bloom, the freshness of health, the buoyancy of spirits, and all that goes to give pleasure and contentment to a heart, made happy by health? No, not lost forever. There is hope for all. For those whose l have been a burden, and for those who are now grovelling in the very sloughs of despondency, Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" will cure all chronic diseases peculiar to females. It will build up the system, and restore health, strength, and beauty. Try it and be convinced. Send ten cents in stamps for large illustrated Treatise on Diseases Peculiar to Women Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N Y.

New Advertisements.

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT, Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d12

Midland Railway of Canada.

NOTICE

TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR LOCKS 'LINE," Peterborough, will be received until the 15th day of February, 1887 inclusive, for the construction of works at Peterborough, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen at the office of the engineer of the Midland Division of Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Persons desirous of tendering are requested to make personal enquiry relative to the work to be done and to examine the locality.

No tender will be entertained unless on one of the printed forms, and all the conditions are complied with.

The company does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender. By order

H. BEAD, Secretary Midland Railway.

G. T. R. Office Montreal. d28

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive at least to try one bottle, as 70,000 dozen bottes were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada. d90

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

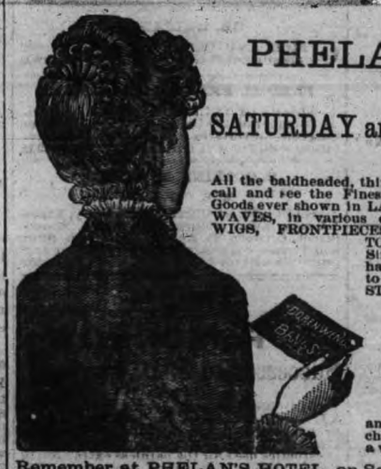
IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50



GRAND EXHIBITION OF HAIR GOODS

AT

PHELAN'S HOTEL,

ON

SATURDAY and MONDAY, FEB. 5 & 7

All the baldheaded, thin, gray and straight haired people should call and see the Finest Selection of these Goods ever shown in LADIES' BANGS AND WAVES, in various designs SWITCHES, WIGS, FRONTPIECES, GENTS' WIGS, TOUPEES, &c., &c.

Since my last visit I have devoted my time to designing NEW STYLES and SHAPES OF

BANGS AND WAVES,

and all have now the chance to pick from a very large variety.

Remember at PHELAN'S HOTEL, on Saturday & Monday, Feb. 5 and 7.

A. DORENWEND, PARIS HAIR WORKS, TORONTO.

A GOOD TIME TO BUY.

The present is an excellent opportunity to purchase

Buggies, Phætons, Carriages and Waggons

at our Factory, as we are selling them out to make room for a lively trade in Winter Goods this Season. A fine stock on hand at prices that cannot fail to please.

The present is also an excellent time to purchase or order before the busy season sets in. Hand in your order and obtain a handsome and substantial vehicle. If you do not intend to purchase a new one, bring along your cutters and sleighs and have them repaired. All material used by us is THOROUGHLY SEASONED. Our workmen are skilled mechanics, and the work is finished in the best styles. BUGGY TOPS made in the factory in several styles and at moderate prices. You will consult your interests by calling on us, as we are bound not to be beaten in prices or workmanship, and to lead the procession in our trade.

Cutters or Sleighs

☞ We have also about 5,000 FEET OF TWO-INCH OAK, suitable for building purposes, which we will dispose of at a reasonable price.

PORTER BROS.

Corner Charlotte and Aylmer Streets, near the G.T.R.

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. ☞ NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS	$1 00
LADIES	50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG, Manager.

1d45

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

BY HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

But when she was a mile or two from Callendar she saw a boy on a pony. The boy, who must have known her by sight, stopped and handed her a telegram. She had to pay several shillings for the delivery, or intended delivery, of the message, so far from the station. The boy galloped away, congratulating himself on having been spared a long ride, and Miss Rowan tore open the envelope left in her hands.

"The message was brief: "Mr. Carr is seriously ill. Come at once. You will be met in London."

Madeline did not scream or faint. She gave one low moan of pain, set her teeth, and with the face of one in a dream drove as quickly as she could to Callendar, straight to the railway station.

Fortunately, or rather unfortunately, she had money with her, so she did not waste time in going to Mr. Douglas. In spite of the crushing blow she had received, the girl had all her wits about her. A train would start in ten minutes' time. She took her ticket, then found an idler outside the station, and paid him to take the pony and carriage back to the farm, with the message as repeated to Carriston.

The journey passed like a long dream. The girl could think of nothing but her lover, dying, dying—perhaps dead before she could reach him. The miles flew by unnoticed; twilight crept on; the carriage grew dark; at last—London at last! Miss Rowan stepped out on the broad platform, not knowing what to do or where to turn. Presently a tall, well-dressed man came up to her, and removing his hat, addressed her by name. The promise as to her being met had been kept.

She clasped her hands. "Tell me—oh, tell me, he is not dead!" she cried.

"Mr. Carr is not dead. He is ill, very ill—delirious, and calling for you."

"Where is he? Oh, take me to him!"

"He is miles and miles from here—at a friend's house. I have been deputed to meet you and to accompany you, if you feel strong enough to continue the journey at once."

"Come," said Madeline. "Take me to him."

"Your luggage?" asked the gentleman.

"I have none. Come!"

"You must take some refreshment."

"I need nothing. Come!"

The gentleman glanced at his watch. "There is just time," he said. He called a cab, told the driver to go at top speed. They reached Paddington just in time to catch the mail.

During the drive across London Madeline asked many questions, and learned from her companion that Mr. Carr had been staying for a day or two at a friend's house in the west of England. That yesterday he had fallen from his horse and sustained such injuries that his life was despaired of. He had been continually calling for Madeline. They had found her address on a letter, and had telegraphed as soon as possible—for which act Miss Rowan thanked her companion with tears in her eyes.

Her conductor did not say much of his own accord, but in replying to her questions he was politely sympathetic. She thought of little outside the fearful picture which filled every corner of her brain, but from her conductor's manner received the impression that he was a medical adviser, who had seen the sufferer and assisted in the treatment of the case. She did not ask his name, nor did he reveal it.

At Paddington he placed her in a ladies' carriage and left her. He was a smoker, he said. She wondered somewhat at this desertion. Then the train sped down west. At the large stations the gentleman came to her and offered her refreshments. Hunger seemed to have left her, but she accepted a cup of tea once or twice. At last sorrow, fatigue, and the weakness produced by such a prolonged fast had their natural effect. With the tears still on her lashes the girl fell asleep, and must have slept for many miles; a sleep unbroken by stoppages at stations.

Her conductor at last aroused her. He stood at the door of the carriage. "We must get out here," he said. All the momentarily forgotten anguish came back to her as she stood beside him on the almost unoccupied platform.

"Are we there at last?" she asked.

"I am sorry to say we have still a long drive. Would you like to rest first?"

"No, no. Come on, if you please. She spoke with feverish eagerness.

The man bowed. "A carriage waits," he said.

Outside the station was a carriage of some sort, drawn by one horse, and driven by a man muffled up to the eyes. It was still night, but Madeline fancied dawn could not be far off. Her conductor opened the door of the carriage and waited for her to enter.

She paused. "Ask him—that man must know if——"

"I am most remiss," said the gentleman. He exchanged a few words with the driver, and coming back, told Madeline that Mr. Carr was still alive, sensible, and expecting her eagerly.

"Oh, please, please drive fast," said the poor girl, springing into the carriage. The gentleman seated himself beside her, and for a long time they drove on in silence. At last they stopped. The dawn was just glimmering. They alighted in front of a house. The door was open. Madeline entered swiftly. "Which way—which way?" she asked. She was too agitated to notice any surroundings; her one wish was to reach her lover.

"Allow me," said the conductor, passing her. "This way; please follow me." He went up a short flight of stairs, then paused, and opened a door quietly. He stood aside for the girl to enter. The room was dimly lit, and contained a bed with drawn curtains. Madeline flew past her traveling companion, and as she threw herself on her knees beside the bed upon which she expected to see the helpless and shattered form of the man she loved, heard, or fancied she heard, the door locked behind her.

(To be continued.)

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the most patent blood purifier, and a fountain of health and strength. Be wise in time. All painful infections are promptly removed by this unequalled alterative.

Turnbull has already received an immense shipment of French dress goods for the spring trade, in all the latest shades described in the latest ladies' magazines. Those looking for something new should see them.

ANNIVERSARY TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF ROBERT BURNS.

By Dr. Massie, Keene.

READ AT ST. ANDREW'S BURNS' ANNIVERSARY FESTIVAL, PETERBOROUGH.

Now, auld and wrinkled, ripe and gray,
Guid EIGHTY-SIX lies i' the clay
And EIGHTY-SEVEN is on the way
Since bluthe new year,
This is his five-and-twentieth day,
And we are here;

And we are here, a' thrang thegither,
In mem'ry o' an elder brither;
Like Burns, we ne'er shall see anither,
At rhyme or ditty;
Frae a' the airts, then gather! gather!
In this young city,

For on this night, a' Scotsmen true,
Frae Sunda's isles to far Peru,
The wide world roun', wi' reverence due,
And deep regard,
Still pledge in crystal mountain dew,
Their ain loved bard.

Ontario's shores—each stream and bay—
Ontario's cities—fair and gay—
Shall hail our poet's natal day
With pride and pleasure;
Shall sing our bard's immortal clay
In matchless measure.

And we shall tell, and ye shall hear,
How, in the seventeen-hundreth year
And fifty-nine o' Christian cheer
And right good cheer,
A cannie wife o' cantrip lear
Cam' ower the hill.

That time, his wintry natal day,
This carlin gossip passed hat way;
A gipsy kimmer, auld and gray,
Nor blate, nor slow;
She saw the briggin theck'd wi' straw,
Wi' light aglow.

She tirled the sneck, cam' steppin' ben—
"Guid e'enin to ye—fairies fen'
Your bonnie sels, frae dells an' men
Wad dae ye ill!—
What hae ye here?—a cock or hen,
"Wise bairn or fule?"

Then Gow'sin ower the howdie's knee—
"By a' the powers the sparits gie
"To nuld spae wives I plainly see,
Whateger betide—
"This walie chiel is gaun to be
"His country's pride."

With weird-like, wild ophetic eye,
She gazed upon the infant boy;
Then stood erect—with deep-drawn sigh,
Took twa steps back,
Syne raised her wizend hand on high,
And further spak:

"I see by ilka score and line,
"This lad will court the nurses nine;
"Will sing our lads and lasses fine,
"In burning lays,
"And round auld scotia's bows entwine
"Immortal bays.

"I see, by a' the seeing art,
"This chiel will play a manly carte;
"Of things oppress will tak the part,
"Baith great and sma':
"And wind his universal heart
"Around them a'.

"There's nae a glen where rowans grow,
"There's nae a bonnie heather knowe;
"There's nae a burn in haugh or howe,
"Rins to the sea—
"But yet shall kindle up the lowe
"O's minstrelsie.

"When wintry tempests blust'ring blaw,
"And madly drive the swirling snaw,
"And cow'ring creatures crulge awa,
"To cave or biel,
"His sympathizing heart will a'
"Their mis'ry feel.

"The hirplin' harp, poor, hapless thing!
"Wee shiv'rin birds, on cow'rin wing,
"The tim'rous mousie, wailing spring
"Wi' anxious e'e,
"Of a life's moving things, the king,
"This lad will be.

"And oh, my dear immortal bairn!
"What time thy manly form, forbairn,
"Maun bow to fortune, hard and stern,—
"Oh, my poor eyes!
"I'll say nae mair,—the marble cairn
"Looms the skies."

She ceased, and record fails to tell
What further on that night befell;
But down tim's chambers, like a bell,
Clear, loud and strong,
Reverberates the pen swell
Of deathless song.

Still blooms the "Daisy" on the lea;
Love sparkles still in "Jenny's" e'e;
The aged cottar, reverentile,
Still reads and prays,
And to his God, pours ferventile,
A heart-felt praise.

Here, tender passion's melting sang,
There, strains heroic sweep alang;
And patriot fire, and martial clang,
Of "Scots wha hae"
Come doun the ages with a bang,
Fleet wing for aye.

And all he ever sang or said
Is by a nation cherished:—
Though broke his lyre, and with the dead
Lies that deft hand,
His spirit still, with royal tread,
Stalks o'er the land.

All hail! great king of Scottish song!
That poured the minstrel numbers strong,
Auld Scotland's hills and vales along,
Warm, gushing, free;
Till men, of every land and tongue,
Bow down to thee.

Where Ganges rolls, or Jordan raves,
Or where the stately palm tree waves;
Where British valor nobly braves
The raging Nile;
Or where the vast Pacific laves,
Each sea-girt isle.

From every land, wide o'er the earth;
From princely hall, from humble hearth;
This day, the voice of Love swells forth,
And mankind,
The sterling, independent worth,
Of Robert Burns.

A bard, of satire strong and keen!
The hated foe, of spirits mean;
While ages roll, shall glisten green
The holy bay;
Till time, itself, shall sink unseen,
In Light's long day.

Advertise in the DAILY REVIEW.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guaranies. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets, 25c. a vial, by druggists.

AYER'S PILLS

CURE HEADACHE.

Headaches are usually induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, and may be easily cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. Mrs. Mary A. Scott, Portland, Me., writes: "I had suffered dreadfully from Sick Headache, and thought myself incurable. Disorder of the stomach caused it. Ayer's Pills cured me entirely."

CURE BILIOUSNESS.

John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebr., writes: "I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice. I was so dangerously ill, that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. I feel certain that I owe my recovery to your invaluable Pills."

CURE INDIGESTION.

Ayer's Pills act directly on the digestive and assimilative organs, influencing healthful action, imparting strength, and eradicating disease. G. W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T., writes: "I have suffered from Dyspepsia and Liver troubles for years past. I found no permanent relief, until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, which have effected a complete cure."

CURE RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is among the most painful of the disorders arising from vitiated blood and derangement of the digestive and biliary organs. Ayer's Pills relieve and cure Rheumatism when other remedies fail. S. M. Spencer, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was confined to my bed, with Rheumatism, three months, but, after using a few boxes of Ayer's Pills, became a well man."

CURE GOUT.

S. Lansing, Yonkers, N. Y., writes: "Recommended to me as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me not only from that trouble, but also from Gout. If every victim of the disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. Those words would be, 'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

CURE PILES.

Piles are induced by habitual constipation, debility, indigestion, or a morbid condition of the liver. A cure is best effected by the use of Ayer's Pills. John Lazarus, St. John, N. B., writes: "I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only cured me of that disagreeable disorder, but gave me new life and health."

Sold by all Druggists.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

MONEY TO LEND!

HAVING resigned his connection with the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Ld.,) the undersigned has made arrangements for lending an unlimited amount at SIX PER CENT, on terms more favourable than any Peterborough or Toronto Company, and will be pleased to see his many old friends with a view to making them new advances or readjusting their present Mortgages.

A. P. POUSSETTE.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md79w43

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE.
Solicitor.

1104w18

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears. Sweet Florida Oranges, Malaga Grapes, new English Walnuts. Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecan Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Partie a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS,
George St., Peterborough

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,
Ashburnham

d89

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Goods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take you LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skilful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books' Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to chose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse, [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via O. & Q. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
10 55 p m	Toronto and West, via O. & Q. R.	6 00 p m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
5 20 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	8 00 p m
12 00 m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)	8 00 a m
8 50 p m		4 30 p m
6 20 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope	11 00 a m
5 15 p m	do	8 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
4 00 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville	11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore	1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Haultain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clyndale, Pandash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	4 30 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays.	7 30 p m
	Wpinipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	6 00 p m
9 00 a m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

Money Orders granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbados, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

Deposits received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 8.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibralter, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxenburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamacia, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica, Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Signapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents,

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 150 pages GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, cords, with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

D. BELLEGHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms. TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

DUNN'S BAKING POWDER

THE COOK'S BEST FRIEND

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

The Temperature.

The Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering thermometer recorded 8 degrees below zero on Friday night.

"Hits and Misses."

You "hit" it when you use Culver's Cough Balsam for coughs and colds. You "miss" it when you don't. At the F. D. S. opposite market.

The Italian

Murphy, the Italian, is slowly recovering, but is not yet out of danger. Though still very weak he is able to sit up. It is feared that he will lose the use of his left leg, the bullet being buried somewhere in the thigh.

Blank.

There were no cases on the docket this morning at the Police Court. Marino will be arraigned again on Monday morning. It is likely the case will be again adjourned pending the result of Murphy's wound.

Correction.

In the Bible Society report published yesterday a line from the Secretaries report read: "The Christain community have not yet realized the importance of the Secretary's work." It should have read "The Society's work."

The Heaven's Above Us.

Mr. Long, of the Collegiate Institute, will give his lecture on "The Stars," or 'The Heavens Above Us," on Tuesday evening next, in St. John's Church school house. There will be vocal and instrumental music in connection with the lecture. Admission 20 cents, children 10 cents.

Always to the Front.

The Toronto Post says:—"Citizens of Peterborough who admire a brave act done by a courageous man are moving to have a medal awarded Mr. R. B. Rogers, who at the imminent risk of his life entered the burning woollen mill owned by Mr. Faint on Saturday last and rescued a girl who was almost insensible in an upper flat of the building. Mr. R. B. Rogers is one of a family of sons of their father who have always shown to the front where nerve, activity and presence of mind are needed. Let that medal be awarded or turn out the Government."

To the Members of the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association.

Geo. Morrison presents in another column of this paper a most important statement of the affairs of the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association. This great organization still continues to furnish insurance at fifty per cent less than old time rates, yet, notwithstanding this great reduction the books of the Company show a credit of persistent members of the 1881 class, equal to a dividend of 33⅓ per cent upon their entire assessment premiums paid during the first five years. He wishes to secure two or three good men.

Call at Turnbull's for dresses and mantles. Every garment made up in the lastest fashion.

Prof. Dorenwend's Hair Goods.

Gentlemen who are bald should take great care to keep their head well protected, as they are quicker to catch cold than those with perfect heads of hair. But if they will only take take the trouble to call on Prof Dorenwend at Phelan'n Hotel, on Saturday and Monday, Feb. 5th and 7th, and try on one of his Wigs or Toupees they would find that they need not fear the cold, and they will feel more comfortable and their looks will be greatly improved besides. No fear need be entetained that they can be detected, as they are so perfect that it is impossible to see anything false about them. This is his only visit this season to Peterborough.

Apron Social.

An apron social was held under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the Charlotte street Methodist church at the residence of Mr. Geo. A. Cox on Friday evening. There was a large attendance and all seemed to spend a very enjoyable evening. Apart from the novelty of apron selling the company was amused by vocal and instrumental music. The pragramme was as follows:—

PROGRAMME.

Instrumental Duet..Mrs. Davis and Miss Cox
Quartette .....Misses Johnston and Cox, and Messrs. Hill and Hutchins.
Solo .....A. L. Davis.
Trio.....Piano, Flute and Violin.
Snyder, Butcher and Doucette. vocal solo.....Mrs. Logan.
Reading .....Mr. Duff.

PART II.

Instrumental solo.....Miss Fairweather.
Vocal solo .....Miss Johnston.
Vocal Duet.....Mr. Davis and Miss Cox.
Vocal solo.....Mr. Hutchins.
Vocal solo.....Mrs. Mein.
Instrumental duet.....Flute obligato, Mrs. Davis, Miss Cox and Mr. Butcher.

The amount realized altogether was about $80.

Arrived.

Prof. Dorenwend, of the Paris Hair Works, of Toronto, has arrived. His show rooms are now open, and every one who is bald or has thin hair should see the fine styles he sells. He will be here only to-day (Saturday) and Monday. This will be his only visit to Peterborough this season. Remember, Phelan's Hotel, room number 20. Open until ten o'clock this evening.

Prof. Dorenwend at Phelan's Hotel.

In another column of our paper will be found the advertisement of Prof. Dorenwend, of the Paris Hair Works, Toronto, in which it is stated that he will again visit Peterborough with some of his fine goods. He will be at Phelan's Hotel on Saturday and Monday, Feb. 5th and 7th. His stock comprises all the latest and newest designs of ladies' bangs, waves, front-pieces, wigs, braids, and also gents' wigs, toupees, &c. A great many of our readers are doubtless well acquainted with the fine class of goods manufactured by the professor. Everyone who wishes to procure a NICE, NEAT and DURABLE ARTICLE in his line should be sure to call on him during this visit, as it will be the only one this season. Remember at Phelan's Hotel on Saturday and Monday, Feb. 5th and 7th.

Turnbull's cellar is filled with piles of white and grey cottons, which he is offering by the piece at prices which please every one that sees them.

The Churches.

The following is a list of services in the several churches to-morrow:—

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.—At St. Peter's Cathedral, Roman Catholic, there will be three masses celebrated, the first at 7 a. m. the second at 8 a. m., and the third at 10.30 a. m. Vespers at 7 p. m.

ST. LUKE'S.—The regular services at St. Luke's Church will be conducted as follows: Holy Communion at 8 a.m., morning prayer Litany and sermon at 11 a. m., evensong at 7 p. m.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.—The regular services will be conducted as follows:—Holy Communion at 8.30 a.m.; Morning Prayer, Litany and sermon at 11 a.m.; Evening Prayer and sermon at 7 p. m.

ST. PAUL'S.—The Rev. Mr. Torrance will conduct the day's services. In the morning he will preach on "An Important Miracle," and in the evening "The Joy of Salvation."

BAPTIST CHURCH, Murray Street.—The pulpit will be occupied by the Rev. Mr. Walker, of the Mission Board.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.—The Rev. J. Tovell will preach morning and evening. A praise and testimony service will be held at 9.40 a.m., and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper at 8.15 p.m.

METHODIST CHURCH, Charlotte Street.—The services will be conducted as usual by Rev. F. H. Wallace.

METHODIST CHURCH, Mark street (Ashburnham)—The Rev. Mr. Wilson will conduct the services.

ST. ANDREWS CHURCH.—The pastor will conducted the services as usual.

The ladies will be pleased to hear that Turnbull has accepted the agency of the Domestic paper patterns. A complete assortment now in stock.

The Honeymoon.

The four act comedy drama "The Honeymoon" was presented at Bradburn's Opera House on Friday night on the occassion of a testimonal benefit to Mr. Day. The play pictures Spanish life. Briefly told, the theme of the story is: Duke Aranza marries Juliana a painter's daughter. To humble her supercilious pride he takes her to the lonely abode of a peasant and leads her to believe that she has been deceived with his stories of castles and gardens and that this is his real home. Her bitter disappointment is violently expressed. She escapes and tells the duke, set up by her husband, of her wrongs. That worthy decides that she shall live a month with her husband and at the end of that time if she will she may leave. But before the month is out she refuses to leave her husband. By the latter's consent she is brought by her father to tell about her wrongs before the Duke when Aranza himself appears to hear them and claim his wife. Wilson Day personated the noble Aranza—to the satisfaction of the audience. Miss Rose Osborne as Juliana, illustrated pride, resentment and affection in turn with much naturalness. Had she exhibited more astonishment when suddenly finding her husband a real Duke, no one could have found much fault with the rest of her acting. The support was, without an exception, strong. Miss Stella Willis the timid Zamora, secceeded in catching for a husband Rolando, the woman hater, in a captivating manner; and Theo Hudgins, as Count Montalban, after posing as a friar and resorting to other schemes, to obtain a confession of Volante's love, succeeds at last by hiding behind his own portrait while she looks at it and expresses her thoughts aloud. Mr. Wm. Henderson as the Mock Duke, was a joke itself. His make up was admirable and his acting typical of what that of a mock duke would be. The presentation of the play was heightened by the rich and beautiful costumes worn. Little Annie Bird charmed the audience with two very pretty character songs. While here the Wilson Day Company have added to their well established reputation. The company is one of the strongest on the road. Though the prices charged are low the performances are first class, as the large audiences attending this week fully attest. To-night "London after Dark" will be played. Special scenic effects will be introduced.

Culvers Cough Balsam sold at the Floral Drug Store opposite the market.

PETERBOROUGH'S INSURANCE.

An Effort Being Made for the Reduction Of the Rate.

The effort at present being made by members of the Town Council to reduce the rate of insurance paid by the people of Peterborough is a timely move.

The Fire Underwriters' Association grade the different towns and cities into classes A, B, C, D, and so forth, according to the means of fire protection it possesses and keeps up. Peterborough is in class C, but according to the qualifications set forth to entitle a place to be classed in C, Peterborough should be classed one grade higher. The requirements of class B are as follows:—

"Waterworks, partly paid fire brigade, an effective fire alarm, horses in readiness to haul apparatus to fires, and kept exclusively for the purpose; also paid engineer with assistant for steamers, when such are required; hook and ladder truck, hose reels and all other appliances sufficient for the requirements and effective protection of the place."

During the past year the Fire Department has been made much more effective, and more equipments are to be added. The engineer now sleeps at the fire station, and in a day or two the firemen will also take up apartments there, the rooms being now furnished. The new hose and salvage waggon is being remodelled so as to be more serviceable. The purchase of another team and the introduction of swinging harness is contemplated.

Before additional expense is incurred Councillor McNeil, Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, will submit in writing a detailed statement of Peterborough's claims upon the Association for a higher classification, and if encouragement is held out the thorough equipment of the Department will be gone on with. Members of the Association are to be invited here to inspect the fire appliances.

The classing of the town in B grade, instead of C, as at present, means a reduction of the insurance rate by about 12½ per cent., which reduction Peterborough can with fairness lay claim to.

Skating Carnival.

Remember the Grand Fancy Dress Carnival on Friday evening, Feb. 11th. Political contest, skating competitions, handsome prizes and everything to ensure a pleasant evening's entertainment.

ANOTHER lot of ladies ribbed over stockings to hand at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

Case after case of cottonades and shirtings have been arriving at Turnbull's, all the new patterns now in stock at his old well known low prices.

NEWS NOTES.

The rumor that Germany is negotiating a loan of fifteen millions sterling is without foundation.

Mr. Patrick Burns, coal merchant of Toronto assigned on Thursday. There are, liabilities estimated at $400,000.

Ingersoll is excited over the resignation of six members of the Council, on the ground of want of confidence in the mayor-elect.

Mr. F. E. Kilvert, M. P. for Hamilton in the late Parliament, has been appointed to the vacant Collectorship of Customs in that city.

The traffic receipts of the Canadian Pacific railway for the last week ending Jan. 31st. were $184,000 an increase of $6,000 compared with the corresponding week last year.

It is stated in ecclesiastical circles that the elevation of Mgr. de Rende, the Papal Nuncio at Pari , to the Cardinalate, is only a preliminary step to his election as Pope on the death of Leo XIII.

Woman Suffrage.

OLYMPIA, W. T., Feb. 4.—The Supreme Court has decided that the bill granting the suffrage to women is unconstitutional.

CARNIVAL Blankets, Toques and Sashes at the Golden Lion. R. FAIR.

Wants.

BOARDERS WANTED.

LADIES OR GENTLEMEN wanting board can be accommodated by applying to MRS. LUMSDEN, corner of Aylmer and Charlotte Streets. 6d27

For Sale or to Rent.

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, Solicitor, George Street. d84

Miscellaneous.

Notice to Creditors

OF THE

LATE JOHN B. HAMMOND.

PURSUANT to Revised Statutes of Ontario, Chapter 107 and 46 Victoria, Chapter 9, Ontario, notice is hereby given that all creditors and others having claims against the estate of John Edward Hammond, late of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, gentleman, who died on or about the third day of January, 1887, are required to send by post, prepaid, or to deliver to Hatton & Wood, of the Town of Peterborough, in the said County of Peterborough, solicitors for Herbert Arthur Hammond, Robert Pennie Boucher and Harriet Hammond, the executors and executrix of the last will and testament of the deceased on or before the 28th day of February, 1887, a statement of their names and addresses, the full particulars of their claims and securities (if any) held by them. And that after the said date the said executors and executrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice shall have been given as above required.

And the said executors and executrix will not be responsible for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons of whose claim or claims notice shall not have been received at the time of such distribution.

Dated at Peterborough, this 28th day of January, 1887.

HATTON & WOOD,
Solicitors for the said
Executors and Executrix.

w8

T. DOLAN & CO'S

$2.00 Suits.

Having purchased a large lot of Boys' All Wool Suits at a great sacrifice, we are prepared to divide the profits with our customers, and will sell them at the price of $2.00 the Suit. They are worth double the money.

T. DOLAN & CO.

GO TO THE

Montreal Carnival

VIA THE

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

The line which runs the finest equipment in the world.

RATES VERY LOW.

Full particulars from any Agent of the Company. 1d30

What is it? Where is it?

CULVER'S COUGH BALSAM

A valuable compound of Tar, Wild Cherry and Healing Balsams, for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough and all throat and lung diseases. The best cough medicine known for consumption. Price 25 cents. Seld by

GEO. A. SHERIN, Druggist

Floral Drug Store, Opposite the Market.

That's What they all Say

Culver's Cough Balsam is the best cough medicine I ever used. It was the worst cold I ever had and it stopped it at once. Sold by

GEO. A. SHERIN,

Floral Drug Store, Market.

BRADBURN'S OPERA HOUSE

WILSON DAY'S

Theatre Company

The Greatest Living Child Actress

ANNIE BIRD

At Each Performance.

TO-NIGHT,

Positiv ly Last Performance.

Dion Boucicault's Famous Drama,

LONDON AFTER DARK

With its Wealth of Special Scenery.

Admission 10c. Reserved Seats 25c. at Hartley's. 14d17

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM.

CANADA

OBTAINS FIRST LAURELS.

OVER SIXTY-ONE MILLION DOLLARS OF NEW BUSINESS TAKEN BY THE Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association

OF NEW YORK.

FOUR MILLIONS EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS TAKEN IN CANADA,

WHICH ONCE MORE LEADS ALL OTHER CANADIAN COMPANIES.

INSURANCE IN FORCE	$150,000,000
Death claims paid since organization (nearly)	3,000,000
Death claims paid in 1886	1,149,149
Assets	1,150,000
Reserve Fund	1,000,000
Applications declined (1886)	4,443,500
Saving in six years on old line rates	12,000,000
Insurance in force in Peterborough and vicinity (nearly)	500,000

Government guaranteed Life Insurance less than 50 per cent. of old line rates.

All payments paid in Peterborough.

Total cost for dues and assessments divided in seven payments for 1886: Age 30, $10.80; age 40, $13.52; age 50, $18.00.

Reserve Fund increased over $1,000 per day in 1886.

WE HAVE FIRST-CLASS SITUATIONS FOR THREE OR FOUR GOOD MEN.

GEO. A. MORRISON,

J. G. DAVIES, Agent, Lakefield. J. J. HERN, Agent, South Monaghan. INSPECTOR FOR EASTERN ONTARIO. 1d30-1w6

PIANOS

HEINTZMAN & CO'S.

This Celebrated maker's Pianos are in use in the following private residences in Peterborough:

Geo. Edmison,
E. Pearse,
J. E. Hammond,
D. Faucher,
Robt. Miller,
D. Ullyott,
Chas. Cameron,
G. W. Morgan,
W. Sanderson,
The Convent,
J. Hall,
Bannell Sawyer,
Mrs. Jas. Campbell,
J. J. McBain,
Geo. Dunsford,
Mrs. Allen,
Wm. Tate,
W. Fairweather,
F. A. Rubidge,
Miss Delaney,
J. Stewart,
W. H. Hill,
Rev. V. Clementi,
E. C. Hill,
W. Walsh,
W. Snowden,
T. G. Hazlitt,
Miss Calcutt,
Miss Spillsbury,
W. Bradburn,
R. Fair,
Mrs. Chambers,
W. B. Ferguson,
Miss A. Edmundson,
W. R. Greatrex,
R. B. McKee,
and others.

Intending purchasers should not fail to inspect the Heintzman & Co's Pianos (no connection with the Gerrard Heintzman or Lansdowne Piano, of Toronto) at my Music Store, Hunter Street, East.

E. J. HARTLEY.

Xmas Comes But Once a Year

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 2 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 10c.

To every purchaser of one pound of our 50c. tea, 5 lbs. of Raisins for 15c.

We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills. Plinth course always kept in stock. Both limestone and sand stone.

J. B BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office.
Postal Address, Box 61. d118w2

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d5w9

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Rasins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 31. PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

PROBABILITIES.
North-east and east winds; cloudy weather, with snow and rain.

R. FAIR.

FIRST CONSIGNMENT
OF
NEW PRINTS

FOUR THOUSAND YARDS.

ALL NEW PATTERNS.

Come early and make your choice and be r ady for Spring.

New Embroideries just to hand. Beautiful Designs. All Widths.

These Goods are imported direct, and having placed our order before the advance you can expect bargains.

R. FAIR.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.
SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w

E. B. EDWARDS.
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,
SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.
BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.
MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.
BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,
BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w12

C. W. SAWERS,
BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.
MONEY TO LOAN. d103w1

HATTON & WOOD.
BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.
R. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Professional.

GEO. W. RANEY,
CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d61w18

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training. $70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catogue on application.
BANNELL, SAWYER, Principal, Peterborough, Ontario.

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,
AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,
FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS
AND
MUSLIN CURTAINS
AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S
Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN
OF THE
Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1887.

ODD LOVERS.

Mr. Blake and the other free traders now pretend to have suddenly fallen in love with their old enemy, the National Policy, and exclaim that, had they the power, they would not hurt a hair of its metaphorical head. But nobody is deceived by these expressions of admiration for a system that for eight years these same men have been denouncing as a "curse," a "national sin," a "white elephant," a "delusion,' and a "mid-summer madness." Let us give one example of the ardent love for the National Policy that the Grits now profess. There was a trades procession in Hamilton the other day—a magnificent affair, in which the manufactures of the ambitious city were grandly represented; a possession such as Canada never saw before, a procession that had been utterly impossible but for the protection policy of the present government. Some of the gentlemen who made exhibits of their goods in this grand exposition of the manufactures and trade of this flourishing manufacturing city, displaying upon their goods in innocent black letters the harmless legend 'National Policy.' What was the result? The Hamilton free trade organ and the Toronto Globe immediately began to foam at the mouth and to abuse the gentlemen who had displayed the legend, in the language of bitter hatred. The Grit free traders, all over the city, shook their heads, lamented the wickedness of the manufacturers, and cried out that it was "a shame." The entire party of newly found lovers of the National Policy shouted with one accord that it was a most despicable, dishonorable and altogether wicked proceeding to mention the beloved National Policy in public. The new lovers of the National Policy have not ceased, since they saw those legends passing in procession upon the street, to foam, and fume, and scold, and swear in the most unloverlike manner. Can anybody be deceived by such men as these? Does anybody believe that these free traders are in earnest when they claim that they will not—if they have the chance—interfere with the protective system of the country? Is it not manifest to all that these hypocritical free traders would—had they the power—tear the National Policy out of the statute book, even as they would have banished it from the great trades procession?—Hamilton Spectator.

He Stands by What he Said.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The Spanish Minister has pronounced authentic the interview published by a Havana journal in which the minister is represented as saying that unless negotiations for carrying out a reciprocity treaty between Spain and the United States reach a favorable result by the first of March, he favors coercion and reprisals. The officials of the state department were at a loss to explain the reasons for the views of the Minister.

Big Bear Free Again.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 5.—Big Bear and three Cree Indians serving terms in Stony Mountain penitentiary for complicity in the Northwest rebellion were released today, having been pardoned by the government. They will be escorted to their homes by a detachment of Mounted police They are the last of the rebellion prisoners.

A commercial teeter, we are on the top, but our prices are at the bottom. See what Turnbull is showing this week in new bedroom chints and cretonnes.

MR. BLAKE AS A LEADER.

A History for the Electors to Note and Act Upon.

In 1880 Mr. Mackenzie was dismissed from the leadership of the Canadian opposition and Mr. Blake took his place. He had encouraged the belief that the cause was helpless under the lead of his rival, while with the new commander great things were to be accomplished. He also caused it to be known that no service need be expected from him in a subordinate position. He was not born for subordinate positions. The party has had six years of Mr. Blake, and the results are not such as to convince the public that the movement of 1880 was a foresighted one.

Mr. Blake appealed to the electors in 1882 for permission to rule. The next set of rerpesentatives were more than two to one against him.

He has steadily assailed the Government from 1882 until now, yet representatives chosen at the election during that period are two to one in favor of the administration.

Ontario which has supported its Grit Premier through thick and thin, sends a majority to parliament against Mr. Blake. Nova Scotia while electing a grit legislators sent to Ottawa fifteen opponents of Mr. Blake and only six supporters. New Brunswick, which Mr. Blake's friends sometimes say supports a liberal government, sends to Ottawa a beggarly five to sit behind the Opposition leader. The party has been obliterated in British Columbia and it has no existence in the Territories. Of the twelve largest cities in the Dominion only two gave majorities in his favor, and in one of these two of the three divisions are represented by his opponents.

He has lived to see one of the greatest enterprises of modern times carried through by his opponents, despite his opposition and predictions of failure.

He has lived to retract and apologize for the attacks he made on British Columbia when he was attempting to prevent the extension of the Dominion in that direction.

He has been constrained to admit that he was wrong in his contention against better terms to Nova Scotia.

He has been led into a dishonorable alliance, of which the best men of his party are heartily ashamed and which a large number of them in parliament refused to support.

He finds himself at the head of the remnant of a party, which collectively has not a single idea, but which in Quebec is composed entirely of Reilites, and in the lower provinces numbers in its ranks every annexationists and secessionist.

After six years of his leadership, his followers cannot for their lives locate his position on a single question of public policy. During his tenure of the leadership he has made more long speeches and concealed his opinions better on all subjects than any other man in Canada, and has, probably, shirked more votes than any other representative.

He is encouraging his Nova Scotia friends who demand more from a government, which, according to him, has already given them too much; he hears his New Brunswick friends complain of the tardy construction of a railway which he opposed; he joins in a wail over the abrogation of an international treaty against which, when adopted, he spoke and voted, and has in pursuance of a compact condemmned the government for not interfering to protect from punishment a criminal whom he accused of murder.—St. John, N. B., Sun.

THE NATIONALIST LEADER.

Mr. Parnell Said to be Suffering From Hereditary Consumption.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—A London despatch to the World says:—"The condition of Parnell's health has excited the grave apprehension of his friends during the last few days. It is reported that some time ago he was suffering from severe illness but that he was convalescent and would be ready in due time for his parliamentary duties. He did appear in his place at the opening of the session, but he looked worn and haggard to a degree that was surprising to his old acquaintances. I think I am guilty of no indiscretion in stating Mr. Parnell is suffering from a pulmonary disease. This is hereditary with his family, his father having died of consumption and likewise his sister. The character of Mr. Parnell's illness has up to the present moment been kept a profound secret. He was first taken with bronchitis. This was last autumn after the adjournment of Parliament. His mother came over from America about that time and it was given out that the two had gone to the south of France to spend the winter. It now appears that Parnell did not leave Great Britain but that he and his mother have been staying in Ireland since last autumn. At the opening of the session they came to London and are living at the Midland hotel. Mr. Parnell's retirement has been so complete that some of his most intimate friends did not even know where he was. His associates have been trying to persuade him to give up temporarily his parliamentary work and to go to the south of France. His consent was finally obtained. He had begun to make preparations for the journey, but he is feeling somewhat better he has for his present abandoned the idea of getting away, unless he should grow much worse than he now is, his illness being of chronic form, or liable at any rate to fall into chronic form and of a serious character. A few of the principal associates of Mr. Parnell have not only began to feel deep concern about him personally, but also about the leadership of the party in case he should become unable to perform the duties of that office. The chances are, I fear, that the days of his active leadership are over.

Gen. Middleton's Escape.

General Middleton, accompanied by Lady Middleton, was one of the witnesses of the Ottawa fencing exhibition at the club rooms at Sussex street on Friday evening. He is a lover of the beautiful and attractive art. Whilst a spirited contest was in progress that night the foil of one of the competitors snapped, and a bit of the steel flew across the room, grazing the chin of the attentive General in no gentle manner. The cut bled freely and a little excitement followed until the exact extent of the wound was learned. The bleeding ceased and Sir Fred sat out the entertainment. Lady Middleton and Mrs. Colson, who occupied seats on either side of the General, were somewhat alarmed for the moment. Had the bit of steel struck the General in the eye, the thing would not have caused merely a momentary anxiety.—Ottawa Journal.

AN AWFUL DISASTER.

A PASSENGER TRAIN PLUNGES DOWN A GORGE.

Thirty-Two Persons Roasted to Death—The Cars and Bridge Burned—Many Seriously Injured.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Feb. 5.—The night express to Montreal which left here at 8.15 o'clock last night, ran off the bridge at Woodstock, Vt., two miles north of White River Junction, and the sleepers and passenger cars and bridge were entirely burned It is reported there are a large number of people injured and the number of killed and burned is also reported to be large. Conductor Sturtevant was fatally burned. The accident occurred probably betweenone and two o'clock this morning on the Central Vermont Railway.

NAMES OF SOME OF THE KILLED.

HANOVER, N. Y., Feb. 5.—It is reported that 50 passengers were killed by the railway accident among them are Henry Tuxbury, of West Randolph, Vt., a well known lecturer; Edward F. Dillon, of Springfield, Vt., was a member of the Sophomore Class at Dartmouth and pitcher for the University nine.

A FRIGHTFUL AFFAIR.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Feb. 5.—The accident to a Montreal express at Woodstock Bridge assumes frightful proportions, as further particulars are learned. The train was the Boston and Montreal Express on the Vermont Central Railway, with connections at White River Junction with the Montreal express from Springfield, one sleeping car and one passenger coach which are attached to the Boston and Montreal train. Frank Wesson, son of D. B. Wesson, of this city, of the firm of Smith & Wesson, pistol manufacturers, was killed. It is reported the loss of life is large.

THE DEAD.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Feb. 5.—Latest information from the scene of this morning's accident near White River Junction state that 16 dead bodies have already been taken out of the ruins. It is now thought the total killed will be between 25 and 30. The accident is supposed to have been caused by a loose journal on the first passenger car. The bridge at this spot is about 70 feet high, and is the longest on the division. The cars in going over pulled the bridge with them, and all took fire together. The injured are being taken to White River Junction, where they are receiving every attention.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Feb. 5.—It is now reported that twenty-nine bodies have been taken from the ruins and others are still to be seen in the debris. Every exertion is being used to get all the bodies out as possible.

DETAILS OF THE DISASTER.

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—The train for which this awful fate was in store is known as the Montreal express, and is made up nightly at this junction, and consists of the remnants of two trains, one of which leaves New York at 4 p. m., and the other Boston at 7 p. m. Both trains are known as Montreal expresses, and on reaching this junction they are united and start north usually at 12.30 a. m., being due at Montreal about 9 a. m. Last night's train consisted of one passenger coach and one Pullman sleeper, the St. Albans from Springfield; one sleeper, the Chicago, attached here, and one passenger coach and one Pullman sleeper, the Pilgrim; a smoker and baggage, mail and express car from Boston—seven cars in all. The train, which was nearly an hour and a half late, started from this junction at a few minutes after 2 a.m. under the charge of Conductor Sturtevant. All the cars was well filled, the Springfield and Boston sleepers being filled with fun-loving people, bound for the winter sports at Montreal. The weather was clear but cold. The mercury stood at about twenty degrees below zero, and the moon was just piercing the hazy clouds as the train moved out of the station. The engineer knew his ground thoroughly. He had taken many a train safely over the winding route among the Vermont hills, and was determined to make up lost time. Over the four mile straight-away seretch west of this station the train sped along at the rate of forty miles an hour and all on board had settled down to a nap, wholly unconscious of the terrible death awating them a few rods ahead. Suddenly the train dashed around a curve and up a slight grade to the long, wooden deck Howe bridge which crosses the White River, seventy feet above its rushing waters. The river here passes through a deep, rocky gorge, the jagged edges of the perpendicular sides bordered by stunted pines, making a wildly romantic scene. At this point that train suddenly ended its journey. A broken rail 200 feet this side of the bridge is all that is left to tell the cause. Whether the train broke the frosty rail, throwing the cars from the track, whether the rail was broken before the train arrived, or whether some wheel gave way and snapped the rail is not known, and may never be known. In an instant there was a jar, a bumping of trucks over the railroad ties; the couplings between the forward sleeper and the four following cars broke, the engine, baggage and smoking cars passed on to the bridge and over in safety, but the other four cars jumped along over the ties to the end of the bridge, knocked out the heavy timbers which rested on the abutments and then toppled over—bridge, cars and human freight, fully eighty souls, all told, falling with a tremendous crash down the jagged precipice seventy feet, striking upon the frozen surface of the river. Then followed a scene which beggars all power of human description. The splintered wreck took fire, and the dark gorge, from which the moon was hidden, was soon lighted up by the glare of burning coaches and bridge timber. The detached portion of the train was stopped and ran back to the scene as soon as possible. Those on board sprang into the deep snow and made their way as best they could down the steep banks to assist any in the wreck who were alive. Here and there a man or woman had succeeded in getting extricated from the debris by leaving part of his or her clothing behind and in spite of the intense cold and their half clothed conditions, were bravely rendering all the assistance in their power to rescue their less fortunate companions. Many were pinned beneath huge timbers beyond all human aid. The groans of the half conscious dying, the screams of the burning, mingled with the hoarse shouts of the trainmen and a few farmers who had arrived on the scene. Very little could be done to aid the injured and absolutely nothing towards quenching the flames. The ice on the river was three feet thick and no water could be procured. The sickening stench of burning human flesh soon arose from the seething mass. The cries of those enduring the martyrdom of being burned alive grew fainter and fainter. The injured who had been extricated from the ruins were soon conveyed to the neighboring farm house of Thomas Pingree, or stowed away in the smoker or baggage cars, and when the relief train arrived from this point the wreck had been entirely consumed. At least forty persons were killed outright or burned to death.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Feb. 5.—Probably 8,000 persons visited the scene of the accident to day. Seven or eight bodies were to-day identified by friends and many heartrending scenes were witnessed. It is utterly impossible to identify more than 10 or 12 of those recovered, the clothing being entirely gone and the bodies burnt to a crisp. Conductor Curtevant died to-day. The work of recovering the wreckage and bodies has been pushed vigorously all day. The ruins have been minutely search-d and probably all the bodies recovered that can be. The iron work of the cars has has been pulled over and cleared away. Total number of bodies recovered to-day is five, one woman, and four men. Doctors have thoroughly examined the charred remains of the victims thus far recovered, for the purpose of ascertaining the number. They report it to be up to this morning just 27, which, with the five found to-day, makes 32 recovered so far. All communications regarding passengers should be addressed to Henry E. Tinker, station agent, White River Junction. From all information obtainable at this time from the connecting road ticket agents and survivors, it is believed the total number of souls on board the ill fated train, including trainmen, was 81. Of these 32 are accounted for as above, 35 are in the care of surgeons, one died to day and nine left on the same train uninjured, leaving only four unaccounted for. It is understood that there were some children without tickets, so the above figures may be slightly changed. Every article of clothing, scrap of paper, or other things found, is being carefully saved for the purpose of identification. Little idea can be formed of the difficulties in the way of obtaining a report of the accident that would give the public a correct idea of the condition of things.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Feb. 5.—Frank L. Wesson, who was killed, was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife and four children. He married the daughter of John Lovell of Montreal, and was a brother-in-law of John W. Lovell, the New York publisher. He intended to leave for Montreal yesterday morning by the day express, but there being no parlor car attached to the train he deferred his departure until 8.15 last night, taking the sleeping car through to Montreal. He was accomp nied by his sister-in-law, Miss Lovell, who was returning to her home in Montreal. It is understood that she was not seriously injured.

THE KILLED AND WOUNDED.

The list of the killed, so far as learned, is as follows:

EDWARD BANGS, brakeman, of West Lebanon, N. H.
F. L. WESSON of Springfield, Mass.
S. S. WESTCOTT of Burlington, Vt.
CEPHAS MILLS of Iroquois, Ont.
E. F. DILLON of Dartmouth College.

Those dangerously injured are:

SMITH STURTEVANT, conductor, right side of body burned from head to feet and head severely bruised: cannot live.

O. BOISERET, Angelina, Que., internally injured.

L. COMBREMONT, a Swiss, New York, hips and back bruised.

MITCHELL LACALLODE, Lawrence, Mass., injured about the head, chest and back.

MOSES POULET, Quebec, right leg broken and wounded about head.

MRS. W. D. DRYDEN, Montreal, contusions on back.

GEORGE GENETT, Syracuse, N. Y., head cut and back wounded.

HORACE JUKAU, East Pepperel, Mass., face, back and legs bruised.

ANNA MURPHY, Boston, right cheek badly cut and bruised.

HENRY TEWKSBURY, Randolph, Vt., left leg and left arm broken.

MRS. CHARLES GASTNER, Boston, contusions on back and limbs.

KATE KAHL, Boston, severe scalp wound.

J. C. HUTCHINSON, Montgomery, Vt., spinal column injured.

JOSEPH E. JACQUES, Fitchburg, Mass., contusion over eyes, and hips and legs bruised.

HENRY MOTT, Alburg, Vt, injured internally.

ANDREW WHEELER, Fitchburg, Mass., cut over eyes and face burned.

MRS. JOHN GRAHAM, Medford, Mass., ankle sprained and spine injured.

JAS. KILEY, Burke, N. Y., left arm broken and head bruised.

C. M. HOSMER, Lowell, Mass., leg and body bruised.

JOSEPH MAIGUET, Three Rivers, Que., wounded about body.

The following named persons were slightly injured:—

Fred. A Fisher and Howard W. Smith, of Gloucester, Mass.; Miss Maria Sadler, Ormistown, Que.; Polly Arie, Chicopee, Mass.; Herbert Cushing, Middleboro, Mass.; Andrew A. Wheeler, Fitchburg, Mass., and George Parker, a brakeman, of St. Albans.

ALLEGED KIDNAPPING.

A Farmer Said to Have Taken a French Lad Away.

The mysterious disappearance of a little boy about twelve years old from his home at the extreme end of St Andrem street, on Thursday last, created considerable commotion among the residents of that section of the city. Various and conflicting rumors were afloat. One to the effect that the boy had been skating below the Good Shepperds' convent and was drowned in a hole in the ice. His parents, who are respectable French residents of that section of the city, were naturally much alarmed over the fate of their child. A little companion who was playing with him reluctantly confessed on the following evening that they were both playing and had got on to a farmer's sleigh when the driver caught his companion and drove off with him. The farmer was under the influence of liquor and resided near Torbolton. On arriving at that place the child was almost perished and exhausted from crying and struggling to escape. The next moring the farmer's wife ordered the boy to be driven back to the city and reached home only last night. His father will take proceedings against the kidnapper.—Ottawa Free Press.

Making the Government Supreme.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—In the testimony before the Legislative Investigating Committee to-day Master Workman Quinn stated that he was in favor of the Government assuming all kinds of business.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

DYNAMITE OUTRAGES.

PARIS, Feb. 5.—The Court House and Church at Dijon was badly damaged yesterday by an explosion of dynamite. The miscreants who caused the explosion escaped.

THREE SUICIDES.

PESTH, Feb. 5.—Professor Horvarth, of Pesth University, Herr Oblath, a manufacturer, and a lady stopping at an hotel in this city, committed suicide yesterday.

PETROLEUM IN BELGIUM.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 5.—A local journal announces the discovery of large deposits of petroleum in the Province of Hainault, near the French border.

SCARCELY PROBABLE.

LONDON Feb. 5.—A Nationalist member of Parliament asserts that General Buller and other witnesses who were examined by Earl Cowper's royal commission of inquiry into the state of Lieland, have been requested to cancel or materially alter certain portions of their testimony.

A DENIAL.

PARIS, Feb. 5.—Gen. Boulanger dinies that any official in the War Office has said that the mobilization of the French troops was imminent.

AN APPEAL TO BOULANGER.

PARIS, Feb. 5.—M. De Cassagnac in his paper L'Autorite appeals to Gen. Boulanger who he says has "dreampt" too openly of his couutry's greatness, to resign in order to preserve France from the horrors of war. The appeal continues: "Your spontaneous departure will show that we are determined to do everything possible for peace. If then it is seen that your name was merely the pretext for this gratuitous and dishonest quarrel, we will not be the last to acclaim you our leader against our implacable enemy."

A PLEASANT CONVICTION.

PARIS, Feb. 7.—At a meeting of the Left Centre party in the Senate, yesterday, Mr. Dauphinot, the President, said that he was firmly convinced that peace would be preserved.

MORE PEACEFUL SIGNS.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The latest European despatches are of a more peaceful character. It is credibly stated that M. Herbette, French Ambassador at Berlin, and Count Herbert Bismarck, met yesterday and exchanged peaceful assurances. M. Herbette, it is said, asserted there would be no movement of French troops without the consent of the Council of State, while Count Herbert stated the 70,000 reserves would return to their homes as soon as they had been drilled, that 20,000 more would be called out, drilled and despatched to their homes, and that then there would be no more levies.

THE WAR IN SOUDAN.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—It is reported that Rassbona, at the head of 2,000 troops, has signed a treaty with the other Arab tribes to tolerate no European occupation of the Soudan.

THE GERMAN RESERVES.

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—The Berlin Post denies that Emperor William in recently announcing at a reception that the reserves were to be called out for rifle drill, declared there would be no war. All that the Emperor said, according to the Post, was that it was necessary for the reserves to learn to handle the new repeating rifle.

HEALEY ELECTED.

DUBLIN, Feb. 5.—Mr. T. M. Healey (Nationalist) has been elected to parliament for North Longford without opposition.

FRENCH FRONTIER.

LONDON, Feb., 4.—The Berlin papers state that General Boulanger, the French War Minister, made a flying visit to the fortified town of Verdun to day, and that he rode as far as Anonweiler, to the German frontier, making a strategic reconnaissance. Frontier advices contradict the version of the Paris press, that the object of the construction of the military huts at Circiux is to accommodate invalided soldiers at the frontier forts. On the contrary the dispatches say the cavalry now going to the huts do not form a part of the garrison forces.

A STORMY DEBATE.

ROME, Feb. 4.—The debate on the credit of 5,000,000f asked for by the Government for the sending of reinforcements to the Soudan was resumed in the Chamber of Deputies to day. Count Dirobilant, Minister of Foreign Affairs, urged that whatever might be the Italian position at Massowah the country ought to consider it an episode of secondary impor ance, and that the action of Italy in European affairs should be in no wise hampered. He further said that the cabinet would not accept a vote unless it implied full confidence in the Government. Signor Boudini moved that the House pass to the order of the day, whereupon Premier Depretis announced that if the motion was adopted the Government would resign. The motion was rejected by a vote of 215 to 181, and the credit bill was afterward passed by secret ballot, the vote being 317 to 12.

CAUSES OF DEPRESSION.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—About fifty Conservative members of Parliament met yesterd y to discuss the question of a measure to be based upon the report of the commission appointed to enquire into the causes of the depression of trade. The consensus of opinion favored the tabling of the resolution supporting the principle of reciprocity and declaring that where foreign fiscal arrangements attack British trade countervailing duties should be levied. Several drafts of motion were discussed and finally referred to another meeting.

TALK OF A COALITION.

PARIS, Feb. 5.—A dispatch from Vienna to the Temps says: "Prince Bismarck has succeeded in establishing a coalition between Austria, England and Italy against Russia. Germany will join the coalition if France supports Russia."

HOME RULE FOR SCOTLAND.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The question of Home Rule is about to be approached from a new side of the House of Commons independent of the Parnellite and Gladstonian movements. Sir George Campbell, Gladstonian member for Kirkcaldy Division, Scotland, is going to move an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne, which will raise the question of Home Rule for Scotland without particular reference to the other members of the United Kingdom, or even to the rest of Great Britain.

Labor Troubles in the States.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—The clothing cutters and trimmers, who belong to the Knights of Labor here, will be locked out on Monday.

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1887.

THE COXTOWN CANDIDATE.

(Concluded.)

But the article in question is silent as to some matters to which, since Mr. Cox is anxious to have his "personal" claims pressed upon the electors, we deem it right to call attention. The similarity of the tone and language of the article we have been discussing to a fly-sheet issued in Mr. Cox's interest, in the Cox-Sawers contest for the Mayoralty, has recalled the latter to our minds. Among other things put forward on that occasion as reasons why the people should elect Mr. Cox Mayor, were some which have either slipt Mr. Cox's memory or are not now deemed worthy of prominence. Permit us to remind him and the electors of them: Under the heading of "The Pulp Works" we were told that "HE made it what it is to-day (Dec., 1883), A FLOURISHING MANUFACTORY." Pray where is this "flourishing manufactory" to-day? Echo answers: where!

Then we have another big puff for Geo. A. under the heading of the "William Hamilton Manufacturing Company," but not a word about it to-day. Why is this? Surely it cannot be true that Mr. Cox's "capital" proved as much an apple of Sodom to this company as Mr. Peter Ryan's shoddy, a few years ago, proved to the purchasers thereof, and therefore the less said about it the better. Again we were told on that occasion that "In relation to one of the functions of the Council Board, that of dispensing civic charity, the Mayor holds an important position. * * * Mr. Cox's well-known charitable disposition will, in the office of Mayor, tend to result beneficially to the poor and the town finances, which have been too largely drawn upon in the past. * * With Mr. Cox's well-known charitable character, it is more than probable that very many of the cases appealing to him for relief will, as the quickest way, be relieved by himself personally without the Town Council or town finances being troubled with their consideration. A man that made the munificent donation of Moira Hall, worth $11,000, for charitable purposes, will not allow the poor of the town to suffer while he is Mayor." Ergo: The poor should vote for him because of their poverty, and the tax-payers should do the same because Mr. Cox would not allow the "town finances," (in other words their pockets) to be "too largely drawn upon" as they had been "in the past" for this purpose. Well, Mr. Cox was elected Mayor on that occasion, and here is the way in which "a workingman's" promises were fulfilled:—Expenditure by the town under the heading of charity, in 1882, $956.64; in 1883, $1,065.20; in 1884 (Mr. Cox's first year as Mayor) $1,423.07 and in 1885 (the last year of Mr. Cox's mayoralty) $1,309.16! Now understand us: We are not finding fault with or calling in question the wisdom or necessity for the largely increased expenditure under this head during the two years Mr. Cox was Mayor as compared with the two that preceeded it. But we do say these facts are the best possible proof of the value to be attached to the anti-election promises of Mr. Cox and the Coxtownites, and in the words of the Coxtownite who thus deceived the electors of Peterborough on that occasion while masquerading as "A Working Man" we will conclude by reminding our readers that "the real friend of the working man is not the demagogue that goes about patting him on the back and showing a suspicious fondness for him just about election time; but his real friend is the man who puts in motion springs of labour and gives employment to willing hands."

Whether Mr. Geo. A. Cox or Mr. James Stevenson have done most of this, according to their means, judge ye!

THE TORONTO AND OTTAWA.

IF Mr. Cox must needs desparage the services to the public rendered by any one but himself, in order to magnify his own, he might at all events refrain from misrepresenting the dead. He has very unfairly accused the late Mr. W. H. Scott of selling the Toronto and Ottawa Railway to the Midland Railway Company. Over and over again Mr. Scott refused offers for a controlling interest in the Toronto and Ottawa Railway, because he believed they came from agents of the Grand Trunk or Midland Railway, and were designed to frustrate competition. Even when prostrated by the disease which unfortunately proved fatal, his greatest anxiety was that the road for which he had laboured so assiduously should not fall into hands in which it would be "burked" or cease to be carried out as an independent line. Even then he would not have consented to the transfer to Mr. Gooderham, but for that gentleman's solemn assurances that he would use the charter to construct an independent line and not to drop it or hand it over to a rival company.

It is therefore most unfair to say that Mr. Scott sold it to the Midland, as if he were knowingly a party to such a transaction. If he did sell it to the Midland he was induced to do so by false pretences, and if Mr. Cox knew that such was the nature of the transfer he must have been at least a tacit participator in the fraud.

That we now have a competing line is a benefit that we have obtained in spite of Mr. Cox's efforts to thwart its construction.

COULD HE CONVERT THEM?

WE learned from Mr. Paterson one fact that has a very important bearing upon our election in West Peterborough. He told us that in the time of the depression in 1878 he personally was willing to raise the ordinary duties from 17½ per cent. to 20 per cent., but Sir Richard Cartwright would not hear of such an increase. Now Mr. Paterson is a gentleman of great weight with the Reform party, yet even his powerful influence had no effect in such a time of terrible depression and suffering to induce Sir Richard Cartwright to swerve from his theoretical hostility to such protection as would preserve the home market for home productions.

If Mr. Paterson, with his real or assumed sympathy with protection, could not in such a crisis prevail upon his party leaders to modify their views, and give some measure of protection to Canadian industries, is it at all likely that Mr. Cox would be more successful? Is it not rather more likely that Mr. Cox, like Mr. Paterson, would himself be converted so as to take a position far less favorable to our industrial prosperity and development?

Is it not certain that Mr. Cox, like Mr. Paterson, would do his best to place and keep in power the party that by its leaders and its chief journals is still bitterly denouncing the N. P., those who advocate it, and those who benefit by it?

PERSONAL CONSIDERATIONS.

MR. COX pretended, in his speech in the Opera House, that the REVIEW had introduced personalities into this contest without provocation. Now, it was Mr. Cox who introduced personal considerations not only in his canvass, but in a published statement when he caused it to be represented that the lock works were paying an exorbitant rent to Mr. Stevenson, knowing well that Mr. Stevenson was not receiving it, but that he had aided the company in a very substantial manner. Now that his story has been disproved, he says he did not name Mr. Stevenson, but he acquiesced in these misstatements as long as they could serve his purpose. Indeed, unless they were intended to convey this false impression there would have been no sense in their use as contradicting Mr. Stevenson's correct statements.

The fact is that, apart from his claim to differ from his party on the most important question of the day, Mr. Cox's candidature is based wholly on personal considerations. This would alone be a sufficient reason for considering his personal claims. When he bases those claims on a usurpation of the credit due to others it becomes our duty to strip him of his borrowed plumes. In doing so we have stated nothing that cannot be proved if necessary.

NOT THE SAME.

THE point at issue is entirely missed by Mr. Cox, when in reference to the bogus syndicate he asserts that it was as well able to construct the C.P.R. as those who have undertaken and completed it. Their ability is a matter of opinion which need not be considered. The important point is that their intention was not to complete it, but to thwart its completion. They reserved power to the government to release them from the necessary but costly section north of Lake Superior, thus replacing our great national highway by the Reform scheme of a mere feeder from our prairies to the United States railway system. The offer of the bogus syndicate could only have been accepted by a defeat of the Macdonald Administration, when Mr. Blake would have come into power and have adopted the mutilated scheme on which he and the bogus syndicate were agreed. Thus the offer of these gentlemen was really only in pretence for the same work, being for an altogether different plan which Canada was most decided in rejecting.

In his speech at Bradburn's Hall, Mr. Paterson, after some ingenious manipulations of the figures of the public debt, stated that the poor man equally with the rich had to bear the burden of the interest as of other expenditures. The wife of the working man, he told us, if she went to a store, had to purchase articles that had paid duties as well as the rich man's wife. This is not so. The wife of a man choosing for any reason to be economical can buy Canadian goods which do not pay duty. As a rule it is articles of luxury that are imported subject to duty, and those who buy them contribute voluntarily to the revenue.

THE Globe has been publishing a bogus letter with the signature "A Tory M. P." The imposture is self confessed, for the writer could not be an M. P. as there are none at present and he is no more likely to be a Tory. It was probably written by the person who has forged several other letters for the Globe.

THE ENEMY OF INDUSTRY.

We have been told with tiresome iteration that Mr. Blake is a statesman, and that he is a most honorable man. We are assured first that he is capable of only the broadest, most comprehensive and most far-reaching views of public matters, and he is guided in his public actions only by the most patriotic and strictly honorable motives. He is too big a man, we are given to understand, to be influenced by personal considerations. Envy, jealousy, personal ambition are vices to which he is a total stranger; and the idea that, if he were at the head of affairs, he could think of making public interests serve party ends is so abhorrent to his nature that it is a slander and a scandal to hint at such a thing. This is the way in which Mr. Blake's party friends write about him.

But in their ungarded moments they indulge in quite other ideas of the happy possible future, when Mr. Blake shall be the arbiter of the country and the dispenser of public patronage and favors. Read these paragraphs, from the Toronto Globe of Monday:

"If the manufacturers attempt to cheat the people of their power to punish him and his fellow traitors, on their own heads be the consequences."

"The manufacturers could not by any possibility commit a more unwise act than to array themselves as a class against the rest of the community."

"Do they want it? make it so that they must be beaten down before the treasury of the country can be rescued from the hands of rascality?".

Then read from the Hamilton Evening Times of Tuesday:

"Liberals owe it to themselves to take note of the renegades and remind them of their apostacy when, at the next session of Parliament—the first to be held with Mr. Blake as Premier—they head deputations to Ottawa asking to have their ideas incorporated into legislation. Mr. Blake has said—and he is not a man who speaks recklessly—that the Reform party shall win on Feb. 22nd, whether Sir John Macdonald's endeavors to rope in the manufacturers succeeds or not. Some of them we opine, will wish on Feb. 23rd that they had taken the warning Mr. Blake was careful to give in good time. It is much easier to ask a favor from a friend than from an enemy, and any manufacturer who find a political enemy in Mr. Blake will be themselves to blame for the relationship."

More cowardly, more despicable, more infamous motives were never attributed to a public man than are in the above paragraphs attributed by journals of his own party to Mr. Blake. A man who is truly a statesman will, if placed in power, so mould the public policy as best to serve the whole country; but two Reform journals tell their readers that if Mr. Blake attain to power he will make laws to revenge himself upon his political opponents.

There are two views of the policy which ought to govern respecting the tariff. One is the protectionist view; that customs duties should be so imposed as to protect and encourage home industries. The other is the free trade view: that duties should be imposed solely with a view to the collection of revenue. It appears that a third school has arisen, of which Mr. Blake is the chief, who hold that duties shall be so imposed as to punish and oppress the political opponents of the party in power. And that is the idea of Mr. Blake's statesmanship which is entertained by those most familiar with the man.

We presume that a manufacturer is not necessarily so vile a person that he ought to be deprived of the rights of a freeman. But the Grit papers boldly affirm that if those gentlemen do exercise their rights as freemen they will do it at their peril. They think the National Policy will benefit the country; and they meet to concert measures for maintaining in office the friends of the National Policy. But if they do that we are told that they will "find a political enemy in Mr. Blake." For cool, cowardly insolence this passes anything ever yet avowed in Canadian politics

In some quarters it is pretended that Mr. Blake is not really hostile to the National Policy. That fraudulent pretence will no longer be made For it is openly admitted that those who are foremost in defence and support of the National Policy will "find an enemy in Mr. Blake." An enemy of the industries of his country! An enemy of the industrial works in which tens of thousands of Canadian artisans find employment! That is the character given to Mr. Blake by his own friends; and we are further told that he will, if he ever has the power, so arrange the tariff as to injure people independent enough to vote against him.—Hamilton Spectator.

A Shocking Accident.

QUEBEC, Feb. 5.—A horrible accident occurred here this morning at the Grand Trunk ferry. A young man named Connolly slipped, and falling between the boat and the wharf, was crushed to death.

Devices of Advertisers.

So many devices are resorted to by advertisers, that the ordinary reader sometimes becomes shy of the tempting paragraph, fearing the advice that is concealed in it like a pill in jelly. Who, for instance, on beginning this item, would have supposed that its purpose was to make known the truth that Dr. Sage's Catarrh remedy is what it claims to be—a cure for a disease at once loathsome to friends, and annoying and even dangerous to the sufferer.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - -	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends. In curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive at least to try one bottle, as 70,000 dozen bottes were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada. d90

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

New Advertisements.

What is it? Where is it?

CULVER'S COUGH BALSAM

A valuable compound of Tar, Wild Cherry and Healing Balsams, for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough and all throat and lung diseases. The best cough medicine known for consumption. Price 25 cents. Sold by

GEO. A. SHERIN, Druggist

Floral Drug Store, Opposite the Market.

That's What they all Say

Culver's Cough Balsam is the best cough medicine I ever used. It was the worst cold I ever had and it stopped it at once. Sold by

GEO. A. SHERIN,

Floral Drug Store, Market.

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. B. BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office.
Postal Address, Box 431. d118w3

Dominion Elections

22

Nomination Day, February 15th.
Polling Day, February 22nd.

A New Candidate in the Field

HIS PLATFORM:

GENTLEMEN.—I have no desire to tamper with the votes of that noble army of our citizens who freely exercise the Franchise on behalf of their favorite polititical leaders. But in order to take a hand in the present political struggle for supremary between Grit and Tory, I have decided to come out and offer such tempting

BRIBES TO THE ELECTORS

As cannot fail to place me at the head of the polls.

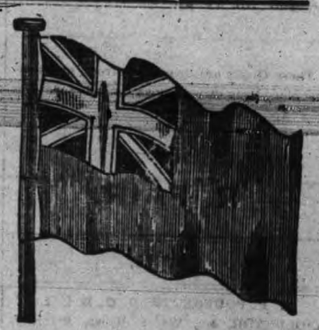
I would scorn, like all other candidates for parliamentary honors, to buy up votes, or do aught that might be construed as a violation of our Election laws. My object is a far more patriotic one, namely—that of making a CLEAN SWEEP of all my Winter Clothing and Tweeds before Election day.

Nor will the secresy of the Ballot be infringed by asking purchasers whether they will vote for LEBRUN, COX, or STEVENSON. No, not by a home rule scuttle full! But every elector is expected to attend this exciting Political-Winter-Clothing Sale, and to hurrah for LEBRUN, so as to elect him by an overwhelming majority as the Workingmen's Favourite Candidate.

SAMPLES OF THE BRIBES

SUITS, made to order - $12
Formerly sold for $15.

SUITS, made to order - $14
Formerly sold for $17.



SUITS, Ready-made for $5
And upwards.

PANTS made to order for
$3.00, $4.00, $4.50.

If the Electors will only ponder over these facts and see and handle these Bribes for themselves, I feel certain that the 22nd will be a cold day for the other candidates.

H. LeBrun

CITY CLOTHING HOUSE.

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00
LADIES.....50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG,
Manager.

1d45

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 2 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 10c.

To every purchaser of one pound of our 50c. tea, 5 lbs. of Raisins for 15c.

We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

BY HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

CHAPTER VII.

Carriston slept on late into the next day. Knowing that every moment of bodily and mental rest was a precious boon to him, I left him undisturbed. He was still fast asleep when, about midday, a gentleman called upon me. He sent up no card, and I supposed he came to consult me professionally.

The moment he entered my room I recognised him. He was the thin-lipped, gentlemanly person whom I had met on my journey to Bournemouth last spring—the man who had seemed so much impressed by my views on insanity, and had manifested such interest in the description I had given—without mentioning any name—of Carriston's peculiar mind.

I should have at once claimed acquaintanceship with my visitor, but before I could speak he advanced and apologised gracefully for his intrusion.

"You will forgive it," he added, "when I tell you my name is Ralph Carriston."

Remembering our chance conversation, the thought that, after all, Charles Carriston's wild suspicion was well founded flashed through me like lightning. My great hope was that my visitor might not remember my face as I remembered his. I bowed coldly, but said nothing.

"I believe, Dr. Brand," he continued, "you have a young relative of mine at present staying with you?"

"Yes, Mr. Carriston is my guest," I answered. "We are old friends."

"Ah, I did not know that. I do not remember having heard him mention your name as a friend. But, as it is so, no one knows better than you do the unfortunate state of his health. How do you find him to-day—violent?"

I pretended to ignore the man's meaning, and answered smilingly: "Violence is the last thing I should look for. He is tired out and exhausted by travel, and is in great distress. That, I believe, is the whole of his complaint."

"Yes, yes, to be sure, poor boy. His sweetheart has left him, or something. But as a doctor you must know that his mental condition is not quite what it should be. His friends are very anxious about him. They fear that a little restraint—temporary, I hope—must be put upon his actions. I called to ask your advice and aid."

"In what, Mr. Carriston?"

"In this. A young man can't be left free to go about threatening his friends' lives. I have brought Dr. Daley with me—you know him, of course. He is below in my carriage. I will call him up, with your permission. He could then see poor Charles, and the needful certificate could be signed by you and two doctors."

"Mr. Carriston," I said, decidedly, "let me tell you in the plainest words that your cousin is at present as fully in possession of his wits as you are. Dr. Daley—whoever he may be—could sign no certificate, and in our day no asylum would dare to keep Mr. Carriston within its walls."

An unpleasant, sinister look crossed my listener's face, but his voice still remained bland and suave. "I am sorry to differ from you, Dr. Brand," he said, "but I know him better than you do. I have seen him as you have never yet seen him. Only last night he came to me in a frantic state. I expected every moment he would make a murderous attack on me."

"Perhaps he fancied he had some reasons for anger," I said.

Ralph Carriston looked at me with those cold eyes of which his cousin had spoken. "If the boy has succeeded in converting you to any of his delusions, I can only say that doctors are more credulous than I fancied. But the question is not worth arguing. You decline to assist me, so I must do without you. Good morning, Dr. Brand."

He left the room as gracefully as he had entered it. I remained in a state of doubt. It was curious that Ralph Carriston turned out to be the man whom I had met in the train; but the evidence offered by the coincidence was not enough to convict him of the crime of endeavoring to drive his cousin mad by such a far-fetched stratagem as the inveigling away of Madeline Rowan. Besides, even in wishing to prove Charles Carriston mad, he had much to say on his side. Supposing him to be innocent of having abducted Madeline, Carriston's violent behavior on the preceding evening must have seemed very much like insanity. In spite of the aversion with which Ralph Carriston inspired me, I scarcely knew which side to believe.

Carriston still slept; so when I went out on my afternoon rounds I left a note begging him to remain in the house until my return. Then I found him up, dressed and looking much more like himself. When I entered dinner was on the table, so not until that meal was over could we talk unrestrainedly upon the subject which was uppermost in both our minds.

As soon as we were alone I turned toward my guest. "And now," I said, "we must settle what to do. There seems to me to be but one course open. You have plenty of money, so your best plan is to engage skilled police assistance. Young ladies can't be spirited away like this without leaving a trace."

To my surprise Carriston flatly objected to this course. "No," he said, "I shall not go to the police. The man who took her away has placed her where no police can find her. I must find her myself."

"Find her yourself! Why, it may be months—years—before you do that! Good heavens, Carriston! She may be murdered, or worse——"

"I shall know if any further evil happens to her—then I shall kill Ralph Carriston."

"But you tell me you have no clew whatever to trace her by. Do talk plainly. Tell me——"

(To be continued.)

NEWS NOTES.

The Inter-State Commerce bill has received the approval of the President.

Senior Major Allan, of the Queen's Own Rifles, has been appointed lieutenant-colonel of the regiment in succession to Colonel Miller, resigned.

The survey of the route for the Central Ontario railway to North Bay has been completed, and the surveying party have returned to Belleville. They report the land fairly level and well timbered.

A terrific water spout burst over the village of Chesnut Mound, near Carthage, Tenn., Wednesday night, almost ruining that part of the country. A child was carried off by the storm and drowned.

GENERAL.

Examinations for Dominion land surveyors will be held in Ottawa on Tuesday, Feb. 15th.

The Govenor-General has appointed Lieut.-Colonel H. R. Smith, deputy-sergeant-at-arms of the House of Commons, an honorary A. D. C. on his staff, the first Canadian officer ever appointed to the position.

It is stated in ecclesiastical circles that the elevation of Mgr. de Rende, the Papal Nuncio at Pari-, to the Cardinalate, is only a preliminary step to his election as Pope on the death of Leo XIII.

Canadian capitalists will apply at the next session of Parliament for power to build a line of railway, about 35 miles long, from Goderich to Wingham or some otherpoint which will give the Canadian Pacific an outlet on Lake Huron.

Dun, Wyman & Co. report a total of 261 failures throught the country for the past week, as compared with 271 the week previous. Thirty-two of the number were in Canada, a decrease of three compared with the preceding week.

York County Council at Friday's meeting took the initiative toward the abolition of toll gates by deciding that after the expiration of the present leases four of them shall not be renewed, and that the remainder shall only be leased for one year.

MINDEN.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.—We often hear the expressin used, "What folks do see when they have no gun?" and we might add what accidents will happen when there is no doctor about. During the past week, there was no less than three accidents in this locality. Samuel Kernahon, son of Mr. John Kernahon, Scotch Line, Anson, while chopping in the woods had his axe caught by a branch in swinging it over his head and misdirecting its aim struck the inside of his foot cutting it almost half way through the instep and making a dreadful wound. He had to be brought over twenty miles to his home for medical assistance, but owing to the absence of our doctor, this could not be had, so Mr. Croly very kindly used his best skill in attending to the wound until the Doctor's return. Mr. James Welch in the employment of Dr. Curray had his collar bone broken and was attended by two amateur medicos, both handsome men, but without much surgical experience. We learn, however, that Mr. Welch is progressing favorably. Mr. Simeon Lott, who has the contract for building the Portage bridge across Gull River near Workman's Mill, had the misfortune while working on that job to cut his foot rather badly, but was able to get along without surgical assistance.—Echo.

Peterborough Markets

WHEAT.
Wheat, fall, per bushel	0 80	to	0 80
" spring "	0 82	to	0 82
Arnecta Wheat	0 00	to	0 85
FLOUR AND MEAL.
Flour, Patent Process, per cwt.	$2 50	to	$2 50
Flour, bakers per cwt.	2 25	to	2 25
Flour, stone process	1 80	to	1 80
COARSE GRAIN.
Barley, per bushel	0 45	to	0 60
Peas	0 50	to	0 54
Oats,	0 29	to	0 29
Rye	0 45	to	0 45
MILL FEED.
Oat chop, per cwt	1 10	to	1 10
Pea chop, "	1 10	to	1 10
Barley chop "	1 00	to	1 00
Pollards "	0 80	to	0 80
Bran, per ton	11 00	to	11 00
VEGETABLES.
Potatoes, per bag	0 70	to	0 70
Cabbage, per head	0 05	to	0 07
Beets, per bag	0 40	to	0 40
Onions, per bag	1 25	to	1 40
Carrots, small red, per bag	0 35	to	0 40
Carrots, field, per bag	0 15	to	0 20
Turnips	0 20	to	0 25
Parsnips	0 30	to	0 40
MEAT, POULTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE.
Beef, by the quarter per cwt	3 50	to	4 50
Pork, " " " "	6 00	to	6 25
Mutton, per lb	0 06	to	0 08
Veal, per lb	none offering
Lamb, per lb	0 07	to	0 [illegible]
Dressed Hogs	5 50	to	6 00
Hogs, live weight	3 75	to	4 25
Tallow, per lb	0 04	to	0 06
Lard	0 10	to	0 11
Chickens, per pair	0 45	to	0 65
Ducks, per pair	0 60	to	0 70
Geese, each	0 50	to	0 65
Turkeys, each	0 75	to	1 00
Butter, fresh roll, per lb	0 18	to	0 20
Butter, packed prime, per lb	0 16	to	0 18
Cheese, private sale per lb	0 12	to	0 13
Eggs, per doz	0 19	to	0 20
Hay, per ton	7 00	to	10 00
Straw, per load	2 00	to	3 00
Wood, hard, per load	3 50	to	4 50
Wood, soft, per load	2 50	to	3 00
WOOL AND HIDES.
Fleece wool	0 18	to	0 18
Southdown wool	0 21	to	0 20
Hides, per cwt.	5 50	to	6 00
Hides, trimmed, per cwt.	6 00	to	7 00
Lamb skins	25	to	25
Sheep Pelts, each	25	to	25
Sheep skins	1 00	to	1 00
FISH.
White Fish, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Speckled Trout, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Maskinonge, per pound	0 05	to	0 05
Bass, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Finnie Haddie, per lb	0 10	to	0 10
Simcoe Herring, per do	0 30	to	0 30
Salt Mackrel, per doz	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per quart	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per can	0 45	to	0 55

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS—Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

MONEY TO LEND!

HAVING resigned his connection with the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Ld.,) the undersigned has made arrangements for lending an unlimited amount at SIX PER CENT, on terms more favourable than any Peterborough or Toronto Company, and will be pleased to see his many old friends with a view to making them new advances or readjusting their present Mortgages.

A. P. POUSSETTE.

HENFEED

Small Wheat - - - - - 90c per 100 lbs,
Barley - - - - - - - 95c per 100 lbs.
Pure Wheat Spring or Fall, $1.25 per 100 lbs.

J. W. FLAVELLE,

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. SIMCOE STREET.

New Sugar Cured Hams

12½ CENTS PER POUND.

Spiced Rolls and Breakfast Bacon.
Spare Ribs, Tenderloins, Shanks, &c.

GEO. MATTHEWS

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md79w43

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th.

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, San Francisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE, Solicitor.

d104w18

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

E. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears, Sweet Florida Oranges, Malago Grapes, new English Walnuts, Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecan Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Partie a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS, George St., Peterborough

CHRISTMAS GOODS

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON, Ashburnham

d89

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods, Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take you LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE, Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skillful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books' Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choos from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse, [SEPOR2] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AP22] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1, Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
8 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. & C. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
10 55 p m	Toronto and West, via G. & C. R.	6 00 p m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
8 20 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	8 00 p m
12 00 m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)	8 00 a m
4 50 p m		4 30 p m
8 20 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope	11 00 a m
5 15 p m	do do	8 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
4 00 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville	11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore	1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Hamtain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clysdale, Paudash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays. Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	7 30 p m
9 00 a m		6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), the Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbadoes, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibralter, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxemburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamaica, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanics and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanics and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland. Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents,

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $30 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 50 cents for Book of 150 pages GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.,'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods. Without which none are genuine.

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms. TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WARE ROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Sale of Periodicals.

The annual sale of papers and periodicals will take place at the Mechanics' Institute this evening.

Half-Price.

From this date season tickets for skating will be sold for half price. Apply to Mr. McGill or the bookstores.

Remanded.

Marino, the Italian, was arranged at the Police Court this morning but was remanded again for another week, pending the result of Murphy's wound.

Mechanics' Institute.

The regular quarterly meeting of the members of the Mechanics' Institue will be held this evening. The usual sale of papers and magazines will take place after the meeting.

Skating Carnival.

Remember the Grand Fancy Dress Carnival on Friday evening, Feb. 11th. Political contest, skating competitions, handsome prizes and everything to ensure a pleasant evening's entertainment.

The Domestic fashion sheet for February has arrived at Turnbull's, call and get one.

Look Out for Him.

The Newcastle correspondent of the Bowmanville News says:—"One of the 'dark lantern' brigade was here, said to be looking after the Reform interest. He has left for Peterborough. He was here five days."

Lock Makers Ball.

The employees of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company's works will give their second grand ball in Bradburn's Opera House on February 17th. A competent committee have the matter of making arrangements in hand, with Mr. J. C. Taber as Secretary-Treasurer.

Charlotte Street Church.

The regular quarterly meeting in connection with the Charlotte Street Methodist Church was held on Sunday morning. The Love Feast was held at 9.45 a. m., and after the regular service a reception of new members was held. Seventeen applicants were admitted to the church membership.

NEW Prints now on Exhibition at the Golden Lion.—R. FAIR.

Y. M. C. A. Convention.

At the Young Men's Christain Association Convention, at Kingston, Mr. H. S. Griffin, of Peterborough, was elected a member of the Executive Committee. Districts were formed for the purpose of inter-visitations. Peterborough District, of which Mr. Geo. E. Williams was appointed Chairman, includes Peterborough, Lindsay, Cobourg, Port Hope, Bowmanville, Oshawa and Whitby.

Great Sale of Dry Goods.

Messrs. T. Dolan & Co., a dry goods firm well known throughout this district for the last ten years, have announced their intention of retiring from the business in favor of a new firm. In order to reduce the value of the present stock one-half by March 15th they will offer goods at cost price. The present value of the stock is $20,000, so that purchasers may rely on getting the chance of a great variety of goods. Messrs. Dolan & Co. are noted for doing everything they advertise, and this will be no exception. This is a bona fide sale. Purchasers will look to their own interests by buying at Dolan's from this till March 15th. Remember the place, corner of George and Hunter streets, Peterborough.

SEE R. Fair's new Embroideries; a magnificent display at the Golden Lion.

"London After Dark."

The Wilson Day Dramatic Company closed a two weeks' engagement at Bradburn's Opera House on Saturday night. There was a large attendance. The play presented was "After Dark in London." The unfolding of the plot rivetted the interest of the audience until the close of the last act. As it proceeded along, marked with narrow escapes, attempted suicides, desertions and poverty, it was accompanied by enough drollery to keep the audience in good spirits. Mr. Henderson, as the Jew, won fresh laurels as a comedy actor. Mr. Day and Miss Osborne, as usual, took their parts well, and the other members of the company acquitted themselves with credit. A special feature in the presentation of the play was the introduction of special scenery. A railroad train is seen to dash through a tunnel at full speed, accompanied with the clanging of bells and puffing of steam. Blackfriar's bridge by moonlight was also interesting.

Among Turnbull's new French dress goods will be found tints of peacock blue, also the new gobelin shade in several qualities with trimmings to match.

THE HON. THOS. WHITE

Will Speak at the Conservative Meeting To-night—Other Speakers.

The first Conservative meeting held in town since the Dominion election campaign opened will be held in Bradburn's Opera House this evening.

Mr. Stevenson, the Conservative candidate for West Peterborough, will address the meeting.

The Hon. Thos. White, Minister of the Interior, will also be present and deliver an address.

Mr. Nicholas Murphy, barrister, of Toronto, will also deliver an address on public questions.

There should be a large attendance of the electors to hear the important questions to be decided on Feb. 22nd discussed, and Reform pretensions and fallacies exposed.

Mr. White will arrive on the 6.41 C. P. R. train. The meeting will commence at 8 o'clock.

No Quorum.

Owing to their being no quorum no meeting of the Board of Education was held on Saturday night.

Personal.

The emigration to Montreal has commenced, this being the opening day of the carnival. To-day Messrs. H. LeBrun, J. Hackett, E. Sherwood, E. Brown, H. C. Winch, R. Neill, J. Fairweather, F. Stenson, R. Smith, W. Simpson and wife and Mrs. Bradburn and daughter left by C. P. R., and Mr. W. Green and wife, Miss Daly and Mr Stuebenger, by G. T. R., for the city.

It May Be Remarked

—That the Day Dramatic Company open at Port Hope to-night.

—That the jolly face of manager Mortimer will be missed.

—That those who heard Mr. Paterson on Wednesday night should here the Hon. Thomas White's reply to-night.

—That Mr. Nicholas Murphy, of note as a lawyer, has the reputation of being a forcible speaker.

Turnbull is showing a fine assortment of new grey dress goods from the light silver to the dark Oxford shades.

Jubilation at Whitby.

The Whitby Chronicle says:—"The Whitby Curling Club won eighteen out of twenty matches last year and consequently don't require a great deal of puffing up; but still the boys of the town felt like jubilating a little on Wednesday night when the Curling rinks returned from Peterborough after winning first place in the Midland district for the final contest, which is to be played at Toronto later on. It was nearly 11 o'clock when the train arrived, still the band and the torches stayed right there and serenaded the representatives of the Club as they came off the cars. Then a procession was formed, and a mild coating of paint slung at the town, and bonfires blazed to light the midnight meanderer home. Appearances seem to indicate that Whitby is to win the match for the Ontario tankard."

CENTS white unlaundried shirts all sizes for 45 cents at the Golden Lion.—R. FAIR.

The Roarin' Game.

Mr. McGill, Secretary of the Curling Club, has received a despatch from the Governor General's Secretary announcing that in the competition for the Governor General's prize, the Truro (Nova Scotia) club stood first and that Peterborough was a tie with the Granites of Winnipeg for second place. The Peterboroughs have been requested to play at wick-and-curl-in to decide the tie.

The point game for the club cup is in progress this afternoon. It will be concluded this evening.

On Saturday in the preliminary competition of group 7 for the Ontario Tankard the Toronto Caledonians defeated the Scarboro Heathers by 8 shots.

—Orillia beat Churchill in a preliminary Tankard draw by a score of 50 to 38.

These one horse places haven't got things down to Midland district style yet. They go playing all over the country. Midlanders meet all together and settle the matter in a couple of days.

The Toronto-Lindsay match for a Caledonia medal will be played here on Friday.

Diabolical, if True.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The Evening Journal has received a letter from a person professing to be "A Disgusted Communist," who asserts that an infernal machine was shipped on the National Line steamer Erin, which sailed for Liverpool yesterday. The Erin carried a large cargo, but no passengers.

Still Talking War.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The adjutant general of the army has been collecting data as to the strength of the militia force of the United States since "war talk" began. There are now over 92,000 members of the organized militia, an increase of 10,000 over previous reports. Reports concerning the available companies which are not part of the militia show that they foot up a membership of 700,000.

Death in a Gravel Pit.

A fatal accident happened in the gravel pit a few miles north of Deseronto on Friday morning. John Penn and Andrew Claus, two Indians, were working under an overhanging piece of ground, when it fell in on them. The men depended on the frost for protection and had not taken the precaution to prop it up. They were completely buried by the cave-in, and when released shortly after both were dead. Penn was a married man, and leaves a wife and family of four or five children. Claus was a young man and single. The men were in the employ of the county, and were engaged in getting out gravel for banking. —Belleville Intelligencer.

Turnbull deals exclusively in the extremes, the best and the cheapest. See his new stock of print shirtings. See Sucker's white and grey cottons, cottonades and tweeds.

LATEST WIRE FLASHES.

DISORDER IN BELFAST.

BELFAST, Feb. 6.—Large crowds of people assembled in the Shank Hill district yesterday, but there was no disorder, owing to the presence of a strong force of police. At midnight, the people having retired to their houses, the police were withdrawn. About noon to-day two prisoners were arrested on Servia street for rioting. A mob tried to rescue the prisoner and the police were compelled to fire. A youth was wounded in the neck and was taken to an hospital. The district has since been quiet.

A UNIONIST CONFERENCE.

MANCHESTER, Feb. 5.—A great Unionist conference was held here to-day. Among the speakers was Sir Henry James, who was Attorney-General under Mr. Gladstone's last administration. He said that while a year ago the Liberal leaders did not utter a single word in behalf of Home Rule, they now associated themselves with the promulgators of the plan of campaign. What safeguards, he asked, could protect the minority in Ireland? Casting off the Irish Loyalists was similar to abandoning a drowning man. "If Irish landlords appear harsh," he said, "remember that the tenants and the agitators declared war against them. If landlordism is a crime in Ireland it must also be a crime in England."

ADVICE FOR BISMARK.

MOSCOW, Feb. 5.—The Viedmosti says: "Prince Bismark should not encourage Austria to adopt an aressive policy in the East, where sooner or later she must come into collision with Russia. Prince Bismark has achieved during his life great deeds. It is now time for him to take a rest. He should be satisfied to conclude his career by consolidating what he has acquired. This he can best do by relinquishing all propositions for a world-wide dictatorship. Such pretension caused the first Napoleon's downfall."

PARNELL'S HEALTH.

His Friends Deny That it is Permanently Impaired.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Rumors have been frequent of late from Europe regarding Mr. Parnell's reticence and invisibility, and these reports have at length shaped themselves into definite reports—some of hereditary consumption, others of impending insanity. The repetition of these stories has caused much comment in this city among the friends of the Irish cause and in some quarters positive alarm. The best informed, however, such as those at the head of the Parliamentary fund, scout the idea of disability and credit Mr. Parnell with positive statesmanship in his every action, never losing sight of the goal for which he has been striving so long.

STAND FORTH BLAKE.

In his Barrie speech Mr. Blake gave a history of his Laurier-Riel combination that cannot be too widely circulated. He was replying to a statement made by Mr. McCarthy that he had sneaked to Ottawa to consult with the Quebec Rielite. Blake's statement was that he did go to Ottawa by appointment to meet Laurier, that Laurier and he met at the station and drove to different hotels, that afterwards Laurier came to his (Mr. Blake's) hotel and they had an interview of several hours duration; that he had just returned from England and was about to speak at London on the Riel question, and had his speech on the subject already prepared and written; that he had it with him at Ottawa and at the interview referred to submitted it to Laurier for his approval, who read and approved of it.

Two great facts stand boldly out in this statement; two facts that forever set at rest any claim Mr. Blake may ever make to be considered either as a patriot or an honorable man.

The first is that the moment he landed he had set the seal of his approval upon the disgraceful and disloyal compact entered into between Edgar on behalf of the Ontario Reformers and the leaders of the Champ de Mars meetings in behalf of the Quebec Rielites, and had thoroughly committed himself to the policy outlined at those meetings in Montreal.

The second, that when during that London speech, which it will be remembered he read from the manuscript that had been submitted for Laurier's approval, he gave utterance to the noble sentiment that he would not construct a platform out of the Regina scaffold, he did it with the full knowledge of what his future course would be; laughing in his sleeve meanwhile at the dupes who cheered his bogus sentiment. —Toronto Standard.

Have you seen Turnbull's 6½ cent fancy check wincey? If not you are missing a bargain.

Wants.

BOARDERS WANTED.

LADIES OR GENTLEMEN wanting board can be accommodated by applying to MRS. LUMSDEN, corner of Aylmer and Charlotte Streets. 6d27

For Sale or to Rent.

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, Solicitor, George Street. d84

Miscellaneous.

Midland Railway of Canada.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR LOCKS LINE," Peterborough, will be received until the 15th day of February, 1887 inclusive, for the construction of works at Peterborough, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen at the office of the engineer of the Midland Division of Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Persons desirous of tendering are requested to make personal enquiry relative to the work to be done and to examine the locality.

No tender will be entertained unless on one of the printed forms, and all the conditions are complied with.

The company does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender. By order

H. BEAD,
Secretary Midland Railway.
G. T. R. Office Montreal. d26

RETIRING

from the Dry Goods Business.

$10,000.00

worth of Dry Goods must be sold before

The 15th day of March, 1887

AT

T. DOLAN & CO'S

As on the above mentioned date, the Dry Goods business carried on by T. Dolan & Co. for the past ten years, will pass into the hands of a new firm, we have decided to reduce our present magnificent stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods amounting to $20,000.00 to one half its volume. In order to accomplish this we have marked all our goods to the bare cash price.

JUST IMAGINE

$8,000 worth of Dress Goods at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Black and Colored Silks at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Mantle Cloths at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Gloves and Hosiery at Cost.

$3,000 worth of Cottons, Bleached and Unbleached, at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Cotton Shirting at Cost

$1,000 worth of Domestics, etc., etc., at Cost.

$2,000 worth of Clouds and Woolen Goods at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Prints and Ginghams at Cost.

EVERYTHING AT COST

The goods must go. This is a genuine cash sale, and no hoax. Remember from now until March 15th, as after that date we intend to direct our attention exclusively to our Tailoring establishment.

T. Dolan & Co

MR J. W. CROSBY

THE

New Music Dealer

Will always be found at his office at MR. WESLEY MILLAR'S, George Street, 2 doors north of Charlotte Street, where he is prepared to give bargains in the celebrated

New York Weber, Steinway, Chickering, Emerson, Lansdown and Stsvenson Pianos.

He is Sole Agent for the Uxbridge & Kilgore Organs. Sample Instruments always in stock. A chat with him about how to purchase a good instrument at a low figure will amply pay you. He has never been and will not now be undersold. d32

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 35 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY

JOHN NUGENT

Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont.
FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 28 Maryland Road, Harrow Road, London, England.
(Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)

☞No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d12eodw6

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

W. W. Johnston & Co.

GIVING UP BUSINESS.

A GENUINE CLERAING OUT SALE.

Having decided to give up business, we will on and after SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15th, offer to the public

THE BIGGEST BARGAINS

They have seen for some time in DRY GOODS. We have marked down everything in the store to such low prices that all will be satisfied. This is not a sale of Winter Goods alone, but a closing out sale, and we will offer at Bargain Prices the Whole Stock, worth over $10,000, composed of the following:

Thousands of yards Dress Goods,
Thousands of yards Ribbon,
Thousands of yards Print,
Thousands of yards Cotton,
Thousands of yards Cotton Shirting,
Hundreds of yards Carpet,
Hunreds of yards Cashmere,
Hundreds of yards Velvets and Plushes,
Hundreds of yards Silks and Satins,
Hundreds of yards Cretonne,
Hundreds of yards Flannel,
Hundreds of yards Sheeting,

And a large stock of Woollen Goods, Muslins, Laces, Embroideries, Gloves, Hosiery and Small Wares.

TERMS STRICTLY CASH. Come and satisfy yourself that this is Peterborough's Biggest Closing Out Sale. w6-d31

W. W. Johnston & Co.

RETIRING

FROM THE BOOT AND SHOE BUSINESS.

R. STENSON & SON

Having decided on Retiring from Business, will receive Tenders up to the 21st of February next, at a rate on the Dollar, for the purchase en bloc of their Stock of Boots and Shoes, &c. The highest or any Tender not necessarily accepted.

If not then disposed of, the whole of the Stock will be sold in Quantities to Suit Purchasers.

ALL WINTER GOODS WILL BE SOLD AT COST FROM TO-DAY.

R. STENSON & SON.

Peterborough, Feb. 7th, 1887. (1md3lw6

CLEARING SALE.

CRYSTAL BLOCK.

SWEEPING REDUCTIONS

IN ALL WINTER GOODS.

GOODS MUST BE SOLD.

H. S. GRIFFIN & CO.

GREAT BARGAINS.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE,

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
☞Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.
HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
☞Try WINTER BALM.
HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
☞Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. ☞DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d6w6

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. 1yd11

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Rasins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 32. PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

BIRTH.

SANDERSON—In Peterborough, on the 8th inst., the wife of MR. W. A. SANDERSON, of a daughter.

DIED.

BAYLEY—At Peterborough, on Tuesday, the 8th February, 1887, ELEANOR BAYLEY, widow of the late Charles Bayley, barrister, in the 92nd year of her age.

Funeral will take place from the residence of Miss Connin, on Wednesday, 9th February, at 3.30 p. m.

PROBABILITIES.

Fresh to strong south-east and and south west winds; cloudy mild weather, with rain.

R. FAIR.

FIRST CONSIGNMENT

OF

NEW PRINTS

FOUR THOUSAND YARDS.

ALL NEW PATTERNS.

Come early and make your choice and be ready for Spring.

New Embroideries just to hand. Beautiful Designs. All Widths.

These Goods are imported direct, and having placed our order before the advance you can expect bargains.

R. FAIR.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE.

d104w18 Solicitor

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training. $70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal, Peterborough, Ontario.

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both limestone and sand stone.

J. B. BURGESS,

Opposite the Post Office

Postal Address, Box 431. d118w7

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d82w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,

SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church. MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. daw

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w18

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. MONEY TO LOAN. d103w18

HATTON & WOOD.

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

R. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Professional.

RICHARD B. ROGERS.

CIVIL ENGINEER, PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR, Superintending Engineer Trent Canal Works. Office Post Office Block, George Street. w42

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d4w18

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d120w2

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street opposite St. John's Church. d123w22 1y

C. COLLINS M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w3

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. 1yd&w

Musical.

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music Leipsig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipsig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence

DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE d111w6

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. 1yd11

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

Wood and Coal.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

daw JAMES STEVENSON.

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,

AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,

FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS

AND

MUSLIN CURTAINS

AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S

Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN

OF THE

Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1887.

WEST PETERBOROUGH.

A Large Meeting in the Opera House.

ADDRESS BY HON. T. WHITE.

MR. STEVENSON ON PUBLIC AFFAIRS AND PRIVATE MATTERS.

An Eloquent Address by Mr. Nicholas Murphy—Subjects that Should be Seriously Considered by the Electors.

The first Conservative meeting held in the town since the election campaign commenced was held in Bradburn's Opera House on Monday evening. The hall was filled to overflowing by an attentive audience.

Mr. W. H. Moore, President of the West Riding Conservative Association, presided, and there were on the platform the Hon. Thomas White, Mr. James Stevenson, the Conservative candidate, and a number of others.

THE CHAIRMAN, in introducing the speakers, said that Mr. Cox stood in a peculiar position. He commenced his meeting in Ennismore, where he spoke on no particular questions. He (Mr. Moore) asked him then to state his views on the National Policy, but Mr. Cox refused. In Peterborough he stated his views, and at Bridgenorth he favored protection with modifications. At Ennismore Mr. Bertram attacked the National Policy with vigor. Mr. Cox declined at Ennismore to state his views on the execution of Riel, but Mr. Peter Ryan denounced the Government in unmeasured terms for allowing the rebel to be executed. While Mr. Bertram denounced the National Policy, and Mr. Ryan the execution of Riel, Mr. Cox sat silent. It was difficult to deal with Mr. Cox, who had a political barometer which changed to suit each part of the Riding. He introduced Mr. Stevenson, the candidate of the Conservative party, who would ably represent them and who, he believed, would be elected.

MR. STEVENSON regretted to say that he was there as an opponent of his friend Mr. Cox, and he believed this contest would not interfere with their harmonious business relations. He was there as a supporter of the Government of Sir John Macdonald, which was the best Government, and which had given them the National Policy. That policy caused the imports of raw materials for manufacturers to increase with a bound. It was the policy of "Canada for the Canadians." Sir Richard Cartwright was an out and out opponent of the National Policy, and if Mr. Cox was elected he would be a supporter of Sir Richard. The taxation had been increased very little since 1878, and the taxes were imposed on luxuries. There was only one cent more per capita required to pay the interest than in 1878. The factories, previous to 1879, were almost at the mercy of the Americans. Buggies he had seen sold in the streets which had been brought from the United States. Mechanics were driven to the States and the houses were empty. Compare the factories in Peterborough now with that time. He had a foundry, in which one tenant failed, and another had it for a year for nothing and the second year for $50. Were they willing to go back to that state of things? (Cries of "No," "no,") He did not believe in allowing the Americans to bring in their goods here for nothing or for a very little duty while they refused reciprocity. He honestly believed that it was to the true interest of the country to sustain the present Government. He wished to refer to a personal matter in connection with the lock works. Mr. Cox had referred to the lock works, and, while he did not accuse Mr. Cox of anything wrong, he must say that he (Mr. Cox) appeared to have a short memory. He would give them the facts, as briefly as he could, in connection with the locks and their establishment here. Mr. Masson, who was a partner with Mr. E. B. Stone, first spoke to him about the lock works and he told Mr. Masson to ask Mr. Brooks to come to Peterborough. Mr. Brooks and another gentleman came, bringing samples of the work with them, which they took to his office. They went to Mr. Cox and laid the matter before him, and Mr. Cox expressed himself favorably regarding it. They called a meeting of the hardware dealers, which was attended by Messrs McKee, Stethem, Miller and Mr. Bertram. Mr. Cox and he (Mr Stevenson) laid the matter before them regarding the lock works. Mr. Stethem and Mr. McKee said they would be pleased to see the works started, but Mr. Miller appeared to throw cold water on it. He went to Montreal and saw a wholsale dealer, who encouraged him to go on. When he came back he told Mr. Cox of the result of his visit. Mr. Cox promised to take $10,000 worth of stock and he said he would take $5,000. They went out to get subscriptions for stock and they could not get any. Afterwards they had better success and the following took stock:—John Carnegie, $2,000; George Hilliard, $1,000; John Burnham, $1,000; A. C. Dunlop, $2,000, Mr. Sherwood, $1,000, That was all except what he and Mr. Cox took, and all these were supporters of his and of the Conservative Government. When they got this stock subscribed Mr. Cox said that he could not afford to take $10,000 worth of stock, and he said that in that case he would reduce his too. Mr. Cox said for them each to take the same amount, That was agreed to and they each took $3,500 worth, Mr. Cox making it a sine qui non that he should put $2,000 in the stove foundry. Mr. Brooks, of the lock works, complained that the premises they occupied in the central iron building were too small. He told Mr. Brooks that he would erect a building and would give it to them free of rent until the works paid 8 per cent. Mr. Law had a lease of the Central Iron Works building, and his five years yet to run, at $450 a year. He (Mr. Stevenson) had laid out $9,000 for the lock works premises, and engine and boiler, for which he did not receive one cent for interest directly or indirectly. Mr. Cox said he did not know how the sum the Lock Company paid ran up from $300 to $1,000. Well, he would read them the record from the books of the Company and show them. At a meeting of the Directors of the company on Oct. 9th, 1885, Mr. Geo. A. Cox moved the following motion, seconded by Mr. Hilliard:—

"That the proposition contained in Mr. Law's letter of the 8th Oct., 1885, to accept in payment of rent of premises now occupied by the Lock Company, and to supply power to drive the machinery now in use at the lock works, or any slight additions that may be made, for the sum of $600 per year, which is also to include rent from the 1st day of September, 1885, running ten hours daily, be accepted, and that such shall be binding for a period not less than six months, with the right to the Lock Company to terminate the contract at any time upon giving one month's notice to that effect."

At that meetiug it was also moved by Mr. Hilliard, seconded by Mr. Brooks:—

"That the proposal of Mr. Law to heat the premises of the Lock Company with steam at $175 for the season be accepted, and that an agreement to that effect be prepared and executed by Mr. Law and by this company."

The Central School cost for fuel alone, without any person to attend th it, over $300 a year. Last year Mr. Law said that he could not continue to give the portions of his premises leased and the power, heat, etc., at those terms, and he made another proposal, which was as follows:—

"I hereby agree to furnish the Peterborough Lock Company the second storey of the Central Iron Bridge Works and foundry moulding floor for $250 per annum; steam power to run machinery, $450; steam heating of old and new premises, $200; use of fan and blast for iron melting, $100. This, gentlemen, is the lowest possible figure I can do it for, as the company use considerable more power than I had been informed would be required for the work.

"The engineer has to commence raising steam at four o'clock in the morning to have the room heated up by the time the workmen arrive in the morning. They also use an enormous quantity of steam in the plating room to heat up the water tanks.

"Respectfully yours,

"W. H. LAW."

At a meeting of the directors on Oct. 2nd, 1886, it was moved by Mr. Cox, and seconded by Mr. Brooks:—

"That the lease from Mr. Law for the shop and premises, with power to drive machinery as may be in use in the factory, steam for heating from Oct. 1st to May 1st, steam for other purposes, and blast for foundry, all for the sum of $1,000 per annum, be accepted.

"That the President be authorized to close the bargain."

Mr. Law informed him that he burned 1,200 pounds of hard coal a day and that he paid a man $1.50 a day the year round to run it. Mr. Law wanted $1,200 a year, but he got Mr. Law to reduce it to $1,000, which he said was the very lowest figure he could place it at. These were the facts in connection with the lock works, and he was glad to know that they were going to be a success. He had done the best he could for them. He had travelled to Hamilton and to Montreal in connection with this establishment for which he had asked nothing. Mr. Law had the foundry and bridge works, which was an important industry, and was a new one here. He had not room enough in the building and to enable him to work, and to let the lock works go on, he (Mr. Stevenson) spent $9,000 for which he got nothing. He had not spoken about it, as it was a private business matter, but it was introduced by the Examiner, and he gave them the facts regarding it. He did not know what wages had been paid out at the stove works, but he knew he had $2,000 in it which he would be glad to sell. They had asked the Government to stop the manufacture of locks at the Penitentiary. They received the answer that the contract there would run out in June, and that it would then be terminated, but that the contractor had material on hand and he would be allowed till the end of February to finish his stock. Without asking the contractor for anything that gentleman wrote him a letter, from which he read as follows:—

"In the first place I took the contract September, 1876, and under the administration of Mr. Alex. Mackenzie, and have had it ever since. Remember at that time there was no other lock factory in Canada and never was until the Peterborough works started. When the contract expired the Government notified me that it would not be renewed as it might interfere with outside work, there being another factory now in working order, but allowed me until the 28th of February to finish my unfinished stock. You will notice that when I started there was not a lock shop in existence in Canada, and as soon as there was one and my contract expired I was ordered to stop. Now what [illegible] other contracts. When Mr. Blake was Minister of Justice he advertised in papers in Boston, New York, Montreal, Toronto and Kingston for tenders for a shoe contract, but under a Grit Government no one would undertrke it; the bill for advertising amounted to about five hundred dollars. Remember the shoe contract was in competition with several factories then in existence. You are at liberty to use this letter if you think best and I promise you I can prove every thing stated by me. Trusting that the next time information is wanted, parties will call at the proper place for it.

"I remain yours respectfully,

"L. B. SPENCER."

"MR. JAMES STEVENSON,
"Mayor of Peterborough."

Mr. Cox had said that the amount paid to Mr. Law had crept up in some mysterious manner to $1 000, and yet the motion increasing it had been moved by Mr. Cox himself. He thanked them for the patient hearing they had given him. If they thought he was worthy of their votes, if they thought the Government was deserving of their support—and their policy was on the side of the livelihood of the people—he asked them to vote for him on election day. Mr. Stevenson, who had been frequently applauded, sat down amid loud cheers.

MR. NICHOLAS MURPHY said it was pleasant for one when he strayed away on a stormy night to find warmth, and he thanked them for the reception they had given him. A poster which announced that he was "a talented Irish orator" almost prevented him from coming, for he was a modest man. Yet it was because he was very much Canadian and Irish that he was there to do what he could to elect Mr. Stevenson. They should not discharge old and tried servants without just cause. They discharged such servants in 1873. Incompetent men, flies on the wheel, took their place, and in 1878 they recalled their faithful servants. Mechanics now worked all the year round at a 20 per cent. increase in wages. A great deal had been said about the debt of the country. When they laid out money to benefit their house did they consider that it was thrown away? And would they like a neighbor to go around saying that the were throwing away money and would soon go down? Yet that was what Mr. Blake was doing, and it was unworthy of a statesman to go about decrying his country. Mr. Blake said that the debt was $220,000,000. Take those figures, and $103,000,000 was incurred by assuming debts of the several Provinces of the Dominion. Railways had been built and some hundred million dollars had been spent in that way. There was a million and a half for the purchase of the Northwest. The balance of Mr. Blake's figures was filled up by the deficits of Sir Richard Cartwright, the man who forsook his chief because Mr. Hincks was preferred to him in the Treasury Office. He looked at the results and he felt that it would be better to have Sir John's Government than that of either Mr. Mackenzie or Mr. Blake. Families should agree, and he ridiculed the protectionist pretensions of Mr. Blake, while others of his party opposed protection. Had they not got good value for their money in the expenditure on railways? He illustrated the military value of the Intercolonial and the Canadian Pacific by referring, in eloquent language, to the Trent affair and the first Red River rebellion, and to the last Northwest rising. The volunteers suffered enough as it was—and they fought bravely and well—but they would have suffered more had it not been for the C. P. R. These railways bound the Dominion together and bound us more strongly to Britain, and where could they find a betterflag to float over them? There was another cry raised. It was an appeal to the Irish Roman Catholics, that they should support Mr. Blake because he supported Home Rule and voted against the execution of Louis Riel. All in the Parliament were unanimous in regard to Home Rule and he was glad for once to see Mr. Blake in such good company. He felt sorry for Riel, but he was guilty, had a fair trial and was sentenced according to law. What was there about Riel's case that entitled him to exceptional mercy? Riel had been in rebellion before, and when he got the people into another rebellion he was not in the front but in the rear. At Batoche Riel made an arrangement with Dumont, in case they were defeated, to meet him in the rear with an extra horse, but the Canadian boys were too quick for them. Riel was selfish all through, and why should claptrap appeals be addressed to Catholics? Riel had nothing in common with them. The Government did right and should be endorsed. He described the difficulties of communication with the far Northwest, but he would not dare to discuss the Northwest when Mr. White was there to address them. He thought that every point in connection with the Northwest was in favor of the Government. The Reformers did nothing for the country when in office, but, wherever there was a difference between provinces, races or creeds, they were the politicians who tried to stir it up. They had come from different countries. Canada was their home and would be their children's home—if the Grits did not get in office and ruin it and it was their duty to support the present Government and to build up a country worthy of themselves and their ancestors.

The report of the remainder of the meeting, including Mr. White's speech, is held over until to-morrow.

PORT HOPE.

PECULIAR. There is a peculiar circumstance connected with the injury, in the bussing wreck, to Miss McCallum a short time ago, that lends added interest to it. About ten years ago, she, Mr. Alf. Stevenson, of this town, and some others were coasting at Bletcher's corners. They had a spill, from which Alf. appeared with the skin torn off his face. Miss McCallum then declared that she would not coast for ten years. On the morning of the late accident she met Alf. and after a laughing reference to their former sport decided once more to trust herself on the rushing bus. With a strange fatality another accident occurred that will no doubt terminate her indulgence in the sport for another ten years.—Times.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The doctors are hopeful of the recovery of both the police officers wounded by the desperadoes who rescued the Cleveland fur robber. Large rewards are offered for their capture.

Mr. Bennett, immigration agent at Brandon Man., states that more settlers passed through his agency last year than in 1885, most of them being of a good class, and that all were well satisfied.

It is expected that the new military school in London will be completed and ready for occupation by July 1st. The school cannot be started, however until Parliament makes an appropriation.

A pastoral from the Bishop of Huron, condemning the raising of money for church purposes by means of games of chance or theatrical entertainments, was read on Sunday in all the Episcopal churches throught the diocese.

The Seminary authorities at Montreal have served upon Rev. J. A. Dorion, Methodist missionary at Oka, a writ of eviction from premises occupied as a Methodist parsonage for many years past.

Michael McCoy, a Catholic, of Louisville, Kentucky, who recently secured a divorce from his wife and married another woman, has been publicly excommunicated by Father Lawler, of St. Patrick's church.

The second and last day of the Hamilton winter carnival on Thursday was a great success, the weather having been more propitious than on the opening day, and allowing the programme to be carried out to the full.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive at least to try one bottle, as 70,000 dozen bottes were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada. d99

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a specialty. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

Have you seen Turnbull's 6¼ cent fancy check wincey? If not you are missing a bargain.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1887.

NEITHER MAD NOR SHELVED.

In the editorial columns of the London Advertiser, a semi-official if not official organ of the Blake Reformers, we find the following statement:—

"The real question in the contest is this: Shall we have Edward Blake or Sir Charles Tupper at the head of the country? Tupper is now the real leader of the Tory party. Those who believe Tupper preferable to Blake will vote for Carling as against Hyman."

It would be of no moment to call attention to the deliberate falsehood of this statement, for one invention more makes little difference in the aggregate of falsifications employed by the Grits in this campaign. But we would point out the high tribute involuntarily paid by his opponents to Sir John Macdonald in this and similar falsehoods. Sir John Macdonald and his statesmanlike policy are so thoroughly established in the goodwill of the people of Canada that it is felt to be impossible to combat them. The only hope of the Grits is to persuade the electors that Sir John is out of the way and should not be considered in the popular choice of the managers of their affairs. So they invent stories of his failing health, they make ruffianly statements that he has become insane, and with equal falsehood they represent him as having been deposed from the leadership. Sir John is the chosen leader of his colleagues, of his Parliamentary supporters, and of the people of Canada. There is no question of his deposition from the leadership, nothing but an ardent desire that he may be long spared to lead his country to further progress. Though he is no dictator, and takes fully into his counsels his very capable lieutenants, he is the acknowledged head of the Conservative party and of the Canadian people, the great leader who has been primarily responsible for the choice and carrying out of the policy that has formed our Dominion, linked together its several Provinces, and has caused it to grow and flourish to a degree almost unprecedented in the history of nations. The wish is father to the thought with these enemies of the foremost man in Canada, but Sir John is neither dying, mad nor deposed. The choice is between Sir John Macdonald and this policy on the one hand, and Mr. Blake and his anti-national, disintegrating policy on the other hand.

There is a sense in which Sir Charles Tupper is an important factor in the choice to be made between the two parties. He is to be the Conservative Finance Minister, and in the unlikely event of a success for Mr. Blake it is generally acknowledged that Sir Richard Cartwright would be, as in the bad old days of depression, the Reform Finance Minister. They are the chosen representatives and instruments of the respective party views on the tariff question, and therefore the choice of the electors is in a large measure between them as embodying these different views. Now, Sir Charles Tupper has been and is one of the foremost advocates of the National Policy and the protection and fostering of Canadian industries. Sir Richard Cartwright was the Minister responsible for the system under which our factories were closed or half starved, and he still denounces as foolish and criminal the tariff which prevents a preference for foreign working men, manufacturers, miners and farmers, over Canadians.

The choice as to our tariff policy is between these measures and these men. The choice as to the general policy of our country, the tariff included, is between Mr. Blake, with his allies advocating rebellion, secession, annexation, patronage of foreign industries, &c., and Sir John Macdonald, who framed and consolidated our Dominion, and who is still the leader of the Conservative party with its policy of union and progress.

A FALSE CHARGE.

VAGUE charges of assisting mechanics to immigrate into Canada are made against the Macdonald Administration by the Grits, but as they know they are speaking falsely they take care not to venture upon particulars. The regulations only allow assisted passages to be given to female domestic servants and to farm laborers with their families. That there may be no evasion of this condition, the applicant for such assistance has to make a formal declaration and to produce the certificate of a clergyman or magistrate. Now we cannot suppose the Reformers to be right in attributing to ministers of the gospel and justices of the peace in the Three Kingdoms a wholesale giving of false certificates, without which the assistance of large numbers of mechanics would be impossible.

Of course it is possible that there should be some cases of imposture or forgery, but it cannot be supposed that the percentage of fraud would be heavy as compared with the total immigration. We will see what that total was. In 1885, the last year for which we have the returns, there were less than 8,000 assisted passages, only 3,000 of them being for laboring men, the rest being for women and children. Now, without considering the other Provinces we know from the immigration reports published under the Mowat Administration that a considerable number of farm laborers arrived at the different distributing points in Ontario, though not enough to supply the demand. Under these circumstances is it not obvious that cases of mechanics fraudulently passing themselves among these 3,000 farm laborers must be so rare as to have no appreciable effect.

The fact is this charge of the Ottawa Government paying to bring mechanics to Canada is an impudent falsehood, invented to disparage those whose policy Mr. Blake and his friends cannot fairly attack.

THEIR REAL OPINIONS.

WHENEVER they think they have a chance of catching votes by false pretences from those who are interested in maintaining a policy that fosters our Canadian industries, Mr. Blake and his friends are representing themselves as now being either not so unfriendly to the N. P., or as being powerless to destroy it.

They played to a somewhat less extent the same game in 1882, but they showed their want of sincerity by fiercely attacking our fiscal policy after they had been re-elected. In the last session they did not force so many pitched battles on the question, for they had been too badly defeated, but they kept up a lively guerilla attack. In the House or in Committee, whenever it was possible to refer to the N. P. it was the subject either of open denunciations or mocking gibes and jeers by Sir R. Cartwright, Messrs. Blake, Mills, Davies, Vail, Burpee, Paterson, Cameron (Huron) Charlton, McMullen, Gunn, Casey, Weldon, Wilson, King, Kirk, Armstrong, Watson, Scriver, Gilmour, Fisher, &c., &c., &c., for this is by no means a complete list. This is pretty good evidence of the views and intentions of the Opposition as a body, and it cannot be said that these are their old tactics, now abandoned, for they were their utterances as representatives at the last opportunity they had, less than a year ago.

TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION.

Mr. D. STARKE, C. E., has now arrived to take charge of the construction of the Trent Valley Navigation, a position to which he was appointed some little time ago. Mr Starke does not come as a stranger to this work; many of our readers have seen his very able reports on this subject, and nearly all will remember that, shortly after the Macdonald Administration came into power he made the preliminary surveys and estimates. Both from the engineering and pecuniary points of view he was able to form and give on his professionable reputation a most favourable opinion of this enterprize. Thus this great national work, the importance and necessity of which the Minister of the Interior so frankly and encouraging recognised while addressing the people of Peterborough, will be under the charge of one who has a thorough acquaintance with it, and who is fully impressed with the advantages it will afford, and the wisdom of pressing it forward to completion.

MR. BLAKE is a candidate in two constituencies. Now we find not the slightest fault with this, believing that it is for Mr. Blake to consider whether he wishes to have two strings to his bow, and for the electors to consider whether they wish him for their representative under such conditions. But we would ask those Reformers who are so pathetic in their appeals for sympathy for Mr. Mackenzie that they wish Conservatives to accept him as their member though he would not represent their views, why some safe Reform constituency does not give the deposed leader a second chance by accepting him as a candidate?

THE gang who habitually supply the Ottawa Free Press and New York journals with falsehoods and forgeries have again been exposed. They have been inventing and publishing an account of an interview with Mr. Ritchie, of Akron, Ohio, who is largely interested in Canadian enterprises. Mr. Ritchie flatly denies that there was any such interview, that he used the words attributed to him, or that they express his opinions, which as well as the facts are grossly misrepresented. This rebuff is not likely, however, to repress these culprits any more than previous exposures of the fictions, with which they continually assail their country.

SEVERAL Reform papers, including the Globe, have published what they term "A new view of the public debt." It is certainly very novel and deserves to be classed with the most sensational fiction. The first line states that "in 1878 the net public debt of Canada was $78,720,000." The net public debt in 1878 was $64,742,069 more than that. No doubt this "new view," or new misrepresentation, will be included in the campaign sheets, if it has not already been thus published.

ACCORDING to Mr. Cox's own boasts he made over a hundred thousand dollars in one year out of the railway of which he was President, while it was compounding with its creditors at the bankrupt rate of less than twenty five cents in the dollar. Even if this were all, can such abuse of his position be defended.

This Is Simply Awful.

The Watertown Times has taken the British lion under its farm, and says:—"It is not very sensitive and does not seem to know that its tail has been twisted." If this is true the British lion doesn't catch on so quickly as the American eagle. A Yankee captain took one down to a Cuban cock fight on a certain occasion. At the first demonstration by the cock the eagle sat down upon him, and taking his head in one claw and his body in the other pulled him apart. Moral—Don't fool with the American eagle.—Ogdensburg Journal.

A Young Man Stabbed.

HAMILTON, Feb. 5.—William Wade, who lives at 280 Cannon-street, was stabbed last night while with some drunken companions on Rebecca-street. The crowd got into a dispute, and in a scuffle Wade was stabbed in the side. What the result will be it is impossible to say. The police are looking for his assailant.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS;

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

THE RAILWAY WRECK.

Fishing up the Cars—A Lady Survivor's Thrilling Story.

MONTREAL, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Bryden, wife of Mr. Bryden, manager of Pillow, Hersey & Co., this city, was a passanger of the ill-fated train on which so many lost their lives at White River junction, Vt., on Saturday. Mrs. Bryden was in the sleeping car when the accident occurred. She was in an upper berth, and she woke when the cars left the rail. The next moment the cars were precipated seventy feet below on side, and she shouted for help. Some person cut a hole through the top of the car, and Mrs. Bryden got her head through. It was impossible for her to be extricated, but she retained her presence of mind all the time and asked the man for a knife, which he handed to her. She cut away her night dress and was pulled through the broken part of the carriage. What saved her was that she retained her presence of mind all the time. When the car toppled over everything on the other end fell on her, and how she managed to be heard outside she can't tell. She retained her strength and did not struggle until help came. She was wedged in on both sides, and this accounted for the difficulty of her getting out. Mrs. Bryden, after being taken from the carriage, lay on the snow wrapped with blankets. She had heard all the screams of the dying and saw the burning of the carriages. Mrs. Bryden retained her senses during the time she lay on the snow. A pathetic scene is described when she remembers too little French Canadian children, about six years of age, who could not speak a word of English, running around and crying out for their parents, who were killed in the accident. After some time the lady was taken to a farm house and laid on the floor. The dead and dying were carried into the house. Mr. Wesson died here. He was not dead when carried to the house, but died shortly afterwards. Mrs. Bryden's hair was saturated with kerosene oil from the overturned lamps. Her wearing apparel was all burned in the car, but her trunk was in the baggage car, and escaped. She obtained sufficient clothes from this to come to Montreal. Mr. Bryden met his wife at St. Albans yesterday aftern on. There were three other of the escaped passengers on the train, two French Canadians who had their faces badly cut, and a Mr. Cushing, of Boston, who escaped, without serious injury. Mr. Cushing is staying with Mr. Christmas, of the Atlas Insurance Company, at Cote St. Antoine. Mrs. Bryden is not dangerously injured physically, but suffers from the severe shock. Her back is injured. She is attended to by Dr. Simpson.

The Hon. J. Gregory Smith, President of the Central Vermont Railway, has telegraphed to Mr. Jos. Hickson, General Manager of the G. T. R.: "So far as we are able to ascertain, the accident resulted from a broken axle under the Boston Pullman."

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt Feb. 7.—A gang has been working all morning through the holes in the ice rescuing portions of the wrecked train from the bottom of the river and searching for bodies which may yet be among the ruins. Thus far no bodies have been recovered. Nearly all signs of the terrible disaster have disappeared except the gaping space between the piers of the bridge. Trains are running regularly to either end of the bridge. The condition of the wounded is about the same.

The Sault St. Marie Railway.

MONTREAL, Feb. 7.—The Sault Ste. Marie branch of the C.P.R., which will connect with the railroad system of the North-western States and put our port on a direct route between St. Paul and Minneapolis and Great Britain, has been let to James Reid, the contractor of the new Lachine bridge over the St. Lawrence. The length of the line to be constructed is about 51 miles. Mr. Reid has sublet the work on 21 miles to Mr. Brown.

THE FISHERIES.

Congress Dissatisfied with the Stand of the British Government.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Congress has called for the remainder of the diplomatic correspondence with Great Britain on the fishery question, and it will be sent on to-day or to-morrow. The attitude of the British Government on the questions involved is not of a character to make a friendly agreement very probable.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Lieut. Zalinsky, the inventor of the dynamite gun and submarine torpedo boat, called at the room of the House committee on naval affairs yesterday, and explained to some of the members of the committee the details of the dynamite cruiser A handsome model of the cruiser was sent to the committee to-day from the navy department where the contract for the construction of the naval craft was signed last week. It is already building in Philidelphia and it is expected that she will be completed in five months.

The Senate has passed without debate bills appropriating twenty-one million dollars for modern ordinances and coast fortifications.

SHELBURNE, Feb. 7.—The cruiser Terror, which obtained so much celebrity last year in connection with the fishery protection service, has been sold to parties in Halifax. She will ply a more peaceful trade, but will carry her history with her as long as she is afloat.

NEWS NOTES.

The exportation of horses from Austria and Hungary has been forbidden.

Petroleum wells have been discovered at Hondeng-Goegnis, in Central Belgium.

Mrs. Sophia Madeira died a few days ago at Deschenes, near Ottawa, aged 110 years.

Mr. William O'Brien, editor of United Ireland, refuses to run for the Commons, as he believes he can be more useful outside "Parliament's detestable precincts."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the most patent blood purifier, and a fountain of health and strength. Be wise in time. All painful infections are promptly removed by this unequalled alterative.

The United States Secretary of War in a letter to the House of Representatives states that the Territorial and State militia aggregate 195,000 and 7,460,592 respectively.

The traffic receipts of the Grand Trunk railway for the week ending January 29th were $309,319, an increase of $32,238 compared with the corresponding week last year.

The untidy appearance of a grizzly beard should never be allowed. Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers will change their color to a brown or black, at discretion, and thus keep up your reputation for neatness and good looks.

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE.—Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

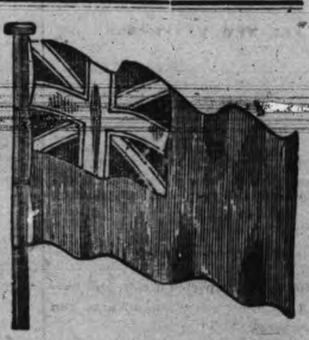
Devices of Advertisers.

So many devices are resorted to by advertisers, that the ordinary reader sometimes become shy of the tempting paragraph, fearing the advice that is concealed in it like a pill in jelly. Who, for instance, on beginning this item, would have supposed that its purpose was to make known the truth that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is what it claims to be—a cure for Chronic Nasal Catarrh and all its disgusting, and annoying and even dangerous to the sufferer.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Peterborough Markets



WHEAT.
Wheat, fall, per bushel	0 80	to	0 80
" spring "	0 82	to	0 82
Arnecta Wheat	0 60	to	0 65
FLOUR AND MEAL.
Flour, Patent Process, per cwt.	$2 50	to	$2 50
Flour, bakers per cwt.	2 25	to	2 25
Flour, stone process	1 80	to	1 80
COARSE GRAIN.
Barley, per bushel	0 48	to	0 60
Peas	0 50	to	0 54
Oats,	0 29	to	0 29
Rye	0 45	to	0 45
MILL FEED.
Oat chop, per cwt	1 10	to	1 10
Pea chop, "	1 10	to	1 10
Barley chop "	1 00	to	1 00
Pollards "	0 80	to	0 80
Bran, per ton	11 00	to	11 00
VEGETABLES.
Potatoes, per bag	0 70	to	0 70
Cabbage, per head	0 05	to	0 07
Beets, per bag	0 40	to	0 40
Onions, per bag	1 25	to	1 40
Carrots, small red, per bag	0 35	to	0 40
Carrots, field, per bag	0 15	to	0 20
Turnips	0 20	to	0 25
Parsnips	0 30	to	0 40
MEAT, POULTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE.
Beef, by the quarter per cwt	3 50	to	4 50
Pork, " " " "	6 00	to	6 25
Mutton, per lb	0 06	to	0 08
Veal, per lb	none offering
Lamb, per lb	0 07	to	0 8
Dressed Hogs	5 50	to	6 00
Hogs, live weight	3 75	to	4 25
Tallow, per lb	0 04	to	0 05
Lard	0 10	to	0 11
Chickens, per pair	0 45	to	0 60
Ducks, per pair	0 60	to	0 70
Geese, each	0 50	to	0 60
Turkeys, each	0 75	to	1 00
Butter, fresh roll, per lb	0 18	to	0 20
Butter, packed prime, per lb	0 16	to	0 18
Cheese, private sale per lb	0 12	to	0 12
Eggs, per doz	0 19	to	0 20
Hay, per ton	7 00	to	10 00
Straw, per load	2 00	to	3 00
Wood, hard, per load	3 50	to	4 50
Wood, soft, per load	2 50	to	3 00
WOOL AND HIDES.
Fleece wool	0 18	to	0 18
Southdown wool	0 22	to	0 20
Hides, per cwt.	5 50	to	6 00
Hides, trimmed, per cwt.	6 00	to	7 00
Lamb skins	25	to	25
Sheep Pelts, each	25	to	25
Sheep skins	1 00	to	1 00
FISH.
White Fish, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Speckled Trout, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Maskinonge, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Bass, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Finnie Haddie, per lb	0 10	to	0 10
Simcoe Herring, per do	0 30	to	0 30
Salt Mackrel, per doz	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per quart	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per can	0 45	to	0 55

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00
LADIES.....50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG,
Manager.

d145

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods. Without which none are genuine.

EMPEROR WILLIAM.

Sketch of the Life of Germany's Monarch.

PRUSSIA'S GOLDEN AGE

How the Unification of Germany Was Secured.

Interesting Incidents in the Great Kaiser's Career—From Napoleon's Defeat at Waterloo, Through Sadowa and Sedan Until His Coronation at the Palace of Versailles.

The life of Emperor William I, of Germany, spans a period of surprising events. His infancy saw Prussia a great power. In boyhood his native land was humiliated by the first Napoleon, and lost one-half its territory. His family was reduced to extremities. As a youth he marched and fought with the armies that overthrew the great Napoleon. He participated in the downfall of the first French empire, and paraded the streets of Paris with Blucher's forces. When an old man he became a king, conquered Austria, overthrew the second French empire, again marched the streets of Paris, united Germany, and was made an emperor on French soil. He has been in turn hated and loved by his subjects as no other sovereign of history.

EMPEROR WILLIAM I. OF GERMANY.

Frederick William Louis was born in Berlin March 22, 1797. His father was Frederick William III, King of Prussia—a good man. His mother was one of the most beautiful women of the world, and was possessed of a rare character of strength and hopefulness. She was Queen Louise—almost as well known as her son. William chanced to be the second son, and hence not heir to the crown. However, it seemed well at the time, for he was a delicate, feeble little fellow, causing his royal parents much anxiety. Queen Louise wrote many letters to her father, expressing solicitude for the life of her little son. He was guarded with the utmost care, and not allowed to do as his brothers on account of his frailty. It was not until after the famous battle of Leipsic, and when the prince was 16 years of age, that his father deemed him strong enough to enter the army. Every influence conduced to make him a soldier. While he yet wore jackets and short trousers a noble relative was appointed to train his brothers and himself in military exercises. The King was wont to peep through a crack of the door to watch his boys manœuvre around the room. Prince William developed simultaneously in strength and military discipline. His ardor was aroused by reading the exploits of his ancestor, Frederick the Great, by the sad fate of his country during his own childhood, and by the tears of his mother. Scarcely was he 10 years old when Napoleon I invaded Prussia, and marched through the streets of Berlin in triumph. The young prince was hastily taken from place to place, out of the way of the victor. After the battle of Jena, in which Napoleon was signally victorious, Queen Louise was obliged to flee in order to escape capture. With bitter anguish she said to her two eldest sons: "You see me weep. I weep for the downfall of my house and country. Recall these unhappy hours when I am no more, and weep such tears for me as I do now for my country. But do not be satisfied with tears. Act, develop your strength. Perhaps you may be destined to deliver your country. Do not let yourselves be carried away by the degeneracy of the age. Be men!" Prince William was rightly indignant when he learned that, on her flight, his mother was compelled to sleep in a little hovel where the snow beat in and melted away as tear drops on her bed. The mother's words must have ever burned in the man's heart. When the Franco-Prussian war broke out in 1870 the gray haired old King, in company with his only son, visited his mother's tomb. Father and son passed a long time in silent contemplation, then bade each other an affecting farewell. When the war was over, and he returned home a conqueror, having humiliated the old enemy, he again went to the hallowed sepulchre, and placed upon it a laurel wreath. No man has ever been more devoted to the memory of a mother than has been Germany's aged Emperor. The lovely mother died when only 34 full seasons had become years. Ever since that time the King goes to her mausoleum at Charlottenburg each anniversary of her death and lays flowers upon the tomb. The world will ever revere the Emperor for this yearly act.

During his early years Prince William received an excellent education from teachers of distinction. He grew in strength, and went to war in 1813, receiving the commission of a captain. The allies were, at this time, closing in upon Napoleon. In the battle of Bar-sur-Aube his father ordered him to get news from a certain regiment. Regardless of whistling bullets, he dashed into the thick of the fight and obtained the desired information. For his bravery he was decorated with the Iron Cross. In March, 1814, the armies of the allied monarchs of England, Russia, Prussia and Sweden entered Paris. Prince William was with them, and saw Paris for the first time. He was destined to play a yet greater role about this same city. Napoleon was banished to Elba, and Prince William returned home with his Prussian countrymen. Shortly after his return he was confirmed in the Protestant church. He drew up a long declaration of thankfulness, and a consideration of his duties. He said: "With a grateful heart I recognize it as a great blessing that God has allowed me to be born in a high station of life; because in it I possess a better opportunity to cultivate my intellect and my soul, and because I can do better work and accomplish more good. I rejoice with all humility and am far from thinking that God has desired to prefer me to others, and am likewise far from considering myself better than others on account of my high birth. * * * I will never forget that a prince is also a man, and, in common with the lowliest of the people, has all the weaknesses and needs of human nature. * * * My powers belong to the world and to my country. I declare myself subservient to the laws and polity of the state. * * * I will ever remain true to my faith in Christ; will honor Him and will try to have my heart grow in love for Him. * * * I esteem it much greater to be loved than to be feared, or simply to possess a princely appearance. * * * I will begin each day with thoughts of God and my duty, and each evening I will carefully reflect on my conduct of the past day."

In 1815 Napoleon escaped from Elba and burst as a bombshell upon Europe. Once more war waged. Prince William marched with the Prussians against the escaped exile. Napoleon was beaten at Waterloo, Paris was taken and the young Prussian prince a second time paraded the boulevards of the gay capital. His life from this time onward was zealously devoted to the science of war. Not expecting to become a king, he purposed being a benefit to the army. He was rapidly promoted from rank to rank, serving in various parts of the kingdom. At the age of 32 he married Princess Augusta, of Saxe Weimar. Fetes and tournaments were held, presents were given to the poor, and weeks were given over to merry-making. It was like a wedding in the middle ages. His life was now one of quietness. He was a perfect soldier, an agreeable gentleman, not noted for a brilliant intellect, thoroughly upright, obstinate in his opinions, and tenacious of purpose. He was for a time governor of Baden. When Prince William was 43 years old, and the father of two children, the King died, and his son succeeded to the throne of Prussia as Frederick William IV. The new King, being childless, decreed that Prince William should henceforth be called Prince of Prussia, being heir to the crown. European complications continued agitating and threatening for several years. The Duke of Brunswick was advanced to command-in-chief of the army. The revolutions of 1848 crazed the peoples of Europe. Louis Phillippe was driven from the throne of France and Germany was seized with the infection. William Prince of Prussia stamped out the revolution in Baden and Berlin with resoluteness and relentlessness. While his brother, the King, was weak and vacillating in his policy the Prince of Prussia was in favor of strong measures. He had a horror of revolutions and repudiated the idea of popular sovereignty. At one of his brother's councils he flung his sword upon the table and vowed he would rather appeal to that weapon than consent to rule over a people who dared claim the right to "vote their own taxes." He was thoroughly hated by the people. So intense was the feeling against him that it was deemed best for him to quit the kingdom for a time. He repaired to London. There he was an associate of Prince Albert, Peel, Palmerston and Russell. One evening, when making a call upon the family of Baron Bunsen, a young lady offered him an armchair. He refused the same, and taking a plain one laughingly said: "One ought to be humble now for thrones are shaking." Upon his return to Germany he again lived in seclusion. During all these years the Prince of Prussia had full opportunity to see the weakness of his brother's course and to study the tendency of events. He was ripening definite ideas and a strong will to execute them. Meantime he took an active interest in Masonry and was made grand master of the Free Masons of Prussia. He also served in the Prussian parliament. Gradually he regained much of his lost popularity. The excitement and contests of government had shattered the health of the king. His sensitive mind received a fatal shock. The Prince of Prussia became regent in 1858. He declared that "Prussia is ready everywhere to protect the right." He formed a new ministry which pleased the people. In less than two years the King died, and the Prince of Prussia became the monarch. He was 64 years of age, and was described as a "fine, dignified, handsome, somewhat bluff old man." He was tall and strong. His manners were plain, hearty, frank and agreeable. In his military life his simplicity has been compared to that of Grant. However, he was not liked. He was considered too arbitrary. Only one good thing was said about him: "he was honest and would keep his word." The Prussians had perfect confidence in his integrity. He was crowned at Koenigsberg with great pomp. On that occasion he proclaimed to the world that he considered himself a king by divine right and not by any power from the people.

Amidst all the grandees of Prussia and the representatives of other nations the Prince of Prussia, preceded by generals, ministers and royal officers, entered the old cathedral. Peals of music floated from choir to choir and lost themselves in the recesses of the great building. Then solemnly appeared the King before the altar. He was clad in a rich uniform, and was enveloped in a royal mantel of ermine and red satin. The crown was borne in on a pillow of gold, costly material and fine workmanship. With great reverence the Prince lifted it, and before the vast multitude placed it upon his own head with his own hands, thus signifying that the crown came from heaven, and was not the gift of men. His policy at once became obnoxious to the people. He desired to reorganize and increase the army. This policy was opposed by the parliament, which refused him the necessary money. The new King was obstinate. He believed what he wanted to do was for the best, and he proposed to do it. He prosecuted newspapers and snubbed politicians.

(To be continued.)

AYER'S PILLS

CURE HEADACHE.

Headaches are usually induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, and may be easily cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. Mrs. Mary A. Scott, Portland, Me., writes: "I had suffered dreadfully from Sick Headache, and thought myself incurable. Disorder of the stomach caused it. Ayer's Pills cured me entirely."

CURE BILIOUSNESS.

John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebr., writes: "I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice. I was so dangerously ill, that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. I feel certain that I owe my recovery to your invaluable Pills."

CURE INDIGESTION.

Ayer's Pills act directly on the digestive and assimilative organs, influencing healthful action, imparting strength, and eradicating disease. G. W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T., writes: "I have suffered from Dyspepsia and Liver troubles for years past. I found no permanent relief, until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, which have effected a complete cure."

CURE RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is among the most painful of the disorders arising from vitiated blood and derangement of the digestive and biliary organs. Ayer's Pills relieve and cure Rheumatism when other remedies fail. S. M. Spencer, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was confined to my bed, with Rheumatism, three months, but, after using a few boxes of Ayer's Pills, became a well man."

CURE GOUT.

S. Lansing, Yonkers, N. Y., writes: "Recommended to me as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me not only from that trouble, but also from Gout. If every victim of the disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. Those words would be, 'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

CURE PILES.

Piles are induced by habitual constipation, debility, indigestion, or a morbid condition of the liver. A cure is best effected by the use of Ayer's Pills. John Lazarus, St. John, N. B., writes: "I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only cured me of that disagreeable disorder, but gave me new life and health."

Sold by all Druggists.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

MONEY TO LEND!

HAVING resigned his connection with the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Ld.,) the undersigned has made arrangements for lending an unlimited amount at SIX PER CENT, on terms more favourable than any Peterborough or Toronto Company, and will be pleased to see his many old friends with a view to making them new advances or readjusting their present Mortgages.

A. P. POUSSETTE.

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md7tw41

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. 1yd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. 1yd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. 1yd97

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. 1yd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 739. Residence, Bon Accord Street. 1yd97w4

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. 1yd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. 1yd97

W. FITZGREALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. 1yd97

General.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers.—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 150 pages GEO. P ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take you LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 35 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY

JOHN NUGENT

Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont. FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 23 Maryland Road, Harrow Road, London, England. (Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)

☞No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d12eodw6

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse. [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. & Q. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
10 55 p m	Toronto and West, via G. & Q. R.	6 00 p m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
8 20 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	8 00 p m
12 00 m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)	8 00 a m
8 50 p m		4 30 p m
8 20 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope	11 00 a m
5 15 p m	do do	8 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
4 00 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville	11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Eanismore	1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Haultain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clysdale, Paudash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including Bonarlo, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays	7 30 p m
9 00 a m	Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbadoes, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxemburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamacia, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guines, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanics and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanics Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanics and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents,

New Zealand, viz San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

DUNN'S BAKING POWDER

THE COOK'S BEST FRIEND

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Half-Price.

From this date season tickets for skating will be sold for half price. Apply to Mr. McGill or the bookstores.

Skating Carnival.

Remember the Grand Fancy Dress Carnival on Friday evening, Feb. 11th. Political contest, skating competitions, handsome prizes and everything to ensure a pleasant evening's entertainment.

Evangelistic.

The evangelistic meetings for men to be conducted by Mr. Geo. H. Marsh, the English evangelist, will commence to-night at 8 o'clock in the Young Men's Christian Association Hall. A male choir will conduct the singing. All men will be welcome.

The Delegates Report.

At the monthly social meeting of the Young Men's Chaistian Association on Monday evening, the Peterborough delegates gave reports of the Provincial Convention held in Kingston last week. The Convention was the largest and best yet held.

The Domestic fashion sheet for February has arrived at Turnbull's, call and get one.

The Heaven's Above Us.

Mr. Long, of the Collegiate Institute, will give his lecture on "The Stars," or "The Heavens Above Us," this Tuesday evening 8th Feb., in St. John's Church school house. There will be vocal and instrumental music in connection with the lecture. Admission 20 cents, children 10 cents.

Gun Club.

The regular meeting of the Gun Club was held in the Riverside Park on Monday afternoon. The scores made are as follows:—

H. Calcutt	1 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 1—4
Judge Weller	0 1 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 1—4
J. M. Roy	1 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 1—4
E. J. Hartley	0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 1 1 4
R. Tivey	1 1 1 1 1 0 1 1 1—9
H. Neil	0 1 1 1 0 0 0 1 0 0—4

Personal.

The Hon. Thos. White, Minister of the Interior, left town this morning for West York. Mr. Nicholas Murphy left town at noon for Oshawa, where he will address a meeting to-night.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Winch, Miss Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. W. Salisbury, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Brodie, the Misses Brodie, Mr., Mrs. and Miss Bradburn, Miss Moore, Miss Pearce, Dr. Taylor and Miss Taylor, were among those who left for the Montreal Carnival to-day.

SEE R. Fair's new Embroideries; a magnificent display at the Golden Lion.

A Cap Thief Collared.

On Monday evening, Mr. Brophey, of Burleigh, who was staying at the Grand Central Hotel, went to the hat rack for his cap, but in the place where he left his fine plucked beaver he found an excuse for a Persian lamb. The individual who made the one sided trade was tracked by the hotel "spotter." He was found at the Grand Trunk Railway station in his borrowed feathers ready to leave on the next train. He gave up the purloined cap and took his own without much solicitation to induce him to do so. As Mr. Brophey did not wish to prosecute he was allowed to go.

Entertainment.

A very successful entertainment was held at St. Luke's school room on Monday evening. The following programme was carried out:—

Instrumental Duet, Mrs. Orde and Miss McNab
"The Kitten in Disgrace".....Kitty Phillips
Glee....."A Wonderful House" The School
"A Thousand Wants" ..... Clara Woods
Song ..... Mrs. Stapleton
Reading ..... Miss Grundy
"Grandmama" ..... John Woods
Song ....."The Busy Bee".... The School
Song....."Ninety and Nine". Miss Ida Hill
A Parable ....."The Fish" ..... Edith Byth
Glee ....."Star of the Twilight".... 16 Girls
Song ..... Mrs. Stapleton
"The Neglected Doll" .....Louise Butcher
Glee....."Home, Sweet Home".....16 Girls

The last number on the programme was entitled "Building the Cross." Eleven boys and eleven girls each held a block. They came forward one by one, each reciting a couplet as they laid the blocks on the rising cross. When it was finally built, letters were to be seen on the face forming the words, "No Cross, no Crown," and "Jesus our Refuge." The cross was afterwards crowned and a garland was placed on top. The concluding hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," was sung, concluding with "Gov Save the Queen." The wreath was made by Miss Bestwetherick and kindly lent by the firm of Messrs. Griffin & Co.

Among Turnbull's new French dress goods will be found tints of peacock blue, also the new gobelin shade in several qualities with trimmings to match.

The Rink.

There will be no skating or curling to-day on account of the thaw.

GENTS white unlaundried shirts all sizes for 45 cents at the Golden Lion.—R. FAIR.

Reminded.

The people are reminded by a notice stretching across George street, between Hunter and Brock streets that on February 11th, the first grand fancy dress carnival of the season will be held in the Charlotte St. rink. Arangements are all completed as to the decoration, music, attractions, and the weather man is to be seen to ensure a lower temperature for next Friday.

Mechanics' Institute.

The quarterly meeting of the members of the Mechanics' Institute was held on Monday evening. There were present Messrs. James English, President, John Corkery, Secretary, R. Robertson, J. H. Roper, F. J. Lewis, E. Pearse, R. Meade, T. Richardson and others. Messrs. Geo. Roper and Arthur Stevenson were appointed auditors. A sale of magazines and periodicals was held at which something over $38 was realized. The attendance at the sale, which was held in the reading room, was fairly large.

A commercial teeter, we are on the top but our prices are at the bottom. See what Turnbull is showing this week in new bedroom chintz and cretonnes.

We May Expect

—A slim market to-morrow.
—Also flooded cellars.
—"The Heaven's Above Us" at St. John's Church school room to-night.
—And Mr. Long to make the lecture a very interesting one.
—The Street and Bridge Committee to see that the ice in the creek is cut.
—The spirits of tobogganers to sink.
—And rise again as the mercury goes down.
—Mr. Rutherford to have a pretty good opinion of himself.
—And Mr. Baptie not to estimate himself much lower.
—The rest to wait till next year.

Turnbull is showing a fine assortment of new grey dress goods from the light silver to the dark Oxford shades.

The Club Cup.

The point game played annually by the members of the Curling Club to decide the possession of the club cup for one year, was played on Monday afternoon and evening. As will be seen by the scores the play all round was much above the usual, the average being 11.7.5. Mr. T. Rutherford was the successful player of the evening, [illegible] with Mr. J. D. Baptie. The scores are as follows:—T. Rutherford, 17; J. D. Baptie, 17; Geo. Brown, 15; T. P. Attrill, 15; W. G. Ferguson, 14; H. M. Allen, 14; J. H. Connal, 14; E. B. Clegg, 14; A. Hall, 14; M. Millar, 13; W. VanEvery 13; W. F. Hamilton, 13; S. Clegg, 12; R. S. Davidson, 12; H. T. Strickland, 12; F. Scrimminger, 11; A. E. Thompson, 11; A. McNeil, 11; J. B. Pentland, 10; R. Hall, 10; D. W. Dumble, 10; Geo. Boucher, 10; S. Ray 9; Geo. Walker, 9; E. B. Edwards, 9; D. Cameron, 9; J Levasseur, 8; Geo. Fitzgerald, 8; George Edmison, 8; J. Stanger, 8. Last year the cup was held by Mr. J. B. Pentland.

POLICE COURT.

SCOTT ACT.

TUESDAY, Feb. 7.—The case Queen vs. Lipsett at last came up for hearing this morning. Several witnesses were examined, a quantity of of diverse evidence taken, and the Magistrate reserved judgment till to-morrow.

ASSAULT.

The assault case, Begley vs. Lipsett was the next case. According to one story, the complainant went into Lipsett's hotel and was there set upon and beaten. According to another the complainant went into the hotel, and, demanding something to drink, was refused. A row ensued when he was ejected. The defendant claimed that the complainant bit his finger and the wound resulted in his being laid up several weeks. The plaintiff held that the defendant bit his fist against his (the complainant's) teeth and thereby wounded himself. One witness swore that there were Indians in the hotel at the time of the row; another denied that there were any Indians present. Some discrepency in the evidence occurred as to who helped a Mr. Night, who had fallen and hurt himself, up street. One swore that it was Mr. Begley and another swore that it was another person, Night's cousin. His Worship decided to reserve judgment.

CAVAN.

SCHOOL REPORT.—Report of Fair View S. S. No. 14, Cavan, for the month of January 1887, Miss Becca Fair, Teacher:—

SENIOR FOURTH CLASS.—1st, Ella Brown 2nd, Lottie Larmer; 3rd, Jennie McAllister.
JUNIOR FOURTH CLASS.—1st, Florence Deyell.
SENIOR THIRD CLASS.—1st, Walter Burns; 2nd, Annie Larmer; 3rd, Edith Deyell and Harry Armstrong.
JUNIOR THIRD CLASS.—1st, Wilfred Brown; 2nd. Wellington Deyell; 3rd. Susie Tucker.
SECOND CLASS.—1st. Ada Burns; 2nd, Bertie Deyell; 3rd, Wilbert Larmer and Walter Christie.
PART II. CLASS.—1st, Erland Armstrong; 2nd, Ross Stinson.
PART I CLASS.—1st. Thomas Bonnar; 2nd, Johnny Doughty; 3rd, Walter Tucker.

C. P. R. Shops Burned.

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 7.—The Canadian Pacific Railway shops at Yale were burned on Sunday; loss $100,000. The road is blockaded with snow, and the telegraph lines are down.

Turnbull deals exclusively in the extremes, the best and the cheapest. See his new stock of print shirtings. See Sucker's white and grey cottons, cottonades and tweeds.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

CANADIAN FISHERIES.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—In the House of Commons this afternoon Sir James Ferguson, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said the fisheries correspondence would be shortly published, including the Act of Congress of last year. A despatch from the Canadian Government, he said, was now on its way, containing a modus vivendi between Canada and the States on the subject. Until this was received the Government could make no proposals to the United States.

A GENERAL DEAD.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—A despatch from Madras announces the death of Major-General Sir Charles Metcalfe MacGregor. He was only 46 years of age.

THE ASSASSIN'S DAGGER.

MADRID, Feb. 7.—Great alarm is caused by frequent murderous attacks upon pedestrians in the streets at night. Seven persons have been killed or bodily wounded in less than a month. The victims are always attacked from behind with a knife and never recognize the assassin. The police reject the theory of robbery as a motive and attribute the deeds to a homicidal mania.

PARNELL'S MOTION.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—In the House of Commons Mr. Parnell moved his amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's Speech. The amendment is as follows:—"The relations between the owners and the occupiers of land in Ireland have not been seriously disturbed in the cases of those who granted to their tenants such abatements as were demanded by the prices of agricultural and pastoral produce. The remedy for the crisis in Irish agrarian affairs will be found, not in an increased stringency in criminal procedure, or the pursuit of such novel, doubtful and unconstitutional measures as those recently taken by Her Majesty's Government, but in such reform of the law and system of government as will satisfy the needs and secure the confidence of the Irish people."

A NEW RIFLE.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The Pall Mall Gazette asserts that the English Government has practically decided to adopt the Lee-Remington American rifle for the use of the army.

A PACIFIC REPORT.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The Standard's correspondent at St. Petersburg affects to know, on good authority, that there will be no war in Europe.

BELGIUM TAKES ALARM.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 7.—It is reported the government will soon introduce a bill providing for compulsory military service.

GOING BACK TO INDIA.

RANGOON, Feb. 7.—Gen. Sir Frederick Roberts, commander in charge of the British forces in India, who came here to assume command of the British forces of occupation in Burmah, will shortly return to his post at Calcutta.

SWALLOWED HIS MONEY.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—A newspaper vendor, Smith by name, got drunk on Saturday. After a while he found he had lost his money and went to drown himself in the lake at St. James Park. He was pulled out and an emetic was administered. Smith promptly vomited up all the money—four shillings, a sixpenny piece, and a halfpenny—which he had mysteriously swallowed while drunk. To-day in Bow street there was only a charge of attempted suicide to mar his happiness.

WITHHOLDING THEIR RATES.

DUBLIN, Feb. 7.—The Newross ratepayers will continue to withhold their rates as long as the Board of Guardians appointed by the Government holds the control. The arrears amount to £8,500.

IRRITATION IN SPAIN.

MADRID, Feb. 7.—Irritation has been caused in Spain by news that the French Minister at Tangiers has induced the Sultan of Morocco to assent to the alteration of the portion of his frontier which adjoins Algeria, so as to secure to France the fertile valley of the Mulweeya River, which is an important strategic position, commanding the caravan route to the heart of Morocco. The movement, it is thought, will assist German diplomacy in securing closer ties with Spain.

A WARLIKE INDICATION.

BERLIN, Feb. 7.—Three of the largest paper manufacturers in Germany have instructed their agents in England not to enter into fresh contracts for supplies, because they have reason to believe the port of Hamburg is likely to be closed soon in consequence of war.

GEN. BOULANGER'S CONFIDENCE.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—A letter from a French deputy who is intimate with Boulanger contains the following passage in answer to enquiries concerning the General:—"He believes the time has come and that France is able now to vanquish Germany. He sees himself at the head of France, winning back her glory, and nothing but the satisfaction of reversing the scene of Sedan and of taking a sword from the head of the German army will ever content him."

"THE CROWBAR BRIGADE."

DUBLIN, Feb. 7.—The Kilrush Board of Guardians has notified workhouse officials to prepare apartments for evictors of tenants on the various estates. One guardian of the board has promised the Crowbar brigade a hearty welcome.

BOYCOTTING A LANDLORD.

DUBLIN, Feb. 7.—The Youghal branch of the National League at a meeting to-day resolved to boycott Mr. Ponsonby and his agents from the eviction of Fleming, who employed many hands who are now without work.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE.

DUBLIN, Feb. 7.—The Middleton and Clonkilty Board of Guardians have decided to disregard the Prince of Wales letter with reference the Queen's Jubilee.

VOTED FOR A STRIKE

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The Northumberland miners voted to-day upon the question of compromising with their employers instead of striking against the ordered reduction of 12½ per cent. in their wages, the compromise being the suggestion of Mr. John Morley, mediator in the dispute. The votes stood 8,258 in favour of striking, as advised by the Council of the Miners' Association, and 1,850 in favour of submitting to a ten per cent. reduction.

ESCAPED WITH HIS LIFE.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—From an interview with Capt. Deane, who was in charge of Stanley Falls, on the Congo River, during the recent successful attack by the Arabs on that station, and who is now in London, it appears that he and Lieutenant Dubois defended the place until their ammunition was exhausted. The Arabs then attacked the station with a rush and carried everything before them. When the whites found it necessary to fly, Capt. Deane ordered petroleum to be poured on the buildings, and they were set on fire. Then he and his party escaped through the underwood, and he and Lieutenant Dubois fell from a slippery rock into the river. Deane swam ashore, leaving Dubois clinging to the rock. While Deane was seeking assistance for Dubois the latter became exhausted and fell away from the rock and was drowned. Deane fled into the jungle, where he was hunted and tracked by the Arabs for a month. He was barefooted all the time and had only a blanket to cover him. He was wounded in one of his thighs and in one arm, and lived on locusts and wild fruit until he was found and rescued by friendly natives.

A NATIONALIST ELECTED.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Mr. Edward Kennedy, of Dublin, was to-day elected by the Irish Nationalists of South Sligo, without opposition, to the House of Commons.

COAL HANDLERS' STRIKE.

The Situation in New York Unchanged—A Coal Famine in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The river fronts and neighboring streets still present a Sunday appearance, as there is no change in the condition of affairs. Most of the piers are open to receive freight, but little comes as compared with anti-strike times.

To day a free fight took place on the pier of the Morgan line of steamers between a number of Italians and striking 'longshore men. After the police separated the combatants John O'Neil, a longshoreman, was found to be badly wounded.

In Brooklyn much suffering exists from the lack of coal. The dealers cannot get men to work except in a few cases. Grocers sell coal for 30 cents a bushel. In the City hall the elevator cannot be used for lack of coal. The piers and docks are piled with merchandise. The green men work slowly. The strikers are quiet and orderly. The orphan asylums, gaol and hospitals were sent a little coal to-day.

The strike of the riggers has caused much trouble, as none but experienced seamen are able to do their work. In this way some of the line agents report they are making fair progres, while others say so far as they are concerned the situation is unchanged.

New Prints now on Exhibition at the Golden Lion.—R. FAIR.

Wants.

BOARDERS WANTED.

LADIES OR GENTLEMEN wanting board can be accommodated by applying to MRS. LUMSDEN, corner of Aylmer and Charlotte Streets. 6d27

For Sale or to Rent.

BUILDING LOTS

FOR SALE On Paterson and Chamberlain Streets. No down payment required if purchasers will build. E. A. PECK, Solicitor, George Street. d84

Miscellaneous.

RETIRING from the Dry Goods Business.

$10,000.00

worth of Dry Goods must be sold before

The 15th day of March, 1887

AT

T. DOLAN & CO'S

As on the above mentioned date, the Dry Goods business carried on by T. Dolan & Co. for the past ten years, will pass into the hands of a new firm, we have decided to reduce our present magnificent stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods amounting to $20,000.00 to one half its volume. In order to accomplish this we have marked all our goods to the bare cost price.

JUST IMAGINE

$3,000 worth of Dress Goods at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Black and Colored Silks at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Mantle Cloths at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Gloves and Hosiery at Cost.

$3,000 worth of Cottons, Bleached and Unbleached, at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Cotton Shirting at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Domestics, etc., etc., at Cost.

$2,000 worth of Clouds and Woolen Goods at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Prints and Ginghams at Cost.

EVERYTHING AT COST

The goods must go. This is a genuine cash sale, and no hoax. Remember from now until March 15th, as after that date we intend to direct our attention exclusively to our Tailoring establishment.

T. Dolan & Co

CHEAP GROCERIES

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,
Ashburnham

W. W. Johnston & Co.

GIVING UP BUSINESS.

A GENUINE CLERAING OUT SALE.

Having decided to give up business, we will on and after SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15th, offer to the public

THE BIGGEST BARGAINS

They have seen for some time in DRY GOODS. We have marked down everything in the store to such low prices that all will be satisfied. This is not a sale of Winter Goods alone, but a closing out sale, and we will offer at Bargain Prices the Whole Stock, worth over $10,000, composed of the following:

Thousands of yards Dress Goods,
Thousands of yards Ribbon,
Thousands of yards Print,
Thousands of yards Cotton,
Thousands of yards Cotton Shirting,
Hundreds of yards Carpet,
Hunreds of yards Cashmere,
Hundreds of yards Velvets and Plushes,
Hundreds of yards Silks and Satins,
Hundreds of yards Cretonne,
Hundreds of yards Flannel,
Hundreds of yards Sheeting,

And a large stock of Woollen Goods, Muslins, Laces, Embroideries, Gloves, Hosiery and Small Wares.

TERMS STRICTLY CASH. Come and satisfy yourself that this is Peterborough's Biggest Closing Out Sale. w5-d3

W. W. Johnston & Co.

RETIRING

FROM THE BOOT AND SHOE BUSINESS.

R. STENSON & SON

Having decided on Retiring from Business, will receive Tenders up to the 21st of February next, at a rate on the Dollar, for the purchase en bloc of their Stock of Boots and Shoes, &c. The highest or any Tender not necessarily accepted.

If not then disposed of, the whole of the Stock will be sold in Quantities to Suit Purchasers.

ALL WINTER GOODS WILL BE SOLD AT COST FROM TO-DAY.

R. STENSON & SON.

Peterborough, Feb. 7th, 1887. 1md31w6

Midland Railway of Canada.

NOTICE

TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR LOCKS LINE," Peterborough, will be received until the 5th day of February, 1887 inclusive, for the construction of works at Peterborough, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen at the office of the engineer of the Midland Division of Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Persons desirous of tendering are requested to make personal enquiry relative to the work to be done and to examine the locality.

No tender will be entertained unless on one of the printed forms, and all the conditions are complied with.

The company does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender. By order

H. RIAD,
Secretary Midland Railway.
G. T. R. Office Montreal. d25

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Raisins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skilliful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d65w6

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER.

TO EVERY PURCHASER

Of one pound of our 40c tea, 3 lbs. of the best Pudding Raisins for 10c.

To every purchaser of one pound of our 50c. tea, 5 lbs. of Raisins for 15c.

We warrant our Teas and Coffees of the best quality. 4 pounds of Granulated Sugar for 25 cents.

HAWLEY BROS

Hunter Street, Peterborough.

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms. TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 33. PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

DIED.

GAUTHIER.—At Peterborough, on Feb. 9th, PHILOMENE GAUTHIER, daughter of Mr. Joseph Gauthier, aged 13 years.

Funeral on Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence, Lake street.

PROBABILITIES.

West and north-west winds, fresh to strong during the day; fair and colder weather.

R. FAIR.

FIRST CONSIGNMENT

OF

NEW PRINTS

FOUR THOUSAND YARDS.

ALL NEW PATTERNS.

Come early and make your choice and be ready for Spring.

New Embroideries just to hand. Beautiful Designs. All Widths.

These Goods are imported direct, and having placed our order before the advance you can expect bargains.

R. FAIR.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE,
Solicitor.
d104w18

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training.

$70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario.

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. E. BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office
Postal Address, Box 431. d118w2

Wood and Coal.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood. Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

JAMES GALVIN.
d118

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

JAMES STEVENSON.
d&w

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,

SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.

MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w18

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.

MONEY TO LOAN. d103w18

HATTON & WOOD,

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

E. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Professional.

RICHARD B. ROGERS.

CIVIL ENGINEER, PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR, Superintending Engineer Trent Canal Works. Office Post Office Block, George Street. w42

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d4lw18

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, Water Street, opposite Court House. d13w22

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL. Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street opposite St. John's Church. d13w22 13

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,
M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w2

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over Chls. Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. 1yd&w

Musical.

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipzig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipzig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence
DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE
d111w46

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. 1ydll

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d18

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For "Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is unequalled as a remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS—Are Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,

AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,

FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS

AND

MUSLIN CURTAINS

AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S

Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN

OF THE

Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1887.

THE HON. THOS. WHITE,

His Speech on Questions of Public Importance.

CANADA'S DEBT AND HOW IT WAS INCURRED.

A COMPARISON BETWEEN CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES.

Mr. Paterson's Objection to the Non-Ownership of the Canadian Pacific Railway Answered—The Riel Question and Northwest Affairs.

The HON. THOMAS WHITE, Minister of the Interior, spoke at the Opera House on Monday night. In commencing he referred to his having the pleasure of addressing his old fellow townsmen a short time ago. Conditions had changed since then. They were now on the eve of an election. The term of the present Government's existence did not by law end for nearly a year hence, but owing to the franchise being extended to increase the electorate 20 per cent. they appealed to the country. Unlike the Liberal Government of Ontario they waited till the last roll was returned so that none would be disfranchised. In the last election in this Province the new voters in twenty-six places were deprived of the franchise. The Government need not have gone to the country, and, indeed, many thought it indiscrete, considering the so called Liberal victories in the provinces. But they went to the country with the full confidence that the verdict would be the same as it was in 1878 and 1882. (Applause.) Provinces that gave Liberals the control of their local government sent large majorities to Ottawa and he felt confident it would be done again. (Applause.) The issues were altogether different and the people

RECOGNIZED THE DIFFERENCE.

As a proof of this he stated that in New Brunswick members of the Local Liberal Government were stumping the country in favor of Sir John. The principal issue in this contest is the question of the National Policy as protecting native industries. Their opponents were trying hard to escape from it, but only last Wednesday night the people of Peterborough and how difficult it was for them to do so. Mr. Cox, his respected friend, read from this platform a declaration of faith on the subject. He said he was in favor of protection so framed as to ensure the manufacturer a reasonable profit and provided for paying a fair wage. But Mr. Paterson, who, he ventured to think had much more influence with his party than Mr. Cox, urged upon the Mackenzie Government protection of native industries and they turned a deaf ear upon him. Mr. Bertram, though out of the political arena, made a speech worthy of consideration. He was not a candidate and therefore did not need to bow down before the popular opinion on the National Policy as Mr. Cox. Mr. Bertram's speech might be taken as an

INDEX TO THE REAL FEELING

of the Reform leaders on the question. He did not hesitate to denounce it in anything but weak terms. We have had experience in the past how these Reformers framed policies. During Mr. Mackenzie's time we had not a National Policy. We had Mr. Wood, Mr. Irving, Mr. Charlton and Mr. Paterson, all making speeches on the floor of the House in favor of protection. These were all men of more note in the party than Mr. Cox, and yet what did their leaders do? They simply paid no attention to their speeches. They went on with their ruinous free trade policy until the people turned them out of office. The leaders of the party have the same free trade notions to-day. The speaker was aware that Mr. Blake had changed his mind on the subject. In his Malvern speech he said that the manufacturers need have no fear; their interests would be perfectly secure. The National Policy would remain much the same as it was. This looked like a deathbed repentance on Mr. Blake's part. (Laughter and applause.) Mr. Blake and his party have fought this policy through two general elections, at every bye election, and now when they find that the people won't accept their doctrines they say, "Oh, we've changed our minds, therefore we are entitled to your confidence." (Loud applause.) Would the manufacturers feel safe to allow the National Policy to fall into the hands of these theoretical free-traders? (Shouts of no, no.) And Mr. Blake tells why the National Policy will be safe in his hands. He says the expenditure is so much that he will be obliged to keep up the tariff, so as to get revenue to meet it.

MORE ARRANT NONSENSE

no man ever uttered. Mr. Blake talk of keeping up the tariff to get a [illegible] in England under a "free trade" tariff they derive twice the revenue per head that would suffice govern this country. To read his recent declaration one would think that Mr. Blake and free trade had been deadly enemies and that he challenges free traders to mortal combat (Laughter.) He challenges free traders to come forward and show how the tariff can be reduced and the revenues maintained. Even the Montreal Witness, one of his organs, an ardent free trade journal, takes him to task for his insincerity, and points out how the revenue can be largely increased by the reduction of the duties. It instanced the tariff on cottons as one. The reduction of the duties would increase the revenue and make the article cheaper. The speaker stated that during one year under Reform rule 12,000,000 yards if cottons were imported but owing to its being shut out by the N.P. imports had sunk to 1,500,000 yards. If the duties were lowered to 17½ per cent the revenue would be three or four times as much but that revenue would be had at the expense of ruining the Canadian cotton factories. The Government lost a large amount of revenue by raising the duties, but they accomplished what was better—the building up of towns and villages throughout the land and the prosperty and well being of the country (applause). If Mr. Blake undertakes to pursuade the people that he will retain the National Policy because he is obliged to do so to procure for the expenditures he

UNDERTAKES TO DECEIVE THE PEOPLE.

Mr. Blake took the position that he had no right to frame a policy. He agreed with Mr. Blake. Sir John A. Macdonald declined to frame the proposed policy in 1878. He simply announced the general principles of that policy. They had no right to demand of Mr. Blake that he should frame a policy But when Mr. Blake had said enough to show what he would do in some particulars. Mr. Blake announced a short time ago that owing to the changed conditions of the country the duty on wheat and flour should remain. What changed conditions, he would ask, occurred since Dec. 15th, then Mr. Blake declared these duties should be removed? What changed condition occurred since a short time ago the Hon. Mr. Anglin, who went to Nova Scotia, boldly declared in Halifax that they would sweep the duty off flour altogether? But what was the real position of the Liberal party in relation to this National Policy? He would give the people a few opinions expressed by the leaders of the party, not old opinions, but opinions expressed after the National Policy was bringing prosperity over the whole face of the country.

This tariff assuredly cannot stand—Sir Richard Cartwright.

It is legalized robbery—Sir Richard Cartwright.

It's a monstrosity—The Hon. D. Mills.

Remember these expressions were all made within the last twelve months, and therefore are more significant as to the Reform party's real sentiments.

Barbarous taxes on flour and coal—Sir Richard Cartwright.

And yet Mr. Blake affects that the flour tax is not very barbarous. (Laughter.)

The principles of free trade are, in my judgment, undeniable. I hope the world will come to them. I desire as far as possible to promote those principles—The Hon. E. Blake at Charlottetown.

And yet Mr Blake, in election time falls in with the popular feeling and comes out challenging free traders to show how we can have free trade in this country. (Applause.)

There will be a re-adjustment every session and it (the National Policy) will be re-adjusted out of existence before the Hon. gentleman is much older.—The Hon. Alex. McKenzie.

The Hon. Mr. Davis speaks of the National Policy as a "wretched nostrom," Mr. Charlton says it is injurious, the Hon. A. Jones, a member of the former Reform Cabinet, declares that "The National Policy must go," and the Hon. Mr. Anglin speaking for Mr. Blake, promises that if the Reformers are put in, "We can change the character and tone of the whole fiscal policy," and then Mr. Blake comes up and says to the manufacturer "Oh, you have nothing to fear. We will have high taxes that is all you need care about." (Laughter.) And that's what would exist under the so-called

FREE TRADE SYSTEM.

While Sir Richard was Finance Minister he had deficit after deficit. He increased the taxes and still there were deficits... Under Sir Richard's rule there was no less than $4,000,000 of deficits. He appealed to raise the duties, but he refused to do so, maintaining that that would cut off the revenue. There was this difference between the two parties. The Reformers looked to duties simply as a means of revenue; the Liberal-Conservatives saw in [illegible] means of fostering native industries and building up the country. Mr. Paterson, when here, referred to a point he objected to in the tariff, and that was sugar duties. This question of sugar duties was a difficult one, on account of the grading, the only one in trade matters which Mr. Gladstone acknowledged nearly mastered him. But he would simplify the matter and show how the sugar question stood. Mr. Paterson was in the habit of stating that sugar was cheap, but that it would be about twice as cheap if there was no duty on it, and to prove this he cites the price in England. Well, in 1878 and 1879 the quantity of refined sugar imported was 3,500,000 tons. Last year only 500 000 tons was imported. In 1878-9 we paid 2½ cent per pound duty. That to begin with was a manifest advantage, as it showed that a large business was being done by native refineries. But comparing the actual price in Liverpool and Canada we had an advantage. In November last refined sugar in Liverpool was quoted at $4 08 per 100 pounds. It would cost at least 25 cents per hundred pounds for transportation, and if the Reform tariff existed of 2½ cents per pound the price would be $6.75 per 100 pounds. Under the present tariff the same sugar is bought at $5.50 per hundred pounds. True they had not derived a revenue as Sir Richard had done, but they had built up industries which had created other industries. They had opened up trade with the East and West Indies, with South America and other places which under Reform rule had been ALLOWED TO SINK TO NOTHING.

These places took Canada's products and Canada brought back raw sugar and refined it here.

We have [illegible] lost to the revenue has more than than accounted for itself by the industries which has been built up by the sugar trade, by promoting fast increasing trade between Canada and the Indies and South America, and by putting back money into the people's pockets which would have been exacted under the Cartwright tariff, and a sufficient answer to the assertions that the Government were filling the pockets of sugar monopolists was the fact that a short time ago one refinery had paid the magnificent dividend of 5 per cent. He did not claim that the National Policy should be credited altogether with the cheapness of cottons. Raw cotton had depreciated all over the world. In Canada the price for raw cotton was 5 per cent. less But this he did claim for the National Policy. By keeping the home market for home industries the wages of operatives had increased 15 per cent., and by home competition the price of the manufactured article had decreased 25 per cent. (Hear, hear and applause). And yet Mr. Blake tells us he is going to abolish the duties on cottons. Likewise he says that the specific duties on woollens should be abolished. Naturally Ryan, the shoddy man, was stumping the country in Mr. Blake's behalf. He could then and deceive the people. Why, the specific duty on woollens was the very essence of the protection on the industry. Was there nothing to fear when Mr. Blake talked in this strain?

BRING IN HIS AMERICAN SHODDY

[Here quite an uproar took place. Several men at the lower part of the hall continued to shout and interrupt till one of them was taken out by a policeman.]

The Hon. gentleman went on to describe the lines which divided the two parties as the National Policy question, reiterating that the Reform party looked to it as a source of revenue only; the Liberal Conservatives a means to build up the country. He would give an instance which showed difference between the two parties in another way. When Mr. McKenzie-Cartright Government ruled a deputation mostly of leading Liberal manufacturers came to Ottawa praying that protection might be given them against the American slaughtered goods. This influential deputation composed mostly of men who never cast a Conservative vote in their lives, were hardly recognised. No heed was paid to their prayer. They were allowed to go without any concern being shown at their complaints and they did go, and most of them went away declaring that they had GIVEN THEIR LAST REFORM VOTE.

When Sir Leonard Tilley assumed the position of Finance Minister what did he do? Did he turn a deaf ear to tradesmen and manufacturers when they offered information? No. He listened to all suggestions laid before him, and then he took up his carpet bag and travelled over the country to find out for himself in what condition trade was in. Much had been said about the public debt question. He knew those who regarded the debt question seriously.

But in considering this question people should consider the large increase in the extent of the country which had to be governed. And in considering this question people should also consider whether it is wrong to invest money in a profitable way. For instance a shopkeeper commences in a small way. Suppose he owes nothing and has not much more. That man's commercial reputation rises, his credit grows strong, his business widens till he becomes instead of a storekeeper

A GREAT AND WEALTHY MERCHANT.

But he now owns considerable. Would any man be justified in saying that that man was becomming abankrupt because his debt has increased? Perhaps he is worth thousands of dollars after paying every cent of his debt. (Applause.) No doubt Sir Richard Cartwright was up at Bobcaygeon to-night drawing comparisons between the debt of Canada and the United States. Of course he will draw unfair comparisons. That was what they blamed the Opposition for. They were always ready to draw unfair comparisons to hurt the credit of the country. No doubt to-night he would draw comparisons between the Federal debt of Canada and the Federal debt of the United States. This meant that he would count in the debt of the Provinces of Canada which the Dominion Government assumed, but he would leave out altogether the debt of the States of the Union, which are not assumed by the United States Government. First of all Mr. Blake estimated the debt at $220,000,000, $107,000,000 of this was the debt of the Provinces assumed by the Government. That left $113,000,000, the debt which the Government was really responsible for. Now compare the debt of the two countries to see where Canada stands. The debt of the United States, millions upon millions, was incurred to preserve the integrity of the Union. Not only millions of treasure, but life and property was sacrificed to gain this one object. The expense was almost unlimited but the people of the United States made the sacrifice. The debt of Canada, or the bulk of it, was incured for a similar purpose—to maintain

THE INTEGRITY OF THE DOMINION.

It was done in a different way. We constructed railways linking the maritime provinces on the Atlantic to the British Columbia on the far Pacific (applause). It took $103,000,000 to build these railway links but the provinces were firmly bound together with no paper union (loud applause.) Which of us, Canada or the United States, had the best value for the debt? It had been urged that the Pacific road was too quickly built. In what position would we be, he would ask, if the United States adopted their proposed retaliatory bill supposing we had not this road. We would not only be cut off from the United States but we would be cut off from ourselves and this by an edict of a foreign country (applause). Our position now is that we are anxious to preserve amicable relations with our brethren across the line. If they grant us reciprocal privileges we will let them fish in our waters, but if they don't we won't allow them to do so. If they agree to be liberal and fair we will meet them. But if they want to shut us out of their markets, if they want to take our fish for nothing, then we say, "We are an independent community; we propose to maintain our rights." (Loud applause and cheers.) And under our excellent system of railways and canals and inter-provincial trade would grow and flourish. He was not in favor of a burden of debt. But where certain improvements are urgently needed it was the Government's duty to make them. Mr. Paterson complained that the Government had spent a large amount of money on the C. P. R. and yet did not own it. Mr. Paterson also stated that the Intercolonal railway was not a paying institution. The natural inference was that the Government should not try its hand at running railways again. Year after year [illegible] money to run it. The Government could not manage a railway with the success of a private company. Now the burden of the management of the Canadian Pacific Railway was out of their hands; they were not responsible for deficits, and yet they maintained ample power over the railway in reference to rates. He was glad to know, too, that the great transcontinental railway was paying. After all the burden of the public debt was what each paid in interest. In 1868 the interest per head was $1 29. In 1873 it was $1.31 per head. Increase under Conservative rule, 2 cents. The Reformers came in, and when they went out again in 1878 the interest per head was $1.58, or an increase of 27 cents in five years, or nearly 6 cents a year. The Conservatives came to power and in seven years the increase has only been 5 cents—or hardly 1 cent a year, and for this increase they can show the Canadian Pacific Railway, canals, public buildings and permanent improvements of all kinds over the land. (Applause.) Now counting the families at an average of 5, not of 4½ as Mr. Blake does with his wonderful accuracy (laughter), the increase amounts to 25 cents per family. Why if this were not a Scott Act county, and if he were not a tetottaler, he could say that it was not enough to set 'em up all round. (Laughter and applause.) He claimed that in making these public improvements the country was not losing but gaining. Lands would bound up in value where these improvements were made, towns would grow

AND CITIES THRIVE.

He held that it would not be a tendency to ruin if the Trent Valley canal were built, but that rather it would enhance property through its whole line, and tend to a country's material prosperity. (Applause.) The National Policy and the general policy of the Macdonald Government was a policy of judicious development, a policy to promote the best interests of the country. (Applause.) He then discussed the North-west Policy, and answered charges made against the Government as to alleged giving away of timber lands. He challenged anyone to point his finger at a man who got timber lands except under the ordinary regulation open to all and by competition when there was more than one applicant. This system of competition was introduced by Sir John. It was abolished by the Reform Government. It was introduced again by Sir John. The difference was that under 5 years of Reform rule $7,000 was got for timber lands and in seven years of Conservative rule $547,000 was received into the public treasury (loud applause.) Sir John compelled these lessees of timber limits to construct sawmills, the Reform Government did not.

A VOICE—How much did the Government pay for the Phalen lot and Sawers lot.

The HON T. WHITE—If you communicate with the Public Works Department no doubt they will tell you. The Department of the Interior has purchased no lot here.

Continuing the Minister discussed the Riel question. The Government asked for no votes because Riel was hanged. It was simply a matter of allowing the law to take its course. The Government paid for all the witnesses, gave him a fair trial and the judgment on him was performed. The man did not deserve mercy. Five Catholic missionary priests who were in the district at the time of the rebellion declared that Riel was unworthy of special consideration. He was found guilty of the crime he was charged with and he suffered the penalty. It had been said that Riel was hanged at the demand of the Orangemen. The Minister of Justice had stated that only one Orange lodge petitioned for the death of the halfbreed leader. (Applause.) The hon. gentleman concluded with a warm eulogy of Mr. Stevenson. He had been a good citizen for 40 years, had been frequently honored with places of trust by the citizens of Peterborough, and he felt that they would again show their appreciation of him on the 22nd by sending him to represent them in Parliament. (Loud and continued applause.)

Mr. A. P. POUSETTE, after a short address, proposed cheers for the speakers, which were followed by cheers for Mr. Stevenson, the Chairman, Sir John and the Queen.

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1887.

PRACTICAL CONSIDERATIONS.

Mr. BLAKE proposes to re-adjust the duties on woollen goods and to reduce them on those used by the working men. Now as such abstract assertions hardly convey a clear idea, it is sometimes expedient to bring the case home to the people of one's own locality by showing how the change would effect a local industry.

The Auburn Woollen Mills give much employment by manufacturing the class of goods at which Mr. Blake is aiming, tweeds worn by "working men," and good enough to be worn by any man unless he is somewhat of a "dude" and must wear imported superfine goods. If Mr. Blake could reduce the duty on these lines, as he threatens, cheap and often shoddy foreign goods would be no longer kept out, and under such injurious competition the Auburn Mills would be driven to close, as in the evil days before the N. P. The employees rather than starve would have to seek some other industry (if any remained) and by overcrowding that, they would reduce the wages there also. Many of them, however, would probably be driven from the country to seek employ ment in a land that would encourage such labour as theirs. Our population would decrease, our business men would lose custom, and the neighboring farmers would no longer find our town such a good market for their smaller but remunerative products.

The mischief that Mr. Blake would thus cause is very obvious, but if the benefits of the change would overbalance the loss, it might be expedient to incur the cost. Let us consider these promised benefits. Cheap and too often shoddy woollen goods would be imported from abroad to replace those of our own manufacture. Even if they were cheaper than our own make, the difference would not be a gain, for experience tells us that they would not be such good value for our money, that they might appear cheap to the eye, but would prove dear when put to the test of wear. But in fact they would not even be lower priced. So far from the duty being added to the cost, as Mr. Blake and his friends say, internal competition has reduced prices lower than they were when we imported, a reduction not accounted for by the price of wool. It was the extended and more certain market that enabled this reduction to be made, while raising wages and increasing the remuneration of the manufacturers. The free traders and revenue tariff men acknowledge this lowering of prices by Canadian manufacturers, when to attack the N.P. from another side they pretend that it has injured the manufactures, by unduly stimulating competition, and forcing them to reduce their prices.

Let us sum up the results: The Auburn Woollen Mills and others closed, the opertives deprived of employment, our population reduced, our business men and our farmers deprived of customers, good sound Canadian tweeds replaced by less durable and less cheap shoddy goods to the loss of the wearer by the year's end.

Such are the losses, and now we will consaidor the gain. It is confined to this, that the free trade theorists would have the satisfaction of knowing that our tariff looked more symmetrical on paper, that the duties on woollen goods from the cheapest to the dearest would be a similar percentage of their value. It would only be on paper, for these closet philosophers know that they are speaking falsely when they say that the poor man pays more duty than the rich man. The man who is content with Canadian goods pays no duty on them, and he gets them cheaper than he would get inferior goods imported at a low tariff.

COAL.

AMONG the changes which Mr. Blake, while professing to be in a measure converted from his old antipathy to the N. P., proposes to make in the present tariff, is a repeal of the duty on coal. Those who have taken the pains to make themselves acquainted with the subject, know that such a change would simply have the effect of putting over a million dollars into the pockets of the coal owners of the United States, who now pay the duty to that amount in order to hold the market. This loss of revenue would have to be met by some other import, which would have to be paid by ourselves, a duty on our tea and coffee being suggested to some of Mr. Blake's lieutenants. And while thus making a present of over a million dollars to the coal interests of the United States, we would not find coal one cent the cheaper, the price being fixed by the ring. We have already shown more than once how this is done, but we will now repeat it on the testimony of the official records of this Province under the Mowat Administration. In the report on January, 1886, of the Immigration Agent at Hamilton to the Hon. Commissioner of Immigration, Toronto, that is to Mr. Arthur S. Hardy, who embodies this report in his official report to the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, we find the following paragraph:—

"Referring to the low price of coal, the American coal companies have deducted the whole of the Canadian duty on larger contracts, in addition to the regular discount allowed to the Canadian dealers."

This experience of the effect of the coal duty at Hamilton is the same as that of other localities in Ontario.

But while the tariff is thus carrying out in Ontario one of its objects, the raising of the revenue, and that, too, paid by foreigners, it is also in a measure carrying out its other object of protecting a Canadian industry, for the output of coal in the Maritime Provinces has been increased, and the area of the market they supply has been enlarged. This benefit is, however, equally obnoxious to Mr. Blake's friends. We find in Hansard that on May 20, 1886, Mr. Weldon, one of the most prominent of the Maritime Province Reformers, is reported as saying:—

"These vessels, carrying our commodities from our own coast to New England, are obliged to come back without any cargoes, or if they bring coal it has to be sold at such a rate, in consequence of the duty, that dealers cannot afford to buy it."

So these patriotic Reformers actually make it a grievance that they are not allowed to import coal from the United States into the Maritime Provinces free of duty, in order to displace Canadian coal, and starve out those who now make a living from this Canadian industry.

The more this coal duty question is examined the more plainly it appears that the Grit outcry against it is dishonest claptrap. Why, they show plainly that they have not the slightest belief in their own assertions, for if the duty raised the price of coal as they pretend, it would have a protective effect upon our cordwood, yet they tell the farmers that the N. P. does not benefit them in any way. That it does benefit the farmer is certain, but it is not by raising the price of fuel.

REFORM CLAMOURS.

THE Toronto Standard gives nearly two columns of extracts from Reform journals showing how they clamoured in the summer and autumn of 1886 for the death of Riel. These specimens include the Toronto Globe, London Advertiser, Belleville Ontario, Kingston Whig, Ottawa Free Press, Brantford Expositor, Waterford Star, Huron Expositor, Mitchell Recorder, Barrie Examiner, Port Hope Guide, Halifax Chronicle, St. Thomas Journal, Guelph Mercury, Winnipeg Free Press, St. John Telegraph, Montreal Witness, Montreal Herald, Woodstock Sentinel Review and Hamilton Times. The list is far from complete, for in nearly every locality it is known, as it is in Peterborough, that the local Reform organ, with few exceptions joined in the clamour for Riel's death. Yet these same Reformers have now for the sole basis of their hope of gaining office the clamour raised by themselves and their allies for vengeance for the execution of Riel. This is frankly acknowledged as their main hope without which their little cries in the different Provinces of secession, annexation, encouragement of foreign industries, insanity of Sir John Macdonald, &c., would be altogether ineffectual. Those who clamoured for the blood of Riel, [illegible] for success on their clamours for vengeance upon those who allowed the law to take effect.

NEWS NOTES.

A committee has been formed to promote a national memorial to the late Lord Iddesleigh.

Mr. Parnell will go abroad to recuperate his health after the conclusion of the debate on the address.

The Montreal winter carnival was opened on Monday, the city being gaily decorated and crowded with visitors.

The postoffice authorities are making experiments with a view to connect the whole of Germany by telephone.

Dr Windthorst leader of the Centre (Catholic) party in the German Reichstag, refuses to submit to the Pope's dictation regarding the Septennate bill.

Arthur Pinel, the Toronto Postoffice clerk convicted of stealing registered letters, was on Monday sentenced to seven years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The Viceregal party left Ottawa on Monday afternoon for Montreal, and met with an enthusiastic welcome on their arrival in the city, where they will probably remain for a month.

Archbishop Fabre, of Montreal, has issued another circular to the clergy of his diocese calling on them to forbid their parishioners holding or taking part in political meetings on Sundays.

It is understood that the Government have decided to refuse permission to the Queen's Own Rifles, of Toronto, and the Royal Scots, of Montreal, to visit England to take part in the Queen's Jubilee celebration.

Great progress is being made in the development of the anthracite coal mines at Banff Hot Springs, N. W. T. A tunnel twelve feet wide and seven feet deep has been driven 225 feet into the mountain, and about a hundred men are kept at work day and night.

Busy Burglars.

MONTREAL, Feb. 7.—The gangs of American thieves and burglars and confidence operators who have arrived in the city have been very actively employed since Saturday last. Early on Sunday morning the jewellery store of Mr. S. Myers, on McGill street, was broken into and the safe rifled of $500 worth of jewellery. The rear windows of the store of Mr. Metayer, a tobacco and cigar merchant on Cnaboillez square, were forced open last night and $600 in money and goods abstracted. The safe was also tampered with. An attempt was also made last night to rob the branch of the Ville Marie Bank at Point St. Charles, but the parties being seen breaking in the door by some citizens passing, who gave the alarm, the thieves beat a retreat before the arrival of the police without getting anything for their trouble.

Parnell's Health.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—A special cable to the Times says: "The news of the reports in America to Parnell's intention to retire from politics has created lively astonishmet and hilarity among the Irish members here. Both from these and from telegraphs from Ireland to-night I have assurance that the story is an absolute fabrication. Parnell has been very ill, and is still suffering from grevious intestine troubles, but he never took a keener interest in the political struggle than now, and has no idea of retiring, nor is there a whisper of a suggestion that he should do so."

The Retaliation Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—No official action is expected on the Retaliation bill for several days.

Among Turnbull's new French dress goods will be found tints of peacock blue, also the new gobelin shade in several qualities with trimmings to match.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS:

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

Devices of Advertisers.

So many devices are resorted to by advertisers, that the ordinary reader sometimes become shy of the tempting paragraph, fearing [illegible] that is concealed in it. This [illegible] is [illegible], for instance, on reading the item, would many suppose that its purpose was to make known the truth that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is what it claims to be—a cure for a disease at once loathsome to friends, and annoying and even dangerous to the sufferer.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Peterborough Markets

WHEAT.
Wheat, fall, per bushel	0 80	to	0 80
" spring "	0 82	to	0 82
Arnecta Wheat	0 60	to	0 65
FLOUR AND MEAL.
Flour, Patent Process, per cwt.	$2 50	to	$2 50
Flour, bakers per cwt	2 25	to	2 25
Flour, stone process	1 80	to	1 80
COARSE GRAIN.
Barley, per bushel	0 48	to	0 60
Peas	0 50	to	0 54
Oats,	0 29	to	0 29
Rye	0 45	to	0 45
MILL FEED.
Oat chop, per cwt	1 10	to	1 10
Pea chop, "	1 10	to	1 10
Barley chop "	1 00	to	1 00
Pollards "	0 80	to	0 80
Bran, per ton	11 00	to	11 00
VEGETABLES.
Potatoes, per bag	0 70	to	0 70
Cabbage, per head	0 05	to	0 07
Beets, per bag	0 40	to	0 40
Onions, per bag	1 25	to	1 40
Carrots, small sed, per bag	0 35	to	0 40
Carrots, field, per bag	0 15	to	0 20
Turnips	0 20	to	0 25
Parsnips	0 30	to	0 40
MEAT, POULTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE.
Beef, by the quarter per cwt	3 50	to	4 50
Pork, " " "	6 00	to	6 25
Mutton, per lb	0 06	to	0 08
Veal, per lb	none offering
Lamb, per lb	0 07	to	0 8
Dressed Hogs	5 50	to	6 00
Hogs, live weight	3 75	to	4 25
Tallow, per lb	0 04	to	0 06
Lard	0 10	to	0 11
Chickens, per pair	0 45	to	0 60
Ducks, per pair	0 60	to	0 70
Geese, each	0 50	to	0 60
Turkeys, each	0 75	to	1 00
Butter, fresh roll, per lb	0 18	to	0 20
Butter, packed prime, per lb	0 16	to	0 18
Cheese, private sale per lb	0 12	to	0 12
Eggs, per doz	0 19	to	0 20
Hay, per ton	7 00	to	10 00
Straw, per load	2 00	to	3 00
Wood, hard, per load	3 50	to	4 50
Wood, soft, per load	2 50	to	3 00
WOOL AND HIDES.
Fleece wool	0 18	to	0 18
Southdown wool	0 20	to	0 20
Hides, per cwt	5 50	to	6 00
Hides, trimmed, per cwt.	6 00	to	7 00
Lamb skins	25	to	25
Sheep Pelts, each	25	to	25
Sheep skins	1 00	to	1 00
FISH.
White Fish, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Speckled Trout, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Maskinonge, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Bass, per pound	0 08	to	0 08
Finnie Haddie, per lb	0 10	to	0 10
Simcoe Herring, per do	0 30	to	0 30
Salt Mackrel, per doz	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per quart	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per can	0 45	to	0 55

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT, Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d12

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00

LADIES..... 50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG, Manager.

1565

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, without which none are genuine.

HENFEED

Small Wheat - - - - 90c per 100 lbs,

Barley - - - - - - - 95c per 100 lbs.

Pure Wheat Spring or Fall, $1.25 per 100 lbs.

J. W. FLAVELLE,

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. SIMCOE STREET.

RETIRING

FROM THE BOOT AND SHOE BUSINESS.

R. STENSON & SON

Having decided on Retiring from Business, will receive Tenders up to the 21st of February next, at a rate on the Dollar, for the purchase en bloc of their Stock of Boots and Shoes, &c. The highest or any Tender not necessarily accepted.

If not then disposed of, the whole of the Stock will be sold in Quantities to Suit Purchasers.

ALL WINTER GOODS WILL BE SOLD AT COST FROM TO-DAY.

R. STENSON & SON.

Peterborough, Feb. 7th, 1887. 1md31w6

A GOOD TIME TO BUY.

The present is an excellent opportunity to purchase

Buggies, Phætons, Carriages and Waggons

at our Factory, as we are selling them out to make room for a lively trade in Winter Goods this Season. A fine stock on hand at prices that cannot fail to please. The present is also an excellent time to purchase or order before the busy season sets in. Hand in your order and obtain a handsome and substantial vehicle. If you do not intend to purchase a new one, bring along your cutters and sleighs and have them repaired. All material used by us is THOROUGHLY SEASONED. Our workmen are skilled mechanics, and the work is finished in the best styles. BUGGY TOPS made in the factory in several styles and at moderate prices. You will consult your interests by calling on us, as we are bound not to be beaten in prices or workmanship, and to lead the procession in our trade.

Cutters or Sleighs

We have also about 5,000 FEET OF TWO-INCH OAK, suitable for building purposes, which we will dispose of at a reasonable price.

PORTER BROS.

Corner Charlotte and Aylmer Streets, near the G.T.R.

NORTH AMERICAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

The annual meeting of the North American Life Assurance Company was held in the company's offices on Tuesday, the 25th Jan., the President, Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, in the chair. The following is the annual REPORT.

The directors, in submitting their annual report, have to express their entire satifaction with the amount and character of the business done.

During the year 1,355 applications for $2,722,450 were received, upon which were issued 1,259 policies for $2,529,950, the rest being unacceptable, and 7 policies for $16,350, which had lapsed for non-payment of premium, were revived. This is a volume of new business amounting to nearly $600,000 over that of any former year, and sixty per cent. in excess of that done by any Canadian compay in the same period of its history.

The accompanying revenue account and balance sheet show that the assets have have been increased nearly 25 per cent., and the investments in first mortgage securities have been more than doubled.

The progressive prosperity of the company will be best seen by comparison with the largest Canadian companies. For example, the cash premium receipts for its sixthly year exceed those of the Confederation, at the end of its 8 year; of the Sun, at the end of its 10th year; of the Ontario, at the end of its 13th year; and of the Canada Life at the end of its 22nd year, as shown by the published official reports. The company's records are kept in such a complete and systematic manner that its balance sheet was finished a few hours after the close of business on the last day of the year, and a full report of the business of the year ended on that day was mailed to the Government on New Year's day.

The last official report of the Superintendent of Insurance shows that this was the only life company whose report was received by the Department in January; that those of 10 companies were not received until February; of 22, not until March; and of 7, not until April, thereby preventing the issue of the Superintendent's report until long after the prorogation of Parliament. For several years the full report of this company has been received by the Department in the first week in January.

The Superintendent of Insurance points out in his last report that the amount of business effected by our home companies in 1885 as compared with that done in 1875, had risen from $5,077,601 to $14,881,695, and the business in force had increased in the Canadian companies during that period from $21,357,296, to $74,591,139; while the corresponding increase in the American companies had been less than six millions, making a difference in favour of our home companies of nearly forty-seven millions. This very gratifying fact is evidence of the rapid national development of the Dominion, showing that we are strong enough to support great commercial enterprises, and that our home companies are more than holding their own against their foreign competitors.

The same report of the Superintendent shows that the foreign life companies alone received in premiums from Canadian policy-holders during the same period of eleven years nearly thirty-two millions of dollars, a great part of which was, therefore, withdrawn from the available capital of the country, and went abroad, thereby aiding the advancement of commercial competitors. By dealing with our home companies, such money would have been utilized in building up and extending Canadian interests.

The report also shows that the United States companies have only deposited with the Government a small portion of the reserve of their policies in force here, while the securities deposited are almost wholly foreign stocks.

The entire reserves and resources of Canadian Life companies are invested in Canada. The advantage and convenience to policy holders are largely in favor of doing business with well-managed home companies.

The services of the company's staff of officers, inspectors and agents again deserve special commendation.

The directors all retire, but are eligible for re-election.

ALEXANDER MACKENZIE,
President.

January 25th, 1887.

ABSTRACT OF REVENUE ACCOUNT AND BALANCE SHEET.

Income for the year 1886	$ 195,249 89
Expenditure (including payments to policy-holders of $37,067.66)	107,748 94
Assets (including uncalled Guarantee Fund)	667,151 98
Liabilities to policy-holders	313,685 00
Surplus for security of Policy-holders	353,466 98

WILLIAM MCCABE, Managing Director and Actuary.

We have examined the books, documents and vouchers, representing the foregoing revenue account, and also each of the securities for the property in the above balance sheet, and certify to their correctness.

JAMES CARLYLE, M.D.,
W. G. CASSELS,
} Auditors.

Toronto, January 3rd, 1886.

We concur in the foregoing certificate, and have personally made an independent examination of said books quarterly, and also of each of the securities representing said property.

E. A. MEREDITH, LL.D.,
WM. GORDON,
} Auditing Committee of the Board.

The President then said, in moving the adoption of the report:—I rise to make the formal motion usually made by the President upon the report which reveals the work of the year and the standing of the Company. I make the motion with all the gratification of previous annual meetings, inasmuch as our former rate of progress has been greatly accelerated, not only as regards the amount of new business, but in the addition to the surplus and in the amount of the investments. The new business amounted to over two and a half millions. The surplus amounts to $46,891.98 after payment of all charges. The mortgage investments have been more than doubled.

Competition in the business of life insurance was never keener than it has been during the last year; largely in consequence of this competition, the aggregate of business will be found to be greater than formerly, though shared in by more companies. The British and United States companies have made vigorous efforts to obtain a firm foothold in Canada, and some of them in pushing their business paid commissions far above that paid by Canadian companies, and in excess of what we think it safe to pay.

It naturally occurs to our policy-holders and guarantors to ask: "How has the 'North American' prospered during such a year?" The figures I have already given convey a fair idea of the result in a general way. The report shows that the business put on our books during the year was about $600,000 in excess of the business of 1885. This success shows that the various plans of the company are suited to, and appreciated by, all classes of the community desiring insurance.

In former years I compared the position of this company with that of the principal home companies during the same period in their history. By this means a more definite idea can be formed of the great progress made by this company. I propose to-day to amplify such comparison as applicable to the past year, but not in any hostile spirit to competitors.

The figures are in every case taken from official statements. The position of these companies at the end of their sixth year was as follows:—

COMPANIES' FIGURES, END OF SIXTH YEAR.

	Income.	Assets.	New Business.	Total Amt in Force.
Canada Life	$ 56,960 00	$140,523 00	$ 414,070	$1,609,400
Confederation	152,837 15	369,856 94	1,616,558	4,888,755
Sun Life	105,318 38	300,297 31	1,267,342	2,995,058
Ontario Mutual, 10th year	72,426 82	179,505 51	534,000	2,165,412
North American	194,249 39	427,151 98	2,540,784	6,075,805

You will observe that in the amount of our income, accumulated funds, new business and insurance in force we are very considerably ahead of the companies named at a similar period in their history, and in an another important aspect, that of the cost of the business and its stability, I find we also compare very favorably with our home competitors.

Hon Alexander Morris, Vice President, in seconding the adoption of the report, said:—The position of this company is one in which a number of us have taken the deepest interest since its organization, and we must be all gratified at its rapid development, at the strength it has attained, and the support that has been given to it by the Canadian community from British Columbia to Prince Edward Island, thereby proving that the people of Canada are becoming alive to the duty that lies upon them to support home institutions, and thus contribute to the prosperity of our rapidly growing Dominion.

I would desire to call attention just now to a few facts contained in the report. It would appear that during a period of 11 years nearly thirty-two million dollars have been paid for premiums to foreign life companies by Canadian insurers. The gain that would have resulted by the retention of that large amount of money in our own Dominion and its application in the way of assisting the various industries throughout the country is at once apparent. These figures are very suggestive, and I think ought to impress themselves upon the thoughts of those contemplating life insurance. The comparative longevity of lives in Canada as compared with other countries is one that has attracted my attention. I was for ten years consulting director to one of the largest British companies doing extensive business in the Dominion, and I was impressed with the fact that according to the Carlisle Life Table used by that company the mortality experienced in Canada was always very much less than provided for by that table. We have much reason to be gratified with the large amount of new business done by this company during the past year, and also with the retention and stability of its old business.

It is a mistake for Canadians to suppose that it is profitable for them to insure in foreign companies on the ground of their larger assets without considering the relation of these assets to their liabilities, for large as the assets of some of them appear they are almost wholly debts due their policy holders and by no means constitute an extra element of strength. The business of many of these companies is also diffused throughout nearly all countries and climates, and subject thereby to increased loss from war and climatic causes, and insurers in Canada are thus made to bear the extra cost of insurance arising from a largely increased death rate necessarily incident to the business of such companies when compared with that in this favored land of ours. Canadians are thus better off when their insurance is effected in our own companies, while a comparison of the figures given in the last report of the Insurance Superintendent proves that the assets of Canadian companies are sufficiently ample for the absolute security of their policy holders, and that in the ratio of their assets to their liabilities they rank amongst the strongest.

I feel that the company is under obligation for the valuable services rendered by our Medical Director, Dr. Thorburn. He is exceedingly careful in the selection of our risks, and I believe if he errs at all it is on the side of safety. The Company is to be congratulated on having such an excellent staff of agents. The work done by them during the past year is the best testimony to their perseverance, intelligence and energy. It is my very pleasant duty to refer to the Managing Director. We all know that he has devoted himself energetically and with great ability to build up this institution, in fact it seems to me that his heart seems bound up in the success of this Company. The services of the Secretary, Mr. Goldman, to the Company have won the heartiest approval of the Board. In addition to these gentlemen we have also an excellent staff of officers, whose connection with Company has always been marked by their undivided attention to its business.

Our worthy president is without doubt a tower of strength to this Company, and I can only express the hope, in which I am sure you will all heartily join, that he may soon regain a vigorous state of health and be long spared to give the benefit of his valuable advice, assistance and experience.

Dr. Thorburn, medical director, presented his report. On motion of Mr. J. L. Blaikie, seconded by Mr. D. McCrae, it was adopted.

On motion of J. K. Kerr, Esq., Q. C., seconded by B. B. Hughes, Esq., it was unanimously resolved that as a recognition of the valuable services of the president, vice-presidents and chairmen of the Finance and Executive committees, a sum of money be placed to their credit.

On motion of Rev. Dr. Nelles, Principal of Victoria College, Cobourg, seconded by Mr. J. R. Miller, barrister, of Toronto, the thanks of the policy holders and guarantors were tendered to the president, vice-presidents, directors and members of the Provincial and local Boards of Directors for their attention to the interests of the Company during the past year.

The Rev. Dr. Nelles, of Cobourg, said he felt great pleasure at being at this gathering and also at seeing his old friend, the Hon. A. Mackenzie, occupying the chair. He said he was not a financier, and consequently in matters pertaining to a life insurance company he largely depended upon the position and ability of the gentlemen composing its management; when he saw such men as the Hon. A. Mackenzie, Hon. A. Morris, Senator G. W. Allan and other leading gentlemen gathered here to-day connected with this company, he felt that as a policy holder his interests were perfectly safe.

Mr. J. R. Miller, barrister, in seconding the motion, said that as a policy holder he, like the Rev. Dr. Nelles, had every confidence in the president, vice presidents and directors of the Company, and he felt confident that the splendid position it had already attained was only a commencement of a very brilliant and useful future to the people of this Dominion.

On motion of Hon. O. Mowat, seconded by Capt. Larkin, thanks were tendered the medical director, managing director, secretary, inspectors and agents of the Company for the satisfactory discharge of their respective duties.

Hon. Oliver Mowat, Premier of Ontario, said: It gives me great joy to be here with you to-day and to see my old friend, Mr. Mackenzie, still holding the office of president of this Company, a position he has ably occupied for many years, devoting his mental vigor and ability to this institution. It is gratifying to know that the other officers of this company are also gentlemen of great ability. It is essential for the success of an institution such as this that they should be so, and as one of the oldest stock holders in this Company I certainly think that the Company is to be congratulated on having as managing director a gentleman like Mr. McCabe, of known ability and standing in the insurance profession.

Captain Larkin, of St. Catharines, said: As a policy holder he was delighted with the success of the Company, and heartily endorsed all that had been said about the support of home companies. He had been in favour of life insurance since he had been old enough to know anything about it, and had always advocated supporting Canadian companies.

Mr. Meredith, LL.D., and Mr. Lake were appointed scrutineers when the poll was opened.

The scrutineers reported the old board re-elected.

The meeting then adjourned, whereupon the new board met and re-elected the officers of last year.

W. H. WALKEY,
E. SANDERSON,
T. W. GIBBS,
} Special Agents

A. WILSON,
INSPECTOR.

1d1w

MONEY TO LEND!

HAVING resigned his connection with the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Ld.,) the undersigned has made arrangements for lending an unlimited amount at SIX PER CENT, on terms more favourable than any Peterborough or Toronto Company, and will be pleased to see his many old friends with a view to making them new advances or readjusting their present Mortgages.

A. P. POUSSETTE.

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md79w41

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY REVIEW IF YOU ARE WISE

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. 1yd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. 1yd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. 1yd97

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. 1yd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 759. Residence, Bon Accord Street. 1yd97 w4

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. 1yd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. 1yd97

W. FITZGREALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied. Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. 1yd97

General.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 150 pages. GEO. P ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., NEW YORK.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take your LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required.

WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 35 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY

JOHN NUGENT

Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont.
FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 28 Maryland Road, Harrow Road, London, England. (Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)

No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d12eodw49

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse. [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5. by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via O. & Q. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
10 55 p m	Toronto and West, via O. & Q. R.	6 00 p m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
8 20 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	8 00 p m
12 00 m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)	8 00 a m
8 50 p m		4 30 p m
8 20 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope	11 00 a m
5 15 p m	do do	8 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
4 00 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville	11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore	1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Haultain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clysdale, Paudash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 30 a m
	do do do	4 30 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays. Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	7 30 p m
9 00 a m		6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Prussia, Jamaica, Barbados, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibralter, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxenburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamacia, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland. Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

DUNN'S BAKING POWDER

THE COOK'S BEST FRIEND

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Half-Price.

From this date season tickets for skating will be sold for half price. Apply to Mr. McGill or the bookstores.

The Domestic fashion sheet for February has arrived at Turnbull's, call and get one.

Band of Hope.

Band of Hope drill will meet in Mr. Bradburn's store (next door to Mr. Smart's store George street) at the usual hour. Those in fan drill in the same place at 4 p. m.

The Campaign.

The campaign meetings in Mr. Stevenson's behalf in the townships are progressing well. On Tuesday evening Messrs. Stevenson, Carnegie and Hilliard addressed a well attended meeting at Bridgenorth. Messrs. Stone and Stratton appeared for Mr. Cox. The latter spoke for about ten minutes and then read Globe flysheets to the audience. Mr. Stevenson is meeting with success in the canvass.

Insurance.

The report of the annual meeting of the North American Life Assurance Company, to be found in another column, will be of interest to those insured in that Company. The directors in submitting their report "have to express their entire satisfaction with the amount and character of the business done" during the year. Prominent men of the Province are connected with this company, and the business done, as shown by the report, points to its being under capable management. Mr. Andrew Wilson, of this town, is the Inspector for this district.

Evangelistic.

Mr. Geo. H. Marsh, the evangelist, arrived in town yesterday and held his first meeting in the Young Men's Christian Association Hall last evening. Despite the very unfavorable weather a good audience of men listened to his address, which was on Prov. 28, 13, "Whoso confesseth and forsaketh his sins shall have mercy." The meeting this evening will be held in the young men's rooms, and if they are found too small, some larger place will be secured. Ladies are invited to attend the meetings at four o'clock each afternoon.

SEE R. Fair's new Embroideries; a magnificent display at the Golden Lion.

The Stars.

Owing to the very bad weather there were not more than seventy-five people out to hear the lecture delivered on "The Stars" by Mr. J. H. Long, Principal of the Collegiate Institute, at St. John's Church School room on Tuesday night. Those who were there, however, enjoyed the lecture very much. Mr. Long dealt with this interesting subject in a highly satisfactory manner, giving his audience a graphic sketch of the wonderland of the spheres. As the lecture has been before reprinted in the REVIEW it is not necessary to say anything further.

The Carnival.

The fancy dress skating carnival to be held in the Charlotte street rink promises to be a great success. Advices from Lakefield, Keene, Bobcaygeon, Millbrook and Lindsay state that quite a number from these places will be present in costume. The firemen are busy arranging the decorations which will be on a magnificent scale, and the band have been practicing for the past ten evenings the new selections they will render on that occasion. The political contest between Mayor Stevenson and Mr. Geo. A. Cox (of which the ladies will take charge) promises to be a spirited one, and with favorable weather from now until Friday evening nothing can prevent those in attendance enjoying a pleasant night.

NEW Prints now on Exhibition at the Golden Lion.—R. FAIR.

The Creek.

The water in the creek rose with unparalleled rapidity last night. At six o'clock it was at its normal height. It eight o'clock it was rushing tumultuously down, threatening to overflow its banks all along its course. At the Bethune street bridge the ice choked the flow so that quite a current was diverted down Bethune street. At Paterson's tannery the men were working till midnight keeping the channel clear. The small stream which flows from the east of Smithtown hill also swelled and overflowed its bounds. Aylmer street, from above Dublin street down to McDonell, was flooded so as to render the street impassable. To-day the water has sunk considerably, owing to the frost last night. The corporation men are working at cutting a wider channel in the creek.

Have you seen Turnbull's 6¼ cent fancy check wincey? If not you are missing a bargain.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

CONCENTRATING TROOPS.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Reports received from various directions reassert that troops are being concentrated in Southern Russia.

THE SITUATION MOST SERIOUS.

BERLIN, Feb. 8.—The Berliner Nachrichten says Gen. Von Moltke, is receiving a deputation of Conservative electors, declared the political situation most serious, and authorized the deputation to give publicity to his statement.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The actual presentation of the complaint for divorce by Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise against her husband, the Marquis of Lorne, has been stopped, for the time at least, through the personal efforts of the Queen. But the strain existing is so severe that it is believed that before long, despite the scandal it would create, application will be made for divorce.

WILL NOT ATTACK FRANCE.

PARIS, Feb. 8.—The Evenement says: "In an interview between a Frenchman and Herr Bleichroder at Berlin the latter declared that he had asked Prince Bismarck whether he had inspired the Berlin Post's article, and Prince Bismarck replied with a distinct negative. Herr Bleichroder regretted that M. Ferry was not in power, because he agreed so well with Germany. He declared that Germany would never attack France."

NEW GERMAN LOAN.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The Chronicle's Vienna special asserts that the German Bundesrath has actually discussed the proposal for a loan of 300,000,000 marks, and the fact that the proposal was not submitted to the Landtag, shows that the situation is improved.

REVIVAL OF TRADE.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—At the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce to-day the chairman congratulated the meeting on the revival of trade throughout the country, chiefly with India, Canada, the United States and South America. He deprecated the importation of the immense amount of food which Great Britain at present buys abroad, and which, he said, the country was perfectly able to produce herself.

FRANCE AND EGYPT.

PARIS, Feb. 8.—The Journal des Debats says that France does not oppose the abolition of the Corvee in Egypt, but differs with England as to how the funds resulting therefrom should be applied. France, Germany and Russia, it says, desire that these funds be applied to military uses, while England wants them applied to ballancing the budget.

TO SUPPORT PARNELL.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Mr Gladitone promises to support Mr. Parnell's amendment.

WHOLESALE MURDERS

VIENNA, Feb. 8.—A. Leltomischi, an inn keeper, and his wife have been arrested for committing a series of eleven murders' extending over a period of several years. The victims were wealthy sojourners, one being a baron.

DICUSSING A LOAN.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The Chronicle's Vienna correspondent asserts that the German Bundesrath is actually discussing a proposal for a loan of 300,000,000 marks and the fact that the proposal was not submitted to the Landtag shows the situation has improved.

THE ABYSSINIAN LOSS.

ROME, Feb. 8.—It is stated the Abyssinians lost 5,000 men in the battle in which the Italian forces were defeated near Massowah on January 26 and 27.

ITALIAN LOSSES.

ROME, Feb. 8.—An official despatch from Massowah announces that in the recent encounter with the Abyssinians the Italians had 23 officers and 407 men killed and one officer and 81 men wounded.

RESIGNATION OF THE CABINET.

ROME, Feb. 8.—Prime Minister Depretis announced to the Italian Chamber of Deputies this afternoon that the entire Cabinet had resigned.

AN M. P. DEAD.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Mr. Peter Rylands, Liberal-Unionist member of Parliament for Burnley, is dead.

THE BULGARIAN QUESTION.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The official despatches between the Russian and British Governments regarding the Bulgarian question are published. They show that the Czar approved of Gen. Kaulbars in Bulgaria, and declare that efforts to restore the independence of that country would be continued. The late Lord Iddesleigh (then Foreign Secretary) in reply said that, though the Russian Government's impression of events in Bulgaria differed widely with those of the British Government, England was equally desirous of maintaining the treaties relative to Bulgaria, and obtaining a pacific solution of the difficulty.

A SWISS LANDSTURM.

BERLIN, Feb. 8.—The Bundesrath has decided to immediately arrange a landsturm, which shall comprise men of from 17 to 55 years of ago, who are not in the regular army.

A SOCIALIST GATHERING.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Ten thousand Socialists assembled at Clerkenwell this evening to celebrate the riots of Feb. 8, 1886. There were hundreds of police present on horseback and on foot. Some incendiary speeches were made, and an attempt to light torches was prevented by the police. The mob then dispersed in three different directions. One contingent, armed with granite paving stones, went towards the city, smashing houses and shop windows on the way. A butcher's shop was looted, and the owner was fired at with a revolver, but he was not hurt. A detachment of police met the rioters at Newgate and dispersed them. Several of the rioters were arrested. The two other sections of the Clerkenwell mob went westward, but melted away without doing serious damage.

THE SOUDAN STRUGGLE.

ROME, Feb. 8.—The Government has received a despatch from the Italian commander at Massowah, saying Ras Aloula was retreating, but that it was not known whether he desired to await reinforcements or whether, owing to his losses, which had been heavy, he had decided to refrain from attacking Massowah. The commander further says Major Piano has brought letters from King John and Ras Aloula offering to renew peaceful relations on condition that the Italians do not extend their territory beyond Massowah, and authorizing Major Piano to negotiate terms of peace. The commander replied evasively with the object of recovering the Italian prisoners.

The Senate's Action Endorsed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—All the leading newspapers endorse the action of the Senate in passing the bills for coast defences, naval armor and armaments for fortifications and cruisers.

Turnbull is showing a fine assortment of new grey dress goods from the light silver to the dark Oxford shades.

A CHILD DROWNED.

Slips into a Stream While on Her Way to School.

By Telephone to the Review.

PORT HOPE, Feb. 9.—A fatal drowning accident occurred at Orono this morning. Mary, a eleven year old daughter of Mr. F. Andrus, while on her way to school, missed her footing in some way and slipped into a stream which was unusually high. The body was not recovered for fully one hour afterwards. The deceased is a sister of Mr. L. Andrus, one of the teachers in the Port Hope High School.

A commercial teeter, we are on the top, but our prices are at the bottom. See what Turnbull is showing this week in new bedroom chints and cretonnes.

LIBEL SUITS.

Two Reformers Called on to Prove Their Statements.

ST. CATHRINES, Feb. 8.—Mr. J. C. Rykert, the Conservative candidate for Lincoln has entered an action against Mr W. K. Pattison, the Reform candidate, for slander, claiming $10,000 damages. The writ was served this morning. The action arises out of Mr. Pattison publicly accusing Mr. Rykert of having swindled a Mr. Sands in a land and timber sale, and saying he was prepared to prove it.

MONTREAL, Feb. 8.—Mr Benjamin Globensky, a leading lawyer here, has entered an action to recover $15,000 damages from Hon. Wilfred Laurier for libel. The plea filed by plaintiff sets forth that on the 3rd inst., at the political meeting in Bonsecours hall here, the defendant stated that the Conservatives had sent Mr. Globensky to Mr. Larochelle, M. P. P. for Dorchester, to give him $2,000 to support Hon. Mr Taillon. The defendant is then said to have stated that Mr. Larochelle put $1,000 in his pocket and returned the balance to Mr. Globensky, saying he kept the remainder for the insult offered to him. Mr. Globensky said this was robbery, and Mr. Larochelle replied, "Well, publish it in the papers." Mr. Globensky testifies there is no foundation for the statements.

Astonishing Success

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive at least to try one bottle, as 70,000 dozen bottes were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in the United States and Canada. d30

GENTS white unlaundried shirts all sizes for 45 cents at the Golden Lion.—R. FAIR.

Turnbull deals exclusively in the extremes; the best and the cheapest. See his new stock of print shirtings. See Sucker's white and grey cottons, cottonades and tweeds.

RETIRING

from the Dry Goods Business.

$10,000.00

worth of Dry Goods must be sold before

The 15th day of March, 1887

AT

T. DOLAN & CO'S

As on the above mentioned date, the Dry Goods business carried on by T. Dolan & Co. for the past ten years, will pass into the hands of a new firm, we have decided to reduce our present magnificent stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods amounting to $20,000.00 to one half its volume. In order to accomplish this we have marked all our goods to the bare cost price.

JUST IMAGINE

$3,000 worth of Dress Goods at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Black and Colored Silks at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Mantle Cloths at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Gloves and Hosiery at Cost.

$3,000 worth of Cottons, Bleached and Unbleached, at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Cotton Shirting at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Domestics, etc., etc., at Cost.

$2,000 worth of Clouds and Woolen Goods at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Prints and Ginghams at Cost.

EVERYTHING AT COST

The goods must go. This is a genuine cash sale, and no hoax. Remember from now until March 15th, as after that date we intend to direct our attention exclusively to our Tailoring establishment.

T. Dolan & Co

Wants.

WANTED

A GOOD GENERAL SERVANT. Also A NURSE. No washing. Highest wages. Apply REVIEW Office. d33

BOARDERS WANTED.

LADIES OR GENTLEMEN wanting board can be accommodated by applying to MRS. LUMSDEN, corner of Aylmer and Charlotte Streets. d27

Miscellaneous.

PURE UNADULTERATED

TEAS AND COFFEES

CHEAPER THAN EVER, AT

HAWLEY BROS

The People's Tea Store, Hunter Street, East.

What is it? Where is it?

CULVER'S COUGH BALSAM

A valuable compound of Tar, Wild Cherry and Healing Balsams, for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough and all throat and lung diseases. The best cough medicine known for consumption. Price 25 cents. Sold by

GEO. A. SHERIN, Druggist

Floral Drug Store, Opposite the Market.

That's What they all Say

Culver's Cough Balsam is the best cough medicine I ever used. It was the worst cold I ever had and it stopped it at once. Sold by

GEO. A. SHERIN,

Floral Drug Store, Market.

MR. J. W. CROSBY

THE

New Music Dealer

Will always be found at his office at MR. WESLEY MILLAR'S, George Street, 2 doors north of Charlotte Street, where he is prepared to give bargains in the celebrated

New York Weber, Steinway, Chickering, Emerson, Lansdown and Stavenson Pianos.

He is Sole Agent for the Uxbridge & Kilgore Organs. Sample Instruments always in stock. A chat with him about how to purchase a good instrument at a low figure will amply pay you. He has never been and will not now be undersold. d32

Notice to Creditors

OF THE

LATE JOHN B. HAMMOND.

PURSUANT to Revised Statutes of Ontario, Chapter 107 and 46 Victoria, Chapter 9, Ontario, notice is hereby given that all creditors and others having claims against the estate of John Edward Hammond, late of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, gentleman, who died on or about the third day of January, 1887, are required to send by post, prepaid, or to deliver to Hatton & Wood, of the Town of Peterborough, in the said County of Peterborough, solicitors for Herbert Arthur Hammond, Robert Penniel Boucher and Harriet Hammond, the executors and executrix of the last will and testament of the deceased on or before the 28th day of February, 1887, a statement of their names and addresses, the full particulars of their claims and securities (if any) held by them. And that after the said date the said executors and executrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice shall have been given as above required.

And the said executors and executrix will not be responsible for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons of whose claim or claims notice shall not have been received at the time of such distribution.

Dated at Peterborough, this 26th day of January, 1887.

HATTON & WOOD,
Solicitors for the said
Executors and Executrix.

w3

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears, Sweet Florida Oranges, Malaga Grapes, new English Walnuts, Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecan Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Parties a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS,

George St., Peterborough

CHEAP GROCERIES

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON.

d29 Ashburnham.

W. W. Johnston & Co.

GIVING UP BUSINESS.

A GENUINE CLERAING OUT SALE.

Having decided to give up business, we will on and after SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15th, offer to the public

THE BIGGEST BARGAINS

They have seen for some time in DRY GOODS. We have marked down everything in the store to such low prices that all will be satisfied. This is not a sale of Winter Goods alone, but a closing out sale, and we will offer at Bargain Prices the Whole Stock, worth over $10,000, composed of the following:

Thousands of yards Dress Goods,	Hunreds of yards Cashmere,
Thousands of yards Ribbon,	Hundreds of yards Velvets and Plushes,
Thousands of yards Print,	Hundreds of yards Silks and Satins,
Thousands of yards Cotton,	Hundreds of yards Cretonne,
Thousands of yards Cotton Shirting,	Hundreds of yards Flannel,
Hundreds of yards Carpet,	Hundreds of yards Sheeting,

And a large stock of Woollen Goods, Muslins, Laces, Embroideries, Gloves, Hosiery and Small Wares.

TERMS STRICTLY CASH. Come and satisfy yourself that this is Peterborough's Biggest Closing Out Sale. w5-d

W. W. Johnston & Co.

CRYSTAL BLOCK.

STAPLE DEPARTMENT.

Tickings, Sheetings, Towellings, Table Linens, Grey Cottons, White Cottons, Shirtings, Cottonades, Prints, Ginghams, &c.

THESE GOODS WE OFFER AT CLOSE CASH PRICES.

H. S. GRIFFIN & CO.

Midland Railway of Canada.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR LOCKS LINE," Peterborough, will be received until the 9th day of February, 1887 inclusive, for the construction of works at Peterborough, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen at the office of the engineer of the Midland Division of Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Persons desirous of tendering are requested to make personal enquiry relative to the work to be done and to examine the locality.

No tender will be entertained unless on one of the printed forms, and all the conditions are complied with.

The company does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender. By order

H. READ,
Secretary Midland Railway,
G. T. R. Office Montreal. d26

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Rasins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skilful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES:—A full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d6w

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms. TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 34. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

PROBABILITIES.

South-east and south-west winds; partly cloudy to cloudy milder weather, with light snow or rain in some localities by evening, followed to-wards morning or to-morrow by north-west and north winds, and colder weather.

R. FAIR.

FIRST CONSIGNMENT

OF

NEW PRINTS

FOUR THOUSAND YARDS.

ALL NEW PATTERNS.

Come early and make your choice and be ready for Spring.

New Embroideries just to hand. Beautiful Designs. All Widths.

These Goods are imported direct, and having placed our order before the advance you can expect bargains.

R. FAIR.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE.

d116w18 Solicitor

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training. $70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal, Peterborough, Ontario.

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. E. BURGESS,

Opposite the Post Office

Postal Address, Box 381. d113w9

Wood and Coal.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL, hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d113 JAMES GALVIN.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

d4w JAMES STEVENSON.

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d52w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,

SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.

☞ MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w18

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.

☞ MONEY TO LOAN. d103w18

HATTON & WOOD,

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

E. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Professional.

RICHARD B. ROGERS.

CIVIL ENGINEER, PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR, Superintending Engineer Trent Canal Works. Office Post Office Block, George Street. w42

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d41w18

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d120w2

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street opposite St. John's Church. d123w22 ly

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w3

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto Schoool of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. ly&w

Musical.

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipsig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipzig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence

DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE d111w6

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. ly111

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. d1y

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

SPECIAL.

WHITE AND CREAM TABLE LINENS,

AT A BARGAIN.

TABLE NAPKINS, REDUCED.

LINEN TOWELINGS,

FINE QUALITY AT REDUCED PRICES.

LACE CURTAINS

AND

MUSLIN CURTAINS

AT A BIG REDUCTION, AT

THOS. KELLY'S

Corner of George and Simcoe Streets.

AT THE SIGN

OF THE

Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1887.

HON. THOS. WHITE.

THE able address delivered in the Opera House by the Hon. Thos. White, clearly placed before the crowded and attentive audience the leading questions of the day. He utterly exploded some of the principal falsifications which form the chief stock in trade of the Reform leaders and orators, showing their flagrant insincerity. Especially did he show the great benefit of the National policy, and the ruinous consequences that would result from the proposed changes of the Reformers. As he explained how these changes would close the woollen and cotton factories and sugar refineries, while the consumers would get no benefit, it was manifest that the sympathies of the great mass of his audience were with him. On many other points he ably refuted the assertions of the Opposition speakers, and carried the war into their ranks by his exposure of their insincerity, inconsistency and contradictory utterances.

Altogether the meeting was most successful from every point of view, and it will no doubt have the practical effect of adding to the Conservative majority.

STONEY LAKE ISLANDS.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I see in the EVENING REVIEW of Friday that Mr. Stratton stated at Youngs's Point on Thursday evening last that the islands in Stoney Lake have been conveyed to Conservatives for an insufficient price, and without a chance being given to Reformers through the secrecy observed.

In reply to this statement I beg to hand you particulars of the islands sold and the politics of the purchaser, as far as known to me. By this you will see that Mr. Stratton's statement is not remarkable for its veracity.

Name of Purchaser.	Residence.	No. of Island.	Section.	Acreage. A. R. P.	Price Paid.
G. M. Roger	Peterborough	18	Dummer	96	$1 per acre
E. B. Edwards	"	16 a	Burleigh	1 1 30	"
Thomas Cox, Sr.	Lakefield	19 & 20	Dummer	8 2
		9	Burleigh	4 1 23	16 25
J. P. Strickland	"	17 & 17 a	Smith	6 2 22	36 00
				3 3 32
John Crickmore	"	1 & 3	Burleigh	5 3 22	45 00
				3 1 4
A. I. Wright	"	21, 22 & 23	"	1 0 30	36 00
				3 2 6
		31 Smith		1 1 14
John Dinwoodie	"	25	Otonabee River	3 1 0	45 00
			Burleigh	6 0 8
Robert Graham	"	16	"	3 2 7	20 00
J. L. Weller		27	Harvey	3 0 30	18 00
W. G. Ferguson	Peterborough	34	Dummer	10 0 36	40 00
Harriet Emma, wife of Geo. Anderson	Toronto	20	Burleigh	1 2 0	30 00
J. McClelland & Wm. Lech	Peterborough	14	Dummer	14 2 6	100 00
Mrs. Menzies, purchased through R. Graham	"	19	Burleigh	5 2 10	50 00
S. Sheldrake	Lakefield	34	"	3 3 28	30 00
E. Peplow	Port Hope	29	"	4 1 32	35 00
F. T. Tate	Lakefield	25 a	"	1 0 32	12 00
"	"	14 a	Dummer	3 23	15 00
W. D. Strickland	"	2 a	Burleigh	5 3 8	28 00

I have to apologise to the purchasers of Islands for publishing their names and giving the public an insight into their private affairs, but it is due to the Government that falsehood manufactured for the sake of catching votes should be exposed, even if they are manufactured by Mr. Jas. Stratton, Jr., M.P.P. This reminds me that Mr. Jas. Stratton, sr., spoke of applying for one of these Islands, but I understand since that he is a silent partner with one of the parties named above. In conclusion, if our new M.P.P. is and honorable man he will go to Young's Point and correct his statement, but he won't, Mr. Editor, he will instead of doing the honorable thing devote a half of a column of personal abuse to your humble servant,

R. C. STRICKLAND,

Lakefield, Feb. 7, 1887.

[An examination of these figures shows that among the purchasers there were more Reformers than Conservatives, that the acreage purchased by Reformers was many times as large as that purchased by Conservatives, and that the price per acre paid by the Conservatives was far higher than that paid by Reformers. Thus the charges against the Conservative Administration utterly fail.—Ed. REVIEW.]

LAKEFIELD.

THE CARNIVAL.—The first carnival of the season was held on Monday evening, and Mr. Eden is to be congratulated on a great success. Below is given a partial list of those in costumes as many omitted to hand in their names and the characters represented. Though the costumes were all good, among the ladies "The Iceland Lady" and "Robinson Crusoe," and among the gentlemen "The Mikado" and "The Spanish Cavalier" may be specially mentioned:—

LADIES.

Free Slave	Mrs. Jones
Italian street singer	Miss E. Tanner
Iceland lady	Miss Strickland
Robinson Crusoe	Miss M. Hay
Puritan Maiden	Miss A Strickland
Boulogne Peasant	Miss I Strickland
Italian street singer	Miss Walton
Artist	Miss E Baptie
Old maid of 60 years ago	Miss M Blomfield
Young lady undergraduate	Miss Blomfield

GENTLEMEN.

Charles II	Mr. T J Bird
Mikado	Mr. T Webb-Pepice
African Chief	Mr. Gemmel
Spanish Cavalier	Mr. W D Strickland
Sambo	Mr. D W Lister
Officer	Mr. W Heathcote
Soldier	Mr. Scrimiger
Two venerable old gentlemen	Messrs. Cox and Eastland
May Apple Bitters Brigade	Messrs. Brown, Jones and Robinson
Italian peasant	Mr. A Strickland
Under the Weather	Mr. Griffin

BOYS.

Uncle Ezra	Master Usborne
Jockey Forrest player	" Seagrome
Mr. Penstock	" Clarin
Negro	" Hendren
Paper bags	" V Bell
Sambo	" R H Strickland
German cattle drover	" F Le F vre
Ghost	" F Tanner
Half and Half	" E Tate
Zouave	" F Blomfield
Brother bones	" T Morin

PRIZES.—Ladies—1st prize Mrs. Jones, 2nd prize Miss E. Tanner; gentlemen—1st prize Mr. T. J. Bird; boys—1st prize Master Usborne. Lady judges, Mrs. S. Cox and Miss Wright; gentlemen judges, Messrs. Grieve, Frazer and Richardson.

FORESTERS' CONCERT.—The Foresters' Band concert took place on Thursday evening last, when a first-class programme was presented and well carried out. The hall was packed to the doors, many being unable to find seats. The financial result was most satisfactory, over $60 being realized.

S. S. CONCERT.—A concert will be held in the P. C. A. hall on Friday evening in aid of the St. John's Church Sunday School organ fund, when a good programme will be presented.

HASTINGS.

TWO FIRES.—The public school had a very narrow escape from destruction by fire on Wednesday of last week. Mr. Peter Page's dwelling also took fire the same day. Both were extinguished before much damage was done, but the school was closed for a day or so for repairs.

OUR MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—The polling for councillors to complete our municipal board came off on Friday last with the following result.

A. M Paton	111
A. Wilson jr.	88
J. Coughlan	71
Thos. Hill	71
John Welsh	70
Thos. Learmouth	41

The first four were elected. There was one spoiled ballot, it being marked for Paton, Wilson, Coughlan, Welsh and Learmouth. There were five "plumpers," four being for Wilson and one for Paton. For the first time in our history several ladies exercised the franchise and to their credit be it said, that they displayed a commendable liberality in the distribution of their favors.—Star.

Going to Bermuda.

QUEBEC, Feb. 8.—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Madam Masson leave for New York today en rout for Bermuda where they will sojourn a month.

Have you seen Turnbull's 6½ cent fancy check wincey? If not you are missing a bargain.

Large Defalcation.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—John C. Leighton, for nineteen years Clerk of the Municipal Criminal Court, is short in his accounts to the amount of $200,000 or more.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

NOT LONESOME.

Those life-long Reformers who are abandoning the Grit party and comming over to support of Sir John and Mr. Kranz, don't feel half so lonely as they expected they would, for there are so many of them that they feel quite at home in the party of Union, Progress and Loyalty to Canada. —Berlin Daily News.

CLEVER MR. BLAKE.

In an able editorial the Peterborough REVIEW deals with Mr. Blake's misrepresentation on the tariff question, looking particularly towards its effect upon the woollen industry, in which Peterborough is specially interested. The REVIEW shows conclusively that under the "moderate change" suggested by Mr. Blake, the factories in that locality "would have to be shut down or continue running in a half-starved condition." Taken on his own chosen ground, it is demonstrated that the change proposed by Mr. Blake would crush the woollen industry, drive out capital, and deprive Canadian operatives of employment. Clever Mr. Blake.—Toronto Standard.

DISHONEST TRIMMING.

The Globe, in support of its position on the Riel question, quotes an utterance from Rev. Principal Grant, declaring that to hang the halfbreed leader would be "not only a crime but a blunder." It is careful to say that this was published "before the execution." The Globe cannot quote a single expression to the same effect from its own columns, from Mr. Blake's speeches, or from the utterances of any prominent or authorized exponent of the views of its party in Ontario before the execution. Principal Grant is an Independent in politics, and his outspokenness, as recalled by this paragraph, presents the strongest contrast to the trimming of the Grit leaders and organs who kept silent so long as Riel's fate was uncertain, in order to be in a position to condemn the Ministry in either event.—Toronto News (Indep.)

THE TIMBER LEASES.

The general impression seems to be that the government has given many timber-leases in the territory formerly in dispute between Ontario and the Dominion. The fact is that only four such leases were given. Three were given by the Mackenzie government and one by the Maconald government. The last was given to make up 100 miles to W. J. Macaulay, of Winnipeg. Since that time licenses have been issued, running for the cutting of cordwood, railway ties and telegraph poles; and we believe that none of them are now operative. We believe only three firms or companies are now cutting timber in what is called the disputed territory under lease or license from the Dominion government, and each of these had his lease from Mr. Mackenzie.—Hamilton Spectator.

A VERY PECULIAR CASE.

First of the Kind Known on This Continent—The Interests in It.

A young man a native of Perth and now living near Kingston, recently consulted a physician here and gave the following history. He is 24 years of age, a painter by occupation, was born of healthy parents still living, and has the present symptons as long as he can remember. They became aggravated at intervals, notably so during stormy weather. His intellect is clear and sharp. He has a general stiffness of all the voluntary muscles, but particularly spasmodic when he rouses their action by a voluntary act. When he closes his eyes some seconds elapse before he can reopen them. When he shuts his fist it takes ten seconds before he can, by a concentrated effort, open it again. He has frequently torn his clothing when putting it on or taking it off. He can only go up one step of a stair at a time. He cannot rise from a chair without a considerable effort. His speech is not affected. There is no tremor, no want of co-ordination, the patellar reflex is normal, no electrical stimuli here applied. His nutrition and general health are excellent. On examination the contraction of the muscles is very strong and and spastic, as if under a strong voluntary effort, though his will is directed to relax them. The physician, when consulted, tried in vain to diagnose the case, and only became acquainted with the very rare nature of it through a New York specialist. The patient said he intended going to a mineral spring near New York. The physician recommended him to see Seguin or Hammond in New York city. He has exhibited at the N. Y. Academy of Medicine, and his disease defined as Thompsen's, and affection of the nervous system, and the first of the kind recorded in America, creating quite a flutter of excitement in medical circles.—Kingston Whig.

Newfoundland's Hope

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 8.—A St. John's, Nfld., cablegram to the Halifax Herald says: A rumor prevails here that the Imperial Govergment has finally refused to give its assent to the act of the Newfoundland Legislature prohibiting the export of bait. This report has produced a profound impression and intensified the depression here, as French bounty-fed competition is ruining our markets. Sir Ambrose Shea had intended going to Canada, but remains in St. John. The outlook is exceedingly gloomy. To join the Canadian Confederation appears to be our only hope and is being generally and favorably debated.

Epidemic Cholera Morbus.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The physicians are greatly puzzled over appearances of epidemic cholera morbus which has spread with wonderful rapidity. Fortunately, it seldom results fatally, although the disease leaves the patient greatly prostrated. A number of prominent members of the medical fraternity have as high as a hundred cases under treatment. Various theories are ascribed for its appearance, the generally accepted one being the bad state of the Potomac water.

Yet Another Strike.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—The employees of the Cambridge horse railway has decided to strike. This strike, with that of the South Boston road, makes the number of railway men now out about nine hundred.

Free from Diphtheria.

QUEBEC, Feb. 8.—The Bellevue convent, Quebec, which has been closed for some weeks on account of diphtheria, will reopen February 10th.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

STRENGTHENING THE LANDLORDS.

DUBLIN, Feb. 9.—An extensive farmer named Keating, living near Kilrush, being opposed to the erection of cottages under the laborers act, evicted his laborers in order to defeat the purposes of the measure. His example is being followed by other farmers. This threatens to cause a split between the laborers and the farmers, which would tend to strengthen the landlords.

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE GIFT.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The Queen has consented to accept from the women of England a jubilee gift of an equestrian statue of the late Prince Consort.

SERIOUS STEPS.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The Deutsches Tagblatt learns that the German fleet at Zanzibar is likely to take serious steps against the Sultan on account of his unfriendly attitude toward the German East Africa Society. The Tagblatt says that England is secretly backing the Sultan.

RIOTING MINERS.

LODON, Feb. 9.—The striking miners at Blantyre, Scotland, yesterday engaged in riotous demonstrations and looted a number shops. The local police were powerless and troops had to be called out to quell the disturbance. A number of arrests were made. The miners' strike is spreading in Scotland.

PRISONERS RESCUED.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The Blantyre rioters broke into Stonefield police station last night, rescued the prisoners confined there and afterward looted a dozen shops, carrying away quantities of whisky and flour. There were numerous casualties. Ten constables were seriously injured. The Hussars and extra police remain on the ground for fear of renewal of rioting today.

UNACCOUNTABLE OMISSION.

"The Boodly Brigade," is a Grit pamphlet, which asserts that all the Dominion Ministers, with Sir A. Galt, are in receipt of boodle. Former sheets of the kind contained the name of Hon. Peter Mitchell, coupled with several immortal financial transactions. We miss the feature in the sheet for this year, which is the more remarkable inasmuch as Mr. Mitchell in his card to the electors says, "What I have been in the past I shall continue to be in the future."

ALEXANDER'S AMICABILITY.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—Gen. Von Schweinitz, the German ambassador at St Petersburg, has received hearty assurances of the Czar's friendship for Germany.

AN UNFAVORABLE OMEN.

VIENNA, Feb. 9.—The press of this city consider the resignation of Count Di... Minister, a bad augury for the preservation of European peace. His retirement, the papers say, will be especially welcomed in Russia, where the Italian defeat at Massowah is recognised as being partly the work of the Russian assistance to Abyssinia.

TWO PLANS.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Mr. Michael Davitt, speaking at Edinburg, last evening, said that under other than the existing conditions in Ireland, the plan of campaign would be neither desirable nor permissive, but that it was better to have a plan of campaign than a plan of blunderbuss and revolver.

STRIKING COLLIERS.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 9.—A conference of collier delegates at Jolimont, yesterday, decided to organize a general strike.

THE GERMAN ARMAMENTS.

PARIS, Feb. 9.—L'Evenment has a despatch saying that Dr. Windthorst, in an interview, declared that the German armaments were for defensive not offensive purposes, and that they were directed as much against Russia as against France.

NO INCREASE OF TROOPS.

RONDON, Feb. 9.—A correspondent who recently visited Strasburg says that there has been no increase of troops in Alsace-Lorraine except slight reinforcements at some garrisons.

DISTINGUISHED COMPOSER DEAD.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Charles Wehle, the distinguished composer and pianist, is dead.

OPPOSED TO PARNELL.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain will speak against Mr. Parnell's amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech in the House of Commons.

UNDER-COLONIAL SECRETARY.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Lord Harris succeeds Lord Dunraven as Under Secretary for the Colonies.

CABINET SESSION.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The Cabinet had a session of three hours' duration to-day. Rumours are current that dissensions have developed among the Ministers.

HOLDING BACK THE SWORD.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Messrs. Dillon and Davitt were present at an Irish demonstration held at Battersea to-night. In the course of his speech Mr. Dillon said it was only to the advise given by himself and his colleagues to the tenants that Ireland was not soaked with the blood of the landlords.

PRESSURE ON MR. GLADSTONE.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The pressure which Sir William Vernon Harcourt and other Liberals have exerted to induce Mr. Gladstone to refrain from committing himself to an approval of the Plan of Campaign counteracts the Parnellities' appeal to him to come and speak in favor of Mr. Parnell's amendment. Although it is probable a division will be taken on Friday, Mr. Gladstone is still undecided. If he continues absent, the Government whips are confident of 110 majority. They expect to have the support of all the Unionists, and they believe that, Mr. Gladstone himself abstaining, many of his followers will not vote.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Lord Hartington and Mr Chamberlain conferred for two hours this afternoon. It is believed they decided to support the Irish proposals indicated in the Queen's speech.

THE CROFTERS' BILL.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The Scotch Liberals will leave Mr. Chamberlain to take what initiative he pleases in the matter of the Crofters' bill, the party not pledging its support.

The untidy appearance of a grizzly beard should never be allowed. Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers will change their color to a brown or black, at discretion, and thus keep up your reputation for neatness and good looks.

The Daily Review.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1887.

IMMIGRATION.

In spite of frequent exposures of their falsehoods the Reform journals and campaign speakers continue to repeat their stories as to the Dominion Administration giving assisted passages to mechanics. The public records show that there were less than 3,000 assisted passages given during the last year of which we have the accounts; that these were all either female domestic servants or farm laborers with their families, unless a few impostors got through by false declarations and forged certificates. Only 3,000 of them were men. Thus it is altogether untrue to say that mechanics are being brought out here to compete with those already living in the country. In fact they are systematically discouraged from coming, though if they choose to pay for their own passages, without assistance, they cannot be prevented. The result of the policy adopted by the present administration is, however, that fewer mechanics are coming out now than under the Mackenzie-Blake Administration, when our own mechanics were walking the streets in search of employment.

As to those classes who are granted assisted passages, we will see if they are brought here in too great numbers. We will take an authority that our opponents will hardly dispute, the official report of the Ontario Department of Immigration for 1885. The Immigration Agent at Kingston says in his report:—

"It has been impossible for me to supply the demand in my district for farm laborers and female servants, and I trust more of these classes will be sent to me next season."

The agent at Toronto reports as follows: "The demand for farm laborers during the past year has not been quite so brisk as formerly, owing to the introduction of machinery, but we have always had applications in excess of the numbers arriving. The principal demand at present is for skilled farm hands and domestic servants, the applications for the latter class, especially in the country parts, being far in excess of the supply."

The agent at Hamilton has the same tale to tell. He says:—

"There has been an active demand for all kinds of agricultural and general laborers, which it was impossible to supply, and the demand for female domestic servants, both for the city and country, was largely in excess of the arrivals, and a large number of the applicants had to return without obtaining the desired help."

"Agricultural labour has been in great demand during the past year, a large number of farmers calling at the depot and waiting upon the trains were unsuccessful in obtaining the hands that they required.

"Female servants have been in great demand during the year, and the applications continue to increase for all classes of domestic servants, both in the city and country, and it has been impossible to supply the numerous applications made at this agency."

The agent at London, Ontario, had the same experience. He reports:—

"The demand for farm labourers was good during the spring and summer months; in fact, as usual, in excess of our supply, and at fair wages.

"The demand for female servants during the whole season was large for cooks, housemaids, general servants, laundresses, &c., and at good wages, but they could not be supplied, as so few of that class can get so far west as London.

"We shall to all appearances have the usual demand for farm and ordinary labourers for country work the coming season."

The agent at Ottawa does not seem to have sent in a detailed report, at least it is not published.

In the general official report of the Hon. A. S. Hardy, covering the detailed reports from his agencies, he says:—

"From the beginning of August till the end of October there was a steady demand for farm laborers, especially for single men. More than double the number who arrived could easily have obtained employment by the year at fair wages. Of one large lot of practical and experienced farm hands thirty reached Toronto at 5 a. m., their expected arrival having been published in the morning papers, and before noon all had been engaged at wages ranging from $144 to $150 per annum with maintenance. It must, however, be understood that only experienced men are wanted by the year. A single man who can plough well, and who has had some experience in taking care of stock, can readily obtain employment at about $150 per annum with maintenance, with a prospect of considerable increase if he should be found to be a good trustworthy man. Should 30 or 40 come together, and advise the Department on their arrival at Quebec, farmers would certainly be in waiting at Toronto to employ them. Farmers have been so often disappointed in coming for men that they do not now feel disposed to come to meet immigrants, unless they have some assurance of success.

"Families of farm laborers can find ready employment if they are experienced and have the means of providing a little furniture and provisions. If there are young women in the family, able and willing to take places as servants, so much the better. Some farmers may be found willing to provide furniture and provisions, but, as a rule, they prefer not to allow the men to get in their debt till they know whether or not the latter are worthy of being trusted.

"Female domestic servants. During the last Immigration season only a few female domestic servants came to Ontario; not more than eighty-eight reported themselves at Toronto. These were employed in this city and in various parts of the country. The demand for this class is everywhere so great that the few arriving at Quebec are employed in various parts of the lower Province. Wages of experienced servants were higher in 1885 than in the preceding year. Good general servants can readily find employment at from $8 to $10 per month."

Now from these reports it certainly cannot be said that the market is overstocked with the only classes of immigrants who are given assisted passages by the Dominion. And as to mechanics, they have no assistance at all given to them to come. Yet Reform romancers, such as those who said the bricks for the new post office were brought from Belleville, though well aware that they were made by Mr. Mark Curtis and his men, try to persuade the working men that the Macdonald Administration is flooding the country with labour. At the same time these same Grit romancers are asking to be empowered to close our factories.

SURPLUS OR DEFICIT.

The Globe of Tuesday with strange effrontery has an article on "The party of deficits," in which it avers that "whether before or since the Union the earmark of Toryism was and is a deficit." After further remarks of a similar nature it gives a long table of receipts and expenditure, with the surplus or deficit each year, going back before Confederation to 1858. Its apparent object is to parade four years of Conservative deficits at the beginning, and two years at the end, trusting thus to produce an effect and that the mass of figures will deter its readers from examining and ascertaining the result of the whole series.

Though we do not grant the accuracy of these figures, believing them to be manipulated in favour of the Reformers, we have taken them in order to calculate and compare, on the Globe's own showing, the result of Conservative and Reform administration. By the simple process of adding these deficits or surpluses and dividing by the number of years, we find the Globe's statement to result as follows:—

In the period before Confederation as chosen by the Globe, the Reform deficit averaged $1,037,957 a year.

In the period before Confederation the Conservative deficit averaged $1,199,792.

Thus there was from 1858 to 1867 a comparatively small apparent difference in favor of the Reformers. But the people of Canada are more interested in the history of the country since the establishment of the Dominion, so we will see how matters stand for this period.

In the period since Confederation the Reform deficit has averaged $581,908 a year.

In the period since Confederation the Conservative surplus has averaged $1,204,032 a year.

This is the comparative result as shown by the Globe's own doubtful figures, and it must be remembered that the Conservative surplus is reduced by many millions expended in the suppression of a Grit rebellion, the Globe giving its figures down to last July. Relieved of that expenditure the era of surpluses is recommencing.

Taking this ground alone, can the people of Canada hesitate between the Reformers with their depression and deficits and the Conservatives with their prosperity and surpluses? Do they wish again to place their finances in the hands of Sir Richard Cartwright, under whom there were these chronic deficits and so little to show for them?

COBDEN DISCREDITED.

The Royal Commissioners on the depression of trade and industry in Great Britain, after a thorough investigation, reported that among the main causes, in the opinion of witnesses examined by them, were the competition of goods from foreign countries having protective tariffs and paying bounties, and the exclusion of British goods from these foreign markets.

The Commission, though allowing some weight to these causes, attach greater importance to the deterioration in the quality of British manufactures, to the want of training of British workmen as compared with foreigners, to the want of enterprise in British manufacturers in extending their markets, and to over production. These results of free trade in Great Britain show the falseness of the theory of the school of Cobden, both in the mother country and in Canada, that such deterioration and want of energy accompany protection, not free trade, the very contrary being thus shown by the facts. However, the report of the majority of the commissioners shows that they have not yet been completely converted, for they decline to recommend legislative action to counteract the injurious competition which they admit.

A minority report, however, shows that a very important and influential section of the Commission have thrown off the Cobden fetiche. They recommend the imposition of duties to counteract the effect of foreign bounties, discriminating duties in favor of Colonial breadstuffs and other products, and a general duty of from 10 to 15 per cent on foreign manufactures. The only country still adhering to one-sided, so-called freetrade is evidently being converted. This is not the time for Canada to take a retrograde step towards the exploded theories of Cobden.

IN PETERBOROUGH, TOO.

In estimating the benefits of the N. P. the electors of Hamilton need not look abroad. The question for them to consider is simply this: Has protection benefitted this city? And in seeking to answer to that question let them bear in mind a few undeniable facts:—

1. Factories idle under the old tariff are now busy.
2. Scores of new industries have been established.
3. Thousands of men and young persons have found new employment.
4. Wages have been materially increased.
5. The cost of living has been reduced.
6. Property formerly vacant is now occupied.
7. Merchants have new custom from the new comers.
8. The farmers surrounding Hamilton have a better home market.

All these things are direct results of the National Policy. It is the duty of every thoughtful citizen of Hamilton to ask himself whether he will so vote as to support and continue the new state of things, or whether he will vote for free traders who will do their best to return to the old policy, under which our manufacturing prosperity will be destroyed.—Hamilton Spectator.

Among Turnbull's new French dress goods will be found tints of peacock blue, also the new gobelin shade in several qualities with trimmings to match.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS:

$18.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

BY HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

Carriston smiled very faintly. "No clew that you, at any rate, will believe in," he said. "But I know this much, she is a prisoner somewhere. She is unhappy, but not, as yet, ill-treated. Heavens! Do you think if I did not know this I should keep my senses for an hour?"

"How can you possibly know it?"

"By that gift—that extra sense, or whatever it is—which you deride. I knew it would come to me some day, but I little thought how I should welcome it. I know that in some way I shall find her by it. I tell you I have already seen her three times. I may see her again at any moment when the strange fit comes over me."

All this fantastic nonsense was spoken so simply and with such an air of conviction that once more my suspicions as to the state of his mind were aroused. In spite of the brave answers which I had given Mr. Ralph Carriston I felt that common-sense was undeniably on his side.

"Tell me what you mean by your strange fit," I said, resolved to find out the nature of Carriston's fancies or hallucinations. "Is it a kind of trance you fall into?"

He seemed loath to give any information on the subject, but I pressed him for an answer.

"Yes," he said at last. "It must be a kind of trance. An indescribable feeling comes over me. I know that my eyes are fixed on some object—presently that object vanishes, and I see Madeline."

"How do you see her?"

"She seems to stand in a blurred circle of light as cast by a magic lantern. That is the only way that I can describe it. But her figure is plain and clear—she might be close to me. The carpet on which she stands I can see, the chair on which she sits, the table on which she leans her hand, anything she touches I can see; but no more. I have seen her talking. I knew she was entreating some one, but that some one was invisible. Yet, if she touched that person, the virtue of her touch would enable me to see him."

So far as I could see, Carriston's case appeared to be one of overwrought or unduly stimulated imagination. His I had always considered to be a mind of the most peculiar construction. In his present state of love, grief, and suspense these hallucinations might come in the same way in which dreams come. For a little while I sat in silence considering how I could best combat with and dispel his remarkable delusions. Before I had arrived at any decision I was called away to see a patient. I was but a short time engaged. Then I returned to Carriston, intending to continue my inquiries.

Upon re-entering the room I found him sitting as I had left him—directly opposite to the door. His face was turned fully toward me, and I trembled as I caught sight of it. He was leaning forward, his hands on the table cloth, his whole frame rigid, his eyes staring in one direction, yet, I knew, capable of seeing nothing that I could see. He seemed even oblivious to sound, for I entered the room and closed the door behind me without causing him to change look or position. The moment I saw the man I knew that he had been overtaken by what he called his strange fit.

My first impulse—a natural one—was to arouse him, but second thoughts told me that this was an opportunity for studying his disease which should not be lost—I felt that I could call it by no other name than disease—so I proceeded to make a systematic examination of his symptoms.

I leaned across the table, and, with my face about a foot from his, looked straight into his eyes. They betrayed no sign of recognition—no knowledge of my presence. I am ashamed to say I could not divest myself of the impression that they were looking through me. The pupils were greatly dilated. The lids were wide apart. I lighted a taper and held it before them, but could see no expansion of the iris. It was a case, I confess, entirely beyond my comprehension. I had no experience which might serve as a guide as to what was the best course to adopt. All I could do was to stand and watch carefully for any change.

Save for his regular breathing and a sort of convulsive twitching of his fingers, Carriston might have been a corpse or a statue. His face could scarcely grow paler than it had been before the attack. Altogether, it was an uncomfortable sight—a creepy sight—this motionless man, utterly regardless of all that went on around him, and seeing, or giving one the idea that he saw, something far away. I sighed as I looked at the strange spectacle, and foresaw what the end must surely be. But although I longed for him to awake, I determined on this occasion to let the trance, or fit, run its full course, that I might notice in what manner and how soon consciousness returned.

I must have waited and watched some ten minutes—minutes which seemed to me interminable. At last I saw the lips quiver, the lids flicker once or twice, and eventually close wearily over the eyes. The unnatural tension of every muscle seemed to relax, and sighing deeply, and apparently quite exhausted, Carriston sank back into his chair, with beads of perspiration forming on his white brow. The fit was over.

In a moment I was at his side and forcing a glass of wine down his throat. He looked up at me and spoke. His voice was faint, but his words were quite collected.

"I have seen her again," he said. "She is well, but so unhappy. I saw her kneel down and pray. She stretched her beautiful arms out to me. And yet I know not where to look for her—my poor love! my poor love!"

I waited until I thought he had sufficiently recovered from his exhaustion to talk without injurious consequences. "Carriston," I said, "let me ask you one question: are these trances or visions voluntary, or not?"

He reflected for a few moments. "I can't quite tell you," he said; "or, rather, I would put it in this way. I do not think I can exercise my power at will; but I can feel when the fit is coming on me, and, I believe, can, if I choose, stop myself from yielding to it."

"Very well. Now listen. Promise me you will fight against these seizures as much as you can. If you don't, you will be raving mad in a month."

"I can't promise that," said Carriston, quietly. "See her at times I must, or I shall die. But I promise to yield as seldom as may be. I know, as well as you do, that the very exhaustion I now feel must be injurious to any one."

In truth he looked utterly worn out. Very much dissatisfied with his concession, the best I could get from him, I sent him to bed, knowing that natural rest, if he could get it, would do more than anything else toward restoring a healthy tone to his mind.

CHAPTER VII.

Although Carriston stated that he came to me for aid, and, it may be, protection, he manifested the greatest reluctance in following any advice I offered him. The obstinacy of his refusal to obtain the assistance of the police placed me in a predicament. That Madeline Rowan had really disappeared I was, of course, compelled to believe. It might even be possible that she was kept against her will in some place of concealment. In such a case it behooved us to take proper steps to trace her. Her welfare should not depend upon the hallucinations and eccentric ideas of a man half out of his senses with love and grief. I all but resolved, even at the risk of forfeiting Carriston's friendship, to put the whole matter in the hands of the police, unless, in the course of a day or two, we heard from the girl herself or Carriston suggested some better plan.

Curiously enough, although refusing to be guided by me, he made no suggestion on his own account. He was racked by fear and suspense, yet his only idea of solving his difficulties seemed to be that of waiting. He did nothing. He simply waited, as if he expected that chance would bring what he should have been searching for high and low.

Some days passed before I could get a tardy consent that aid should be sought. Even then he would not go to the proper quarter; but he allowed me to summon to our councils a man who advertised himself as being a private detective. This man, or one of his men, came at our call, and heard what was wanted of him. Carriston reluctantly gave him one of Madeline's photographs. He also told him that only by watching and spying on Ralph Carriston's every action could he hope to obtain the clew. I did not much like the course adopted, nor did I like the look of the man to whom the inquiry was intrusted; but, at any rate, something was being done.

A week passed without news from our agent. Carriston, in truth, did not seem to expect any. I believe he only employed the man in deference to my wishes. He moved about the house in a disconsolate fashion. I had not told him of my interview with his cousin, but had cautioned him on the rare occasions upon which he went out-of-doors to avoid speaking to strangers, and my servants had strict instructions to prevent any one coming in and taking my guest by surprise.

For I had, during those days, opened a confidential inquiry on my own account. I wanted to learn something about this Mr. Ralph Carriston. So I asked a man who knew everybody to find out all about him.

He reported that Ralph Carriston was a man well known about London. He was married, and had a house in Dorsetshire; but the greater part of his time was spent in town. Once he was supposed to be well off; but now it was the general opinion that every acre he owned was mortgaged, and that he was much pressed for money. "But," my informant said, "there is but one life between him and the reversion to large estates, and that life is a poor one. I believe even now there is a talk about the man who stands in his way being mad. If so, Ralph Carriston will get the management of everything."

After this news I felt it more than ever needful to keep a watchful eye on my friend. So far as I knew there had been no recurrence of the trance, and I began to hope that proper treatment would effect a complete cure, when, to my great alarm and annoyance, Carriston, while sitting with me, suddenly and without warning fell into the same strange state of body and mind as previously described. This time he was sitting in another part of the room. After watching him for a minute or two, and just as I was making up my mind to arouse him and scold him thoroughly for his folly, he sprang to his feet, and shouting, "Let her go! Loose her, I say!" rushed violently across the room—so violently that I had barely time to interpose and prevent him from coming into contact with the opposite wall.

Upon returning to his senses he told me, with great excitement, that he had again seen Madeline; moreover, this time he had seen a man with her—a man who had placed his hand upon her wrist and kept it there; and so, according to Carriston's wild reasoning, became, on account of the contact, visible to him.

He told me he had watched them for some moments, until the man, tightening his grip on the girl's arm, endeavored, he thought, to lead her or induce her to follow him somewhere. At this juncture, unaware that he was gazing at a vision, he had rushed to her assistance in the frantic way I have described; then he awoke.

He also told me he had studied the man's features and general appearance most carefully with a view to future recognition. All these ridiculous statements were made as he made the former ones, with the air of one relating simple, undeniable facts—one speaking the plain unvarnished truth, and expecting full credence to be given to his words.

It was too absurd! too sad! It was evident to me that the barrier between his hallucinations, dreams, visions, or whatever he chose to call them, and pure insanity, was now a very slight and fragile one. But before I gave his case up as hopeless I determined to make another strong appeal to his common sense. I told him of his cousin's visit to me—of his intentions and proposition. I begged him to consider what consequences his extraordinary beliefs and extravagant actions must eventually entail. He listened attentively and calmly.

(To be Continued).

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the most patent blood purifier, and a fountain of health and strength. Be wise in time. All painful infections are promptly removed by this unequalled alterative.

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 30
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

Devices of Advertisers.

So many devices are resorted to by advertisers, that the ordinary reader sometimes becomes shy of the tempting paragraph, fearing the advice that is concealed in it like a pill in jelly. Who, for instance, on beginning this item, would have supposed that its purpose was to make known the truth that Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy is what it claims to be—a cure for a disease at once loathsome to friends, and annoying and even dangerous to the sufferer.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr. Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. 413

EMPEROR WILLIAM.

Sketch of the Life of Germany's Monarch.

PRUSSIA'S GOLDEN AGE

How the Unification of Germany Was Secured.

Interesting Incidents in the Great Kaiser's Career—From Napoleon's Defeat at Waterloo, Through Sadowa and Sedan Until His Coronation at the Palace of Versailles.

The claim of Emperor William I to be a great man, is constantly disputed. That he poses ed one of the first elements of wonderful success must be acknowledged, from his insight into men. The next year after his coronation he selected as president of his ministry, Otto von Bismarck, perhaps the greatest statesman of modern times. An Englishman describes him as "That marvelous compound of audacity and craft, candor and cunning, the profound sagacity of a Richelieu, the levity of a Palmerston; imperturbably good humored, illimitably unscrupulous; a patriot without lofty emotion, a statesman who could sometimes condescend to be a juggler; a part bully, part buffoon, but always man of supreme courage, inexhaustible resources of brain and tongue—always, in short, a man of genius."

Bismarck is said to have absorbed the King, and from this point onward Prussian development resolves itself into a consideration of Bismarck. Such is a mistake. King William I had the good sense to discover Bismarck's power, and has since sustained him amidst all the conflicts of the state. The King with rare discretion, ferreted out two other marvelous minds to aid him in reorganizing the army. These were Hellmuth von Moltke and Albert von Roon. With such counsellors King William was ready to grapple with the approaching conflicts. From this time onward the story of the King's life is indissolubly linked with the history of Prussia. His kingship began in activity. He quarreled with his parliament, and was hated by his people. They failed to understand him, and so could not unfathom the future, to see the glory their king was preparing for them. No public man in Europe was so unpopular as King William, unless it was his minister, Bismarck. Even in England it was "an article of faith that William was a blood-thirsty old tyrant, and his subjects all blockheads." Such was the unpropitious beginning of William I as King of Prussia.

Now to understand how the king came to found an empire, it must be remembered that at this time Germany was a loose confederation of a great many small countries, each jealous of the power of the other—almost as antagonistic as if they had been distinguished by language and race. Austria was the most powerful state in this confederation, with Prussia next. Austria was proud of her position as head of the German influence. Prussia rankled under the predominance of Austria. Austria was jealous of Prussia's power. Prussia envied Austria her place. Each state sought every means to weaken the other. With King William began the memorable contest. Some pretext for war must be found. A glance at the map will show three provinces just south of Denmark, Schleswig, Holstein and Lauenberg. For years they had been a bone of contention. They were German provinces, but by the juggling of monarchical marriages had come under the power of a Danish king. This was Frederick VII. He was the last monarch of his line. His successor made a decree annexing Schleswig and Holstein. The people of the duchies revolted, claiming that they were German and not Danish subjects. At this juncture Austria and Prussia intervened in behalf of the duchies. Austria was afraid to let Prussia do the work alone. Prussia desired to annex the duchies to her territory, but saw no way open. This was in the year 1864. The two nations took joint possession of the duchies, having but little trouble in overcoming Denmark. Harmony lasted but a short time. Frequently they were on the verge of war. Finally King William and the Emperor of Austria met and formed what is known as the compact of Gastein. By this agreement Austria was to have separate control of Schleswig and Prussia of Holstein, while for a money consideration Lauenberg was ceded to Prussia. This was a short-lived expedient. The conflicting policies of the two powers in the neighboring duchies constantly clashed. Bismarck managed to throw the blame upon Austria. Naturally the various German states took opposite sides in the dispute. King William issued a circular letter. He said: "Prussia, by its situation, its German character and the German patriotism of its rulers is required to seek its own security within the limits of Germany. For this purpose a reformation of the entire confederation is essential. If Prussia is not confident of Germany its situation imperils it beyond most other states of Europe. But the fate of Prussia ultimately involves that of Germany, and if Prussia's strength were broken the share of Germany in European politics would be but a passive one. The German confederation in its present form, exposed to danger on every side, will fail in its purpose, and nothing can then save Germany from the fate of Poland." Austria and the smaller German states at once recognized the intention of King William and his crafty ministers to centralize Germany under Prussian control. Austria vigorously prepared for war. Even Prussia bitterly opposed the policy of her King. The King was determined. He walked rough shod over constitutional rights. In the month of June, 1866, the troops began to move, and the king at once issued a proclamation declaring that the cause for which Prussia took up arms was that of the union of Germany and the establishment of a parliament representing the German nation. King William demanded of Saxony, Hanover and Hesse that they disarm their troops and remain neutral. They refused, and declared for Austria. This was on June 15. By June 29 King William had invaded and overcome all three. He deposed the King of Hanover and annexed his kingdom to Prussia. Von Moltke and Von Roon had evidently done thorough work in organizing the army. The world looked on with bated breath. Two mighty powers fought for supremacy. It was a life and death struggle. Would the empire of old succeed, or was a newer power destined to lead the German race?

June 27, 1866, was set apart as a day of fasting and prayer in Prussia. The King drove to his church and invoked the divine favor. King William had appealed to God and to the people to hold him blameless for the war. The Prussians were divided into two armies, one commanded by the Crown Prince, the King's son, and the other by his nephew, Prince Frederick Charles. Prussia took the offensive and invaded Austria. In Bohemia, almost midway between Berlin and Vienna, is a little village called Sadowa. It is situated on the river Elbe. Near by tower far above the water's edge the battlements of the fortress Koeniggraetz. Here the two largest armies that had ever met stood facing each other. They numbered a quarter of a million of men each, and were to decide the fate of Central Europe. On the 29th of June the King arrived and took command in person. Gen. Benedek was at the head of the Austrian army. The Crown Prince of Prussia had not yet brought his division of the army up. But, fearing an attack from the Austrians, the King decided to anticipate them. The hot midsummer sun of July 3, 1866, burst forth with gorgeous splendor to look down upon slaughter and carnage, and the fate of an empire. At 8 o'clock the king mounted his horse. He rode a large blood bay charger, as handsome an animal as one could wish to see. The horse, though long dead, has been prepared for exhibition, and occupies a prominent place in the Hohenzollern museum in Berlin. The King was accompanied by Bismarck, Von Moltke and Von Roon on his way to the battlefield. The fight had begun. The whole Prussian line was belching forth destruction. The Austrians were entrenched, and hurled back deadly responses.

A messenger had been sent the night before, ordering the Crown Prince forward with utmost haste. The battle became more terrible as the minutes sped away, King William grew anxious and forgot himself. He spurred his horse and rushed into the midst of the battle, where bullets and bursting shell endangered his life. His officers were astounded. Bismarck hurried after him, and upon reaching him, urged his majesty to retire from harm. Said the old monarch: "How can I ride away while my army is under fire!" And only with reluctance did he go back to the group of officers. The battle became terrible, and yet no Crown Prince was in sight. Ten, eleven o'clock passed by—noon came. Ammunition began to fail. The Austrians stood firm. The Prussians were growing weary. Yet the battle raged. Anxious eyes were cast to the left. It was 2 o'clock. The thunder of cannon was heard away in the distance. The rumbling noise was a merry sound to the soldiers of Prince Frederick Charles. [illegible] was at hand, and threw a fresh army into the conflict. The [illegible] from village to village. The evening sun sank to rest, and a red suffusion enveloped the towers of Koeniggraetz, whither Austrain forces from all sides were hurrying in sad confusion and rout. King William was a hero. His soldiers thronged around him and, it is said, they wept for joy. He had shared their hardships and toils during the day, encouraging them and speaking comforting words to the wounded. As twilight came on the whole army joined in the old song, "Now All Thank God." The refrain was passed from hill to hill, while the sweet strains lulled many a dying hero on his way to other realms. Thus ended the battle of Sadowa, or Koenigzraetz. All the world marveled. The campaign had lasted but seven days. The struggle was virtually over. The Prussians pushed on to Vienna, and encamped within sight of the city. A few unimportant battles took place about the city. But negotiations were in progress for peace. A treaty was made, by whose terms Schleswig and Holstein were ceded to Prussia, besides which Austria was compelled to pay a large war indemnity. In two months King William had added five provinces to his kingdom, covering an area of 25,000 square miles, and numbering 5,000,000 inhabitants. He had shown the power of his army, had placed Prussia at the head of German power, and had directed a course of civilization. Prussia went wild with delight. King William was a hero. To nod was but to have his wish gratified. The king himself became gracious. He granted general amnesty for all political offenses. His popularity was unbounded. His people began to grasp his intention, and his manifest honesty of purpose in reaching the end. The great result of the war was the formation of the North German Confederation, under a new plan proposed and directed by Prussia. Representatives of each state assembled in Berlin to discuss and adopt a constitution of union. This was in February, 1867. The work was carried on with patriotic enthusiasm. By the end of April the task was accomplished, and King William was made president of the new Germany. Prussia was to have the direction of the united armies, the control of foreign diplomatic affairs and the management of the postal system. King William sent abroad the proclamation: "The German Fatherland can maintain its peace, its rights and its dignity with its united forces." At last, after the lapse of centuries, Germany was once more united and a great power. Prussia was supreme. King William ruled. The King now administered affairs so wisely and honestly, and with such advantage to the common good, that instead of jealousies in the new Confederation, a spirit of patriotism permeated the whole people. The closest of friendly treaties were concluded with the South German states. Many men wished that all Germany could have been consolidated and formed into one grand empire. It seemed a chimerical and idealistic dream. The benefits of the new condition of affairs immediately manifested themselves. Foreign nations paid more deference to the North German confederation—business and commerce thrived.

To be continued.

A Wretch Hangs Himself.

ERIE, Pa., Feb. 8.—Christian Achan, who shot and killed one of his daughters and wounded another two months ago, suicided by hanging to-day in Erie jail.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a specialty. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc. Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

AYER'S PILLS

CURE HEADACHE.

Headaches are usually induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, and may be easily cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. Mrs. Mary A. Scott, Portland, Me., writes: "I had suffered dreadfully from Sick Headache, and thought myself incurable. Disorder of the stomach caused it. Ayer's Pills cured me entirely."

CURE BILIOUSNESS.

John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebr., writes: "I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice. I was so dangerously ill, that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. I feel certain that I owe my recovery to your invaluable Pills."

CURE INDIGESTION.

Ayer's Pills act directly on the digestive and assimilative organs, influencing healthful action, imparting strength, and eradicating disease. G. W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T., writes: "I have suffered from Dyspepsia and Liver troubles for years past. I found no permanent relief, until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, which have effected a complete cure."

CURE RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is among the most painful of the disorders arising from vitiated blood and derangement of the digestive and biliary organs. Ayer's Pills relieve and cure Rheumatism when other remedies fail. S. M. Spencer, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was confined to my bed, with Rheumatism, three months, but, after using a few boxes of Ayer's Pills, became a well man."

CURE GOUT.

S. Lansing, Yonkers, N. Y., writes: "Recommended to me as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me not only from that trouble, but also from Gout. If every victim of the disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. Those words would be, 'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

CURE PILES.

Piles are induced by habitual constipation, debility, indigestion, or a morbid condition of the liver. A cure is best effected by the use of Ayer's Pills. John Lazarus, St. John, N. B., writes: "I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only cured me of that disagreeable disorder, but gave me new life and health."

Sold by all Druggists.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

MONEY TO LEND!

HAVING resigned his connection with the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Ld.,) the undersigned has made arrangements for lending an unlimited amount at SIX PER CENT, on terms more favourable than any Peterborough or Toronto Company, and will be pleased to see his many old friends with a view to making them new advances or readjusting their present Mortgages.

A. P. POUSSETTE.

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. 44 CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships. Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md7ow61

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY REVIEW IF YOU ARE WISE

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. 1yd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. 1yd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. 1yd97

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. 1yd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 759. Residence, Bon Accord Street. 1yd97 w1

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. 1yd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. 1yd97

W. FITZGERALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied Houses and building lots for sale. Address box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. 1yd97

General.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $30 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 150 pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., New York.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take you LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first-class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in stock.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WARE ROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

The Great English Prescription.

 A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhœa, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency, and all diseases caused by abuse. [illegible] indigestion, or over-exertion. [Apr.m] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS..... $1 00
LADIES..... 50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG,
Manager.

1445

CHEAP GROCERIES

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,
Ashburnham

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. T. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m	do C. & O. R.	10 00 p m
10 05 p m	Toronto and West, via G. T. R.	6 00 p m
7 00 p m	do C. & O. R.	10 00 p m
5 30 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	6 00 p m
12 00 m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line	6 00 a m
2 50 p m	The Midland Railway (west)	4 30 p m
9 30 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope	11 00 a m
5 15 p m	do do	6 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings; Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	1 15 p m
4 00 p m	Lakehurst	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville	11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Lansmore	2 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Haultain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clydale, Pandash, and Cheddar, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Blairvathie, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 30 a m
	do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays. Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C.P.R.	7 30 p m
9 00 a m		6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 12c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbados, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxemburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamacia, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica, Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, viâ Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, viâ San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. E. G. ROGERS, Postmaster.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

No Skating.

On account of the very mild state of the weather, and in consequence of to-morrow evening being carnival night, there will be no skating in the rink this evening.

Ball.

The proposition to form a Midland District baseball league is being revived. A meeting will likely be held for the purpose of organization at Port Hope early next month.

Court of Chancery.

The Spring Chancery sittings will commence at Peterborough on Wednesday, April 13th; at Cobourg, on Monday, April 4th, and at Lindsay, on Friday, April 8th, the Hon. Mr. Justice Ferguson presiding.

Peterborough Wins.

A despatch from Toronto says that in the curling match between the Toronto Granites and the Peterborough representatives, the Peterborough club were successful, having won by 9 shots.

Gone to Toronto.

Mr. J. B. Hutchins, who has had charge of the haberdashery department in the Golden Lion dry goods house, has gone to Toronto to assume a position in a different branch of the trade. Mr. C. H. Hopwood will fill the vocated position.

The Rearin' Game.

Four rinks representing the Peterborough Curling Club left town Wednesday evening for Toronto, where they play friendly matches. They are under the care of skips Ferguson, Rutherford, Brown and Hall.

Spring Assizes.

The spring assizes will be held at Peterborough on Monday, May 9th, and at Lindsay on Monday, May 2nd, the Hon. Mr. Justice O'Connor presiding. At Cobourg the assizes will be held on Monday, May 2nd, the Hon. Mr. Justice Rose presiding.

Closing Sale.

Do not forget that W. W. Johnston & Co.'s great clearing out sale commences on Saturday, 12th inst. They have marked down the prices of everything, as they are in earnest in giving up business, and this will be one of the best opportunities ever offered for securing bargains in dry goods.

SEE R. Fair's new Embroideries; a magnificent display at the Golden Lion.

Decorating.

The Firemen's decoration committee are busy to-day in ornamenting the rink for to-morrow night's carnival. The work will be carried on all day to-morrow, by which time the place will be entirely changed in appearance. The rink was flooded and the ice is now in fine condition.

Farewelling the Captain.

On Wednesday night Capt. Pople, who has been in charge of the Peterborough detachment of the Salvation Army for the last year, left with Cadet Currel to assume a similar position at No. 1 Station, Montreal. The soldiers turned out in full force to escort the officers to the train. There were about one hundred and seventy-five in the march. The new captain and his wife will arrive to-day.

The Campaign.

A meeting in the interest of Mr. Stevenson was held at Frazerville on Wednesday night. The meeting was well attended. Messrs. Stevenson, Moore and Hilliard each spoke discussing the questions of the day. The meeting closed with rousing cheers for the Queen and Mr. Stevenson. A meeting in Mr. Cox's interests was held at Baliieboro on Wednesday night. Messrs. Cox and Bertram spoke. Mr. Carnegie appeared in behalf of Mr. Stevenson. The conclusion of the meeting was quite "cheerless" for Mr. Cox. The electors did not show their approbation of his cause with the usual cheers.

High Water.

The Smithtown hill creek is giving considerable trouble. On the lot below Edinburgh street, through which it has to pass, a miniature lake stands. This has backed up the water and the cellars in the vicinity are nearly all flooded. On Wednesday night Aylmer street was nearly all submerged from above Dublin street to McDonnell street. This morning the people living along the street got out, cleared the channel in several places and the water left the street, leaving on it a considerable amount of anchor ice. Peterborough creek is being watched closely. The channel is being widened, and unless another freshet comes soon not much damage may be feared.

A commercial teeter, we are on the top, but our prices are at the bottom. See what Turnbull is showing this week in new bedroom chints and cretonnes.

Scott Act.

The case Queen vs. Calcutt, the defendant being charged with a third infraction of the Scott Act, was heard this morning. Mr. Wood, County Crown Attorney, appeared for the prosecution. The defendant admitted a second offence. The prosecution, rather than go into the case, accepted plea. The charge was changed from a third to a second and a fine of $100 was imposed.

The Evangelistic Meeting.

Mr. Marsh is a very successful evangelist, and doubtless before he leaves our town some of the largest buildings here will be filled. Last night, in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, he gave and earnest and impressive address on Acts xviii-33. All men, especially those who are not church attendants, are heartily invited to attend these gospel meetings. The meetings at 4 p. m. each day are open to everybody.

The Domestic fashion sheet for February has arrived at Turnbull's, call and get one.

New Band Music.

The Fire Brigade Band have received from England a choice lot of music, among other pieces a beautiful set of vocal waltzes entitled 'Little Sailors.' These waltzes are arranged for both voices and instruments. They were rendered in Covent Garden, London, England, for three hundred successive nights, and are said to be very popular there. The music is so arranged that the listener is delighted from the introduction to the coda. The following are the words set to the music:—

We're sailing, a sailing upon the bright blue sea;
We're sailing, a sailing, so brave, so bold, so free.
We're sailing, a sailing, so lads let's heartily sing,
We're sailing, a sailing, and make our voices ring.

Pull away, pull away, pull away, pull away, pull away,
As the sails we trim, and the land grows dim,
Then we think of those whom we love most dear,
And our hearts feel light, filled with hopes so bright,
That we sailors know not the word fear.

Haul the bow-lin' the jolly ship's a rollin'
Haul the bow-lin', haul boys haul,
Now she's heavin', now she's rollin',
Haul the bow-lin', haul boys, haul, haul,
Heave ho! heave ho! heave ho!
Heave ho! heave ho! heave ho!

Split the blocks, heigh ho! cheer'ly men,
O' haul together, heigh ho! cheer'ly men,
She'll face the weather, heigh ho!
Cheerly me, heigh hawley, heigh ho!
Cheer'ly men, cheer'ly men,
Cheer'ly men, cheer'ly men.

'A toast! A toast! A toast!
Sweethearts and wives!
Sweethearts and wives!
When we are far away at sea
We'll drink them to thee!

'Midst angry storms and tempest toss'd, and danger to our lives,
We'll fondly think of those we love, our sweethearts and wives.
The pannikan pass,
We care not for glass!
Heigh ho! roll a man down.

We'll drink to our dears
With three times three cheers,
In grog that is strong
And a jolly good song;
Heigh ho! roll a man down, down.

We're sailing, a sailing on the bright blue sea,
We're sailing, a sailing so brave, so bold, so free;
We're sailing, a sailing, so lads let's heartily sing;
We're sailing, a sailing, and make our voices ring!
Pull away, pull away, pull away, pull away, pull away!

As the sails we trim,
Ank the land grows dim,
Then we think of those whom we love most dear;
And our hearts feel light,
Filled with hopes so bright,
That we sailors know not the word fear.
The pannikan pass,
We care not for glass!
Heigh ho! roll a man down;

We'll sing to our dears
With three times three cheers,
In grog that is strong,
With a jolly good song;
Heigh ho! roll a man down, the down.

We're sailing, a sailing upon the bright blue sea,
We're sailing, a sailing" so brave, so bold, so free;
We're sailing, a sailing, so lads let's heartily sing,
We're sailing, a sailing, and make our voices ring.

POLICE COURT.

THE LIPSETT CASES.

TUESDAY, Feb, 9.—The Police Magistrate delivered judgment in the Lipsett cases this morning. In the assault case a fine of $10 and costs was imposed. In the Scott Act case the charge was laid as a third offence. On account of the defendant's suffering from blood poisoning in the hand, which will require careful attention for some time, the Magistrate declined to have the second offence proven. The first offence was admitted and a fine of $100 and costs was imposed.

A Flood at St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Feb. 9.—The continued rain and mild weather for the past two days have swollen Kettle Creek to such an extent that whole flats about the M. C. R. bridge are submerged. The creek is still rising so fast that the floors of a large number of houses on the flats are under water, and the inmates are rushing to places of safety, carrying with them whatever effects are portable. Boats are being brought into requisition to rescue the wives and children of those nearest the current, while in one house, James Foote, who is confined to his bed with inflammation of the lungs, had to be carried up stairs and taken out of the window, the water having reached his bed.

Negroes Fight a Duel.

HOBOKEN, Ga., Feb. 9.—Two negroes named Merrick Heppard and Stephen Rucker, quarrelled over a business transaction and decided to settle the matter by a personal combat. Each used his favorite weapon. Heppard a revolver and Ruker a a shot gun. They met, Ruker was killed and Heppard filled full of buckshot.

Turnbull is showing a fine assortment of new grey dress goods from the light silver to the dark Oxford shades.

LATEST WIRE FLASHES.

BOMB-THROWING.

LYONS, Feb. 9.—Two bombs were simultaneously exploded to-day in front of the police headquarters. The bombs struck against the railing and were thus prevented from expending their force on the building. At St. Etienne a bomb was thrown at the police station. It exploded with such force that three of the officers within the building were seriously injured. Eight men have been arrested for alleged complicity in the latter outrage.

URGING IRELAND'S CLAIMS.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Mr. John Morley, speaking at Newcastle to-night, said the Conservative-Liberal Union was crumbling away. There had been no recoil of popular opinion on the Irish question, but the Home Rule tide was flowing slowly but steadily. Lord Hartington's latest speech, he continued, revealed complete impotence in the face of a difficult problem. The question was "What are we waiting for?" Ireland was admittedly orderly in many parts, and surely the time was opportune to satisfy her wants. Even if Parliament adopted the Canadian scheme for Ireland such a course would not be less liberal that of Mr. Gladstone.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The Berliner Nachrichten says that it has authentic information that General Boulanger, French Minister of War, is preparing for the movement of troops to the eastern frontier. Four battalions of infantry are to go to Verdun and and Toul, and quarters are being prepared to receive them. A brigade of cavalry will also go to Verdum and provision trains to Toul. Four battalions in Algiers have been ordered to France. Gen. Boulanger has instructed the Military Railway Committee to remain in permanent session. The Nachrichten adds: Paris advices state that owing to urgent representations by his colleagues, Gen. Boulanger has postponed issuing the orders for these movements until Feb. 21.

THE FISHERIES QUESTION.

President Cleveland's Views on Retaliatory Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Several Democratic members of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs had an interview with the President to-day in connection with retaliatory fisheries legislation. The interview was strictly confidential. The President sought to impress upon the members of the committee the necessity of making very clear and free from ambiguity any measure relating to the subject of the fisheries which Congress might see fit to pass. If there was to be any legislation on the subject, he said, it should state definitely whether railroads and all other carriers were to be included in the prohibition. While the President did not commit himself to any legislation on the subject, the gentlemen present gathered from his remarks that as between the two bills he favoured the House bill, for the reason that it is more explicit and mandatory in character.

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 9.—The Senate today unanimously passed a resolution calling on Congress to protect the seacoast and lakeboard States by some proper system of defensive fortification.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SPRING.—An early spring is looked for because the bear did not see his shadow on Candlemas Day (Feb. 2.)

POLITICS.—We were treated to an avalanche of politics last wek. On Thursday evening a meeting was held in Mr. Cox's interests and was addressed by Messrs. Cox, Stratton and Bertram on the Reform side, while Mr. Hilliard spoke in his usual forcible style in support of the N. P. and the Ministerial candidate. On Friday evening we had Mr. Stevenson's meeting as a fitting sequel to its predecessor. Messrs. Stevenson, Hilliard and Proussette took up the questions of the day and thoroughly ventilated each. Mr Stratton occupied an hour in endeavoring to bolster up his side of the question.

PRESENTATION.—A short time since we received a visit from Mr. Campbell, of Campbell & Graham, Nurserymen, Rochester, N. Y., who came to look up the work of their general agent, Mr. Wm. McFarlane. Mr. Campbell was so well pleased with "Mack's" work that he presented him with a handsome wolf-skin coat. This not only speaks well for the firm's generosity but for "Mack's" efficiency. He says he can sell a good deal larger tree now than formerly. May he long live to enjoy his beautiful present.

The President's Troubles.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A Washington special says that the President, in conversation with Senator Beck yesterday, said: "There has been nothing that has given me more concern since I came into office than the care necessary to the selection of proper persons to be appointed upon an inter-state commission." Mr. Cleveland said further that the worry and trouble he encountered from the throng of applicants was making life a burden to him.

What Caused It.

The Chicago Daily Business says:

"The chief causes operating to carry the wheat market up a few points, during several days, were the war talk in European capitals reflected in American commercial centres, the injury to the middle wheat growing sections by winter exposure, and to the extreme Western region by drought under which combination prices rose 1@2c; but with a wide reaching snow-storm south and west of the lakes, and abundant rain in California and more pacific utterances in Paris, Berlin and London, prices ran down almost as fast as they went up, until they have about reached the level at the date."

GENTS white unlaundried shirts all sizes for 45 cents at the Golden Lion.—R. FAIR.

A Popular Railway Man.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 9.—The railway employees on the Medicine Hat division of the Canadian Pacific Railway last night, gave Superintendent Shields, who is leaving to go on the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba railway, a purse of $1,500.

Interprovincial Bonspiel.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 9.—The interprovincial bonspiel opened here this morning, curlers are here from all provincial points, and in all over one hundred curlers will participate. It will last for three days.

Turnbull deals exclusively in the extremes, the best and the cheapest. See his new stock of print shirtings. See Sucker's white and grey cottons, cottonades and tweeds.

Shot his Daughter.

POINT PLEASANT, W.V., Feb. 9.—Simon Porter, a farmer residing five miles south of here, shot and fatally wounded his 15 year old daughter because she refused to milk a cow which had kicked her the night before. Porter escaped. He will be lynched if caught.

Astonishing Success

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive at least to try one bottle, as 70,000 dozen bottes were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada. d90

New Prints now on Exhibition at the Golden Lion.—R. FAIR.

Lost and Found.

FOUND.

ON Simcoe street, A GOLD RING. Owner can have the same by proving property and paying for this advertisement on application to DAN HILLIER. 1d34

Wants.

WANTED.

A GOOD GENERAL SERVANT. Also A NURSE. No washing. Highest wages. Apply REVIEW Office. d33

Miscellaneous.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

ALL PARTIES having claims against the estate of the late Dr. W. H. BURRITT, Peterborough, are to hand them in in detail to Mis E. BURRITT, Peterborough, or to the Executors, within one month from this date. This notice is given pursuant to revised statutes of Ontario Cap. 107, Sec. 34 All parties indebted to the said Estate are requested to pay their accounts to above named executrix within said period.

Dated 9th Feb., A. D. 1887.

JAS. H. BURRITT,
Pembroke,
1d34-1w6 Solicitor for Estate.

PURE UNADULTERATED

TEAS AND COFFEES

CHEAPER THAN EVER, AT

HAWLEY BROS

The People's Tea Store, Hunter Street, East.

RETIRING

from the Dry Goods Business.

$10,000.00

worth of Dry Goods must be sold before

The 15th day of March, 1887

AT

T. DOLAN & CO'S

As on the above mentioned date, the Dry Goods business carried on by T. Dolan & Co. for the past ten years, will pass into the hands of a new firm, we have decided to reduce our present magnificent stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods amounting to $20,000.00 to one half its volume. In order to accomplish this we have marked all our goods to the bare cost price.

JUST IMAGINE

$3,000 worth of Dress Goods at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Black and Colored Silks at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Mantle Cloths at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Gloves and Hosiery at Cost.

$3,000 worth of Cottons, Bleached and Unbleached, at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Cotton Shirting at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Domestics, etc., etc., at Cost.

$2,000 worth of Clouds and Woolen Goods at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Prints and Ginghams at Cost.

EVERYTHING AT COST

The goods must go. This is a genuine cash sale, and no hoax. Remember from now until March 15th, as after that date we intend to direct our attention exclusively to our Tailoring establishment.

T. Dolan & Co

W. W. Johnston & Co.

GIVING UP BUSINESS.

A GENUINE CLEARING OUT SALE.

Having decided to give up business, we will on and after SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15th, offer to the public

THE BIGGEST BARGAINS

They have seen for some time in DRY GOODS. We have marked down everything in the store to such low prices that all will be satisfied. This is not a sale of Winter Goods alone, but a closing out sale, and we will offer at Bargain Prices the Whole Stock, worth over $16,000, composed of the following:

Thousands of yards Dress Goods,
Thousands of yards Ribbon,
Thousands of yards Print,
Thousands of yards Cotton,
Thousands of yards Cotton Shirting,
Hundreds of yards Carpet,
Hunreds of yards Cashmere,
Hundreds of yards Velvets and Plushes,
Hundreds of yards Silks and Satins,
Hundreds of yards Cretonne,
Hundreds of yards Flannel,
Hundreds of yards Sheeting,

And a large stock of Woollen Goods, Muslins, Laces, Embroideries, Gloves, Hosiery and Small Wares.

TERMS STRICTLY CASH. Come and satisfy yourself that this is Peterborough's Biggest Closing Out Sale. w5-d

W. W. Johnston & Co.

RETIRING

FROM THE BOOT AND SHOE BUSINESS.

R. STENSON & SON

Having decided on Retiring from Business, will receive Tenders up to the 21st of February next. at a rate on the Dollar, for the purchase en bloc of their Stock of Boots and Shoes, &c. The highest or any Tender not necessarily accepted.

If not then disposed of, the whole of the Stock will be sold in Quantities to Suit Purchasers.

ALL WINTER GOODS WILL BE SOLD AT COST FROM TO-DAY.

R. STENSON & SON.

Peterborough, Feb. 7th, 1887. 1md3lw6

Midland Railway of Canada.

NOTICE

TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR LOCKS LINE," Peterborough, will be received until the 19th day of February, 1887 inclusive, for the construction of works at Peterborough, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen at the office of the engineer of the Midland Division of Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Persons desirous of tendering are requested to make personal enquiry relative to the work to be done and to examine the locality.

No tender will be entertained unless on one of the printed forms, and all the conditions are complied with.

The company does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender. By order

H. READ,
Secretary Midland Railway,
G. T. R. Office Montreal. d33

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Raisins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON,

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skillful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers. Day Books. Journals. Cash Books Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d&w6

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms. TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 35. PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

MARRIED.

SNELGROVE—BUTCHER—On the 9th of Feb. 1887, by the Rev. W. Briden, at the residence of the bride's father, Beaverton, MOSES SNELGROVE, of Lakefield, to ELIZABETH ANN BUTCHER.

BORLAND—REID—On the 12th of January, by the Rev. F. Johnson, at the residence of the bride's father, JOHN R. BORLAND, Esq., to MISS ALICE R. REID, both of Otonabee.

MATHER—KERBY—On the 19th Jan., by the Rev. F. Johnston, at the residence of the bride's father, SAMUEL MATHER, to MISS VICTORIA KERBY, all of Keene.

CROW—KERLIEGE—On the 10th January, by the Rev. F. Johnston, at the Methodist parsonage, Keene, EDWARD CROW, to MISS HATTIE KERLIEGE, both of Hiawatha.

PROBABILITIES.

Fresh to strong northerly winds, turning considerably colder, with light snow falls.

The First Spring Styles Just Opened

We are now in receipt of a large portion of Foreign and Domestic Goods for Spring trade, consisting of

New Embroideries,
New Insertions,
Hamburg Edgings,
Laces,
Grey Cottons,
Bleached Cottons,
Sheetings,
Shirtings,
Towellings,
Ducks,
Denims,
Cottons, etc.

Ask to see the New Circular Pillow Cotton, it is the newest thing out. We show them in all the widths.

Economy and solid satisfaction is guaranteed if you trade at

R. FAIR'S,

Sign of the Golden Lion, George Street.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE.
Solicitor.

d1otw18

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. E. BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office
Postal Address, Box 431. d1tw2

Wood and Coal.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of which will be delivered (free of charge for carriage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

THE BEST COAL

d&w JAMES STEVENSON.

For Sale or to Rent.

FOR SALE.

A LOT of Dry Birch and Oak Lumber, suitable for reflooring hall or Library. Also 2 in. Plank. E. COURTNEY. 3d35eod

FOR SALE OR TO RENT.

SEVENTY-FIVE ACRES OF LAND comprising the west half of lot No. 6, Con. 3 Dourc. 50 acres are cleared and in a good state of cultivation. The remainder is in timber and pasture land. On the premises are a good house, barn, stables, sheds and outbuildings. For particulars apply to MAURICE O'BRIEN, on the premises. 3w6

Wants.

WANTED.

A GOOD GENERAL SERVANT. Also A NURSE. No washing. Highest wages. Apply REVIEW Office. d33

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,
SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.

MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c.—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w18

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.

MONEY TO LOAN. d108w18

HATTON & WOOD,

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

R. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Professional.

RICHARD B. ROGERS.

CIVIL ENGINEER, PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR, Superintending Engineer Trent Canal Works. Office Post Office Block, George Street. w42

GEO. W. RANEY.

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d41w18

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d120w22

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL. Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street opposite St. John's Church. d123w22 1y

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,
M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d116w2

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW
Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. 1yd&w

Musical.

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipsig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipzig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence
DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE
d111w6

Mr. D. B. MacDuff
VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE
ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. 1yd11

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training. $70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario.

BUSINESS CHANGE

AT

THOMAS KELLY'S.

The Whole Stock to be sold out before the 1st July next.

AT THE SIGN
OF THE
Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1887.

QUEEN CITY QUARTETTE.

Four Peterborough Rinks Win Two Matches in Toronto.

Four rinks representing the Peterborough Curling Club went to Toronto on Wednesday evening to have a friendly match with the Granites and Caledonians of that city. On their arrival they were cordially received. During Thursday they played two matches, in which they were victorious.

The curlers speak in praiseworthy terms as to the hospitality extended to them by the brithers of the Queen City.

The scores made, and the names of those who composed the rinks, are as follows:—

PETERBOROUGH.		GRANITE.
	Rink No. 1.
J D Baptie,		H H Gilbert,
D Bellegham,		R W Spence,
A McNeil,		W Lawrence,
A Hall, skip	5	W F Davidson, skip 23
	Rink No. 2.
R Hall,		H Alexander,
A Walker,		T R Creelman,
R S Davidson,		J Eastwood,
W G Ferguson, skip	26	G W Anderson, skip 10
	Rink No. 3.
S Clegg,		J Demmer,
J Stanger,		J W O'Grady,
C McGill,		Dr Richardson,
T Rutherford, skip	20	C C Dalton, skip 18
	Rink No. 4.
J McClelland,		J B King'
T Fortye,		A A Helliwell,
S Ray,		W Badenach,
G Brown, skip	24	B Lacon, skip 15
Total	75	66

Majority for Peterborough, 9.

PETERBOROUGH.		CALEDONIANS.
	Rink No. 1.
R Hall,		J Pringle,
G Walker,		D Prentice,
R S Davidson,		W Ross,
W G Ferguson, skip	12	W Christie, skip 10
	Rink No. 2.
S Clegg,		J E Pellen,
J Stanger,		D Gibson,
C McGill,		J Carruthers,
T Rutherford, skip	20	R H Ramsay, skip 12
	Rink No 3.
J D Baptie,		W Davidson,
D Bellegham,		W J McCormick,
A McNeil,		J G Gibson,
A Hall, skip	14	J O S Wright, skip 14
	Rink No. 4.
J McClelland,		T Rennie,
T Fortye,		J Rennie,
S Ray,		Rennie,
G Brown, skip	21	F Foster, skip
Total	67	43

Majority for Peterborough, 24.

The New York Strike Ended.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Along the river front to-day on difficulty existed between the Longshoremen and the railroad and steamship lines.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc. Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

FIRST SESSION OF THE SIXTH PROVINCIAL PARLIAMENT.

The Opening of the Session—The Lieutenant-Governor's Speech from the Throne—Some New Measures are Promised.

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—The Ontario Legislature was opened this afternoon with the customary formalities. The following is the Lieutenant-Governor's

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE:

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:—

I have great pleasure in welcoming you for the first time to your legislative duties as members of a new parliament.

The year on which we have entered is one special interest throughout the British Empire as being the Jubilee Year of the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty, who for half a century has so fulfilled the duties of her exalted station as to secure the devoted loyalty and affection of her people.

I regret that I am unable to announce to you any progress towards the final settlement of the boundaries of the Province. The legislation advised by their Lordships of the Imperial Privy Council for the confirmation of their decision, had not yet received the concurrence of the Dominion Government, and my despatches of 1884 on the subject, and on the subject of our northern boundary, are still unanswered. Soon after the last session of the Provincial Legislature the Court of Appeal unanimously affirmed the judgment of the Chancellor of Ontario, negativing the claim of the Dominion Government to the lands and timber in our territory within our boundaries, as determined by her Majesty in Council, but litigation has, notwithstanding, proceeded against the Province at the public expense, and an appeal to the Supreme Court has been brought, which has been argued, and now stands for judgment. There has been some recent correspondence between the two Governments, which will be laid before you.

The Dominion Government having declined to agree to any method of placing beyond question the proper jurisdiction to deal with the subjects embodied in the Provincial Factory Act of 1884, I thought it right to assume the jurisdiction without further delay and to issue a proclamation calling the Act into effect. Some further legislation is found to be needed for the effectual and reasonably safe working of the Act, and will be brought to your attention.

I am pleased to notice the prominent place taken by this Province at the Indian and Colonial Exposition last year by means of the magnificent display there made of the manufactures and natural products of the Province, as also by the attractive and much commended exhibit of the Education Department, evidencing the advanced position which the Province holds in education, science and appliances.

Amongst our agricultural products the exhibit of cheese and butter by the Ontario Department of Agriculture attracted much attention, and cannot fail to be of great value to this growing and already important department of agricultural industry. For the success of this exhibit much credit is due to the zealous assistance of the officers of the Provincial Dairy Association.

The splendid exhibit of Ontario fruit collected mainly by the officers of the Fruit Growers' Association, will do much to remove erroneous impressions in the motherland in regard to the severity of our Canadian climate. The Provincial Bee Keepers' Association also was enabled through the liberal assistance voted last session to make a honey exhibit which reflects credit upon the Province.

I am glad to learn that the mineral resources of the Province are being steadily developed, and new and valuable discoveries have been made during the past year, especially in the northern and north-western districts, and that mining operations have made hopeful progress.

The commissioners for consolidating and revising the public statutes of the last ten years have nearly completed their work, embodying the same in two volumes, the first of which will be laid before you at once and the second on an early day. These volumes embrace amendments which the judicial or professional experience of the respective commissioners has enabled the commission to suggest and I trust you will find it practicable to adopt at this session the legislation necessary to give to the public the benefit of the work during the present year.

For several years there has been much discussion as to the best means of promoting the higher education of the people, particularly in the department occupied by the Universities of the Province, and it is gratifying to observe that notwithstanding some differences of opinion as to the methods of attaining this end, there is no such difference as to the duty of placing within the reach of every citizen who may wish to avail himself of its facilities a course of university education equal to that furnished by the best universities of Europe or the United States. A bill having this object in view will be laid before you.

Amongst the measures to be submitted to you is a bill for the gradual extension of the Land Titles Act to the whole Province as the public exigencies may render expedient and the local authorities desire. The report of the Master of Titles on the operations of the Act in the County of York and City of Toronto, will be laid before you.

Measures will also be submitted for your consideration respecting the appointment and jurisdiction of Police Magistrates and to provide amongst other things for scientific instruction in the public and high schools of the province as to the nature of alcohol and its effects upon the human system.

Your attention is invited to the important subject of prison labour and therein to the question whether the present system of letting out the labour of prisoners confined in the Central Prison to companies or private persons by contract, may not with advantage to the discipline and reformatory influences of the prison and without disadvantage to the public be abolished by law to take effect upon the expiration of existing contracts.

Since the last session of the Provincial Legislature, tenders were advertised for, and received for the erection of the new Departmental and Parliament buildings, and it was found that the needed accommodation will require a somewhat greater expenditure than was expected. To avoid injurious delay, a contract has been entered into for certain parts of the work, subject to a condition requiring your approval of the contract. Papers relating to the subject will be laid before you.

With the view of giving effect to the patriotic sentiment of our people, and following in this respect the example of the neighboring State of New York, the proceedings authorized by the statute of a former session for ascertaining the cost of expropriating the land in the neighborhood of the Falls of Niagara, have been taken and are nearly completed, and a measure will be submitted for your consideration, dedicating to the public in permanence the land on the Ontario side of the great world wonder, and containing provisions for securing the object without material cost to the Provincial treasury. A report from the commissioners will contain all useful information bearing on what is proposed.

The public accounts for the past year will be promptly laid before you and you will be pleased to learn from them that the expenditure has been less than was provided for by the estimates, and the receipts have exceeded the amounts anticipated.

The estimates for the current year will at an early date be submitted for your approval. They will be found to have been prepared with all the economy consistent with the demands of the public service. I trust that the legislative labors of this first session of the new parliament may be characterized by the same patriotic care and intelligence as in the case of previous parliaments.

Dr. Baxter, member for Haldimand, was elected speaker.

After formal business the House, on motion of Mr. Mowat, adjourned until March 1st.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

The Steamer Whetherby Enters Halifax Harbor Coated With Tons of Ice.

HALIFAX, Feb. 10.—When the Furness Line steamer Wetherby slowly steamed up the barbor she presented a sight seldom seen on this part of the coast. She was covered with ice from stem to stern. It is estimated that one hundred and fifty tons of ice were on her rigging, boats, deck and hull. She was from Antwerp for Boston, twenty-four days out and put in short of coal. Her officers report having had a terrible experience. On Jan. 29th the gale increased to a hurricane, with tremendous seas, during which the ship made no headway. Anticipating running short of coal she was headed for St. John's, Nfld., but during the night of Jan. 31, she came very near crashing into an iceberg, and ran into a heavy field of ice. Finding it impossible to reach St. John's, she was headed for Louisburg, but met with heavy gales and tremendous seas, which broke over the vessel, froze and covered her with ice, doing considerable damage to the ship. Two boats were smashed and the crew suffered terribly from exposure, frost bites and exhaustion. When seventy miles off Louisburg she ran into another field of ice, was unable to reach that port and then headed for Lalifax. When the Wetherby arrived here she had only enough coal left to keep her engines going a few hours.

Inter-Provincial Curling Match.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 10.—At the inter-provincial curling match here yesterday, Winnipeg beat all comers by score of 269 points to 143.

Party Divisions.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.—A party division will be made in the House of Committee on Foreign Affairs upon the fisheries question. The Democrats are united on the Manning Bill submitted by the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Republicans are in favor of the Edmunds' proposition as it passed the Senate. The Democrats, who have found it difficult to work harmoniously together in most matters, have seen their way clear in this case, and will undoubtedly sustain Mr. Bellout in making a favorable report to the House.

Cold, Bitter Cold!

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 10.—Reports from all over the territory show a deplorable state of affairs. The thermometer has been ranging from 40 to 60 degs. below zero for the bast ten days. Specials from Fort Assiniboine and Forts Shaw and Benton, say that cattle are now dying from exposure by thousands. At Fort Benton grave fears are entertained in regard to fuel, which is getting very scarce, many families being without enough to make a fire. All hope of saving the cattle has vanished. Several stage-coaches have been lost. Relief parties are out after them.

Patti's Narrow Escape.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—A despatch from San Francisco says that just as Patti was about concluding her performance on the stage at the Grand Opera House last night a man in the gallery stood up with a lighted bomb in his hand, with the evident intention of throwing it at the singer. Just as he he raised his arm, and before he could throw the missile, the bomb exploded, shattering his hand and inflicting serious injuries upon him. The police arrested the man and took him to the hospital. There was much excitement, but Patti calmly proceeded to sing "Home Sweet Home," and was cheered to the echo for her coolness. The man's name is not known, nor is any motive known for the deed.

CAMPBELLFORD.

A LITTLE MINE OF MARL.—On the farm of Mr. John McKenzie, the south half of lot 20, in the 12th concession of Seymour, there is a small mine of marl which is said by experts to be of great value. There are about 3 acres of it, ranging from 5 to 6 feet deep. Marl is largely used in the manufacture of the finer class of china goods, and from it is derived an acid which is very much used for chemical purposes. The place was visited some time ago by a gentleman who was prospecting through the mineral regions of the back townships for a mining firm in Buffalo, N. Y., and the marl attracted his notice and claimed his fancy, and he pronounced it to be a valuable article. Another gentleman who visited the marl became so interested in its worth that he made an offer for its immediate purchase, but Mr. McKenzie declined to accept it. The mine is situated only four miles from the C. P. R. and only one and a half miles from Heeley Falls, both points being easy of access for shipment.—Herald.

Turnbull is showing a fine assortment of new grey dress goods from the light silver to the dark Oxford shades.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

FIRE IN DUBLIN.

DUBLIN, Feb. 10.—The Vice-Chancellor's Court was destroyed and the other small courts badly damaged by fire this morning, causing considerable loss.

EGYPTIAN NEUTRALIZATION.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The Standard thinks that the proposal to neutralize Egypt is of doubtful wisdom because neutralization can never ensure Egypt against Arab invasion, in the event of which no power would be willing to go to Egypt's rescue. It says: "The suggestion is so encumbered with manifest and insuperable objections that we shall require the most convincing proof that such proposal has been made. A more lame and impotent conclusion of our dealings with Egypt cannot well be conceived."

URGED TO ATTACK RUSSIA.

PESTH, Feb. 10.—The Buda Pesth Journal urges Austria to attack Russia before the latter has completed her preparations on the Lower Danube. It says:—"War is inevitable, and it is better to begin fighting before the Balkan States have been Russianized. Austria would thus secure an alliance with Servia and Bulgaria, giving her 100,000 additional men."

ALBANI AND ROYALTY.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—The Empress yesterday received Madame Albani, the singer. During the interview the Emperor arrived, and conversed with Mme. Albani.

A RISING SUN.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—The Berlin Post's Paris correspondent writes:—"A deceptive calm followed your recent article referring to Gen. Boulanger. But he is now more powerful than ever. Even his former opponents are turning towards him as a rising sun, finding it impossible to struggle against the growing popularity of a man who is regarded by the masses as the long-expected liberater. The whole country is anxious for a revanche, and is arming silently, but with the evident belief that the hour is coming." The Post adds an extract from the Paris Figaro, an article signed by Scholl, imputing the grossest immorality to German women. This will raise a storm of indignation.

TO NEUTRALIZE EGYPT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 10.—Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, the British High Commissioner in Egypt, has submitted to the Porte a proposal to neutralize Egypt. Said Pacha, the Turkish Minister for Foreign Affairs, and the Grand Vizier are said to approve of the proposals.

PROVOCATION DEPRECATED.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—The newspapers here congratulate the Chamber of Deputies upon the dignified silence in which it voted the army credits. Such action they say shows that France can be prudent and patriotic when necessary. The advice of the press generally is to abstain from any comment likely to provoke Germany.

DIRECT COMMUNICATION.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—Steamers plying between Germany and Australia will hereafter call at Colombo instead of Chagos, thus forming a direct steamship connection between Germany and India. It is believed this arrangement will be of great value to the German trade.

A TERRIBLE FIRE.

TOULON, Feb. 10.—During the trial of the master and matron of the reformatory institution in Porquerolles, one of the Heyeres Islands, where the boys mutinied against cruelty and lack of food, a terrible fire occurred in the plantations and vineyards on the Islands, doing great damage. It is rumored that the fire was of an incendiary origin, being started by the inhabitants as an act of revenge on the reformatory authorities.

PARNELL'S AMENDMENT.

DUBLIN, Feb. 10.—An urgent whip has been sent to all Tory and Liberal Unionist members of the House of Commons summoning them to be on hand to vote against Parnell's amendment to the address.

THE NIHILISTS AGAIN.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 10.—It is rumored that a prince, a cadet in a military school in this city, committed suicide yesterday in consequence of the discovery that he was implicated in a Nihilist plot against the government. Other students in the school, leaders of the conspiracy and several naval officers have been arrested.

TROOPS FROM ALGIERS.

BERLIN, Feb. 16.—Advices from Algiers, published in the Kreuz Zeitung, have caused much excitement here. The despatches say a number of generals and staff officers have left Algiers to assume commands in France; that four battalions of the 12th Army Corps stationed in Algeria have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to embark, and that preparations are being made at the different ports to expedite the shipment of troops. Territorial troops, the despatches say, are to take the place of the battalions leaving Algeria.

A MURDER AVENGED.

BRISBANE, Feb. 10.—The Queensland expedition, which went to New Guinea to avenge the murder by natives last October at Johannes of Captain Craig, two sailors and six Malays of the ship Emily, while engaged in peal diving, has returned. The enterprise was entirely successful. The native chief responsible for the murder was caught and beheaded and the village where he and his accomplices lived was burned.

DUKE OF LEINSTER DEAD.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The Duke of Leinster, (Charles William Fitzgerald) is dead.

THE AGRARIAN TROUBRES.

DUBLIN, Feb. 10.—Sir Charles Brooke, whose tenants at Kelliagh had adopted the "Plan," has finally accepted the rents less 35 per cent. At Abbeyfeale, Limerick, today an evicting party was attacked by a mob, who for two hours assailed the bailiffs with boiling water, stones and other missiles. The Catholic pupils of Michaelstown have refused to enter the schools till the Protestant pupils are expelled.

THE TWO CARDINALS.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—Cardinals Taschereau and Gibbons departed for Rome this evening on the night mail train.

Devices of Advertisers.

So many devices are resorted to by advertisers, that the ordinary reader sometimes becomes shy of the tempting paragraph, fearing the advice that is concealed in it like a pill in jelly. Who, for instance, on beginning this item, would have supposed that its purpose was to make known the truth that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is what it claims to be—a cure for a disease at once loathsome to friends, and annoying and even dangerous to the sufferer.

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1887.

FAR TOO CLEVER.

One of the inducements held out to the constituency of West Peterborough to choose Mr. Geo. A. Cox as its representative is the probability of his becoming Finance Minister—if he is elected. But really if such a thing were probable it would be a very strong additional reason for voting against him. Mr. Cox is far too clever a financier for it to be safe for the country to place him in such a position. Suppose that he should procure some legislation that would enable him with the aid of a little persuasion to induce a number of creditors of the Dominion to accept less than a quarter of the amount of their claims in cash he found; that he should get his colleagues to give him Dominion Stock for the face value of these claims, and that he should then sell these Government securities and add the proceeds to his private bank account. This no doubt would be a very profitable operation for Mr. Cox, but would it be so profitable for the people of Canada? Oh, but Mr. Cox would not do such a thing, if he were Finance Minister, his friends may say. Perhaps not, but it was by such an operation in his notorious 23¼ cents in the dollar Midland transaction that Mr. Cox made himself at the expense of the Company or its creditors. History sometimes repeats itself, so it is well to keep on the safe side.

We believe it is not the custom to allow the Dominion Finance Minister a broker's commission on the sale of public securities, but sometimes new practices are introduced by clever financiers, who look back to their old experience in other positions they have filled.

Altogether we think it would be wiser for the people of Canada to continue to entrust their financial affairs to those who have been conducting them for the good of the nation, and to its great benefit.

STILL BUILDING.

Mr. Blake in a public oration at Strathroy has been laying down some planks for his policy, which seems to be still in process of construction. According to the Globe's report one of these planks is that "he objected to the extent to which the powers of disallowance entrusted to the Dominion Government had been carried." He himself exercised the powers of disallowance to a greater extent than Sir John Macdonald, but perhaps he has received new light. Or does he mean that he prefers the plan he more frequently adopted, not of disallowing at once, but of threatening or hinting at disallowance before the time expired, if the legislation he thought obnoxious were not repealed? He did this scores of times even with his friend Mr. Mowat, who sometimes submitted and sometimes grumbled at great length.

Another plank Mr. Blake laid down was "the enforcement of the Independence of Parliament Act." Does he mean that his own amending act to enable the Government to make contracts with members should be repealed, or that it should be restricted to Grit members and speakers, not having been intended for the benefit of wicked Tories? Then again he objected to railway subsidies in connection with members, but did not say whether his rule is to apply to the numerous Reform members who are interested in subsidized railways, nor did he state whether he would include legal members of the House, who, like himself, are in the pay of a subsidized railway, and advocate its cause in Parliament as well as in law courts or law offices. He would not have members deal in public lands or timber, but again failed to explain whether he would relax his rule in the case of Messrs. Mackenzie, Trow, Sutherland, Cook, Cameron (Huron) Scott, Gunn, and a host of other members on his side of the House who have had dealings in public lands and timber.

Another plank was an elective Senate. Possibly, however, this is only for Tory use, and if he ever made his way into office again, he would be content to revert to his former plan of appealing to the Imperial authorities for enlarged powers of appointing Senators.

These, according to the report, seem to have been the only planks he laid down. Perhaps he did not think the scaffold plank suitable for use in Ontario, and probably his tariff plank was at the mill, being planed down again, so as to place still a new face upon it.

Really Mr. Blake's platform building is very interesting, and to see it under construction and modification in the very midst of an election campaign is as curious a sight as extensive alterations and additions to a building while it still remains occupied. As the edifice progresses it promises to be a picturesque and quaint as one of these old English country houses with wings and projections and odd corners on all sides, displaying all sorts of styles and dating from a variety of epochs, as additions and changes were made from time to time in accordance with the requirements of the moment.

Mr. Cox was for some time a member of the Board of Education. If he knows of some plan by which the Lock Factory could be heated for a mere trifle, why did he not give the ratepayers the benefit of his knowledge and save them the great expense of heating the Central School. We do not think that expenditure was extravagant with the light the Board had, but with Mr. Cox's new system further economy would evidently be possible. He should not be selfish and keep his secret to himself.

Because Mr. Dalton McCarthy is proving himself to be a formidable antagonist, the Globe says he is suffering from megalomania. This is very sad, but there is some consolation in reflecting that megalomania is not a paltry or degrading form of insanity. Kleptomania is about the mark of the Globe people. Who is the next Conservative that Mr. Blake's organ will declare to be insane?

KEENE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Politics.—Politics are very quiet. Torels are confident of Mr. Burnham's re-election and the Reformers are very down in the mouth. No one can find any fault with our present member except a few Grits who only talk as they do in pure desperation.

Rink.—Our rink is very well patronized and is a source of delight to those who attend it. The directors intend holding another carnival on or about Feb. 25th, which will positively be the last for this season. Look out for the exact date as there will be a larger list of prizes than ever offered before. The directors are determined to make this the greatest success of any carnival ever held here.

Removals.—Mr. R. B. McIntyre has rented the house lately occupied by Mrs. Lane, and Wm. Connell is to move into the one lately occupied by Mr. McIntyre. Mr. Yourick, who has purchased the mills, is trying to get a house, but so far has been unable to do so. We would have a number of families move here if suitable houses were to be had.

Nuisance.—A number of cows are let out by their owners to bother every one in the village nearly every day. As they cannot eat the grass, a natural inference is that they are let out to irritate other people. This ought not to be allowed.

Lecture.—The Rev. Mr. Johnston has engaged John B. Clarke, the boot-black orator, to deliver one of his famous lectures here on Wednesday evening next, Feb. 16th. From reports of his lectures the people of this place are to have a rich treat, and everyone should make it a point to be on hand. [The "boot black orator" is certainly well worth hearing—for amusement and instruction.—Ed. R.]

Special Services.—The Rev. Mr. Johnston has been conducting special services for a few weeks, and the meetings have been well attended as a rule.

NORWOOD.

The Firemen.—The ringing of the fire bell on Thursday afternoon brought the fire brigade out on the "double quick." It was only a practice drill, however. The objective point was Finlay's hub factory, and in eight minutes from the time the alarm was sounded, they had a good stream playing upon the building. The citizens are well pleased with the brigade as organized.

Orange Lodge.—At the [illegible] meeting of the County Orange Lodge held in Norwood on the 1st February, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Bro. James Robb	W.C.M.
" W. Hutchinson	D.C.M.
" J. A. Robb	C.C.
" W. P. Darling	R.S.
" W. Bolton	F.S.
" A. Smith	Treas.
T. McIntyre	Lec.
" W. Hastie, jr	D.L.
" H. Dodds	D.C.

It was also decided to accept the invitation of West Peterborough to celebrate the coming 12th of July in Peterborough.

Obituary.—Monday afternoon, the wife of Mr. Matthew Scott, of this village, died at the residence of Spring Street, after a short period of illness. The deceased was well known and highly esteemed. The funeral took place yesterday and was largely attended. We tender our sincere sympathy to the bereaved relatives. It is also our sad duty to chronicle the death, on Wednesday morning, of Mr. William Elliot, an old and highly respected resident of the township of Asphodel and a brother of Mrs. Matthew Scott. He was in his 75th year and was one of the earliest settlers in the township. —Review.

NEWS NOTES.

Advices from Pekin state the young Emperor has assumed the government of the country.

The Queen has forwarded to Mrs. Kendal a diamond brooch, in remembrance of the performance given at Osborne last week before the Royal family.

The Associated Chamber of Commerce has approved of an Imperial Institute for London and the establishment of commercia museums through out England and the colonies.

A special cablegram says the Queen has consented to accept from the women of England the Jubilee gift of an equestrian statue of the late Prince Consort.

Sir John Lister Kays has organized his syndicate for carrying out his scheme of model farms in the North West, all the members being Englishmen. The capital stock of the enterprise is place at $6,500,000.

The United States House sub-Committee on Foreign Affairs finds the Senate's Retaliatory Fishery bill unacceptable on account of its ambiguity and the omission of railroads from the prohibotary clauses.

The annual session of the Grand Council of Royal Templers of Temperance was opened on Tuesday in St. Thomas, with a full attendance of representatives. The

The "All-turn-ative" Policy.

"What is your policy?" the voter spake
"An alternative one," said Mister Blake.

"As to protection, sir?" he said.
"What is your own?" asked wily Ned.

"Why I believe in the good N. P."
"And so do I," said Mister B.

"What is your policy?" the voter cried
"An alternative one," E. B. replied.

"As to protection, sir?" asked he.
"Why, what do you think?" asked Mister B.

"Why, I'm a free trader, sir," said he.
"And so am I," said Mister B.

—Hamilton Spectator.

State of the Market.

Messrs. Milmine, Bodman & Co. sum up the state of the market as follows:—The present foreign demand is inadequate to maintain current prices, and meet carrying charges, but political disturbances and possible crop accidents may be sufficient to prevent great heaviness at any time, and cause occasional excitement,—altogether working to keep the price fluctuating within moderate limits the remainder of this month.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN SICK HEADACHE.

Dr. W. W. Gray, Cave Spring, Ga., says: "I have given it in several cases of habitual sick headache, with perfect success."

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS:

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

EMPEROR WILLIAM.

Sketch of the Life of Germany's Monarch.

PRUSSIA'S GOLDEN AGE

How the Unification of Germany Was Secured.

Interesting Incidents in the Great Kaiser's Career—From Napoleon's Defeat at Waterloo, Through Sadowa and Sedan Until His Coronation at the Palace of Versailles.

King William was wonderfully blessed. Not since the reformation had Germany possessed so many men of genius and learning. And the King was wise. He found out every one and employed him. The King was constantly busied in regulating his country. King William's life is like a drama, with here and there a startling act. The plot developes, and the loved King of 73 years appears again prominently before the world in the most thrilling act. Prussia's success kindled the explosive French envy. Since King William had assisted in the defeat of Napoleon I. France had effervesced and solidified, and re-effervesced and resolidified with curious frequency. Napoleon III was now the French Emperor. King William in 1867 had visited the Emperor as a guest. Apparently William was content with what had been done to appease his mother's anguish. Napoleon was losing popularity at home. France was at the effervescing point. Napoleon sought a foreign war to divert his people and strengthen himself. The pretext was found, and the quarrel was sought with the King of Prussia. European complications formed the ostensible reason. Spain had dethroned Queen Isabella, and was in search of a new sovereign. Marshal Prim, of Spain, at the request of the Cortes, tendered the throne to Prince Leopold. Now it happened that this same Leopold was a member of the family of German Hohenzollerns, of which King William was the head. France jumped at the immediate conclusion that Prussian influence was at work, and that if Prince Leopold became king of Spain the balance of power in Europe would be destroyed. It may be said here that Prince Leopold was almost as nearly related to Napoleon as to King William, by reason of his wife's connection with the Napoleon family. King William immediately answered that he had no interest in the affair, and had used no influence in the matter. Napoleon demanded that King William command Leopold to decline the proffered honor. The King replied that he had neither inclination nor power to accede to such a demand, and hence refused. In the meantime Prince Leopold voluntarily withdrew his name. The trouble seemed settled. Certainly the Prussian King was justified in feeling that no cause of war could now possibly exist. Napoleon could not let the chance for a fight escape. While King William was at Ems, his favorite summer watering place, he received the absurd demand from France that he should agree to prevent Prince Leopold from ever again becoming a candidate for the Spanish throne should perchance the opportunity present itself. The reader can infer the stirdy King's reply. The king granted several interviews to Count Benedetti, the French ambassador, who was also at Ems, relative to the complications. King William finally refused another audience to Benedetti. On Wednesday morning, July 13, the King's erect and stately figure was seen on the promenade at Ems among other visitors. He was in company with two or three gentlemen, when he was approached by a little, fat man with much gesticulation and animated talk. Count Benedetti was renewing the demands of France. Such conduct was naturally a great insult to the king. His majesty mildly spoke a word or two, then turning upon his heel left the irate Frenchman. The next morning the King left by special train for Berlin. The country was in a ferment. Crowds were at the depot. He said to the people: "I hope to see you all once more. God is my witness that I have not desired war, but if I am forced to it, I will maintain the honor of Germany to the last man." The King's ride was a triumphal journey. The country was aroused to wild enthusiasm, and madness against the French. Tidings that France had declared war reached Berlin before the train which bore the King. When King William arrived in Berlin the streets near the depot were blocked with people. He walked towards his carriage in company with the Crown Prince, Bismarck, Von Roon and Von Moltke, and as he passed along the platform German ladies threw showers of bouquets upon him. The King reached his palace. The populace was wild. As the King entered his home, as if by a single impulse the vast crowd sang the national hymn with uncovered heads. As the hour reached midnight the King appeared before the palace, spoke to the crowd and told them that yet that night weighty matters had to be considered. He requested them to be quiet. At once the cry arose: "Home! Home!" and soon all was tranquil. The war began. King William and his army were ready. Not only did the German army possess maps of France, but it is said that the German officers knew all the cross roads and lanes. France declared war on July 15, 1870. On Aug. 2 Germany had three armies, numbering 450,000 men on the frontier of France ready for action. Their leaders were the Crown Prince, Prince Frederick Charles and Gen. Steinmetz. The South German states had espoused the cause of Prussia. King William made a proclamation to the French, in which he said he was not fighting the French but only their Emperor. He promised them protection and good treatment. To his praise be it said that he kept his word, and as a rule the Germans acted as friends rather than enemies in the places they captured. Numerous engagements took place, with victory generally in favor of the Germans. The three armies pressed into France. King William journeyed with his troops. A war correspondent described his arrival in Pont-a-Mousson, "an old man in a commos coach, with a blue uniform covered thick with white dust, with an honest, rotund, rosy face." August 18 the King commanded at the battle of Gravelotte. He was surrounded by the Crown Prince, Von Moltke, Von Roon and the American general, Sheridan. The King hardly said a word. His face is said to have had something almost plaintive in it. It was a furious battle. For ten hours the King was exposed to fire. A part of the time he sat upon an old ladder, one end of which rested upon a pair of scales while the other was supported by the carcass of a dead horse. His majesty remained on the field until the last gun was fired, and then made his supper of black bread and fat cold pork. The French were shortly confined in Metz, and surrounded in the little fortress of Sedan.

Wednesday, Sept. 1, dawned as a most beautiful morning. The weather was experiencing that mellow change from summer to autumn. It was the morning of the battle of Sedan. King William and his army had succeeded in completely surrounding Napoleon and his forces in the little citadel. "Never before in the world's history has there been such a butchery as went on during that great fight." It was the Waterloo of the Second Empire. All day the Germans poured storms of shot and shell into the town. From every side came destruction. The German circle grew smaller and smaller. The cordon of death was tightening upon Napoleon. Marshal McMahon was seriously wounded. Certain death stared every Frenchmen in the face. Napoleon surrendered. He wrote to King William and said: "Not being able to die at the head of my troops I lay my sword before your majesty." The youthful Prussian prince had witnessed the overthrow of the first Napoleon. The old King received the sword of the third Napoleon. King William wrote to the queen: "It is like a dream, even when one has seen it hour by hour developing itself. When I consider that after one great and successful war, I could not expect more glorious things yet to happen during my reign, and now behold this historical act accomplished, then I bow before God who alone has chosen me, my army, and my allies to perform what has happened, and has made us the instrument of His will. I can only look upon it in this light, and in humility praise God's guidance and grace." Napoleon was taken captive to a little castle near by, which King William had designated as the place of meeting. The King rode to the castle and dismounted, when Napoleon came out upon the steps to meet him. Their interview lasted only fifteen minutes. Napoleon afterwards expressed himself as much impressed with the courtesy and kindness of the King. The war continued with almost unvarying success of the troops of the German King. Paris was invested and the memorable siege begun. The famous palace of Versailles, near Paris, became the headquarters of King William and his immediate advisers. For some time there had been a movement, commenced by the South German states, to form a union of all Germany, and proclaimed King William of Prussia Emperor of united Germany. It was a wintry January day in 1871 when the idea became an accomplished fact. In the palace is a large room, whose walls are completely lined with mirrors. In this room Richelieu, Louis XIV and Napoleon I had planned their invasions of Germany. In this same room, with much ceremony and military pomp, King William was proclaimed emperor of Germany, and the title made hereditary in his family. Shortly afterwards the new Emperor ordered a part of this palace to be converted into a hospital. The walls were hung with costly paintings. Emperor William had them all carefully covered, so as to protect them from injury. The siege of the city was the most stupendous undertaking of modern warfare. Victory came at last, and once more Emperor William entered Paris a victor. The delicate youth was the hearty, ruddy-complexioned old man of 74 years. In six months of warfare King William's army had fought 156 engagements, had besieged and taken the three strongest fortresses of the word, Metz, Strasburg and Paris; had captured 600,000 French prisoners, had gained two provinces and had imposed a war debt upon France of 5,000,000,000 francs. The Emperor received such an ovation when he returned to Berlin as is seldom accorded a man. The work of constructing the new empire and the various complications arising have busied the Emperor since the termination of the French war. He was loved by all the people, although still an obstinate old man who believed as firmly as ever in the mediæval idea of kings by divine right. The writer used to see him almost every day during the autumn and winter of 1880 and 1881. It was his custom to rise very early. His working room was on the ground floor of his Berlin palace. Here early each morning he could be seen at the window. People never wearied of looking at him. The writer, while a student in Berlin always joined the crowd before the Emperor's window to receive his morning smile. Every afternoon at 2 o'clock he took a drive in the Thiergarten. When his carriage was seen on the street the cry of "The Emperor! the Emperor!" quickly passed from mouth to mouth. Every one stopped and faced the street. As he passed, men, women and children made a most respectful bow. Men invariably removed their hats. The Emperor allowed no one to surpass him in politeness. I have frequently felt that his majesty must have grown weary on these rides on account of his constant salutations. Upon one occasion I stood alone in the Thiergarten as he passed by. I tipped my hat and received in return a hearty salutation and kindly smile. He looked strong and well. His hair was gray; deep wrinkles marked his face. His complexion was ruddy and clear. He looked like a man about 70 years of age. An adjutant always rode with him at this time. Formerly he frequently went alone. But in 1878, while passing along Unter den Linden, he was fired upon. Fortunately he escaped. This was in May. In the following month another assassin shot at the aged man and succeeded in dangerously wounding him. Since those attempts he rides with company. During this winter of 1880-81 the emperor was a frequent attendant at the opera. I noticed him very particularly at several appearances of Mme. Albani. He applauded lustily, and visited the ladies in the royal boxes between the acts. He did not manifest a particle of mental or physical weakness. He was as straight as an Indian athlete. He had but two children—a son and daughter. He lived to see his third successor—his great-grandson.

The kingship and emperorship of William I will always be known as the golden age of Germany.

Paul Wilcox

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr Burnham is requested.

R. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. 4tb

DUNN'S BAKING POWDER

THE COOK'S BEST FRIEND

COVENANT WITH ABRAM.

NOTES ON THE INTERTATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

For Sunday, Feb. 13—Lesson Text, Gen. xv, 5-18—Golden Text, Gen. xv, 1—Critical and Practical Notes by Samuel Ives Curtiss, Ph. D., D. D., of Chicago.

Introduction.—God had promised Abram that he should become a great nation; that He would make his seed as the dust of the earth, and that He would give him the land of Canaan. As yet there was no fulfillment of either promise. Abram had no son, he did not own a foot of land (compare Acts vii, 5), and the years were slipping fast away. It is for this reason that God appears to him in a vision and comforts him with the assurance that He is his shield and that his reward "shall be exceeding great" (revised edition, margin). Abram at once thinks of an increase of his possessions, and asks God why He should give him anything more when he has no child. God therefore renews the promise that he shall have a son.

THE LESSON.

His Posterity Like the Stars" (v. 5).—He then leads him out and bids him look toward heaven, and count, if he is able, the stars, which are sparkling with all the brilliancy of an Oriental sky. What an inspiring simile! His seed was to be as numerous as the stars, and many of them were to shine as the stars until they should pale before the brightness of the star of Bethlehem. (Compare Num. xxiv, 17 and Rev. xxii, 16.)

Justification by Faith (v. 6).—This verse records two great facts: 1. Abram believed in Jehovah; 2. Jehovah counted or reckoned it to him as righteousness. Abram's life, as we shall see, was one grand example of faith. He left his father's house because he believed in Jehovah. At the most trying periods of his career, when other men's faith would have failed, his triumphed. Abram did not have God's written word; but he followed God's will, as far as he knew it, closely. Whatever might be his failings, he had the spirit of obedience. In this particular instance he believed Jehovah's promise that he should have a son. God accepted his faith as righteousness, that is, right living. But Abram's faith and works went together (James ii, 21-25). He did the things which Jehovah commanded because he believed in Jehovah. He was feeding, as the Psalmist says, on faithfulness, and was one of the just, described by the prophet, who live by faith. His life furnishes the illustration of the apostolic doctrine of justification by faith (Rom. i, 17; iv, 3; Gal. iii, 6; Heb. x, 38), which became the keynote of the German Reformation.

The Sign of the Covenant (vs. 7, 8).—Although he believes that he is to have a son, he is still in doubt about the land. But God tells him that he has brought him out of Ur of the Chaldees to give him the land. Abram asks a sign. God condescends to give it to him, as he afterward condescended to give signs to Gideon (Judges vi, 17, 36-40), Hezekiah (II Kings xx, 8-11) and even to Ahaz (Isaiah vii, 11-14).

Vs. 9, 10. The sign which God gave Abram was a covenant. In commercial language it was a contract that he entered into with him. It was as though two people should make a deposit of a large amount of money, to be held by some trustworthy person, and should agree by a written contract, properly signed and sealed before a notary, that in case either of them should fail to fulfill the conditions of the agreement he would forfeit the sum of money to the other.

Life, however, is more precious than money. In this covenant Jehovah condescends to stand on equal terms with Abram, and thus really promises, as if he were a man, that if he does not fulfill the conditions of the covenant he will forfeit his life (compare Jeremiah xxxiv, 12, 18-20). Covenant in Hebrew signifies something that is cut. The Hebrews speak of cutting a covenant where we speak of making a covenant. Abram was to prepare the preliminaries. He was to take a heifer, a she goat and a lamb, each 3 years of age, and was to divide them into two equal parts, putting one-half on one side and the other half on the other, leaving room to walk between the parts. He also took a turtle dove and a young pigeon, but he did not divide them. The contract by which the land of Canaan was to be conveyed to Abram, as we might say, was ready to be signed and sealed, but before this takes place he must understand its provisions.

Conditions of the Covenant (vs. 11-16).—These are indicated in the following verses. Naturally, but fittingly, the birds of prey, who foreshadow what is to be revealed to him, light upon the carcasses, and he drives them away. As the sun is going down a deep sleep falls upon Abram. It is the same kind of sleep that Adam is said to have slept when Eve was created. The birds of prey, which may be regarded as a symbol of evil, are followed by the horror of a great darkness. Through these natural portents his mind is prepared for the unwelcome announcement regarding his posterity. His seed is to be a stranger in a land that is not theirs. They are to serve the owners of that land, who will oppress them 400 years. But on that nation God will visit sore judgments.

Afterward Abram's descendants are to come out with great possessions. Abram is to go to his fathers in peace. In this passage there is an intimation of existence after death. He is to enjoy the greatest of temporal blessings, according to the Old Testament—namely, that of long life (Ex. xx, 12; Prov. iii, 2; Isa. lxv, 20); he is to be buried in a good old age. In the fourth generation, or in 400 years, reckoning the word generation in its widest significance of 100 years, his children are to return to Canaan. Four hundred here is simply a round number, the exact number being 430 years (Ex. xii, 40-41; compare Gal. iii, 17). One thing is mentioned which stands in the way of Abram's immediate possession of the land—the iniquity of the Amorite is not full. This is significant language. God is slow in executing his judgments. He does not sweep man from the earth through the flood until it is full of violence. Punishment visited by him cannot be hastened by a day, nor can it be delayed when once the hour has struck. Thus the provisions of the covenant are made clear to Abram.

The Covenant Sealed (v. 17).—The covenant of Jehovah with Abram, speaking of it as though it were a contract, was now ready to be signed. This was done by a smoking furnace and a flaming torch, which were symbols of the divine presence passing between the pieces.

V. 18. In this verse the substance of the covenant is announced, as well as the fact that God signed it. He gave Abram the land from the river of Egypt—by which we are not to understand the Nile, but the Wady el Arish, which divides the base of the Sinaitic peninsula into two parts—to the great river the Euphrates. It was the fault of Abram's heirs that they did not enter into possession of this domain until the time of Solomon (I Kings iv, 21).

POINTS TO BE REMEMBERED.

1. God accepted Abram's faith in him as righteousness.

2. Abram's faith was manifested by his obedience to God's commands.

Peterborough Markets

WHEAT.
Wheat, fall, per bushel	0 78	to	0 78
" spring "	0 78	to	0 79
Arnecta Wheat	0 60	to	0 65
FLOUR AND MEAL.
Flour, Patent Process, per cwt.	$2 50	to	$2 50
Flour, bakers per cwt	2 25	to	2 25
Flour, stone process	1 80	to	1 80
COARSE GRAIN.
Barley, per bushel	0 40	to	0 54
Peas	0 50	to	0 54
Oats	0 25	to	0 29
Rye	0 45	to	0 45
MILL FEED.
Oat chop, per cwt	1 10	to	1 10
Pea chop, "	1 10	to	1 10
Barley chop "	1 00	to	1 00
Pollards "	0 80	to	0 80
Bran, per ton	11 00	to	11 00
VEGETABLES.
Potatoes, per bag	0 70	to	0 75
Cabbage, per head	0 05	to	0 07
Beets, per bag	0 40	to	0 40
Onions, per bag	1 25	to	1 40
Carrots, small red, per bag	0 35	to	0 40
Carrots, field, per bag	0 15	to	0 20
Turnips	0 20	to	0 25
Parsnips	0 30	to	0 40
MEAT, POULTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCE.
Beef, by the quarter per cwt	3 50	to	5 50
Pork, " " "	6 00	to	7 00
Mutton, per lb	0 05	to	0 06
Veal, per lb	none offering
Lamb, per lb	0 07	to	0 8
Dressed Hogs	6 00	to	6 50
Hogs, live weight	5 00	to	5 40
Tallow, per lb	0 04	to	0 05
Lard	0 10	to	0 11
Chickens, per pair	0 45	to	0 60
Ducks, per pair	0 60	to	0 70
Geese, each	0 50	to	0 60
Turkeys, each	0 75	to	1 00
Butter, fresh roll, per lb	0 22	to	0 22
Butter, packed prime, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Cheese, private sale per lb	0 12	to	0 12
Eggs, per doz	0 19	to	0 20
Hay, per ton	7 00	to	10 00
Straw, per load	2 00	to	3 00
Wood, hard, per load	3 50	to	4 50
Wood, soft, per load	2 50	to	3 00
WOOL AND HIDES.
Fleece wool	0 18	to	0 18
Southdown wool	0 21	to	0 20
Hides, per cwt	5 50	to	6 00
Hides, trimmed, per cwt	6 00	to	7 00
Lamb skins	25	to	25
Sheep Pelts, each	25	to	25
Sheep skins	1 00	to	1 00
FISH.
White Fish, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Speckled Trout, per pound	0 09	to	0 09
Maskinonge, per pound	0 06	to	0 06
Bass, per pound	0 05	to	0 05
Finnie Haddies, per lb	0 06	to	0 06
Simcoe Herring, per do	0 20	to	0 20
Salt Mackrel, per doz	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per quart	0 40	to	0 40
Oysters, per can	0 45	to	0 55

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 20	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 20	to	0 50

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we life in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health, but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. d90

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears, Sweet Florida Oranges, Malago Grapes, new English Walnuts Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecanas Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Parties a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS,
George St., Peterborough

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established. Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-Joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

RETIRING

FROM THE BOOT AND SHOE BUSINESS.

R. STENSON & SON

Having decided on Retiring from Business, will receive Tenders up to the 21st of February next, at a rate on the Dollar, for the purchase en bloc of their Stock of Boots and Shoes, &c. The highest or any Tender not necessarily accepted.

If not then disposed of, the whole of the Stock will be sold in Quantities to Suit Purchasers.

ALL WINTER GOODS WILL BE SOLD AT COST FROM TO-DAY.

R. STENSON & SON.

Peterborough, Feb. 7th, 1887. 1md31w6

MONEY TO LEND!

HAVING resigned his connection with the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Ld.,) the undersigned has made arrangements for lending an unlimited amount at SIX PER CENT, on terms more favourable than any Peterborough or Toronto Company, and will be pleased to see his many old friends with a view to making them new advances or readjusting their present Mortgages.

A. P. POUSSETTE.

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 10th

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md79w41

For Plain and Fancy Job Printing of all kinds, try the REVIEW.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY REVIEW IF YOU ARE WISE

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. 1yd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. 1yd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. 1yd97

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. 1yd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 739. Residence, Bon Accord Street. 1yd97w4

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. 1yd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Autrim and Aylmer streets. 1yd97

W. FITZGREALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied. Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. 1yd97

General.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $30 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 150 pages GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take your LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled. Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

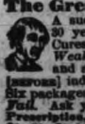
Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO



Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 20 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhœa, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse. [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription; take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

A. CLEGG.
Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Glegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00
LADIES..... 50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG,
1d45 Manager.

CHEAP GROCERIES

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,
d39 Ashburnham

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via C. & O. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
10 55 p m	Toronto and West, via C. & O. R.	6 00 p m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
5 20 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	7 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	8 00 p m
	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)	8 00 a m
12 00 m		4 30 p m
4 00 p m		11 00 a m
8 20 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope.	6 00 p m
5 15 p m	do
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
4 00 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville	11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Eanismore	1 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Hastlain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clydale, Faudah and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays.	7 30 p m
	Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	6 00 p m
9 00 a m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbados, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibralter, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxemburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherland, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamaica, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queenslands:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents,

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Blank.

The Police Court Clerk was not called on this morning to make any registrations in the big book.

Doing Well.

Murphy, the Italian, has made considerable progress towards recovery this week. He has been up and out of his bed and has walked around. Dr. Kincaid, who is still in attendance, thinks that Murphy will be able to attend Marino's trial at the police court on Monday.

Clover Seed Shipments.

Since the last notice of Mr. Cluxton's clover seed dealings he has shipped three more car loads from Lindsay and vicinity, valued at $3,000 a car, or $9,000 altogether. This makes nine cars of clover seed he has shipped to London and Liverpool this season, the total value being something over $25,000.

The Domestic fashion sheet for February has arrived at Turnbull's, call and get one.

No. 6.

No. 6 Company of the City Battalion drilled in the Old Music Hall on Thursday night. There was a large attendance of the members and a good drill was put in. The company will drill at the same place as usual next Thursday night. The Capt. is desirous of having every member of his company turn out. There is room for a few recruits of the right kind.

East Durham.

A Reform convention was held at Millbrook on Thursday to choose a candidate to oppose Mr. Ward, the Conservative candidate for the representation of East Durham in the House of Commons. After discussing the prospects, no one seemed anxious to enter the hopeless contest, and no candidate was selected. Mr. Ward will therefore, it appears, be elected by acclamation.

The Evangelistic Meeting.

The attendance at the meeting in the Y. M. C. A. hall last night was somewhat larger, and the meeting was one of great interest. Mr. Marsh spoke from the text, "If any man sin we have an advocate with the Father." It is expected that the meetings will close on Saturday night, when Mr. Marsh will go to Lakefield for a time, returning here later on in the month.

An Exciting Contest Expected.

In addition to the many attractions which will draw people to the Fancy Dress Carnival to be held in the Charlotte Street Rink this Friday evening will be a curling match, Lindsay vs. Peterborough. These clubs are old time rivals, and as Lindsay is one ahead in the games played this season, the home club will no doubt play their prettiest to make the game score even. There is no doubt it will be a spirited contest and one well worth witnessing.

"The union forever," sang the customer who saw we had united the best quality with the lowest price. R. FAIR.

Missionary Meetings.

On Sabbath next the pulpit of the George Street Church and also of the Charlotte Street Church will be occupied by Rev. J. B. Clarkson, M. A., of Port Hope, and Rev. L. N. Beaudry, M. A., of Montreal. Both these rev. gentlemen are excellent speakers, while Mr. Beaudry is known throughout this land as being an earnest and successful laborer among the French people of the Province of Quebec, and also a convert from the ranks of the Roman Catholic Church. He will be in Charlotte Street Church in the morning and in George Street Church at night. Mr. Clarkson will alternate with Mr. Beaudry. Missionary sermons will be preached.

To-Night.

Remember this is the night of the grand skating carnival in the Charlotte Street Rink. The carnival is under the auspices of the Fire Brigade, and they have made all arrangements for the comfort of those who may attend. The rink will be illuminated with electric light, and the decoration committee have done their work in such a manner that the sight will be one of dazzling beauty and splendor. The political contest between Mayor Stevenson and Mr. Geo. A. Cox is exciting no small amount of interest. The contest will be under the immediate management of ladies, and the winning candidate will be the recipient of a beautiful gold-headed cane. As is generally the case it is expected that the voting will be lively. Do not fail to witness this carnival as it will be well worthy the small price of admission.

A commercial teeter, we are on the top but our prices are at the bottom. See what Turnbull is showing this week in new bedroom chints and cretonnes.

Personal.

Mr. D. J. Mcntyre, ex-M. P. P. for West Victoria, is playing third in No. 2 rink for Lindsay this afternoon.

Toronto vs. Peterborough.

A curling match is in progress this afternoon between four rinks of the Toronto Curling Club, and a like number of the Lindsay Club, for the Caledonian medal. An effort is being made to arrange a match between the home club and Toronto for this evening. The rink ought to be crowded this evening with so many attractions.

The Rearin' Game.

The group match in the primary competition for the Ontario Tankard are over. Those clubs who have come securely out of the fray are: Whitby, Orillia, Toronto, Guelph, Paris, St Marys, Milton, Listowel and Caledowars. These are the clubs eligible to play in the final draw which will be played in Toronto on Wednesday next. Predictions here say that either St. Marys or Paris will carry of the prize.

Campbellford defeated Warkworth on Thursday by 11 shots.

At half past three o'clock the Lindsay curlers were 16 ahead all around in the match with Toronto for the Caledonian medal.

We May Expect

—Tobogganing again.

—If the snow dosen't get too deep.

—The Montreal people to feel grateful.

—The exodus of pleasure seekers from the City of the Mount to begin in a day or two.

—A large attendance at the carnival to-night.

—The prize winners to feel happy.

—Marino to be apprized of the penalty on Monday.

—Peterborough curlers to challenge Port Hope now.

—Since they "snuffed out Toronto," as John Douglass would say.

—Everybody to catch the election fever.

—Everybody to recover on the 23rd.

The Provincial Election.

Mr. Carnegie has filed a petition against Mr. Stratton's return as M. P. P. for West Peterborough. It would not be proper at present to discuss the matter to any extent, or to estimate the expense that the proceedings may cause, but we would point out that as $1,000 has been placed in Court with the petition Mr. Stratton's costs will be readily secured if Mr. Carnegie fails to establish violations of the law by his opponent. About 50 charges of bribery, etc., will be made against Mr. Stratton and his agents. There is a suggestion that Mr. Stevenson is in some way connected with the protest. This is incorrect. He was not consulted about it personally, but used his influence without avail to prevent it.

Stumping the Riding.

A meeting in Mr. Stevenson's behalf was held at Bensfort, South Monaghan, on Thursday night. It was largely attended. After Mr. Stevenson's speech Mr Cox and Mr. Bertram were given an opportunity to speak. Mr. Bertram attacked the National Policy in the same way and with the same old vehemence. He claimed that the Canadian Pacific Railway was a dead issue and entered upon the Northwest question. Mr. Cox, in his speech, made one assertion which was somewhat significant. He would hardly have said it if he were addressing the mechanics of the town. He said that under the Mackenzie tariff the factories did well and he didn't see why they couldn't do so again, which means, of course that he would not think it unwise to go back to the old revenue tariff system. Mr. Hilliard spoke at considerable length and Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q. C., made the closing address. The meeting broke up at midnight with cheers for the Queen and Mr. Stevenson. An attempt was made to get up a cheer for Mr. Cox but it was a failure.

Among Turnbull's new French dress goods will be found tints of peacock blue, also the new gobelin shade in several qualities with trimmings to match.

Obituary.

The Erie, Pa., Morning Despatch of Jan. 31st contains the following in reference to the death of a former resident of Peterborough, who built the old Court House:—"Death yesterday morning removed from this city one of its oldest and most useful citizens in the person of Mr. Richard Hanlon, who expired at his residence, corner of Eighteenth and Sassafras streets, at the ripe old age of 76 years. He was born in County Cork, Ireland, in 1811. He, his father, his mother, four brothers and two sisters emigrated to Otonabee township, Ontario, when that region was a wilderness, and settled upon land which now comprises the town of Peterborough. The old house erected by the family is still standing, and has been continuously occupied ever since. The family was one of contractors, and as the town which they founded continued to grow, they were the builders of many public improvements. Subsequently Mr. Hanlon, after having married in Peterborough, removed with his family to Buffalo, and thence to this city, of which he became a citizen 25 years ago. He was a contractor under the builders of the Erie & Pittsburg Railway, and many of its most substantial bridges below Sharon were built by him. Mr. Hanlon leaves three daughters, Mrs. B. Hannon, of Harborcreek; Miss Libbie Hanlon, superintendent of No. 5 school, and Sister Ignatius, a nun of the Roman Catholic Church. His wife, a very estimable woman, died 19 years ago. His death is generally regretted by a large circle of friends. The remains will be taken to Buffalo on Saturday morning, and will be buried there in Limestone Hill Cemetery."

WATERED with dew of good intention, warmed by the sunshine of Fair dealing, the dollar you bring us will grow and expand to colossal proportions. R. FAIR.

Out of its Element.

Mr. W. S. Cocks found a butterfly on Thursday, which he captured and put in a small box. The butterfly is a small yellow one, and is as lively as if the weather had not been below 60 deg. this winter.

A Confession Implicating Many.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—It is said Henry Schwartz, who is awaiting trial at Morris, Ill., for complicity in the robbery of the express car on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway, and the murderer of Messenger Kellogg Marshalls, has made a confession implicating half a dozen men, all being connected with the management of railroad trains It is further said a number of the guilty parties were arrested on Monday night.

Accident at the Carnival.

MONTREAL, Feb. 10.—During the storming of the ice palace last evening while the beseiged were firing off bombs one of more than usual force exploded, a piece of which struck Miss Alice Forget in the side, and also in the head. It was considered she was fatally injured. The force of the explosion was so great that the top pieces of the tower were shaken to the ground. Mr. Hude, one of the occupants of the castle at the time, was struck by a falling block of ice and quite badly hurt. The accident caused quite a delay in the proceedings.

RUSSIAN MILLHANDS RIOTING.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 10.—The strikers at the Demidoff spinning mills set fire to the buildings Tuesday night and they were entirely destroyed. They beat the directors and managers in a horrible manner. The riot lasted all night and was finall quelled by troops.

Have you seen Turnbull's 6¼ cent fancy check winceys? If not you are missing a bargain.

Turnbull deals exclusively in the extremes, the best and the cheapest. See his new stock of print shirtings. See Sucker's white and grey cottons, cottonades and tweeds.

AUTHOR OF EAST LYNNE DEAD.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Mrs. Henry Wood, the celebrated English novelist, is dead.

RETIRING

from the Dry Goods Business.

$10,000.00

worth of Dry Goods must be sold before

The 15th day of March, 1887

AT

T. DOLAN & CO'S

As on the above mentioned date, the Dry Goods business carried on by T. Dolan & Co. for the past ten years, will pass into the hands of a new firm, we have decided to reduce our present magnificent stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods amounting to $20,000.00 to one half its volume. In order to accomplish this we have marked all our goods to the bare cost price.

JUST IMAGINE

$3,000 worth of Dress Goods at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Black and Colored Silks at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Mantle Cloths at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Gloves and Hosiery at Cost.

$3,000 worth of Cottons, Bleached and Unbleached, at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Cotton Shirting at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Domestics, etc., etc., at Cost.

$2,000 worth of Clouds and Woollen Goods at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Prints and Ginghams at Cost.

EVERYTHING AT COST

The goods must go. This is a genuine cash sale, and no hoax. Remember from now until March 15th, as after that date we intend to direct our attention exclusively to our Tailoring establishment.

T. Dolan & Co

MR. J. W. CROSBY

THE

New Music Dealer

Will always be found at his office at MR. WESLEY MILLARD'S, George Street, 2 doors north of Charlotte Street, where he is prepared to give bargains in the celebrated

New York Weber, Steinway, Chickering, Emerson, Lansdown and Stevenson Pianos.

He is Sole Agent for the Uxbridge & Kilgore Organs. Sample Instruments always in stock. A chat with him about how to purchase a good instrument at a low figure will amply pay you. He has never been and will not now be undersold.

Dominion Elections

22

Nomination Day, February 15th.

Polling Day, February 22nd.

A New Candidate in the Field

HIS PLATFORM:

GENTLEMEN.—I have no desire to tamper with the votes of that noble army of our citizens who freely exercise the Franchise on behalf of their favorite polititical leaders. But in order to take a hand in the present political struggle for supremary between Grit and Tory, I have decided to come out and offer such tempting

BRIBES TO THE ELECTORS

As cannot fail to place me at the head of the polls.

I would scorn, like all other candidates for parliamentary honors, to buy up votes, or do aught that might be construed as a violation of our Election laws. My object is a far more patriotic one, namely—that of making a CLEAN SWEEP of all my Winter Clothing and Tweeds before Election day.

Nor will the secrecy of the Ballot be infringed by asking purchasers whether they will vote for LEBRUN, COX, or STEVENSON. No, not by a home rule scuttle full! But every elector is expected to attend this exciting Political-Winter-Clothing Sale, and to hurrah for LEBRUN, so as to elect him by an overwhelming majority as the Workingmen's Favourite Candidate.

SAMPLES OF THE BRIBES

SUITS, made to order - $12
Formerly sold for $15.

SUITS, made to order - $14
Formerly sold for $17.

SUITS, Ready-made for $5
And upwards.

PANTS made to order for $3.00, $4.00, $4.50.

If the Electors will only ponder over these facts and see and handle these Bribes for themselves, I feel certain that the end will be a cold day for the other candidates.

H. LeBrun

CITY CLOTHING HOUSE.

PURE UNADULTERATED

TEAS AND COFFEES

CHEAPER THAN EVER, AT

HAWLEY BROS

The People's Tea Store, Hunter Street, East.

HENFEED

Small Wheat - - - - 90c per 100 lbs.

Barley - - - - 95c per 100 lbs.

Pure Wheat Spring or Fall, $1.25 per 100 lbs.

J. W. FLAVELLE,

SIMCOE STREET.

TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

W. W. Johnston & Co.

GIVING UP BUSINESS.

A GENUINE CLEARING OUT SALE.

Having decided to give up business, we will on and after SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15th, offer to the public

THE BIGGEST BARGAINS

They have seen for some time in DRY GOODS. We have marked down everything in the store to such low prices that all will be satisfied. This is not a sale of Winter Goods alone, but a closing out sale, and we will offer at Bargain Prices the Whole Stock, worth over $10,000, composed of the following:

Thousands of yards Dress Goods,
Thousands of yards Ribbon,
Thousands of yards Print,
Thousands of yards Cotton,
Thousands of yards Cotton Shirting,
Hundreds of yards Carpet,
Hunreds of yards Cashmere,
Hundreds of yards Velvets and Plushes,
Hundreds of yards Silks and Satins,
Hundreds of yards Cretonne,
Hundreds of yards Flannel,
Hundreds of yards Sheeting,

And a large stock of Woollen Goods, Muslins, Laces, Embroideries, Gloves, Hosiery and Small Wares.

TERMS STRICTLY CASH. Come and satisfy yourself that this is Peterborough's Biggest Closing Out Sale. w5-d

W. W. Johnston & Co.

CRYSTAL BLOCK.

STAPLE DEPARTMENT.

Tickings, Sheetings, Towellings,
Table Linens, Grey Cottons,
White Cottons, Shirtings,
Cottonades, Prints, Ginghams, &c.

THESE GOODS WE OFFER AT CLOSE CASH PRICES.

H. S. GRIFFIN & CO.

Midland Railway of Canada.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR LOCKS LINE," Peterborough, will be received until the 15th day of February, 1887 inclusive, for the construction of works at Peterborough, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen at the office of the engineer of the Midland Division of Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Persons desirous of tendering are requested to make personal enquiry relative to the work to be done and to examine the locality.

No tender will be entertained unless on one of the printed forms, and all the conditions are complied with.

The company does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender. By order

H. BEAD,
Secretary Midland Railway.
G. T. R. Office Montreal. d26

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Raisins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skilful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE,

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d6w9

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms. TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 36. PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

BIRTH.

LEGROS.—On Thursday, Feb. 10th, the wife of CHAS. LEGROS, of a son.

DIED.

NORTON.—At St. Catherines, on Wednesday February 10th, CHAS. NORTON, eldest brother of Mrs. C. Stapleton, of this town.

HAWTHORN.—In Smith on February 9th, MARY HAWTHORN, aunt of Mr. L. Steele, aged 78 years.

PROBABILITIES.

Moderate to fresh west and northwest winds; fine and cold weather.

The First Spring Styles Just Opened

We are now in receipt of a large portion of Foreign and Domestic Goods for Spring trade, consisting of

New Embroideries,
New Insertions,
Hamburg Edgings,
Laces,
Grey Cottons,
Bleached Cottons,
Sheetings,
Shirtings,
Towellings,
Ducks,
Denims,
Cottons, etc.

Ask to see the New Circular Pillow Cotton, it is the newest thing out. We show them in all the widths.

Economy and solid satisfaction is guaranteed if you trade at

R. FAIR'S,

Sign of the Golden Lion, George Street.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE,
d104w18 Solicitor.

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

Wood and Coal.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

dâw JAMES STEVENSON.

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

For Sale or to Rent.

FOR SALE.

A LOT of Dry Birch and Oak Lumber, suitable for reflooring hall or Library. Also 2 in. Plank. E. COURTNEY. 3d35eod

STORE AND DWELLING

AT BETHANY, for sale or to let. The store in Bethany known as the Grandy store, together with the Dwelling and Lots connected therewith, will be sold at a bargain or leased on easy terms. Full particulars given on application at the Bank of Montreal, Lindsay, Peterborough or Port Hope. 2d191w

Wants.

WANTED.

A GOOD GENERAL SERVANT. Also A NURSE. No washing. Highest wages. Apply REVIEW Office. d33

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d52w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,

SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.

MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d4w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w18

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.

MONEY TO LOAN. d103w18

HATTON & WOOD,

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

E. E. WOOD, B.A. C. W. HATTON

Professional.

RICHARD B. ROGERS.

CIVIL ENGINEER, PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR, Superintending Engineer Trent Canal Works. Office Post Office Block, George Street. w23

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d41w18

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d130w26

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street, opposite St. John's Church. d123w22 1j

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w2

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anæsthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets. Peterborough. lydâw

Musical.

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipzig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipzig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence

DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE d111w6

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. lyd11

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

Educational.

CANADA'S

Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training.

$70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario.

BUSINESS CHANGE

AT

THOMAS KELLY'S.

The Whole Stock to be sold out before the 1st July next.

AT THE SIGN

OF THE

Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1887.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

To the Editor of the Review.

MR. EDITOR,—Will you kindly allow me space in the columns of your valuable paper, to ask my sisters in Christ, to unite between the hours of eight and nine p. m. in prayer for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit on the Evangelistic Services now being held in connection with the Young Men's Christian Association.

To those ladies deprived of the pleasure of attending the afternoon meetings, who feel a deep sympathy in the work, and who earnestly desire to see souls brought to rejoice in the Saviour so precious their own souls, such concerted action will surely meet with their hearty acquiescence and cheerful approval, by fervently supplicating the Throne of Grace for Pentecostal showers to descend, emboldened and encouraged by the promise of the Lord Jesus Himself, given in Mat. xviii, 19: "The time is short, laborers are few, and souls are perishing." "Let him know that he who converth a sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death and shall hide a multitude of sins."—James, v, 20.

Yours, &c.,
A SISTER IN CHRIST.

LINDSAY.

THE RAILWAY DISASTER.—In the recent terrible railway disaster in Vermont were a sister and a cousin of our esteemed townsman Mr. Sadler, of Sadler, Dundass & Co. Mrs. Sadler had both her ankles broken in being extricated from the ruins, but is likely to recover.—Warder.

SALVATIONISTS SENT TO GAOL.—The adjourned trial of the Salvation Army was held on Friday of last week. The following were fined $2 and costs $2.25: Robert Lindsay, Edgar Hepburn, Lillie May, Jennie Menzies, Bertha Smith, Lizzie Wood and Lillie May on a second charge of loitering on the street were each fined $5 and costs. All but one was committed in default of payment.—Post.

Old Liberals.

The old Liberal is, too, a firm beleiver in confederation and a staunch upholder of the law. He is disgusted to see men adopting the Liberal name and professing to hold Liberal principles who oppose the Conservative Government almost solely upon the ground that it allowed the sentence of the law to be carried out against a flagrant violator of the laws of the land and an open enemy of the Dominion. When he finds men calling themselves Liberals fraternizing with the secessionists of Nova Scotia, and when he sees the leader of the Liberal party so anxious to secure the votes of these secessionists that he will not say a word in reprobation of their disloyal and unpatriotic agitation, and when he looks around him and sees what singular and discordant elements the Liberal party he was once so proud to belong to is composed, no one need wonder if he makes up his mind no longer to act in concert with men in whom he sees so much to disapprove and even to condemn. He finds that the substance of Liberalism has disappeared, and he can see no reason why he should fight for its shadow.—Montreal Star (Indep.)

Turnbull is showing a fine assortment of new grey dress goods from the light silver to the dark Oxford shades.

EMPEROR OF MILLIONS.

The Ruler of China Takes the Reins of Government into his Hands.

Advices from Pekin say that the Emperor has assumed the Government.

Small-pox carried off Tungche, the late Emperor of China, at the age of eighteen, on January 12th, 1875. It is the custom in China for the sovereign to appoint his successor from the members of his family of a younger generation than his own. This Tungche had neglected to do. The widow of his predecessor, Hung-fang, joined with Prince Ch'un, her brother-in-law, and brought about the election of Tsai-tien, the son of Prince Ch'un, as emperor, and for the first time in the annals of the T'sing dynasty the succession to the throne passed out of the direct line. The dowager Empress herself became regent. She was a woman of great tack and skill, and had been regent after the death of her husband during the minority of Tung-che.

Tsai-tien, who succeeded under the title of Kwangsen, or "Succession of Glory," is the ninth Emperor of China of the Tartar dynasty of T'sing, which succeeded the native dynasty in the year 1644. The surname of the family is Gioro, that is golden—and according to tradition, was given to their first ancestral chief, Aisin Gioro, because he was the son of a divine virgin. About the year 1130 the tribe of Tartars to which the family belonged drove out the native rulers and occupied the Northern Provinces of China. Pekin was their capital for many years, and in the course of time the present T'sing dynasty of emperors was founded by them. The word "T'sing," which means pure, was adopted as a surname to signify what would be the character of the administration which they set up.

Tsai-tien was born on the 15th of August, 1871. He was therefore a little more than three years of age when he was carried, "Cross and sleepy as he was," into the presence of the conclave of Manchu Princesses and the Dowager Empress and the Empress Mother, who met in one of the secret chambers of the palace, and there solemly declared Tsai-tien as the Hwangti.

The Emperor was vaccinated when an infant, before his high destiny was thought of; otherwise it would have been difficult to vaccinate him, for, his person being sacred when Emperor, no lancet can touch him. His mother, the Princess of Ch'un who is a sister of the Empress of the West, was raised to the rank of Empress Dowager when he became sixteen, and his father was made T'ai Shang Huang. On the 18th of April, 1881, the Empress Dowager died, leaving the principal governing authority in the hands of her colleague, the Empress mother Tsze An, by whom the regency has been conducted up to the present time.

Under the tender care of his instructors the Emperor learned the noble art of how to govern China. It was a part of his imperial training that a kohchhize, or "whipping boy," was appointed to suffer for the faults of his imperial master. In matters of pleasure the wants or wishes of the youthful ruler were not overlooked. Attention was paid to his expercises and sports.

He was married in April, 1886, to the daughter of a Mandarin named Tao-Tai, who, on celestial authority, is a great beauty. He selected her from over one hundred girls who had been gathered from all parts of China for his inspection.

BECOMING REBELLIOUS.

Intense Excitement Reported in Newfoundland.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Feb. 11.—Tremendous excitement exists here over the disallowance by the Imperial Government of the Newfoundland law prohibiting the export of bait, on the ground that the heavy investments of French fishermen in he bank fisheries will be prejudiced and irritation caused between England and France. The justice of the bill was clearly admitted by the British authorities, and they did not attempt to disguise the fact that the disallowance was through fear of new complications with France. An inspired article in the Government organ says:—

"The people learn of the disallowance with feelings of bitter indignation. The law was passed a year ago, and up to the present moment there was no reason to believe that the royal assent would be withheld. The reason given for disallowance is a mere subterfuge. Had the law been assented to—as in justice to Newfoundland it shoul have been a year ago, when it was sent to the Imperial authorities—the paltry grounds of disallowance would not now have existed. It is a significant fact that no such humiliating vacillation prevailed with regard to the royal assent given to the canadian bait bill running concurrently with ours and having similar objects in view. What tender regard we have here evinced by Imperial rulers for French susceptibilities and French commerce, and what utter disregard for British colonial interests does this episode affords! * * The Imperial Government has already admitted the justice of our cause by granting to Canada what she refuses to Newfoundland. The Mother Country is in justice and humanity bound to maintain the fishermen of Newfoundland on an equal footing with foreigners, by granting a bounty equal to that of France, or providing means for replacing a great industry sacrificed at the shrine of Imperial expediency. It is somewhat remarkable that so much sympathy should be shown for French commerce by our Imperial rulers and so little for the millions of British capital invested in Newfoundland fisheries. Let the Legislature be immediately summoned and the law be re-enacted. We must firmly tell the Government and Parliament of Great Britain that the measure is vital to our interests, as the existence of our people is involved in the preservation and control of our bait fisheries. The Government and people of Canada will sustain us in insisting on controlling the export of bait, and they will not see us sacrificed to French interests."

A Prospect's Ill Luck.

Comstock, the discoverer of the rich Comstock lode, which has made millionaires of a half dozen Californians and broken down gamblers of as many thousands, lies buried in the outskirts of Bozeman, M T. He discovered five of the richest silver mines in Nevada, yet he sold his property for a trifle, and, like most prospectors, he lives a life of exposure and hardship, and died in extreme proverty.—Boston Budget.

We do not sound a needless alarm when we tell you that a taint of scrofula is in your blood. Inherited or acquired, it is there, and Ayer's Sarsaparilla alone will effectually eradicate it.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

THE MAN FOR MAINE.

It is pretty certain that a change of Government will bring with it a modification of the fisheries policy of the Dominion. Should Mr. Blake become premier in place of Sir John A. Macdonald he would be morally certain to repress the piratical instincts of the Quinglcys and the unjust discrimination of Canadian customs officials when he found himself faced by the operation of the Edmunds retaliation bill.—Boston Traveller.

LEARNING A LESSON.

So eminent an authority as Mr. Jacoby, M.P., recently admitted in public that owing to the foreign duties it is more profitable to send Nottingham machinery abroad and work them there than to continue working them at home. The lace machine makers report that their best orders are now received from St. Pierre les Calais and Saxony, whence the lace made on Nottingham machines are sent to this country to compete with those goods produced at home.—London (England) Times.

A REVENUE TARIFF.

A revenue tariff means a tariff whose object is to encourage the importation of goods made in foreign countries, and discourage the manufacture at home; and a tariff placed sufficiently low to admit of the importation of goods made in foreign countries will be a far more productive one for revenue than one placed so high as to stop importation, and cause home production. How, then, can any advocate of protection to home industries look with favor or toleration on a "revenue tariff," or be misled by the absurdity of "incidental protection."—Canadian Manufacturer.

GOOD FOR THE FARMERS.

The whole history of our tariff legislation proves that every tariff law that has been enacted since the Government was established which has ignored the Protective feature has told as quickly and disastrously upon the farmers as upon any other class. Their interests are best subserved by the establishment of other prosperous home industries, by profitable manufacturing, by successful commerce, by the exchange of commodities, by sound banking, and by all the other means that give men and women employment in other pursuits and keep good the home market.—Chicago Journal.

THE MINE GHOST.

A Mysterious Guardian of a Rich Lead Near Grant's Old Home.

The excitement which prevailed last fall among miners in the vicinity of Pilot Knob, near the city, over the alleged supernatural manifestations in one of the numerous drifts in that locality, has been revived in a measure by stories of the appearance of a genuine spectre in a deserted shaft not far from the foot of the Knob, and on ground said to be prolific of ghosts in human and other shapes, in times gone past. The apparition or ghost, as it is termed, was first seen by a miner named Devoy, who had entered the old shaft for the purpose of prospecting for a lead which is supposed to exist in that particular locality and which was overlooked by former prospectors.

Mr. Devoy said: "I was working by myself in an east-and-west drift when I was suddenly attracted by the sound of a pick being struck into the ground near by. I at first imagined it to be the echoes from the implement I was using, but in glancing in the direction the noise came from I was amazed at seeing a man working like myself about 50 feet away in a crevice or cave, which was illuminated by a small lamp such as are used by coal miners, which was affixed to the front of his hat. I watched the man for a moment, and supposing that he was likewise engaged in prospecting for ore, I laid down my pick and advanced toward the spot where he seemed to be industriously working. As I neared my industrious companion, the light of lamp began to grow dim, also his figure, and on reaching the place I was still further astonished at seeing both man and light fade away entirely, leaving nothing to indicate his presence save a freshly dug hole in the floor of the crevice, which was barely discernable in the reflection cast by my tallow candle burning fifty feet away. I returned to the spot I had left, and picking up my candle retraced my steps and thoroughly explored the crevice, which was not large and had no opening beyond; but the man had disappeared from the drift, leaving no track or trace of his whereabouts. A rusty pick with a rotten handle lay on a pile of dirt thrown up from the hole or excavation. I had never been a believer in the supernatural, and had always imagined myself as courageous as the generality of men, but both my belief and my bravery at that time underwent a sudden change. I fully realized the fact that what I had seen was the veritable appearance of a man, and not a creature of my imagination, and I began to tremble with fright and make haste to quit the mine, barely being able to climb the ladder leading out of the shaft, owing to my diminished strength.

"That afternoon, in company with two plucky fellow miners, I re-entered the drift with the view of ascertaining whether or no my mysterious companion of two or three hours previous would again put in an appearance, and was rewarded by seeing him at work, in the same manner as before, throwing out dirt from the excavation in the crevice I have mentioned. My friends saw the apparition, too, distinctly, and as we advanced the sound of the pick ceased, the light faded away and the spirit miner faded from view. One of my friends, an old resident of the locality, recognized the apparition as that of a miner who had worked many years in the same digging, firm in the conviction that he would some day strike a rich lead that would repay him for all his labor. He was finally missed for several days by his fellow miners of the neighborhood, and on searching the drift in which he had been known to be working, his dead body was found on the very spot where dis apparition had appeared to myself and friends."

Some days ago, according to reports from Pilot Knob, a large vein of the mineral was discovered a few feet below the excavation alleged to have been made by spirit hands. Later accounts are to the effect that the ghostly miner was standing sentinel over the spot, and that no one could be found with sufficient courage to drive him from his position. Superstition is growing in the locality, and it is not likely that the valueless mine will ever be worked.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Have you seen Turnbull's 6½ cent fancy check wincey? If not you are missing a bargain.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

A FORTUNATE MAN.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Sir Charles Dilke has been left by a wealthy cousin the sum of £140,000. The cousin believed Sir Charles to be an innocent man, and changed his will in his favour after the trial.

DRAFTING A BILL.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Mr. Parnell is drafting a bill to extend the benefits of the Land Act to glebe tenants and holders in town parks, as well as lease-holders.

THE RUSSIAN FLEET.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 11.—The Russian Mediterranean fleet has been ordered to rendezvous in Japanese waters, where Russia intends at the earliest possible moment to assemble a considerable squadron.

THE POPE AS ARBITRATOR.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 11.—The proposition which has been put forward that the Pope shall be accepted as arbiter in the Bulgarian dispute is strongly opposed by Russia.

TREVELYAN WANTED.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Hon. Geo. O. Treveylan has been sounded by the Liberal-Unionists with a view of finding out if he will consent to stand as their parliamentary candidate.

THE JUBILEE.

CALCUTTA, Feb. 10.—The Mohammedans will celebrate the Queen's Jubilee in their Mosques throughout India with special prayers for the stability and welfare of the Empire.

THE BULGARIAN QUESTION.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The publication of the British blue book on Bulgaria supplies an interesting official narrative of the events connected with Prince Alexander's downfall, the military conspiracy against him, and Russian intrigues. The English despatches confirm Lord Salisbury's express denial of the charges which the Russian organ in London sums under the name of "Battenbergism." The Pall Mall Gazette nevertheless, faithful to the end in its Muscovite role, renews its attack, and places together bits of despatches with headlines and summaries of its own, and insists that the blue book "literally reeks with Battenbergism." Russia-mania in that journal goes even to the length of imputations on the Queen. The Daily News, which cannot be suspected of partiality for the present Ministry, states the truth in honestly saying that the Salisbury Government is entitled to a large share of the credit of having saved the Bulgarian people from the tyranny of Russia.

ON A NEW TACK.

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—The Berlin Post's warlike Paris article having fallen flat, that paper now reproves the Centre party for its "sinful pride" in rebelling against the Pope's decree.

THE FRENCH MILITARY BILL.

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—The National Gazette attributes the conduct of the French Chamber of Deputies, in postponing the debat on the French Military bill, to a desire to defer discussing military matters until after the German elections.

THE AMENDMENT DEFEATED.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—Mr. Parnell's amendment was defeated by a vote of 352 to 246.

STATE-AIDED COLONIZATION.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—There was a large meeting to-day, attended by members of both Houses, in favor of State-aided colonization. Lord Brabazon desired that the Government should guarantee £2,000,000 to colonize 10,000 famalies, the money to be raised in open market with a guarantee. A committee of members of both Houses was formed to consider the best means of bringing the question before Parliament.

WHY FRANCE HOLDS BACK.

VIENNA, Feb. 11.—The Neue Freie Presse says in a recent interview a French Statesman said, "France will not commence hostilities because of the belief, perhaps superstition, existing throughout the country that the power which begins the next war will be defeated."

MORE RUSSIAN INTRIGUE.

MOSCOW, Feb. 11.—M. Katkoff is organising a monster petition to the Czar to subjugate Bulgaria, Servia and all the Christian provinces in Eastern Europe.

WATERED with dew of good intention, warmed by the sunshine of Fair dealing the dollar you bring us will grow and expand to colossal proportions. R. FAIR.

THE CASE DIDN'T COME OFF.

A Trip to Watertown After Counterfeit Goods—A Sorrowful Discovery.

Some time ago a hotel keeper at a village on the K. & P. R. learned that there was bogus money for sale at New York. He told his brother-in-law they held a meeting and decided to purchase some of the "dust." Each man subscribed $60. The money was sent to the New York firm, supposed to be handling the counterfeit article. Later the hotel keeper was notified that his money had been received, and that a package containing several thousand dollars would, on a certain day, arrive by express at Watertown. The members of the syndicate went to Watertown and received the package. It was very bulky. "There's lots of boodle in this package," said the man who lugged it to a private room in a hotel. Then they quietly unrolled the brown paper which concealed the prize. They soon came to the heart of the package, and one can imagine their feelings when they found three or four pounds of coal, and a lot of old railway tickets. The men returned home quite crestfallen. One of the trio intended to have sued the hotelkeeper for $60 he had advanced, but he changed his mind. The case was to have been tried at the division court yesterday, but was withdrawn.—Kingston Whig.

Mme. Sembrich does the principal singing for the emperor and empress of Germany. The berth is a good one.

Devices of Advertisers.

So many devices are resorted to by advertisers, that the ordinary reader sometimes become shy of the tempting paragraph, fearing the advice that is concealed in it like a pill in jelly. Who, for instance, on beginning this item, would have supposed that its purpose was to make known the truth that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is what it claims to be—a cure for a disease at once loathsome to friends, and annoying and even dangerous to the sufferer.

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1887.

THEIR TARIFF POLICIES.

If Mr. Blake goes on much longer framing his tariff policy he will excite the envy of those versatile performers who represent half a dozen different characters on the stage in as many minutes. Less than a year ago he was denouncing the N. P., root and branch, and such must be taken to have been his attitude at the beginning of this contest. When he entered upon the campaign, however, he found that the people of Canada were squarely opposed to him on this question, so he began to explain very diplomatically that he now saw that his long continued antipathy to the N. P. was a mistake, that it was too good a measure for him to repeal if he were placed in office, and that nobody need be afraid of his interfering with it except as to those iniquitous taxes on fuel and breadstuffs, which with righteous indignation he would sweep away, and as to some points of less importance, where he would modify the tariff. Presently, however, he got more light and in the very thick of the fight he declared that the iniquitous taxes on fuel and breadstuffs were not so bad after all, that he would not think of repealing them, but that he had an idea that he would like to reduce them, retaining the principle, but just making a little change in detail. Whether this is the latest phase of Mr. Blake's versatile and bewildering manifestations in regard to a tariff policy we are by no means sure, for it is hard to keep track of his rapid changes. At all events it was his policy last week, and may be this week as far as we know.

We are not alone in being puzzled, for even Mr. Blake's own lieutenants seem unable to follow his changes, and are contradicting each other in the wildest confusion. Some are still denouncing the N. P. in every aspect, terming its advocates knaves, the manufacturers and operatives robbers, and the people foolish dupes to believe in it. Others again are professing a new born love for the N. P., maintaining indeed that they are its real friends, and, therefore, ought to be placed in office, while those terrible Tories only pretend to believe in it, because they were lucky enough to forsee that it would be so popular with the great body of Canadians. Others again, deeper in Mr. Blake's confidence, or quicker to "catch on to the racket," are saying that they could not and would not make great changes in the tariff, but are suggesting "modifications" to make it perfect, suiting their proposed changes to the particular audience. The candy maker is to get free sugar, the refiner is not to be disturbed. The manufacturer is still to have protection, the purchaser is to have the tariff equalized. The towns people are to have untaxed breadstuffs, the farmers are only to have the taxes reduced. And so the thimble rigging game goes on. Their speakers even contradict each other on the same platform.

And there is the same confusion among the Grit organs. One denounces the N. P. as violently as ever, another professes the most abject admiration for it. One assures the manufacturers and operatives that the Reformers are their best friends, another threatens them with Mr. Blake's vengeance if he obtains power, because they will not support him. If they come to details they contradict each other—and themselves.

There is only one thing on which they are all agreed, that the people ought to entrust them with power because their tariff policy is so excellent and that of the wicked Tories so bad.

The people cannot be persuaded to see it in that light, and feel that they can trust the Conservatives, while Mr. Blake and his friends with their policy of shreds and patches can win the confidence of no thoughtful man.

THE "SPEECH FROM THE THRONE."

The Ontario "Speech from the Throne" is not a very startling document, or one calling for much comment.

As usual it begins with an indecorous parade of hostility to the Dominion, as if it were a foreign country with which the people of Ontario were on bad terms. There is a doleful whine because Mr. Mowat could not induce the Ottawa authorities to thwart Provincial legislation as to factories, though we can imagine what a valiant defiance would have been trumpeted forth in this very speech if the Dominion Administration had invaded the Provincial jurisdiction in this matter. Mr. Mowat makes still plainer that his ruse was to tempt the Dominion authorities into a position adverse to the Province, in order to have an excuse for raging against them; that his Factory Act, which he has so long delayed putting in force, was designed as a trap for his political opponents, not as a measure to benefit the factory operatives.

We have no fault to find with Mr. Mowat for his very scanty programme of new legislation, as we think that he is acting wisely in abstaining from his usual policy of perpetual meddling and tinkering, till even a lawyer could not tell what the law was, so incessant were the changes.

For one measure foreshadowed the mechanics may thank the Conservatives. They reversed Mr. Mackenzie's policy of letting out prison labor by contracts, and now their earnest protests against Mr. Mowat's practice of forcing this unfair competition upon honest workingmen, has scared the Attorney-General into abandoning this act injustice.

The consolidation of the statutes if faithfully performed should be a useful work, but we are told of amendments having been "embraced," and a very careful watch should be kept that important changes are not allowed to slip through, their significance not being scrutinized in the voluminous mass of such a measure, as closely as they would be considered in a bill by themselves. We have had some experience of Mr. Mowat in this manœuvre, and should be forearmed.

It is now admitted that Mr. Mowat has let contracts for the new public buildings in defiance of the directions of the late legislature for sums exceeding what he was authorized to expend. It is true he has made them subject to the approval of the new Legislature, but if his supporters are of the same calibre as before, this is a mere farce, as they will merely registrar his decrees. It looks very like a dodge to commit the country to an expenditure in Toronto far in excess of the amount it was prepared to sanction, or that it would have sanctioned had not the truth been designedly kept back.

It is satisfactory to learn that the expenditure has been less than the estimates. It is to be hoped that this is not only an apparent saving, a mere cooking of the accounts as in previous instances by holding over large expenditures for the accounts of this year, which ought to appear in those of last year.

REMEMBER THESE FACTS.

The public debt increased more rapidly under Grit rule than it has under Conservative rule.

Taxation for governmental purposes was heavier under Grit rule than it has been under Conservative rule.

The credit of the Dominion is now better by 18 per cent. than it was in 1878.

The rate of interest on the public debt has been much lowered under Conservative rule.

Public works have been constructed more rapidly under Conservative rule than under Grit rule.

All Canadian industries are more active under Conservative rule than they were under Grit rule.

Wages are higher under Conservative rule than they were under Grit rule.

Prices of manufactured goods are lower under Conservative rule than they were under Grit rule.—Hamilton Spectator.

We cannot quite understand the Globe's theory as to the proper treatment of insanity. It says that Riel was insane, and holds that he ought to have been encouraged and privileged as a rebal leader. It says that Sir John Macdonald is insane and argues that he should be deposed from the premiership of Canada. It says that Mr. Dalton Macarthy is insand, and concludes that he should not be re-elected as a member of parliament. The only theory we can form from the Globe's cases is that insanity is praiseworthy in a Grit, and very wicked in a Conservative. Perhaps however the Globe may favour us with further instances, so as to afford more light on this point.

The Globe has a laboured argument to prove it right to adjourn the Provincial Legislature to afford the members an opportunity of taking part in the Dominion elections It treats the government of Canada as a public enemy. This merely betokens the Grit enmity to Confederation and to Conservatives. It is quite manifest that a change of administration at Ottawa would be of no advantage even as regards questions between the Province and the Dominion, for when Mr. Blake was in office he was far more favourable to centralization than Sir. John Macdonald.

There is a French proverb about the inventor of great powder. If Mr. G. A. Cox did not invent powder we are taught to believe that he is at least a discoverer of plate glass.

Canadian Coal.

The Canadian Government recently caused to be published a statement showing the production of coal in that country under the protective policy of Sir John Macdonald, as compared with that under the unprotected policy of the Mackenzie Government. The two periods are classed as those between 1874 and 1878 (unprotected) and 1880 and 1885 (protected). The results are shown in the following figures:—

Sales, in tons—	1874-8.	1880-5.
Total sales	3,480,705	7,058,585
Sold to United States	967,980	567,940
Sold to other countries	411,530	584,205
Sold within Dominion	2,401,495	5,901,399
	Av. per annum.	Av. per annum.
Total sales	696,141	1,175,589
Sold to United States	193,596	97,989
Sold to other countries	82,306	94,034
Sold within Dominion	480,399	983,566

It will be seen by these figures that the total sales in the protected over the unprotected period increased 68.87 per cent., and the increase of sales within the Dominion was 101.30 per cent. It is represented that 25,000 people are employed in the coal industry alone in Nova Scotia. These figures are very encouraging to the advocates of protective tariffs in Canada, and tend not a little to strengthen the position of protectionists in the United States.—Chicago Industrial World.

Col. Tyrwhitt's Accident.

Sutton, Feb. 10.—The Conservative candidate for North York had a narrow escape this evening. Col. Tyrwhitt and Messrs. Dalton McCarthy, Q.C. Jno. B. Bourchier and J.R. Stevenson were driving on the ice from Lefroy to Sutton. Owing to the darkness they drove into a crack, the horses broke through, and had it not been for the promptness and presence of mind of Col. Tyrwhitt North York might have had to select another candidate. As it was the only damage done was to the colonel, who got rather bruised by the plunging of the horse, but a through wetting made the whole party uncomfortable.

Longest Tunnel in the World.

This tubnel, or adit, as it should be more strictly termed, is at Schemnitz, in Hungary. Its construction was agreed upon in 1782, the object being to carry off the water from the Schemnitz mines to the lowest part of the Gran Valley. The work is now complete, and it forms the longest tunnel in the world, being 10.37 miles long, or about one mile longer than St. Gothard, and two and a half miles longer than Mont Cenis. The height is 9 feet 10 inches and the breadth 5 feet 8 inches. This tunnel, which has taken so long in making, has cost very nearly a million sterling.—London Engineering.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS:

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

THE NATIONAL POLICY.

Air—"Woodman, Spare that Tree."

I am your young Dominion, I'm supple to your will,
And only train me well my mission I shall fulfil;
I'm just a baby yet, I'm like the young sapling tree,
Pray give me your protection, a mother's love to me.

I am your young Dominion, my lands are great, I claim;
Oh, give me your protection, make me worthy of my name,
And when my population is hundreds of millions strong
I'll ring my voice in praises of the hero of my song.

I am your young Dominion, protect me with all your might;
I've enemies amongst you, may God give them more light.
I would rather not mention names, for fear of further strife,
But Mowat and Blake, and no mistake, they mean to take my life.

There is a man amongst you, he loves me most sincere;
He has nursed me in my infancy, and guarded me with fear;
He has girded me with iron that reaches from sea to sea,
He has given to me, to make me strong, the National Policy.

I am your young Dominion, my wealth is in my land;
Oh, give me your protection, I'll grow to be a man;
And when I am a great man, I'll work hard every day,
I'll strive to be the greatest man in all America.

I am your young Dominion, I can't stop my plaintive moan
Until I pour my affection more, on my best friend Sir John.
Oh, if it was ordained that he always with me stay,
I'd grow to be the greatest man in all America.

JOHN BELL,
Peterborough.
Author of the "Poems of Peterborough."

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we life in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health, but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. d90

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

PIANOS

HEINTZMAN & CO'S.

This Celebrated maker's Pianos are in use in the following private residences in Peterborough:

Geo. Edmison,	F. A. Rubidge,
E. Pearse,	Miss Delaney,
J. E. Hammond,	J. Stewart,
D. Faucher,	W. H. Hill,
Robt. Miller,	Rev. V. Clementi,
D. Ullyott,	E. C. Hill,
Chas. Cameron,	W. Walsh,
G. W. Morgan,	W. Snowden,
W. Sanderson,	T. G. Hazlitt,
The Convent,	Miss Calcutt,
J. Hall,	Miss Spillsbury,
Bannell Sawyer,	W. Bradburn,
Mrs. Jas. Campbell,	R. Fair,
J. J. McBain,	Mrs. Chambers,
Geo. Dunsford,	W. B. Ferguson,
Mrs. Allen,	Miss A. Edmundson,
Wm. Tate,	W. R. Greatrex,
W. Fairweather,	R. B. McKee,
	and others.

Intending purchasers should not fail to inspect the Heintzman & Co's Pianos (no connection with the Gerrard Heintzman or Lansdowne Piano, of Toronto) at my Music Store, Hunter Street, East.

E. J. HARTLEY.

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. S. WALKER, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

Midland Railway of Canada.

NOTICE
TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR LOCKS LINE," Peterborough, will be received until the 15th day of February, 1887 inclusive, for the construction of works at Peterborough, Ontario, according to a plan and specification to be seen at the office of the engineer of the Midland Division of Grand Trunk Railway, Peterborough, where printed forms of tender can be obtained.

Persons desirous of tendering are requested to make personal enquiry relative to the work to be done and to examine the locality.

No tender will be entertained unless on one of the printed forms, and all the conditions are complied with.

The company does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender. By order

H. READ,
Secretary Midland Railway.
G. T. R. Office Montreal. d26

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GOROON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Raisins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 25 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY

JOHN NUGENT

Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont.
FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 39 Maryland Road, Harrow Road, London, England (Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)

No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d12eodw6

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE,

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d4w6

PURE UNADULTERATED

TEAS AND COFFEES

CHEAPER THAN EVER, AT

HAWLEY BROS

The People's Tea Store, Hunter Street, East.

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

BY HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

"You see now," he said, "how right I was in attributing all this to Ralph Carriston—how right I was to come to you, a doctor of standing, who can vouch for my sanity."

"Vouch for your sanity! How can I when you sit here and talk such arrant nonsense, and expect me to believe it? When you jump from your chair and rush madly at some visionary foe? Sane as you may be in all else, any evidence I could give in your favor must break down in cross-examination if an inkling of these things got about. Come, Carriston, be reasonable, and prove your sanity by setting about this search for Miss R wan in a proper way."

He made no reply, but walked up and down the room apparently in deep thought. My words seemed to have had no effect upon him. Presently he seated himself; and, as if to avoid returning to the argument, drew a book at hazard from my shelves and began to read. He opened the volume at random, but after reading a few lines seemed struck by something that met his eyes, and in a few minutes was deeply immersed in the contents of the book. I glanced at it to see what had so awakened his interest. By a curious fatality he had chosen a book the very worst for him in his present frame of mind—Gilchrist's recently published life of William Blake, that masterly memoir of a man who was on certain points as mad as Carriston himself. I was about to remonstrate, when he laid down the volume and turned to me.

"Varley, the painter," he said, "was a firm believer in Blake's visions."

"Varley was a bigger fool than Blake," I retorted. "Fancy his sitting down and watching his clever but mad friend draw spectral heads and believing them to be genuine portraits of dead kings whose forms condescended to appear to Blake!"

A sudden thought seemed to strike Carriston. "Will you give me some paper and chalk?" he asked. Upon being furnished with these materials he seated himself at the table and began to draw. At least a dozen times he sketched, with his usual rapidity, some object or another, and a dozen times, after a moment's consideration, threw each sketch aside with an air of disappointment, and began a fresh one. At last one of his attempts seemed to come up to his requirements. "I have it now, exactly!" he cried, with joy, even triumph, in his voice. He spent some time in putting finishing touches to the successful sketch, then he handed me the paper.

"That is the man I saw just now with Madeline," he said. "When I find him, I shall find her." He spoke with all sincerity and conviction. I looked at the paper with, I am bound to say, a great amount of curiosity.

No matter from what visionary source Carriston had derived his inspiration, his sketch was vigorous and natural enough. I have already mentioned his wonderful power of drawing portraits from memory, so was willing to grant that he might have reproduced the outline of some face which had somewhere struck him. Yet why should it have been this one? His drawing represented the three-quarter face of a man—an ordinary man—apparently between 40 and 50 years of age. It was a coarse-featured, ill-favored face, with a ragged ruff of hair round the chin. It was not the face of a gentleman, nor even the face of a gently nurtured man, and the artist, by a few cunning strokes, had made it wear a crafty and sullen look. The sketch, as I write this, lies before me, so that I am not speaking from memory.

Now there are some portraits of which, without having seen the original, we say, "What splendid likenesses these must be!" It was so with Carriston's sketch. Looking at it you felt sure it was exactly like the man whom it was intended to represent. So that, with the certain amount of art knowledge which I am at least supposed to possess, it was hard for me, after examining the drawing and recognizing the true artist's touch in every line, to bring myself to accept the fact that it was but the outcome of a diseased imagination. As at this very moment I glance at that drawing I scarcely blame myself for the question that faintly frames itself in my innermost heart. "Could it be possible—could there be in certain organizations powers not yet known, not yet properly investigated?"

My thought—supposing such a thought was ever there—was not discouraged by Carriston, who, speaking as if his faith in the bodily existence of the man whose portrait lay in my hand was unassailable, said:

"I noticed that his general appearance was that of a countryman, an English peasant, so in the country I shall find my love. Moreover, it will be easy to identify the man, as the top joint is missing from the middle finger of his right hand. As it lay on Madeline's arm I noticed that."

I argued with him no more. I felt that words would be but wasted.

CHAPTER IX.

A day or two after I had witnessed what I must call Carriston's second seizure we were favored with a visit from the man whose services we had secured to trace Madeline. Since he had received his instructions we had heard nothing of his proceedings until he now called to report progress in person. Carriston had not expressed the slightest curiosity as to where the man was or what he was about. Probably he looked upon the employment of this private detective as nothing more useful than a salve to my conscience. That Madeline was only to be found through the power which he professed to hold of seeing her in his visions was, I felt certain, becoming a rooted belief of his. Whenever I expressed my surprise that our agent had brought or sent no information, Carriston shrugged his shoulders and assured me that from the first he knew the man's researches would be fruitless. However, the fellow had called at last, and, I hoped, had brought us good news.

He was a glib-tongued man, who spoke in a confident, matter-of-fact way. When he saw us he rubbed his hands as one who had brought affairs to a successful issue and now meant to reap praise and other rewards. His whole bearing told me he had made an important discovery; so I begged him to be seated and give us his news.

Carriston gave him a careless glance and at some little distance from us. He looked as if he thought the impending communication scarcely worth the trouble of listening to. He might, indeed, from his looks have been the most disinterested person of the three. He even left me to do the questioning.

"Now, then, Mr. Sharpe," I said, "let us hear if you have earned your money."

"I think so, sir," replied Sharpe, looking curiously at Carriston, who, strange to say, heard this answer with supreme indifference.

"I think I may say I have, sir," continued the detective, "that is if the gentleman can identify these articles as being the young lady's property."

Thereupon he produced from a thick letter case a ribbon, in which was stuck a silver pin, mounted with Scotch pebbles, an ornament that I remembered having seen Madeline wear. Mr. Sharpe handed them to Carriston. He examined them, and I saw his cheeks flush and his eyes grow bright.

"How did you come by this?" he cried, pointing to the silver ornament.

"I'll tell you presently, sir. Do you recognise it?"

"I gave it to Miss Rowan myself."

"Then we are on the right track," I cried, joyfully. "Go on, Mr. Sharpe."

"Yes, gentlemen, we are certainly on the right track; but, after all, it isn't my fault if the track don't lead exactly where you wish. You see, when I heard of this mysterious disappearance of the lady I began to concoct my own theory. I said to myself, when a young and beautiful——"

"Confound your theories!" cried Carriston, fiercely. "Go on with your tale."

The man gave his interrupter a spiteful glance.

"Well, sir," he said, "as you gave me strict instructions to watch a certain gentleman closely, I obeyed those instructions, of course, although I knew I was on a fool's errand."

"Will you go on?" cried Carriston. "If you know where Miss Rowan is, say so; your money will be paid you the moment I find her."

"I don't say I know exactly where to find the lady, but I can soon know if you wish me to."

"Tell your tale your own way, but as shortly as possible," I said, seeing that my excitable friend was preparing for another outburst.

"I found there was nothing to be gained by keeping watch on the gentleman you mentioned, sir, so I went to Scotland and tried back from there. As soon as I worked on my own lay I found out all about it. The lady went from Callendar to Edinburgh, from Edinburgh to London, from London to Folkestone, and from Folkestone to Boulong."

I glanced at Carriston. All his calmness seemed to have returned. He was leaning against the mantelpiece, and appeared quite unmoved by Mr. Sharpe's clear statement as to the route Madeline had taken.

"Of course," continued Mr. Sharpe, "I was not quite certain I was tracking the right person, although her description corresponded with the likeness you gave me. But as you are sure this article of jewelry belonged to the lady you want, the matter is beyond a doubt."

"I said," seeing that Carriston had no intention of speaking. "Where did you find it?"

"It was left behind in a bedroom of one of the principal hotels in Folkestone. I did go over to Boulong, but after that I thought I had learned all you would care to know."

There was something in the man's manner which made me dread what was coming. Again I looked at Carriston. His lips were curved with contempt, but he still kept silence.

"Why not have pursued your inquiries past Boulong?" I asked.

"For this reason, sir. I had learned enough. The theory I had concocted was the right one, after all. The lady went to Edinburgh alone, right enough; but she didn't leave Edinburgh alone; nor she didn't leave London alone; nor she didn't stay at Folkestone—where I found the pin—alone; nor she didn't go to Boulong alone. She was accompanied by a young gentleman who called himself Mr. Smith; and, what's more, she called herself Mrs. Smith. Perhaps she was, as they lived like man and wife."

"Whether the fellow was right or mistaken, this explanation of Madeline's disappearance seemed to give me what I can only compare to a smack in the face. I stared at the speaker in speechless astonishment. If the tale he told so glibly and circumstantially was true, farewell, so far as I was concerned, to belief in the love or purity of women. Madeline Rowan, that creature of a poet's dream, on the eve of her marriage with Charles Carriston, to fly, whether wed or unwed mattered little, with another man! And yet she was but a woman. Carriston—or Carr, as she only knew him—was in her eyes poor. The companion of her flight might have won her with gold. Such things have been. Still——

My rapid and wrongful meditations were cut short in an unexpected way. Suddenly I saw Mr. Sharpe dragged bodily out of his chair and flung against the wall, while Carriston, standing over him, thrashed the man vigorously with his own ash stick—a convenient weapon, so convenient that I felt Mr. Sharpe could not have selected a stick more appropriate for his own chastisement. So Carriston seemed to think, for he laid on cheerfully some eight or ten good cutting strokes.

Nevertheless, being a respectable doctor and man of peace, I was compelled to interfere. I held Carriston's arm, while Mr. Sharpe struggled to his feet, and after collecting his hat and his pocketbook stood glaring vengefully at his assailant, and rubbing the while such of the weals on his back as he could reach. Annoyed as I felt at the unprofessional fracas, I could scarcely help laughing at the man's appearance. I doubt the possibility of any one looking heroic after such a thrashing.

"I'll have the law for this," he growled. "I ain't paid to be beaten by a madman."

"You're paid to do my work, not another's," said Carriston. "Go to the man who has overbribed you and sent you to tell me your lies. Go to him; tell him that once more he has failed. Out of my sight!"

As Carriston showed signs of recommencing hostile operations, the man fled as far as the doorway. There, being in comparative safety, he turned with a malignant look.

"You'll smart for this," he said; "when they lock you up as a raving lunatic, I'll try and get a post as keeper."

I was glad to see that Carriston paid no attention to this parting shaft. He turned his back scornfully, and the fellow left the room and the house.

"Now are you convinced?" asked Carriston, turning to me.

"Convinced of what? That his tale is untrue, or that he has been mislead, I am quite certain."

To be continued.

THE DAILY EVENING REVIEW is delivered to subscribers at 10 cents a week.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

Restores the color, gloss, and youthful freshness of the hair; stimulates a rich and luxurious growth; thoroughly cleanses the scalp; prevents dandruff and humors; and is the most cleanly and effective preparation for the hair ever offered to the public. Rev. J. W. Davenport, Illinois Bend, Texas, writes: "Ayer's Hair Vigor, used in my family for several years, has no equal as a dressing, nor for preventing the hair from falling out or turning prematurely gray. It ranks among the first luxuries of our house." Miss Kate Rose, Ingersoll, Ontario, writes: "While keeping my head clear of dandruff, and preventing Scald Head, Ayer's Hair Vigor has also caused my hair to grow luxuriantly, resulting in my now possessing hair forty-two inches long, and as thick as could be desired." The wife of Dr. V. S. Lovelace, Lovelaceville, Ky., had very bad tetter sores upon her head, causing the hair to fall out. Ayer's Hair Vigor healed the sores, and in less than twelve months produced hair a foot long.

PREPARED BY

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

For sale by all Druggists.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR.

No More Bald Heads.

To produce a new growth of hair on bald heads, in the case of persons advanced in years, is not always possible. When the glands are decayed and gone, no stimulant can restore them; but, when they are only inactive, from the need of some excitant, the application of Ayer's Hair Vigor will renew their vitality, and a new growth will result. L. V. Templeton, Newbern, N. C., writes: "After a protracted illness, with fever, my hair all came out, leaving me entirely bald. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, before I had used all its contents, a thick growth of hair, nearly two inches long, covered my head." L. D. McJunkin, Perryville, Md., writes: "Baldness is hereditary in my family. Five years ago the hair on the top of my head was becoming weak and thin. I procured Ayer's Hair Vigor, the application of which invigorated the hair roots, and sent out a new growth of young hair. To-day my hair is as thick and vigorous as ever. I still use the Vigor occasionally to keep my scalp in a healthy condition."

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR.

MONEY TO LEND!

HAVING resigned his connection with the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Ld.,) the undersigned has made arrangements for lending an unlimited amount at SIX PER CENT, on terms more favourable than any Peterborough or Toronto Company, and will be pleased to see his many old friends with a view to making them new advances or readjusting their present Mortgages.

A. P. POUSSETTE.

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 16th

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. as CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, San Francisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md79w51

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY REVIEW IF YOU ARE WISE

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. 1yd97

R. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, R. WEBB, Peterborough. 1yd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. 1yd97

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. 1yd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 753. Residence, Bon Accord Street. 1yd97ws

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. 1yd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. 1yd97

W. FITZGERALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. 1yd97

General.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $30 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers.—Or FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 100 pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., New York.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take you LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required.

WILLIAM ARGUE,

Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods, Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse. [EXCESS] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFFECTS] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00

LADIES..... 50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG,

1d45 Manager.

CHEAP GROCERIES

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,

d39 Ashburnham

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
4 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. & O. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
10 55 p m	Toronto and West, via G. & O. R.	6 00 p m
7 40 p m		10 00 p m
8 20 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	6 00 p m
	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway	4 30 p m
5 15 p m	Millbrook and do do	6 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
4 00 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville	11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore	1 30 p m
	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Haultain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clyde
6 00 p m previous night	Pandash and Cheddar, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Elmyatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	1 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays, Wednesdays, North West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C.P.R.	7 00 p m
9 00 a m		6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire, Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbadoes, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Hamburg, Heligoland, Malta, Montenegro, Netherlands, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey.—And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamaica, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union, but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guiana, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registration fee 10 cents.

West India Islands, viâ Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents; New Zealand, viâ San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, branded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Corsetines, we warn the ladies against such imposition by directing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Low Temperature.

The Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering thermometer recorded 8 degrees below zero on Friday night.

The Domestic fashion sheet for February has arrived at Turnbull's, call and get one.

Curling.

The Granite Curling Club, of Toronto, will play a return match with the home club some day next week. Six rinks each.

The Caledonians, of Toronto, will play the Peterborough Club the week following. Five rinks each. Next.

The Second Carival.

The Fire Brigade will hold the second fancy dressed carnival on Friday March 4th and it is proposed to hold a childrens carnival on the afternoon of the same date. The children's carnival of 1885 was a success and there is no reason why the Childrens Carnival of 1887 should not be a better one. It will please the little folks and be a sight well worth witnessing.

Foresters' Anniversary Service.

The anniversary service of the Canadian Order of Foresters will be held in St. Paul's Church on Sunday, Feb. 27th. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. E. F. Torrance, and the musical service will be rendered by the choir of the church, under the direction of Prof. Parker. The proceeds of the collection will be given to the Protestant Hospital.

Lindsay's Good Opinion.

The Lindsay Post refers to the bonspell held here shortly ago, and at the same time has a kind word to say of Peterborough curlers as follows:—"We gave last week a brief report of the result of the bonspell at Peterborough, more particularly with reference to the gains and losses of the Lindsay rinks. On their return the Lindsay men were enthusiastic in praising the way they had been treated, and in particular were highly pleased with the hospitable attentions shown to all clubs alike by their hosts, the Peterborough club. The club provided lunch on both days and refreshments during the afternoon, and were most considerate in rendering any little service that visiting curlers required. It is such conduct as this that binds the bond of fellowship among curlers still tighter, and if a formal resolution well moved, ably seconded, energetically thirded and enthusiastically carried, will convey in any tangible shape the respects and compliments of the Lindsay club to their confreres of Peterborough, that resolution shall be passed before other official business is transacted. And so say all of us."

Among Turnbull's new French dress goods will be found tints of peacock blue, also the new gobelin shade in several qualities with trimmings to match.

The Churches.

The following is a list of services in the several churches to-morrow:—

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.—At St. Peter's Cathedral, Roman Catholic, there will be three masses celebrated, the first at 7 a. m. the second at 8 a. m., and the third at 10.30 a. m. Vespers at 7 p. m.

ST. LUKE'S.—The regular services at St. Luke's Church will be conducted as follows: Holy Communion at 8 a.m., morning prayer Litany and sermon at 11 a. m., evensong at 7 p. m.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.—The regular services will be conducted as follows:—Holy Communion at 8.30 a.m.; Morning Prayer, Litany and sermon at 11 a.m.; Evening Prayer and sermon at 7 p. m.

ST. PAUL'S.—The Rev. Mr. Torrance will conduct the day's services.

BAPTIST CHURCH, Murray Street.—The pulpit will be occupied by the Rev. Mr. Speller, of Ingdrsol. Mr. Speller will also preach next sunday.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.—The annual missionary services will be held at the 11 o'clock service, the Rev. J. B. Clarkson, M.A., will preach the sermon, and in the evening the Rev. L. N. Beaudry, M.A., of Montreal.

METHODIST CHURCH, Charlotte Street.—At the 11 o.clock service the Rev. L. N. Beaudry, M.A., will preach, and in the evening the Rev. J. B. Clarkson, M.A.

METHODIST CHURCH, Mark street (Ashburnham)—The Rev. Mr. Wilson will conduct the services. 11 a.m., subject, "The Imperfect Christian;" 7 p.m., subject, "The Soldier's Sick Servant."

ST. ANDREWS CHURCH.—The pastor will conducted the services as usual.

A commercial tester, we are on the top but our prices are at the bottom. See what Turnbull is showing this week in new bedroom chints and cretonnes.

THE FIREMEN'S FETE.

MR. JAMES STEVENSON CHOSEN AS THE POPULAR CANDIDATE.

The Rink Decorations—Prize Winners in Costume, and Race Competitions —Curling Contest.

The carnival given under the auspices of the Fire Brigade Band on Friday evening was largely attended by masked skaters and onlookers.

The rink was handsomely decorated for the occasion. In addition to numerous patriotic mottoes the gallery front was ornamented with firemen's rigging of different kinds, together with plates representing the gallantry of fire brigades in general in their onsets upon the flames. From side to side, and from end to end, of the gallery swung a mass of gay coloured decoration in which Union Jacks, flags of different kinds, and stretches of bunting formed conspicious parts. The skating rink was fringed all around with evergreen trees dotted with artificial rosettes. The whole looked very pretty when a hundred and fifty or more fancifully dressed skaters passed in fitful procession beneath the beams of the electric light.

One of the features of the carnival was the political contest. As each persoll passed through the entrance he was handed a paper of this kind:—

COX
STEVENSON

with the salute "vote for the popular candidate." All were delighted with this, particularly the ladies, who wellded the power of the franchise for their first time. The ballot papers were taken by a committee of ladies who officiated in the booth during the evening as both sellers and receiver of votes. It was quite permissable to buy votes, or rather ballot papers, and the admirers of either candidate availed themselves of the opportunity, paying for each paper the sum of five cents. One or two were so enthusiastic in regard to their candidate that they purchased $10.00 worth of votes at one time. The bulletin board was put out every half hour showing the state of the poll, as summed up by a Reformer and a Conservative appointed to count the votes as they came in. The showing of the state of the poll was each time followed by a fresh outburt of enthusiasm on both sides—in buying more votes. At a quarter after nine the verdict of the "popular vote," that is the [illegible] ballots given away at the door, was announced, it being:—

Stevenson	505
Cox	316
Majority for Stevenson	189

In the meantime the masked throng had been skating around for quite a time. Those who left their cards at the door are as follows:—

GENTLEMEN.

Geo. Miller	Bugler
Daniel Simons	Spread Eagle
C. H. Halson	Young Spanish Nobleman
Joe. Cochrane	Paddy from Cork
Will Crosby	Barnum's "What is it."
W. J. Craig	Zulu Warrior
J. L. Hopwood	City Battalion
Herbert Hodgson	Lacrosse Player
D. G. Armstrong	Quebec Treasury
J. H. Connal	Moxie
Nelson Roddy	Chamber Maid
R. Sanderson	Lacrosse
R. N. Henderson	Lacrosse
Fred McKibbon	Snowflake
Geo. W. Wright	Yankee Doodle
W. E. Wright, Earnest Taylor	Snowdrift.
J. Bletcher	Tramp
Robt. A. W. Hay	Alley Sleeper
J. H. Massie	Snowshoer
J. Perry	Calithumpian
Vernon McGill	Cricketer
Herb Walsh	Etna Lacrosse Club
Harry Myers	Lacrosse Player
Orville Shortly	Advertisements
J. F. Robertson	Uncle Remus
W. English	Harlequins
E. Carveth	Housemaid
Everett Hall	Grandama
Willie Connal	Banditt
Walter Robertson	5th Ward Chicken
Peter Laroque	Blue Beard
G. H. McWilliams	Uncle Josh
Jas. W. King	Little Texas
H. T. Everett	Henry II of France
T. Baker	Old Rye
K. Kincaid	Rev. Fardown Toothpick
Willie Allen	Knight
Jas. Plunket	Marmora
Harry Robinson	Candidate for Alderman
W. Chamberlain	Aunt Sally's Cook
C. W. Orde	Lieut. 57th Batt
Fred Millar	Clown
DeCourcy King	Lansdowne Lacrosse Club
R. L. King	Prince Arthur
G. A. Hamilton	Duke Aranza
Chas. McClelland	Nubian Street Merchant

LADIES.

Lizzie Ballie	Aunt Ophelia
Annie Alexander	Snowshoe
Nellie Saunders	Gipsy Queen
Ada May Huston	Dewdrop
Bessie Cornell	Swedish Peasant Girl
Maudie Foote	Flag Bearer
Edith Shortly, Lizzie Rutherford	Calisthenics
Milton Minore	Aunt Nancy
Ethel Galletly	Fairy Queen
Adelina G. Galletly	Diana, the Godess of Love
Miss Georgie Godard	Cards
Millie Beck	Lady from Japan
Minnie H. C. Hay	Robinson Crusoe
Maggie Allen	One Hundred Years Ago
Bertha Cochrane	Spanish Girl
Annie Faucett	Snow-Shoer
Maud Deacon	Snow-Sheer
Lilly Derry	Maratina
Maud Goodfellow	Highland Lassie
Maud Roddy	Tambourine Girl
May Moscrip	Fish Wife
Ethel Balantine	Housemaid
Phœna Paterson	Tambourine Girl
Eva Thompson	Bride
Birdie Thompson	Christmas Cards
Nellie Hooper	Shuttlecock
B. Hall	A Little Maid from School
Miss Hall	Roman Lady
Mina Belleghem	Little Wide-Awake
M. Logan	By-Gone Days
Edith F. Massie	Lady Marel Seston
E. M. Braden	Watteau Shepherdess
Mrs. R. A. Hamilton	Summer
Annie Montgomery	Evening
Annie Halton	Evening
R. H. Hamilton	Mahomedan

The Judges, Dr. Burnham, Mrs. Burnham, Mr. R. B. Lundy and Mrs. Lundy, gave their decisions as to the merits of the costumes as follows:—

BEST DRESSED LADY IN FANCY COSTUME.—Miss G. Hall, as Roman Lady. Prize, a lady's companion.

BEST DRESSED GENT. IN FANCY COSTUME.—Wm. Logan, as Chinaman. Prize, a hat.

BEST DRESSED LADY IN COMIC COSTUME.—None. (The prize, an album, was given as a special prize for fancy costume to Miss Josephine Bradburn, as astrologer.

BEST DRESSED GENT. IN COMIC COSTUME.—Mr. Plunkett, as Frog. Prize, a box of cigars.

BEST DRESSED BOY.—L. King, as Prince Arthur. Prize, a pair of moccasins.

BEST DRESSED GIRL.—Ethel Galletly, as Fairy. Prize, a silver brooch.

The races were proceeded with, resulting as follows:—

ADULTS' RACE—One mile.—1st J. Shevlin. Prize, silver alarm clock.

BOYS' RACE—Six times round the rink.—1st Lionel King. Prize, an umbrella.

After the races the rink was again given up to the skaters.

The Fire Brigade Band was in attendance, rendering choice music throughout the evening.

At the polling booth the polling was still going on with great spirit, both sides going in to win each time as the bulletin board made its appearance. At ten o'clock the poll was closed and the ballots were counted. The vote stood:—

Stevenson	1,023
Cox	902
Stevenson's majority	121

The Lindsay-Peterborough curling match was commenced at 8 o'clock and was finished at about 10, with the following result:—

LINDSAY.	PETERBOROUGH.
No. 1 Rink.
J. Williamson	Judge Weller
J. McLennan, jr	G. Fitzgerald
J. McMillan, jr	S. Ray
J. D. Flavelle, skip, 16	T. P. Attrill, skip, 18
No. 2 Rink.
W. S. Milner	R. Hall
C. Cornell	W. VanEvery
J. G. Edwards	T. E. Bradburn
Jas. Keith, skip, 24	Dr. Boucher, skip, 9

"THE union forever," sang the customer who saw we had carried the best quality, with the lowest prices, at FAIR.

Council Meeting.

A special meeting of the Town Council will be held on Monday forenoon at 10 o'clock for the purpose of appointing assessors.

Orangeism.

The East Peterborough Orangemen have decided to unite with those of the west in celebrating the coming 12th of July in Peterborough.

New Connections.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Telegraph Company have made connections with Port Hope, Orangeville, Stirling, Pictou, Owen Sound, Shelbourne, Teeswater, Belleville and Weston. There are but few places in the Midland district not reached by this line.

Toronto vs. Lindsay.

A four rink match between representatives of the Lindsay and Toronto curling clubs was played in the Charlotte street rink on Friday afternoon, resulting in a win for the Lindsays by 35 shots. The score is as follows:—

TORONTO.		LINDSAY.
Forbes, skip	10	Flavelle, skip	28
Wright, skip	8	McMurtry, skip	29
McKorcadale, skip	16	Keith, skip	22
Russell, skip	15	Wallace, skip	17
	58		93

Lindsay wins by 35.

We May Expect.

—Lindsay to feel glad.
—And Toronto, mad.
—And Peterborough, sad.
—After yesterday's curling record.
—A big demonstration here on the next 12th July.
—The hotelkeepers to reap a harvest.
—Another firemen's carnival.
—The Granites to tackle Peterborough soon.
—Special sermons in the Methodist churches to-morrow.
—Large missionary contributions.

Turnbull deals exclusively in the extremes, the best and the cheapest. See his new stock of print shirtings. See Sucker's white and grey cottons, cottonades and tweeds.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 25
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 20	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 20	to	0 30

Hornford's Acid Phosphate

IN NERVOUS DEPRESSION.

Dr F. W. Lytle, Lebanon, Ill., says: "I have personally used it with marked advantage, when overworked and the nervous system much depressed."

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer imparts a fine gloss and freshness to the hair, and is highly recommended by physicians, clergymen and scientists. It removes dandruff, makes the scalp white and clean, and restores gray hair to its youthful color.

RETIRING

from the Dry Goods Business.

$10,000.00

worth of Dry Goods must be sold before

The 15th day of March, 1887

AT

T. DOLAN & CO'S

As on the above mentioned date, the Dry Goods business carried on by T. Dolan & Co. for the past ten years, will pass into the hands of a new firm, we have decided to reduce our present magnificent stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods amounting to $20,000.00 to one half its volume. In order to accomplish this we have marked all our goods to the bare cost price.

JUST IMAGINE

$3,000 worth of Dress Goods at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Black and Colored Silks at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Mantle Cloths at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Gloves and Hosiery at Cost.

$3,000 worth of Cottons, Bleached and Unbleached, at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Cotton Shirting at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Domestics, etc., etc., at Cost.

$2,000 worth of Clouds and Woollen Goods at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Prints and Ginghams at Cost.

EVERYTHING AT COST

The goods must go. This is a genuine cash sale, and no hoax. Remember from now until March 15th, as after that date we intend to direct our attention exclusively to our Tailoring establishment.

T. Dolan & Co

What is it? Where is it?

CULVER'S COUGH BALSAM

A valuable compound of Tar, Wild Cherry and Healing Balsams, for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough and all throat and lung diseases. The best cough medicine known for consumption. Price 25 cents. Sold by

GEO. A. SHERIN, Druggist

Floral Drug Store, Opposite the Market.

That's What they all Say

Culver's Cough Balsam is the best cough medicine I ever used. It was the worst cold I ever had and it stopped it at once. Sold by

GEO. A. SHERIN,

Floral Drug Store, Market.

Notice to Creditors

OF THE

LATE JOHN B. HAMMOND.

PURSUANT to Revised Statutes of Ontario, Chapter 107 and 46 Victoria, Chapter 9, Ontario, notice is hereby given that all creditors and others having claims against the estate of John Edward Hammond, late of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, gentleman, who died on or about the third day of January, 1887, are required to send by post, prepaid, or to deliver to Hatton & Wood, of the Town of Peterborough, in the said County of Peterborough, solicitors for Herbert Arthur Hammond, Robert Penniel Roucher and Harriet Hammond, the executors and executrix of the last will and testament of the deceased on or before the 26th day of February, 1887, a statement of their names and addresses, the full particulars of their claims and securities (if any) held by them. And that after the said date the said executors and executrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice shall have been given as above required.

And the said executors and executrix will not be responsible for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons of whose claim or claims notice shall not have been received at the time of such distribution.

Dated at Peterborough, this 26th day of January, 1887.

HATTON & WOOD,
Solicitors for the said
Executors and Executrix.

w3

W. W. Johnston & Co.

GIVING UP BUSINESS.

A GENUINE CLEARING OUT SALE.

Having decided to give up business, we will on and after SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15th, offer to the public

THE BIGGEST BARGAINS

They have seen for some time in DRY GOODS. We have marked down everything in the store to such low prices that all will be satisfied. This is not a sale of Winter Goods alone, but a closing out sale, and we will offer at Bargain Prices the Whole Stock, worth over $10,000, composed of the following:

Thousands of yards Dress Goods,
Thousands of yards Ribbon,
Thousands of yards Print,
Thousands of yards Cotton,
Thousands of yards Cotton Shirting,
Hundreds of yards Carpet,
Hunreds of yards Cashmere,
Hundreds of yards Velvets and Plushes,
Hundreds of yards Silks and Satins,
Hundreds of yards Cretonne,
Hundreds of yards Flannel,
Hundreds of yards Sheeting,

And a large stock of Woollen Goods, Muslins, Laces, Embroideries, Gloves, Hosiery and Small Wares.

TERMS STRICTLY CASH. Come and satisfy yourself that this is Peterborough's Biggest Closing Out Sale. w5-d

W. W. Johnston & Co.

RETIRING

FROM THE BOOT AND SHOE BUSINESS.

R. STENSON & SON

Having decided on Retiring from Business, will receive Tenders up to the 21st of February next, at a rate on the Dollar, for the purchase en bloc of their Stock of Boots and Shoes, &c. The highest or any Tender not necessarily accepted.

If not then disposed of, the whole of the Stock will be sold in Quantities to Suit Purchasers.

ALL WINTER GOODS WILL BE SOLD AT COST FROM TO-DAY.

R. STENSON & SON.

Peterborough, Feb. 7th, 1887. 1md2w6

A GOOD TIME TO BUY.

The present is an excellent opportunity to purchase

Buggies, Phætons, Carriages and Waggons

at our Factory, as we are selling them out to make room for a lively trade in Winter Goods this Season. A fine stock on hand at prices that cannot fail to please. The present is also an excellent time to purchase or order before the busy season sets in. Hand in your order and obtain a handsome and substantial vehicle. If you do not intend to purchase a new one, bring along your cutters and sleighs and have them repaired. All material used by us is THOROUGHLY SEASONED. Our workmen are skilled mechanics, and the work is finished in the best styles. BUGGY TOPS made in the factory in several styles and at moderate prices. You will consult your interests by calling on us, as we are bound not to be beaten in prices or workmanship, and to lead the procession in our trade.

Cutters or Sleighs

☞ We have also about 5,000 FEET OF TWO-INCH OAK, suitable for building purposes, which we will dispose of at a reasonable price.

PORTER BROS.

Corner Charlotte and Aylmer Streets, near the G.T.R.

New Sugar Cured Hams

Spiced Rolls and Breakfast Bacon.
Spare Ribs, Tenderloins, Shanks, &c.

GEO. MATTHEWS

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. B. BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office.
Postal Address, Box 611. d113w7

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough, and druggists everywhere.

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skillful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

D. BELLECHEM,
Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms. ☞ TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 37. PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK.

PROBABILITIES.

Fresh to strong east and south-east winds; increasing cloudiness with snow or rain by to-morrow; rising temperatures.

The First Spring Styles Just Opened

We are now in receipt of a large portion of Foreign and Domestic Goods for Spring trade, consisting of

New Embroideries,
New Insertions,
Hamburg Edgings,
Laces,
Grey Cottons,
Bleached Cottons,
Sheetings,
Shirtings,
Towellings,
Ducks,
Denims,
Cottons, etc.

Ask to see the New Circular Pillow Cotton, it is the newest thing out. We show them in all the widths.

Economy and solid satisfaction is guaranteed if you trade at

R. FAIR'S,

Sign of the Golden Lion, George Street.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE,
Solicitor.

d106w18

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training.

$70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario.

Wood and Coal.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d113 JAMES GALVIN.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

d4w JAMES STEVENSON.

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

E. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

FOR 10 CENTS

PER WEEK YOU CAN HAVE THE

Daily Evening Review

Delivered to your House

EVERY EVENING!

Send along your names, and TRY IT; if you do not think it well worth the money, you can stop it any time.

For Sale or to Rent.

FOR SALE.

A LOT of Dry Birch and Oak Lumber, suitable for refooring hall or Library. Also 2 in. Plank. E. COURTNEY. 3d35eod

STORE AND DWELLING

AT BETHANY, for sale or to let. The store in Bethany known as the Grrandy store, together with the Dwelling and Lots connected therewith, will be sold at a bargain or leased on easy terms. Full particulars given on application at the Bank of Montreal, Lindsay, Peterborough or Port Hope. 2d191w

Wants.

WANTED.

A GOOD GENERAL SERVANT. Also A NURSE. No washing. Highest wages. Apply REVIEW Office. d33

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,

SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church.

MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d4w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w18

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.

MONEY TO LOAN. d103w18

HATTON & WOOD,

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

E. B. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON

Professional.

RICHARD B. ROGERS.

CIVIL ENGINEER, PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR, Superintending Engineer Trent Canal Works. Office Post Office Block, George Street. w42

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d41w18

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d120w22

FRED. H. BRENNAN, M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL, Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street, opposite St. John's Church. d123w22 13

C. COLLINS, M. D., C. M.,

M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w2

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Offices over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. lyd4w

Musical.

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipsig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipsig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence

DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE

d111w6

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. lyd11

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. dly

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

BUSINESS CHANGE

AT

THOMAS KELLY'S.

The Whole Stock to be sold out before the 1st July next.

AT THE SIGN

OF THE

Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Sppons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1887.

REFORM FIGURES.

In the Globe of Saturday, in different places, there are statements regarding the public debt. Let us for the sake of amusement regard those statements as correct, and see what they prove. They show:—

That the Canadian debt in 1878 was $75,720,000 and that in the same year it was $174,957,268!

That since 1878 the debt has been increased by $45,042,732 or at the rate of $5,630,341 a year. (The Reformers increased the debt at the rate of over $8,000,000 a year.)

That the debt has been reduced this year $61,314,852, or more than the whole increase (on Globe showing) since the Conservatives took office!

That the increase in the debt from 1868 to 1874 was $43,266,885, and that during the same period the increase was $32,447,000!

That the increase in the debt from 1867 to 1878 was $61,911,217, that the increase in the same period was $77,311,000, and that during the same period the debt was reduced by $1,326,051!

That the increase in the debt since 1878 has been $205,594,532; that the increase in the same period has been $144,280,000; that the increase in the same period has been $106,357,000, and that the increase in the same period has been $45,042,732!!

The Globe called Sir Richard Cartwright a "mixer and muddler" of figures, but some greater blunderer (or more stupid trickster) must have compiled the Globe's debt figures.

Who can rely on such a paper that publishes such contradictory statements and utter trash?

PRETTY BLUE.

A Sad State of Affairs Reported From Newfoundland.

HALIFAX, Feb. 12.—News received here from St. John's, Nfld., says that many prominent houses there are in financial difficulties and a financial crisis is inevitable. The latest advices from the northern districts report much destitution, the supplies of flour and other necessaries of life furnished by the Government being totally inadequate to relieve the existing distress, and it is feared that before further relief can reach the outlying districts there will be terrible suffering from destitution and starvation. Through heavy expenditures for pauper relief the Colonial treasury is now depleted. Newfoundland presents a mournful spectacle and is to-day the most miserable of all England's colonial possessions. Thousands of fishermen are casting longing eyes toward the codfisheries of British Columbia and are awaiting reports of pioneer parties who have gone there. The telegram says if these reports are favorable, at least one thousand fishermen will emigrate in the spring. The Newfoundland papers in discussing the disallowance of bait bill point out that Canada's bait bill and other stringent legislation will be useless if the Americans can get all the bait, etc., they want from Newfoundland, without let or hindrance.

Turnbull is showing a fine assortment of new grey dress goods from the light silver to the dark Oxford shades.

METHODIST MISSIONS.

Sermons by the Rev. Mr. Beaudry and Rev. Mr. Clarkson.

On Sunday the annual missionary services in connection with the Methodist Church of Peterborough were held. The Rev. L. N. Beaudry, M. A., of Montreal, and the Rev. J. B. Clarkson, M.A., of Port Hope, preached the special sermons in the George Street and Charlotte Street Churches.

In the morning the Rev. Mr. Clarkson chose for his text St. Matthew xv., 26, 27, 28—"But He answered and said, it is not meet to take the children's bread, and cast it to the dogs. And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their master's table. Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O, woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that hour." "This woman," observed the preacher, "introduced Jesus to Gentile territory. Up till this time He moved in given geographical limits. Now was established the universality of His empire." The means by which Jew and Gentile were made alike inheritors of the riches of Christ was discussed. It was the love of woman. That woman pleaded with all a mother's love for her child. She cried, "Have mercy on me, o Lord," and yet she pleaded not for herself, but for a loved daughter. And as soon as the missionary cause had a triumphant womanhood to plead for it the nations of the earth would hear God's voice. In answer to the pure and prayerful woman united in pleading with all a woman's love for the rescue of mankind from darkness God would again reply, "be it unto thee even as thou wilt." The preacher found in the woman of Canaan a living representative of all the image worship of the east, now bowing before Christ. This he proceeded to prove by quotations from scripture showing her descent from Greek and Syrian. Though not of Jew it yet came to pass that she was higher in God's favor than some of the chosen people. It depended not so much on our "position" in life for Divine blessing as to our "disposition." That earnest, vehement, pitiful cry, "Lord help me," was more to God than the cold utterance of the Pharasees. The interview of the woman with our Saviour was an [illegible] Though her whole being was filled with one object, though her heart throbbed wildly within her, though the occasion was importune and might pass away and never recur, the Canaanite woman put all her request in three words, "Lord help me." It was such earnest pleading as that which was required to make the missionary cause prosper. And Christ was silent. When he spoke his words were worse than his silence. But no more beautiful words nor grander statement ever dropped from the lips of mortal than was her reply. Though the cloud was dark that shadowed he hoped she saw light. By a kind of alchemy she seemed to draw light from darkness. She went down to the level in which Christ had placed her, and like one down in a well on a sunny day she looked upward and beheld her star of hope. The discourse was concluded by a tribute to the grand work done by women in the missionary cause. If woman was blamed for bringing the world into darkness, she was to be credited with being first and most earnest in bringing the world to light again. The auxiliaries were doing great work, and in India, China and Japan the foremost in the work were women. What more powerful appeal could be made to a mother than to save her daughter? It was the daughter of the east they wanted to save. There where vice and debauchery is rampant and where the daughter is degraded, the help of Christian women was needed. The hope of the world lay in a pure and consecrated motherhood, for from the good mother sprang the good men and the good women.

In the evening the Rev. L. N. Beaudry, of Montreal, gave an interesting address taking for his text the well known words "Come over into Macedonia and help us." This cry from the shores of the Hellespont had not died but would reverberate and re echo until the whole world knew of Christ. Fifty years ago one half of the world knew nothing of the Christian religion, but how different now. The dark continent had been penetrated and the dark Africans were now being reached by the great Missionery Bishop Taylor and an army of others. Japan and the Celestial Empire were receiving the light, and in France and Italy the good cause was progressing wonderfully. He compared heathenism to darkness, Mahodism to a crescent moon, Judaism to a hemisphere, but Christianity to a full globe from which nothing could be subtracted or added to. Christianity would continue to roll on till the whole world knew it. In the Province of Quebec, too, wonders was being worked. The evangelization of the French Canadians was going on apace. Already there were 30,000 who had become Protestants. He then went on to give his experience in relation to his withdrawal from the Roman Catholic Church and joining the Methodist Church. He said that he came from Quebec voicing the educated minority and the uneducated mass with a cry "Come over into Macedonia and help us." He termed the evangelizing work an emancipation movement, for not one half of the population of Quebec in mature years could neither read or write. He urged his hearers to emulate the Roman Catholics in piety and in their attachments to their church, and he also exhorted the mothers present to take a lesson from Roman Catholic mothers in the deep rooting of the faith in their children.

The Rev. Mr. Beaudry will lecture in the George Street Church this evening. No admission will be charged, a collection be taken up instead.

POLICE COURT.

D. AND D.

MONDAY, Feb. 14.—John Foley was charged by P. C. Adams with having been drunk and disorderly in a public place.

The COURT—What have you to say?

JOHN—Well, your Worship, it's so, and I'm sorry for it. It's the first time I guess I was ever that way.

The COURT—Be careful.

JOHN—It's the first time since I came to town, anyway.

The COURT—Have you been here long?

JOHN—Four years, your Worship.

The COURT, quizzingly—It's a wonder you could get the whiskey here.

JOHN—I don't know how it was got. I didn't get it.

The COURT decided that John was unruly and should pay $2 fine.

It was paid.

MALICIOUS INJURY TO PROPERTY.

Samuel Skilling, a boy 13 years of age, was charged by Geo. Hilliard with malicious injury to property.

Evidence given stated that on Friday night the boy had got into the mill, and in the morning the knob on the safe and also a fancy casting had been broken off. The lad when questioned stated that he had been acting as night watch. He had been sleeping near the safe and the knob had fallen off. A window was also broken.

The evidence of the uncle of the prisoner was taken. The uncle stated that the boy was out of his control. Once in a while he went a little wrong in his mind, and during those times he was very stubborn. He frequently wandered away from home.

The MAGISTRATE sentenced the prisoner to a term in the Reformatory.

THE STRIKE AT AN END.

Knights of Labor Declare the Great Strike at New York Off.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Executive Board of District Assembly 49 last night declared the great strike at an end. They claim that they have won a complete victory, and that Austin Corbin, on behalf of the coal companies, has agreed to reopen the Elizabeth port docks within a week, at the highest wages.

The Sun says:—"District Assembly, No. 49, having put forth all its powers to extend the big longshore strike in every direction where an extension was deemed practicable, and having failed, declares the strike off, and lays the blame of the failure on the eccentric engineers.

DESTRUCTIVE HURRICANE.

Ohio Towns Partially Demolished—Four Hungarians Killed.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 11.—Telegrams from Eastern Ohio states that a terrible windstorm passed over that section to-day. At Louisville seven houses and a wolen factory were blown down, and the Catholic church and seminary, two large and costly structures, were partially demolished. Not a chimney is left standing in the town. The loss will reach over $100,000. At Wooster, Ohio, the residence of M. K. Hard was wrecked, and the tower of the Lutheran church was blown through the roof of the new Methodist church. Several houses were unroofed and trees and fences blown down. The loss will be heavy.

TYRONE, Pa., Feb. 11.—During a windstorm here this afternoon a tree blew down, killing four Hungarian railroad labourers who had taken shelter under it.

Canadian Industries.

There was a largely attended meeting on Friday, in Toronto, under the auspices of the industrial League, to discuss the situation. The following resolution was moved and carried unanmously, though manufacturers formerly acting with the Reform party were present:—

"That this meeting is of the opinion that upon the maintenance of the N. P. the prosperity of the country depends, and can only be continued by the success of the Conservative party, the tariff policy of the Opposition being uncertain and indefinite."

Mr. Ellis, in moving the resolution, referring to the Brockville manufacturers who agreed with Mr. Blake's tariff policy said they represented but a fraction of the manufacturers of that place, and occupied and unimportant position in the commercial world.

The Hated N. P.

The Finance Minister of the Reform party, Sir Richard Cartright, still adheres to his dinunciations of the N. P. and his advocates. At a public meeting at Weston on Friday he said that:—"Our very foolish National Policy had cut off the foreign trade of the Maratime Provinces, while our manufactures of Ontario and Quebec had interfered with their domestic trade."

At a second speech in reply he said:—"He considered the National Policy a tremendous blunder and mistake. He believed that the people had been injured by it."

Duplicating Pay Accounts.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The Times Washington special says: Several army officers within the past few months have duplicated their pay accounts, but a settlement has been effected without disagreeable notoriety.

Have you seen Turnbull's 6¼ cent fancy check wincey? If not you are missing a bargain.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

THE LEE-BURTOM RIFLE.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The War Office Committee, at their final sitting decided to recommend the Lee-Burton magazine rifle.

ASSURANCE OF POWER.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Post, commenting on the defeat of the Parnell amendment, says, "The majority against the amendment ratifies the country's mandate and the government may now proceed with a full assurance of power and support."

HEAVY SNOWSTORMS.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Heavy snowstorms are prevailing in Spain, causing the stoppage of traffic.

A PRINCE DEAD.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—The Prince of Wagram is dead.

ALARM IN GERMANY.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—Metz advices say that German officials have done their best to spread the alarm. Director Krics set the example by buying a quantity of provisions. The town was immediately inundated with peasants, offering enormous quantities of corn, poultry and potatoes, at ridiculously low prices. Hundreds of laborers have been engaged to strengthen the ports.

FEARS OF WAR.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—News from St. Petersburg says, "Fears of an European warprevail. It is announced that German colonists in the Caucasus have been notified to hold themselves in readiness to return to Germany and join the reserves."

ROME AND CHINA.

ROME, Feb. 12.—The Pope, in response to friendly overturns from China, has instructed Cardinal Simeoni to prepare a convention securing complete liberty for missions and Catholic residence in the Chinese Empire.

HOME RULE.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Mr. Gladstone has still further explained his position on the Home Rule question. He has written a letter stating he wishes to retain the present number of the Irish reptesentatives in Parliament to deal with Imperial concerns.

NORTH ANTRIM ELECTION.

DUBLIN, Feb. 13.—The election in North Antrim, to fill the parliamentary vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. McNaughton, Conservative, resulted in the return of Mr. C. E. Lewis, Conservative, who polled 3,858 votes against 2,626 obtained by Mr. McElroy, Home Rule, and 424 by Mr. Trail, Liberal-Unionist.

A PROCLAIMED MEETING.

DUBLIN, Feb. 13.—The meeting announced to be held at Youghal to-day and proclaimed by the Government was held at Terry Point, Waterford. Mr. Tanner spoke and the crowd burned copies of the proclamation amid cheers and groans. After the meeting of the crowd returned to Youghal and had some encounters with the police.

POISONING HOUNDS.

DUBLIN, Feb. 13.—The Limerick hunt had to be abandoned yesterday, owing to the poisoning of the fox hounds.

DISTURBANCE IN BELFAST.

BELFAST, Feb. 13.—At midnight on Saturday gangs of Orangemen and Catholics pelted one another with stones on the Falls road, and were dispersed by the police. One man was stabbed, and some policemen were bruised.

Woman Suffrage.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 12.—At a meeting of the city council last night it was decided to ask for special legislation to enable married women, having the necessary property qualification of income in their own right, on being assessed therefor, to vote in all municipal elections when the husband does not vote on the same property, except where they are joint owners, for licensing and regulating houses and persons keeping infant children not their own for hire or gain, and preventing cruelty to children by their parents, guardians, or other persons having charge or control over them.

The Newfoundland Mails.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Feb. 12.—It is understood that the Allan Line has notified the Government that it will not continue to carry the mail for Newfoundland if the subsidy is reduced, as has been proposed. The people are much alarmed over the possibility of losing mail facilities.

A Virginia Tragedy.

FARMERSVILLE, Va., Feb. 12.—Early yesterday morning Watkins Dupuy, a farmer, living near here, shot and killed his wife and then cut his throat and stabbed himself in the breast inflicting fatal wounds. He was extremely jealous of his wife, who gave him no cause for being so.

WIT AND WISDOM.

What makes old age so sad is, not that our joys, but that our hopes cease.

The qualities we possess never makes us so ridiculous as those we pretend to have.

A bonnet covered with birds does not sing, but it makes a wise man whistle when the bill comes in.

You can never depend on proverbs. One says "Silence is golden;" another "Money talks."

The ancient stirrup cup was wine; the modern stir-up cup is whiskey. It stirs up strife and other disagreable things.

It is a smart man who knows how to make a speech, but it is a smarter man who knows how and where to end one.

"Better die soon,
Than live on lingeringly in pain."

Better do neither, but get and take medicine that will relieve pain which is only an evidence of disease, and thus you may live on in health and happiness. If you have a cold or cough, weak or sore lungs, consumption chronic nasal catarrh, bronchitis, impure blood or liver disease, take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" a certain cure for these diseases. By druggists.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1887.

FARMERS AND THE N. P.

The opponents and pretended friends (for votes) of the National Policy, are very fond of telling the farmers at township meetings that our present tariff system does nothing for them, but rather injures them. The truth is that the farmers of Canada derive more benefit from the N. P. than any other class.

We will not now discuss at length the effect of the tariff on the price of grain, for we have already done so on several occasions. It will suffice to say that the price of grain in Peterborough, as in other places, is higher now as compared with the price in either Liverpool or Chicago than it was before the N. P. came into effect. This difference is all gain to our farmers, and is chiefly due to the effect of the tariff, and of that other wise policy of the Macdonald Administration, the encouragement of railway construction, with the consequent lowering of freights.

Neither need we now dwell at length upon the pretence made by those hostile to the N. P., when speaking rural districts, that the farmer has to pay higher prices for the goods he purchases. These unfair critics themselves contradict their own assertion, for in the towns they often argue that the N. P. has so encouraged over competition that the manufacturers are almost ruined by the forced reduction of the prices they have to accept for their goods. But the farmers themselves know that instead of paying more for the articles they purchase they pay less than they did before the adoption of the present tariff on nearly every article they buy. They know that the lowering of prices is so great that a bushel of wheat will purchase more than it did under the Mackenzie-Blake Administration, and this is the true test.

The point to which we wish to call attention is the benefit that the farmer obtains by the enlargement of the home market. They all know that the home market is more profitable to them than a foreign market. They obtain better prices from purchasers for consumption than they do from dealers for export, and they are able to sell smaller perishable articles that would be of little value except to consume on the spot. Everyone knows that a farm near a large city is more valuable than one near a small town or village, the value with equally good [illegible] almost in proportion with the size of the neighboring market town. This is because the more consumers there are in the immediate neighborhood the more profitable is the farm to the farmer. Now the National Policy has had the effect of increasing both the number of local consumers and their ability to purchase. At present we make our woollens, our cottons and many other articles at home, that under the Reformers we used to import. It is far more profitable for Canadian farmers to supply Canadian operatives close at hand than to let foreign farmers supply foreign operatives, while our products have to be exported if sold at all. And there is not only the consumption of the operatives to be taken into account but also the consumption of those dependant upon the operatives and of those who have them for customers.

In the cost of every yard of woollen or cotton goods that is used by us, a very large portion goes for wages, not only the wages of the operatives assisting to make it, but also the wages of those mechanics who constructed the building or machinery, and of all those who contribute in any way to the production. Of these wages a very considerable portion is expended on articles which the farmer has to sell. Why should we insist, like Sir Richard Cartwright and his friends, that the foreign farmer, not the Canadian farmer, should have the benefit of this remunerative custom? Every farmer and every farmer's wife knows that the loss of such custom, if our mills were closed or in a moribund condition would reduce the profits of the farm. Both directly and indirectly the farmer is a great gainer by the N. P.

THE RAPID CHANGE ACT.

Mr. Blake's sudden changes as to his tariff policy are so startling and puzzling that one can hardly follow them, unless they are kept before one's eyes.

In October, 1886, at Toronto, this was his confession of economic faith:—

"Articles of such prime necessity as fuel and breadstuffs should be free."

In January, 1887, at Malvern, only three months later, his policy had undergone a complete change, for he said:—

"As to wheat and wheat flour, I think that the changed conditions point rather to a reduction of duties, with a readjustment of the disproportion between the tax on wheat and that on flour, than to a total abolition; and so of coal."

What were the "changed conditions" in these three months? There was no change in the economic condition. The only change was that Mr. Blake had found that his free-trade ideas were so strongly condemned by the people of Canada that he made up his mind to swallow his opinions of three months before, in the hope of gaining votes. To gain votes he is quite ready to have any opinion or no opinion, to praise what he denounced yesterday, or to denounce what he praised yesterday. Is it safe to trust the destinies of Canada to such an unscrupulous turncoat? Who would care to begin or enlarge any enterprise, when it would be at the mercy of one so unstable? Even if he did no injurious act the very uncertainty as to what might be the next vagary would frighten capital and hamper every Canadian industry.

Advertise in the Daily Review.

BISHOP GRANDIN AND SIR JOHN.

No Truth in the Report that the Bishop Had a List of Grievances.

Statements have been published, notably in the Globe, to the effect that when Bishop Grandin was here he prepared a list of charges against the mal-administration of Indian affairs in the North West; that the documents covers thirty pages of foolscap closely written and prepared by the Bishop's own hand and that the document now lies in the College of Ottawa; that Sir John fearing the disclosures made therein had a private interview with Bishop Grandin and prevailed upon His Lordship to suppress the document, promising that after the elections were over he would see to it that the grievances complained of would be remedied.

This morning a Journal reporter had a conversation with the Rev. Father Gendreau of the College on the subject. Father Gendreau stated that there was no truth whatever in the report. No such document had been prepared by Bishop Grandin, nor was there any such document in existence at the College at Ottawa or elsewhere. Father Gendreau said that if any one would know about such a document he would, and assured the reporter that the whole story was a pure fabrication.—Ottawa Journal.

HARVEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

True Conservatism.—At the political meeting held by Mr. Lang on Friday last, the invitation was given to anyone of the opposite party to advance their ideas of the principles of government. Mr. Cairnduff, our Township Clerk, accepted it, took the floor, and for three-quarters of an hour delivered such a political sermon as to convince all except those who are totally prejudiced. He denounced Blake as a political Ishmaelite, and guarded the N. P. skillfully from the attacks of Reform warriors. Although casting not the least disrespect on the United States, he upheld that every Canadian patriot should protect our Dominion on every point. His speech throughout was witty, yet earnest and to the point, and when he retired he was applauded by both sides. The meeting was conducted with good order throughout.

Sir R. Cartwright.—The Ex-Finance Minister of Canada gave an address on Monday night last in favor of the support of Mr. Lonsborough, the Reform Candidate for South Victoria. The so-called honorable gentleman preached up economy in such imaginative figures no doubt to make his party proud, but an unprejudiced hearer would rather think that he wished to lower the country in the esteem of the world. He placed the United States and Canada side by side and endeavored to draw a line between the management of the national affairs and that of the other country. No doubt this is a difficult task, but Sir Richard lowered Canadian government and exalted that of the United States, and we ask was this patriotic? He spoke of redressing the stated grievances of the Maritime provinces by renewing the commercial relationship with our American cousins. Does Sir Richard mean by this that we should allow the Americans to have free access to our fishing grounds? He even spoke further that if Blake was elected to-morrow he would endeavor to bring about this close relationship. I wonder if Sir Richard is in favor of annexation? He further stated that of the national debt Mr. Mackenzie was responsible for only $187,000 per year during the five years of his administration. Why did not this economical premier retain power? The C. P. R. received a thrust. Sir Richard very blandly stated that he was in favor of the road from an Imperial point of view, and stated that we are not bound to build railways for Imperial purposes. Again our esteemed friend Didymus formed the supposition that the C. P. R. would fall into hands of American capitalists. In the end he said the work was a hopeless enterprise. Towards the last of his speech the spirit of Riel pervaded the thoughts and expressions of the speaker. By his sentiments he showed that he was an abbetor of the rebellion, and even intimated that Riel was the least guilty of the rebels. We kindly ask the Review to give us their views on the statements given above.

VILLIERS.

From a Correspon lent.

Presentation.—A few nights ago a number of neighbors and friends of Mr. William Brotherston, who was about to move to Havelock, surprised that gentleman by gathering at his home and presenting him with an address and a handsome overcoat and a fur cap, and Mrs. Brotherston with a fine shawl and a pair of kid gloves. The address was as follows:—

Mr. William Brotherston:

Dear Sir,—When we learned that you and your family—old and highly respected settlers in this neighborhood—were about to remove from our midst to take up your abode at Havelock, we were deeply grieved at the thought of parting with those who had been so long and so highly respected by all in this neighborhood. When we consider that you have resided almost continuously since you immigrated to this country, over thirty-five years ago, in this vicinity, and during the greater part of that time you have acted as our village blacksmith, and part of the time as our post master, and that in all your transactions and dealings with your customers you have acted honestly and uprightly, we feel more deeply the loss we are about to sustain in your removal from our midst. Your genial and obliging disposition and your many other qualities of both head and heart, have made for you very many friends, by whom you will be long held in pleasant remembrance. We would now ask Mrs. Brotherston and yourself to accept these gifts as a slight token of the esteem in which you are held by the entire neighbourhood, and though we may not again see your genial faces in our midst as usual, our sincere wish is that when we cross over the river of death we may meet in that better land where the friendship began here on earth may have a happy reunion.

Signed on behalf of the neighbors.

Mr. Brotherston wishes to return his sincere thanks to his friends for the good wishes expressed in the address and for the valuable mementoes they gave to him and Mrs. Brotherston.

An Affecting Scene.

A New York actress to whom the "star" of the company had made an offensive personal remark behind the scenes got even with her by smearing some red paint surreptitiously on the inside of the drop curtain just below the peep hole. When the curtain went up and disclosed the star with a nose of extraordinary brilliancy lying on a couch and dying according to the requirements of the last act of "East Lynne," the audience fairly howled with excess of emotion, and all the actors were also deeply affected.—Chicago Tribune.

PEOPLE WE TALK ABOUT.

Browning, the poet, feels 40, not a day older.

Senator Tupper [illegible] to be writing a political novel, the scenes of which are laid in Washington.

Maspero, the Egyptologist, has completely cleared away the front of the old sphinx at Ghizeh.

Lady Tennyson declares that the hardest work she has to do is to keep the old man from smoking himself into a mummy.

An English girl has contracted delirium tremens from smoking tea leaves. The idea has always existed that this was a "man's" disease.

One of the victims of the Vermont railway horror was a Boston embezzler on his way to Canada. The way of the transgressor is hard.

Christine Nilsson will become the Comtesse de Mirand next Tuesday. May she have more luck with her second venture with an artistic husband than she had with her first

On Monday night Maud Howe, the author and daughter of Julia Ward Howe, was married in Boston to John Elliot, the English artist. The happy pair will remain in the modern Athens for the present.

Baron de Joest, of Paris, noted all his life for cruel treatment of animals, has left $500,000 to the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals. This, observes the New York Star, is the most costly deathbed repentance on record.

When Lord Salisbury, then Lord Robert Cecil, was cast off by his enraged father because of his marriage with Miss Anderson he fled for refuge and advice to Sir Stafford Northcote. The baronet put the poverty-striken lord in the way of supporting himself by writing for the press, at which he was glad to earn the modest stipend of about $1,000 a year.

At Thursday's meeting of the Sons of England Grand Lodge, at Barrie, it was decided to hold the next annual meeting in Toronto.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we life in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health, but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. d90

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-Joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS—Anti Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remodeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS:

$18.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $5 75
$6.00 OVERCOATS - - - - - - - - - - FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

Dominion Elections

22

Nomination Day, February 15th.
Polling Day, February 22nd.

A New Candidate in the Field

HIS PLATFORM:

Gentlemen.—I have no desire to tamper with the votes of that noble army of our citizens who freely exercise the Franchise on behalf of their favorite polititical leaders. But in order to take a hand in the present political struggle for supremary between Grit and Tory, I have decided to come out and offer such tempting

BRIBES TO THE ELECTORS

As cannot fail to place me at the head of the polls.

I would scorn, like all other candidates for parliamentary honors, to buy up votes, or do aught that might be construed as a violation of our Election laws. My object is a far more patriotic one, namely—that of making a CLEAN SWEEP of all my Winter Clothing and Tweeds before Election day.

Nor will the secresy of the Ballot be infringed by asking purchasers whether they will vote for LeBRUN, COX, or STEVENSON. No, not by a home rule scuttle full! But every elector is expected to attend this exciting Political-Winter-Clothing Sale, and to hurrah for LeBRUN, so as to elect him by an overwhelming majority as the Workingmen's Favourite Candidate.

SAMPLES OF THE BRIBES

SUITS, made to order - $12
Formerly sold for $15

SUITS, made to order - $14
Formerly sold for $17.

SUITS, Ready-made for $6
And upwards.

PANTS made to order for
$3.00, $4.00, $4.50

If the Electors will only ponder over these facts and see and handle these Bribes for themselves, I feel certain that the 22nd will be a cold day for the other candidates.

H. LeBrun
CITY CLOTHING HOUSE.

MR. J. W. CROSBY
THE
New Music Dealer

Will always be found at his office at MR. WESLEY MILLAR'S, George Street, 2 doors north of Charlotte Street, where he is prepared to give bargains in the celebrated

New York Weber, Steinway, Chickering, Emerson, Lansdown and Stevenson Pianos.

He is Sole Agent for the Uxbridge & Kilgore Organs. Sample Instruments always in stock. A chat with him about how to purchase a good instrument at a low figure will amply pay you. He has never been and will not now be undersold. d32

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Raisins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 35 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY

JOHN NUGENT

Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont.
FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 28 Maryland Road, Harrow Road, London, England (Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.

No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d18eod w5

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.
Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. 1 d&w

PURE UNADULTERATED
TEAS AND COFFEES
CHEAPER THAN EVER, AT
HAWLEY BROS
The People's Tea Store, Hunter Street, East.

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you looooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

BY HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

"Tush! That is not worth consideration. Don't you see that Ralph has done all this? I set that man to watch him; he found out the swindle; subscribed my name, and your agent, I should say; sent him here with a trumped up tale. Oh, yes; I was to believe that Madeline had deserted me—that was to drive me out of my senses. My cousin is a fool, after all!"

"Without further proof I cannot believe that your suspicions are correct," I said, but I must own I spoke with some hesitation.

"Proof! A clever man like you ought to see ample proof in the fact of that wretch having twice called me a madman. I have seen him but once before—you know if I then gave him any grounds for making such an assertion. Tell me, from whom could he have learned the word except from Ralph Carriston?"

I was bound, if only to save my own reputation for sagacity, to confess that the point noted by Carriston had raised certain doubts in my mind. But if Ralph Carriston really was trying by some finely wrought scheme to bring about what he desired, there was all the more reason for great caution to be exercised.

"I am sorry you beat the fellow," I said. "He will now swear right and left that you are not in your senses."

"Of course he will. What do I care?"

"Only remember this. It is easier to get put in an asylum than to get out of it."

"It is not so very easy for a sane man like myself to be put in, especially when he is on his guard. I have looked up the law. There must be a certificate signed by two doctors, surgeons, or, I believe, apothecaries will do, who have seen the supposed lunatic alone and together. I'll take very good care I speak to no doctor save yourself, and keep out of the way of surgeons and apothecaries."

It quite cheered me to hear him speaking so sensibly and collectedly about himself, but I again impressed upon him the need of great caution. Although I could not believe that his cousin had taken Madeline away, I was, after the affair with the spy, inclined to think that, as Carriston averred, he aimed at getting him, sane or insane, into a madhouse.

But after all these days we were not a step nearer to the discovery of Madeline's whereabouts. Carriston made no sign of doing anything to facilitate that discovery. Again I urged him to intrust the whole affair to the police. Again he refused to do so, adding that he was not quite ready. Ready for what I wondered!

CHAPTER X.

I must confess, in spite of my affection for Carriston, I felt inclined to rebel against the treatment to which matters were taking. I was a simple matter of fact medical man; doing my work to the best of my ability, and anxious whilst that work was done that my hours of leisure should be as free from worry and care as possible. With Carriston's advent several disturbing elements entered into my quiet life.

Let Ralph Carriston be guilty or innocent of the extraordinary crime which his cousin laid at his door, I felt certain that he was anxious to obtain possession of the supposed lunatic's person. It would suit his purposes for his cousin to be proved mad. I did not believe that even if the capture was legally effected Carriston's liberation would be a matter of great difficulty, so long as he remained in his present state of mind; so long as I, a doctor of some standing, could go into the witness box and swear to his sanity. But my old friend was always with me, and dread that any further shock would overturn the balance of his sensitive mind.

So it was that every hour that Carriston was out of my sight was fraught with anxiety. If Ralph Carriston was really as unscrupulous as my friend supposed; if he had really, as seemed almost probable, suborned one agent; he might by some crafty trick obtain the needful certificates, and some day I should come home and find Carriston had been removed. In such a case I foresaw great trouble and distress.

Besides, after all that had occurred, it was as much as I could do to believe that Carriston was not mad. Any doctor who knew what I knew would have given the verdict against him.

After dismissing his visions and hallucinations with the contempt which they deserved, the fact of a man who was madly, passionately in love with a woman, and who believed that she had been entrapped and was still kept in restraint, sitting down quietly, and letting day after day pass without making an effort towards finding her, was in itself prima facie evidence of insanity. A sane man would at once have set all the engines of detection at work.

I felt that if once Ralph Carriston obtained possession of him he could make out a strong case in his own favor. First of all, the proposed marriage out of the defendant's own sphere of life; the passing under a false name; the ridiculous, or apparently ridiculous, accusation made against his kinsman; the murderous threats; the chastisement of his own paid agent who brought him a report which might not seem at all untrue to any one who knew not Madeline Rowan. Leaving out of the question what might be wrung from me in cross-examination, Ralph Carriston had a strong case, and I knew that, once in his power, my friend might possibly be doomed to pass years, if not his whole life, under restraint. So I was anxious, very anxious.

And I felt an anxiety, scarcely second to that which prevailed on Carriston's account, as to the fate of Madeline. Granting for sake of argument that Carriston's absurd conviction that no bodily harm had as yet been done her was true, I felt sure that she, with her scarcely less sensitive nature, must feel the separation from her lover as much as he himself felt the separation from her. Once or twice I tried to comfort myself with physician's cant, tried to persuade myself that a young woman could not in our days be spirited away—that she had gone by her own free will—that there was a man who had at the eleventh hour alienated her affections from Carriston. But I could not bring myself to believe this. So I was placed between the horns of a dilemma.

If Madeline had not fled of her own free will, some one must have taken her away, and if so our agent's report was a coined one; and, if a coined one, turned at Ralph's instance; therefore Ralph must be the prime actor in the mystery.

But in sober moments such a deduction clashed as utter absurdity.

Although I have said that Carriston was doing nothing towards clearing up the mystery, I wrong him in so saying. After his own erratic way he was at work. At such work, too! I really lost all patience with him.

He shut himself up in his room, out of which he scarcely stirred for three days. By that time he had completed a large and beautiful drawing of his imaginary man.

This he took to a well-known photographer's, and ordered several hundred small photographs of it to be prepared as soon as possible. The minute description which he had given me of his fanciful creation was printed at the foot of each copy. As soon as the first batch of these precious photographs was sent home, to my great joy he did what he should have done days ago: yielded to my wishes, and put the matter into the hands of the police.

I was glad to find that in giving details of what had happened, he said nothing about the advisability of keeping a watch on Ralph Carriston's proceedings. He did indeed offer an absurdly large reward for the discovery of the missing girl, and, moreover, gave the officer in charge of the case a packet of photographs of his phantom man, telling him in the gravest manner that he knew the original of that likeness had something to do with the disappearance of Miss Rowan. The officer, who thought the portrait was that of a natural being, took his instructions in good faith, although he seemed greatly surprised when he heard that Carriston knew neither the name nor the occupation, in fact, knew nothing concerning the man who was to be sought for. However, as Carriston assured him that finding this man would insure the reward as much as if he found Madeline, the officer readily promised to combine the two tasks, little knowing what waste of time any attempt to perform the latter must be.

Two days after this Carriston came to me. "I shall leave you to-morrow," he said.

"Where are you going?" I asked. "Why do you leave?"

"I am going to travel about. I have no intention letting Ralph get hold of me. So I mean to go from place to place until I find Madeline."

"Be careful," I urged.

"I shall be careful enough. I'll take care that no doctors, surgeons, or even apothecaries get on my track. I shall go just as the fit seizes me. If I can't say one day where I shall be the next, it will be impossible for that villain to know."

This was not a bad argument. In fact, if he carried out his resolve of passing quickly from place to place I did not see how he could plan anything more likely to defeat the intentions with which we credited his cousin. As to his finding Madeline by so doing, that was another matter.

His idea seemed to be that chance would sooner or later bring him in contact with the man of his dream. However, now that the search had been intrusted to the proper persons his own action in the matter was not worth troubling about. I gave him many cautions. He was to be quiet and guarded in words and manner. He was not to converse with strangers. If he found himself dogged or watched by anyone he was to communicate at once with me. But, above all, I begged him not to yield again to his mental infirmity. The folly of a man who could avoid it throwing himself into such a state ought to be apparent to him.

"Not oftener than I can help," was all the promise I could get from him. "But see her I must sometimes, or I shall die."

I had now given up as hopeless the combat with his peculiar idiosyncrasy. So, with many expressions of gratitude on his part, we bade each other farewell.

During his absence he wrote to me nearly every day, so that I might know his whereabouts in case I had any news to communicate. But I had none. The police failed to find the faintest clew. I had been called upon by them once or twice in order that they might have every grain of information I could give. I took the liberty of advising them not to waste their time in looking for the man, as his very existence was problematical. It was but a fancy of my friend's, and not worth thinking seriously about. I am not sure but what, after hearing this, they did not think the whole affair was an imagined one, and so relaxed their efforts.

Once or twice Carriston, happening to be in the neighborhood of London, came to see me, and slept the night at my house. He also had no news to report. Still, he seemed hopeful as ever.

The weeks went by until Christmas was over and the New Year began; but no sign, word or trace of Madeline Rowan. "I have seen her," wrote Carriston, "several times. She is in the same place—unhappy, but not ill-treated."

Evidently his hallucinations were still in full force.

* * * * * * *

At first I intended that the whole of this tale should be told by myself; but upon getting so far it struck me that the evidence of another actor who played an important part in the drama would give certain occurrences to the reader at first instead of second hand, so I wrote to my friend Dick Fenton, of Frenchay, Gloucestershire, and begged him, if he found himself capable of so doing, to so put in simple narrative form his impressions of certain events which happened in January, 1866; events in which we two were concerned. He has been good enough to comply with my request. His communication follows.

To be continued.

NEWS NOTES.

It is reported that 2,000 German officers entitled to retirement have asked to be kept in active service.

One of the features of the Queen's jubilee will be a state ball in the costumes of the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

The Paris Journal des Debats is convinced that Turkey will not agree to England's proposal to neutralize Egypt.

Ottawa is likely to prove a formidable competitor with Kingston for the possession of the proposed School of Practical Science for Eastern Ontario.

The National line steamship Holland was spoken on Feb. 14th seven hundred miles from Queenstown, returning to that port under sail with her propeller broken.

It is reported that 131,000 men have been thrown out of work in the United States by strikes and other causes since January 1st, entailing a loss in wages of $3,000,000.

"Honest" John O'Neill, one of the convicted New York boodle aldermen, was on Friday sentenced to four and a half years' imprisonment and fined $200, a new trial being refused.

The Prince of Wales has notified the Governors of New South Wales and Victoria that neither he nor the Princess will be able to visit Australia this year on the occasion of the centenary celebration.

HENFEED

Small Wheat - - - - - 90c per 100 lbs.
Barley - - - - - - - 95c per 100 lbs.
Pure Wheat Spring or Fall, $1.25 per 100 lbs.

J. W. FLAVELLE,
TELEPHONE CONNECTION. SIMCOE STREET.

MONEY TO LEND!

HAVING resigned his connection with the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Ld.,) the undersigned has made arrangements for lending an unlimited amount at SIX PER CENT, on terms more favourable than any Peterborough or Toronto Company, and will be pleased to see his many old friends with a view to making them new advances or readjusting their present Mortgages.

A. P. POUSSETTE.

Montreal Winter Carnival.

I WILL SELL ROUND TRIP TICKETS FOR THE CARNIVAL AT $6.40  $6.40

Going February 7th, 8th and 9th. Returning, leave Montreal not later than Feb. 12th

AT SINGLE FARE—$8.75

Going February 4th to 10th inclusive. Returns good to 16th February. No change of cars by the C.P.R. CHEAP RETURN TRIPS to Florida, Sanfrancisco, and lowest rates to all parts of the United States.

Canadian Pacific Rail Road; Allan Line Steamships; White Star Line Steamships; Malory Line Steamships; Dominion Express Co.; C.P.R. Telegraph Co.

ALEX. ELLIOTT, C.P.R. Passenger Agent.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md29w41

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises, I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills, Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. E. BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office.
Postal Address, Box 33. d115w2

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFACTURED of the Best Material by Skilful Workmen, at the shortest Notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

D. BELLECHEM,

Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms.

TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. 1yd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. 1yd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. 1yd97

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 690; residence, Reid street, near King. 1yd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 753. Residence, Bon Accord Street. 1yd97w1

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. 1yd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. 1yd97

W. FITZGERALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied. Houses and building lots for sale. Address, box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. 1yd97

General.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $30 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers—Or Five Million Readers. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 150 pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., New York.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take you LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bolero.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

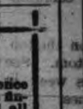
SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to



THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse. [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1. Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A. SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, etc., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed al Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed al Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market

RIVERSIDE PARK

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00
LADIES.....50

10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG,
Manager.

1d45

CHEAP GROCERIES

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for $1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for 1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for 1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar 1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar 1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins 25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants 25

S. SHANNON,
Ashburnham

d39

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	Orders.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. & O. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		12 00 p m
10 30 p m	Toronto and West, via G. & O. R.	12 00 p m
7 00 p m		10 15 p m
8 30 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	2 00 p m
10 30 a m	do East	6 00 p m
12 00 m	Midland, including all Post Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)	6 00 a m
3 30 p m		2 30 p m
6 00 a m	Millbrook and Port Hope	6 00 p m
6 15 p m	do	6 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 30 p m
	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst
4 00 p m	Fraserville & Springville	12 00 m
6 15 p m	Petersburg, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore	11 00 a m
2 30 p m		1 30 p m
	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Hamtain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clydesle, Faraday and Cheddar, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays
6 00 p m previous night		7 00 a m
	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily
11 00 a m		1 30 p m
	Graystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays
11 00 a m		2 30 p m
	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays
1 00 a m		1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 30 a m
	do do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays, Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	7 30 p m
9 00 a m		6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbadoes, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

DEPOSITS received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxemburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherlands, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamaica, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guiana, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, sold with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods,

Without which none are genuine.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

SPECIAL MEETING

MR. STEVENSON'S

Suporters are requested to meet in his COMMITTEE ROOMS on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock

A full attendance is requested, as business of special importance will be translated.

C. S. WALLIS, Secretary.

February 14th, 1887. d37

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1887.

THE MAYOR'S CHARITY.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Regarding the letter in last Saturday's Examiner signed "Elector" I desire to say that the answer I made to Mr. Kendry and Mr. Yelland when asked to subscribe was that I had as many charitable demands on me as I could attend to; that, if the town would give me $500 or $1,000 towards charity I would give them $100. All that passed was said laughingly and in a joke. I never intended it in any other way and I am sure they took the same view of it for they never since called on me for any part of it.

As to the other more serious statement that the $200 given me by the Council on motion of Mr. Yelland and which was meant in a measure to recoup my expenditure on charity, I wish to say that the grant was not sought after and was altogether unexpected by me. Not one cent of this money was ever used for any other purpose save for that of charity to the poor of Peterborough and I wish further to say that it did not repay me the one third of what I disbursed during the year to that end, as I can readily show any one who will call at my office.

Yours truly,
JAS. STEVENSON.

WEST PETERBOROUGH PROTEST.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Having heard it stated on the street that I was a party to, or approved of, the protest entered by Mr. Carnegie against Mr. Stratton's return as M. P. P., at the local election, I desire to state that such is altogether contrary to the fact. I was not consulted or spoken to about it, and I was in ignorance that it was intended to enter a protest until I learned that a petition had been filed. I regret that my opponents should now endeavor to make me responsible for Mr. Carnegie's act, over which I had no control, for I find it quite all I can do to undo the many false and malicious charges and gross slanders made against me for matters personal to myself, and for which, if true, I might be answerable, and I trust that no one will permit himself to be influenced by an altogether untruthful story invented merely to al lenate some of my supporters.

Yours truly,
JAS. STEVENSON.

Cold Weather.

The Rev. V. Clementi's self-registereing theronometer recorded 9 degrees below zero on Saturday night and 11 degrees below zero on Sunday night.

Very Likely.

The Mail in referring to the recent curling match in Toronto in which the Peterboroughs defeated the Granites and Caledonians says both of the home clubs "scraped" together a few players to give the visitors a game. Very likely, when the match was arranged for a week previous.

Carnival "Grip."

Toronto has not had an ice carnival, but it has had a carnival issue of a good paper, Grip by name. The paper has an illuminated cover, and a double-page colored centre plate, besides several political cartoons and smaller illustrations. It is a creditable production.

The Domestic fashion sheet for February has arrived at Turnbull's, call and get one.

Legal.

It will be seen by his advertisement that Mr. G. M. Roger, while retaining the management of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Co., is resuming the general practice of his profession, and with his many friends he will no doubt obtain a good share of the legal business of our community.

A commercial tester, we are on the top but our prices are at the bottom. See what Turnbull is showing this week in new bedroom chints and cretonnes.

Compulsory Pilot Clause.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 12.—The bill to repeal the compulsory pilot clause has been abandoned for this session by the shipping committee.

ASSESSORS APPOINTED.

A MEETING OF THE TOWN COUNCIL FOR GENERAL BUSINESS.

A Report From the Fire, Water and Light Committee—Resolutions on Various Matters.

A regular meeting of the Town Council was held this forenoon. All the members were present and the Mayor presided.

The MAYOR said the meeting was called for the purpose of appointing the assessors, as it was advisable for them to get to work as soon as they could.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON—Will we take up general business?

It was agreed that general business might be dealt with.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From E. Pearce, County Treasurer, stating that fines amounting to several hundred dollars from settlers in the County had been collected in the Police Court and paid to the Town Treasurer, and asking that they be handed over to him.—Finance Committee.

From Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, asking for balance $16.96, owing to the hospital for cure of child, who had died.—Finance Committee.

From J. E. McIntyre, F. J. Daly, T. Bradburn, W. Clancy and W Croft, asking for a reduction of billiard license.—License Committee.

From Messrs. Huston and Ranney, asking for the position of Town Engineer.—Committee on Appointments.

From J. B. Askwith, post office contractor, asking to be allowed to open the street to construct a drain.—Granted.

From J. L. Hughes, asking to be appointed assessor.—Committee on Appointments.

From the Nichols Hospital Trust, enclosing a statement stating that the amount expended in January, 1887, was $568.04 (including a balance from 1886); receipts from various sources, $36.00; amount required from town, $532.04, which the Trustees asked for.—Finance Committee.

ACCOUNTS.

The following accounts were read and referred to the Finance Committee, except that of J. Shannahan, which was ordered to be paid:—

J. Shannahan	$ 1 00
Geo. Hilliard	20 30
County of Peterborough	16 96
Western Ins. Co	5 00
E. Green, window shades	6 72
Hall, Innes & Co	31 85

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT.

Councillor MCNEIL read the following report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee:—

To the Mayor and Town Councillors:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report that we asked for tenders for the construction of a new hose waggon, and awarded the con contract to Fitzgerald & Stanger, they to supply the town with a new waggon for $180 and take the present waggon in part payment, allowing $100 for the same.

We would recommend that in future Terrence Smith hand in his time to the Clerk on the first of every month for the preceding month, stating how he was employed.

A. MCNEIL, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

ROSA'S BRIDGE.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON.—That the Clerk be instructed to furnish the Reeve of South Monaghan extracts from the minutes in reference to the construction of a bridge over the river at Rosa's.—Carried.

THE ASSESSORS.

Mr. KENDRY moved the first reading of a by-law to appoint assessors.—Carried.

The Council went into committee on the second reading, Councillor Douglas in the chair.

Councillor CAHILL moved that Mr. McGrath be appointed one of the assessors.—Carried.

Councillor MENZIES moved, seconded by Councillor KENDRY,—That Messrs Aldridge and Thomas McKee be appointed assessors.

Councillor MCNEIL moved, seconded by Councillor MOORE,—That Mr. McKee be appointed assessor.

Councillor YELLAND moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY,—That Mr. Aldridge be appointed.

Councillor DAVIDSON moved the previous question and Mr. Menzies' motion was put and lost.

Councillor YELLAND'S motion was put and resulted in a tie, and the Chairman voted for it.

Councillor HARTLY moved that Mr. McKee be appointed an assessor.

Councillor STENSON moved that Mr. J. L. Hughes be appointed.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON dealt at some length with the assessment of 1886, claiming that certain property owners in No. 1 Ward had not been dealt with justly. He also asserted that the poor men's houses were assessed at their full value and that houses of rich men were not.

Councillor KENDRY believed that the assessors last year had done their work well and to the best of their ability, but there had been complaints, and he therefore favored the appointment of three assessors.

Councillor CAHILL agreed with Councillor McNaughton that some of the assessments mentioned were not strictly just, but he defended other cases mentioned.

The motion appointing Mr. McKee third assessor was carried.

The salary was placed at $200 each.

The committee rose and reported and the by by law was read a third time on a division:

YEAS.—Councillors Cahill, Davidson, Stenson, Moore, Douglas, Menzies, Kendry and Hartley.

NAYS.—Councillors McNaughton, Kelly, McNeil and Yelland.

The assessors for this year are therefre Messrs. Aldridge, McGrath and McKee.

CHARITY.

Councillor YELLAND moved, seconded by Councillor STENSON,—That no order for charity be given except by the four members of the Charity Committee.

Councillor MOORE—What is the meaning of the motion?

Councillor YELLAND objected to the Mayor giving orders.

Councillor KENDRY said that it had always been the custom for Mayors to give charity, and Mr. Cox when Mayor, did it regularly.

The MAYOR said he gave orders before the Charity Committee was organized. He did not desire to give orders and would prefer to refer applicants to the Chairman of the Chalty Committee.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON said that he knew Mr. Stevenson was out of pocket hundreds of dollars, through charity, by being Mayor.

Councillor CAHILL said that no such motion had ever been moved before, and he thought it a small piece of business.

The motion was lost, the mover and seconder alone voting for it.

THE CHIEFSHIP.

Councillor MCNEIL moved, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That the Clerk be requested to notify Chief Cooper that his services will not be required after March 1st next.

Councillor MCNEIL read an opinion from the Town Solicitor that, if the Council did not intend to retain an officer's services, it would be advisable to give him notice.

Councillor CAHILL moved that the motion be referred to the Committee on Appointments.—Carried.

TAXES.

Councillor YELLAND moved, seconded by Councillor MOORE—That H. Baker's taxes be referred to the Court of Revision.—Carried.

Councillor HARTLEY moved, seconded by Councillor KENDRY—That Mrs. Plunkett's taxes be referred to the Court of Revision. Carried.

Councillor MCNEIL moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY—That the Chairman of the Property Committee have the stoppage in the drain leading from the town buildings removed.—Carried.

The Council adjourned for three weeks.

WATERED with dew of good intention, warmed by the sunshine of Fair dealing the dollar you bring us will grow and expand to colossal proportions. H. FAIR.

ITALIAN SHOOTING AFFRAY.

Marino Receives his Preliminary Trial This Morning.

The case of Marino, the Italian, charged with shooting Joseph Murphy with intent to murder, was heard at the Police Court this morning.

Marino, and a number of his friends, met in the Police Station before the court opened. Marino seemed in good spirits. He filled his pipe and chatted away in the vernacular of the sunny land. The case was called at eleven o'clock.

Dr. KINCAID was the first witness. He stated briefly that he was called on January 22nd to attend an Italian on Reid street. He found Joseph Murphy had been shot; that he probed for the bullet, and not succeeding in finding it treated the patient so as to prevent inflammation. The patient was now doing well.

FRANCIS DESAUTELS told substantially the same story in regard to himself as was stated in the REVIEW. The quarrel between himself and Marino took place in his part of the house. After some hot words Marino said, "Come out doors, Frank, I want to speak to you." But in Marino's hand he saw something gleaming in the light. He thought it was a knife. He declined to go out. After a time Murphy and Stapely seized Marino and pulled him into their part of the house. He then went into the garret thinking that if Marino didn't see him he would quiet down. When in his own garret he crossed over into the garret of Marino's part. In going along the joist he slipped his footing and one of his feet went through the plaster. The falling of the plaster was immediately succeeded by the firing of two shots. It was about half past twelve when he came for the police.

Cross questioned, he at first declined to say what the row was caused by. His objection being overruled by the Magistrate he stated that he quarrelled with Marino on account of the latter speaking privately to his (witnesses') wife. On returning from town he found Marino speaking apart with his wife. He said to Marino, "you have no business with my wife," and then the row commenced.

JOSEPH MURPHY, the wounded man, having arrived by a hack, was brought into court. He looked very pale and could scarcely walk. Frank Anthony was sworn in as interpreter. The statement given through the interpreter was as follows: Murphy went home at about 10 o'clock. The three Italians, the two Englishmen and their wives were there. They all sat down and drank liquor and talked. After drinking for a while the Italian Frank called the English Frank to come here. Murphy saw Italian Frank put his hand in his pocket. Murphy thought he was going to pull a revolver. Then Murphy said, "Hold on, Frank; stop the trouble." They then had some words about the wife. After this the two women, Murphy and Stapely, took hold of Italian Frank to stop the trouble. They took Italian Frank to the other part of the house. The roof fell down on them a little while afterwards and Frank Marino (Italian Frank) fired two shots upwards. While Murphy was going across the room Marino shot him. Marino did not say a word. He didn't say, "Joe, I want to shoot you." When Murphy stated that in his ante mortem examination he didn't know what he was saying. Murphy and Marino were good friends. They had no quarrel. Murphy had an axe in his hand, and was taking it from the Italian part to the English part of the house. He had not the axe in his hand the time he was shot.

JAMES PARANO, the man who was referred to previously as "Jim," was sworn. He stated that he went to sleep before the time of the trouble. The shots woke him up.

JAMES STAPELY, sworn, gave about the same evidence as the preceeding.

MRS. STAPELY, in her evidence, gave nothing new.

The prisoner was committed for trial.

Among Turnbull's new French dress goods will be found tints of peacock blue, also the new gobelin shade in several qualities with trimmings to match.

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a speciality. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

The Peace of Europe.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The Sun has the following cable despatch from Father O'Reilly:

GLENGARIFF, Feb. 11.—Pope Leo's action in Germany has secured the peace of Europe. The Emperor William will withhold the warlike manifesto he would otherwise have published.

Signed BERNARD O'REILLY.

The Knights of Labor Purchase.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—The Knights of Labor have purchased property on North Broad street for $65,000, and will be fitted up with offices to be occupied as the general headquarters of the order in the United States and Canada. All the printing of the order, including the Journal of United Labor, will be done in the building.

"THE union forever," sang the customer who saw we had united the best quality with the lowest price. R. FAIR.

Turnbull deals exclusively in the extremes, the best and the cheapest. See his new stock of print shirtings. See Sucker's white and grey cottons, cottonades and tweeds.

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN NERVOUS DEPRESSION.

Dr. F. W. Lytle, Lebanon, Ill., says: "I have personally used it with marked advantage, when overworked and the nervous system much depressed."

New Advertisements.

G. M. ROGER.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, NOTARY, &c Office of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company, Water street, Peterborough. d37-w7

LEGAL.

Having resumed the practice of the profession of the law in conjunction with my duties as manager of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company, I shall be pleased to undertake the transaction of any ordinary law business which friends may be kind enough to entrust to me.

C. M. ROGER,
Office of the P. R. E. I. Company, Water St. 10d37-10w7

RETIRING

from the Dry Goods Business.

$10,000.00

worth of Dry Goods must be sold before

The 15th day of March, 1887

AT

T. DOLAN & CO'S

As on the above mentioned date, the Dry Goods business carried on by T. Dolan & Co. for the past ten years, will pass into the hands of a new firm, we have decided to reduce our present magnificent stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods amounting to $30,000.00 to one half its volume. In order to accomplish this we have marked all our goods to the bare cost price.

JUST IMAGINE

$3,000 worth of Dress Goods at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Black and Colored Silks at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Mantle Cloths at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Gloves and Hosiery at Cost.

$3,000 worth of Cottons, Bleached and Unbleached, at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Cotton Shirting at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Domestics, etc., etc., at Cost.

$2,000 worth of Clouds and Woolen Goods at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Prints and Ginghams at Cost.

EVERYTHING AT COST

The goods must go. This is a genuine cash sale, and no hoax. Remember from now until March 15th, as after that date we intend to direct our attention exclusively to our Tailoring establishment.

T. Dolan & Co

W. W. Johnston & Co.

GIVING UP BUSINESS.

A GENUINE CLEARING OUT SALE.

Having decided to give up business, we will on and after SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15th, offer to the public

THE BIGGEST BARGAINS

They have seen for some time in DRY GOODS. We have marked down everything in the store to such low prices that all will be satisfied. This is not a sale of Winter Goods alone, but a closing out sale, and we will offer at Bargain Prices the Whole Stock, worth over $10,000, composed of the following:

Thousands of yards Dress Goods,
Thousands of yards Ribbon,
Thousands of yards Print,
Thousands of yards Cotton,
Thousands of yards Cotton Shirting,
Hundreds of yards Carpet,
Hundreds of yards Cashmere,
Hundreds of yards Velvets and Plushes,
Hundreds of yards Silks and Satins,
Hundreds of yards Cretonne,
Hundreds of yards Flannel,
Hundreds of yards Sheeting,

And a large stock of Woollen Goods, Muslins, Laces, Embroideries, Gloves, Hosiery and Small Wares.

TERMS STRICTLY CASH. Come and satisfy yourself that this is Peterborough's Biggest Closing Out Sale.

w5-d

W. W. Johnston & Co.

CHEAP MONEY.

THE PETERBOROUGH REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT CO.

(LIMITED.)

Is neither dead nor dying, but is prepared to lend money and on better terms than any other Company or person in Peterborough.

ANY REASONABLE TERMS OF REPAYMENT GRANTED,
STRAIGHT LOANS,
LOW RATES OF INTEREST,
NO FINES,
MODERATE CHARGES.

Remember that it is Cheaper and Safer to deal with friends at Home than with strangers abroad.

NO MIDDLE MEN.

Do your Business with the Lenders Themselves. Business transacted Privately, Promptly and Cheaply.

OFFICES—WATER STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

W. J. HALL, Inspector. d37w7 G. M. ROGER, Manager.

RETIRING

FROM THE BOOT AND SHOE BUSINESS.

R. STENSON & SON

Having decided on Retiring from Business, will receive Tenders up to the 21st of February next, at a rate on the Dollar, for the purchase en bloc of their Stock of Boots and Shoes, &c. The highest or any Tender not necessarily accepted.

If not then disposed of, the whole of the Stock will be sold in Quantities to Suit Purchasers.

ALL WINTER GOODS WILL BE SOLD AT COST FROM TO-DAY.

R. STENSON & SON.

Peterborough, Feb. 7th, 1887. 1md21w6

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT, Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d13

SMOKE AWAY DULL CARE!

GEO. W. RUBIDGE

(SIGN OF THE INDIAN QUEEN)

Has just received the largest and most varied assortment of BRIAR and MEERSHAUM PIPES ever brought to Peterborough, some of which are imported direct from celebrated makers in the old country.

CIGAR CASES & TOBACCO POUCHES

A very large assortment of the above goods in stock. Just the thing for a Birthday Present. Finest brands of IMPORTED and DOMESTIC CIGARS, TOBACCOS, Etc., always in stock.

LONGS' TWO STORES

Wedding Cakes and Oyster Patties made to order. A fine lot of Pears, Sweet Florida Oranges, Malaga Grapes, new English Walnuts, Almonds, Filberts, Brazil and Pecan Nuts, London Layer Raisins and Figs. Parties a Specialty.

LONG BROTHERS,
George St., Peterborough

DUNN'S BAKING POWDER

THE COOK'S BEST FRIEND

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 38. PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1887. TEN CENTS A WEEK

MARRIED.

WICKENS—DAVIS—On the 14th Feb., 1887, at the residence of the bride's mother, Peterborough, by the Rev. I. Tovell, R. WICKENS, Esq., of Toronto, to MATILDA DAVIS M. E. L., fifth daughter of the late Robert Meharry, of Cavan, Ont.

DIED.

COMSTOCK—On Tuesday, 15th February, ANNIE, youngest daughter of Mr. A. Comstock, aged 3 years and 2 months.

Funeral from the family residence on Wednesday, 16th inst., at 3 p.m.

PROBABILITIES.

Southerly, veering to westerly and north-westerly winds; cloudy, mild weather with sleet or rain, followed towards evening by clearing and colder weather.

R. FAIR,

CIRCULAR
CIRCULAR CIRCULAR CIRCULAR

PILLOW
PILLOW
PILLOW
PILLOW

COTTONS
COTTONS
COTTONS
COTTONS

IN ALL WIDTHS
IN ALL WIDTHS
IN ALL WIDTHS
IN ALL WIDTHS

NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE

NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE

NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE

ASK TO SEE THEM
ASK TO SEE THEM
ASK TO SEE THEM
ASK TO SEE THEM

R. FAIR,

Sign of the Golden Lion, George Street.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!

To Loan Upon Real Estate.

IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.

W. H. MOORE.
Solicitor.

d104w18

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training. $70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.

BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario.

Wood and Coal.

COAL AND WOOD FOR SALE.

COAL hard and soft, all kinds, delivered without extra charge in quantities to suit purchasers at lowest prices. Wood, Beech and Maple, first-class sawed long and short, delivered in cords or half cords at lowest prices and upon shortest notice. Orders left at my office at T. Hurley's, Hunter Street will receive prompt attention. Terms cash.

d118 JAMES GALVIN.

COAL! COAL!

THE UNDERSIGNED KEEPS ALWAYS ON HAND at his coal yard, all kinds of

THE BEST COAL

which will be delivered (free of charge for cartage) to any part of the town. Terms Cash.

d&w JAMES STEVENSON.

General.

WORKING JEWELLER.

Z. B. D. LAFLEUR.

JEWELLERY made to order and repaired on the premises. Old gold melted and made into wedding rings, etc. Gold and silver plating and engraving. Simcoe street, west of George.

Wants.

WANTED.

A GOOD GENERAL SERVANT, good wages, no washing. Apply at this office. d38

WANTED.

A GOOD GENERAL SERVANT, liberal wages. Apply to MRS. SHERWOOD, Inglewood. d38

WANTED.

A GOOD GENERAL SERVANT. Also A NURSE. No washing. Highest wages. Apply REVIEW Office. d33

Legal.

A. P. POUSSETTE, Q. C., B. C. L.

SOLICITOR, &c., Water Street, Peterborough. d32w7

E. B. EDWARDS.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, &c., Peterborough, Ont., Office:—Cox's Block, George Street, above Telegraph Office. d1w10

E. H. D. HALL,
SUCCESSOR TO DENNISTOUN & HALL.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR AND NOTARY, Office:—Hunter Street, near the English Church. MONEY TO LOAN at lowest rates of Interest.

JOHN BURNHAM.

BARRISTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, an SOLICICITOR IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER, &c—Office:—Next to the Post Office, entrance of George street. d&w

W. H. MOORE,

BARRISTER, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, etc. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over McClelland's Jewellery Store. d118w18

C. W. SAWERS,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, Solicitor in the Supreme Court, Conveyancer, Notary, &c. Office:—Market block, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. MONEY TO LOAN. d103w18

HATTON & WOOD.

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, &c. Office:—Corner of George and Hunter Streets, over T. Dolan & Co's store. MONEY TO LOAN.

E. E. WOOD, B.A. G. W. HATTON.

G. M. ROGER.

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, NOTARY, &c Office of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company, Water street, Peterborough. d37-w7

Professional.

RICHARD B. ROGERS.

CIVIL ENGINEER, PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR, Superintending Engineer Trent Canal Works. Office Post Office Block, George Street. w42

GEO. W. RANEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER, ARCHITECT, SOLICITOR FOR PATENTS. Plans, Estimates and Surveys of any description made. Office: West side of George street, over Bank of Commerce. d41w18

Physicians.

DR. HALLIDAY,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE Water Street, opposite Court House Square. d120w22

FRED. H. BRENNAN., M. D., C. M.

FELLOW OF TRINITY MEDICAL SCHOOL Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Office on Hunter street opposite St. John's Church. d120w22 15

C. COLLINS M. D., C. M.,
M. R. C. P. S. O.,

GRADUATE of Queen's University, Kingston. Office:—Burnham's Block, Simcoe Street, between T. Kelly's Dry Goods Store and Phelan's Hotel. All calls, night or day promptly attended to. d110w2

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW

Successor to J. D. Pentland.

GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto Schoool of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough. lyd&w

Musical.

A. F. HOOVER,

LATE of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Leipsig, Germany, teacher of pianoforte and harmony. Particular attention given to the development of a good technique and the grading of studies. Highest testimonials received from the Leipsig Conservatory. For particulars apply at

Mr. Hoover's Residence
DUBLIN STREET, WEST OF GEORGE
d111w6

Mr. D. B. MacDuff

VIOLIN & VOICE CULTURE

ITALIAN METHOD.

For terms apply to Mr. E. J. Hartley, or at my residence, George street north. lyd11

NOTICE.

ALL KINDS of String Instruments repaired, Violin Bows haired Old Instruments bought or exchanged. The Guitar taught in 12 lessons. Two or three first-class Violins and Guitars for sale or trade. N. WALKE, Drill Shed, Murray St., Peterborough. d1y

MR. J. S. PARKER,

ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER at St. Paul's Church, Peterborough. Rooms over Hartley's Music Store, Hunter St. d13

BUSINESS CHANGE

AT

THOMAS KELLY'S.

The Whole Stock to be sold out before the 1st July next.

AT THE SIGN

OF THE

Cross Cut Saw

Brackets, Rods and Rings for Vestibule or Peek-a-Boo Curtains.

Tea Trays and Waiters in sets and singly, of the newest and most elegant patterns.

Clarke's Celebrated Razors, unequalled by any other make, either English or German.

Extra plated Table and Dessert Knives, only $3.00 per dozen.

A small job lot of real Silver Plated Tea Spoons at $1.00 per dozen.

GEORGE STETHEM.

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1887.

EMPEROR WILLIAM.

His Precarious Condition—Not Expected to Live Many Months.

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—Emperor William's condition is much more serious than is generally known. His bladder and kidneys are much worse, and his frequent loss of blood greatly alarms his physicians. He has been unable to attend any festivities for some time. This explains Bismarck's appeal to the German people not to indulge in noisy manifestations outside the palace, as in customary on the Emperor's birthday, on March 22. His immediate attendants do not believe he can last more than a few months, and even should he rally, which is extremely doubtful, he can never again be what he was even three months ago.

CANADA AND NEWFOUNDLAND.

Some Reasons Why the Colony Should Enter the Confederation.

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 13.—The Herald publishes a special from St. John's arguing in favor of Newfoundland joining the Confederation. It comes out that Newfoundland is as dependent upon the fisheries to-day as she was twenty years ago; that, while the population had enormously increased the average catch and value of fish materially declined, with the result that a large portion of the population is face to face with starvation. Last year the Government spent $130,000 in education and $400,000 in pauper relief of a population of only two hundred thousand. Newfoundland has a "tariff for revenue only," but the Customs duties average $6 per capita against only $4 80 in highly protected Canada. Newfoundland imports everything she consumes, Canada largely supplies herself. Newfoundland fishermen have to pay a revenue duty on everything they use and eat, while Canadian fishermen get nearly all their imported goods duty free and a large bounty besides. Canada compels the Imperial assent to her bait bill; Newfoundland is completely disallowed, although their very existence as a colony depends upon it. If Newfoundland cannot become a part of the Confederation it will soon be in as infinitely worse position than Ireland.

One Cent Blake.

At the Industrial League meeting in Toronto on Saturday evening, Mr. Cockburn compared Blake, Cartwright and Mills to the three witches in Macbeth, who would give Canada "Double, double, toil and trouble," if put in power. His description of Mr. Blake, after twelve years cogitating bringing forward the great fiscal reform the abolition of the duty on cornmeal, which would save each person in Canada one cent per annum, elicited immense laughter and applause. He said Mr. Blake will be known as "One cent Blake," and asked them if they did sell themselves, to get a bigger price than one cent.

Strike Settled.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 12.—The strike on the Pittsburg, McKeesport and Youhiogheny railroad has been settled, the company conceding an increase in the wages demanded.

RIEL bargains in Factory and White Cottons at Rowse's Trade Palace. Special reductions by the Piece.

SEVERE WINTER IN LABRADOR.

Death of an Old Settler—The Seal Fishery Moderately Fair.

GODBOUT, Que., Feb. 14.—The first mail from Blanc Sablon arrived at Moisie River on Friday, 11th inst. The letters report a very severe winter on the Labrador coast, also the death of Mr. Robinson, of Lalaballiere, on the 29th December. Deceased was one of the oldest inhabitants of that region, and was well known in Quebec. The seal net fishery last autumn has been moderately fair. About two thousand seals were captured altogether between the different stations there. At Pointe des Montes seal hunting was a complete failure, owing to strong winds and an unusual quantity of ice.

LONDONDERRY IRON MINES

To Resume Operations Extensively Provided the National Policy is Sustained.

LONDONDERRY MINES, N. S., February 14.—For some two years the Londonderry iron mines have been in financial difficulties, and have been partially closed down and a large number of men thrown out of employment. Recently, however, the Montreal Syndicate, who hold the controling interests, have secured enough capital to restart the works on a new and permanent basis, and carry on operations on a very extensive scale providing the National Policy is sustained, but nothing will be done till after the elections. The manager of the works vouches for the accuracy and reliability of this statement. The people of this port of Colchester will therefore poll an almost unanimous vote for the Postmaster-General, Hon. Mr. McClelan. Many hundred men were employed in the mines, and hundreds of thousands of dollars were circulated annually for labour and material.

ANTI-NATIONAL CONSPIRACY.

Money Paid by Pittsburg Manufacturers for the Purpose of Defeating the National Policy.

TORONTO, Feb. 14.—The Standard this morning says:—"We charge specifically, and have evidence in support thereof, that the iron manufacturers of the Pittsburg district, Pennsylvania, have raised a large sum of money to be used in the Dominion elections against Sir John Macdonald's Government on assurances which the said manufacturers have received from Ontario Grits, that Sir John's defeat would mean the repeal of the N.P. and the opening of Canadian markets to American manufacturers. We charge specifically that one hundred and fifty thousand dollars (150,000) was sent from this fund to Toronto ten days ago, and that more is to follow if needed. We charge specifically that this money is being used is counties; that some of it have already found its way into Conservative hands in constituencies even were were hitherto bribery has been unknown, to say nothing of almost open bribery on the part of the Grits in other counties of more or less notoriety. Advices from Montreal state that evidence have been secured there that a large sum has been sent into Quebec counties from the United States to be used in the Grit interest. Some of this money, we are informed, has been captured. In Nova Scotia it is notorious that American money is being freely used, with the idea that the defeat of Sir John would be immediately followed by the throwing open of the Canadian fisheries to American fishermen."

Just received at Turnbull's, an assortment of New Patterns in Cottonades and Shirtings. Warranted fast colors, and prices the lowest in the market.

A $4,000 BRIBE.

What an American Manufacturer Has Contributed to Burst the N. P.

Mr. S. H. Pocock, saw manufacturer, of this city, has been shown a letter from an employee of the great manufacturing firm of H. Disston & Sons, of Philadelphia, to a friend in Hamilton. This letter contained information which is of interest to every citizen of this country and especially to the people of this manufacturing city. The employee from whom the letter comes is high in the confidence of the firm, and the statement which he makes is one that should not be lightly considered. He writes that Mr. Disston, the head of the firm, had sent to Canada $4,000 for the use of the Reform party in the present campaign, and that before he sent the contribution he received a written guarantee that the tariff on the class of goods manufactured by his firm would be lowered if the Reform party came into power. Disston and Sons are the most extensive manufacturers of saws, edge tools and wood-working machinery in in the United States, and before the days of the N. P. they practically controlled the Canadian market. But since the enforcement of the National Policy the importation of the goods has been restricted, and the result has been that several factories have been established in Hamilton, St. Catharines, Galt and elsewhere, to supply the demand of the Canadian market. The Disstons have been fighting the N. P. from the first, and have made many attempts to swamp the new struggling industries that owed their existence to it, by putting immense quantities of goods into the Canadian market in spite of the tariff, and sacrificing them; but hitherto these efforts have been unavailing. Mr. Disston was heard to say recently that he regarded this contest as decisive so far as the tariff is concerned. He had, he said, been fighting the N.P. for eight years without success, and he was going to quit after the present campaign. If the Reformers were put in power, he would be satisfied; but if the N. P. were sustained, he would, instead of continuing to fight it, come over to Canada and start a factory. This $4,000 is Mr. Disston's last thrust at the N.P.; but it is not the first one of the kind that he has given, for he is known to have contributed generously to the Reform election fund in 1878 and 1882.—Hamilton Spectator.

Ladies will do well to remember that Turnbull is showing piles of New Dress Goods and Trimmings in all the latest shades. His Clearing Sale of Spring Goods is now going on.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

CARDINAL TASCHEREAU.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—Cardinal Taschereau, while here, only received visits from Canadians and Church dignitaries. He was reserved in expressing his opinions, but had no sympathy with Dr. McGlynn, though, looking at the latter's enormous influence, he may advise the Pope to conciliate him.

TO PROTECT THE FISHERIES.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The Admiralty department has ordered two additional gunboats to Halifax to protect the Canadian fisheries.

A PRESENT FOR A PRINCE.

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—Prince Alexander has received an album, covered with red velvet and adorned with silver and gold letters and figures, containing the portraits of the officers of the First Bulgarian Regiment of Infantry, of which the Prince was formerly Honorary Colonel.

CHINA PREPARING.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—A St. Petersburg despatch says that China is massing troops in Kashgar and Kulja, and that 20,000 men have already assembled in these districts.

AN EXPERIMENT.

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—A fort, created at Cummersdorf, an exact replica of the French frontier forts, was destroyed in 48 hours by the new explosive.

GERMAN TROOPS.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Paris papers continue to publish details of the movements of German troops in Alsace, vouching for the accuracy of their statements.

BUYING TIMBER.

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—Private telegrams received at Berlin state that the French Government is purchasing further supplies of timber in Boehmerwald, to be delivered to the commander at Nancy by the beginning of March.

FOR ARMAMENTS.

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—Herr Krupp has issued a stirring appeal to his 20,000 employees to vote for the septennate.

CONSPIRACY IN RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 14.—Twenty-five cadets and officers have been arrested for connection with the recently discovered conspiracy against the Russian Government. The Grand General of the Staff of the Academy is implicated. Nearly all the prisoners are connected with the naval and military schools. Among others are several university students.

ABYSSINIAN VICTORY.

ROME, Feb. 14.—A despatch from General Gene, the Italian commander at Massowah, dated February 9, says the situation was unchanged. King John of Abyssinia was sending troops to Aggrat. A force commanded by a son of the King had fought a sanguinary battle with the Soudanese near Meteweh, which resulted in a victory for the Abyssinians.

A SHARP TRICK.

DUBLIN, Feb. 14.—Mr. Dillon has done a smart thing. The Attorney-General wanted to conduct the prosecution, and the comfortable fee of £700 had been given him. But Mr. Dillon supœnaed him as a witness for the defence, and legal etiquette has compelled him to drop the prosecution and the fee.

MR. LABOUCHERE'S MOVE.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—To-morrow it is the intention of Mr. Labouchere to move the adjournment of the House of Commons and orginate a debate on the trial, sending for Mr. Dillon to come over and participate, as such a motion allows of a general debate. It is contempt of court for the press to comment on the pending trial, but Parliament is supreme.

IRISH INDUSTRIES.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—In the House of Lords, Baron Fitzgerald (Liberal) said that before there could be peace and prosperity in Ireland the land question must be settled and that industries must be encouraged. He reminded members that since the 16th century the whole course of legislation had been to repress Irish industries.

NOT A PAN-SLAVIST.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 14.—The Czar is reported to have said, the pan-Slavist agitations are antagonistic to the great Russian policy, and have assisted in entailing Bulgaria's confusion. Pan-Slavism cannot be identified with the monarchical policy, to which it is opposed in any respect."

AUSTRIA ARMING.

VIENNA, Feb. 14.—The staff of the Steyr rifle factory has been quadrupled, and work has been given to other factories. Repeating rifles cannot be supplied for the whole army until the end of May.

IMPERIAL MANIFESTO.

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—The Vossischeszeitung says the Emperor William will issue a manifesto on the 19th inst., and that the Government hopes the lateness of its appearance will prevent discussion by the press.

AN INNOCENT MISSION.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 14.—The journey to Paris of Gen. Martynoff, to which rumor has attached political importance, is made solely for the purpose of purchasing horses, Gen. Martynoff being chief of the Imperial stables.

BUSINESS AT A STANDSTILL.

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—A leading manufacturer at Elberfeld declares that business is at a standstill there owing to fears of a French attack upon Germany.

CARDINAL TASCHEREAU.

ROME, Feb. 14.—The Propaganda will give a banquet in honour of Cardinals Taschereau and Gibbons after the consistory. Cardinal Taschereau resides at the French Seminary at Santa Chiard.

AWAITING THE RESULT.

HALIFAX Feb. 11.—In conversation with Mr. Patterson, of Gillespie Moffatt & Co., of Montreal, who has been to England raising money to carry on the iron works at Londonderry, Mr. Kenny asked Mr. Patterson if he succeeded in raising money, and being answered in the affirmative, he asked if work could be immediately recommenced. Mr. Patterson said: "It would not be till after the election as they did not intend putting money into iron works till they ascertained whether or not the people of Canada were prepared to stand by the National Policy."

SCOTCH QUESTIONS.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The House of Commons this evening resumed the debate on the address in reply to the Queen's speech. An amendment offered by Mr. Esslemont (Liberal) in favour of an inquiry into the condition of farm labourers in Scotland, was rejected by a vote of 193 to 93. An amendment offered by Mr. Campbell, in favour of Local Government in Scotland and other parts of the kingdom, was withdrawn after a short discussion.

VOTING INSTRUCTIONS.

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—The Bishop of Strasburg has sent a circular to the clergy in his diocese, directing their attention to the Vatican's instructions with reference to the Septennate bill.

A POLICE ATTACK.

DUBLIN, Feb. 14.—It is reported that a body of police at Loughrea to-day broke a tavern and stole a quantity of liquor. They afterwards, it is said, made an unprovoked attack upon a number of citizens, wounding several with their batons.

REPORT DENIED.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The British Foreign Office has a despatch from Capetown denying the report that Dr. Emil Holub and his party have been massacred.

PROLONGED WAR EXPECTED.

ROME, Feb. 14.—A prolongued war between the Italians and Abyssinians is expected. No notification of a blockade has been given at Massowah. Prince Louis Napoleon, has asked for permission to accompany the Italian troops to Massowah.

A DIAMOND RING.

ROME, Feb. 14.—The Armenian Patriarch at the Pope's reception to-morrow will present his Holiness with a diamond ring from the Sultan of Turkey.

HUNGARIAN WAR CREDIT.

PESTH, Feb. 14.—The leaders of the different parties in the Lower House of the Hungarian Diet have agreed to pass to-morrow a credit of $3,000,000 florins for the organization of the Landsturm.

ACTIVITY IN GUN WORKS.

VIENNA, Feb. 14.—The staff of the Steyr rifle factory has been quadrupled and work has been given to other factories. Repeating rifles cannot be supplied for the whole army until the end of May.

A POLICE SEARCH.

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—The Strasburg police are busily engaged on the work of searching the houses of the people for the alleged purpose of ascertaining the nature of the relations of the French populace of Alsace-Lorraine with the organization known as the "French Patriotic League."

THE TEMPLE AT DELPHI.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—M. Montholn, the French Minister to Greece, has concluded the negotiations commenced by his predecessor, Count de Mouy, who was an enthusiast on the subject of antiquities. As the result of their efforts Greece has given to France permission to excavate at Delphi for the remains of the temple. M. Montholn had a keen rival in the American representative.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

FOUND A POLICY.

The policy of the Liberal leaders will be to stand by their political friends and to distribute political favors among them.—Ottawa Free Press (Reform).

WAIT AND SEE.

The manager of a large industrial establishment reported to the President of the company only a few days ago that more machinery was needed. "Well," replied the president, "let us wait till after the elections, and see whether or not we shall need it."—Hamilton Spectator.

WAIT FOR THE 22ND.

Nova Scotia and New Brunswick opposition candidates have no hesitation in stating that they intend to do away with the flour duties. With them it is "cheap flour" as the rallying cry, and "the duties will be taken off if Blake gets in." Only this week one of our largest millers in trying to place 500 barrels of flour in Halifax, received the following reply to his telegram:—"No more flour required here until after the 22nd."—Galt Reporter.

BARNUM'S SOLUTION.

This is P. T. Barnum's proposed solution of the license question: "Until public opinion will abolish them, it is evident to every sensible person who will impartially examine the subject, that there should be but one liquor license to every 100 male adults. These licenses should be sold at auction, thoroughly advertised in advance, starting the first bid at $200." We wonder what some of our Toronto saloon licenses, near the centre, would fetch if put up at auction. Something big and handsome, we dare say. Take Canada and the States all over there would literaly be "millions in it" were all the hotel and saloon licenses disposed of on Barnum's plan.—Toronto World

A BAIT TO CATCH VOTES.

Mr. Blake, as is abundantly evident from his late speeches, wishes friend and foe to believe that he has ceased to oppose the National Policy. Whether he does this from policy or conviction makes no difference to the honest Liberal free trader. What concerns him is that Mr. Blake has with his own hand thrown down the other division between him and the Conservative. He cannot bring himself to suppress his convictions an turn his back upon his past as readily as Mr. Blake does. He sees now that that the only choice that is left him is to support the party which is protectionist from conviction, or to continue to follow a leader who for expediency sake, and in opposition to his declared principles, has proposed to adopt the policy of protection. Being an honest man himself he pays little attention to those of the party that still bears the name of Liberal who tell him that Mr. Blake is not in earnest, that he is now as much a free trader as ever he was, and that he only pretends to favor protection just now to enable him the more easily to dish the Tories. He sees that the man who takes up a policy that he does not believe in to dish the Tories will, whenever it suits his purpose, do the same thing to humbug the Liberals. The more he thinks over the matter the greater is his dissatisfaction with Mr. Blake's turning and twisting on the trade question, and he naturally comes to the conclusion that if he is to support a party that is to continue to carry out the N. P. he will rather vote for the party that established it and is honesty in favor of it than for the men who do not believe in it, but merely use it as a bait to catch votes with.—Montreal Star (Indep.)

J. J. Daly's Restaurant.

Corner of Market Square and George Streets, is now open. Meals served at all hours. Oysters in all shapes a specialty. Also Fish, Steak, Canned Lobsters, etc., etc. Everything in Season furnished at a minutes notice. Charges moderate.

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1887.

COTTON AND WOOLLEN DUTIES.

THERE is one point of agreement between the opponents of the N.P., whether they go to their one extreme of denouncing any protection as a robbery or to their other extreme of pretending to accept our present tariff with trifling modifications. Greatly as they may differ in their expressions of hostility to the tariff adopted and retained by the people of Capada, they all agree in asking that duties should be lowered on certain articles which we produce and raised on certain articles which we do not produce.

Even professed protectionists among Mr. Blake's followers, and they are but an insignificant minority of the minority, attempt to curry favour with the bulk of the electors by suggesting that the tariff favours the rich more than the poor purchaser, and that they would remedy this injustice. They especially instance cotton and woollen goods, alleging that the duty at so much a yard is a higher percentage on cheap than on dear goods. This is evident, but in the next step of their argument they display either their dishonesty or ignorance, for they proceed to state quite inaccurately that the poor man pays the higher duty, that he is more heavily taxed. The fact is that the poor man, or any man who is content with our excellent staple goods, is not taxed a cent—does not pay one cent for duty on his purchases. Neither does he pay indirectly to the manufacturer, who is enabled by his secure and enlarged market and is induced by home competition to sell his goods cheaper than before, as anyone may learn by enquiry. The rich man, who wants superfine goods, and this includes anyone who in prosperous times feels rich enough to indulge in the luxury once in a while, does pay the duty on the imported article he buys, and thus contributes to the revenue. The poor man and the economical man can clothe himself without contributing to the revenue. It is the rich man who pays the taxes, and thus helps to meet expenditure for the good of the whole community, but he does it not of necessity, but of his own free will.

These being the facts it is evident that duties for revenue and duties for protection stand on a very different footing and it is absurd to compare them. A protective duty for an industry we wish to encourage must be fixed at a figure that will exclude wholly or in great part foreign competing goods. The amount necessary to attain this end may vary according to circumstances; for instance during the civil war and for some time after, its influence upon the industries of the United States made a comparatively low duty sufficiently protective for our Canadian factories. As long as it shut out the foreign goods there was no need to raise it.

Duties for revenue have to be determined by quite different considerations. They should not be so high as to discourage importations of the article to be taxed, or the very object aimed at would be defeated. They should be so arranged as not to press unduly on any class in obtaining a revenue. As our tariff is arranged the rich and luxurious not the poor and economical have to provide the bulk of our public income, but so long as they do not complain surely no one else need.

The false impression of unfairness that the opponents of the N. P. endeavour to convey is founded on the fallacy that a duty that is not paid is a tax. It would be as fair to urge that the fines paid for drunkenness in our Police Court are a tax upon our sober men. The sober man does not get drunk and does not pay the fine so he is not taxed. The poor or economical man does not use imported clothing, and does not pay the duty, so he is not taxed.

If these tariff for revenue men succeeded in deluding the people into accepting their fallacious theory and readjusting the duties on textiles so as to make them exactly the same percentage on the value, what would be the result? As we have said it would be reducing the duties on the goods we produce and increasing the duties on the goods we import. Goods to compete with those we now produce would be imported and the poor and economical men and women who now buy free Canadian cottons and woollens would buy imported cottons and woollens paying duty, while the rich and luxurious restrained by the increased duty on their goods at present imported would be inclined to restrict their purchases, so that less duty would be paid by them and more by the poor man, the burden being actually shifted in a measure the wrong way.

So much for the effect upon purchasers. Now what would be the effect upon the manufacturers? Deprived of their secured and enlarged market, subject to imported goods displacing part of their output, and being always liable to a sudden glut of the market by the sacrifice of foreign surplus stocks, they would find their business no longer remunerative or safe, they would close their mills or perhaps run them on short time with few hands, in the hope of a change for the better.

What would be the effect upon the operatives? They would have their choice—they might starve or leave the country, or betake themselves to some other already overcrowded industry.

What would be the effect upon the community? Farmers, storekeepers, other manufacturers, professional men, the whole community in short would lose the custom of the manufacturers and operatives thus driven away or ruined. As purchasers also they would lose, for experience, not mere theory, shows that the foreign manufacturer, when he had crushed out our competition with him, would be likely to rise prices, as he did before.

So far we have chiefly considered the effect of reducing the duties on the goods we produce; now let us glance at the effect of increasing the duties on goods we do not produce. There is little probability that these increased duties of superfine goods would induce the manufacture of them in Canada at present, for the demand is too small and the required appliances to costly. Thus the raised duties would not have a protective influence on any Canadian industry, and it would be quite as likely to diminish as to augment the customs receipts from these superfine goods.

The only points as to which the "revenue tariff" men condescend to details in their proposals to make our system perfect, show that they would blunder, because their whole theory is erroneous. This being the case their changes as regards other industries are almost certain to be prejudical also.

IMMIGRATION EXPENDITURE.

IN pursuance of the attempts made by Mr. Blake's friends to give the people of Canada a false impression that the Macdonald Admiuistration has enormously increased the expenditure on immigration, the London Advertiser gives a long string of figures, without any additions or divisions to show the gross result. It relies upon the improbability of its readers making the calculations for themselves, and proceeds to pick out such figures as can be twisted to suit its purpose.

We have added up the Advertiser's figures, though they are unfair to the Conservatives, and present the results obtained from its own data.

The total expenditure on immigration and quarantine by the Reformers in five years was $1,541,829, making a yearly average of $308,366.

The total expenditure of the Conservatives in the seven years to June, 1885, was $2,418,769, making a yearly average of $345,538.

There is thus an apparent yearly average of $37,172 against the Conservatives. If this were true, we do not believe that any reasonable man would think an addition of $37,172 to the Reform expenditure of $308,366, an increase of only 12 per cent. was excessive, when it is considered that there was the additional work of settling the North-West, which the Conservatives had opened up, but which the Reformers had left to the Indians.

But the Advertiser practices a dishonest trick, for it stops at 1885, because it knows that last year the expenditure was so greatly reduced, as much of the necessary work had been accomplished, that the reduction has virtually wiped out the small excess of Conservative over Reform expenditure before them. Yet in dealing with the debt and the general public expenditure the Advertiser includes the figures for last year, because it can thus bring in the cost of suppressing the Grit rebellion in the Northwest.

In dealing with the details of the figures the Advertiser takes care not to say that the expenditure of the Reformers on immigration was vastly greater in its first year, than in the preceding Conservative Administration's expenditure in its last or any former year. It also conceals the fact that the Reform expenditure increased for the first 4 years, till in 1887 it exceeded the Conservative expenditure of 1873 by no less a sum than $66,583 their average for those four years being much higher than the average of the second Macdonald Administration.

It is true that in 1878 they reduced the expenditure on immigration for the sake of making a pretence at economy, as they also greatly reduced the expenditure on Militia and on Public Works, swallowing up, however, nearly all thus spared, in extravagant expenditure in matters which afforded means of rewarding their friends and dependents. Their economy was much as if an individual were to stop buildings in progress, cease insuring and advertising, while increasing his profuse personal expenditure.

The truth is that the Reform expenditure on immigration was for less economical than that of the Conservatives, for there was less return in proportion to the money laid out. They greatly increased the outlay with very little to show for it.

A GRAVE DANGER.

A LEADER of the Reform party—the leader of the party in Nova Scotia—says that the Reformers of that Province will "press repeal to the bitter end." That is, they will endeavor to dismember this Dominion—will, after getting their debts assumed along with the other Provinces, try to break up the confederation and leave the other Provinces to pay the debt they owe. Apart from the financial question altogether, are Canadians willing to allow a Province to secede whenever it chooses to do so? Are they pleased to see leaders of a party preaching such dangerous political doctrine, and will they approve of such conduct? The people of the United States shed their blood to maintain their nation intact, and are Canadians so careless of their country's welfare that they will countenance secession rather than vote against their party? Mr. Jones was a member of Mr. Mackenzie's Cabinet, but Canada does not want an avowed and determined enemy of the country to be chosen as one of its rulers. The only way to keep Mr. Jones, the secessionist, out of power is to oppose the candidates of the party of which he a leader.

Mr. Gladstone accuses the Tories, in pursuit of their usual policy, of delaying Irish legislation that they will ultimately have to grant.

BUY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER!

GOUGH

MOVES INTO HIS NEW STORE ABOUT THE FIRST OF FEBRUARY NEXT.

The Store heretofore known as the Bon Marche, is being refitted and remoddeled on a Grand Scale, after the plan of a Clothing House in New York, which is the finest on the Continent, and from now until day of removal, I will sell OVERCOATS at the following MARVELLOUS REDUCTIONS:

$18.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $9.00
$12.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $8.00
$10.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $6.50
$8.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $5.75
$6.00 OVERCOATS	FOR $3.75

All our Overcoats must go before removing. Don't miss the chance. The goods are all marked in plain figures and it is an easy matter to see if we make the reduction. Or, if any person doubts the genuineness of this sale, let them bring some person along who bought an Overcoat from me one week ago, and see what I will sell one like it for now. Remember for two weeks only. Don't miss it. You cannot buy the cloth for the money.

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

ORIGIN OF ST. VALENTINE'S DAY.

Formerly in Greece there was a festival held in honour of Pan and Juno, and at this festival it was the custom for the names of young women to be placed in boxes and to be drawn by men at hap-hazard, which custom continued long after the introduction of Christianity, and in spite of the strictures of the clergy, who, unable to check the ribaldry which not unfrequently attended this festive game, tried to conform it to Christian principles, and substituted for the maidens' names the names of saints, and called the festival by the name of St. Valentine, whose day happened to fall about this time, and who, poor man, suffered the cruel martyrdom of being beaten to death by clubs in the year 270 A. D., and who was in no way suitable for connection with anything of a gay or festive nature. This substitution of the drawing of saints' names does not appear to have found favour with those who were accustomed to their little amorous game at this time, for an old writer, Misson by name, tells us how in England on S. Valentines day an equal number of maids and men were in the habit of writing their names on slips of paper and of drawing them alternately from a ballot box. Each man called the maid he had drawn his Valentine, and the company of both sexes were in the habit of giving gay entertainments to their friends, at which the gentleman wore in his coat the sign or token of his valentine. Subsequently the drawer of the token found it obligatory on him to present his valentine with a valuable present, and the excess to which young men would go on this occasion is illustrated by the fact that Miss Stuart, afterwards Duchess of Richmond, got a jewel from her young man of the value of £800. Fortunately for the purses of later generations of young men this excessive expenditure has given place to the more humble sheet of decorated paper, which at small cost conveys the missive of love, and even this bids fair to disappear altogether from the face of the earth in favor of Christmas cards. How little do the senders of these harmless tokens of good fellowship and greeting think that they are perpetuating the memory of a rather questionable Pagan festival in honor of Pan and Juno!—J. Theodore Bent.

Edison's Condition.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The World reprints from yesterday's Philadelphia Times a New York despatch stating that Thos. A. Edison is a victim of consumption, and will probably never return from Florida. The same paper reprints an article from the Washington Post containing an interview with Edison, in which the inventor says that he has discovered a method of creating all food by an artificial process, thus dispensing with the necessity of raising grains, vegetables, cattle, etc., for food purposes.

Ice Bridge.

THREE RIVERS, Feb. 14.—The ice bridge formed opposite this city yesterday and the people are crossing on it to-day.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we life in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health, but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. d90

THE DAILY EVENING REVIEW is delivered to subscribers at 10 cents a week.

NEWS NOTES.

The Anarchists threaten a dynamite campaign in France.

The Prince of Wales will return from abroad Feb. 28th, and the following day will hold the first levee of the season at St. James' palace.

The Queen has offered the apartments in Hampton Court, occupied by the late Lady Margaret Bourke, to the Dowager Countess of Iddesleigh.

Chief Justice Stuart, of the superior Court of Quebec, was sworn in on Thursday as administrator of the province during Lieutenant-Governor Masson's absence.

The traffic receipts of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the week ending February 7th were $116,000, an increase of $13,000 compared with the corresponding week last year.

The Grand Lodge of the Young Men's Protestant Benevolent Society closed its sixty annual session on Thursday. The next meeting will be held in Oakville

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer imparts a fine gloss and freshness to the hair, and is highly recommended by physicians, clergymen and scientists. It removes dandruff, makes the scalp white and clean, and restores gray hair to its youthful color.

At the Imperial Institute meeting in London on Thursday, Cardinal Manning spoke highly of the Queen, to whom, he said, we owed a greater debt than the historian could record.

During the month of January there were 700 personal applications at the Government Emigrants' Information office in London, and 19 per cent. of those who applied were seeking information about Canada.

We do not sound a needless alarm when we tell you that a taint of scrofula is in your blood. Inherited or acquired, it is there, and Ayer's Sarsaparilla alone will effectually eradicate it.

Suits against six citizens of Ottawa for $50 and costs were entered in the Ottawa Division Court yesterday, at the instance of ex-Ald. Brown, the defeated candidate for the mayoralty, on the grounds of having illegally cast more than one vote at the election.

NOTICE.

HAVING bought out the stock of the MARBLE WORKS, opposite the Post Office, George street, and leased the premises. I am prepared to execute all kinds of Monumental Work, both in Marble and Granite. Estimates given on all kinds of cut stone for building purposes. Window sills, door sills. Plinth course always kept in stock. Both lime stone and sand stone.

J. B. BURGESS,
Opposite the Post Office
Postal Address, Box 431. dl18w2

ACCOUNT BOOKS.

MANUFATURED of the Best Material by Skillful Workmen, at the shortest notice consistent with the durability of the work.

Ready-Made Account Books of all the Ordinary Rulings.

Ledgers, Day Books, Journals, Cash Books Minute Books, etc.

The Largest Stock in Peterborough to choose from at the

REVIEW STATIONERY STORE

A. CLEGG.

Leading Undertaker.

WAREROOMS, George St. residence north end of George St. The finest Hearse in the Province, and all funeral Requisites. This department is in charge of Mr. S. Clegg, graduate of the Rochester School of Embalming.

MR J. W. CROSBY

THE

New Music Dealer

Will always be found at his office at MR. WESLEY MILLAR'S, George Street, 2 doors north of Charlotte Street, where he is prepared to give bargains in the celebrated

New York Weber, Steinway, Chickering, Emerson, Lansdown and Stavenson Pianos.

He is Sole Agent for the Uxbridge & Kilgore Organs. Sample Instruments always in stock. A chat with him about how to purchase a good instrument at a low figure will amply pay you. He has never been and will not now be undersold. d32

LOTS OF 'EM ARE WONDERING WHERE

W. H. GORDON

HAS GONE UPWARDS.

Right on the corner of Water and Smith St., handling the Groceries at rock bottom prices. Apples by the barrel, Sugar, Tea, Raisins, Currants, etc, in any quantities to suit any and all. Come and be convinced that you can buy as cheap, if not cheaper than any place down Town.

When proven then it is true.

W. H. GORDON.

PRESERVE YOUR SIGHT

By wearing the only

FRANK LAZARUS

(Late of the firm of Lazarus & Morris)

Renowned Spectacles & Eye Glasses

These Spectacles and Eye Glasses have been used for the past 35 years, and given in every instance unbounded satisfaction. They are THE BEST IN THE WORLD. They never tire, and last many years without change.

FOR SALE BY

JOHN NUGENT

Druggist, Peterborough, Ont.

W. H. CASEMENT, Hardware, Lakefield, Ont
FRANK LAZARUS, manufacturer, 2 Mary land Road, Harrow Road, London, England (Late Lazarus and Morris, Hartford, Conn.)

No connection with any other firm in the Dominion of Canada. d126eodwk

J. NUGENT'S DRUG STORE.

Opposite the Oriental Hotel.

HAVE YOU A COLD?
Try PINE TAR CORDIAL.

HAVE YOU CHAPPED HANDS?
Try WINTER BALM.

HAVE YOU INDIGESTION?
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY. Nothing like it.

All the above Remedies have proved successful in almost every case. DIAMOND DYES—a full stock always on hand. Physician's Prescriptions and Family Recipes prepared with care and despatch. d6w2

PURE UNADULTERATED

TEAS AND COFFEES

CHEAPER THAN EVER, AT

HAWLEY BROS

The People's Tea Store, Hunter Street, East.

PHOTOGRAPHS.

SPROULE'S STUDIO

IS THE BEST. His work has no EQUAL in Peterborough. His skill, gotten by close study and experience of twenty years, is best proved by the immense business done in his establishment. His instruments are the BEST. He uses only the best of materials, YET his prices are the same as other establishments. NO ANTIQUATED STYLES. EACH SUBJECT TREATED SEPARATELY

"HELLO! BROWN,

"What are you loooking so mad about this morning?"

"Well, Jones, I will just tell you: I bought a fine new tent from Turner, and one of my friends wanted to borrow it."

"And did you lend it?"

"I guess not; I told him to go to

J. J. TURNER,

Sail, Tent and Awning Maker, Peterborough who would rent him or sell him a good tent I will never lend my tents again."

"Good morning, Jones."

"Good morning, Brown."

CARRISTON'S GIFT.

BY HUGH CONWAY.

Author of "Called Back," "Dark Days," "A Family Affair," etc.

PART THE SECOND.

[TOLD BY RICHARD FENTON, OF FRENCHAY, GLOUCESTERSHIRE, ESQUIRE.]

CHAPTER I.

As my old friend Phil Brand has asked me to do this, I suppose I must. Brand is a right good fellow and a clever fellow, but has plenty of crotchets of his own. The worst I know of him is that he insists upon having his own way with people. With those who differ from him he is as obstinate as a mule. Anyhow, he has always had his own way with me. This custom, so far as I am concerned, commenced years ago, when we were boys at school together, and I have never been able to shake off the bad habit of giving in to him. He has promised to see that my Queen's English is presentable, for, to tell the truth, I am more at home across country than across foolscap, and my fingers know the feel of the reins or the trigger better than that of the pen.

All the same I hope he won't take too many liberties with my style, bad though it may be; for old Brand at times is apt to get—well, a bit prosy. To hear him on the subject of hard work and the sanctity thereof approaches the sublime!

What freak took me to the little God-forsaken village of Midcombe in the depth of winter is entirely between myself and my conscience. The cause, having no bearing upon the matters I am asked to tell you about, is no one's business but mine—I will only say that now I would not stay in such a place at such a time of the year for the sake of the prettiest girl in the world, let alone the bare chance of meeting her once or twice. But one's ideas change; I am now a good bit older, ride some two stone heavier, and have been married ever so many years. Perhaps, after all, as I look back I can find some excuse for being such an ass as to endure for more than a fortnight all the discomforts heaped upon me in that little village inn.

A man who sojourns in such a hole as Midcombe must give some reason for doing so. My ostensible reason was hunting. I had a horse with me, and a second-rate subscription pack of slow-going mongrels did meet somewhere in the neighborhood, so no one could gainsay my explanation. But if hunting was my object, I got precious little of it. A few days after my arrival a bitter, biting frost set in—a frost as black as your hat, and as hard as nails. Yet still I stayed on.

From private information received—no matter how, when or where—I knew that some people in the neighborhood had organized a party to go skating on a certain day at Lilymere, a fine sheet of water some distance from Midcombe. I guessed that somewhere about Christmas I particularly desired to meet would be there, and as the skating at Lilymere was free to any one who chose to take the trouble of getting to such an out-of-the-way place, I hired a horse and an apology for a dog-cart, and at 10 in the morning started to drive the twelve miles to the pond. I took no one with me I had been to Lilymere once before, in bright summer weather, so fancied I knew the way well enough.

The sky when I started was cloudy; the wind was chopping round in a way which made the effete rustic old ostler predict a change of weather. He was right. Before I had driven two miles light snow began to fall, and by the time I reached a wretched little wayside inn, about a mile from the Mere, a film of white covered the whole country. I stabled my horse as well as I could, then, taking my skates with me, walked down to the pond.

Now, whether I had mistaken the day, or whether the threatening fall of snow had made certain people change their minds, I don't know; but, to my annoyance and vexation, no skaters were to be seen, and, moreover, the uncut, white surface told me that none had been on the pond that morning. Still, hoping they might come in spite of the weather, I put on my skates and went outside edging and grape-vining all over the place. But as there was no person in particular—in fact, no one at all—to note my powers, I soon got tired. It was, indeed, dreary, dreary work. But I waited and hoped until the snow came down so fast and furiously that I felt sure that waiting was in vain, and that I had driven to Lilymere for nothing.

Back I went to the little inn, utterly disgusted with things in general, and feeling that to break some one's head would be a relief to me in my present state of mind. Of course, a sensible man would at once have got his horse between the shafts and driven home. But, whatever I may be now, in those days I was not a sensible man—Brand will, I know, cordially indorse this remark—the accommodations of the inn was not such as to induce one to linger within its precincts; but the fire was a right good one, and a drink, which I skillfully manufactured out of some hot beer, not to be despised, and proved warming to the body and soothing to the ruffled temper. So I lingered over the big fire until I began to feel hungry, and upon the landlady assuring me that she could cook a rasher, decided it would be wiser to stay where I was until the violence of the snow-storm was over; for coming down it was now, and no mistake!

And it kept on coming down. About half-past three, when I sorrowfully decided I was bound to make a move, it was snowing faster than ever. I harnessed my horse, and laughing at the old woman's dismal prophecy that I should never get to Midcombe in such weather, gathered up the reins and away I went along the white road.

I thought I knew the way well enough. In fact, I had always prided myself upon remembering any road once driven over by me; but does any one who has not tried it really know how a heavy fall of snow changes the aspect of the country, and makes landmarks snares and delusions? I learned all about it then, once and for all. I found, also, that the snow lay much deeper than I thought could possibly be in so short a time, and it still fell in a manner almost blinding. Yet I went on bravely and merrily for some miles. Then came a bit of uncertainty——

Which of those two roads was the right one? This one, of course—no, the other. There was no house near; no one was likely to be passing in such weather, so I was left to exercise my free, unbiased choice, a privilege I would willingly have dispensed with. However, I made the best selection I could, and followed it for some two miles. Then I began to grow doubtful, and soon persuading myself that I was on the wrong track, retraced my steps. I was by this time something like a huge white plaster-of-Paris figure, and the snow which had accumulated on the old dog-cart made it run heavier by half a ton, more or less. By the time I came to that unlucky junction of roads at which my misfortunes began, it was almost dark; the sky as black as a tarpaulin, yet sending down the white feathery flakes thicker and faster than ever. I felt inclined to curse my folly in attempting such a drive, at any rate I blamed myself for not having started two or three hours earlier. I'll warrant that steady-going old Brand never had to accuse himself of such foolishness as mine.

Well, I took the other road; went on some way; came to a turning which I seemed to remember, and, not without misgivings, followed it. My misgivings increased when, after a little while, I found the road grew full of ruts, which the snow and darkness quite concealed from me until the wheels got into them. Evidently I was wrong again. I was just thinking of making the best of my way out of this rough and unfrequented road, when—there, I don't know how it happened, such things seldom occur to me—a stumble, a fall on the part of my tired horse sent me flying over the dashboard, with the only consoling thought that the reins were still in my hand.

Luckily the snow had made the falling pretty soft. I soon picked myself up and set about estimating damages. With some difficulty I got the horse out of the harness, and then felt free to inspect the dog-cart. Alas! after the manner of the two-wheel kind, whenever a horse thinks fit to fall, one shaft had snapped off like a carrot; so here was I, five miles apparently from anywhere, in the thick of a blinding snowstorm, left standing helpless beside a jaded horse and a broken cart—I should like to know what Brand would have done under the circumstances!

As for me, I reflected for some minutes—reflection in a snowstorm is weary work. I reasoned, I believe, logically, and at last came to this decision: I would follow the road. If, as I suspected, it was but a cart track, it would probably soon lead to a habitation of some kind. Any way, I had better try a bit farther. I took hold of the wearied horse, and with snow under my feet, snowflakes whirling round me, and a wind blowing right into my teeth, struggled on.

To be continued.

A Funny "Sump" at Seaton Village.

A funny incident occurred at a meeting held at Seaton Village on Thursday night in the interests of Dr. Lyons, the Reform candidate in West York. The Conservatives were in the majority and they selected Mr. Frank Turner, C. E., as chairman. The Grits had called the meeting and they felt sore. They kicked, whereupon the Tories offered to compromise by appointing Mr. A. Morrow, a Conservative, or Mr. Charters, a Grit, as chairman. Mr. Joseph Tait, the eminent apostle of Reform, was not pleased with this. He got into a discussion with Mr. Turner, and becoming excited, made a blow at him. He missed his aim, slipped, fell, rolled off the platform—and off came his glossy brown wig. The crowd yelled and Mr. Tait grabbed his wig and gripsack, and left the hall. The meeting broke up with cheers for Sir John Macdonald and N. C. Wallace.—Toronto World.

Royal Templarism.

The International Royal Templar, of Buffalo, N. Y., has the following notes:—

"Peterborough, Ontario, has a second Council, the first new Council for 1886."

"Peterborough bids for the next meeting of the Grand Council of Ontario. She is the first town to establish a second Council within her borders."

"Miss M. J. Sanderson, President of the Peterborough, Ontario, W. C. T. U. went home from the Great Camp last summer in love with Royal Templarism. The result is that her town now has a second Council of the Order."

Peterborough Fruit Market.

Quotations supplied daily by Messrs. Ostrom & Ostrom.

DOMESTIC FRUIT.
Apples, fall, per barrel	2 00	to	2 50
Apples, No. 1 "	2 25	to	2 75
FOREIGN FRUIT.
Malaga Grapes, per lb	0 20	to	0 20
Messina Lemons, per dozen	0 30	to	0 40
Oranges, per dozen	0 30	to	0 50

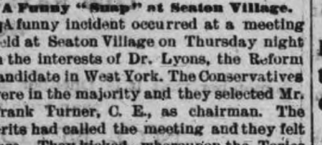
"Better die soon,
Than live on lingeringly in pain."

Better do neither, but get and take medicine that will relieve pain which is only an evidence of disease, and thus you may live on in health and happiness. If you have a cold or cough, weak or sore lungs, consumption, chronic nasal catarrh, bronchitis, impure blood or liver disease, take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" a certain cure for these diseases. By druggists.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN NERVOUS DEPRESSION.

Dr F. W. Lytle, Lebanon, Ill., says: "I have personally used it with marked advantage, when overworked and the nervous system much depressed."



The Great English Prescription.

A successful Medicine used over 30 years in thousands of cases. Cures Spermatorrhea, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Impotency and all diseases caused by abuse. [BEFORE] indiscretion, or over-exertion. [AFTER] Six packages Guaranteed to Cure when all others Fail. Ask your Druggist for The Great English Prescription, take no substitute. One package $1; Six $5, by mail. Write for Pamphlet. Address Eureka Chemical Co., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by G. A SCHOFIELD, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

The Rising Generation

sun should find you resolved to give Ayer's Sarsaparilla a thorough trial. It will cleanse and invigorate your blood, and restore the vital organs to their natural functions. Mrs. J. D. Upham, 231 Shawmut avenue, Boston, Mass., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with Indigestion, and unable, without distress, to take solid food. After using Ayer's Sarsaparilla one month I was Entirely Cured."

Mrs. H. M. Thayer, Milton, Mass., writes: "I have been very much troubled with torpidity of the liver, and Dyspepsia. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has cured me." Mrs. J. W. Bradlee, Hyde Park, Mass., writes: "I was greatly reduced by Dyspepsia, and was advised to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which entirely cured me." Mrs. M. F. Hamblett, 25 Lawrence street, Lowell, Mass., writes: "I was sick two years with stomach and liver troubles, and obtained no relief until I took

Life and Health.

Alarie Mercier, 8 Harrison avenue, Lowell, Mass., writes: "My son was weak and debilitated, troubled with sore eyes and Scrofulous humors. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored him to perfect health." Irving H. Edwards, Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "From the time I was four years old, until eighteen, I was subject to Scrofulous sore throat. Many a time my neck has been a raw sore, from poultices put on to draw out the inflammation. I took four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Since that time I have enjoyed excellent health."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

and have never had the disease since, in sixteen years."

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

For sale by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5.

RETIRING

FROM THE BOOT AND SHOE BUSINESS.

R. STENSON & SON

Having decided on Retiring from Business, will receive Tenders up to the 21st of February next, at a rate on the Dollar, for the purchase en bloc of their Stock of Boots and Shoes, &c. The highest or any Tender not necessarily accepted.

If not then disposed of, the whole of the Stock will be sold in Quantities to Suit Purchasers.

ALL WINTER GOODS WILL BE SOLD AT COST FROM TO-DAY.

R. STENSON & SON.

Peterborough, Feb. 7th, 1887. 1md31w6

CHEAP EXCURSION

TICKETS TO FLORIDA by steamers from New York and via all rail. Low return rates to California. Reduced fares by Allan Mail Line steamers. Through coupon tickets to all parts of the United States. If you are going on a journey and want comfort take the C.P.R., and purchase your tickets from

ALEX. ELLIOTT,

C.P.R. Telegraph Co. and Dominion Express Co. Passenger Agent, Geo. St.

SOMETHING NEW.

CASS FARM FRUIT RELISH

AND

OPORTO LIME SAUCE

At the Metropolitan Grocery

HOUSEKEEPERS

Wanting a First-class Flour should order from the Blythe Mills.

Orders may be left at W. J. Mason's Store George Street.

GEO. HILLIARD

Blythe Mills, Peterborough.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 1md72w31

Builders and Contractors

D. GAMBLE,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given. All work done with despatch, and in a completely satisfactory manner. lyd97

E. WEBB,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. All work done substantially and expeditiously. Address, E. WEBB, Peterborough. lyd97

H. C. STABLER,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Estimates given. Houses and lots for sale on easy terms. A large stock of builders' materials kept on hand. d97-1y

W. LANGFORD,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER. Houses of different kinds for sale or to rent on easy terms both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. Building lots for sale. lyd97

H. CARVETH,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all styles of work. Plans drawn if required. A number of houses and lots for sale in good localities. P.O. Box 600; residence, Reid street, near King. lyd97

ADAM DAWSON,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates given for all kind of buildings, materials furnished and all work guaranteed. P.O. box 758. Residence, Bon Accord Street. lyd97w1

R. CARTON,

HOUSE PAINTER AND DECORATOR. House painting done in the latest styles, calcimining, etc. Special attention given to graining and marbling. Residence, Water street, near Smith street. lyd97

A. RUTHERFORD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Estimates furnished for all classes of building. Large stock of thoroughly seasoned materials always kept on hand. P.O. Box 843; residence, on Reid street, north of Hamilton's foundry. d97

J. J. HARTLEY,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken—first class work done. Houses and lots for sale. Materials furnished. P.O Box 647; residence, corner of Antrim and Aylmer streets. lyd97

W. FITZGERALD,

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR. Contracts taken for all kinds of buildings. Good dry material for building purposes supplied. Houses and building lots for sale. Address box 671, or apply at corner of Dublin and Water streets. lyd97

General.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check of $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million Issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation! The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—Or, FIVE MILLION READERS. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 20 cents for Book of 100 Pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 SPRUCE ST., NEW YORK.

SPRING HAS COME

And don't forget that you should take your LAST SUMMER'S CLOTHING to

Argue's Dye Works

And have them CLEANED, DYED and REPAIRED, and made good as new. Feathers Cleaned, Dyed and Curled, Kid Gloves Cleaned and Dyed Black. All work done in first class style. Goods sent for and returned on the shortest notice. Reference given if required

WILLIAM ARGUE,
Proprietor, Hunter Street, West

Great Reductions

IN PRICES AT

Miss Armstrong's.

Being desirous of clearing out the balance of my winter stock, I now offer it at 20 per cent below selling price.

Untrimmed Hats for 25c., Trimmed from 50c. up

Bargains in Feathers, Wings, Ribbons, Laces, Gloves and Hosiery.

Plushes, Velvets, Velveteens, and Woolen Goods in clouds.

Fascinators, Jackets, Jerseys, Caps and Hoods. Children's Hoods, Mitts, Bootees.

Also a few ends of Mantle Cloths. As the Goods must be sold decided bargains may be expected.

COLONIAL EXHIBITION

SERIES OF

SPECIAL EXCURSIONS

TO

Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Belfast, Londonderry and Queenstown

YORK HARBOUR, VERY LOWEST RATES SINGLE AND RETURN. EARLY APPLICATION FOR STATEROOMS VERY NECESSARY. For further information apply to

THOMAS MENZIES

Ticket Agent G. T. R., Peterborough

PENNYROYAL WAFERS.

Prescription of a physician who has had a life-long experience in treating female diseases. Is used monthly with perfect success by over 10,000 ladies. Pleasant, safe, effectual. Ladies ask your druggist for Pennyroyal Wafers and take no substitute, or inclose postage for sealed particulars. Sold by all druggists, $1 per box. Address THE EUREKA CHEMICAL CO., DETROIT, MICH.

Sold by JOHN McKEE, Peterborough and druggists everywhere.

D. BELLECHEM,
Funeral Director,

CAN be found Day or Night at his Warerooms, Hunter Street, or at his Residence adjoining his Warerooms. TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION.

Public Opinion.

PARKER'S

Steam Dying and Scouring Works is the Most Reliable place for Gents to get

Spring Overcoats and Suits

Beautifully Cleaned, Dyed and Repaired.

LADIES

Dresses, Mantles, Shawls, &c., Dyed all the Newest Shades.

SILK DRESS GOODS our Specialty.

OSTRICH FEATHERS Curled and Dyed all Shades.

DAMASK AND REPP CURTAIN, TABLE and PIANO COVERS, Dyed and finished like new.

LACE CURTAINS Cleaned and Dyed all Shades.

PARKER'S STEAM DYE WORKS

Water Street, Opposite the Market.

RIVERSIDE PARK.

Toboggan Slide

Reduction of Season Tickets.

GENTS.....$1 00
LADIES..... 50
10 cents for use of slide afternoon and evening. Toboggans to hire at the Slide.

JEROME YOUNG,
Manager.

1d45

CHEAP GROCERIES

5 lbs. No. 1 Japan Tea for	$1 75
4 lbs. Gunpowder Tea for	1 00
4 lbs. Young Hyson Tea for	1 00
18 lbs. Brown Sugar	1 00
14 lbs. Granulated Sugar	1 00
3 lbs. Fresh Raisins	25
3 lbs. Fresh Currants	25

S. SHANNON,
Ashburnham

d89

PETERBOROUGH POST OFFICE.

DUE.	MAILS.	CLOSE.
5 30 a m	Montreal and East, via G. & C. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
10 55 p m	Toronto and West, via G. & C. R.	11 00 a m
7 00 p m		10 00 p m
5 30 a m	Grand Trunk, East & West	1 15 p m
10 30 a m	do East	6 00 p m
	Midland, including all Offices on the line of the Midland Railway (west)	2 00 p m
5 30 p m		4 30 p m
8 30 a m	Norwood & Port Hope	11 00 a m
5 15 p m	do	6 00 p m
10 30 a m	Grand Junction, including Keene, Westwood, Villiers, Norwood & Hastings	1 15 p m
4 00 p m	Lakefield, including Selwyn, Hall's Bridge and Lakehurst	12 00 m
5 15 p m	Fraserville & Springville	11 00 a m
2 30 p m	Bobcaygeon, including Bridgenorth & Ennismore	7 30 p m
6 00 p m previous night	Burleigh, including Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Haultain, Burleigh, Apsley, Chandos, Clydesdale, Pandash and Chedder, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays	7 00 a m
11 00 a m	Warsaw, including South Douro, Hall's Glen and Stoney Lake, daily	1 30 p m
11 00 a m	Greystock and Hiawatha, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
1 00 a m	Fowler's Corners, Wednesdays and Saturdays	1 30 p m
	Street Letter Boxes	7 00 a m
	do do do	4 00 p m
	British Mails, per Canadian line, every Wednesday at	10 00 p m
	Via New York, Mondays.	7 30 p m
	Winnipeg, North-West Territories, British Columbia, and stations on C. P. R.	6 00 p m

Postage to Great Britain 5c. per ½ oz. by each route. Registration fee, 5c.

MONEY ORDERS granted from 9 a. m. until 5 p.m. on all Money Order Offices in Canada, United States, Great Britain, German Empire Sweden, Norway, Denmark (also Iceland), The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Jamaica, Barbados, Newfoundland, British India, Victoria, (Australia), New South Wales, Tasmania and New Zealand.

Drawers received under the regulations of the Post Office Savings' Bank, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Registered Letters must be posted 15 minutes before the close of each mail.

Office hours 8 a. m. to 6.30 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Foreign Postage.

For Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Iceland, Egypt, France, Algeria, Germany, Gibraltar, Great Britain and Ireland, Greece, Italy, Luxemburg, Malta, Montenegro, Netherlands, Norway, Persia, Portugal, Azores, Roumania, Russia, St. Pierre, Servia, Spain, the Canary Islands, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey. And via United States:—Bermuda, Bahamas, Cuba, Danish Colonies of St. Thomas, St. John, St. Croix, Jamaica, Japan and Porto Rico. (Newfoundland is now in the Postal Union but the postal rates remain as before.) Letters 5 cents per ½ oz. Postal cards 2 cents each. Newspapers 2 cents for 4 oz. Registration fee 5 cents.

For Aden, Argentine Confederation, Brazil, British Guinea, Ceylon, Greenland, French Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica and America, except St. Pierre and Miquelon, Persia, via Persian Gulf, Portuguese Colonies in Asia, Africa, Oceanica Trinidad, Spanish Colonies in Africa, Oceanica and America, except Cuba and Porto Rico, Straits Settlements in Singapore, Penang and Malacca:—Letters 10 cents per ½ oz. Books &c., 4 cents for 4 oz. Other Registrations fees 10 cents.

West India Islands, via Halifax, same rate as formerly. Prepayment by stamp in all cases.

Australia, (except New South Wales, Victoria) and Queensland:—Letters 7 cents, papers 4 cents.

Australia, New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents.

New Zealand, via San Francisco:—Letters 15 cents, papers 4 cents. H. C. ROGERS, Postmaster.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

SAILSBURY & BRO.

HAVE RECEIVED A LARGE SUPPLY OF

New Novels.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR THE

CARNIVAL STAR & WITNESS.

SPECIAL MEETING

MR. STEVENSON'S

Supporters are requested to meet in his COMMITTEE ROOMS on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock

A full attendance is requested, as business of special importance will be transacted.

C. S. WALLIS,
Secretary.

February 14th, 1887. d37

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1887.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Curling.

Two rinks of the Peterborough curlers went to Lakefield to have a game this afternoon.

Turnbull is now agent for the Domestic Paper Patterns of New York. The best and simplest patterns ever shown.

Rally Tonight.

There will be a special meeting of the friends and supporters of Mr. Stevenson in the Parlor Rink this evening, at 8 o'clock sharp. A large attendance of electors is requested, as business of importance will be laid before the meeting.

New Goods. Turnbull has just received a large shipment of Scotch and English Suitings and Trouserings. If you want a cheap and stylish suit try Turnbull's.

Adjourned.

Marino, the Italian, was arraigned before His Honor Judge Weller, at noon to-day. The prisoner speaks English a little, but does not understand it sufficiently to know what is said to him. On account of there being no lawyer to defend him the trial was adjourned till Saturday.

Organ Recital.

A grand organ recital will take place in the George Street Methodist Church on Thursday evening under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society. Dr. Davis, of St. Alban's Church, Ottawa, will be the organ soloist. There will be no admission fee, those attending being allowed to give what they like at the door.

The Campaign.

A meeting in Mr. Stevenson's interests was held in the school house, 2nd line of Smith, on Monday night. Mr. Stevenson spoke first, and then an opportunity was given for Mr. Cox's representative to state his case. Mr. J. R. Stratton appeared. He "said his piece" in just the same way as he has recited it in other places. Mr. Moore and Mr. Hilliard spoke, and the meeting closed in the usual way.

Indignant.

The Peterborough Curlers are indignant at the letter which appeared in Saturday's Toronto Mail, signed "Ancient." The Peterborough Club entertain a high opinion of the Toronto clubs which they played against, and were much pleased at the manner in which they were entertained while there. The letter, which as much as intimates an unfriendly feeling on the part of the Peterboroughs toward the Granites and Caledonians, did not come from a member of the Peterborough Club.

Spring Lace Curtains at Turnbull's. The designs are so new and prices so low that they are sure to be sold early in his clearing sale of Spring Goods, which has now commenced.

Nomination.

Nomination papers were filed with the Returning officer for the West Riding of Peterborough to-day in behalf of James Stevenson, Merchant, and George Albertus Cox, Insurance Agent. The necessary cheques for $200 each were deposited. The nomination papers were signed by the required number of electors. A number of persons gathered in the court house with the expectation of hearing speeches. No one, however, appeared for either of the candidates and the latter didn't appear themselves.

PROTECTION — Everybody believes in the Protection that Blankets, Comforters and Flannels afford. They are sold very cheap at Rowse's Trade Palace.

"LIBBY PRISON."

A Lecture Given in the George Street Methodist Church.

On Monday night the Rev. L.N. Beaudry, M. A., delivered a lecture on "Memories of Libby Prison." The Rev. I. Tovell occupied the chair.

The lecturer, after introducing his subject, went on to give a description of the formation of the United States army. He belonged to the cavalry, being Chaplin of 5th New York. After detailing his experience on battle fields and in other scenes of the great war he related how he was captured by the Southerners. During the the description of their march to the South as prisoners of war the lecturer digressed here and there to recount some incident, at one time interesting, at another amusing. The men and officers trod on foot sore and weary till they came to Richmond. Here, after being driven through the town, like so many sheep, they were taken in the direction of a large four story building which loomed up ominously in the distance. Forebodings filled the hearts of the prisoners, for they knew that on entering the place many would never come forth alive. They came up to the place, a large door was opened and they were driven in. They were fleeced of everything valuable and huddled in different rooms. The room into which he and a crowd of others entered was without chair or bench. They filled the place so that when they lay down at night on the floor they were obliged to lie spoon fashion. Picture their horror when only a short time on the floor to find themselves covered with the living vermin of the place. "If we never bled for our country before," observed the lecturer, "we did then I assure you." Their food was as scant as it was disgusting. A piece of bread the size of the fist and a piece of meat the size of two fingers was the allotment for breakfast, dinner and supper. Sometimes the meat was convered on one side by vermin. The water they drank was from the river. If a cupful was allowed to stand a few minutes the muddy sediment would be an inch deep. His comrades were dying away fast for want of air, water and food. "Oh," cried one, "I'd give anything for one glass of water from the spring that bubbles near my father's door." But they gave them soup. They dealt it around at night. But to eat that soup one couldn't either look at it or taste it. Many of the men came with their tin cups to be served. In the morning what did they find in the bottoms of their cups? Rice? No; MAGGOTS. The men choked down their curses of the inhuman beasts who had treated them so. The lecturer related several novel escapes. One man bribed the guard with a watch. Another hadn't a watch, but he had what was better—genius. He became sick and died. He was taken to the dead house, when lo! he resurrected. Twenty-seven men dug a tunnel out of the building, under the street and into a shed. By it 109 escaped, and 52 were re-captured. The many diversions which human genius could invent that were adopted by the prisoners was set forth in an interesting manner. At his final liberation from such a pest house the audience was much relieved.

A vote of thanks to the lecturer was proposed by the Rev. E. F. Torrance, seconded by the Rev. F. H. Wallace, and unanimously carried.

WHENEVER you take your walk abroad visit Rowse's Trade Palace. Every department is teeming with novelties.

Woman Frozen to Death.

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 14.—Maud Williams, aged 40, was found frozen to death in her room in the heart of the city yesterday. She was almost nude. The room was filthy in the extreme and totally destitute of fire, fuel or food. Her bed was a heap of dirty rags. She seems to have frozen to death while crouching before the empty grate, during a bitter cold night.

The Case of Dr. McGlynn.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The Herald's Rome special states that the Pope has just received from the dissatisfied parishioners of St. Stephen's church, New York, an appeal to carefully consider Dr. McGlynn's case. The petitioners asked for Dr. McGlynn's restitution to the parish as the only thing that will satisfy American Catholics. They also say that Cardinal Gibbons thoroughly understands the situation. They allege that Dr. McGlynn's suspension was the work of policians, and that it scandalizes all true Catholics.

WATERED with dew of good intention, warmed by the sunshine of Fair dealing the dollar you bring us will grow and expand to colossal proportions. R. FAIR.

Proposed Reciprocity

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—In the House, Mr. Butterworth introduced a bill providing for full reciprocity between United States and Canada. The bill proposed that as soon as the Government of Canada shall permit all articles of trade and commerce to enter the ports of Canada, free of duty, then all products of Canada, of every description, shall be permitted to enter the ports of United States free of duty, it being the intention to provide for absolute reciprocity of trade between the two countries as to all articles of whatever name or nature produced therein.

A Remarkable Accident.

HALIFAX, Feb. 12.— Joseph McLellan, aged 76, an engine driver and shunter on the Intercolonial Railway yard here, was killed in a most peculiar manner yesterday afternoon. He said to a fellow workman, "If I get over this day all right, I shall complete my thirty years on the road." A few minutes later he placed an oil can with a sharp nozzle on the step of the engine and went to get up into the cab, missed his footing and in falling struck the nozzle of the can which penetrated his skull behind the ear. Two hours after he died.

Received this week at Turnbull's, a large shipment of Wool and Tapestry Carpets. All new patterns. Extra good value.

THE 1882 ELECTIONS.

The Votes Cast in West and East Peterborough.

The following tables give the result of the elections in June, 1882, in West and East Peterborough, which we re-publish so that the vote of Tuesday next may be compared with them:—

WEST PETERBOROUGH.

Polling Places	Hilliard	Lundy	Hilliard's Majority	Lundy's Majority
Ward No. 1, Lake street	76	22	54
" Mission School	41	24	7
" Fitzgerald's shop	57	32	25
Ward No. 2, Council Chamber	68	36	32
Ward No. 2, shop on Simcoe street	45	28	17
Ward No. 2, T. Beavis' shop	54	30	24
Ward No. 3, Lockhart's shop	34	32	2
Ward No. 3, cor. McDonnell street	60	40	20
Ward No. 3, McDonnell and Reid streets	72	43	29
Ward No. 4, W. Lee's shop	85	58	27
Smith, School House, sec. 3	28	66		38
Smith, Town Hall, Bridgenorth	39	88		49
Smith, School House, Sec. 6	41	64		23
Smith, School House, Sec. 7	74	39	35
North Monaghan, S. S. No. 2	49	33	16
North Monaghan, Town Hall	57	45	12
South Monaghan, Baillieboro	39	55		16
South Monaghan, Centreville	52	39	13
Eanismore, Town Hall	35	60		25
Eanismore, O'Reilly's S. House	28	33		5
	1034	877	313	156

Majority for Mr. Hilliard, 157.

EAST PETERBOROUGH.

Polling Places.	Burnham	Roxburgh
Ashburnham—1, Council Chamber	74	24
" 2, Town Hall	66	32
Asphodel—1, School House, Sec. 1	50	60
" 2, Heffernan's House	69	42
" 3, Paterson's House	47	58
Belmont, &c.—1, Havelock	15	43
" 2, School House, Sec. 7	29	21
" 3, Blairton	60	12
Cavendish—John Cochrane's House	00	00
Douro—1, John McCormick's House	37	34
" 2, David Condon's House	62	25
" 3, Town Hall	76	19
" 4, School House, Sec. 3	52	19
Dummer—1, School House, Sec. 2	32	41
" 2, Old Town Hall	30	31
" 3, Keagan	52	78
" 4, John Elliott's House	47	15
Dysart, &c.—1, Haliburton	35	36
" 2, Harcourt	2	5
" 3, Harburn	4	3
Cardiff—Cheddar School House	15	16
Glamorgan—Gooderham S. House	9	7
Monmouth—Wilberforce	17	18
Harvey—1, Town Hall	25	25
" 2, School House, Sec. 2	28	23
" 3, R. Farrell's House	18	1
Lakefield—Council Chamber	108	49
Norwood—Town Hall	67	63
Otonabee—1, Harris' House, Villiers	23	52
" 2, School House, Sec. 3	49	59
" 3, Town Hall, Keene	48	73
" 4, House on lot 27, con. 10	54	31
" 5, Union Hall, Mather's cor	38	62
" 6, Grange Hall	57	51
Burleigh, &c.—1, Stone's School House	7	12
" 2, Town Hall, Apsley	18	25
" 3, Wm. Wilson's House	9	26
" 4, Caldwell's S. House	17	11
	1449	1192

Majority for Mr. Burnham 257

Mr. Blake's Duplicity.

HALIFAX, N.S., Feb. 11.—Kirk, the secessionist candidate for Guysboro, has introduced a new subject of reform. He proposed to censure the Governor-General for using such expensive pianos at Rideau hall, and to reduce the number of the Grits are conducting a despicable canvass in Nova Scotia. In Ontario Mr. Blakes implores the support of the manufactures on the ground that he will take the duty off coal in Cape Breton county, where there are ten coal mines. In the county his candidate (Murray) pretends to have a letter from Mr. Blake in which he pledges himself not to interfere with the duty on coal.

The White River Disaster.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, V., Feb. 12.—The total number of casualties by the recent disaster is now pretty accurately estimated at 37. The injured are doing well.

A CLEVER MOVE.

The vivacious Herald derides principle, laughs at consistency and looks upon the theft of a policy, not as an offence at all, but as a very clever move in party tactics. It will not or it cannot see that the failure of the Blake Liberals to stand by their principles, and their inability to formulate a distinctive policy, argue a laxity of principle, a want of moral courage and a poverty of brain power that bodes ill for their success as a governing party. The men who have capacity for nothing but to find fault and whose only talent enough to adopt what their opponents have established are not the men to be entrusted with the control of the affairs of the country.—Montreal Star (Indp.)

DOMINION ELECTIONS

1887.

Election for the Electoral District of the West Riding of the County of Peterborough:

The names and addresses of the agents appointed by the Candidates at this election under provision of Section 121 of the Dominion Election Act, are:—

For GEORGE A. COX,

a candidate, JUDSON C. T. LACEY, of the Town of Peterborough, Book Keeper.

For JAMES STEVENSON, a Candidate, PETER HENRY, of the Town of Peterborough, Merchant's Clerk.

JAS. A. BALL,
Returning Officer.

Peterborough, 15th Feb., 1887 1d38

Jersey Mantle and Dress Cloths have been all the rage. The latest Turnbull is showing is Jersey Corsets. See them.

"THE union forever," sang the customer who saw we had united the best quality with the lowest price. R. FAIR.

A REVENUE POLICY—In order to increase our revenue we are selling 25 cent Dress Goods at 15 cents. Come and see them at Rowse's Trade Palace.

RETIRING

from the Dry Goods Business.

$10,000.00

worth of Dry Goods must be sold before

The 15th day of March, 1887

AT

T. DOLAN & CO'S

As on the above mentioned date, the Dry Goods business carried on by T. Dolan & Co. for the past ten years, will pass into the hands of a new firm, we have decided to reduce our present magnificent stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods amounting to $20,000.00 to one half its volume. In order to accomplish this we have marked all our goods to the bare cost price.

JUST IMAGINE

$3,000 worth of Dress Goods at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Black and Colored Silks at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Mantle Cloths at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Gloves and Hosiery at Cost.

$3,000 worth of Cottons, Bleached and Unbleached, at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Cotton Shirting at Cost.

$1,000 worth of Domestics, etc., etc., at Cost.

$2,000 worth of Clouds and Woolen Goods at less than Cost.

$1,000 worth of Prints and Ginghams at Cost.

EVERYTHING AT COST

The goods must go. This is a genuine cash sale, and no hoax. Remember from now until March 15th, as after that date we intend to direct our attention exclusively to our Tailoring establishment.

T. Dolan & Co

LEGAL.

Having resumed the practice of the profession of the law in conjunction with my duties as manager of the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company, I shall be pleased to undertake the transaction of any ordinary law business which friends may be kind enough to entrust to me.

C. M. ROGER,

Office of the P. R. E. I. Company, Water St. 10437-10w7

EAST RIDING ELECTION

A MEETING OF

Mr. Burnham's Committee

Will meet every night till the elections, at the Committee Rooms

In the old Grand Junction Station, Ashburnham.

A full attendance of the friends of Mr Burnham is requested.

H. CALCUTT,
Chairman of Committee.

Monday, January 17th. d18

W. W. Johnston & Co.

GIVING UP BUSINESS.

A GENUINE CLEARING OUT SALE.

Having decided to give up business, we will on and after SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 26th, offer to the public

THE BIGGEST BARGAINS

They have seen for some time in DRY GOODS. We have marked down everything in the store to such low prices that all will be satisfied. This is not a sale of Winter Goods alone, but a closing out sale, and we will offer at Bargain Prices the Whole Stock, worth over $10,000, composed of the following:

Thousands of yards Dress Goods,
Thousands of yards Ribbon,
Thousands of yards Print,
Thousands of yards Cotton,
Thousands of yards Cotton Shirting,
Hundreds of yards Carpet,
Hunreds of yards Cashmere,
Hundreds of yards Velvets and Plushes,
Hundreds of yards Silks and Satins,
Hundreds of yards Cretonne,
Hundreds of yards Flannel,
Hundreds of yards Sheeting,

And a large stock of Woollen Goods, Muslins, Laces, Embroideries, Gloves, Hosiery and Small Wares.

TERMS STRICTLY CASH. Come and satisfy yourself that this is Peterborough's Biggest Closing Out Sale.

w5-d

W. W. Johnston & Co.

CHEAP MONEY.

THE PETERBOROUGH REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT CO.

(LIMITED.)

Is neither dead nor dying, but is prepared to lend money and on better terms than any other Company or person in Peterborough.

ANY REASONABLE TERMS OF REPAYMENT GRANTED,
STRAIGHT LOANS,
LOW RATES OF INTEREST,
NO FINES,
MODERATE CHARGES.

Remember that it is Cheaper and Safer to deal with friends at Home than with strangers abroad.

NO MIDDLE MEN.

Do your Business with the Lenders Themselves. Business transacted Privately, Promptly and Cheaply.

OFFICES—WATER STREET, PETERBOROUGH.

W. J. HALL, Inspector. G. M. ROGER, Manager. d37w7

MONEY TO LEND!

HAVING resigned his connection with the Peterborough Real Estate Investment Company (Ld.,) the undersigned has made arrangements for lending an unlimited amount at SIX PER CENT, on terms more favourable than any Peterborough or Toronto Company. and will be pleased to see his many old friends with a view to making them new advances or readjusting their present Mortgages.

A. P. POUSSETTE.

New Sugar Cured Hams

Spiced Rolls and Breakfast Bacon.
Spare Ribs, Tenderloins, Shanks, &c.

GEO. MATTHEWS

CRYSTAL BLOCK.

STAPLE DEPARTMENT.

Tickings, Sheetings, Towellings,
Table Linens, Grey Cottons,
White Cottons, Shirtings,
Cottonades, Prints, Ginghams, &c.

THESE GOODS WE OFFER AT CLOSE CASH PRICES.

H. S. GRIFFIN & CO.

DAILY EVENING REVIEW.

VOL. XVII.—No. 39. PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1887 TEN CENTS A WEEK

PROBABILITIES.
Light to moderate winds; cloudy or partly cloudy, with light snow or sleet in a few localities.

R. FAIR,

CIRCULAR CIRCULAR CIRCULAR
CIRCULAR

PILLOW
PILLOW
PILLOW
PILLOW

COTTONS
COTTONS
COTTONS
COTTONS

IN ALL WIDTHS
IN ALL WIDTHS
IN ALL WIDTHS
IN ALL WIDTHS

NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE

NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE

NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE
NOW ON SALE

ASK TO SEE THEM
ASK TO SEE THEM
ASK TO SEE THEM
ASK TO SEE THEM

R. FAIR,
Sign of the Golden Lion, George Street.

Money.

MONEY! MONEY!
To Loan Upon Real Estate.
IN sums of $100 and upwards, at the Lowest Rates, on easy terms of re-payment.
W. H. MOORE,
d104w18 Solicitor.

Educational.

CANADA'S Greatest, Best and Cheapest College to-day is the Peterborough Business College. An institution where young or old of either sex may in the shortest time at the least outlay get a thorough business training. $70 pays for books, tuition and board while taking the full business course Catalogue on application.
BANNELL SAWYER, Principal,
Peterborough, Ontario.

Dentists.

R. F. MORROW
Successor to J. D. Pentland.
GOLD Medalist and Honor Graduate of Toronto Schoool of Dentistry. All branches of Dentistry attended to with the greatest care. Nitrous Oxide and other anesthetics used for the painless extraction of teeth. Office over China Hall, corner of George and Simcoe Streets, Peterborough.
lyd&w

Wood and Coal.

